THE SPECTRUM

Friday, February 24, 1950 THE SPECTRUM Vol. LXV No. 20

Campus Board To Revamp Election Policies Here

The Board of Campus Affairs, at a meeting held recently, discussed election policies for the coming student election. The discussion was brought about by the dissatisfaction caused by past elections.

Present at the meeting were board members Jim O'Toole, Bob Ouradnick, Marv Evans, and Gordon Tollerud, faculty advisors Miss Eleanor Vergin, Dr. Willard Pye, and Miss Ellen Harding. Guests present were Dean Dinan, Dean Sevrinson, Dr. Johnsgard, and Kenneth Olson, president of the Student commission.

During the discussion several methods of nominating future candidates were brought forth. They are as follows:

1. Nomination by student petitioning, with a specified number of signers.
2. Elimination of candidates to a set number by taking petitions with the highest number of signers.
3. Elimination of candidates by a primary election and holding a caucus.
4. A two party system.
5. The present system.

A meeting will be held March 9 at which time the policy to be used will be adopted. Any suggestions of improvements will be considered if brought to the attention of a member of the Board or a member of the student commission.

SPD's, AGR's Take Sculpture Contest

Sigma Phi Delta copped first place in the Alpha Phi Omega Snow sculpture contest last weekend. Alpha Gamma Rho placed second.

Contest Chairman Bob Tenneson made the awards Saturday evening during the Carnival's Queen Coronation ceremonies in Festival hall. Tenneson announced this week that photographers from Holiday magazine and the Minneapolis Tribune, in Fargo covering the Jack Frost Winter Carnival, took several pictures of the entries. These photos may appear in future issues of the publications he said.

Entered in the contest were Sigma Phi Delta, "Smokey Stover," Alpha Gamma Rho, "Andy Gump;" Theta Chi, "Kigmy;" Phi Mu, "Donald Duck"; and Alpha Tau Omega, "Schmoo".

Judges for the competition were Mmes. D. E. Hoppert, Abner Solvig, and F. M. Bolin, all members of the Art section of the Fargo Fine Arts club.

Snow Queen...

MARJORIE HEGER, freshman in the school of applied arts and sciences, won top honors last weekend when she was chosen Jack Frost Winter Carnival Queen. Miss Heger is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority.

Mackie To Speak

The agricultural economics seminar set for Thursday, Mar. 2, will feature a talk by a leading farmer from Scotland, England.

The speaker, Mr. Maitland Mackie, Jr., will use as his topic, "A Future of British Agriculture."

The meeting will be held in room 215 Morrill hall at 4 p.m.

"Candida" To Make Debut Tuesday

"Candida" will be presented next Tuesday, Thursday and Friday. Contrary to last weeks Spectrum the dates are February 28 and March 2 and 3.

The play is a comedy satire, especially on wives and the men that surround them. Candida Morell is the wife of Reverend James Morell, clergyman in a small English town.

Auggie Aamodt plays the part of Rev. Morell. Auggie is a junior in AAS from Fargo. He has previously taken part in "Playboy of the Western World" and "Around the Dawn." Auggie is also active in local state and national Methodist student work.

The Reverend is a somewhat pompous and self-centered fellow. He is adored by his wife and congregation. The conflict appears in the form of Eugene Marchbanks, a young and idealistic poet, who falls in love with Candida.

Nickel Series Opens With Pep Convocation

By JOHN PAULSEN

Last-minute plans were completed Thursday, preparatory to an all-college Pep Convocation which was to kick-off a two day celebration surrounding the annual NDAC-NDU basketball series. The pep rally was to be held at 9:40 this morning with Rahjah Club officials in charge. Game time for tonight's Field house basketball contest is 8 o'clock.

Grand Forks officials predicted a heavy exodus of Sioux fans from the University city for the two series games to be played in Fargo. The Sioux, still in a possible position to annex the NCC cage championship, are nevertheless only an even-money bet against Chuck Bentson's Bison, winners of five straight games.

Athletic Department officials said no preliminary game would be played this evening, preceding the varsity encounter, but that the annual freshman game between the two schools would get underway promptly at 6:15 tomorrow evening. Coach Norm Evan's Baby Bison, reputedly the strongest Herd freshman quintet since 1939, are favored to win Saturday's game.

Halftime entertainment at tonight's game will be furnished by the NDAC gymnastic team, with Bill Euren's Gold Star band scheduled to appear during tomorrow's mid-game intermission. Cheerleaders from both institutions are also scheduled to perform.

Scholarship Applications Available

Girls wishing to apply for one of the various undergraduate scholarships available on the campus may do so through Miss Dinan's office where forms may be secured. There are certain scholarships available only to women students from any school on the campus; such as, the Panhellenic, the Senior Staff, the Gamma Phi Beta, the Kappa Kappa Gamma and the N.D.A.C. Women's Club Scholarships.

There are other scholarships available to women students in specific fields such as the Mary E. Laycock Scholarship of one hundred dollars ($100.00) offered by the members of the Home Makers Clubs in North Dakota for the first time this year to a junior girl interested in going into Extension Work.

Forms for applying for this scholarship may be secured in the Dean of Women's Office but should be filed in Miss DeLong's office in the Extension Division. Girls applying for the Mary E. Laycock Scholarship may if they wish file duplicate applications in the Dean of Women's Office for the scholarships for which they are eligible.

Scholarships such as the Danforth, the deLendrecie, the Emma K. Herbst and the WNAX are available only to Home Economics girls and information may be secured from Miss Kapuscinski, chairman of the scholarship awards in the School of Home Economics.

A third type of scholarship is available to both men and women students such as the Norman B. Black, the Shiloh Lodge, the Elks and the Knights Templar. Both men and women students may secure information concerning these from Dean Sudro, chairman of the Scholarship Committee; or Dean Sevrinson or Dean Dinan will give information as to how to proceed with applications.

