Great American Family

POSING FOR A FAMILY PHOTO in the good old tin-type tradition are actors holding the top roles in LCT's production, "The Great American Family," which will be presented next Tuesday and Wednesday nights. Standing, with hand on papa's shoulder, is Jean Tous-saint, who portrays the Mrs. of the family. Harold Sandvick is the dotting father, and, holding up pappy from the other side is Bill Oakey. Remaining members of dad's tribe are, left to right, Donny Stefanson, Roger Thompson, and Ronny Smith.

Aurania Rouveral's comedy, "The Great American Family", is the story of a young couple who decide to write the "Great American Novel", who are determined to refrain from any additions to the family until the novel is written. Whether or not their aim is accomplished, is a question which will be answered at the LCT next Tuesday and Wednesday nights. (Photo by Ray Erwin)

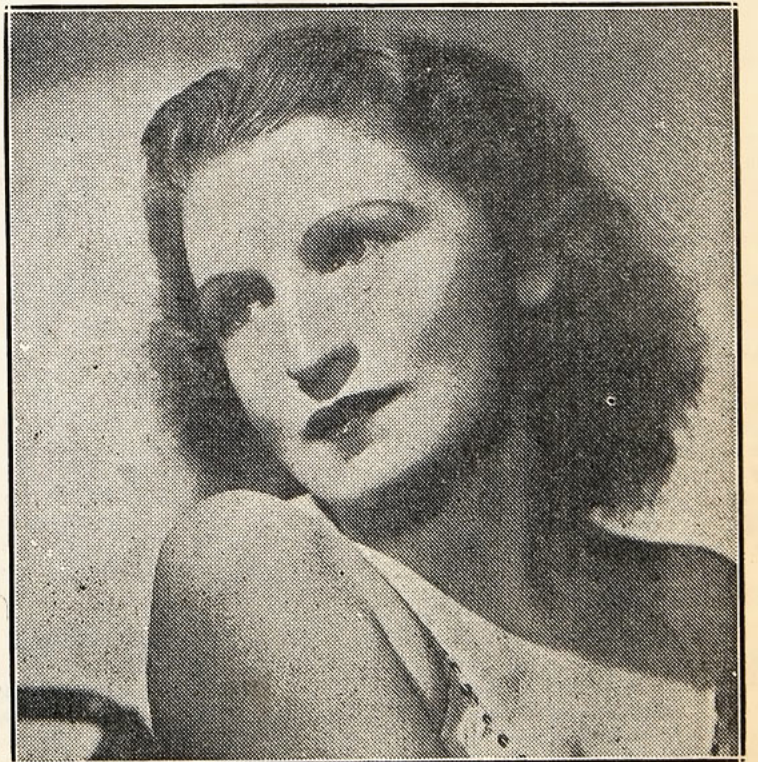

MIRIAM MARMEIN, America's first lady of pantomime and dramatic dance, will appear at a convocation in Festival hall Tuesday at 8 o'clock. Miss Marmein will present a full-length program of various dances at the evening convocation.

Feature of the performance will be a satire on the bedtime ritual of a glamor girl. Recreation of ancient Egyptian art and a sketch of a Parisian waiter working hard for a tip are other pantomimes.

Hill Named President Of NDAC Union

Organization of the Student Union Board of Directors was completed last week with election of officers and the setting up of committees to further the building program. Official recognition has been given the Union corporation in a charter received from the Secretary of State of North Dakota.

The Articles of Incorporation and By-Laws of the "Memorial Student Union of the North Dakota Agricultural College" on page 3 are the documents upon which the corporation was granted a charter.

Prof. Glenn Hill, chairman of the Mathematics department, heads the corporation as president. Ben H. Meineke, senior member of the Meinecke-Johnson Construction Co., is vice-president; James L. Wilkinson, NDAC senior, is secretary; and F. F. Skinner, business manager of NDAC, treasurer.

Hill, Meineke, Wilkinson, Dr. C. E. Miller, Pharmacy department, and Lyle Nelson, NDAC senior, are the executive committee. Other Board directors are Deloris Barker and Daly King, NDAC seniors; Dr. Gordon Johnsgard, Soils department; Miss Ada M. Campbell, Home Economics department; Paul Horn, Moorhead; Mrs. Ralph K. Welch and Dr. Frank Darrow, both of Fargo. President Longwell is an ex-officio member.

The charter, dated Feb. 16, 1948, and signed by Thomas Hall, Secretary of State, names as incorporators Dr. J. H. Longwell, Daly King, and William Toussaint, presidents of NDAC, the student commission, and the Alumni association, respectively.

Committees and chairmen are: building, Lyle Nelson; finance, Dr. Johnsgard; publicity, James Wilkinson; alumni-student relations, Daly King; and constitution, Dr. C. E. Miller. The Union board announces that committee memberships are open to interested students, preferably of freshmen, sophomore, and junior standings, and there will be many jobs and possibilities. Anyone interested in working with the group is asked to see any of the committee chairmen or Mr. Hill.

The Building committee will be in charge of coordinating building plans and investigating possible locations for the Union building. The Finance committee will invest funds and plan a bond issue which is proposed to raise the greater share of the expected $500,000 cost of the building. The Constitution committee will prepare a constitution which will be in effect for eventual administration of the building. The Publicity committee will publicize information of general interest as to the progress of the undertaking and the Alumni-Student Relations committee will act in coordinating the work of the Union board with that of the Alumni association.

DEMONSTRATION GIVEN

A demonstration on yeast, rolls, and special breads was given by Miss Clarice Bloom of the American Wheat Institute, Chicago, on Tuesday, March 2, in Ceres hall. Home Economics students attended the demonstration.

Miriam Marmein Convo Tuesday

"And So to Bed..." is one of the titles on the Miriam Marmein dance program for the special evening convocation Tuesday at 8 p. m. in Festival hall. It will satirize the bedtime ritual of the glamor girl. Other dances and pantomimes will range from a re-creation of ancient Egyptian art to a sketch of a Parisian waiter working hard for a tip.

The full-length evening program is expected to be the climax of the year's convocations. Said F. G. Schoff of the Convocation committee, "We hope this will be something memorable. Miss Marmein's program has variety galore in it. Her costumes look vivid and exciting: her reviews have been enthusiastic."

Both dances and costumes are created by the dancer herself. She has danced all over this country as well as abroad, and has directed dance festivals as well as teaching on the side.

Special lighting for the Marmein program will be arranged by Thorsson. Others aiding the convocation committee to make the evening possible are Shirley Brua, to handle sound apparatus, and Jo Ann Zimmerman, costumes, with Helen L. Scofield of the Phy Ed. department supervising.

Students are invited to bring their family and friends to this special night program. Like any other convocation, it is free to all.

