Publication Heads Named For 1947-48

Editorial and business heads of the three main campus publications for the next school year were announced by Dolores Shanks, president of the NDAC Board of Publications.

In the announcement Iona Bolton was named to succeed Sandy MacGibbon as editor of the Bison yearbook with Daly King replacing Donna Jean Neller-moe as Bison business manager; Dan Chapman was renamed to edit The Spectrum, having taken that post after the resignation of Richard C. Olson at the close of the winter term, and Ardyce Toohey assumes duties as business manager in place of Betty Sue Armstrong; and succeeding to top posts of the Bison Furrows will be Ray Erwin as editor and George Christensen as business manager to replace present editor Ralph Harmon and business manager Kirk Bellows.

Miss Bolton, present managing editor of the Bison, is a junior in applied arts and science and is president of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. King, a member of Theta Chi fraternity from Park River, has been active in campus athletics and debate. He is in the school of applied arts and science.

Chapman is a member of the Independent Students association and is a sophomore in applied arts and science from Fargo. Miss Toohey is the present circulation manager of The Spectrum, a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, and is a student in applied arts and science from Fargo.

Erwin and Christensen are enrolled in the school of agriculture. Erwin is a senior from Minot and is the present president of the Y Camera club. Christensen, a junior from Williston, is vice-president of Saddle and Sirloin and a former mayor of Trailer City.

Ernie Johnson as a school teacher and Jane Vogel as his fiancee provide the love interest for the production and Linda Rousseau as the Widow Douglas and Dorothy Everson as Mrs. Harper round out the cast.

Dick Thomas takes the junior high school lead as Tom with other members including Lyle Severson as Sid Sawyer, Joe Harper played by Spike Forsyth, Ruth Olwin playing Becky Thatcher and Dorothy Asker taking the part of Amy Lawrence.

Company A of ROTC was beginning to wonder if they were being made an example of during the formal inspection this week. Seems that they went through all the drills Monday while the other companies took their ease in the grandstand. That wasn't so bad, but, when they were all set for a little grandstand fatigue themselves, they had to go out and take part in calisthenics. Such is the price of fame.

Everybody Votes

NDAC's campus population goes to the polls again next Thursday and to all indications democracy will run a free course with no interference from organizational interests.

Campus caucuses have been busy over the past week to eliminate the strife that has marked past elections and assuming that everyone catches this democratic fever, this election will be on a strictly merit basis.

Merit hasn't always been the most important thing in our campaigns and consequently not every winner has been the best man. In selecting the student commission by merit next week, we may be taking the first step in the revitalization of the school spirit.

The method by which the various organizations have sought to bring this election from the depths of political struggle has been to bring about an agreement from each organization that the coming election will be fought on the grounds of the qualifications of the candidate, not on the qualifications of the organization to which the candidate belongs.

Of course this will take a lot of cooperation from the many factions on the campus. And more than that, it will take a lot of cooperation from the students themselves. By voting for the candidate, contrary to natural biases born of association with the candidate, the student can help bring to the college a representative and capable government.

One gratifying note of the coming election is that over 100 students were interested enough in the election to bother to file application for posts on the student commission. If only those that applied went to the polls, it would be one of the biggest things of the year on the campus, but you can be sure that unless they call up the reserve corps before next Thursday, many more than 100 votes will be cast.

Students must only remember that in order to vote, each student must show a student activity ticket at the polls. The polls will be located in Old Main and will be open from 8 to 5.

Classes will of course only vote for the candidates from each class. That is, sophomores will elect sophomores on each board and juniors will elect the junior members. However, the posts of president and commissioner of Military Affairs are open to vote to all classes.

It's irrelevant who you vote for so long as he is the best man in your opinion. It is, however, ultimate that everyone eligible is at the polls next Thursday.

If you don't know the candidates, anyone on the student commission would be glad to help you meet either the candidate or his qualifications.

In fact everything would point to the prospect that someone has finally got the Indian sign on the prevalent apathy of the school and something big is in the brew for next week.

Slim pocketbooks will be the rule by the end of the month with the usual round of May shindigs on the calendar such as the Barn Dance, GPB Gayeties, the Junior-Senior Prom, term parties and Detroit Lakes night life. For example, the Sigs, the best fraternity on the campus without a house, have four functions coming off in the space of ten days, climaxed by an old-fashioned revival meeting with their brethren from the university at a wide spot in the road north of town. Larry Aasen and other Hillsboro natives are advised to board up the windows.