Beaux Arts To Display Sample Costumes Soon

Sample costumes have been designed for the Beaux Arts Ball by the seniors in Architecture. They will be on display next week, along with a life size original, in the windows of the Straus Co., and de-

Lendrecies here in Fargo. There has been to much reluctance on the part of the student body to devise original costumes for the event, according to Irvin Holman, president of Atlier Chat Noir, the sponsoring group. Each couple should try to imagine what a couple in the twenty fifth century would look—and the more weird the better, he added.

Tickets are on sale now for $2.00 including tax. They can be purchased from any student of Architecture. However, there are a limited number for sale, it was stated.

The ball will be held next Friday March 3 in Festival hall from 9:30 until 1:00. The event will feature Ralph Muchler and his orchestra.

SET PING-PONG TOURNAMENT

Vaughn Thorinsson, athletic chairman of the college "Y" announces the dates for the annual Ping Pong tourney. Play-offs take place from March 3rd. to March 7th. Championship rounds March 8th. and 9th. All students wishing to participate must sign up before March 1st. All NDAC students are eligible and should sign up at the "Y" desk.

Know Your Law

Q. Are there restrictions on the relative age of adopting parents and adopted children?

A. Yes, the adopting parent must be 10 years older than the person to be adopted.

Q. In case adoption is granted are the Court records open to inspection?

A. No, the files and records of the Court in adoption proceedings shall not be open to inspection or copy by persons other than the parties interested, their attorneys, and representatives of the Division of Child Welfare of the Public Welfare Board, except upon an order of the Court expressly permitting the same.

Q. After adoption is completed does the child inherit from its adopted parents?

A. Yes, under the law of succession the child inherits from its parents adopting it, and, conversely, the adopting parents inherit from the child to the exclusion of the natural parents. The child, however, inherits from both adopting parents and natural parents.

Q. In what Court must adoption be entertained—where the child lives or where the adopting parents live?

A. The District Court of the County wherein the adopting parents reside is the Court having jurisdiction of the matter and petition must be filed in that Court.

Q. Is the consent of the adopted child ever necessary for an adoption proceeding?

A. Yes. If the child is over 10 years of age, his consent in writing is an essential part of the proceeding.

Q. Is the consent of the natural parents essential to adoption?

A. Except in unusual cases, if the child is legitimate, yes, and if the child is illegitimate, the consent of the mother is required. Matters involving loss of the child through abandonment, judgment of a court, etc., involve unusual cases and each must be considered separately and those questions should be submitted to your lawyer.

Q. How is the consent required by the law given?

A. The parent consenting must be given before a Judge of the County Court, a Judge of the Juvenile Court (District Court) or the juvenile commissioner of the county where the person consenting lives.

Q. May an adult be adopted?

A. Yes, and in that case, the consent of the adopting adult is all the consent required.

Q. How about the name of the adopted person?

A. The Court wherein the adoption proceeding is being conducted has the power to change the name of the person being adopted and the new name is judicially determined in the Decree of Adoption and no further judicial proceeding is necessary in connection with the new name.

Q. What about the new birth certificate? Does it show that the child is an adopted child?

A. The birth certificate as filed with the Registrar of Vital Statistics at Bismarck, North Dakota, when the child was born is not destroyed, but upon adoption the Registrar is notified and he issues a notice in usual form for the records of the adopted child wherein it is outlined that the child is the true child of the adopting parents and no mention is made of the fact of adoption.

Q. Is a Decree of Adoption rendered in North Dakota valid in other states for all purposes?

A. Yes. The laws of the various states recognize a Judgment of Adoption in North Dakota.

NDAC Receives National Honor

For the new food freezing courses in home economics, NDAC has been chosen "College of the Month" in the February issue of "Colhecon," national publication of college home economics clubs.

An article, written by Donna Sommerfeld, NDAC junior in home economics, from Mandan, appears in the magazine telling of the two courses in freezing now offered at the college and the practical applications made in testing out frozen products by the members of Tryota club.

Under the NDAC program all sophomore home economics students take a course in freezing general foodstuffs experimenting with various methods of wrapping and packaging.

Students further interested may elect to take a second course in "Special Problems in Food Freezing" taught by Dr. Leita Davy, dean of the school of home economics.

NDAC Art Club Initiates Sixteen

Recently initiated into the NDAC Art club at ceremonies held in the Art Attic of Science hall were: Russell Henningsgard, Barbara Snyder, Janet Wolbert, Stella Aarskaug, Peggy Armstrong, Lois Fitzloff, Natalie Leiseth, Nancy Smith, Marlene Severson, Patricia Bane, Jean Moll, Margaret Groethe, Charlotte Oslund, Virginia Unruh, Patricia Sparrow, and Virginia Tritchler.

The aim of the Art club is to further an interest in art; to bring about a greater unification and a more effective organization of those interested in the work; to supply greater opportunities for social recreation, and to give the group a chance for self-expression.

Club Hears Talk By Kapuscinski

By ARLENE SAX

"Art is not a handicraft; it is the transmission of feeling which the artist has experienced," (as Tolstoy said). This was the theme of Miss Frances Kapuscinski's talk at a recent meeting of the Extension Home Economics staff and the campus Home Economics staff. The purpose of this meeting was to create a better understanding of art.

Miss Kapuscinski gave the philosophy of art and Miss Jean Stange reported on her summer study at Columbia university. Her subject was "The Arts in Contemporary Life" or music, dance, and literature.

Miss Kapuscinski told that teachers try to give their students a basis for the growth in and appreciation of art. Art is in the air, soil, and everything, but we rarely realize its influence on us. "Form" is a common word in discussions of art, but it also appears in everyday things as athletics, singing, and leadership.