Merle Nott Named To Field Post In Union Plan

Merle Nott, NDAC graduate in the fall term of 1947, was named Union fund field man at a recent meeting of Student Union directors. His duties will include a fund-raising campaign among the alumni of NDAC for the Union building fund.

Nott recently affiliated with the NDAC Alumni association as Alumni organizer and will continue in that position also. Alumni chapters have been organized in many localities within the state and in many of the larger cities of the nation.

The NDAC Alumni office has prepared an eight-page two-color folder on Student Union plans for mail distribution to alumni of NDAC. A similar campaign inaugurated by the University of North Dakota's Student Union organization recently netted $65,000.00 for the building fund there.

TOURNEY CANCELLED

The Interfraternity Council announces that the Bridge-Whist tournament scheduled for tomorrow night in Festival hall has been cancelled.

Blue Key Seeks Judging Plan

Various methods of judging the winning Brevities acts in the annual Blue Key show which will be held in Festival hall April 13, 14, and 15, are under investigation by a committee.

Among the techniques being considered are ratings by judges similar to the plan used in the recent Brevities eliminations, and by audience vote. Perhaps the most interesting development came this week when the subject was broached to the Electrical engineering department with an applause meter in mind.

Intrigued by the idea, the department, revealing a practical as well as theoretical side of their nature, undertook tentatively to look into

SAI Pledges Give

The pledges of Sigma Alpha Iota, national honorary music fraternity, presented a musical for the actives in the Little Country Theatre Wednesday, March 3. Appearing on the program were Barbara Nelson, Virginia Borderud, Nellie Hull, and Lorene Smilie.

LONGWELL TO SPEAK

Thursday President J. H. Longwell of NDAC will address the agricultural seminar (4 p. m. Room 215, Morrill Hall). Students and staff members are welcome to attend.

Sandvig, Toussaint Head Cast For LCT Production Tuesday

Hank Sandvig and Jeanne Toussaint will have the leads in the next Little Country Theater production which will be presented Tuesday and Wednesday in the LCT.

The pair will head a cast of 18 who will play in Aurania Rouveral's comedy in 3 acts. "The Great American Family". Other college students in the cast are Russ Henningsgard, Jane Shea, LaVern Freeh, Shirley Chaska, Lloyd Flynn, Bob Shirley, Sara Zimmerman, Marilyn Hammerud, and Helen Arneson.

Also included in the cast will be a group of young people below college age. They are Roger Thompson, Ronnie Smith, Billy Oakey, Marlys Jo Bordelau, John Helgeson, and Bob Longwell.

Next week's production is entirely student produced. Four members of the Radio Speech class make up the directing staff. Gloria Crews is director; Dolores Martinson, business manager; Marilyn Collette, production manager; and Paula Nemzek, stage designer.

Costumes will be under the direction of Sally Jane Lindeman. Joyce Bolmeier will be in charge of properties and Polly Edlund will watch over makeup.

Posin To Speak At Peace Rally

Dr. Daniel Q. Posin will be the main speaker on the program of a peace rally which will be presented in the Fargo high school auditorium tonight at 8 o'clock.

Designed by "a group of peace-minded ministers" and supported by the North Dakota Interchurch council. The rally will attempt to re-emphasize the "dire necessity of keeping people's faith in the possibility of peace high."

Posin will speak on the meaning of atomic energy and the military significance of the bomb.

ATO's Cop First In Snow Event

Winner of the Snow Decorations contest, conducted as a part of the Jack Frost Winter carnival last week, is Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. Polar bear decorations of Sigma Alpha Epsilon were a close second. Alpha Phi Omega, national Scout service fraternity, sponsored the competition among the fraternities of the campus.

Don Horne, ATO prexy, received the first place trophy from Rolland Froeschle of Alpha Phi Omega during the Queen's Coronation ceremonies Saturday night at the Field house.

Other fraternities entered in the contest were Theta Chi, Sigma Phi Delta, Kappa Kappa Psi, and Alpha Gamma Rho. Members of Alpha Phi Omega on the contest committee were Ed Gutknecht, C. B. Christenson, Blair Smallwood, Rolland Froeschle, and Bob Runice. Judges for the event were Mrs. C. L. Voss of the Fine Arts club and Misses May Kelly and Alice Wright, supervisor of art and art instructor respectively in the Fargo public schools.

NAMED TO COMMITTEE

Professor H. C. Sortfeld has been appointed member of a regional farm management research committee. This committee will propose plans for integrated research projects to be submitted to the Regional Farm Management Research Conference in Chicago in April sponsored by the Farm Foundation and 12 northwestern colleges.

Convocation Also Planned For Wednesday

NDAC will make its contribution to the World Student Service Fund through an all-out drive which will begin Wednesday.

Highlights of the drive will be a Wednesday convocation and dance Wednesday night.

Arrangements have been completed with college officials to allow the presentation of the mid-week dance, and an okay has been received on extended dorm hours.

As a contribution to the fund, the NDAC Student Commission has donated orchestra fees. Paul Thonn and his campus Statesmen will play for the dance which will be held from 9-12 in Festival hall.

According to Arne Lochen, chairman in charge of the drive, bloc tickets will be distributed to campus organizations and tickets may also be obtained at the Bookstore.

The WCCF convocation has also been cleared with the faculty convocation committee, of which Mr. Francis Schoff is chairman. The convocation will be held Wednesday at 4 and will feature two speakers and a movie outlining the principles and purposes of WSSF.

According to Lochen, students may make their contribution to the fund through participation in both of these activities. Lochen pointed out that the goal in other schools is $1 per person and said Lochen, "we should obtain that here, also."

A. Glenn Hill, mathematics instructor at NDAC, will be in charge of money accumulated through the drive.

Speaking at the convocation will be Reverend and Mrs. James Flint, who have recently returned from service in Germany where they worked on German church relief.

Rev. Flint was one of several American representatives on the field staff of the Council of Relief Agencies Licensed in Germany, which is the government recognized group of welfare groups. Born in Massachusetts, Rev. Flint studied at Bowdon college and Union Theological Seminary and later took graduate work at Columbia. In the U. S. he has served in various church relief capacities.

"World Student Service funds are the students' contribution to peace through world student relief," Lochen said. "WSSF will aid students all over the world to continue in their studies with food, study grants, medical care and housing."

"The future leaders of the war-stricken countries must be educated in democracy," Lochen continued. "And though all countries are working together in this plan, the bulk of the support of the fund must come from America, Britain and Canada because of their present favorable position."

"American students will also be assisted but the big share of the support will be given to Europe and the near East. It's a small price to ask for peace."

SCHICKELE AT CONFERENCE

Dr. Rainer Schickele will attend a regional farm tenure conference at Chicago March 11-13.

