

Students to be surveyed on alcohol issues

During the month of September, the Office of Orientation and Student Success will survey students on their use of alcohol and how they perceive the norms surrounding alcohol use.

The survey is being conducted on all 11 state institutions of higher education and is endorsed by the North Dakota Higher Education Consortium for the Substance Abuse Prevention.

Data from the survey will be used to implement programs, services and policies aimed at reducing the harmful effects of high risk alcohol and drug use. Data will be compared to previous surveys conducted in 2001, 2003 and 2005 to determine trends in student use and perceptions.

About 1,000 students will be surveyed in classrooms selected through a stratified random sample procedure. Half of the students will complete the Core Alcohol and Drug Survey, which takes approximately 20 minutes, and, half of the students will complete the Campus Survey of Alcohol and Other Drugs, which takes approximately 12 minutes. The project has received IRB approval and will follow protocol for informed consent.

Instructors of classes selected in the sample will be notified for their permission to administer the survey. Questions about the survey may be directed to Laura Oster-Aaland at 1-7750.

Berglund receives distinguished service award

Duane R. Berglund, NDSU Extension Service agronomist and professor of plant sciences, has received a distinguished service award from the National Association of County Agricultural Agents. Berglund was presented with the award at the organization's annual meeting held in July in Cincinnati.

The award is presented to the top 2 percent of county agents from each state who have more than 10 years of service in the Extension Service. The selection is made by the recipient's county agent peers in their state, and endorsed by the state Extension Service director. This year, awards were given to 67 individuals nationwide.

The association recognized Berglund for 29 years of providing leadership in the area of crop diversity, including canola, field peas, sunflowers, soybeans, dry beans, flax and lentils. The association also said Berglund's efforts have resulted in a great amount of new income for North Dakota producers.

Berglund earned his bachelor's, master's and doctoral degrees at NDSU. He taught vocational agriculture, and was a laboratory instructor and research assistant while working on his advanced degrees. He was chair of the agriculture production division at the University of Minnesota, Waseca.

Berglund came to NDSU as an Extension agronomist in 1977. He was assistant director for agriculture and natural resources in the NDSU Extension Service from 1983-89. He assumed his present position in 1989.

First NDSU Loveland scholarship awarded

NDSU has awarded the first Laurie J. Loveland Scholarship to graduate student Dena Marie Wyum, a native of Rutland, N.D. The Loveland scholarship fund will provide $5,000 during the academic year.

Wyum, who is studying counseling and family therapy, graduated from Sargent Central High School in 2003, and completed her undergraduate degree at NDSU this past spring. She is involved as a FirstLink Hotline volunteer and a Community Emergency Response Team (CERT) member.

The Loveland scholarship and seminar speaker's endowment was established at NDSU in spring 2005 in honor of Loveland, who died of pancreatic cancer in 2002 at age 43.

A 1980 NDSU graduate, Loveland was a lawyer instrumental in drafting and negotiating the master settlement agreement between the nation's tobacco companies and 46 states, five U.S. territories and the District of Columbia. Loveland also served as Assistant Attorney General and Solicitor General for the State of North Dakota and as a Supreme Court fellow.

In addition to her professional accomplishments, Loveland was an advocate for women's rights and adult literacy, and a friend and champion of children. She excelled in academics at Minot High School, NDSU and Yale Law School. The $5,000 scholarship is aimed at providing funding for North Dakota women who want to make a difference in the world.

To be eligible for the scholarship, recipients must be women enrolled at NDSU, having achieved junior class status by the next application date—Feb. 15, 2007. Recipients also must have graduated from a high school in North Dakota, be pursuing a career in public service and have demonstrated strong leadership potential. Scholarship applications will be available in December from the NDSU Student Financial Services and Women's Studies offices.

Lardy featured in NY Times article

Greg Lardy, associate professor of animal and range sciences and extension beef cattle specialist, was featured in an Aug. 29 New York Times article about the Midwest drought.