Form means to "take shape." However, art does not take shape; an artist gives it form. A teacher also give students an understanding, a wholesome attitude towards art, a respect for materials, and a realization of a necessity to open our eyes in order to enjoy more things around us. If we do this, we will see more beauty in the humble things around us as rocks, sticks and weeds. Examples of this are the displays in the art department. They use weeds and twigs in very attractive displays.

YMCA Quartet To Appear On Campus Radio Show

The College YMCA and the "Y" Quartet will be featured on the NDAC Radio Speech class broadcast over KSJB at 4 p.m. March 2.

The script is being prepared by Kenneth Olson, YMCA Secretary. Members of the quartet are Ronie Nelson, Bucyuc, Dick Maetzold, Crary, Glenn Dehlin, Fargo, and Don Legrid, Appleton, Minn. This is the last term the quartet will be intact. Dick will be out of school the spring term and Glenn graduates.

Hildegard Kreiselmaier, A A S sophomore from Ludwigshafen, Germany, will star on the broadcast March 9. Hildegard, an accomplished violinist, is a member of the Fargo-Moorhead Civic orchestra and is a student and instructor at the Concordia Conservatory of Music. The program is under the supervision of Barbara Loomis.

On March 16th the 4-H Institute will be featured and on March 23 the broadcast will deal with NDAC's 60th Anniversary.

University ISA Plans Contest

Which school has the best dancers, the University or NDAC? The Independent Student association at the U means to find out, according to W. J. Hammes, correspondent.

The association is sponsoring a "Series Swing" to be held Saturday March 4 at 9 p.m. following the last game of this years "Nickel Series." The contest is open to all NDAC students for one dollar per couple.

Trophies will be awarded to the winning couple, said Hammes. One to the boy and one to the girl, he added.

The invitation, issued as a challenge to the students of NDAC through this paper should prove once and for all who has the best dancers.

Plan Sock Dance For Next Meeting

Highlights of the next meeting of the Independent Student association will be a potluck supper, prepared by home-talent chefs, and a sock dance. The meeting will be held Monday night in the college Y.

Spring membership drives will open at this meeting. All members and potential members should attend. Officers for the following year will be elected at the meeting set for Monday, March 6.

Cancel Noon Meals

The Quantity Cooking class, which has been serving meals in Dakota hall on Tuesdays and Thursdays, will discontinue this service. The last meal will be served Thursday, March 2.

KD's Plan Open House

Kappa Delta sorority will hold their first open house for all college students on Saturday, February 25, from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. at their new home 1261 13th Street North.

The house is the result of 2 years planning on the part of alumnae and college members. The color scheme of the entire house has been built around the drapes which are an American provincial design print in coral, green and beige.

The modern furnishing scheme has been under the direction of Mrs. Rodney Hastings and Mrs. Sid Iverson. They have chosen functional styles with much of the furniture custom made with hotel construction.

The chapter room furnishings are flexible in that most of them are sectional and can be moved if necessary. Tables with a new stype plastic top impervious to wear are used for study and serving both.

Woodwork throughout the house is in birch. The dining end of the living room has a built-in birch buffet across the entire side of the wall.

The house is managed by student members with the help of the alumnae advisory committee

Henry Goes All Out, Turns Artist

By MORGEN HENRY

We got so interested in Bob Gordon's theory of analyzing character with a pencil that we decided to take a whack at it ourselves. Bob Gordon you may remember, appeared at Festival hall some weeks ago and analyzed characters on the stage via the easel.

Well, we got a bottle of Higgins black and a shaggy old brush and began to stroll around in search of characters. This is what we found:

I The first character we sketched was rather reluctant since he had just knocked off a local bank and was coming out the door with the loot when we set up our easel. In analyzing this character one should notice the harried, almost furtive pitch of the mouth, the solemnity of the eyes and the position of the ears, which reveals a great deal. Observe also the disarranged hair, and the firm clutch on the money bag which signifies determination and aggressive drive.

II Number two would have been a great study except that the subject leaned over just as we started in and the result, as you can see, is mostly parking sign. The parking sign is something of a study, in itself. It neither approximates an ellipse nor a circle. The lettering is poorly executed. One would have to turn his head on side to read it. This is what the subject is probably doing.

What few clues are available in regard to the character under study indicate that he is either extremely shy (shielding oneself from people by parking signs is a symptom of crowd-phobia) or that he has got his pants-leg caught in a sewer grate.

III Number three is a sketch of a young girl either studying or sleeping. The erect position of the head might indicate that the subject is studying, although this is not proof positive. The flower is not growing out of her head, as far as we can determine. The book the subject is holding is "Tip-Top Comics," a textbook, we have been told. However, closer examination of the subject reveals that she is furtively reading The Odyssey under the cover of the comic magazine.

IV We sketched number four on a downtown intersection just as a sausage wagon came by. That probably accounts for the reflective look in the eye.

Psychologically speaking, this dog is in a rather bad way since his front and hind legs point in different directions. This must give him untold difficulty while turning corners or while trotting. Something should be done about it.

The spots do not seem to indicate anything alarming except that the subject has been crawling under too many low cars recently. The tail is perfectly normal.

V This man was hammering when we drew up and got peevish when we started to sketch. This was probably because he missed the nail and hit his thumb. We seem to have caught him just in the midst of being peevish.

Psychologically speaking, this gent is an old grouch. Look at that sour look on his puss! Nyaaaaaah! Go ahead, hit your thumb again, you old sourpuss!

Well, now that we have run psychoanalysis into the ground perhaps we can get on to newer vistas. See you next week, kiddies.

Distribution . . .

Because of recent complaints about Spectrum distribution, we again repeat the few simple rules which should enable most students to receive their paper each Friday with the least possible difficulty.

Baring unforeseen troubles Spectrums are placed in the following buildings each week between 10 a.m. and 11 a.m.: Religion, Ceres hall, Old Main, Engineering, Chemistry, Dairy, Vet. Science, Pharmacy, Morrill, and Science.