NDAC Union Corporation Okayed By Students, Secretary of State

The accompanying Articles of Incorporation and By-Laws of the Memorial Student Union of NDAC were originally drawn up by a committee headed by Mr. Ben H. Meinecke, NDAC alumnus, with the cooperation of Attorney (Herbert G.) Nilles of Fargo. They were accepted by the Student Union Board, with some revisions, on February 6 and on February 16, by action of the Secretary of State, a charter was granted to the NDAC Student Union corporation.

Chapters of the Civil Code of North Dakota for 1943 named in the opening paragraph refer to the general law governing corporations within the state (10-02), and to the law governing non-profit corporations (10-08).

The name MEMORIAL STUDENT UNION OF THE NORTH DAKOTA AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE was decided upon as befitting the nature of the undertaking and although in the event a more appropriate title is found by the time construction is in progress, the new name can be substituted by amendment.

The Alumni members, numbers nine through twelve in Article V, are local residents appointed by the Alumni board. Dr. Frank Darrow, physician and surgeon, is associated with the Dakota clinic; Mr. Ben Meinecke is senior member of the Meinecke-Johnson Construction company; Mrs. Ralph K. Welch is a housewife whose husband is Fargo representative for the Atwood-Larson Grain company; and Paul Horn has farming interests near Moorhead.

ARTICLE X
AMENDMENTS. These by-laws may be amended, at any meeting of the members duly and regularly called, by a three-fourths vote of the members present, provided the proposed amendments, or changes, have been presented in writing to the members and filed with the Secretary at least thirty days prior to the time same are acted upon; provided further that the By-Laws may be amended upon like notice and filing, by the Directors at any meeting of the Directors duly and regularly called, by an unanimous vote of the Directors present.

Reasonable salaries and compensation for services actually rendered may be voted and paid by the Board of Directors to the members, officers and directors who actually render service to the corporation in addition to the normal duties incident to the holding of their respective offices. Except as above provided, no part of the earnings, profits or property of this corporation shall be paid, transferred to or inure to the benefit of any member, officer or director.

The foregoing and within By-Laws were adopted on the 6th day of February, A. D. 1948, by an unanimous vote of the Directors present at a meeting of Directors of said corporation, duly and regularly called and said By-Laws are hereby declared to be the By-Laws of this corporation.

Dated this 6th day of February, 1948.
(Signed) A. Glenn Hill, president
(Signed) Attest: James L. Wilkinson, Secretary

Article XI, which provides for amendments to the Articles, was inserted expressly for the purpose of providing for a change in Board membership after the Union is built to include a greater ratio of student members. Membership fees for non-student members of the corporation indicated in Article II of the By-Laws, are to be discussed at a future time when the Union is in operation.

Student elections to the Board will take place in the general spring election this year, when a freshman, a sophomore, and two junior members are to be elected as indicated in Article II. Thereafter, at each spring election, a freshman and a junior will be elected insuring a constant Board membership the greater part of each school year of one sophomore, one junior and two seniors.

An Advisory council, as specified in Article IX, will probably be selected after the spring elections next term, after committee memberships have been filled.

The Board urged those students interested in a position on one of the committees to contact the chairman or Mr. Hill soon, as the corporation is going to need capable and interested candidates for election to the Board in the spring.

Vet Housing Unit Opened

Contractors turned over 20 two-family dwellings, to NDAC here last week. The section of the veterans' housing project is located on north 13th street, adjoining the campus.

Known as North Court, the project when complete will house 160 families. Ten of the units will be three-family dwellings, the remainder double units, and all units will be occupied by June 1, if weather conditions are favorable.

According to F. P. Skinner, college business manager, whose office will handle the administration of the project, most of the present occupants are students who have been transferred from trailer units.

Under the law, the college may rent 14 of the units to faculty non-veterans. Rentals can be adjusted according to income, with a student-veteran under the G-I education program paying $15.00 monthly, the minimum chargeable rental. A non-veteran faculty member will pay $37.00 monthly, Skinner said. No utilities are furnished under those figures.

The units include oil heaters, gas water heaters operated with bottled gas, gas kitchen ranges, and ice boxes.

Bison Close Season In Conference Cellar

Paulsen's Pencil---

After Four Hectic

months' Chalky Reed's Bison have reached the end of the road with the 1947-48 cage campaign. A look back at statistics on this year's and last year's campaign reveals some interesting facts.

This year, within the North Central conference, the team played in nine games, winning two and losing seven for a .222 percentage, good for a last place tie with Morningside. (Actually, the Bison won three and lost eight but NDU series games count only a half game a piece.) Morningside licked the Bison at Sioux City, Iowa, in the only game the two teams played against each other this year. Outside the conference the Bison won seven and lost six for a .537 mark and in Fargo-Moorhead competition Reed's men copped three and dropped two for a .600 rating. Over the entire campaign, Reed's contenders played in twenty-four encounters, winning ten and losing fourteen for a .417 percentage. Against the University, of course, the Bison won two and dropped two for a .500 percentage. The Bison played in 12 home games and won eight of them for a respectable .667 percentage. On the road, however, the Herd checked in with a roaring .167 picked up on two victories out of twelve attempts.

Last season, the Bison, in conference play, won 3½ and lost 6½ for a .350 percentage and last place among conference teams. Outside the loop, last year, Reed's men won five for a .583 mark while in Fargo-Moorhead competition last year, Reed's men won five and lost two for a .714 percentage. Over the entire route, the club played in twenty-four games, winning and losing 12 times for an even .500 percentage. Against the Sioux, the Herd won three out of four for a .750 rating. Last year, the Bison copped six of eleven home games for a .545 mark, and garnered six victories in thirteen road games for a .468 percentage.

A Comparison

of percentages shows that this year's conference rating is 128 percentage points below last year's. Outside the conference, however, the mark this year dropped only 46 percentage points from .583 to .537. In Fargo-Moorhead competition, the 1947-48 club closed shop with a .600 percentage rating, one hundred fourteen points lower than last year. However, last year the club played in seven against Moorhead State Teachers College and Concordia while this year's outfit played only five times against those same two teams. Over the entire season, a comparison shows that twenty four games were played by the Herd both years. Last year's .500 mark tumbled 83 points to .417 this time, while last year's .750 mark against the Sioux dropped to an even .500 this time. The team did manage to show one increase this year their home percentage rising .122 points. On the road, however, the mark dropped .346 percentage points this season as compared to last.

It's interesting to compare scores against the University of North Dakota. Last year, despite the fact they won three games out of four from Harold Cunningham's crew, Reed's men were outscored 177 to 169. This year, while able to win but two of the four games played, Reed's outfit managed to tally 207 times while the Sioux chalked up 186 markers.

And So,

looking back the past two years, it's easy to see that while last year's campaign stayed average or a little above statistically, this year's attempt dropped below the line in many respects.

The opinion that the Herd's late season record was better than it's early season mark is also refuted for the Bison copped five of it's first twelve games and won the same number over it's last twelve encounters.

