Anderson Charmed Audience

By ROSEMARIE LOHSE

In a heart warming concert Wednesday evening Marian Anderson, world renown contralto, thrilled and charmed her audience.

Ablly accompanied by Franz Rupp she began her concert with four numbers by Handel, "The Land of Dreams," "O What Pleasure," "Come To Me Soothing Sleep" and "The Trumpet Is Calling." These were followed by masterful presentations of Franz Schubert's "Liebesbotschaft" and "Der Elkonig."

As a request she sang the aria, "O Mio Fernando" by Rossini. Her formal program was concluded with a group of negro spirituals. She sang "Will O Wisp" and "Com-in Thru The Rye" as encores. Her final benediction was Gounod's "Ave Marie."

Miss Anderson closed her eyes as she sang and gave the impression that she was painting each beautiful vision for the audience with her expert voice. Outstanding was the dignity and simplicity of the woman who has justly been termed "the high priestess of song."

Miss Anderson willingly signed

Ibsen's "Peer Gynt" To Be Given Feb. 1-3

Final rehearsals are underway for the production of Henrik Ibsen's five act drama in verse, "Peer Gynt," which will be presented in the Little Country Theater next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at 8:00 p.m.

Leading roles are being played by Wallace Swenson, Columbus, as Peer Gynt and Zoe Nelson, Mandan, who is cast as Aase, Peer's mother. A large supporting cast has been chosen from classes taking work in the Speech department. Tickets are on sale at the Little Country Theater or may be secured from speech students. Prices are 60c and 90c which includes admission and refreshments. Ann Gaye Smith and Marjorie Hale are in charge of tickets.

Musical background taken from Edward Grieg's "Peer Gynt Suite" will be provided by Lloyd Collins at the organ. The soloist will be Marcia Erickson Mohr of Fargo.

The Norwegian folk dancing will be under the direction of Auggie Aamodt. Folk dancers are Mr. and Mrs. Mayo Kucera, Bob Ouradnik, Sarah Zimmerman, Dean McKee, Carol Jean Smith, Don Legrid, and Juanita Olson.

Peer Gynt is the story told in verse of a man who has been said to be Ibsen's idea of the typical Norseman. The hero is a man of dreams and idle inaction. He is at first a shy country boy, ashamed of his poverty and living on dreams. His gaucherie brings him into situations which gradually influence him to become a cynical, indifferent and selfish man.

The play may be interpreted as a story of Peer's search for salvation. His adventures with the diabolical trolls symbolize his fall in sin. He spends his life trying to be himself but realizes at the end that he has failed. Although his destiny is after all left undecided in the poem, Peer realizes that he is fitted only to go into the melting spoon of the mysterious Button Molder, who is to melt him over into fresh material from which to stamp new souls.

NDAC College Professors Receive Appointment

Two NDAC music professors have been named to offices in the North Dakota Music Educators association, according to appointments received recently from Ruth Lawrence of Fargo, president of the group.

Ernst Van Vlissingen, chairman of the NDAC department of music, has been named as chairman of the vocal music committee for 1950-51. William Euren, assistant professor of music and director of the band, has been appointed a member of the National School Band-Orchestra committee of the NDME.

Saxophonist To Appear At Next Convo

The man who made the saxophone an accepted solo instrument for symphony concerts will play for NDAC students at convocation Tuesday, January 31, in Festival hall. Sigurd Rascher, one of the primary figures in establishing the saxophone as a valuable instrument for big-time music, has soloed with orchestras all over the world, including our N.Y. Philharmonic, the National Symphony of Washington, D. C., and the Detroit Symphony.

A shower-bath audition with Koussevitsky of the Boston symphony got the artist his American start. Already noted abroad, he was unknown here, and he got an audition with a reluctant Koussevitsky only by playing while the maestro took a shower after a rehearsal. But 16 bars of an Ibert Concertino brought the famed conductor out of the shower with a towel around him to yell for everyone to come and listen.

A few weeks later Rascher made his American debut as soloist with the Boston orchestra; and his career has been as brilliantly successful here as it was earlier in Europe.

A range of four octaves on his instrument, which has about 2½ octaves for most performers, marks the virtuosity which most startles some critics. Others note "the flute, oboe, clarinet, French horn, and bassoon" tone qualities he can produce. At the same time he is recognized as a thoughtful and intelligent musician.

Many composers here and abroad have written concertos or recital pieces for him to perform, while he himself ranges easily from Bach and Purcell to Saint-Saens, Khachaturian, and Tcherepnine.

Friendly, but independent in his thinking, Rascher works without a printed program. The reason? "... my own inability to repeat like an automat the same pieces ... also a chance to say a few words to my audiences."

Hoping to show "what a beautiful and versatile instrument the saxophone is," Rascher prefers to fit his program to the occasion. This way, he argues, he can keep the program alive.

NOTICE

Because of the storm last Tuesday, it has been announced that all men and women interested in cheerleading will meet next Tuesday in the lobby of the Field house at 4:15 p.m.

This is in accordance with the new cheerleading policy recently adopted by the Student commission.

Set Dates Of Next Medical College Test

PRINCETON, N. J., January 10. The Medical College Admission Test, required of applicants by a number of leading medical colleges throughout the country, will be given twice again during the current calendar year, according to Educational Testing service, which prepares and administers the test for the Association of American Medical colleges.