If students will pick up their paper as they leave their ten o'clock class instead of rushing to Science hall the congestion should be relieved.

No papers are distributed at the Spectrum office.

The girls of Kappa Delta Sorority and Kappa Kappa Gamma Fraternity cordially invite you to attend an open house held at their respective domains on Saturday from three until five. All university students as well as those from NDAC are invited, so why not drop over to discuss the pros and cons of basketball.

Although convo this morning seems to be the main topic of conversation, lend an eye for just a second and let's summarize the past week. Because she is the only gal to receive a ring this week, Anne Whitman obtains top billing in the social column by becoming engaged to Leonard Cronke.

Wednesday was a fun day for the Kappa Sigs who were entertained by the Phi Mus. They in turn were entertained on Thursday at the Kappa Psi house. The SAEs outdid themselves on Thursday also by entertaining the Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority.

Margaret Sullivan pledged Kappa Delta on Monday evening just in time to be on hand for the KD tea on Tuesday for their province director, Mrs. Campbell who hails from Dubuque, Iowa was the guest of honor at several grand functions during the the past week.

The SAEs have introduced a new method of entertaining their date by setting aside every Friday evening as Date Dinner night. News from the chapter also has it that Jim Ginakes had breakfast with President Truman on Wednesday. Seems Jim was attending the national DeMolay convention in Washington this past week.

"Entertaining alumni" was the password at the SAE house on Wednesday when the former actives got together for a dutch lunch at the chapter house. The Theta Chi's were doubly honored recently when they entertained their national president, Stu Kelly and Miss North Dakota, Joan Teets at dinner.

Last Monday, the Gamma Phis did themselves proud by entertaining in their homes at a joint potluck with the Kappas. This evening the Sigma Phi Deltas will entertain at a formal party at their home after the game.

By the way, Whitey Turner, star forward for the NDAC basketball team, is the proud papa of a nine pound baby girl. How about that. A delicious home made pot luck supper will be served at 6:30 preceding the ISA sock dance on Monday evening. Throwing all caution to the wind, no shoes will be in evidence on the dance floor.

Thats about it kids but how about really supporting the team this weekend. Remember that your team is only as strong as the student body.

A welcome is in order to the aliens from the north. Here's hoping they have a fine time down here. The usual followers of the squad should enjoy watching a BB game right side up for a change too, instead of hanging by their feet from a lighting fixture.

Things have been mighty quiet at the Theta Chi house lately—a quarantine sure can throw the old wet blanket on party life.

The Jack Frost parade last Saturday was worth a couple comments. One thing that should be straightened out right now though: those big round people weren't visiting Concordia students—even if their heads did come to a point.

Another thing: Miss Crisco sure was getting that glass cage all steamed up.

A couple of our co-eds really showed up all right in the final judging, too. Congrats to Marge Heger and to Pershing Rifle Sweetheart Marion Paris. (Pershing Rifles: a folley with a volley.)

Anyone on campus who's lucky enough to get hold of a Beaux Arts Ball ticket, should sit tight and wait for one of the biggest blasts of the school year. It's going to be all out.

Al Capp was wrong—One thing Schmoos don't give: prizes.

They're trying to keep it quiet at the airport, but last Friday night two planes mistook Wichmann's house for a beacon and tried to land on Fourth Street.

Old Cecil B. McGeary, as he was monickered by Steve Vujovich, is starting to sweat again over the Brevities. So are some of the enterprising acts.

Mr. Apple's main objective, as stated in his Letter to the Editor last week, is to raise an issue. The object of such an "issue" is a dramatic cry to change a few clauses in a group which has been singled out as particularly vulnerable these days: American College Fraternities. Since measures are being taken all over the country to change these "objectionable clauses," it is apparently just a matter of time until these changes are made.

However, it does take time. Such a movement is slow in being brought about. And if it is, it is more likely to be done in a quiet, mind our own business way rather than raising burning issues complete with fiery speeches. Leave all that for the soap boxes—it has little place in an organized college way of life.

And as far as the Preamble to the constitution goes, fraternities, as well as any other private groups—including the family reserve certain freedoms. Anybody has the right to resent intrusion.

HISTORICAL

The genesis of "ROTC" originated in 1819. In that year Captain Alden Partridge, a former superintendent of the United States Military Academy, founded the American Literary, Scientific, and Military Academy (Later Norwich University) at Northfield, Vermont. His aims were "to fit young men for their duties as citizens . . . to make its students competent to take the part of their country, should their services be needed to defend their honor, or interests in the field." Aside from West Point, this was the first educational institution at which military studies were prescribed as part of the curriculum.

On March 2, 1890, the North Dakota Agricultural College was established by the first legislative assembly of the State under the provisions of the Morrill Land Grant Act, and has maintained a Military Department since that time except for a three year period from 1943-1945 when the program was curtailed during WW II.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT ORGANIZATION

The NDAC Military Department is composed of an Army unit commanded by Lt. Col. Neal W. Lovsnes, Professor of Military Science and Tactics, and an Air Force unit commanded by Major Robert E. Phillips, Professor of Air Science and Tactics. The units are administered on a co-equal basis with the Army unit responsible to Fifth Army Headquarters.

CURRICULUM

The curriculum consists of a basic course for Freshmen and Sophomores and an advanced course for Juniors and Seniors.

Under existing North Dakota State Law all physically qualified, non-veteran, Freshman and Sophomore male students who are citizens of the United States are required to take six quarters of Military and Air Science comprising the Basic Course. One credit hour per quarter is granted for the course with six credit hours a prerequisite for graduation from this institution. However, veterans who have served more than six months in the Armed Forces receive constructive credits not to exceed three quarters and are required to take only the second year of the Basic Course. Veterans with one year or more service receive six credits toward graduation and are completely exempt from Basic ROTC.