It's neither for me, or any other person for that matter, to officially judge this year's cage campaign either a success or a failure. The criteria for everyone is different and the scale by which each of us measures success or failure is widely divergent.

In flat, statistical terms, the Bison efforts this year weren't too productive. Records attest to that. But conditions can prevail which do much to hamper efforts for winning basketball. Whether they were in attendance to enough of a degree to seriously affect this year's campaign, it's hard to say. Then, too, success or failure can't always be measured by victories and losses. Outside of Reed and his club, too, few of us can accurately appraise the team's out of town efforts except from a statistical viewpoint.

Next year, however, the road promises to be plenty rocky again. Paul Brostrom and Tom Corrigan, the club is two most proficient scorers this season, will be gone. Between now and then, irrespective of difficulties in the past, it seems to me that NDAC officials should devote all their efforts to attempting to insure that next year's campaign will find the Herd closing shop with a better won-lost record than they've turned in this season. Last year's basketball team won half its games and in North Central Conference play finished in last place. This fall Stan Kostka's football team won one out of nine encounters and finished last in the NCI. This year's basketball team won ten and lost fourteen and finished in a tie for last place within the conference.

NDAC students feel that string has run out. They're sick and tired of last place finishes and they won't go on supporting athletic teams which compile such records. Let's hope that between now and the beginning of the 1948-49 athletic season worthwhile steps are taken to insure a rebirth of athletic prosperity here at NDAC

The Fargo Downtown

Quarterbacks Club was organized last fall to foster athletics here at NDAC. Early last season they sponsored one of the most successful NDAC opening night football games in recent college history. Each week they held luncheons to discuss the program of NDAC and other local football. Following the completion of the season they invited, at considerable expense, Dr. Edward Anderson, University of Iowa football coach to speak at the Club's first annual football banquet. At the same affair, they awarded trophies to eight local football players, judged most valuable to their respective teams by teammates. It is rumored the Club has been attempting to bring an all-star cage team featuring former Notre Dame grid stars Johnny Lujack, George Conner, and George Ratterman here for an exhibition.

NDAC Boxers Best Sioux

Led by big Dennis (Brown Bomber) Drews, the NDAC boxing team won an easy 5-1 victory over the mitt-slingers from NDU here Tuesday night. Drews a heavy-weight won a TKO over the Sioux's Fred Halpin in the second round.

Other wins for the Herd were Eddie Schnoor decision over Don Christy; Bob Dobervich decision over Jim Landrud; John Kleinjan TKO over Joe Gallagher in 2nd; George Moilanen TKO in 2nd over Jim Jeanquet; and Frank Page decision from Mark Fetsch.

Sioux Icemen Wallop Herd

Grand Forks, N. D.—Coach Don Bredell's NDAC hockey team received bruising proof of the capabilities of the NDU ice squad last Friday at the NDU rink as they fell before the super Sioux, 17-6.

Led by Bill Sullivan who tallied 8 goals, the Sioux had little trouble overrunning the under manned Bison. However, the Bison poked in 6 unexpected goals in the three periods. Dick Goehl scored three to lead the Bison offensive, Bill Johnson got one, Hugh Porter got one and Ken Larson tallied a lone goal.

The Bison were far from disgraced. In most places the Sioux were lead-pipe cinches to walk away with at least a shutout win. But after a bad start the Herd pulled to 7-4 at one point. Reserves for the Sioux spelled the difference and despite yeoman duty in the nets by Jim Slingsby and Bob Zehren, the tired Herd defenders were unable to withstand the fresh NDU onslaughts.

Lloyd Armstrong turned in a good game at wing and Roger Meintzer, who toiled much of the game, and Paul Jones, who was injured in the second period, turned in good games on the defense.

Intramural Play Draws To Close

Intramural play at NDAC moves into its final phase this week in basketball and volley ball.

Already teams have begun play in the playoff tournament and E. E. Kaiser, head of the physical education department announces that final games will be played this week. The final will be played Wednesday at 8:30.

In playoff games played last week in basketball the Hook-Em-Cows tripped the AC A1's and McLean County all-stars beat ISA. The two teams move into the semifinal bracket of the playoff and will play Monday at 9.

In the other bracket the ATO's play the co-ops Monday at 5 and Theta Chi meets the Aggie Midgets at 8.

Tuesday the Kappa Sigs, Sigma Chi and Kilroy Kids playoff the volley title. The Kappa Sigs play the Sigma Chi squad at 7; Kappa Sigs play the Kilroy Kids at 8 and the Kilroy Kids and Sigma Chi at 9.

Girl Cagers Meet University Girls

The NDAC girls basketball team will meet the NDU girls basketball team in a game at Grand Forks this weekend. A meeting of the Women's Athletic association was held last Tuesday to discuss plans for the weekend trip.

Split at Grand Forks Series Sends Herd Into Loop Bottom

By DAN CHAPMAN

Grand Forks, N. D. — Cagers from State College station applied fadeout proceedings to the 1947-48 season here last weekend and after two days of cage warfare emerged firmly entrenched in the North Central conference cellar.

Flooring what probably was the last place club in conference history, the Bison squeezed through the choking confines of the North Dakota university basketball court in brilliant form to add a slightly more favorable taste to an otherwise dismal season. Friday night the Herd was in rare form and the best the Sioux could offer (and that was good, too) wasn't good enough to deny the Silo Tech quintet a 66-61 victory. Saturday night NDU was lucky to win a 46-42 tilt.

The pair of games also ended the 1948 Bison-Sioux series with an even division. Both squads won games at Fargo the previous weekend.

Last week's series closed out the yellow and green careers of Red Brostrom, towering Bison point-maker, and Tommy Corrigan, who played a brilliant game at guard for the Bison this season.

In the Sioux series the pair gave performances befitting the twilight to their careers. Brostrom tossed in 22 points Friday night to lead an inspired NDAC crew. Corrigan also turned in his big game Friday night.

But Art Bredahl and Jim Johnston were top men in the book for the last series. Bredahl tallied 35 points for the two games and Johnston's unyielding aggressiveness and rebound work were big reasons for the good Bison showing.

The Sioux grabbed an early lead in the opening tilt. At the end of the first canto the Redmen were leading 20-14, largely on the floor-work of Dud Draxton and the free throw shooting of the whole team.

By the close of the half the Herd had brought the score to 30-26 in NDAC favor. And at the third quarter mark it was 44-37 for the Herd.

In the last quarter Coach Cookie Cunningham of the Sioux ran in a group of eagle-eyed freshmen, who proceeded to pound the net from every angle. At one time the score was 62-59 for the Bison after the freshmen led by sensational Pete Simonson had put on an inspired rally. Cunningham sent his first team back in, however, and the Herd pulled away again.

Much credit for Friday's win can go to Bob Geston, ace Bison long-shot artist who drew pressure off Brostrom by forcing the Sioux to pull one man off the big Redhead to guard against Geston's long shots.

