

Chapman, Batcheller discuss technology in State of the State address

NDSU President Joseph A. Chapman and Barry Batcheller, president of Phoenix International, played a significant role during Gov. John Hoeven's State of the State speech Jan. 16. The two men participated in the address via the Interactive Video Network to discuss research and technology efforts on campus.

Chapman explained that in regions of the country that have experienced economic growth, most often a university research center is "fueling that growth." He said the new NDSU Research and Technology Park is serving that function.

Chapman said the park is where faculty, staff and students work hand-in-hand with the private sector, faculty have access to state-of-the-art labs and equipment, students are involved in cutting-edge research and businesses have expanded research capabilities to be competitive on a global scale.

"North Dakota needs what a great land-grant university offers, and so we have committed to expanding our research portfolio and increasing graduate educational offerings, especially at the doctoral level," Chapman said. "In doing so, we help keep North Dakota students in state while also attracting out-of-state students, who will come for a great education and stay for good jobs and our quality of life."

Chapman said the research park also has helped NDSU land several Department of Defense research grants, including partnerships with Northrop Grumman Corp. and Alien Technology Corp.

"It is bringing millions in research funding to create new, high-paying jobs and give our students an education they can't get elsewhere," Chapman said.

The anchor tenant of the park is Phoenix International, a hardware and software design firm. Batcheller said the company has a "beautiful operation" in the park, with about 200 engineers producing leading electronic products.

"We've partnered with a great university for the same reasons that Silicon Valley and the Boston corridor have: great students and universities attract great teachers and programs; and great teachers and programs produce vibrant communities of trained professionals and entrepreneurs," Batcheller said. "Energetic students, a creative faculty and a first-class university that know how to work with the private sector is a recipe for success. An added benefit, of course, is North Dakota's quality of life. Friendly people, affordable living, great schools and wonderful neighborhoods in which to raise a family make living and working in Fargo a dream."

Chapman and Batcheller joined the governor's address from a fourth-floor room in the IACC. About 40 faculty members and students also attended.

Hoeven's address also included video links with high school students in Alexander, business leaders in Wahpeton and the University of North Dakota football team.

Women's Week merchandise available

Events for the 20th anniversary of NDSU's Womens Week are scheduled for Monday, Feb. 25-Friday, March 1. Merchandise for Women's Week 2002 is now available and prepaid orders will be taken through Monday, Feb. 4. Merchandise can be viewed and ordered on the Web at www.ndsu.nodak.edu/equal_opportunity/shirt.html. Members of the Women's Week planning group also will take merchandise orders. The schedule of events is expected to be available on the Web by Friday, Feb. 1, and posters and brochures are expected mid-February. For more information or questions about orders or events, contact the equal opportunity office 1-7708.

Varsity Mart sidewalk sale scheduled

The Varsity Mart has scheduled a sidewalk sale for 9 a.m.-4 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday, Jan. 30-31. Selected items from all departments will be on sale.

Next Issue

Publication date: Wednesday, Jan. 30
Submissions due: noon Jan. 24
Old Main 204
Voice: 231-8326
Fax: 231-1989
ellen.puffe@ndsu.nodak.edu
www.ndsu.edu/university_relations/news

Forums on Division I study scheduled

NDSU's Department of Intercollegiate Athletics is scheduled to host two open forums to review the results of the NCAA Division I feasibility study. Conducted by Carr Sports Associates Inc., the findings will be presented at 1 p.m. and 7 p.m. Jan. 23, at Reineke Fine Arts Center's Festival Concert Hall.

Faculty, staff and students are welcome to participate.

The results of the fact-finding report will provide a comprehensive and detailed assessment of NDSU's readiness to reclassify to Division I athletics, I-AA football and the 17 support systems of the University Athletics Program.

If this initial report is positive toward a membership reclassification, additional campus input will be obtained and a market assessment of the potential level of campus and community support in the crucial population markets will be commissioned before any recommendation is made.

Within this market assessment, the economic ability of major gift donors, annual fund contributors and key constituents will be assessed to determine the ability to support Division I.

People

Occupational Safety and Environmental Health office changes announced

Ray Boyer, Physical Plant associate director of operations, also will assume interim duties as administrator of the Occupational Safety and Environmental Health (OSEH) office effective immediately, according to Physical Plant director Bruce Frantz.