Dorothy DuVall will have the Barn Dance queen nomination neatly stowed in her gingham if she can reach all the men on the campus in time. That program of Piano Seductions is sure-fire soft lights and sweet words material.

Bob Swanson ran afoul of a situation which might happen to any person trying to transfer schools. Bob, looking for an open slot in one of the dentistry schools around the country, took the hard way—by writing letters to every school he could find that had a course in dentistry. One reply which he received turned him down in a very nice way. The only students admitted were Negroes.

And what's this we hear about the Greeks and Indies burying the hatchet for the coming election?

Now that the 1947 Detroit Lakes season has been opened it looks as if number ten is going to be in for its yearly blood bath along with its alter ego, the Pavilion-Shoreham speedway. The average has been two deaths a week since the first of April.

Most futile job of any week is trying to hear a lecture in Science 314 when that Rube Goldberg contraption (which sounds like a coal heaver) in back of the power plant swings into high gear. Also, watching the grading process going on in the parking lot and the switch engines out at the roundhouse offer plenty of opportunity for spring daydreaming.

NDAC Women's Rifle Team Has Good Opening Season

An unusually good "first season" record fired by the NDAC girls' rifle team was disclosed by M. Sgt. R. D. White of the military department this week. Of the team's 26 members, seven were rated expert on the basis of a score of 90 or more out of a possible 100.

Dorothy Wicklander with an average score of 93.8 and Frances Hillier averaging 93.5 were champion and runner-up respectively and are this year's honorees on the Women's Athletic association plaque. Others who scored in the expert class were Norma Howell,

Poisonalities

IN THE NOOSE

By PAT O'LEARY

It has been noticed, lately, that a lot of people have been putting around the campus building post holes and filling them with posts. The object, apparently, is to save a few blades of grass. Well, I know of something much more valuable and irreplaceable which an equal amount of work could save: the top floor of the Engineering building.

It shouldn't take too much lumber or tar to fill the gaping holes in the roof, anyway. The way it is now, every time it rains the water gushes in like hell bent from a fire hose with no regard as to who or what may be waterlogged, washed away, or permanently warped. It's really cause for a gripe to have several hours' work or some valuable equipment damaged beyond repair by a sudden shower.

Among The Books

By BOB TRUBEY

There is no doubt but that today's youth face contemporary problems of world economic and political poverty which threaten to narrow the prospects of "the good life." In this changing world society, exposure to vast diversities of information is unavoidable; the daily newspapers, the myriad predigesting pocket monthlies, the radio and the motion pictures, all, present a kaleidoscopic view of the day-by-day march of history. But the few moments that can be spared to reports of events and ideas are all too brief; understanding is temporary at best, and facts come to be isolated and fitted into special historical niches to be conveniently forgotten.

It is in this failure to trace current developments to historical sources that the ability to understand is lost. Events, as living history, must be viewed in the light of the whole of human experience, if the fabric of civilization and cultural advance is to be illuminated.

Now that Twelfth Avenue has become navigable after the spring thaws, it's too bumpy to drive on—even if it isn't paved like the rest of the streets in Fargo. This must be hard on the swarms of hitchhikers who usually line its ruts.

The weekday afternoon open house situation has taken a turn for the worse this term. No longer do we have the Kappa Alpha Theta (they threaten with libel or something if we call them you-know-whats just once more) free for all on Thursday, or the Alpha Jam sessions on Friday. If it weren't for the Phi Mus who keep tradition going by opening up the day after blue Monday, the whole thing might become as non-existent as natural blonds.

In case you've never been to one—you take your coat off, toss it on top of an available heap (careful, though: that heap may be a hostess), autograph the registry, and go in and sit down on the arm of some crowded chair or davenport, which immediately breaks. After you have been sitting on the floor, where you have fallen for only a short length of time, somebody notices you and wonders if some coffee will taste good.

You sort of wonder if it will taste good. It turns out that it tastes all right, but the catch is that it's brought to you accompanied by a small piece of cardboard known as a cookie or something. This you feel obliged to dispose of by either painful munching or else stuffing it in the upholstery. After that ordeal is over you're free to get up, dance, play cards, or go home. It's really a good way to spend an extra hour which might have been wasted studying or something.