Candidates may take the MCAT on Saturday, May 13, 1950, or on Monday, November 6, 1950, at administrations to be held at more than 300 local centers in all parts of the country. The Association of American Medical Colleges, through its Committee on Student Personnel Practices, recommends that candidates for admission to classes starting in the fall of 1951 take the May test. The results will then be available to institutions in the early fall when many medical colleges begin the selection of their next freshman class.

The MCAT consists of tests of general scholastic ability, a test on understanding of modern society, and an achievement test in science. According to ETS, no special preparation other than a review of science subjects is necessary. All questions are of the objective type.

Application forms and a Bulletin of Information, which gives details of registration and administration, as well as sample questions, are available from pre-medical advisers or directly from Educational Testing Service, Box 592, Princeton, N. J. Completed applications must reach the ETS office by April 29 and October 23, respectively, for the May 13 and November 6 administrations.

Schmidt Heads Pershing Rifles

Wayne Schmidt, New Salem, a senior in Electrical Engineering, was elected Commanding Officer of the Pershing Rifles at a meeting held last Thursday. Schmidt, an advanced Air Force ROTC cadet, is also the Executive Officer of the NDAC Battalion of Cadets.

Convo Artist To Conduct Clinic

Sigurd Rascher, saxophone recitalist at convocation Tuesday, January 31, will conduct a wind clinic for AC bandmen at four that afternoon in the Music hall, according to William Euren, director of the band. Invitations have also been issued to local high schools to send as observers any students they think would find the session profitable.

Groups Plan Farm Youth Scholarship

The North Dakota State Extension service in cooperation with the International Farm Youth Exchange is sponsoring a scholarship which will place one young man or woman from this state in some foreign country for a period of six months beginning next spring, with all expenses paid.

In return two people from abroad will spend three months each in North Dakota, and will receive support in wages and room and board.

Funds for this project will come from the $900 left from the Homemakers' German Scholarship which brought Elisabeth Lorenz to North Dakota. Additional funds will come from a special fund administered by the USDA Extension service. None will come from public funds.

Applications may be obtained from Miss Grace DeLong, state home demonstration leader at NDAC. They must be returned to her office not later than February 20. The name of the winning applicant must be in Washington, D.C. by March 1.

All applications are made subject to the following provisions required of all candidates.

1. Must be of mature mentality, personality, and physical status. Only high school graduates, 18 to 25 years of age, will be considered.

2. Must be in excellent physical and mental health. A physician's certification will be required.

3. Candidates should not be married or have dependents at home or other ties that would create separation problems.

4. Candidates should have had enough previous travel experience or extended periods away from home to insure against excessive homesickness.

5. Delegates will be expected to remain out of school or college during the summer and fall months of 1950. During the fall and early winter months they should devote considerable time to speaking and spreading the influence of their experiences at their own expense.

6. Must be willing and able to devote considerable time and energy to an intensive, advance orientation course in geography, history, culture, language, and agricultural information of both the United States and the countries they will visit.

7. Must be alert and have a sincere and friendly attitude. Must realize that there will be hardships and privations involved. Must exercise emotional restraint. This is definitely not a "joy ride."

8. Must have a background of farm life and work. Experience and knowledge of rural organizations and educational activities will be needed also. Only those who intend to remain in farming or occupations closely related should apply.

9. Should have a missionary zeal for understanding other people in a sympathetic way. Should be eager to understand another's problems rather than enforce own thoughts and impressions.

10. A language facility will be required of delegates who go to countries other than Britain. Candidates who have obtained this ability from immigrant parents and from academic courses in those subjects will be given preferential consideration. Even in such cases, however, additional study will be necessary.

Judges have been selected by the Scholarship committee of the North Dakota Homemakers Council. This council is the organization responsible for this scholarship program.

Next Field Trip In May; Students Should Plan Now

All interested students are invited to attend the four day field trip now being planned under the joint direction of Dr. E. A. Helgeson of the botany department and

Mr. W. W. Moberg of the geography department.

Plans for the tour, which will be in the latter part of May, have been released early to enable students who wish to go to get the necessary permission from their dean and also to schedule their classwork accordingly.

The group will leave Fargo May 21 and will visit many points of interest in northern Minnesota and Wisconsin before returning home May 24.

Plans call for a visit first at Itasca State Park to view the headwaters of the Mississippi River, Indian villages, bison pens, and Indian mounds.

From there the tour will stop at Hibbing to view that city's two million dollar high school and also the iron mines and the Minnesota State Mineralogy laboratory.

At Duluth the students will have the opportunity to see steel mills and a textile factory. They will also visit the U.S. Naval Training Station.

While in Superior, Wisconsin, the group will inspect the Farmers Union Grain elevator, known as the largest of its kind in the world.

Other stops will include paper, match and Wood Conversion Products factories at Cloquet, the Natural History Museum at Walker, and the Minnesota State Forestry Experiment Station at Park Rapids.

Students planning to attend should contact Mr. Moberg, who is in charge of all arrangements.

ROTC Rifle Team Wins At Vermillion

The NDAC ROTC Rifle Team, paced by Dave Robinson of Washburn, racked up its first victory of the 1949-50 season at the expense of the University of South Dakota by a score of 1759 to 1721 in a shoulder-to-shoulder match fired at Vermillion last Saturday.

Superior team balance paid off for the Bison in the four position, five man high match as four of the NDAC riflemen, Robinson, Gerry Thurnau, Fargo, Gene Norheim, Rock Lake, Merlin Enzinger, Fargo, posted scores over 350, with Robinson's 357 high for the match.