Boyer has previously served in a similar position at NDSU, and also served as chair and member of the NDSU Loss Control Committee, the NDUS Loss Control Committee and as risk management coordinator for Mayville State University/Valley City State University.

Boyer also appointed Ron Wien to the OSEH office on an interim basis. He will serve as radiation safety officer handling matters involving the NDSU radioactive materials license. Wien, an NDSU graduate, joined NDSU after retiring from the USDA in Fargo, where he held a similar position.

Other OSEH personnel are Bill Diamanti, loss prevention specialist, Paul Wymer, chemical safety coordinator, and Terry Mulvaney, administrative clerk.

For more information, contact Boyer at 1-6539.

Special edition of Kloberdanz book published

A special commemorative edition of "Thunder on the Steppe: Volga German Folklife in a Changing Russia," a book written by Timothy J. Kloberdanz, associate professor of sociology/anthropology, and Rosalinda Kloberdanz, director of Information Technology Services, recently was published.

The Kloberdanzes were among the first Westerners permitted to visit the former Volga German Autonomous Republic in the Saratov, Russia, area during the summer of 1991. Two years later, the husband-wife team published a 300-page book, detailing their experiences. The new edition marks the 10th anniversary of the trip.

During their time in Russia, the anti-Gorbachev coup occurred, which many observers described as "the second Russian revolution." In the book, the Kloberdanzes describe what the event meant to villagers living in an isolated area.

They wrote, "while we felt changed by the coup d'etat and its jubilant aftermath, the village seemed little changed by all the thunderous commotion and political developments in Moscow. The roosters crowed as usual each morning, the cows ambled out to the communal pasture and women in white kerchiefs calmly pulled weeds in their vegetable gardens. The fact that villagers were not receiving the latest news did not seem to bother them as much as it did us. After all, what did it really matter? The summer sun would shine and the winter snows would fall and village streets would turn to mud in the spring regardless of who was in power in Moscow.

"And so, at last, we learned the meaning of a strange, two-word expression that previously had baffled us: 'Volga, Wolga' (Volga, Volga). The Volga, Europe's largest and mightiest river, stubbornly would go its way, no matter if Gorbachev or Yeltsin or even another Romanov ruled Russia. Change was coming to the hinterlands of Russia, but it would come slowly—'Volga, Volga.'"

Copies of the edition are available at the Varsity Mart or by calling the publisher, AHSGR, at (402) 474-3363.

Patnode student places in competition

Brian Wittkop, a senior at Fargo North High School, was one of two third-place winners at the 2002 Young Artists Solo Competition, held in NDSU's Reineke Fine Arts Center Jan. 5. Wittkop is taught by Matthew Patnode, assistant professor of music.

The competition attracted 34 high school students in grades 10-12. All were from schools within 150 miles of the Fargo-Moorhead area.

Wittkop plays tenor saxophone in the Fargo-Moorhead Jazz Arts Youth Band. He plans to continue his studies with Patnode at NDSU next year and hopes to become a professional saxophonist.

Patnode teaches applied saxophone, flute, bassoon, chamber music, and jazz studies. He holds master's and doctorate of music degrees in saxophone performance from Arizona State University and a bachelor's degree in music performance from State University of New York at Potsdam. He has studied at the Conservatoire National de Musique in Bordeaux, France, and was awarded the Prix de Vermeil in saxophone.

Events

Professional development short course offered

"Marketing Yourself: Professional Image and Attitudes," is scheduled for 6-9 p.m. Friday, Jan. 25, and 8:30 a.m.-5 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 26, in Family Life Center 124.

The weekend short course workshop is designed to heighten awareness of professional development for career opportunities and advancement.

Representatives from NDSU and Fargo-Moorhead businesses will lead the sessions. Friday speakers include Cass County States Attorney Birch Burdick, who will speak on career changes, and keynote speaker Susan Bala, chief executive officer of Racing Services.

Saturday's sessions include "Professional Appearance" by Rick Stern, Straus Clothing, and Laurie Chatham, Laurie's; "Projecting a Professional Image," by Jill Wilkey, NDSU Career Center director; "Back to the Future," by John Bennett, Bennett Financial; "Essential Communication Skills," by Ann Burnett, associate professor of communication; and "Attitudes are Contagious," by Ann Dolence, recreational therapist.

