HISTORY

The F-M Centennial Corporation in 1974 asked the History Section of the Fine Arts Club to prepare the Fargo portion of a history of Fargo-Moorhead to be issued in conjunction with the Centennial celebration in June, 1975. Mrs. E.G. Clapp, Jr. as program chairman of the History Section assumed overall responsibility for researching various subject areas. After all the research, writing, and photographs were assembled, the N.D.S.U. Communications Department organized the physical layout of the book.

SCOPE AND CONTENT

The A Century Together collections consist mainly of the research materials collected and drafts of the manuscript. Initially there are several files on printing instructions, various pamphlets on the Centennial celebration, and the original letters of congratulation used in the introduction of the book from President Gerald Ford, Governor Link and Anderson, and the mayors. The research papers have been organized by subject and arranged alphabetically. The various subjects vary in completeness but usually contain more information than was used in the book. The material is basically secondary source material from newspapers, magazines, books, private citizens, and businesses.