Other team members making the trip were Robert Vogel, George Kuffel, Vernon Gores, all of Fargo, Kenneth Ward, Osnabrock, and Andrew Watt, of Fargo.

The South Dakota victory leaves the NDAC riflemen, coached by Lt. John Augis, assistant professor of Air Science and Tactics, with a one and three record. They have dropped three close postal decisions to the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, the University of Mississippi, and the University of San Francisco.

The schedule lists a postal match with the University of Cincinnati for this week with the next shoulder-to-shoulder match an encounter with South Dakota State at Brookings on February 13.

Kegel Installed SAE President

Fred Kegel, senior in architecture from Fargo, was installed president of North Dakota Beta chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity at ceremonies held last Monday night.

Other officers installed include Edward Barrie, vice-president; Marvin Daggett, secretary; Robert Kline, correspondent; Herbert Thorndahl, herald; William Mikkelsen, chronicler; and Virgil Holden, warden. Fred Martin, of the English department is faculty advisor.

Two Air Cadets Honored By USAF

Two seniors in the advanced Air Force ROTC class here have been invited to submit transcripts of their records to the USAF Institute of Technology at Wright-Patterson field in Dayton, Ohio, according to Maj. R. E. Phillips, professor of air science and tactics.

The two men are Wayne Schmidt of New Salem, a senior in electrical engineering and Robert Tenneson, Fargo, a senior in civil engineering.

A number of men throughout the country have been invited and those accepted will receive specialized training at graduate level in nuclear physics, guided missiles, and electronics.

Advanced Counseling Class To Aid College Students

Some 40 college students will have the opportunity to acquire educational and vocational guidance this term, according to Carl H. Schmidt, associate professor of Education and Director of Personnel.

Schmidt, who conducts a class in advanced counseling known as Psychology 440 has stated that class members will counsel college students this term instead of high school students as in the past.

Although this service is available to all college people at any time, there is evidence that not everyone takes advantage of it. Proof of this is the fact that students have graduated from NDAC without knowing what kind of job they wanted to find.

Primarily concerned with vocational problems, the class will also give counsel to students having educational difficulties such as reading handicaps.

Strict confidence will be maintained between the three persons concerned, the student, the interviewer and the director of personnel.

Anyone wishing to take part in this opportunity should contact Mr. Schmidt in his office, room 109 Old Main.

Stallings At Meet Of Library Group

H. Dean Stallings, NDAC librarian and professor of library usage, is now in Chicago attending the meeting of the American Library association being held Jan. 25-29. He is serving as a building consultant at the association's annual conclave.

Last Wednesday he attended a meeting of the Mountain Plains Library association, also held in Chicago. He is a member of the board of directors of that group.

The success of the LSA Clothing, Food, and Book drive is indicated by these piles of boxes that are tagged and ready for shipping. So far about 3200 pounds has been packed. This includes some 2637 articles of clothing—254 coats, 50 suits, 210 pairs of trousers, 148 sweaters etc.—and 121 pounds of food; 111 pairs of shoes, and 1122 pounds of books. Not all of Fargo has been contacted. Contributors are no longer being sent out, but the drive is still open. The Scoop:

Little International Show Set February 11

By KEN GRISWOLD
An early tally of entries for the forthcoming 24th annual Little International Livestock Show indicates that the show will be larger than ever before.

Victor Horne, manager, anticipates this 1950 show to be the 'best yet.'

The NDAC Little International, an annual function of the Saddle and Sirloin club, is a public demonstration of some of the arts being learned by the students.

HISTORY
The year 1924 marked the beginning of what is now the biggest event sponsored by any organization on the campus—The Little International.

This show gives the students of Agriculture practical experience in nearly all lines of fitting and showmanship, and responsibility in the managing and producing of a large and important show.

The Saddle and Sirloin club has kept adding and improving the Little International as the years have gone by. Each year has seen some expansion and improvement.

PLANS
The enlargement this year will feature the agricultural engineering department with a farm equipment demonstration and the home economics department with a style revue.

Also underway this year is a

Officer Inspects Military Unit Here

Col. N. D. Finley, chief of the North Dakota Military district, was on the campus recently on an informal inspection of the Military division of the ROTC.

Col. Finley, who is in charge of all officer reserve, national guard and ROTC groups in the state, found this installation "... satisfactory or better." He added that 'satisfactory' is the usual recommendation given organizations of this kind.

From here he will go to inspect the ROTC unit at the University.

A veteran of 37 years in the Army, he came to his post in North Dakota after serving 3 years in Nuremberg, Germany.

campaign to arouse interest in the annual Little International Livestock show. The Fargo Chamber of Commerce is cooperating in this campaign. As a result of this, Horne, hopes to double last year's attendance of 1,200.

STYLE REVUE
The 1950 show is featuring an afternoon program—a style revue sponsored by the School of Home Economics and the Tryota club. This enlargement is in an entirely different direction. The style revue is an exhibition that will be of interest primarily to the ladies that attend the Little International.

The style revue will be under the direction of Miss Minnie Anderson, professor of home economics and chairman of clothing and textiles.

The style revue will include six divisions: 1. negligee and pajamas, 2. sports wear, 3. afternoon dresses 4. top coats, 5 fur coats, 6 formals.

Some of the clothing modeled was made by the home economics students; the rest was donated for the show by Fargo merchants. Approximately 120 models will be shown.

Commentator for the style revue will be Margaret Rulon, a home economics senior. The show will have a background of organ music furnished by Frank Saunders.

Prizes will be awarded the girls for modeling. The grand championship trophy is being furnished by Moody's Department store.