In case you haven't read the one thousand odd signs plastered about the campus, the Gamma Phi Garter Gawk is coming up Saturday. This will probably prove to be a hangover from the brevities—without Kappa interference.

Socially Yours

By JEANNE WALLERIUS

There just ain't time! Barn dances, Gayeties, picnics, Loquacious, proms, style shows . . . and MIDTERMS ALREADY! Only five more weeks for "doings." The poor old calendar is so booked up, beat up and written up, that there isn't room for anything as commonplace as a few numerical dates.

BUSY KDS

Today, KDs will fete AGRs at a coke and dance party from 4-6. On Saturday, they will hold their spring term party in the Avenue room of the Graver from 9-12; it's a semi-formal May Pole . . . Next Thursday they will be hosts at one of those notable (cfr. Pat O'Leary) KD Dinners from 5-8 in the rooms. Of course the Sing is over, and they have the cup for selling the most Brevities tickets . . . Pass the vitamin pills.

KKG AND CUPID

It's a sparkler for Martha Dahl from ATO Bill Carlisle and an ATO pin for Betty Sue Armstrong from Bruce Borman.

Ruth McGuigan returned to the house to pass candy for her pin from Ozzie Nord, Beta Theta Pi at UND, where she is attending school.

AND

Marge Lawrence treated Alpha Gam sisters because of an SAE pin from Roy Simons. Murlyn Anderson returned from a weekend at home wearing a diamond from Kenneth Smith of Litchville.

ENTERTAINING

Panhellenic held a supper meeting at the Theta house last night, in line with the new custom adopted by that group.

Phi Mu held a tea and auction sale for mothers and alumnae at the house last Saturday, while Thetas will honor their mothers at a tea this Sunday.

Fathers will come in for their share of the entertaining at a KKG Father-Daughter banquet Saturday in the Gardner. The Theta Chi house was the scene of a Mothers club bridge party Tuesday.

AGRs will play host to Gamma Phis next Wednesday.

POTLUCKING

Phyllis Eastman was at the Theta house Monday night . . . Rose Ann and Jane Vogel braved the din at the Gamma Phi house . . . Paulin Reynolds and Arlys Jensen ate at the KD rooms. Miss Reynolds talked on the traditions of KD and the history of the local chapter.

Phi Mu opened the door to Mrs. Manning, Frank Sween, Bill Borland, and Luverne Dunow. Alpha Gams entertained the most Monday—June Ford, Dora Jo Dyste, Ano McShoen, Gerry Garland, Leila Olson, Keith Schollander, George Booth and Bill Taaffe. Sunday, Theta Chis entertained Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Arvold and Jerry Gelette.

ET TU

Thetas will answer the call this week and lend a hand with the mobile X-ray unit Saturday.

FFA, FHA Chapters Hold Joint Meeting

A joint meeting of the Future Farmers of America and Future Homemakers of America collegiate chapters was held in Morrill hall Tuesday evening to help foster a spirit of cooperation between prospective teachers in home economics and vocational agriculture.

At the meeting the two chapters compared notes and discussed methods of cooperation. The meeting was attended by Miss Lucille Horton, professor in home economics and a teacher trainer, and Ernest De Alton, state supervisor of vocational agriculture education.

Derby Interest Turns To NDAC Field House

With the 1947 Kentucky Derby already history, gentlemen who like their mares fair will have their attention focused on the NDAC field house Friday night when eight of the fairest go to the post in the annual Saddle and Sirloin run off.

The occasion will be the Barn Dance and though pari-mutuels are forbidden on the campus, odds are heavy that the winner of the gala event will be a beauty. As a matter of fact they'll be two-legged mares and you'll be choosing a Barn Dance "queen".

They'll be coming to you from eight different stables, these prairie princesses, and to the average male, who has by now been trampled beneath the deluge of campaign publicity, his one wish is to see that the "best mare" wins.

Lush Lois Anderson comes at you straight from the leg line of Bison Brevities and though her sponsors, Alpha Gamma Delta sorority, reluctantly admit that she's engaged, they hasten to point out that at least one guy thinks she's a queen. Lois is a home economic freshman from Fargo.