The first year of the basic course in both the Army and Air Force curriculum is identical and covers Military Organization, Geographical Foundations of National Power, Military Psychology and Personnel Management, Evolution of Warfare, and Maps and Aerial Photographs.

During the second year of the basic course the academic work is broken down into branch subjects with the Army sophomores taking Marksmanship, Weapons, Technique of Fire, Scouting and Patrolling, and Tactics, while the Air Force Sophomores cover Aerodynamics and Propulsion, Weather and Navigation, Applied Air Power, Utilization and Handling of Fuels, and Introduction to Air Installations.

ADVANCED COURSE ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS

Those students selected for enrollment in either the Advanced Army or Advanced Air Force ROTC program must:

1. Have successfully completed the Basic Course or had at least one year of honorable active military service.
2. Execute a written agreement with the Government to complete the Advanced Course, contingent upon remaining in school, and to attend the Summer Camp at the time specified.
3. Not have reached 27 years of age at the time of initial enrollment in the Advanced Course.

4. Successfully complete the general survey screening tests prescribed.
5. Be selected by the Professor of Military Science and Tactics or the Professor of Air Science and Tactics and the head of the institution.

In addition to the above requirements students desiring to enroll in the Advanced Air Force program must be pursuing an academic major in some field of engineering, architecture, chemistry, physics, or other acceptable scientific or technical fields.

ENROLLMENT FIGURES

During the current term there are 668 students enrolled in Military, with the breakdown as follows:

Freshmen	374
Sophomores	205
Army Advanced	29
Air Force Adv.	60

MILITARY BALL

One of the highlights of the campus winter social season, the Military Ball is sponsored annually by Scabbard & Blade, The Arnold Society of Air Cadets, the Pershing Rifles, and the Guidon Society.

ADVANCE COURSE

The objective of the advanced course is to prepare students to become officers in the regular or reserve components of the Army or the Air Force. Advanced course classes are held five hours each week and earn three graduation credits per term. Advanced course students receive government pay to the amount of approximately $600 for their services during the two academic years and summer training.

SUMMER CAMP

All advanced students are required to attend a six week summer camp between their Junior and Senior year. The camp is a concentrated laboratory course in which the student puts into practice the theoretical work covered during the year. NDAC Army students will attend camp at Camp McCoy, Wisconsin, while the Air Force cadets are slated for the Air Force Institute of Technology, at Wright-Patterson AFB, Dayton, Ohio.

CADET BATTALION

The entire cadet corps at NDAC is organized into a battalion composed of two companies and two squadrons for the purpose of giving students practical experience in leadership and drill and for use in special ceremonies and parades. Robert H. Tenneson, Fargo, is the Battalion Commander, with Charles Olson, Hawley, commanding "A" Company; Virgil Holden, Page, commanding "B" Squadron; Vernon Albertson, Twin Valley, Minn., commanding "C" Squadron; and Donald Campbell, Casleton, commanding "D" Troop.

Tonight At

8, two NCC teams—NDAC and NDU—meet in the first of four all-important games which will, in fact, have much to do with the success or failure of both team's seasons.

NDU, under freshman coach Glenn Jarrett, must win three victories to gain at tie for the championship.

The Bison, on the other hand, need to make a success of this, the fourth stage of a peculiar campaign, to make Chuck Bentson's first year here an over-all successful one.

In the first stage of the campaign — the pre-season part—qualified opinion was that with a new coach and tested material the Herd would, for the first time in four years, put in a serious bid for loop supremacy. Then, during the first half of the season, NDAC played poorly and were a disappointment to Bison followers everywhere. Finally, in the third stage just concluded, the Herd displayed steady improvement, vindicated itself against several earlier conquerors, and wound up by capturing its last five contests.

Two week's ago, NDU would have been prohibitive favorites against NDAC. Today, bookmakers have installed the Herd as even money to capture the decisive series. Their decision is apparently based not so much on comparative statistics as on the fundamentally important fact that evidence indicates NDAC is heading into its peak of effectiveness while Jarrett's Sioux, after phenomenal early successes, have lost their sharpest edge.

Statistics

an important but fallible barometer, indicates that the U's offensive superiority is more marked than the defensive advantage which NDAC will hold. NDU has a 69.8 scoring mark; the Herd's is 53.8. Defensively, the Sioux have about a 63 point average while NDAC has yielded an average of only 51.8 points per contest.

Individually, NDU is vastly superior, according to statistical evidence. Ed Weber with 18.3, Pete Simonson with 16.8, Fritz Engel with 13.1, and Don Meredith with 10.2 give the Sioux four men who have averaged over 10 points per-loop game. NDAC has only two competitors who have reached the ten point figure in NCC averages: Dave Torson with 12.4 and Jack Garrett with 10.6.

The Sioux have been invincible at home, winning eight times without defeat. NDAC has captured only half of its eight home affairs. On the road, though, UND has won but three of nine games while the Bison have captured six out of ten contests played on foreign courts.

We can accept, ipso facto, the word of Dan Chapman that the Sioux are brilliant offensively. The record proves it. We must acknowledge that, with an 11-6 record against NDAC's 10-8 mark, the Sioux have had a better campaign.

But, by the same token, NDAC is more ready for these decisive contest now than they have ever been. No doubt remains but that the Herd is at the peak of its season efforts. It has won five straight contests, at least three of them in impressive fashion. It has demonstrated greater effectiveness against common foes during the past three weeks than has NDU. The team has overcome an earlier inability to extend its collective per-game scoring average beyond the fifty-point margin. Bentson has finally selected what he would call his starting five. (The same five men have started the team's five last games.) NDAC is in the decidedly advantageous position of being able to begin the series on its home court.

Finally, and most importantly, at long last the squad has developed the confidence which it needs have against a high scoring club like North Dakota University. The players believe they can win from the Sioux, particularly here at home. They are confident they can stretch a five game winning stretch into lucky seven. Until disproven, there seems to be little need of arguing with such a hypothesis.