The style revue, which is open to the general public, will begin at 3 p.m. in Festival hall February 11. The entire style show is free.

MACHINERY SHOW
Another new addition to the 1950 International is the Farm Equipment show sponsored by the agricultural engineering club. In charge of the machinery show is George Daniels, an agricultural engineering senior from Crary.

The three divisions of the farm equipment show are: 1. farm utilities, including electrical equipment, water and sewer systems; 2. farm machinery, including carburetor adjustments, hydraulic power controls, and grain drill calibration; 3. farm structures, including hay drying equipment, insulation and building materials.

Students will be judged on their ability to show and demonstrate this equipment to the public. The grand championship trophy is being awarded by Fargo Foundry Co.

The farm equipment show will run continuously from 11 a.m. till 5 p.m. on February 11.

QUEEN
Patricia Kennedy, a sophomore Home Economics student, was selected Little International Queen by popular vote of the Saddle and Sirloin club members on the basis of beauty, personality, scholarship, and extra-curricular activities.

Pat, a brown eyed brunette, is a member of Gamma Phi Beta, sorority, Tryota, Edwin Booth Club.

As Little International Queen, she will reign over the show as Mistress of Awards.

Elected as the queen's attendants were Beverly Widdifield, Fargo, and Audrey Seefeldt, Finley, both Home Economics students and members of Tryota.

MILKING CONTEST
One of the entertainment highlights of the evening program will be the co-ed milking contest. This year nine co-eds, each representing a campus organization, will try their luck at 'getting milk out of a cow'—the winning milker to be awarded the revolving trophy.

"This event will prove entertaining as it will be the first time some of the co-eds have tried milking a cow," Rolf Berg, chairman of the event, said.

HOG RACE
Another entertainment feature of the show will be the co-ed hog race. The object of the race being to see which pair of co-eds can get their hog through the obstacles in the shortest number of seconds.

Gordon McLean, Agricultural engineering junior, is chairman of the hog race.

Co-eds participating in the race

are; Rhoda Israelson, Christine, and Margaret Groethe, Kindred, Alpha Gamma Delta; Marlene Julson, Plaza, and Coral Thibodo, Stephen, Minn., Ceres hall; Kathryn McNeal, Crosby, and Lorene Heller, Mapes, ISA; Marilyn Hunter, and Eileen Anderson, Fargo, Gamma Phi Beta; Lois Johnson, Hoople, and Marion Lysengen, St. Thomas, Dakota Hall; Jacquelynne Craychee, Mandan, and Carola Thornberg, Kenmare, Phi Mu; Faye Reed, Williston, and Irene Vogel, Granville, Kappa Delta; Jean Moll, Moorhead, and Marcia Lace, Fargo, Kappa Alpha Theta; Phyllis Herbison, and June Hagen, Fargo, Kappa Kappa Gamma.

SPECIAL ACTS
Trick and fancy roping will be demonstrated in an act by Bob Rindt, a fair and rodeo performer. Rindt will also present a 'whip cracking' act.

Earl McKay will be at the Little International to present his scottish dance act. As a part of his performance, Mr. McKay will play the bagpipe and feature his scottish dancers in the Highland Fling.

The NDAC Gold Star Band, under the direction of Bill Euren, will play throughout the evening. The college male chorus, under the direction of Mr. Van Vlissingen is scheduled for the evening program also.

Master of Ceremonies for the February eleventh show will be Burl Winchester, former NDAC associate professor of animal husbandry. He is now associated with the Goldberg Stock Farm.

DIVISIONS
A tally of the entries this year indicates a greatly expanded show. The largest increase is in the dairy division with nearly three times as many animals being fitted for showing this year.

A large increase is already showing in the swine and beef divisions and an increase in agronomy entries is expected.

SHOWMANSHIP CONTEST
Another feature of the 1950 Little International will be a special showmanship contest. From each of the four divisions—beef, dairy, swine, and sheep—will be selected an individual who displays outstanding qualities as a showman in his respective division.

These four men will compete against each other as one of the final events of the show to determine the grand champion showman. To display all-around showmanship ability, each man will show an animal from each of the four divisions.

DISPLAYS
Other divisions of the show have also been expanded for the 14th annual show. Booth and display entries are double those of former years.

A 'Model Kitchen' will be on display by the Horvick Electric Company. This display will include stoves, cupboards, sinks, laundry facilities, and everything as it can be used in the home, according to Bennett Nesheim, chairman of the booths committee.

Other displays will include a Greater North Dakota association booth, and a potato exhibit prepared by the State Seed department.

Booths of college organizations will include the FFA, 4-H, Dairy club, Home Economics, and Agricultural Engineers. A grand championship trophy sponsored by the Saddle and Sirloin club, will be awarded in this division.

All booths and exhibits will be on display in Festival hall Saturday, February 11.

TROPHIES
Grand championship trophies for the Little International are being donated by the following; Goldberg Seed and Feed Co., swine; Fairmont Creamery, dairy; Swift and Co., beef; Armour and Co., sheep; Armour Creameries, poultry; Red River Valley Potato Growers Association, horticulture; West Fargo Elevator Co., cash grain crops; Newday Seeds, Inc., legume and grasses.

NDSC SHOW
The 24th annual Little International Livestock Show is set for February 11.

The free afternoon program consists of the Home Economics style revue and the agricultural engineering farm equipment show.

The main evening program will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the NDAC Field House Saturday, February 11.