Properly reared for a Barn Dance, Jane Sheldon of Wheatland has lived all her life on a farm and no one will deny that those Wheatland farms can really grow fine crops. Phi Mu sorority, Jane's backing, is billing the applied arts and science freshman as the Phi Mu "Sunshine Girl."

Kappa Alpha Theta sorority takes pride in Dorothy DuVall, freshman in applied arts and science from Jamestown, and predicts that "she's the queen in your future". The Thetas (don't call them KAT's) have good reason to be proud of Dorothy with her 3.00 average and lark-like vocal talents.

According to Gamma Phi Beta sorority their candidate has brains, beauty and personality and place your emphasis on the beauty. Maxine Rudh, freshman in home economics from Rothsay, Minn., is the Gamma Phi contribution to this pulchritude parade.

All the way from Laurel, Mont., comes the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority candidate and Montana need not apologize. Ruth Bjorgen, Kappas own, is this wandering package of charm.

Kappa Delta sorority has spiced up the campaign for election of Dorothy Wicklander with a bevy of slogans. Say they: "Don't be icky; vote for Wicky." Dorothy, a home economic sophomore from Washburn, will be "Queen for a day" Friday, according to the KD's.

And lest you get the idea that this is a closed shop for the sororities, each of the dormitories has placed a candidate in the running.

Ceres hall boasts Gloria Severson, a beautiful sophomore in applied arts and science from Arthur. Her Ceres housemates warn, "Glow, worm, here comes Glo" and indeed we shall.

Margot Thompson, applied arts and science sophomore from Sharon, represents the best of Dakota hall. Because Margot specializes in a set of lovely eyes, Dakota hall is hoping that the "eyes" have it.

Horne Named AGR Top Pledge

Victor A. Horne, Jr., Penn, N. D., has been selected as the outstanding pledge of the Epsilon chapter of Alpha Gamma Rho. The award was based on scholarship, extra curricular activities, personality, character, co-operative spirit, and attitude toward the fraternity.

Horne, a freshman in agriculture and a navy veteran was winner of a Sear Roebuck scholarship given to freshman agricultural students. He is the understudy for the lead in the Bison Brevities, a member of the men's glee club, a member of the band, and a "sax" player in the famed Statesmen band.

He was very active in FFA in high school and was elected to a state farmer in 1942. He was quite active in sports in high school and is active in intramural sports at the AC.

Former NDAC Student Now First Lieutenant

Ruth M. Hvidston, a former NDAC student, has been recently promoted to the rank of first lieutenant in the Army Nurse Corps, while serving with the 10th General Hospital as hospital dietician.

Lt. Hvidston entered the service on August 15, 1945 and served at the Bushwell and Madigan General hospitals prior to leaving for overseas duty on August 6, 1946.

She attended the North Dakota and the Iowa State colleges and took her dietetics training at the Cincinnati General Hospital.

Judging Plans Progressing

Plans for the annual Saddle and Sirlain student judging contest to be held May 23 are progressing satisfactorily, according to Orville Stanley, manager of the event.

Classes of livestock are being set up and livestock judges are being procured. Recognized stock breeders from North Dakota and Minnesota will make the original placings and take reasons, with students judging rings of light horses, draft horses, beef cattle, sheep and hogs.

Winners will be awarded prizes, including a trophy to the highest individual of the contest, a plaque to the winner of the freshman-sophomore group and medals to contestants with the highest score in each class.

Because of the educational nature of the event, all students intending to continue in agriculture are urged to participate, and contestants will be excused from all classes. Those interested are asked to contact Orville Stanley.

We Apologize

Oblivious to the complaints of the many individuals whose names were omitted from the honor roll for reasons far beyond the power of The Spectrum to amend, The Spectrum feels that the protest leveled at the editorial staff by Bob Koshnick of Trailer City was warranted and justified.

Koshnick, a former mayor of Trailer City, reached the peak of his scholastic lifetime with a 3.00 average and this paper breached all concepts of etiquette by failing to include his name at the top of the winter term honor roll.

The Spectrum, therefore, humbly, publicly apologizes to Trailer City, Koshnick and Koshnick's teachers.

Future Homemakers To Meet In Convention Here, May 16

The school of home economics, Tryota and the state department of the economics education will be hostesses to the second annual convention of the Future Homemakers of America May 16-17.