In the article, Lardy contends that although the region has been hard hit by drought, the area isn't large enough to affect prices nationwide, since some regions of the country have experienced good growing seasons.

In August, Lardy and other specialists hosted nine drought meetings in south-central and southwestern North Dakota. The meetings gave farmers and ranchers the opportunity to learn about feed and forage options, water quality, economic implications of decisions and other drought-related topics. More than 360 ranchers and farmers attended the meetings.

Other presenters included Kevin Sedivec, associate professor of animal and range sciences and rangeland management specialist; Tim Petry, associate professor of agribusiness and applied economics and livestock economist; Justin Luther, assistant professor of animal and range sciences and sheep specialist; Charles Stoltenow, veterinarian and associate professor of animal and range sciences; Karl Hoppe, Carrington Research Extension Center livestock specialist; and Dan Nudell, Hettinger Research Extension Center.

Kattis receive NSF grant to study clay-fluid interaction

NDSU professors Dinesh Katti, associate dean of research in the College of Engineering and Architecture; and Kalpana Katti, associate professor of civil engineering, have received $209,922 from the National Science Foundation to study molecular interactions between clays and fluids and how it impacts engineering properties.

The three-year grant project, "Modeling Effect of Molecular Interactions on Evolution of Microstructure and Swelling and Swelling Pressure Responses in Montmorillonite Expansive Clays," will use quantitative computer modeling to understand the molecular interactions.

According to Dinesh Katti, such factors are critical in evaluating the feasible use of these materials for environmental engineering and other engineering applications.

"These interactions play a critical role in the swelling behavior in expansive clays that causes tremendous damage to infrastructure in the United States and around the world," said Katti. "In the United States alone, the annual loss due to these soils is reported to be approximately $7 billion."

According to Kalpana Katti, the research is an important step toward the development of micro- and nano-mechanics of clay swelling soils. It also quantitatively provides a framework for studying the effect of chemical and biological molecules on swelling and swelling pressure.

As part of their research, the Kattis also plan to develop new educational modules to enhance learning of fundamentals of clay behavior and courses with emphasis on nanoscale and molecular interactions and their effect on macro response in soils.

Bromley featured in area art exhibits, hypnosis research

Paintings by Kim Bromley, associate professor of visual arts, are featured in the exhibit "New Landscape Paintings: Oil Paintings by Kim Bromley" on display at the Spirit Room, Fargo, through Oct. 1. A reception is planned for 6:30 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 16.

Bromley's painting "Billboard Beauty: Erin 329," was accepted into the Heritage Hjemkomst Interpretive Center's juried fine arts exhibition. The exhibit runs through Sept. 29.

In addition, "Hypnotic Enhancement of Creative Drawing," a study on the significance of hypnosis on creativity by Bromley and James Council, professor of psychology, was accepted for publication in the International Journal of Clinical and Experimental Hypnosis.

The three-year study assessed volunteer participants creativity in drawing before and during hypnosis. Findings showed hypnosis has a significant effect on creativity. The research study also is studying the effects of hypnosis on creativity in painting and acting. Results of the current research are scheduled for presentation in a special symposium during an upcoming meeting of the American Psychological Association.

HD&E presentations, publications awards listed

Hyung-Chan Kim, assistant professor of apparel, design, facility and hospitality management, is scheduled to present "Computer Animation: The Collaboration Teaching Method of Sustainable Design Through Computer Design Technology in Design Studio" at the International Future Design conference set for October in Seoul, Korea.

"Experience Sampling Method: Measuring the Quality of Everyday Life," a book by Joel Hektner, associate professor of child development and family science, recently was published.

"Safety Net or Free Fall: The Impact of Cooperating Teachers," a manuscript by Stacy Duffield, assistant professor in the School of Education, has been accepted for publication in Teacher Development.

Michael J. Craw, assistant professor of health, nutrition and exercise science, presented the paper "The Fiscal Impact of 117th IOC Session on Singapore" at the National Association for Kinesiology and Physical Education in Higher Education held recently in San Diego. Craw also presented "The Proposed NDSU Sport Management Curriculum" at the North American Society for Sport Management Conference held recently in Kansas City. In addition, he published an article in a European Olympic education journal, and authored two chapters for the book "Human Movement and Sport Education in South East Asia."