We wish 'em luck.

Nothing But

death and taxes is certain. There is a certain amount of gamble connected with every imaginable endeavor. This is as true in selecting a football coach as it is in anything else. However, the desirable thing to do is to minimize as much as possible the risk involved, to verify obtainable facts to the fullest degree.

In the selection of Mac Wenskunas, the college is to be congratulated for having done this more fully and more according to Hoyle than it has in the hiring of a previous football coach and two basketball coaches since the war.

Wenskunas comes here with the highest recommendations possible. His two coaches, Ray Eliot and Burt Ingwerson praised him highly. An opposing coach, Morningside's George Allen, reported his club as "well-drilled and well-coached," Sportswriters and associates at Quincy College, where he has coached since 1947, have commended him highly, and report that Quincy is lamenting his loss.

His personality attracted College President F. S. Hultz, athletic board members—student and faculty—and athletic director C. C. Finnegan. Other persons, myself included who had the opportunity to visit with him briefly during his stay in Fargo were much impressed by the new Herd tutor.

Within a week or two, I would like to report to you some observations which Wenskunas made during his visit which point out the apparent soundness of the new skipper.

Bison, Sioux Even Money For Series Opener Tonight; Game Set For 8 In Fieldhouse

By JOHN HESSE

Coach Chuck Bentson's NDAC cagers completed their drills yesterday in preparation for the first of their four game series against North Dakota university tonight at the field house. The second game will be played tomorrow and the third and fourth contests will be played at Grand Forks next Friday and Saturday.

The Sioux rank as favorites in the series by virtue of a superior record. Coach Red Jarrett's quint have a conference record of seven wins against two defeats at the hands of South Dakota State and Morningside. However, there two losses have come late in the year, and in the late stages of the season the Bison have been hitting their stride.

The Sioux began the season with a loss at the hands of powerful Hamline, and then they began a rampage that kept them unbeaten in play up until about two weeks ago. So far this year, the Sioux have been almost invincible on their small home court, but their record on the road, although impressive as that of the Redmen, is not dismal. The Bison have a record for the year of ten wins and eight defeats. The Herd won their first game of the year from Gustavus Adolphus and went on to another victory over Moorhead State Teachers college. Then in rapid succession came losses to Concordia and MSTC. However they snapped out of it temporarily to beat Mayville Teachers and Wahpeton Science. Then came more losses. Iowa Teachers shaded the Herd twice, South Dakota State and Morningside administered home beatings to the Bison. MSTC got double revenge for the early loss, and South Dakota university nipped the Bentsonmen, paced by the torrid shooting of John Diefendorf.

Then the Bison came through to upset Morningside, an early season favorite, and trample Diefendorf and his SDU Coyote pack. Since that time the Bison have knocked off Concordia, and South Dakota State, thus avenging earlier losses, and tripped Augustana in two games.

Although the Sioux boast one of the top offensive averages of the conference, the Bison defense has been consistently tops, and the Herd has the best defensive average in the loop.

The Sioux are being paced by Ed Weber, a veteran at forward, who can be called upon to play center if need be. Teamed with him is Pete Simonson, an all-stater at Grand Forks Central a few years back. At center the Sioux use big Don Meredith a 6'-6" lad from Valley City. Jarrett has been using Lou Bogan, another veteran and defensive star, and Fritz Engel, a deadly two handed set shot artist, at guards.

Chuck Bentson has seven men which could be almost considered starters, as any of them can play well in any combination. At the forwards Bentson has been starting Marv Evans and Dave (White) Turner. The center that has been doing much of the work is Jack Garrett, but Clayton Sondag has been pushing him for a starting berth in late games. At guards Bentson has three capable performers in the persons of all-conference Dave Torson, Art Bredahl, and Bob Geston.

Basketball Playoffs On This Week

The regular Intra-Mural basketball schedule was concluded last week with the championship playoffs being held this week.

Teams featured in the playoffs are those which finished second or better in their respective brackets. There was one tie for second, in bracket B, between Student Body 3 and Theta Chi 1. This was settled in a pre-playoff game Tuesday night, with Student Body 3 the victor. Although the tournament schedule was not bracketed according to seedings, the Dorm Aggie Midgets and the Student Body 3 will be favored to meet in the finals with either the Lettermen's club or the SAE's perfectly capable of upsetting the apple-cart.

The championship finals are to be held next Tuesday at the Field House starting at 8:00. There is no admission charge and anyone interested may attend.

Torson Named Top Cager

SHOWN RECEIVING a suit of clothes and shirt from Ted Evanson's Carl Rorvig, is ace Bison guard Dave Torson. The award was made after Torson had been named Fargo-Moorhead's college basketball player of the year in a radio and newspaper poll sponsored by Evanson's. Besides Torson and Rorvig—a former Bison cage star and 1939 NDAC graduate—looking on are Bill Weaver, WDAY sportscaster, and Roy Pedersen, a 1941 AC graduate and conductor of Evanson's 'Man on the Street' broadcast on which the presentation was made. Cooperating in the poll, in addition to Weaver, were KVOX's Manny Marget, Wayne Grant of KFGO, and Sportswriter Jim Peterson of the Moorhead Daily News.

There seems to be plenty of news this week, but first and foremost comes that ever-lovin' retraction piece. They say that two wrongs never make a right, and that's just what happened to me. I corrected a mistake with a mistake. It was neither Bob Peterson or Arvid Skogerboe who threw the ball at Roy Domek in a recent Concordia-NDAC tussle. It was a guy named Strand. And although nobody called my attention to it, he was not thrown out of the game, he was removed by his coach, Jack Christensen.

BISON VS. SIOUX

Well, it's here. Tonight is the first game of the annual four game Bison-Sioux series. It should be a thrilling game as are all of these contests. If there is never any school spirit on the campus, it appears when the big four game series comes around. Although the Sioux are favorites and have a superior record for the season, you can't call the Bison out. Past record and comparative scores don't much.