High school girls from all over the state will hold business meetings Friday and Saturday in the Little Country theatre with state FHA officers in charge.

Other features of the two-day convention designed to introduce high school people with their state college will be tours of the home economics department and the campus, luncheon in the cafeteria Friday, a style revue Friday afternoon followed by a social hour in the Lincoln Log cabin and a pajama party at Dakota hall that night.

Luncheon at the Gardner hotel Saturday noon will conclude activities.

Miss C. Finlayson is state FHA advisor, assisted by Miss Irene Twedet. Margaret Anderson, home economics junior, is general chairman for convention arrangements.

Delnes Otterson, junior at Dickinson high school and secretary of the North Dakota FHA group, was elected national vice president representing the central region at the sub-regional conference held May 1-2 at Beaver Dam, Wisconsin. In her new capacity, she will attend the national executive meeting this summer in St. Louis or Chicago.

Fog Named FU Head

Peter Fog, a sophomore in agriculture, has been elected president of the NDAC Farmer's Union local. Also elected were Leon Warner, vice president; Carl Anderson, secretary; Frank Orthmyer, legislative secretary; and Cal Martin, member at large.

Intramural Bowling reaches a climax tonight as the Sigma Phi Delts make a final last ditch effort to catch the league leading Men's Dorm. Tonight's play marks the close of the intramural bowling schedule for 1947.

While the Dorm entertains the third place Kappa Sigma Chi entry, Sigma Phi Delta is playing Sigma Chi, ISA is paired against Kappa Psi, and ATO meets AGR.

The Dorm took two games on the chin last week from Kappa Psi while Sigma Phi Delta was winning three from Theta Chi. In other games last week, Sigma Chi won two from AGR and SAE trounced Kappa Sigma Chi twice.

Orville Laidlaw of the Dorm holds the coveted individual average lead as play enters its final night, the Dorm ace boasting a 169 average. Bob Rekedal of Kappa Psi is in second place with 162.

Tonight's play will begin promptly at 9:00 on the Berry Lanes, reports Rekedal, secretary-treasurer of the loop.

Bison, Cobbers Play To Tie

Jake Christenson's Concordia Cobbers battled the NDAC Bison to a 6-6 tie in a practice tilt played under modified rules on the AC practice field Friday.

The two coaches used a loose system of rules which allowed them to do almost anything with regard to downs, yardage need, and penalties, in order that they might get ample opportunity to view prospects.

Deviating from last year's system, the Bison mentor employed a straight T formation which Christenson's crew succeeded in holding well in check.

Only when Dennis Drews drove 35 yards through the middle of the Cobber line were the Bison able to score.

The Cobber tally came on a play which caught the Herd pass defense flat footed, Sonny Gulsvig aerialing to Porky Thompson for a 30 yard touchdown play.

The Bison attack lacked the punch of old, but Kostka's crew was minus several key performers counted on for next fall. Christenson's club was also lacking performers upon whom Jake is counting.

Kwantung To North Dakota . . . Engineering Instructor Makes Jump

Kwantung Province, China to North Dakota is a long way, but Professor Yeo Pay Yu, electronics instructor in the engineering department has bridged the gap very successfully.

Professor Yu attended the Canton City University, and, upon receipt of his degree, travelled to the United States where he took post-graduate work. Yu returned to his native land, but World War II found him again in the U.S.A., carrying on a research program in radar and mine detecting equipment.

According to Professor Yu, the chances for a college-minded Chinese student to enter a Chinese college are very slim. Two entrance examinations are given and these tests are so difficult that out of three thousand students taking the exams, only a few hundred would qualify. This condition still exists and Professor Yu sees no immediate relief in sight.

However, once a Chinese student has passed the entrance examinations, most of his financial worries are solved by the government. Tuition and expenses are very low and during the War the National government made loans to students, the loans to be repaid after graduation.

Professor Yu is enthusiastic about the future of electronics. He believes that the next decade will show advances in fields of electronics beyond anything established in the past.

At the present time, Yu's slight dialect and the American colloquialisms of his students impede the comprehension slightly. However, the future will undoubtedly see complete understanding all around.

An Outstanding

opportunity will present itself to NDAC students when they go to the polls a week from today to vote in the all-college election.