Brad Strand, head of health, nutrition and exercised science, presented "Decision-Making With Ethics and Morality in Today's Sports World" at a recent National High School Coaches Association conference in Branson, Mo., and the North Dakota High School Coaches Association conference in Fargo.

"Hastings Needlework Company: Women Creating, Women Providing," a manuscript by Ann Braaten, assistant professor of apparel, design, facility and hospitality management, was published in the summer edition of Minnesota History.

Gary Liguori, assistant professor of health, nutrition and exercise science, and graduate student Jacinta Kuehn received a $6,500 grant from the State Department of Health and Healthy North Dakota to conduct an evaluation and prepare a legislative report of pilot work site wellness sites around the state.

Carol Rusaw, associate professor in the School of Education, has been accepted as a Fulbright senior specialist, working with universities requesting assistance in educational projects.

Debra Pankow, assistant professor and economics specialist in Extension child development and family science, had an article published in the most recent issue of The Forum for Family and Consumer Issues.

Thrasher presents at international conference

Michael Thrasher, assistant professor of music, presented a lecture based on his research paper "Italian Clarinetist-Composers of the 19th Century: An Examination of Style, Repertoire and Pedagogy," at the annual conference of the International Clarinet Association, held Aug. 9-13 in Augusta, Ga. Thrasher was one of six presenters.

Coston, Koch present at national InfraGard conference

D.C. Coston, vice president for agriculture and university extension, and Becky Koch, director of agriculture communication, presented "Partners for Defending the Food and Agriculture System" at the InfraGard national conference held Aug. 24 in Washington, D.C.

InfraGard is an FBI program that involves private industry and academia in information sharing and analysis efforts. The NDSU presentation was part of the three-day food and agriculture terrorism track at the conference.

Coston is chair of the National Institute for Agricultural Security (NIAS), consisting primarily of state agricultural experiment stations addressing homeland security issues facing agriculture, the food system and rural communities. Koch is chair-elect of the Extension Disaster Education Network (EDEN), which shares educational resources to reduce the impact of natural and man-made disasters.

Student Health Service staff member dies

Marilyn Roesler, medical technologist in Student Health Services, died Thursday, Aug. 31, at MeritCare Hospital, Fargo. She was 58.

Marilyn graduated from NDSU with a degree in medical technology and had been a Student Health Service laboratory employee since 1999.

She is survived by her husband, Dale, three sons and five grandchildren.

Balaz to review for NIH

Stefan Balaz, professor of pharmaceutical sciences, will participate in the review of grant applications for the National Institutes of Health's Drug Discovery and Mechanisms of Antimicrobial Resistance Study Section.

The study section, part of the Infectious Diseases and Microbiology Integrated Review Group, deals with applications that focus on the identification of novel antimicrobial agents for the prevention and treatment of infectious diseases, and the study of the evolution, mechanisms and transmission of resistance.

According to a letter by the study section administrator, Balaz was selected because of his experience in molecular modeling.

"Reviewing is a great way to support a natural development of science," said Balaz. "It is a part of service to the scientific community, and an obligation of every scientist."

Balaz also serves on the editorial boards of the journals QSAR and Combinatorial Science, Current Computer-Aided Drug Design, Medicinal Chemistry and Current Chemical Biology, and is a reviewer for numerous other journals.

Events

Family Weekend scheduled

Family Weekend at NDSU is scheduled for Sept. 15-17. Family Weekend is a chance for families of current students to visit campus and spend time with their son or daughter while participating in a variety of activities at NDSU.

More than 500 family members typically participate in the annual event. Families can attend such activities as the president's breakfast, pre-game barbecue and a football game. Additional events also are planned.

For a detailed schedule call Nancy Mueller in the Office of Orientation and Student Success at 1-8379.