The sessions are offered through the Department of Apparel, Textiles and Interior Design, and is open to all faculty, staff and students. Students may add the class through regular channels before Friday, Jan. 25. There is no charge for full-time students and no prerequisites are required. Faculty and staff may enroll by using a tuition waiver or by paying for one credit. For more information call 1-7368.

NDSU announces annual jazz festival

The NDSU Department of Music is scheduled to host its 20th annual High School Invitational Jazz Festival Saturday, Feb. 2, with special guest artists/clinicians Tom Ferguson on piano, Lynn Seaton on bass and Jim Rupp on drums.

The jazz festival, begun 20 years ago by now-retired band director Orv Eidem, is a tradition that has been continued by Kyle Mack, director of the NDSU Jazz Ensemble. "The festival has always had a purely educational emphasis—there is no competition involved," Mack said.

The festival starts at 8 a.m. and continues until 4:30 p.m. The day consists of performances by the participating high school jazz bands and clinic sessions with the guest artist/clinicians. At 7 p.m., the NDSU Jazz Ensemble will perform a concert featuring the special guest artists.

The high schools involved in this year's festival include Fargo North High; Fargo South High; West Fargo High; Bismarck High; Bismarck Century High; Bismarck St. Mary's High; and Roseau, Minn., High; and Discovery and Ben Franklin Junior Highs. The clinics and the concert are free and open to the public.

The jazz festival is made possible by the NDSU Division of Fine Arts, the NDSU Cooperative Sponsorship Committee and the NDSU Festival Concert Hall staff through grants from Remo Drumheads and Zildjian Cymbals and donations from private and public sources.

Auditions scheduled for 'The Good Person of Setzuan'

Auditions for the Little Country Theater's production of "The Good Person of Setzuan," by Bertolt Brecht, are scheduled for 6-10 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 29, and Wednesday, Jan. 30, in Askanase Auditorium. Auditions for children's parts are scheduled for 5:30-6 p.m. both days. Callbacks are scheduled for 7-10 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 31.

The play, directed by Pamela Chabora, assistant professor of theater arts, tells the story of three gods who come down from heaven to the impoverished city of Setzuan in search of a truly good person in order to convince the all-powerful being to preserve the earth and mankind. They discover Shen Te, the local prostitute, to be the only one worthy of being called virtuous. The gods reward Shen Te with gold and encourage her to remain good, but as she discovers, it is impossible to remain good in a world that reduces one to lying, stealing, manipulating and stepping on others to survive.

Parts for adults and children are available, and auditions are open to students and staff. Those interested in auditioning should sign up for an audition time at Askanase Auditorium, or by calling Chabora at 1-6657.

Chabora will use an unpublished adaptation of the play written by Pulitzer prize and Tony award-winning playwright Tony Kushner.

The show is scheduled to run April 17-20 with a free preview night for NDSU students, faculty and staff scheduled for Tuesday, April 16. Kushner is scheduled to visit NDSU for the April 20 performance.

Continuing education to sponsor personal productivity workshops

"Organizing Time, Work and Priorities: The Special Art of Increasing Personal Productivity," a pair of workshops on personal organization and time management, is scheduled for 9 a.m.-4 p.m. Monday, Feb. 11, and Tuesday, Feb. 12, at the Fargo Doublewood Inn.

Topics planned for the workshops include time management, enhanced productivity, overcoming time-wasters, stress reduction telephone time saving techniques, self-motivation, goal setting, personal effectiveness and energizing yourself and your staff.

The presenter for both workshops is Michael Monroe Kiefer, a time management trainer who provides guidance in more than 15 separate management disciplines. Incorporating accelerated learning methodology into his programs, Kiefer works nationally with companies such as Dun and Bradstreet, Mayo Clinics, Northwest Airlines and the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

Cost of the workshops is $129 each or $238 for both, and includes lunch. Registration may be completed online at www.ndsu.edu/conted or by calling 1-7015 or 800-726-1724.

Tri-College world studies seminar 'Africa Forgotten' scheduled

"Africa Forgotten," this year's Tri-College world studies seminar course, is scheduled for 6:30-9:30 p.m. every Tuesday through March 5. All sessions will be held in room 173 of MacLean Hall on the campus of Minnesota State University Moorhead.