At that time NDAC will join the ranks of the American colleges and universities in selecting an "outstanding athlete" to receive the Adam Hat Sports Welfare Trophy. The award, sponsored by the Adam Hat Company and Jack Dempsey as chairman of the committee, has been adopted as an annual affair by some 400 schools.

A Handsome

trophy, already in the possession of the Bison athletic department, becomes the permanent property of the athlete receiving it, and each year will see a new trophy being awarded.

Enthusiasm, good sportsmanship, team spirit and cooperation, athletic ability and accomplishments are the standards upon which the selection is to be based, but Dempsey pointed out in a letter to Bison athletic director C. C. Finnegan that attainment is to rate last as a requisite to selection. He further said that enthusiasm, co-operation, and sportsmanship are the primary qualifications in the selection, the aim of which is to embrace the fundamentals of democracy into active athletic programs throughout colleges and universities in the United States.

The Award,

in my estimation, cannot be praised too much. It offers, it seems to me, one of the greatest incentives to the furtherance of athletic competition, and AC students might well ponder seriously their own list of candidates before making a choice.

It was the aim of Dempsey and his committee that the balloting should not be conducted until late in the spring term in order that participants in spring sports might have ample opportunity to be judged fairly upon their merits by student body members.

In all probability an even later date for the election would have been desirable since Bison track followers will not have had, at the time of election, an opportunity to see the team in action on the AC cinder path. However, as Finnegan points out, a later date would have been all but impossible.

It is hoped the award will become an annual affair and will gain in stature and prestige as the years go by. NDAC sports followers have then, a fine opportunity. They can contribute their vote to determine who is the "outstanding athlete," they can help to start a movement which should, as the years go by, become an outstanding part of the athletic tradition of the school, and they can, lastly, do much to help foster sportsmanlike participation in athletics throughout the college by making a wise choice of an athlete who epitomizes the standards required for selection: enthusiasm, good sportsmanship, team spirit and co-operation, athletic ability and accomplishments.

Despite

a very commendable showing in the MSTC quadrangular meet last weekend, Bison track followers might well regard the coming meets with careful suspicion.

A host of first place finishes in last week's meet won't earn any points in the steeper competition of the UND and NCI meets, and regardless of all other factors, the Bison still lack experience.

Meantime,

Stan Kostka's baseball crew appears to have plenty of potency at the plate. Afield, too, the Bison, look good, with the infield hinging around Bill Gallagher's stellar play at shortstop. However, the pitching looks uncertain and cold weather or arm difficulties could easily toss a host of pitching problems into the laps of the AC tutors.

Bison Cop Opening Meet At MSTC

Despite unfavorable weather conditions which played havoc with winning marks, Coach E. E. Kaiser's NDAC track team opened their 1947 campaign successfully, copping a quadrangular meet at MSTC Saturday.

The Bison had 65 1/3 points to win, while MSTC, the host school, was second with 55 2/3.

Concordia had 24 for third, and Wahpeton Science was fourth with six.

Jerry Mulready, with firsts in the discus and shot put, led the way for Bison first place winners. Ken Lawson in the mile, 440 man John Bjerneby, Vern Pepple in the 100 yard dash, and Vern Albertson in the half mile, were other Bison winners. Bob Rinde tied with Luther Hegland of Concordia for first place in the law hurdles.

In golf, too, the Bison emerged victorious, a four man team copping a win from Dragon linksmen. Eleven strokes in front at the finish was the Bison quartet composed of John Dady, Daley King, Robert Gorund, and Bob Saunders.

The Summary:

120 hurdles—Won by L. Hegland (C); Garrett (M), second; Rinde (NDS), third; Conzemius (M), fourth. :16.

Mile—Won by Lawson (NDS); Hoplin (W), second; Gargullo (NDAC), third; C. Berg (C), fourth. 5:02.1.

Shot put—Won by Mulready (NDS); Vujovich (NDS), second; Robinson (M), third; M. Oum (NDS), fourth. 43-11.

100 dash—Won by Pepple (NDS); Skogerboe (C), second; Scheel (M) and Miller (NDS), tie for third; Jaeger and Horner (NDS), tie for fourth. 11.

Pole vault—Won by Forseth (M); Johnson and Hilden (NDS), and Woods (M), tie for second. 11-9.

SET IM MEETING

Jim Noonan, intramural board president, announces that the group will meet in a regularly scheduled meeting, Monday at 4 in the Field house office. The group official requests all members to be present.