Fundraising workshop scheduled

"The Changing Landscape of Fundraising and Capital Campaigns," a professional development workshop hosted by the NDSU Department of Communication, is scheduled for Oct. 16-20 at the Radisson Hotel, Fargo.

The workshop is designed for nonprofit organizations, university personnel and campaign committee members and volunteers who are engaged in fundraising activities.

The workshop is scheduled to feature Chris Spooner, director of major giving at the University of Wyoming Foundation; Frank White, Harvard University; Jack Oldham, director of foundation relations at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology; Jennifer Moore, managing editor of the Chronicle of Philanthropy; Jim Miller, executive director of the NDSU Development Foundation; Wes Binner, vice president for development at the West Central Initiative, Fergus Falls; and Robert Giere, director of alumni philanthropy at Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn.

For more information and to register, visit www.ndsu.edu/fundraising or contact Deanna Sellnow, professor of communication, at 1-8221.

Search and seizure brown bag seminar set

The brown bag seminar "Search and Seizure: A Constitutional Overview and Application to the University Setting," is scheduled for noon Wednesday, Sept. 20, in the Memorial Union Prairie Rose Room.

Robert Wood, associate professor of political science, and Nona Wood, associate director of student rights and responsibilities, will present an overview of Fourth Amendment and how it applies in the university setting.

The event is free and open to the public, and is sponsored by the YMCA of NDSU. For more information, call 1-5225.

IRB conference planned

"Human Subjects Research: Ethics and Challenges," an Institutional Review Board conference, is scheduled for 8 a.m.-5 p.m. Friday, Sept. 29, in the Memorial Union.

The conference is designed for faculty researchers, research assistants graduate assistants and IRB members and administrators who conduct or review research involving human participants, or who supervise student research.

Attendees will have the opportunity to learn about ethical principles and discuss current challenges in conducting or reviewing research with human subjects. The conference also will include federal requirements for protecting research participants and clarify how federal agencies define "human subjects research" in diverse disciplines.

Participants will hear from speakers and panelists who are leaders in the field, including representatives from several federal agencies. Participants also will examine a variety of case studies with expert panelists, choose from several break-out sessions highlighting specialized areas of research, learn the components of an effective human subjects protection program and discover several new initiatives and proposals to enhance the current system of protections.

NDSU faculty, staff and students who register by Sept. 15 can receive a special conference rate of $25. Breakfast, refreshments, lunch and conference materials are included in the registration fee. A full conference schedule, presenter information and registration is available at www.ndsu.edu/irbconf.

Questions should be directed to the Institutional Review Board at 1-8908 or ndsu.irb@ndsu.edu.

TIAA-CREF appointments offered

TIAA-CREF consultants are scheduled to be on campus for investment counseling appointments from 8:30 a.m.-4 p.m. Sept. 14-15 in the Memorial Union Crest Room; 8:30 a.m.-4 p.m. Oct. 10-12 in the Old Main Lincoln Log Cabin; 8:30 a.m.-4 p.m. Nov. 8-9 in the Alumni Center; and 8:30 a.m.-4 p.m. Nov. 15-16 on the Old Main Lincoln Log Cabin.

Individual counseling sessions are available to discuss investment planning issues such as consolidation of assets with TIAA-CREF, selecting TIAA-CREF options and finding the right allocation mix, developing a strategy, understanding basic investment choices available and understanding the effects of inflation and taxes on retirement income.

To schedule an appointment, visit the TIAA-CREF Web site at www.tiaa-cref.org/moc, or call (800) 842-2009.

TIAA-CREF financial seminar scheduled

TIAA-CREF has scheduled financial education seminars for 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 13, in the Alumni Center.

"Enhancements to Your Retirement Plans are Here!" provides attendees with an overview of changes to retirements plans, any necessary action, and an explanation of expanded investment options and the allocation process.

Reservations can be made at www.tiaa-cref.org/moc or by calling contact Starr Pacheco at (800) 842-2009.