The seminars, offered since 1989, are designed to provide students with an opportunity to enroll in courses that are not offered on any of the individual campuses. The courses rotate between each campus and utilize faculty from all three institutions, as well as other members of the community with expertise in the particular topics being studied.

Course topics vary greatly but always provide a global perspective about the subject matter, serving to "enlighten students about the world in which they live," said Andrew Conteh, MSUM professor of political science. Conteh is chair of the Tri-College World Studies Committee and coordinator of "Africa Forgotten."

A tentative list of upcoming presentations includes:
Jan. 29-"Africa in the Global Economic System and Economic Development;"
Feb. 5-"Democracy and Democratization;"
Feb. 12-"Ethics Conflicts;"
Feb. 19-"African Security Dilemma;"
Feb. 26-"Human Rights;"
March 5-"Africa in World Politics."

NDSU faculty presenters include Kathleen Slobin, associate professor of sociology; William Nganji, assistant professor of agricultural economics; Carol Okigbo, graduate student; Charles Okigbo, associate professor of communication; Mengistu Workineh, post-doctoral research fellow in plant sciences; George Kegode, assistant professor of plant sciences; Redempta Kegode, post-doctoral research associate in cereal sciences; and Thomas Ambrosio, assistant professor of political science.

Students at any of the Tri-College schools may take the course for credit. Students who do not wish to enroll for credit and members of the community are also welcome to attend. Guests may attend either single sessions or the entire series free of charge. No advance registration is required.

For more information, contact Conteh at 236-4009, or Nathan Davis, Tri-College University provost at 1-9733.

Benefit scheduled for Kitch baby

A benefit for Carson Kitch, infant son of Rhonda Kitch, assistant director of admissions, and NDSU graduate student Travis Kitch, is scheduled for Saturday, Jan. 26, at 309 Broadway in Fargo.

Carson has had serious health problems since birth and recently received a liver transplant.

A spaghetti feed is scheduled to begin at 6 p.m. with musical entertainment scheduled for 9 p.m. Attendees must be 21 or older.

Cost of the event is $5. Proceeds will go toward Carson's medical costs, and to support the American Liver Foundation and the Children's Liver Association Support Services.

Bush pedagogical luncheon scheduled

A pedagogical luncheon, "Problem-Based Learning: Problems and Solutions," is scheduled for 11:45 a.m. Wednesday, Jan. 30, in the Memorial Union Prairie Rose room.

Judy Pearson, professor and associate dean of communication, and Paul Nelson, professor and chair of communication, will lead the session, which is geared toward enhancing student learning and comradeship among teachers. Pearson and Nelson will identify some of the problems faced by those incorporating problem-based learning into their courses.

Those planning to attend should register by contacting Mary Stoa at 1-8671 or mary.stoa@ndsu.nodak.edu by Friday, Jan. 25.

The event is sponsored by the Faculty Institute for Excellence in Learning (FIEL) with a grant from the Bush Foundation to promote active learning in classrooms. For more details, visit www.ndsu.nodak.edu/instruct/mehta/bush/ or contact Sudhir Mehta, professor of mechanical engineering, at 1-7871.

All NDSU faculty and staff are welcome to attend.

Shorts and Reminders

Union Food Court specials for Jan. 23-30

Soup of the day

Wednesday: chicken tortilla and broccoli cheese
Thursday: turkey rice and baked potato
Friday: beef noodle and tomato
Monday: California medley cheese and vegetable beef
Tuesday: cream of potato and chicken noodle
Wednesday: minestrone and cheeseburger

The Corner Deli

Wednesday: All-American wrap
Thursday: chicken
Friday: roast beef
Monday: corned beef
Tuesday: turkey
Wednesday: roast beef

A La Carte

Wednesday: sweet and sour chicken
Thursday: big Texan salad
Friday: hot meatloaf sandwich
Monday: fleischkuekle
Tuesday: pasta bar
Wednesday: chicken chow mein

Pizza Express

Wednesday: creamy garlic chicken
Thursday: Tuscany
Friday: once around the kitchen
Monday: Hawaiian
Tuesday: farmhouse
Wednesday: meatball

*Items are subject to change without notice. Call the Dining Services Lunch Line at 1-9501 to check out all of our daily specials. Questions or comments may be dropped in the suggestion boxes located in each dining center and the Union Food Court or call Kristina at the Union Buffet at 1-8122.

