

PRAIRIE PHILOSOPHER SEZ . . .

A LIST FROM 1938

Rare booklet uncovers interesting statistics about farmers' horses.

By L.E. Buchholz

The writer of this article farms near Lehr, North Dakota. He tells about champion horses.

I HAVE ALWAYS LIKED FINE HORSES, AND HAVE ENJOYED COLLECTING HISTORIC DATA

ABOUT prize-winning horses both from this region and from all over the world.

Here is a report of the Stallion Registration Board from the State of North Dakota, the 29th annual report.

This is from way back in 1938. See if you can find your name and the name of your horse!

Such a report might be a kick-off for the 100th anniversary of McIntosh County in North Dakota, which is observing its centennial this summer.

“Farmers
took a lot of pride in raising fine horses.”

Photo was taken in the fall of 1926 when L.E. Buchholz began country grade school. The pony was named Prince.
