BIOGRAPHY

By 1875, Buck family from Friedenstal, Bessarabia immigrated to Tripp, Dakota Territory/ Columbus, Nebraska/ Scotland, Dakota Territory/ Eureka, South Dakota/ to Richville - Streeter, North Dakota in 1891, joined further Buck family from Friedenstal in 1893.

By 1885, Graff family from Neudorf, Glueckstal colonies, South Russia, immigrated to Tripp (Neu-Posttal), Dakota Territory/ Eureka, South Dakota/ to Richville, Streeter in 1893.

Three double marriages united between Graf and Buck families before 1900: John Graf, Jr. and Katherina Buck; Adolph Graf and Wilhelmina Buck; Christina Graf and Ludwig Buck, Jr. They provided fifty years of visionary leadership for the new settlement community of Richville/ Streeter (1895-1945), with church, cultural, business, and educational impact.

Adolph Graf/ Wilhelmina “Minnie” Buck Graf had sufficient wealth at Streeter to travel six months in 1913 to Berlin, Germany. They traveled to their birth villages of Neudorf and Friedenstal.

SCOPE AND CONTENT

Within the Graf-Buck Collection are three boxes of written and printed materials relating to the Graf and Buck families and the publication of their family history, Graf-Buck Family Heritage. Also present are three binders and two boxes of photographic prints, the majority of which were used in that publication.

The Correspondence Series consists mainly of email correspondence concerning the layout and publication of Graf-Buck Family Heritage. These emails date from 2003-2005, the majority of which were written to- and from- the Germans from Russia Heritage Collection and the donors of the collection. A second folder of correspondence, The Historic Correspondence Folder, contains two birth records handwritten in 1904 and 1933, and letters written Gottfried Hoffmann from Argentina in 1926, and Ludwig Janke in 1946. The letters in this folder have been translated into English.

Also contained within the Correspondence Series are the two folders of the Mittleider Letters. These were written by Adolf Mittleider, a wealthy kulak or farmer in the Caucasus, from 1928 until 1930. These letters discuss societal and economic changes that took place during this period in the Soviet Union which ruined the kulaks' way of life. Mittleider was unable to pay the taxes designed to economically cripple the kulaks and he was sentenced to hard labor. These letters were translated into English by Alice Morgenstern of Munich, Germany.

The Book Materials Series contains materials which relate to the production and publication of the book, Graf-Buck Family Heritage. Present within the series are a book review by Edna Boardman, several cover designs, an early draft of the book, and drafts of commentary written for the book by family members Phyllis K. Bancroft, Patsy Ramberg, and Jerome and Shirley Hust.
Within the Genealogy Series are two folders, each dedicated to the history of the family of Ludwig Buck and John Graf, respectively. Each of these folders contains a family history, prepared by Jay Gage of GRHC in 2003, and also photocopies of handwritten genealogies of the particular families.

The Image Copies Series contains materials related to the images used in Graf-Buck Family Heritage that were present in the collection, outside of the images themselves. Present within this series is one folder of commentary from various family members and GRHC staff concerning the identification of the photographs. Also present within this series is one folder of color and black and white photocopies of the images used in Graf-Buck Family Heritage with handwritten notations used in the identification process.

Contained within the Ephemeria Series are three folders of materials. The Announcements Folder consists of a birth announcement for Phillip Westine, and two wedding announcements: Paul and Gertrude (Buck) Westine, and John and Magdalene (Buck) Scher. The Bookmarks Folder contains three bookmarks, one of which is for the Sixtieth Anniversary of Trinity Lutheran Church in Jamestown, North Dakota. The Christmas Cards Folder contains two Christmas cards, one sent to Martha Buck, and another sent by the Arthur Graf family.

The Religious Certificates Series features six lithographs commemorating confirmations, baptisms, and a marriage for members of the Buck Family. Family members whose certificates are present include: Ludwig, Christina, Arthur, Gertrude, Minnie, Esther, and Martha Buck. Also present are two sets of laminated photocopies of these certificates.

Two books are contained within the Books Series. One book is a senior yearbook for the 1929 class of Minot High School, called The Sunflower. The other book is a Sunday School book written for young children. This book was published in 1876 and is printed in German.

The Photographic Images Series forms the crux of the Ludwig and Christina Graf-Buck Collection. It was donated as a separate collection known as the Gertrude Buck Westine Collection by Phillip Westine, but was incorporated into the Graf-Buck Collection, per request of the donors. This collection consists of 409 photographic images: 257 prints and 149 digital images. The images date from the 1860s until the 1980s. The majority of these images are of relatives of the Graf-Buck family or unidentified individuals, but there are also several images of Streeter, North Dakota, including interiors of the Graf and Buck store, school children, and events such as weddings, confirmations, or school plays. This series is housed in three binders and two boxes.

Images numbered 1 to 180 were used in the publication of the book, Graf-Buck Family Heritage. These were kept in the original order as found so as to correspond with the commentary for the photos that was prepared for the book. (This information can be found within the Images Copies Series.) Original copies of photos found in this series were previously labeled as “a and b”. These copies account for the twenty-one images that do not have their own number.

Images 181-217 were not used for the book and were processed within the same collection, but with their own schema. The subsseries of this portion of the Photographic Images Series were processed thus: Portraits of Individuals, Portraits of Groups, and Buildings.