In the second game Brostrom connected with four fouls early in the game and was forced to the sidelines. The Herd played effectively enough without the carrot-topped ace but though the silo tech squad was able to keep the score close, the Sioux led most of the way.

NDU led at the end of the first quarter, 9-7, and at the end of the third period, 36-34. At the half the Herd led 21-20.

The second half, however, produced some classy play by Ed Weber of the Sioux who led the Sioux counterattack. And when Brostrom was eventually evicted and Corrigan, too, the Herd attack was too crippled to compete with the Sioux.

Iowa Teachers college won the conference title by beating Morningside, 41-40 Saturday. South Dakota State finished second followed by SDU, Augustana and ND-U and NDAC and Morningside tied for last place in the conference.

Brostrom Unanimous Choice On UP All-Conference Team

By JACK HAGERTY

Bismarck, N. D., March 2—(UP)—South Dakota State failed in its bid for the North Central conference basketball championship, but the Jackrabbits placed three players on the 1948 all-conference cage squad as selected by student sports writers around the conference for the United Press.

The Jacks placed three players on the eight-man team to two for the champion Iowa Teachers and one each for South Dakota university, North Dakota university, and North Dakota Agricultural college.

Forwards "Sunny Jim" Schmidt of South Dakota State and Norm Jaspersen of Iowa Teachers were named on the first five by each of the seven sports writers cooperating in the selection. Big Paul (Red) Brostrom, NDAC, also was mentioned on every ballot, but was picked as the second center by one sports-writer.

The squad and the number of points for each, based on two points for selection on the first five and one for selection as an alternate.

Forwards—Schmidt, SDS, 14; Jaspersen, ISTC, 14; and Don Mohlenhoff, SDS, five.

Centers — Brostrom, NDAC, 13; and Walt Kochneff, ISTC, seven.

Guards—Dudley Draxton, NDU, 11; Duane Jensen, SDU; five, and Paul Gilbert, SDS, four.

Only one forward besides the three chosen was mentioned. John Diefendorf of South Dakota university was named alternate forward by two sports writers.

Clayton Bristow, Morningside, got the only vote for center not given to Brostrom and Kochneff. Bristow also was chosen by one sports writer as a first-string guard.

The guard position drew votes for 11 different players with only Draxton, a hold-over from last year's all-conference team, getting a clear edge in the balloting. Guards mentioned besides the three top defense men and Bristow were: Arnie Bauer, Augustana, and Tom Corrigan, NDAC, three votes; Charles Rick and Van Combs, ISTC, two votes, and Bob Harum and Martel Rud, Augustana, and Gordon Huffman, NDU, one vote each.

Five members of the all-conference team are seniors. Three—Jaspersen, Kochneff and Mohlenhoff, are sophomores.

Cooperating in the selection of the teams were the following sports editors of college newspapers: John Paulsen, NDAC; Durand Young, Augustana; Paul Steitzer, USD; Orval Knee, ISTC; Chuck Gard, SDS; Chuck Johnson, UND, and Don Dunn, Morningside.

TERM PARTY SLATED
NDAC's 4-H club will have its term party tomorrow night at 8 in the college YMCA auditorium. Old time and modern dancing will be the feature of the evening and refreshments will be served. All former 4-H members and their guests are welcome.

L. S. A.

Relaxation will be the theme of this Friday's party at 7:30 in the LSA center when the five losing teams in the foundation drive will put on the party for the five winning teams. Team D, headed by Ruth Strand and Les Stenhjem, copped top place in the drive.

This being election year the LSA'ers will get some practical experience in that art before November. This Sunday evening at 5:15 the annual election of officers will take place. A special worship program has been prepared after which Gladys Sather, president, will install the new officers.

Also scheduled are Bible studies Sunday at 9 a. m. and Wednesday at 4 p. m., and on Thursday "Chow Chats" at noon and choir from 7 to 8 p. m.

Minette Wins At Mill City Gymnats Meet

Jim Minette, top-man on the NDAC gymnastic squad, last week was named the best individual all-around Class B performer at the Northwest Gym meet at Minneapolis. Minette starred on the NDAC squad that placed third in the meet behind Colorado U. and North Dakota U.

Next fall the Club has been planning to hold a football clinic and also to stage its second annual banquet. It is rumored the group was attempting to get Harry Strudehler, University of Wisconsin grid coach, to be the principal attraction, at the clinic and rumors also insist the club is attempting to get Fritz Crisler, Michigan's Rose Bowl mentor, to headline the banquet.

Whether all these top flight attractions, or any of them for that matter, were or still are being sought after, it's impossible to say. To one thing, Bison spectators are sure to attest. It is that if anything happened to prevent even one of them from coming here, Fargo would be the heavy losers.

A week ago Thursday, the group staged one of the greatest attractions in recent local history when they imported the Minneapolis

Lakers to play here against the Bismarck Phantoms.

Planning for the event was a mammoth job. The night of the game it was apparent that something had gone awry with seating arrangements because a goodly number of reserved seat tickets holders arrived at the game, only to find they were without seats.

A number of reasons for this were evident: For one thing, the club had somewhat erred in its estimate of the seating capacity; secondly, a goodly number of student ticket holders managed to slip several spectators in on their ticket; thirdly, a considerable number of student ticket holders slipped into the reserved section.

That was unfortunate. Reserved seat ticket holders had a legitimate complaint. A lot of them did complain. But not nearly so many reserved seat holders complained as did student ducat holders.

At any rate, before the game Quarterback Club members made frantic efforts to alleviate the situation and attempt to get more patrons seated. Their attempt got little thanks, indeed, and student ticket holders led the parade in jeering the efforts of club members.

Apparently, there are a lot of short memories. Apparently a lot of people don't realize that the Downtown Quarterback Club, probably more than anyone else, can insure a good athletic program around here by its insistent efforts toward such an end. Perhaps a lot of us don't realize that there are no individual profits made by members of the Club. A lot of people don't realize the work Ralph Rothrock, Bill Hopp and their assistants went through—without compensation and at considerable personal sacrifice—to make the Laker game a success. They got small thanks indeed. Club members didn't claim to be professional promoters. But they learned a lot in putting on the game. Prior to it, they decided to sell student tickets here at NDAC—something that was done at no other place. Maybe, in the future, Club members will think it isn't worth the pain and misery and ingratitude to render such a service.

Now That The series is over, it's natural for Eugene Fitzgerald of the Fargo Forum to put the blame for the Herd's 37-36 loss to NDU here two week's ago on the carnival spirit which students had in attendance. Perhaps Fitzgerald is immune to student opinion. At any rate, he may be interested to know that he has become very unpopular after his latest blast at NDAC students.

Personally, I can't agree with Mr. F. He himself has been criticizing AC students for years for not supporting their teams. So have a lot of other people. Finally—largely through the efforts of Theta Chi fraternity—some real enthusiasm has been instilled into the student body. What is its effect on Fitzgerald? He says they "overdid it." He says they got the players so keyed up that they lost the game.