By the way, for any of the fans who can't attend the games, Bill Weaver will be bringing a play-by-play account of both contests at 11:10 P.M. both Friday and Saturday nights. If you work or have to go home over the weekend, at least listen in to the games.

But I don't think that we need worry too much about these college students not attending the games. Usually the field house is so crowded that it is all a person can do to get a seat even if he comes early.

If nothing else, it will be interesting to see how Chuck Bentson plans to stop the high scoring Sioux. A coach that is as defensive minded as is Bentson should have something up his sleeve when it comes to stopping a high scoring quint such as the Sioux.

The big thing in the favor of the Sioux is the defensive balance that they possess. If one of them isn't hitting the others are. Ed Weber has been the scoring ace for the Fightin' Sioux this year, but Pete Simonson, another forward is right up there near the top. Then there is Fritz Engel, a guard with an almost unstoppable two handed set shot. If none of them are hitting it is up to Lou Bogan, Don Meredith or reserve Jim Bischke to take over the brunt of the attack.

NAME FOOTBALL COACH

It looks like the athletic officials at NDAC are launching an all-out effort for youth in their coaching jobs. Last week shortly after the Spectrum went to press, it was announced that Mac Wenskunas had signed as head football coach. This is the second young coach to come to NDAC to try and change the athletic fortunes of the school.

In his playing days at Illinois, Wenskunas was the captain and most valuable player on the team that romped over Southern California in the Rose Bowl.

If his record at Quincy college at Quincy, Illinois is any indication, Wenskunas should be a pretty successful coach, if he has the material to work with. That should be a small problem for next year with a host of veterans returning and a freshman squad that went through the year without tasting defeat.

And speaking of freshman teams, the Yearling basketball squad took its first shellacking of the year the other night. They dropped a scrimmage tilt to the powerful Lettermen's Club of the Intramural loop. With the line-up of Dale Pepple, Jim O'Connor, Duane Anderson, Don Fougner, and Rodney Fercho, those boys are big and tough.

PLAN CAPTAIN TROPHY

C. C. (Casey) Finnegan, athletic director at NDAC is launching a campaign for a captain's memorial trophy. The trophy will be in memory of George (Jug) Newgard, basketball captain at NDAC during the 1927 season. Newgard, a Mandan product was a star in football and basketball during his playing days. Newgard was killed in action on Guadalcanal October 16, 1942. Finnegan is collecting funds from some of Newgard's friends and teammates, and is planning to purchase a trophy to be passed down from one captain to another at a special ceremony every spring.

Well tonight's the night. If you are willing to take some advice, get out to the game early. It promises to be quite a contest, and you know what happens when the Bison and Sioux meet, if you'll pardon a bromide.

NDAC Frosh Meet Sioux Tomorrow

By JOHN MASHEK

North Dakota State's freshmen team will renew their rivalry with the upstate University Sioux, Saturday night in the fieldhouse at 6:20. Dewey King will bring a highly regarded yearling quintet to Fargo, and the contest should provide interesting for reasons of comparing strength of the two schools in the years to come.

Little is known of King's squad, except that two former Minot all-stars, Chuck Wolfe and Bill McGhinley, have been carrying the scoring burden. Wolfe was the leading scorer in class "A" basketball last year, and Norm Evans will have to come up with a defense to stop the Minot south-paw.

Evans will probably rely on his regular starting five. That would be Jim O'Connor and Grut Anderson at forwards, Don Fougner at center, and Dale Pepple and Jerry Geisler in the back-court. Rod Fercho and Ozzie Twedt will undoubtedly see early action.

The victory string of the freshmen team was snapped by Ted Barnick's Lettermen crew, 37-31 February 17. The Green and Yellow had their "coldest" night of the year, and the slow breaking Lettermen took every advantage offered them. It was 14-9 in a hectic first half with neither team showing any inclination for the game. Al Keating lead the onslaught for the lettermen by netting 14 points and playing a bang-up game on the boards. The scoring for the frosh was distributed among the five starters.

On February, 15, the baby Bison won a polio benefit game at Kindred, North Dakota from the Comstock Independents. The smooth working Herd maintained a lead of ten to twenty points throughout the contest and won going away, 65-44. Don Fougner and Grut Anderson each contributed 12 points to take scoring honors.

Wenskunas Is Coach

By JOHN PAULSEN

Announcement of the appointment of Mac P. Wenskunas, 27, now head football coach at Quincy (Ill.) College, as head grid mentor at NDAC was made Saturday by Dr. Fred S. Hultz, NDAC President. The announcement was made after Wenskunas, who will replace recently resigned Howard Bliss, had returned a signed three-year contract.

The new coach had been in Fargo previously for discussions with Hultz, athletic director C. C. Finnegan, and the college's Board of Athletic Control. Finnegan said an assistant, to replace the resigned Sol Kamuf, would be named at a later date.

The athletic director also reported that Wenskunas will be in Fargo this spring to supervise spring practice sessions for his 1950 squad.

He is married with two children, Mary Ellen, 3½, and Tommy, 1½.

A native of Georgetown, Illinois, Wenskunas entered the University of Illinois in 1941. A varsity center in 1942, the new Herd skipper, spent three years in the Marine Corps, before returning to Illinois in 1945. Wenskunas was regular center on Ray Eliot's 1945 and 1946 Illini, and during the latter year served as captain and was named most valuable player on the squad. The 1946 team captured the Big Nine championship and romped over UCLA, 45-14, in the Rose Bowl contest.

He was appointed head grid coach at Quincy College in 1947, the second year the 600-student college participated in intercollegiate sports, had in three campaigns his clubs posted a 19-6 record. This year's team, after dropping a one-sided affair to undefeated St. Ambrose, won eight straight contests, including a 28-14 victory over Morningside.