Netmen Plan Season

A pair of NDAC tennis performers, Charley and Fred Dickens, talk over prospects for the coming season on the Fieldhouse steps. This pair of candidates are among the host coveting spots on the NDAC team which will play in the NCI meet at Brookings, May 17.

Dragons Tip Bison 8 To 7; NDAC Trounces Concordia

By JOHN PAULSEN

With aging Buzz Gray leading the way, the MSTC Dragons put a damper on NDAC's intercollegiate baseball opener as the Dragons topped the Herd 8 to 7 in a tilt played Friday at MSTC.

Monday, however, a rejuvenated Herd, sparked by the superb pitching of Nick Soulis and Harvey McMullen, laid siege to the Concordia Cobbers for a 9-2 decision.

After Bill Gallagher walked, Edsel Boe's towering homerun sent the Herd into a 2-0 first inning lead in the Bison-Dragon setto.

Not to be outdone, however the Dragons came back in the bottom half of the second with a flurry of base hits off starter George Gorman to take a 3-2 advantage.

The two teams matched counts in the third, the Bison collecting two on hits by Bruce Warner, Gallagher, and Bob Jensen. The MSTC tallies came on a base on balls, a stolen base, and Gordon Skaar's single.

Paul Prody sent the Bison into what seemed to be a safe 7 to 5 lead in the fourth inning, the Bison third sacker driving in two tallies with a double to right center field.

However, Gray, who had replaced Norm Erickson on the Dragon mound in the fourth, caved the roof in on the Bison in the sixth when he unleashed a long double to left centerfield that countered three tallies for the Dragons.

The herd jumped to a 3-1 lead on Concordia in Monday's tilt and were never headed.

The Cobbers picked up a run off Soulis in the first, but two hits and a streak of wildness by Cobber starter Wes Applin sent the Herd into a never-to-be relinquished lead.

John Maher, Bruce Warner, and Bill Gallagher, stars of Friday's opening tilt, all tallied in the big Bison third.

Warner doubled to open the fourth, and tallied when Applin walked Boe with the bases loaded.

Concordia picked up their last run, an unearned tally, in the bottom half of the fourth as two Bison errors paved the way for Bill Mattke's counter.

McMullen opened the Bison sixth with a single. An error, Boe's double, a base on balls, and Bob Roy's double, gave the Bison four runs which sewed up any remaining doubts as to the outcome.

Just for good measure Gallagher singled home McMullen, who had doubled, in the top half of the seventh.

Gallagher earned loud acclaim in the first two games, the diminutive South St. Paulite playing flawlessly afield, besides showing plenty of power at the plate.

Erickson, a former Northern League performer who started on the mound for the Dragons, didn't fare so well against the Herd, and the big hurler was behind 4-3 when he went out in the fourth.

Concordia executed a smooth double play in the second inning of Monday's tussle. The Cobber keystone combination, Ordin Eidsmoe and Ed Gulsvig, nipped Edsel Boe and Bob Heer as Heer shot a grounder to short. However, the two didn't fare so successfully otherwise, committing five errors between them.

Herd Opens Home Season Tomorrow

Trackmen At UND Saturday For Meet

Intercollegiate baseball on the NDAC campus will be revived Friday for the first time in a number of years, as the Herd plays host to Wahpeton Science in a diamond setto.

The tilt, slated for the newly completed Bison diamond north of the Field house, is scheduled for 3:30.

MSTC BEATS WOPS

The two teams have met defeat at the hands of a mutual conqueror, for both were beaten by MSTC in earlier tilts.

Although Stan Kostka has announced no starting lineup, in all probability John Maher will go to the post at first base. Maynard Larson and Bill Gallagher appear set as the keystone combination with Mark Prody, Don Mickelson, or Jim Noonan on tap at third. Bruce Warner, Daley King, and Edsel Boe are the likely outfield nominees.

Meantime, E. E. Kaiser's track and field teams, fresh from their impressive victory in the MSTC meet last weekend, journeyed to Grand Forks to compete in the University of North Dakota Invitational affair Saturday.

The meet, which will serve as a warmup for the NCI setto slated for Brookings next week, promises to draw a host of North Dakota colleges and universities.