As far as I'm concerned, it seems to me that Theta Chi, and the other groups who have been instrumental in helping to revive the spirit that once was so notable here, deserve much congratulation. Why try to kill a legitimate contribution to athletic revival?

The Bison lost Friday's game because they scored one less point than North Dakota University, not because there was much spirit. If they lost because there was too much spirit prevailing for them, then they didn't deserve to win in the first place.

In Back of WSSF-

Under ideal conditions, promotion of the World Student Service fund would be a waste of time. It would seem that in this hectic world, the one big realization that everyone should have is that war is a distinct possibility. Still some persons are too far drawn from the world conflicts to understand the need of education for peace in this world and thus a drive must be inaugurated on the campus to secure a worthy contribution to a worthy fund.

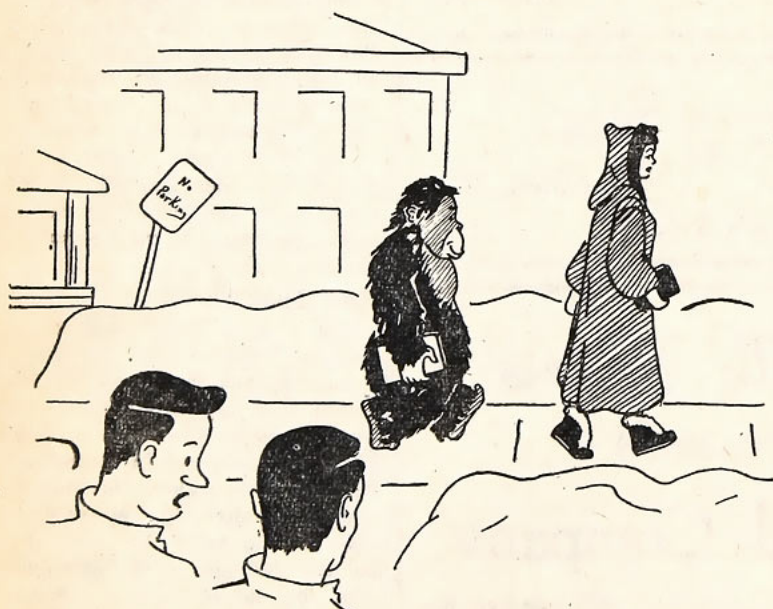

WSSF stands for education. It seeks to promote the ways of peace through education and it seeks to provide the means for such schooling through financial assists from other students. In America where we have an abundance of everything including ways and means of securing an education, we are time and again called upon to provide for some needy cause or other.

This is only as it should be. So long as we have the ability to provide such means, we should provide. If we are to continue the established traditions of our country, it is only reasonable to assume that we wish to share our abundance with the rest of the world. A more realistic opinion would show that such doles are given because we realize that they are a necessity to continuous peace and harmony with the nations of Europe and Asia.

There is no secret about the fact that we are competing with Russia for the influencing upper hand in many of the European countries and if such competition is to continue favorable to the U. S., the people must understand democracy and want to live democracy. Education is a pillar to democracy and without it, we cannot expect to uphold democratic understanding in countries now under pressure of communism.

The big weekend is over, and by this time we hope most of the B. T. O's who could afford to go up to the Forks are well on their road to recovery. (We will go on with the supposition that very few, if any, of the students who visited Grand Forks, got to see any of the games.) Some of the fortunate had some misfortune. Three carloads of team followers found the snow storm a thwarting influence and spent fifteen hours whiling away the time waiting for a snowplow.

And then we peasants who stayed in Fargo had the privilege of watching AC add a new queen to its list. Although we feel the judges were quite capable in their selection of the queen, we do believe that the candidate sponsored by the Theta Chis, Princess Mayo, might have at least been named an attendant.

Could it be that Bob Fredrickson is speaking so much Spanish as of late because he is planning a trip to Rio?

We wonder why the powers in charge have had the water turned off in Ceres hall by nine o'clock each evening. One report is that Pat Vaughn and her gang like to carry on water fights in order to relieve the monotony.

Some girls have gotten around this early evening water shortage by melting snow in their room. But with the water off how are the sweet young things who DON'T take part in these fights going to take their headache powders?

GOOD NEWS—GI checks came. BAD NEWS—And went.

BRIGHT REMARKS—He and I are broommates—We sweep together.

Poisonalities

IN THE NOOSE

By PAT O'LEARY

For a while it looked as if the Hasty Tasty should be the campus chow sling named "The Dugout", because it sure needed digging out. That, however, is but one phase of the big snow that snowed everyone last week.

One of the more spectacular events was the stranding of a portion of our college on the highway just out of Grand Forks. Honors go to Doloris Sorlie, fair damsel caught in the same car as Speedy Kornberg, Dewey Johnson, and Connie Aas (The editorial staff here announces that it takes no responsibility for misspelled names). She was so courageous about the whole thing that a special citation should be awarded for bravery beyond the call of help. Also stranded was third cousin Dick Sorlie with five friends in another club coupe, who reportedly drank all the anti freeze in the radiator to keep warm during the night.

Back home things were almost as bad. All day Saturday people with cars had to leave them running around by themselves because there was no place to park them. The reason they had to park them, of course, was the big parade, in which all the queens rode along in open convertibles which looked like huge buckets of snow by the time they hit lower Broadway—all the queens except one, that is. Joyce Bolmeier had to play the individualist, however, and ride along on a tower which looked at first like the Black Building on wheels. Another of the floats was hard to figure out, too—the one which had a big creamery truck rolling about in the middle. Someone wanted Doloris Martinson to hop up on top and be Miss Butter of 1948, but she wouldn't. It was still a great parade, only next time they'd better hold it in the summer when Miss Detroit Lakes could wear a bathing suit without displaying the finest crop of goose-pimples this side of Grand Forks.

Suggestion of the week: Next time Nick and Ockie get another waitress may we suggest getting a couple of tigers direct from Ringling Brothers or Frank Buck. At least you can get by with shooting a tiger when they get mean.

Everyone is wondering when the ATO's are going to hold a skating party on the rink in the front lawn. Everyone should have fun except Bibleheimer. He's too smooth to stand on ice.

The reason that the turtle races are over is that someone has started running around asking each person in attendance if he is a turtle.

Last Lent Service Set Wednesday

The last Y Lenten service is to be held in the Y auditorium Wednesday at 7 o'clock. Phyllis Gustafson and Maurice Knutson are planning the service, based on a musical interpretation of Easter.

Included on the program are the Lutheran choir of 40 voices, the Methodist quartette and several solo numbers.