Position openings

Positions open and screening dates through the Office of Human Resources, Room 205, Old Main:

Unit Clerk/#5060

12 months; 40 hours/week

8 a.m.-4:30 p.m.; M-F; summer hours vary

Dining Services-Residence Dining Center

$9.88/hour

Jan. 18 (internal); Jan. 25 or until filled (external)

Administrative Secretary/#347

Continuing Education

$19,600+/year

Jan. 23

Food Service Worker/#2166

12 months; 40 hours/week

11:30 a.m.-8 p.m.; M-F;

Weekends as necessary; summer hours vary

Dining Services-Residence Dining Center

$6.75/hour

Open until filled

Lead Dish Room Worker/#1069

12 months; 40 hours/week

8 a.m.-4:30 p.m.; M-F

Dining Services-Union Dining Center

$7.25/hour

Open until filled

Accounts Receivable Technician/#5263

Varsity Mart Bookstore

$22,000/year

Jan. 23

Senior Feature Writer/#5358

University Relations

Salary commensurate with qualifications

Jan. 24

Design Engineer/#5359

Center for Nanoscale Science and Engineering (CNSE)

Salary commensurate with experience

Jan. 29

Residence Hall Director

Residence Life

$22,000/year plus partially furnished apartment, meal plan and benefits

Open until filled

Ruminant Nutrition Technician/Graduate Program/#1459

Animal and Range Sciences

$22,000 minimum/year (80 percent FTE)

April 15 or until filled

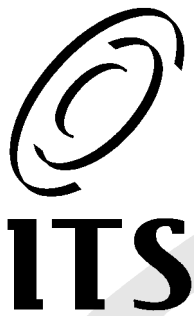

Research Specialist/#5111/#5118

Animal and Range Science

$26,000+/year commensurate with education and experience

Open until filled

Position openings also are available through the NDSU Web site at www.ndsu.edu/jobs.

INFORMATION
TECHNOLOGY
SERVICES

IACC ROOM 206
PHONE 231-8685

Serving the technology needs of faculty, staff and students

www.nodak.edu/its
Jan. 23, 2002

Spring semester training sessions scheduled

Several new and expanded training sessions are scheduled for spring semester. Course descriptions, session schedules, and registration information can be found at www.ndsu.edu/its. Follow the faculty and staff training link in the ITS training section, or call the ITS Help Desk at 1-8685.

Sessions are open to all NDSU faculty and staff at no cost. Pre-registration is required and class sizes are limited. An informational brochure has been mailed to all on-campus faculty and staff members. For additional information or brochures, contact Lorna Olsen at 1-6328.

Spring Technology Lunchbox series scheduled

ITS staff members are scheduled to present a series of monthly demonstrations on a variety of topics throughout the spring semester.

Monday, Jan. 28—Do You Know Where Your Email Is?
Monday, Feb. 25—To PLOT or NOT!
Monday, March 25—Get the Best Digital Images Possible
Monday, April 29—It's All in the Palm of Your Hand!

The sessions are free and open to anyone on campus. Sessions run from 12:10-12:50 p.m. in various locations in the Memorial Union. Attendees may purchase lunch in the Memorial Union Food Court, or bring their own.

For additional information, visit www.ndsu.edu/lunchbox or contact Lorna Olsen at 1-6328. Registration is not required.

Teaching Learning Center serves as resource to both students and faculty

The Teaching Learning Center (TLC) provides training for students who need help in gaining the necessary computer skills to successfully complete class assignments.

The center, located in IACC 150G, is staffed by a coordinator and several student trainers. Classes and walk-in assistance on a variety of computer-related topics are offered year-round.

Additionally, instructors may request training for their students on course-specific topics. Some of the classes the TLC provides are Word, Power Point, Excel, Publisher, Web development topics such as Dreamweaver and FTP, scanning, digital photography, Photoshop and InDesign.

Hands-on training is available in an IACC computer cluster either during class hours or outside class. Classes can be customized to meet the specific needs of a class or project. The TLC computer lab is open 10 a.m.-4 p.m. and 8-10 p.m. Monday-Thursday, 10 a.m.-4 p.m. Friday, 1-4 p.m. Saturday and 6-10 p.m. Sunday for students to continue to work on their projects. Student trainers are on duty during these hours to provide assistance.