Bison Cop Fifth Straight; Beat Augustana By 54-40

By DON LOVELAND

The NDAC cagers racked up their fourth consecutive NCI basketball victory of the season by out playing the Augustana Vikings 54-40 in a setto held last Friday evening on the field house floor. This victory gives the Bison a .500 rating in the loop, which assures them of a fifth place, and sends the Viking farther down on the conference ladder with a 9-1 record.

In the encounter, that was not overly officiated, there was a total of 54 infractions called. The Vikings kept in the game by sinking 20 of their 34 gift shots, while the Bison hit a noticeable 18 out of 27 tries. Whitey Turner, Marv Evans, Bob Geston and Clayton Sondag each collected five fouls to be banished from the contest. The Augustana cagers lost Jim Sumption and Bob Meredink by the same route.

Scoring was started early in the first period as the Herd pacemaker Dave Torson sunk the first bucket. The lead was pushed up to 7-1, but before the game was 12 minutes old the Vikings had turned it into a 14-9 advantage for them. Field goals by Turner and Torson together with free throws by Evans and Sondag gained the Bison a 21-20 margin just before the half. Smook netted one from the foul line to retire both teams with 21 all at the rest period.

Augustana was held to three field goals in the first half and had to depend upon the accurate eye of Mel Smook as the only means of retaliation against the Bison offense. Smook scored six of Augustana's ten field shots to top the list with 18. Torson and Whitey Turner with 14 each picked up scoring honors for the Herd.

In the second half, Dave Turner paced the Herd into the winning stride by chalking up six points before the Vikings found the mark. From then on the Herd was in control of the game, never allowing the Bison to come any closer than 6 points. In the last few minutes of the struggle Bentson gave his reserves a chance for action. Bob Grant, Don Meyers and Packy Schaffer each picked up points to aid the Herd's attack.

Clayton Sondag, Bison reserve center, gave a good account of himself by setting up 7 counters followed by Jack Garrett and Art Bredahl, both held scoreless in the first half, to cope the runner-up positions on the NDAC total.

The Bison had trouble in their set up shots but managed to pick up a 28.5 percentage of their shots. While Augustana hit a hollow 18.5 on their attempts at the hoop.

Sioux Defeat Viking, 99-77, Set Record

The North Dakota university set a conference scoring record by dumping the Augustana Vikings, 99-77, last Saturday. University Coach Glenn Jarret entered a new line up in the Viking game with Jim Bischke and Gordy Hoffman replacing regulars Don Meredith and Lou Bogan.

The contest was nip and tuck the first half with the Sioux leading 19-18 at the end of the first period. Meredith came in to give the Sioux more power in their rebounds and the university cagers moved up to a 29-24 lead. The Vikings, paced by Jim Sumption, closed the gap to 44-43, but a last minute field goal by Simonson gave the NODAKS a one point advantage at the rest period.

In the second half the Sioux dropped in three fast field goals and the rout was started. In the closing minutes of the game the university had several chances to make 100 but were unable to hit.

Pete Simonson and Ed Weber of the Sioux shared scoring honors, each with 29. Sumption and Jim Gremmels collected 26 and 20 respectively for the Viking total.

ISTC clinched a hold on the conference title by tipping the Morningside quintet 75-56 on Monday evening. The defeat left Morningside without a chance to share the title with NDU and ISTC.

The Panthers won the struggle without the aid of Norm Jespersen and Dave Funk, two of their starters who had fouled out.

Clayton Bristol of Morningside was high for the night with 19 points. Walt Kochneff had 18 for ISTC while Jespersen and Lude-man followed with 16 each.

University of South Dakota chalked up their sixth conference victory in ten starts by downing the South Dakota State Jackrabbits last Friday.

After trailing 23-21 at intermission, the Coyote offensive got under way and took the lead 30-28 with the half nine minutes old. The university five dropped in 10 more points before the Jacks could hit to put the game on ice.

John Diefendorf of SDU was the top scorer with 22. Kermit Nelson and Herb Bartling contributed 13 and 12 respectively for the losers.

The University of Manitoba tipped the Augustana Vikings at Winnipeg, Manitoba, with a 29-24 half time margin, was in front most of the way.

Carl Ridd of Manitoba was high man with 24 points followed by Roy Williams with 20. Jim Sumption had 20 for the Vikings.

ISTC jumped into the lead in the opening minutes of the game and were never headed as they scored a victory, 59-43, over the out of conference five from Carleton last Wednesday.

Major Bill Reynolds, Oregon '40
Pilot-Professor, U. S. Air Force!

Bill was an all-round athlete. He chose football as his favorite sport, made the varsity teams at Pomona Junior College and also at the University of Oregon.

A Theta Chi, Bill enjoyed campus social life. Found that it eased the pressure of rugged athletics and his heavy study schedule in Personnel Management.

Upon graduation, Bill chose a future in the Air Force. He "flew" his first Link trainer as an Aviation Cadet in 1940. By March, 1941, he had won his pilot wings.

The 1st Observation Squadron, Fort Riley, Kansas was Lieutenant Reynolds' first assignment. While there he met the future Mrs. Reynolds. They married a year later and now have two fine sons.

The Squadron moved to Panama, then to the Pacific. Bill advanced from pilot to operations officer to squadron commander. He came home a Major and qualified for a Regular Commission.

Recently commended for peacetime work—organizing and improving instruction techniques—Major Reynolds, a "Pilot-Professor", looks forward to a long and gainful career in the U. S. Air Force.

If you are single, between the ages of 20 and 26½, with at least two years of college, consider the many career opportunities as a pilot or navigator in the U. S. Air Force. Procurement Teams are visiting many colleges and universities to explain these career opportunities. Watch for them. You may also get full details at your nearest Air Force Base or U. S. Army and U.
