HISTORY

Ice Hockey at North Dakota Agricultural College (NDAC) became an intercollegiate sport in 1922. In the mid-1930s it is listed as a minor sport and by 1937 it is an intramural sport. There was a slight revival of intercollegiate competition in 1948 when the team went 4-2, with wins over Bemidji (twice), Jamestown, and Concordia and loses to St. Cloud and the University of North Dakota. By the early 1952, intercollegiate ice hockey and intramural ice hockey were no longer played at NDAC.

In the mid-1980s, an NDSU Hockey Club was established and won a number of national club championships.