For more information, visit www.ndsu.edu/tlc or contact Sheree Kornkven at 1-6327 or Sheree.Kornkven@ndsu.nodak.edu.

Calendar

January

Through Feb. 6 Exhibit—"Crossed Borders", University of Manitoba/NDSU art exchange, Reineke Visual Arts Gallery

Through Jan. 28 Exhibit—"Close to Home," works by Jaime Penuel and Barb Oslie, 9:30 a.m.-6 p.m. Monday-Thursday; 9:30 a.m.-1 p.m. Friday, Memorial Union Gallery

23 USDA-ARS—R. David Law, USDA-ARS, Fargo, "Molecular Mish-Mash: Deciphering the Signals Leading to Dormancy Break in Potato Tubers," 10 a.m., Northern Crop Science Laboratory large conference room

23 History—Dave Kemnitz, ND AFLCIO; Jon Lindgren, ND ACLU; and Jim Norris, associate professor of history; "Democracy and Dissent," noon, Memorial Union University Chambers

24 Women's Studies—Judy Pearson, professor of communication and associate dean of arts, humanities and social sciences, "A Retrospective Examination of Gender Over the Lifespan," 3:30 p.m., Loftsgard 380

24 Faculty recital—Andrew Froehlich, professor of music, piano, 7:30 p.m., Beckwith Recital Hall. Free.

25 Animal and Range Sciences—Jason Turner, extension equine specialist graduate seminar, "Contribution of Colostral Leukocytes in the Development of Immunity in Farm Animal Species," 3 p.m., Hultz 104

25 Wrestling vs. University of Nebraska-Omaha, 7:30 p.m., Bison Sports Arena

27 "Presidents, Politics and Power: American Presidents Who Shaped the 20th Century," documentary featuring Theodore Roosevelt, 1:30 p.m., Main Library Multi-Purpose Rooms (110A and 110B)

29 Campus Attractions—Daisy Chain, male alternative country duo, 11:15 a.m., Memorial Union Cul De Sac lounge. Free.

29-30 Little County Theater—Auditions for "The Good Person of Setzuan," 6-10 p.m., Askanase Hall

30 YMCA of NDSU brown bag seminar, "Heading into Winter and Feeling Blue: Seasonal Affective Disorder and Depression," noon, Memorial Union Peace Garden room

30-Feb. 22 "It's YOUR Art," selected works from the permanent art collections, Memorial Union Gallery. Reception 4-6 p.m. Friday, Feb. 1

February

1 History—Claire Strom, assistant professor of history, "Teaching an Experimental Methods Class in History," 3 p.m., Minard 407

1-2 NDSU High School Jazz Festival. NDSU Jazz Ensemble concert, 7 p.m. Saturday, Festival Concert Hall. Free.

1 Women's basketball vs. UND, 7 p.m., Bison Sports Arena

2 Men's basketball vs. UND, 7 p.m., Bison Sports Arena

3 "Presidents, Politics and Power: American Presidents Who Shaped the 20th Century," documentary featuring Franklin D. Roosevelt, 1:30 p.m., Main Library Multi-Purpose Rooms (110A and 110B)

7 F-M Symphony Family Concert—"Music That Paints a Picture," 7 p.m., Festival Concert Hall. Tickets are $8 for adults and $6 for students and seniors. Tickets available by calling 1-9442.

8-28 NDSU Public Art Project, Reineke Visual Arts Gallery. Reception 3:30 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 10.

8 Women's basketball vs. University of South Dakota, 6 p.m., Bison Sports Arena

8 Men's basketball vs. University of South Dakota, 8 p.m., Bison Sports Arena

9 Women's basketball vs. Morningside, 6 p.m., Bison Sports Arena

9 Men's basketball vs. Morningside, 8 p.m., Bison Sports Arena

10 "Presidents, Politics and Power: American Presidents Who Shaped the 20th Century," documentary featuring Harry S. Truman 1:30 p.m., Main Library Multi-Purpose Rooms (110A and 110B)

12 Campus Attraction—Marc Bamuthi Joseph performs African American spoken word and dance, 7:30 p.m., Memorial Union Alumni Lounge. Free.