Q. What are allowable exemptions referred to in the above answer.

A. In determining the net estate an exemption, not exceeding the amount specified in each case, of the value of property passing to each of the following beneficiaries, is allowed:

European Travel And Study Tours Now Available

European travel and study in the summer of 1950 is being made possible at a greatly reduced rate by International Studytour Alliance. This is a non-profit membership corporation organized for the development of low-cost educational travel overseas.

NDAC students interested in European study are being assisted by the International Relations club in line with IRC's program for a broader and more intelligent conception of foreign affairs. IRC is seeking to facilitate the "go and see for yourself" method, by promoting foreign study and travel for students during the coming summer.

Robert Bradford, convocation speaker and chairman of "Youth for One World Associates," will be leading a studytour dealing with European youth which will leave New York July 8. This tour will include lectures and travel in England, Holland, Belgium, Germany, Austria, Italy, Switzerland and France. The tour will provide 43 days in Europe for $775 which includes all expenses round trip from New York.

Hultz To Attend CROP Meeting

Pres. Fred S. Hultz, chairman of the Christian Rural Overseas Program for North Dakota, will represent the state at the National Dedication of the CROP Friendship Trains at New Orleans, La., on January 30. This dedication is sponsored jointly by the New Orleans Chamber of Commerce and the Port of that City.

Dr. Hultz's invitation to attend the dedication ceremony was extended by the Catholic Rural Life, the Church World Service and the Lutheran World Relief. Gov. Fred G. Aandahl was also invited, but will be unable to attend because of previous engagements.

The CROP has been very active in North Dakota. Last year 62 carloads of wheat were donated by the citizens of North Dakota, and this year's donation program is progressing satisfactorily, Dr. Hultz said.

Dr. C. N. Winslow, a well-known psychologist, once put a cat into a problem-box to see how long it would take for the cat to find a way out. The unhappy animal meowed loudly and woke up several of Dr. Winslow's students. Finally Dr. Winslow let the cat out of the box, thus insuring a proper amount of rest for his students.

2. To the husband, not exceeding $20,000.

3. To a lineal ancestor or descendant, adopted child, step child, or lineal descendant of an adopted child or step child, not exceeding $2,000, and if a minor, not exceeding $5,000.

Q. After the net estate is determined, how is the tax figured?

A. The rate of tax is 2% of the amount of the net estate not in excess of $25,000, 4% on that part over $25,000 and not in excess of $50,000, 6% on that part over $50,000 and not in excess of $100,000, and continues upward to 23% on estates over $1,500,000. For example, the tax on a net estate of $10,000 would be $200, on a net estate of $30,000 it would be $700.

Q. Assuming that decedent died intestate (without a will) and that his net estate, without exemptions having been deducted, was $224,000, and he was survived by his wife and three adult children. What estate tax would the administrator have to pay?

A. We should determine the exemptions first. The wife would receive one-third of the estate, or $8,000. Since the maximum exemption of $20,000 is in excess of the value of the property she receives, the exemption is limited to $8,000 in her case. The children would receive two-thirds of the estate, or $12,000, and the share of each would be $4,000. The full exemption of $2,000 each would therefore be allowed or $6,000. The total exemptions would thus be $8,000 plus $6,000, or $14,000. The net estate would be $24,000 less $14,000, or $10,000. The tax rate being 2%, the tax would thus be $200.

Q. Assuming that the decedent in the above example left a will giving the entire estate to his wife, what would the estate tax be?

A. The full exemption of $20,000 would then be allowable, leaving the net estate $4,000. At 2% the tax would be $80.00.

Q. When is an estate subject also to a federal estate tax?

A. When an estate has a net value of more than $60,000, it is then subject to a federal estate tax. The present tax rate begins at 3% for the first $5,000 in excess of the $60,000 exemptions, increases to 30% on the net estate between $100,000 and $250,000, to 39% on that part in excess of $1,000,000 and not in excess of $1,250,000, and to 77% of the estate in excess of $10,000,000.

There is also an additional federal tax on estates over $100,000, the rates beginning at 1% of the first $50,000 in excess of $100,000, 2% on the next $50,000, and up to 20% over $1,000,000.

One can readily see that on large estates the federal estate tax is really a severe tax, making estate planning of the owners all the more important.

Nurse Appointed To Health Center

The appointment of Miss Ruth E. Kickertz as chief nurse at the Health center was recently announced by Fred S. Hultz, president of NDAC. She will succeed Miss Marie Cox whose resignation will become effective Feb. 1.

Miss Cox, who is to be married Feb. 26, came to NDAC in October 1947 as junior nurse and was appointed to her present position in March 1948.

Coming here from the Fargo Veteran's hospital, the new chief nurse is a graduate of the Bismarck Evangelical hospital. She served both at home and abroad during the war with the Army Nurse corps.

Martin, Webster Join Faculty

The appointments of two English instructors—Mrs. Mabel Webster and Frederick E. Martin, both of Fargo—were announced recently by Pres. Fred S. Hultz, following approval granted by the State Board of Higher Education.

Mrs. Webster, a former NDAC instructor, will be a special instructor for the winter term only.

Martin, an NDAC alumnus and former instructor at the college, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Martin, 1202 8th Ave. No. He graduated from Central high school and received his B.S. in education in 1934 from NDAC. He taught at Nietsville, Minn., and at Moorhead, Minn., before becoming principal and senior English instructor at New York Mills, Minn., high school. During 1938 and 1939 he did graduate study at the University of Minnesota in English.