Calendar

September

- Through Oct. 1 Studio scholarship exhibition, Reineke Fine Arts Center Gallery.
- 13 Soil science—Cj Johnson, ITS training specialist, “Ideas for Preparing a Great Oral Presentation Using Power Point,” 3 p.m., Walster 217
- 13 Career Center—“Meet the Firms” career fair for accounting, accountancy and finance fields, 4-7 p.m., Memorial Union Ballroom
- 13-15 Little Country Theater—“The Children’s Hour,” 7:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday, and 2 p.m. Sunday, Askanae Auditorium. Tickets are $12 for adults; $10 for seniors, NDSU faculty, staff and alumni, and non-NDSU students; and $4 for NDSU students. Call 1-9442 for tickets.
- 14-Oct. 5 Bruce Hummel exhibit, NDSU Downtown Gallery. Reception 5 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 28.
- 14 USDA-ARS—Prem Jauhar, research geneticist, “Cytogenetic Architecture of Wheat and Its Genetic Enhancement Using Tools of Cytogenetics and Biotechnology: Prospects and Challenges,” 10 a.m., Northern Crops Science Laboratory large conference room
- 15 USDA-ARS —Morrie Craig, Oregon State University, “Tansy Toxicosis and TNT Degradation by Sheep Microbes—A New Paradigm for Plant Detoxification and Bioremediation,” 10 a.m., Biosciences Research Laboratory large conference room
- 15 Animal and range sciences—Linda Blythe, Oregon State University, “The College of Veterinary Medicine at Oregon State University and Recent Cases of Tall Fescue and Perennial Ryegrass Toxicosis - Endophyte Cases,” 3 p.m. Hultz 104
- 15 Plant sciences—Rebekah Oliver, graduate student, “Spotted Knapweed Invasion: Is Chemical Warfare a Factor?” 3:30 p.m., Loftsgard 114
- 15 Tangled Roots and Chuck Suchy in concert, 7:30 p.m., Festival Concert Hall. Tickets are $10 for adults, $5 for students and $20 for a family of five or less. Call 1-9442 for tickets.
- 16 Faculty recital—Thomas Christianson, percussion, 7:30 p.m., Beckwith Recital Hall. Free.
- 16 Football vs. Northeastern University (Trees Bowl/Family Weekend), 6 p.m., Fargodome
- 17 Women’s soccer vs. Drake University, noon, Ellig Sports Complex

- 19-21 Little Country Theater—"The Children's Hour," 7:30 p.m., Askanase Auditorium. Tickets are $12 for adults; $10 for seniors, NDSU faculty, staff and alumni, and non-NDSU students; and $4 for NDSU students. Call 1-9442 for tickets.
- 20 YMCA of NDSU—brown bag seminar "Search and Seizure: A Constitutional Overview and Application to the University Setting," noon, Memorial Union Prairie Rose Room
- 20 Soil science—Zhaosheng Fan, graduate research assistant, "Persistence and Fate of Estradiol and Testosterone in Agricultural Soils," 3 p.m., Walster 217
- 21 Pharmacy, nursing and allied sciences career fair, 10 a.m.-3 p.m., Fargodome. Honors program, 3-5 p.m., Fargodome.
- 27 Career Center—"Engineering and Tech Expo" career fair for engineering, MIS and computer science fields, 10 a.m.-3 p.m., Fargodome
- 27 YMCA of NDSU—brown bag seminar, "You Are What You Eat," noon, Memorial Union Peace Garden Room
- 27 Soil science—Jennifer Heglund, Conservation Security Program, "Reward the Best, Motivate the Rest," 3 p.m., Walster 217
- 28 Student Health Services—Meningitis clinic, 1-7 p.m., Memorial Union Prairie Rose Room
- 29 Jazz ensembles concert, 7:30 p.m., Festival Concert Hall. Tickets are $5 for adults, and $2 for students and seniors. Call 1-9442 for tickets.
- 12-28 Arts and humanities summit North Dakota faculty exhibit, Reineke Fine Arts Center Gallery.
- 13 Entomology—Joseph Rinehart, USDA biosciences, Fargo, "Stress Physiology of the Antarctic Midge," 2 p.m., Northern Crops Research Center
- 14 Football vs. Mississippi Valley State University (Homecoming), 1 p.m., Fargodome
- 14 Volleyball vs. Utah Valley State University, 5 p.m., Bentson Bunker Fieldhouse
- 15 Women's soccer vs. Indiana University-Purdue University Fort Wayne, noon, Ellig Sports Complex
- 15 Fall choral concert, 2 p.m., Festival Concert Hall. Tickets are $5 for adults, and $2 for students and seniors. Call 1-9442 for tickets.
- 15 Volleyball vs. University of South Dakota, 5 p.m., Bentson Bunker Fieldhouse
- 17 Career Center—"Agriculture Career Fair," 9 a.m.-3 p.m., Memorial Union Ballroom
- 18 YMCA of NDSU—brown bag seminar, "The Federal Job Search," noon, Memorial Union Prairie Rose Room
- 18 Soil science—Mary Aldrich, MinnKota Recycling, "The Business of Recycling," 3 p.m., Walster 217
- 19-21 NDSU Opera Theater—"Pirates of Penzance," 7:30 p.m., Festival Concert Hall. Tickets are $15 for adults, $12 for seniors and $5 for students. Call 1-9442 for tickets.

