HISTORY

The Rosebud 4-H Club of Casselton, N.D. was founded in 1935 as a home economic club. The club began with six members, four living in the country and two living in town. Over the years the club became an urban rather than rural club and its main focus was subjects such as foods, clothing, and sewing. The club often won ribbons at the Red River Valley Fair for their exhibits and one act plays. In 1985 Rosebud celebrated its 50th Anniversary. Many of the previous and founding members returned and signed their names in the scrapbook. Rosebud continued to have a large and active membership when the donated records end in 1992.

SCOPE AND CONTENT

The Rosebud 4-H Club records are divided into three series: Treasurer's Record Book, Secretary's Record Book and Scrapbook.

The Treasurer's Record Book Series covers the years 1968-1989. They detail the amount of money coming in from dues and the amount of money spent on craft materials and celebrations. Most of the money was spent on crafts and entrance fees for the Red River Valley Fair.

The Secretary's Record Book Series covers the years 1935-1968, 1971-1975, 1978-1983, 1986-1987, 1988-1990, and 1992. They contain meeting minutes from each meeting. They say if there was a demonstration, the business discussed, and if there was any entertainment. The entertainment ranged from someone serving dinner to Pictionary or tag.

The Scrapbook Series consists of a scrapbook titled Rosebud from 1977-1985, 4-H Club Scrapbook. It contains photographs of members at the Red River Valley Fair and other activities. Also there are flyers from recognition dinners, letters of congratulation from the County Extension Office and ribbons from group competitions. One section contains cards, pictures and guest signatures from the club's 50th Anniversary celebration in 1985.