He returned from the army to teach English at NDAC in 1947 and in 1948 he went to the University of Minnesota where he did graduate work in English and philosophy to complete his master's degree, which he received Dec. 15, 1949.

Chuck Bentson's

Bison basketball team seems to have lost the script as it proceeds through the current campaign. It plays well against — sometimes even beats—the teams which are considered too strong for it, and gets thoroughly walloped by clubs which should be no match for it. This, you know, was to be the year in which NDAC was to start the road back, the first year since the war in which Herd cage victories were to outnumber defeats. With most of their toughest opposition out of the way (NDU excluded) the

Paulsen

Herd may well achieve that laudatory goal. However, it will take concerted effort by everyone concerned (including us cash customers) to return the planned procedure to the plan.

Bentson's men have played in twelve games, losing seven times. In conference competition, they have met and lost to SDU and Iowa Teachers (twice), but they have split two games with Morningside, considered one of the loop powers. In games with MSTC and Concordia, always vital contests due to their wide local appeal, Bentson's performers have had poor success. NDAC nudged MSTC by three points in the first tilt between the two long-time rivals. The Herd lost the second game by three points, and the third by ten. Against Jack Christianson's Cobbers, NDAC had an admittedly bad night. They will get a chance, in a week, to avenge that ten point shellacking.

NDAC has looked good in spots this year. Bentson has good control over his men. They appear to be well organized. Their out-court passing has, at times, been remarkable. However, in close, where points are scored and basketball games are won, NDAC has had (at least prior to their recent road trip) difficulties. Their ability to penetrate has been limited, and on occasions when good floor play has moved them into position, erratic shooting has prevented the Bison from capitalizing.

Including tonight's game, NDAC has two games with SDSC, and although on the record Jack Frost's Jackrabbits have an edge, Bison teams have demonstrated a long-time remarkable facility for performing with brilliance against the Bunnies. The probable outcome of their second game with SDU is in doubt. Two games are yet to be played with Augustana and the Herd should win them both. The Bison have another tilt with Concordia, like MSTC a bitter traditional rival, and despite their first game, the big floor should enable NDAC to win. The four games with NDU—despite all that happens before—must be considered by themselves, at the time.

Up to the time they left on their trip last week, Bison progress had been slower than had been hoped for. Some of the weaknesses that had cropped up in past years had been reappearing. However, Bentson's men did as well, or better, than had been expected last week-end. They won one of a three game jaunt against three of the tougher loop foes, and they beat a team that had beaten them decisively earlier in the year. Tonight the Bison return to the Fieldhouse, having regained some of the confidence they lost during their recent losing stretch. The SDSC game is the first along the drive down the homestretch. One important home victory might get the Herd repaired for action. The team could very well get it tonight.

Reports From

Sioux City, Iowa, and the Fargo Forum last week that George Allen, Morningside grid coach, had been a candidate for the job here and had been eliminated himself from consideration, weren't exaggerated.

Allen had been one of the men receiving serious consideration by NDAC officials charged with naming a successor to Howard Bliss. That Allen would have been less of a gamble than almost any possible coach is easily seen. He had several top pre-requisites. Among them are the fact that he has had established success in this conference, his use of a sound system, his demonstrated efficiency at beating NDU, his feat of lifting Morningside from loop doldrums to championship grid contention in three years, his age, his top-flight assistant (who would have joined him here), and his knowledge of the loop. Many inside observers consider him one of the greatest coaching prospects to enter the conference in many years.

However, Allen is well-entrenched at Morningside. His team this year was outstanding, and his freshman group is reported particularly strong. The Morningside athletic plant was recently enlarged, and Allen probably decided against leaving the security of a winning spot.

At any rate, the search is continuing, although college officials are moving very slowly in their drive for a new mentor. Now that the Morningside coach is out of the picture, the prospects and eventual selectee, might well be derived from a more distant radius.

Bison Lose To ITC And SDU; Win From Morningside, 49-47

By DON LOVELAND and JOHN SULLIVAN

Chuck Bentson's NDAC basketball team lost two out of three games on their road trip last week-end. The Bison hoopsters dropped the opener on Friday to South Dakota university, 58-45, and came back Saturday to nose out Morningside, 49-47. Monday the Bison dropped their second contest of the current season to Iowa State Teachers college, 57-45.

The defensive-minded NDAC Bison went down in defeat to the SDU Coyotes, 58-45, Friday night in the first game of their three-game road trip. The AC held a slim one-point lead at the half but with John Diefendorf leading the way, the Coyotes from the South overcame the deficit and pulled in front to stay with nearly ten minutes left to play in the final half.

Diefendorf was high-scoring man for the night with 27 points, 22 of which came from field goals. He was the main cog on offense for SDU, getting many good set shots from the effective screens set up by his teammates. In all he tallied 11 buckets from the floor and 5 points from the free line.

Ballhawk Dave Torson played his usual brilliant floor game and in keeping with his return to last season's All-conference form, lead the Bison in the scoring department with 13 points.

It was the second triumph of the season in North Central Conference play for the victorious Coyotes who now have a record of two and two. The Bison absorbed their third defeat in conference play but in the future if they can continue their brilliant first half play on into the final stanza, the loop-leaders had better watch out.

The field goals of the Bison spelled the difference in the Morningside fracas with both teams dropping in thirteen points from the free throw line. But the Bison dropped in eighteen field goals to seventeen for the Maroons, to give the Herd their 49-47 victory.

The Herd jumped into an early lead and had a two point margin at the end of the first quarter, leading 7-5. However the Maroons rallied in the second quarter and took over the lead, 22-18.