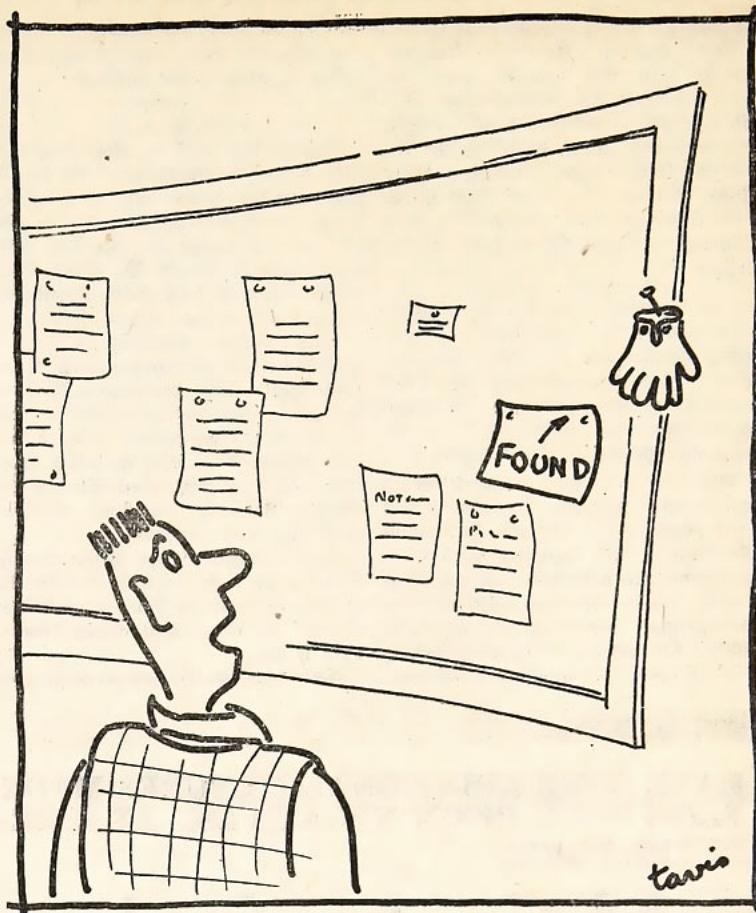

The Lenten service on March 3 was under the direction of Jean Hoverson. Members of the choral reading group were Peg Critchfield, Walt Matson, LeRoy Hanson, Les Stein and Ben Richardson.

Prof Group To Meet

A supper meeting of the American Association of University Professors will be held at the College Y Wednesday evening, at 6:15 p.m. Plates will be 75c plus tax.

The program being arranged by the program committee will include a discussion on salaries and cost of living.

By POLLY EDHLUND

Well the weather is always a good topic, lotsa snow huh? Now that I've got an introduction or lure line and all that sort of thing I can roll on with the news and views.

HERD from the HERD—This year's all-college football hero of Bromo-Bowl fame has affiliated with Theta Chi. It's Marilyn "Hammering" Hammerud, who is pinned to Bob Olson of said fraternity.

Getting the old frat bug and pledging Kappa Sigma Chi were Lester Stine, Merton Brunsvold Bob Morrison and Delmar Schultz. Bit by the sorority bug were Phi Mus. New pledges are Mary Duella and Carroll Jaster.

Cornering the active market are the KEX-ers who activated Robert, Don, Jim, Irvin and Fred. Last names? Oh yes—Lalum, Astrup, O'Toole, Larson and Beulow.

Valking away with vittles this week vere with Kappa Delta was Lois Marquart, Alpha Gams, Kathryn Sherik and Dorothy Abrahamson, with Phi Mus were Miss Vergin, Roy Johnson, Norine Jahnke, Carroll Jaster, Marlys Timm and Starr Haker, with the Kappas Blanche Bedner.

Guesting at the Phi Mu house this week was Mrs. Catherine Duncan from Tennessee.

Cup—cup—cup—That's the word on the ATO's. Reason? Snow decorations for the Jack Frost carnival. They walked off with a big old trophy which was presented by Alpha Phi Omega. Their decorations consisted of a miniature skating rink, with sculptured snow statues, equipped with skis and other sporting goods.

Entertainment galore this week. New and different was an indoor weiner roast at the Theta Chi house last Wednesday when they entertained the KDs and Gamma Phis. Newell Anderson was chief chef assisted by Jack Lunde, Stan Lunde and Winky Opperman.

Sigma Chis entertained the Kappas at a jolly shindig last Wednesday. Kappa Sigma Chis occupied their Wednesday evening with the Alpha Gams from 5 to 8 o'clock. ATO boys chatted and dined with the Thetas last Wednesday night.

Stocking up on sun lotion is Al Golberg who has been chosen to represent the Alpha Tau Omegas at their National Congress at Sun Valley, Idaho. Time for this tanning will be July 1 to 4th. "Bebys"

Bibelheimer was chosen as alternate.

Mary Heisler's home set the atmosphere for steaming tea pots last Friday when the Alpha Gams undergraduate chapter entertained their patronesses, alumni and mothers.

Holding up Theta Chi spirit at home while part of the chapter went to Grand Forks were the boys that were left in Fargo. Clever deductions, dear Watson. The home boys helped the Junior Chamber of Commerce stage a parade. The boys were very disappointed when their queen candidate "Mayolet" did not become a member of the royal family.

Gala gathering on tap this week is the Sigma Phi Delta term party. Kenny Sutton will provide music for those dancing in the Town Hall and refreshments will be served by Pierre Petite.

Sleighbells will ring at the Phi Mu party March 13, when their term party pops up in form of a sleigh ride.

Skirts and sweaters will be the prerequisite for the Sig party put on by the Sig pledges March 13.

ATO actives and pledges have a solution for solitude. They've initiated a new cause—lemonade parties every Monday night so that united they stand. Everybody joins in the fun and has such a rollicking good time.

Lemonading Monday will be the SAEs who will play host to the Sigma Chis. Kegs of lemonade will be brought as payment by the SAEs for losing a football game to the Sigma Chis. Football last fall, but better late than never.

Someone sent Ed Boe back to the Theta Chis COD. Poor Ed sat out by the door in a crate for four days before someone finally paid the COD charges. Daly King was responsible for this charitable act.

Looking for someone.... anyone lost.... let me know. 'Nuff said.

Co-op House Holds Party

The recently reorganized NDAC Coop house will hold its term party tomorrow in the lobby of the college YMCA beginning at 9 o'clock.

Heading the dance committee for the affair is Bill Stegner and Maurice Anderson and Frances Bevins complete the committee. Chaperones are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kelly and Mr. and Mrs. Burl Winchester.

Public Relations Office Has Film Depicting NDAC Life

A film recently completed by the NDAC Public Relations office will be previewed Monday at 4:00 p. m. in the college YMCA auditorium.

