

LABORATORY

The lab is used as a base for exploration, collection and examination of data from the observatory at the top of the tower and freshwater sources below. Situated under the lifted skirt of the folded, rusting steel surfaces above, the space is like being in the belly of an ore ship - flipped vertically.

skin

observatory level

lookout level

repurposed structure
Ashland, WI ore dock

gabion trombe walls

repurposed train track

water trough

KIT OF PARTS
axonometric
1"=20'