October

- 4 Career Center—"Graduate and Professional School Day," 1-5 p.m., Concordia College Knutson Center Spectrum
- 4 Soil science—Daryl Ritchison, meteorologist, "Global Warming: Theories vs. Hype," 3 p.m., Walster 217
- 5 Lively Arts Series—Ballet Folklorico Mexico, 7 p.m., Festival Concert Hall. Tickets are $5 for the public and free with NDSU ID. Call 1-9442 for tickets.
- 6 Entomology—Kelley Jean Tilmon, South Dakota State University, "Soybean Insect Research," 2 p.m., Northern Crops Research Center
- 9 Choral Fest concert, 7 p.m., Festival Concert Hall. Tickets are $5 for adults, and $2 for students and seniors. Call 1-9442 for tickets.
- 11 YMCA of NDSU—brown bag seminar, "The Importance of Civic Engagement," noon, Memorial Union Meadowlark Room
- 11 Soil science—Kristine Nichols, "Glomalin and Soil Aggregation," 3 p.m., Walster 217
- 12-28 Arts and humanities summit North Dakota student exhibit, NDSU Downtown Gallery.
- 20 Entomology—Chris Johnson, research specialist in entomology, "Construction of a cDNA Library from the Pheromone Gland of Heliothis virescens," 2 p.m., Northern Crops Research Center
- 20 Bison Stampede rodeo, 6:30 p.m., Red River Fairgrounds, West Fargo
- 21 Bison Stampede rodeo, 1 p.m. and 6:30 p.m., Red River Fairgrounds, West Fargo
- 21 Volleyball vs. University of Texas-Pan American, 7 p.m., Bentson Bunker Fieldhouse
- 22 Wind Ensemble concert, 4 p.m., Festival Concert Hall. Tickets are $5 for adults, and $2 for students and seniors. Call 1-9442 for tickets.
- 25 YMCA of NDSU - brown bag seminar, "Surviving the Streets of Guatemala," noon, Memorial Union Prairie Rose Room
- 25 Soil sciences—Donald Schwert, professor of geoscience and director of the Center for Science and Mathematics, "The Stockwood Fill (The History of a Collapsed Railroad Grade East of Fargo)," 3 p.m., Walster 217
- 27 North Dakota arts and humanities summit—Thomas Proehl, 3 p.m., Festival Concert Hall. Free.
- 28 North Dakota arts and humanities summit—Dave Eggers, 2 p.m., Festival Concert Hall. Free.