While the film, a 16 mm. color movie, 25 minutes in length is designed to interest potential students at NDAC, it will prove of considerable interest to those familiar with personalities and scenes on the campus. Prints of the film, which is called "Sam Olson Goes To College," will be distributed throughout the northwest.

Bob Schreiner, Florence Briggs, and many of the staff and student body are seen in the movie, which tells of one high school student's tour of the college campus, before deciding his course of study.

A special committee worked with the Public Relations department in writing the script and producing the movie. The committee included Miss Kapuscinski, Mr. Bordeleau, Miss Phillips, Mr. Witz, Wendland, Dr. Clifton Miller, Mr. Kaiser, Miss West, Capt. Heikinen, and Mr. Schroeffer.

Cameraman for the project was Norton Stephens, of Moorhead.

Jim Baccus, of the public relations office, said he was very grateful for the cooperation extended by the various schools and departments in the project.

"We found it necessary to disrupt a few classes, occasionally," Baccus said, "but the instructors were invariably obliging and cooperative. We want to thank them."

Baccus said that a lot of good scenes had to be left unphotographed because of budgetary limitations, but that he hoped the film would present a fair appraisal of a complex and many-sided subject.

Saddle and Sirloin Seeks Back Issues Of Catalog

With the showing of the 1948, and 22nd, Little International Livestock Show completed, the NDAC Saddle and Sirloin Club wishes to complete its files of Little International catalogs. Now on hand in the club's records are catalogs from all but two of the annual shows which list entrants in the various divisions of the show from as far back as 1923.

Indicating growth of the Little International and of the Saddle and Sirloin Club at NDAC, the catalogs will be bound in book form and will be open for inspection by the club members to be used for guidance of future show managers and superintendents.

Catalogs now missing are: 1923—1st Little International; and 1941—the 19th Little International.

Faculty members and others who have been interested in the progress of the club and of student activities at NDAC are urged to search their files for copies of these two issues of the six by nine inch catalog. The Saddle and Sirloin Club will purchase copies that are in good condition. Those who are able to supply copies may contact the Animal Husbandry department or Ray Erwin, club historian.

YMCA Nominees Announced

Nominations for election to the YMCA Cabinet have been announced by the YMCA nominations committee. The election will be held April 7.

Bill Provance, Ken Olson and Les Stine were nominated for president by the committee. The winner in this election is president and the second high man is vice-president. Provance is the present president and Olson is vice-president.

Nominees for secretary include

Filipino Grad Now Teaching In Pioneering Island Schools

In the fall term of the college year 1930-31 a Filipino lad by the name of Philip Chalag entered the School of Agriculture of the North Dakota Agricultural college.

Phil was entirely self supporting—about as "hard-up" as any lad that ever entered college. He had emigrated from Bontoc Mountain Province of the Philippine Islands to Seattle, Washington, where, by dint of his industry, he put himself through high school. His parents were farmers.

Philip won a B. S. degree in agriculture in June, 1936, and an M. S. in agricultural education the following year.

Philip's ambition all through college was to prepare himself to teach a better agriculture to the under-privileged inhabitants of his native Mountain Province.

He has lived through the Japanese occupation of the Philippine Islands—Philip returned to the Islands in January, 1939. In writing to Prof. Ernest DeAlton he says: "I have tasted the slapping from the Japanese which never happened to me before."

Philip's devotion to his own people has never faltered. He taught at La Trinidad for six months without pay in 1941, just before the war broke out. He is now teaching in a reconstruction period.

Writing to Prof. DeAlton, Chalog says, "Teaching at this reconstruction period is a pioneering work. A teacher teaches his classes without any available materials to use. Courses of study are useless to follow. One has to make his own program according to whatever material he can have. The teaching of agricultural subjects is pretty hard because of lack of textbooks. We lost everything during the liberation."

Our school buildings were all destroyed as a result of bombing. We are using temporary shelters put up for classroom purposes."

Writing to Dean Walster on February 16, 1948, Chalag says:

"We are raising tropical crops; the most common we raise in this school is garden vegetables and in addition we raise farm crops such as rice and corn. We raise livestock such as cattle imported from India and mostly from Australia. The hogs and poultry are imported from the States. Last year the Philippine government ordered White Leghorn and New Hampshire chicks from the states. Our school was given 300 chicks to begin our poultry raising."

Nott said a varied program had been prepared, including NDAC color films, musical numbers by Bison Brevities acts, and a short address by Dr. J. H. Longwell, president of NDAC.

Tickets for the lunch are being sold at the Winter Show booth, at Woody's Cafe in Valley City, and at the Old Main alumni office.

Larsen was for many years in charge of the AC power plant. Mr. Barrett is a veteran county agent in Emmons county.

The additional members brings to 63 the honored guests who will be feted at a banquet sponsored by the North Dakota Farm Bureau, in the Graver Hotel.

Gil Stafne, ND Farm Bureau executive, said an attempt was being made to book Dr. W. C. Coffey, president-emeritus of Minnesota university for the featured address of the evening.

Stafne said that additional banquet space was being arranged for, so that married men of the staff could bring their wives.

Two More Lectures Planned By Chem Tech Department

Two more lectures on subjects of timely interest have been arranged by the school of Chemical Technology, announces Dean R. E. Dunbar.

They will be the final two of a series of three arranged through the cooperation of the American-Marietta company, Kankakee, Ill. Thursday, March 11, has been chosen for the appearance on the campus of M. J. Monahan, technical director of the company's trade sales division.

The final lecturer, who will appear late in May is John F. Rooney, an NDAC graduate. Both addresses will be open to all.

Launching the 1947-48 series last fall was Frank C. Seebart, manager of the resin division of the firm. He spoke on employment in the American paint and varnish industry.

Each lecturer will spend a full day at NDAC delivering a lecture on the subject to the students enrolled in the protective coatings courses. In the evening the speakers will deliver a second lecture to the Chemists' Club on general interest topics. Monahan's first topic will be on color, while in the evening he will speak on a subject much in the news recently—"Ultrasonics."

Monahan's technical training was obtained at Newark college of Engineering. He has a long record of service with the Marietta company, having joined in 1929. He served as chief chemist until 1946, when he was named technical director of the trade sales division.

Rooney, formerly of Manning, N. D., was graduated from Dickinson high school in 1927. He attended NDAC majoring in organic chemistry and receiving his B. S. degree in 1932 and an M. S. degree in 1933.

Rooney served four years as an officer in the AAF in the ETO. He was awarded the Bronze Star and Croix de Guerre in connection with work as an engineering officer with the 8th Air Force. He was discharged as a Lt. Colonel in January, 1946.

During 1947 Rooney served as an OTS investigator for the department of commerce, making a three month's survey of German synthetic resin industry. During that period he visited the chief plants of the I. G. Farbenindustrie.

Dr. Wouter Bosch, head of the NDAC paint section, said he hoped the American-Marietta lecturer would lead to other contacts between the re-born paint department at NDAC and the industry.
