

Finding Aid to the Clarence L. Spaulding Interview

Spaulding, Clarence L., 1878-

Clarence L. Spaulding Interview, 1955.

1 folder

Small Collection 516

---

Biography

Scope and Content

Folder List

OVERVIEW

Access: The collection is open under the rules and regulations of the NDSU Archives.

Provenance: Donated by Clarence L. Spaulding in 1955 (Acc. 516).

Property rights: The NDSU Archives owns the property rights to this collection.

Copyrights: Copyrights to this collection is held by the NDSU Archives.

Citation: [Identification of item]. Records (SC 516), Clarence L. Spaulding Interview, NDSU Archives, North Dakota State University, Fargo.

BIOGRAPHY

Born in Minneapolis, son of Putnam Frost Spaulding (d. 1911). In 1911, he took over managing his father's division, of the March-Spaulding Farm, known as the East Farm, and the grain elevator in Warren, Minn. He was later employed by a division of F.H. Peavey Company as an auditor. Retired in 1953.

SCOPE AND CONTENT

Typed summary of interview with Leonard Sackett concerning his father, Putnam Frost Spaulding, who was a financial backer of the March-Spaulding Farm at Warren, Minn. Includes mention of his father forming a partnership with S.A. March, his duties on the farm, cash flow at March-Spaulding Farm, a drunken foreman, runaway mules and horses, purchasing farm equipment and supplies in quantity, taking over after his father's death and the struggle to keep the land, dispersal sale of the farm's Holstein herd and the elevator. An addendum (1 leaf) to the interview explains the reason for Clarence Spaulding liquidating his properties.

FOLDER LIST*Folder Content

Typed summary of interview with Leonard Sackett concerning his father, Putnam Frost Spaulding, who was a financial backer of the March-Spaulding Farm at Warren, Minn. Includes mention of his father forming a partnership with S.A. March, his duties on the farm, cash flow at March-Spaulding Farm, a drunken foreman, runaway mules and horses, purchasing farm equipment and supplies in quantity, taking over after his father's death and the struggle to keep the land, dispersal sale of the farm's Holstein herd and the elevator. An addendum (1 leaf) to the interview explains the reason for Clarence Spaulding liquidating his properties.