November

- 1 YMCA of NDSU—brown bag seminar, “White Privilege: What Does it Mean for Me?” noon, Memorial Union Peace Garden Room
- 1 Soil science—undergraduate student seminars, 3 p.m., Walster 217
- 2-12 Baccalaureate exhibition—Dave Lewellyn, NDSU Downtown Gallery. Reception 5 p.m., Friday, Nov. 3.
- 3-8 Baccalaureate exhibition—Lori Lofgren, Reineke Fine Arts Center Gallery. Reception 4:40 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 2.
- 8 YMCA of NDSU—brown bag seminar, “Make it Happen! Life Lessons on Leadership and Wellness,” noon, Memorial Union Century Theater
- 8 Soil science—undergraduate student seminars, 3 p.m., Walster 217
- 8 Lively Arts Series—Chicago Boys Acrobats, 7 p.m., Festival Concert Hall. Tickets are $5 for the public and free with NDSU ID. Call 1-9442 for tickets.
- 10 Veteran’s Day holiday—university closed
- 10 Volleyball—National Independent Tournament, 9 a.m.-8 p.m., Bison Sports Arena
- 11 Football vs. California Polytechnic State University (Harvest Bowl), 1 p.m., Fargodome
- 11 Volleyball—National Independent Tournament, 2-8 p.m., Bison Sports Arena
- 11 Baroque Festival chamber concert, 7:30 p.m., Festival Concert Hall. Tickets are $15 for adults, $12 for seniors and $8 for students. Call 1-9442 for tickets.
- 12 Baroque Festival student concert, 2 p.m., Festival Concert Hall. Tickets are $5 for adults, and $2 for students and seniors. Call 1-9442 for tickets.
- 13 Woodwind chamber concert, 7:30 p.m., Beckwith Recital Hall. Free.
- 14 Career Center—“Tri-College Career and Internship Fair,” noon-4 p.m., Ramada Plaza Suites, Fargo
- 14 Saxophone Quartet concert, 7:30 p.m., Beckwith Recital Hall. Free.
- 15 YMCA of NDSU—brown bag seminar, “HIV/AIDS,” noon, Memorial Union Peace Garden Room
- 15-19 Little Country Theater—“The Recognition of Shakuntala,” 7:30 p.m. Wednesday-Saturday, 2 p.m. Sunday, Askanase Auditorium. Tickets are $12 for adults; $10 for seniors, NDSU faculty, staff and alumni, and non-NDSU students; and $4 for NDSU students. Call 1-9442 for tickets.
- 16-23 Baccalaureate exhibition—Amy Johnson, NDSU Downtown Gallery. Reception, 5 p.m., Friday, Nov. 17.
- 17 Entomology—Becky Simmons, University of North Dakota, “Applying Molecular Data and Systematics to Lepidopteran Pests,” 2 p.m., Northern Crops Research Center
- 18 Football vs. South Dakota State University (Dakota Marker), 6 p.m., Fargodome
- 20 Percussion Ensemble concert, 7:30 p.m., Festival Concert Hall. Tickets are $5 for adults, and $2 for students and seniors.
- 21-Dec. 8 Baccalaureate exhibition—Arion Poitra, Reineke Fine Arts Center Gallery. Reception 4:30 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 22.
- 21 Brass chamber concert, 7:30 p.m., Beckwith Recital Hall. Free.
- 22 Soil science—Jasper Teboh, graduate research assistant, “Nitrogen and Phosphorus Contribution of Potato Residue and Buckwheat to a Subsequent Crop Rotation,” 3 p.m., Walster 217
- 23 Thanksgiving holiday—university closed
- 28-Dec. 6 Baccalaureate exhibition—Rebecca Kirtz, NDSU Downtown Gallery. Reception 5 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 29.
- 29 YMCA of NDSU—brown bag seminar, “Spirituality: A Pathway to Peace,” noon, Memorial Union Prairie Rose Room
- 29 Soil science—Don Tanaka, “Agricultural Systems Work @ Mandan for Cropping and Livestock Production,” 3 p.m., Walster 217

December

- 1-3 Madrigal dinners, 6:30 p.m., Festival Concert Hall lobby. Tickets are $35. Call 1-9442 for tickets.