13 Wrestling vs. Minnesota State University Moorhead, 7:30 p.m., Bison Sports Arena

14 Women's Studies—Valerie O'Regan, assistant professor of political science and Stephen Stambough, assistant professor of political science, "Women Running for Governor," 3:30 p.m., Loftsgard 380

14 Lively Arts Series—The Chenille Sisters, 7 p.m., Festival Concert Hall. Tickets are available at the Memorial Union Ticket Office or by calling 235-7171.

15 History—David Danbom, professor of history, "Historical Interpretation Exercises for Upper-Division Students," 3 p.m., Minard 407

16 Wrestling vs. Augustana, 7:30 p.m., Bison Sports Arena

16 Woodlands and High Plains Powwow, "Preserving Our Past, Protecting Our Future," Concordia College Memorial Auditorium. Grand entries scheduled for 1 p.m. and 7 p.m.

- 17 "Presidents, Politics and Power: American Presidents Who Shaped the 20th Century," documentary featuring Lyndon B. Johnson, 1:30 p.m., Main Library Multi-Purpose Rooms (110A and 110B)
- 18 President's Day holiday, university closed.
- 21 Campus Attractions—Matt Wahl, singer/songwriter, 11:15 a.m., Memorial Union Alumni Lounge. Free.
- 22 University Chorus and Brass Ensemble concert, 7:30 p.m., Festival Concert Hall. Tickets are $4 for adults and $2 for students. Tickets are available by calling 1-9442.
- 22 Women's basketball vs. South Dakota State University, 6 p.m., Bison Sports Arena
- 22 Men's basketball vs. South Dakota State University, 8 p.m., Bison Sports Arena
- 22 Campus Attractions—Dustin Diamond, comedian, 7:30 p.m., Memorial Union Ballroom and Century Theater. Free.
- 23 Campus Attractions—Stall, rock band, 8 p.m., Memorial Union Ballroom. Free.
- 23 Women's basketball vs. Augustana, 6 p.m., Bison Sports Arena
- 23 Men's basketball vs. Augustana, 8 p.m., Bison Sports Arena
- 24 "Presidents, Politics and Power: American Presidents Who Shaped the 20th Century," documentary featuring Richard M. Nixon, 1:30 p.m., Main Library Multi-Purpose Rooms (110A and 110B)
- 24 Faculty Recital—Matthew Patnode, assistant professor of music, 2 p.m., Beckwith Recital Hall. Free.
- 25-March 1 Women's Week
- 25-March 20 "Hand Built Explorations," ceramics by Julie Punt, Memorial Union Gallery. Reception 4-6 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 26
- 26 Free NDSU staff preview night of Little Country Theatre's "Marvin's Room," 7:30 p.m., Askanase Auditorium
- 27 Varsity Band, Jazz Combo and Jazz Lab Band concert, 7:30 p.m., Festival Concert Hall. Tickets are $4 for adults and $2 for students. Tickets are available by calling 1-9442.
- 27-March 2 Little Country Theatre—"Marvin's Room," by Scott McPherson, 7:30 p.m., Askanase Auditorium. Tickets are $10 for adults, $8 for seniors and students and $4 for NDSU students. Tickets are available by calling 1-9442.
- 28 Campus Attractions—Michael Dean Ester, comedian, 7:30 p.m., Memorial Union Alumni Lounge. Free.
- 28-March 2 NDSU Festival of Bands 2002, Festival Concert Hall

March

- 1 Jazz Combos concert, 7:30 p.m., Beckwith Recital Hall. Free.
- 3 "Presidents, Politics and Power: American Presidents Who Shaped the 20th Century," documentary featuring Ronald W. Reagan, 1:30 p.m., Main Library Multi-Purpose Rooms (110A and 110B)
- 5 Campus Attractions—Lisa Hunter, pop and folk singer/songwriter, 11:15 a.m., Memorial Union Alumni Lounge. Free.
- 22-April 5 Art senior thesis, Memorial Union Gallery. Reception 4-6 p.m. Friday, March 22
- 25 Campus Attractions—Troy Thirdgill, comedian, 7:30 p.m., Memorial Union Cul De Sac Lounge. Free.
- 26 Campus Attractions—Jud Laipply, motivational and self improvement comedian/speaker, 7:30 p.m., Memorial Union Century Theater. Free.

University Relations
North Dakota State University
PO Box 5167
Fargo, ND 58105