The second half was even more of a ding-dong affair than the first with the lead changing hands five times and the score tied the same number. The score at the end of the third stanza stood 31-29 with the Bison protecting a small lead.

The Maroons led in the waning moments of the game, but a bucket by Whitie Turner and two free throws by Jack Garrett and another by Bob Geston put the game on ice for the Herd.

Art Bredahl, playing his best game of the year was the leader in the Bison scoring department with twelve points, with Dave Torson pushing him for honors with eleven.

Basil Brock, making his first appearance as a starter for the Maroons took the scoring honors for Morningside, and first place for the evening with thirteen points. Red Williams was runner-up for the Maroons with twelve points on six field goals.

The Bison, not able to cope with the torrid shooting of Norm Jespersen and Walt Kochneff, dropped the last of their three game southward swing to Iowa State Teachers college on Monday, 57-45.

Chuck Bentson's cagers leaped out into an early lead paced by Dave Torson, and were able to maintain a 27-19 lead when the first half came to an end. But following the intermission the Peds, paced by Norm Jespersen came roaring back to knot the game at 30-30, with eight minutes gone in the second half.

The Bison hung on tenaciously but the loss of Torson by way of the foul route gave the Panthers the advantage that allowed them to take matters into their own hands and go out in front to stay. Throughout the second half, the Bison were forced to use defensive tactics much of the way.

Walt Kochneff's twenty seven big points made him high point man for the evening. Coupled with Jespersen's seventeen points it gave the two Tutor scoring aces forty four of the Panther's fifty seven points. As well as his scoring, Jespersen furnished the spark that made possible the rally that put ISTC out in front to stay.

Before being banished from the contest with five fouls, Dave Torson scored fourteen points to pace the Bison. Torson also contributed a stellar floor game up to the point of his exile from the floor. Marv Evans came through to rack up nine points and take second place in the Bison scoring column.

Bison Oppose SDSC Tonight In Loop Meet

By JOHN MASHEK

South Dakota State, fresh from their amazing upset victory over North Dakota University, run head-on into the State college Bison on the fieldhouse floor tonight.

The Jackrabbits hold a victory over hapless Augustana, 70-46, plus their league upsetting triumph over the Sioux, 66-54. Both Bunnie losses have come on foreign courts. Iowa Teachers overcame a 10 point halftime deficit to decision the Jacks, 68-59 at Cedar Falls. The other loss for the Brookings quint was at the hands of the Morningside Maroons, 55-54 in a setto played at Sioux City.

Jack Frost welcomed eight let-terms back into the fold at the start of the season. Leading the Rabbit attack this season has been Don Bartlett, speedy forward, who saw only limited action last season. Bartlett, who has been consistently scoring in the twenties, has the State attack built around him. A newcomer at South Dakota State, Dave Aaberg, a Minnesota lad, has been shifted from the pivot spot to team with Bartlett at forward, and a definite scoring threat. Bill Cook will probably start at center for the Bunnies. Two Brookings boys, Kermit Nelson and Herb Bartling, team up at the guard positions. The entire first five with the exception, of Bartlett measure over the six foot mark.

Coach Chuck Bentson's Bison, with a 1-4 record in conference play, will be opposing the fast break system employed by Frost's cagers. Probable starters for the Herd will be Dave Turner and Marv Evans at forwards, Jack Garrett at the pivot, and Bob Geston and Dave Torson at the guards.

Last week the football fans of the Fargo-Moorhead area got a treat, in getting a chance to hear Frank Leahy speak at the annual Quarterback's Club banquet. Leahy was voted football's Man of the Year this year, an honor which he richly deserved after directing his team to another undefeated season.

During his talk Leahy made the statement that has caused plenty of laughs in the world of sports this year. He said, "We are going to win more friends than games next season." Leahy went on to bemoan the loss of such Notre Dame stars as Leon Hart, Emil Sitko and Jim Martin by way of graduation. It was at that point when Manny Marget, KVOX sports announcer who served as toastmaster, offered Leahy a napkin with which to dry his tears.

FREEH NAMED MVP

Vern Freeh, Bison guard and co-captain was presented with the most valuable player award by Leahy, as were the most valuable player electees from Fargo high school, Sacred Heart academy and Oak Grove seminary. The Frank Leahy trophy was awarded to the captains of the Sacred Heart team for their winning of the annual game with St. James of Grand Forks.

Guests at the banquet were shown the scoring plays of all the Notre Dame victories of the year, with side comments thrown in by the proud coach. One of these pictures showed a safety man miss a tackle and Leahy commented, "And he has the nerve to ask why he didn't get to play more."

The pictures revealed why the Leahy coached eleven went through the year unbeaten. The terrific blocking which Leahy called, "a little help" were jarring, and the ball carriers were well protected as were the passers.

Two bright spots on Leahy's horizon seemed to be in the persons of Bob Williams, his ace quarterback and Billy Barrett, a promising halfback ala Red Sitko. It will be around these two men that the Notre Dame offense will most likely be built.

BISON CAN WIN

But basketball is the key word in sports right now. And here at NDAC the outlook is not as dismal as it was at this time last week. Although the Bison dropped two games while they were on the road, they proved to themselves and any other interested parties that they could win. The Saturday game against Morningside was a thrilling battle in which the Bison had to come from behind at least seven times to take the win.