SQUAD UNANNOUNCED

Kaiser's traveling squad for the affair has not been announced, but the Bison mentor will undoubtedly draw from among point winners at the Moorhead meet last Saturday.

Vern Pepple, Charley Miller, Stan Jaeger, George Horner, and Jim Noonan were Bison tallies in the dashes, while John Bjerneby and A. K. Dolyniuk picked up tallies in the 440.

Vern Albertson was the lone Bison half-miler, winning the affair, and Ken Lawson and Joe Gargollo were Herd point-winners in the mile.

Bob Rinde was the lone Bison hurdler, while Jerry Mulready, Dan Oxley, Dick Moun, and Nick Vujovich all picked up points in the weights.

Dick Hilden and Norris Johnson tied for second in the polevault, and Johnson also picked up a point in the high jump.

Kaiser also plans to enter competitors in golf and tennis at the University affairs.

Russian Problem Subject For Tuesday Convocation

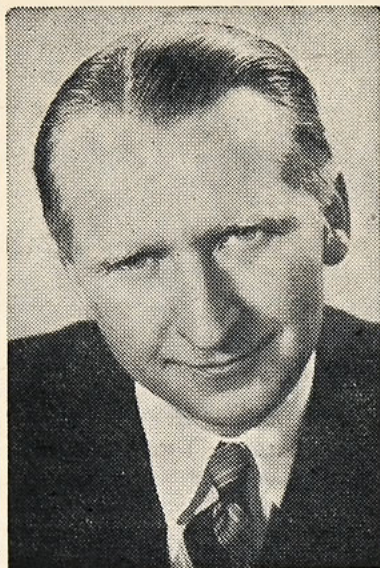

His topic as urgent as Dr. Posin's, Professor Harold C. Deutsch of the University of Minnesota will discuss "Our Russian Problem" at a convocation Tuesday morning.

Active in government work during the war, Dr. Deutsch has for years been the U. of M.'s specialist in contemporary European history. He is noted in his classes and on the radio as a swift and forceful speaker whose lectures are spiced with shrewd humor; and also for his rigorously rational analyses of the hottest topics. "If anybody can do it," says F. G. Schoff of the convo committee, Dr. Deutsch can talk about Russia objectively and without bias on either side."

Deutsch, who won the Medal of Freedom with citation for his work during the war, held important jobs with the State department and the Office of Strategic Services. He directed political research on Europe, Africa, and the Near East, spending most of 1944-45 in Europe; he was Chief of the Research and Analysis branch of the OSS mission to Germany; loaned to the State Department later, he was chief counsel of its special interrogation mission, quizzing German leaders on matters connected with the army and Hitler's foreign policy.

As war news analyst for WCCO before our entry into the conflict, Deutsch won praise for his ability to combine a broad historical background with keen observation of day-to-day events. His classroom lectures on Russia since the revolution have long been noted for their clarity and historical understanding, and were included in the broadcast of his chief course by the university in the spring of 1940.

Except for the Senior Staff-Blue Key Honors' Day convocation May 27, this will be the final convo program of the school year.

Pershing Rifles Okays Unit Here

Organization of an NDAC company of the National Society of Pershing Rifles has been authorized by the national headquarters of that body, located at the University of Nebraska, according to Hugo Littig, commander of the ROTC Battalion here. Membership is limited to students of elementary ROTC. Initially, the group will be composed of those men who have qualified, through a series of tests, for positions of cadet privates first class.

A preliminary organization meeting will be held in the faculty dining room, Ceres hall, Friday, May 9, at 12:10 p. m., and plans will be discussed during luncheon. The active work of the company will not, however, be undertaken until next fall.

The Pershing Rifles was founded in 1893 by General John J. Pershing, who, when a young lieutenant, was professor of military science and tactics at the University of Nebraska. It has for its object the promotion of interest in ROTC training, patriotism and the furtherance of a strong America as a factor contributing to World Peace. It has, at present, 38 active companies, located in universities and colleges throughout the country.

ISA Enters Darkhorse Candidate For Queen

Something new has been added to the already spirited race for Barn Dance Queen with the announcement that the Independent Student association has injected a darkhorse candidate. And to make matters doubly perplexing, the candidate is Jeanne and Jane Winslow, a pair of identical twins from La-Moure.

Evidently ISA has the best interests of the king at heart in offering up a ready made harem for the price of one.