That victory might be the turning point in the Bison fortunes. Tonight when the Bentsonmen meet South Dakota state on the floor of the field house, the fans might see a completely different team. Sometimes it takes only one win to bring a team back to life. But there is also the fact that NDAC dropped a contest to ISTC on the Ped's home court. A team is a distinct disadvantage playing on a strange floor, and the return to form might make itself more evident at home.

NDU TOP NCC SQUAD

North Dakota university continued to set the pace in the North Central conference. The torrid shooting of the Sioux quint has yet to be coped with by a team in the Polar loop. Red Jarrett's redmen are being currently paced by Ed Weber, a sharp shooting forward who can also be called upon to play in the hole. Another top scorer for the Fightin' Sioux is Fritz Engel, a guard. Engel all but scored the Bison silly last year during the Nickel series with his two handed set shots. Bad as I hate to admit it, the Sioux are really the conference team to beat this year.

Sioux Suffer First Loop Loss

By DON LOVELAND

North Dakota university received its first defeat of the season, 76-44, at the hands of the South Dakota State Jackrabbits last Friday night. This victory gives the Jackrabbits an even slate, 2-2, in the conference record.

Breaking away from a 13 all score in the first half, the State took the lead and with the exception of a brief challenge in the last seven minutes, their control was never threatened.

Don Bartlett and Dave Aaberg paced the State cagers with 26 and 23 points respectively, while Pete Simonson and Fritz Engel shared the scoring honors for the Sioux with 17 each.

North Dakota university dropped the hard fighting Augustana Vikings, 72-55, to maintain their lead in the conference basketball race with a 4-1 record last Saturday night. The Vikings have not won in three starts.

In spite of a 46-41 comeback by the Vikings early in the fourth period, the Sioux surged ahead to win the game.

Ed Weber and Fritz Engel collected over half the Sioux's points, with 20 and 19 respectively. Mel Smook tallied with 16 for the Vikings.

Morningside barely nipped the South Dakota State quintet, 54-53, in a thrill-packed finish last Tuesday, January 17.

Maroon's Clayton Bristol was the top scorer with 16 points, while Herb Bartling led the Bunnies with 13.

South Dakota university gained an easy victory over Augustana, 65-46, last Tuesday evening.

John Diefendorf led the Coyote litter with 24 points. Jim Sumption collected 14 for the losers.

Quarterbacks Hear Leahy

By JOHN PAULSEN

Speaking to over 600 persons at the Third Annual Fargo Downtown Quarterback's Club banquet, Notre Dame football coach Frank Leahy stressed clean living, sacrifice, and effort in advising football players present at the affair. Guest speaker at the banquet which was held in the Moorhead Armory, Leahy praised sports for their contribution to Americanism, and said that athletic rivalry and competition was a strong foe of communism.

Leahy spoke highly of his Wimmer, South Dakota, high school coach, Earl Walsh, praised Leon Hart, Notre Dame's all-American end, and said Irish officials were cheered over a two year contract with Oklahoma. The Irish coach had high praise for Kyle Rote of SMU, calling him "the most underrated back in America."

He said Notre Dame would win more friends than games next year, and predicted great things for Bill Barrett, a sophomore on this year's Irish eleven.

Dignitaries introduced to the large throng were Ralph Rothrock, Quarterback Club president; Sid Cichy, Sacred Heart Academy coach; Herman Olson, coach at Oak Grove Seminary; Dr. Fred Hultz, NDAC President; Bishop Francis Dworschak of the Fargo diocese; C. C. Finnegan, NDAC athletic director; and Frank Archibald, Fargo Elk's Club Secretary. Manny Marget of KVOX was master of ceremonies, and Reverend R. G. Hohn of First Methodist Church in Fargo delivered the invocation. Marget read a telegram from Howard Bliss, recently resigned NDAC football coach.

Leahy presented trophies to high school and college most valuable players, including Vern Freeh of NDAC, and presented Sacred Heart the 'Frank Leahy' trophy, which went to the Deacons for their victory over St. James last fall.

Following the banquet, Leahy narrated movies of all Notre Dame games. The Irish mentor pleased the throng with a humorous comment on most plays, repeatedly emphasizing the heavy Notre Dame losses through graduation.

The Kellogg Ape Experiment was conducted by the parents of a boy named Donald. The Kelloggs raised a young ape named Gua along with their son, giving the animal the same affection and care which they afforded their son. The experiment is widely considered a success, but the Kelloggs still believe that it failed because Donald proved to have a lower I.Q. than Gua.

Professor Robert M. Yerkes, an eminent psychologist, used five apes for his experiments named Dwina, Billy, Pan, Wendy, and Mighty Joe Young. Neither Professor Yerkes nor the apes are available for comment.

Intramural Hockey Installation Delayed Pending Opinion Study

By JOHN L. SULLIVAN

Hockey it turns out, isn't such a popular game at AC. Two weeks ago it was decided at the Intramural business meeting to add hockey to the I-M sports program. The group representatives were to sound out their various organizations on the idea, which is where the idea fizzled out.

The majority of the groups could only muster two or three men interested enough to play with only a few of the bigger frats able to conjure up at least six men. However since about half of the group representatives never show for the business meetings, the trouble may be due to the fact that many groups or individuals did not know about it.

Therefore it was decided to let the matter ride for a while until enough student response showed that an Intra-Mural hockey league could be possible.

There were a few changes in the I-M basketball standings but none affecting the first or second place teams except in Bracket B. LMC is still leading that bunch but by virtue of a narrow one-point victory over Theta Chi 1 the other night. Student Body 3 is now tied for second place with that same Theta Chi team. Below are the
