O'Brien, Swanson Lead Military Ball Student Conference

Tommy Clausen Band Plays; Grand March Will Begin At 10

NDAC's annual military ball is to take place Saturday at the NDAC field house with Tommy Clausen and his band supplying the music in their first North Dakota appearance.

The ball will start at 9 p.m. with informal dancing until 9:45 at which time the formal events of the evening will take place. Peggy O'Brien, Guidon president, and Betty Lou Meidinger will be presented with honorary ROTC commissions of lieutenant-colonel and major respectively during the formalities.

At 10 p.m. the grand march will begin, led by Robert Swanson, ROTC cadet commander, with his wife and Peggy O'Brien with her escort, Kenneth Jacobson. Program dancing will follow the grand march for the duration of the ball.

Invitations for the ball have been proffered by the sponsoring ROTC and Guidon groups to Governor Fred G. Aandahl of North Dakota; Charles A. Dawson, mayor of Fargo; Lt. Gen. and Mrs. Walter H. Walke, fifth service command commander; Maj. Gen. and Mrs. William G. Livesay, commandant of the seventh service command; Maj. Gen. and Mrs. F. W. Evans, second air force commander; Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Heber L. Edwards, adjutant general of North Dakota.

Local and college dignitaries invited are Dr. and Mrs. John H. Longwell, NDAC president; Col. M. F. Steele; Col. and Mrs. C. C. Finnegan, NDAC athletic director; Lt. Col. and Mrs. James L. Culp; Deans and Mmes. C. A. Severson, Harlow L. Walster, W. F. Sudro, R. E. Dunbar, R. M. Dolve, and A. E. Minard; Deans Leita Davy and Pearl Dinan; Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Parrott, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Schroepfer, and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hunter.

Seniors' Pictures Due January 20

Deadline for senior pictures to be run in the Bison year book is January 20 and all pictures must be handed in by that time, announces Norma Jean Steinmeyer, social editor.

McCracken Studio is offering reduced rates, $2.00 for four poses, to college students who wish to take advantage of this offer. If students order additional pictures, this $2.00 will apply on the order. If pictures are not taken by McCracken's, glossy prints, size 3 inches by 4 inches, are to be turned in to the Bison office, room 123, Science.

May Revive Furrows

Publication of the Bison Furrows, an agricultural magazine, may be resumed, following approval of an estimated budget for the year by the board of publications. Formerly published quarterly, it was last edited by Russ Heine, president of the honorary agriculture fraternity, Alpha Zeta, which is trying to revive the publication.

Grand march leaders for the ROTC military ball, scheduled for Saturday evening in the college field house, met early this week to talk things over. Shown above, they are, left to right, Mrs. Robert Swanson and Mr. Swanson, who will lead the march; Kenneth Jacobson and Peggy O'Brien. Miss O'Brien, Guidon president, will be awarded an honorary lieutenant colonel commission during the evening.

Budget Board Cuts NDAC Fund Requests $700,000

Over $700,000 in requests by NDAC for new buildings were rejected by the state budget board last week in its recommendations to the state legislature.

AC Health Center Resumes Flu Shots

Influenza injections, discontinued for several weeks because of a lack of vaccine, will be resumed today in the campus student health center, Miss Helen Johnson, head nurse, announced.

A new supply of influenza virus vaccine has made possible resumption of the service, Miss Johnson said. The injections are available to members of the student body, staff and faculty and their wives. A charge of 50 cents is made to cover cost of the vaccine.

The health center will be open from 3 to 5 p.m. today and Friday, and Monday through Friday next week for those interested in the shots. Persons unable to be served at any of these times, however, may arrange a special appointment.

Meanwhile, the health center announced opening of a Christmas tuberculosis seal campaign. Proceeds from the campaign will be retained on the campus in an X-ray fund, reserved for cases suspected of infection.

Assisting the health center in sale of the seals are the interfraternity council and Women's Senate. In addition, the seals will be available at the health center.

PHI KAPPA PHI INITIATES

Ten seniors were initiated into Phi Kappa Phi, national honorary scholastic society, during an initiation tea in Old Main lounge last week.

Winter Term Registration Set Jan. 3-4

Registration for the winter term at NDAC has been set for January 3-4, A. H. Parrott, college registrar, announced this week.

Contrary to former years, students will not be permitted to register during the last week of the fall term, Parrott said. However, students now in school will be required to see their deans before Christmas vacation in order to arrange for registration hours. Winter term classes will begin January 6.

Registration for seniors and juniors will be from 8 a.m. until noon Friday, January 3, while sophomores will register that afternoon, beginning at 1:15. Freshman registration will be from 8 a.m. Saturday until all have registered.

In advance of the close of the term, each student is expected to secure from his dean a day-hour assignment for registration. If he fails to keep this assignment, he will have to wait until his adviser is again free to arrange a program for him, possibly well toward the close of the registration period.

Day-hour assignments are being made in order to prevent undue congestion in Festival hall at any time during registration. To the same purpose, students who arrive in advance of their appointment, are to take seats in the balcony.

Purpose back of the change in registration is to simplify the "control". Control tables will be set up in Festival hall during the registration period.

Students in attendance who fail to complete registration before the day on which classes are scheduled to begin will be charged five dollars for each school day of delay, but this charge will not apply to students registering for the first time.

Veteran students are being advised to have a trial card filled out for the Veterans' administration prior to entering the VA line.

Will Present Air Medal To Bork, AC Student

Ervin F. Bork, NDAC student, will be presented the air medal as ordered by the War Department during a special ROTC assembly Wednesday afternoon.

Bork was recommended for the medal by the commanding general of the Pacific Air Command for meritorious achievement while participating in sustained operational flight missions on May 8, 1945.

A sophomore in mechanical engineering, Bork will be given the medal by Maj. Sylvester V. Burke, NDAC military department member.

The ceremony will be open to the public.

Skolness, Foss Will Assist In Formation Of New School Group

Ames Skolness and Elvin Foss were named Tuesday by the college student commission to represent NDAC at the Chicago Student conference, December 28-30.

Skolness, a junior from Valley City, and Foss, a graduate student from Halstad, Minn., will meet with students from colleges and universities throughout the United States in an attempt to organize a permanent national student group to be affiliated with the International Union of Students established at Prague, Czechoslovakia, last August.

Since the NDAC delegates will be called upon to express views on various issues before the conference, a special open meeting of the student commission has been set for Tuesday in the College Y.

Calling the Chicago student meeting are members of an American preparatory committee, which planned American participation in the World Student conference at Prague, and delegates who attended that conference. Among organizations behind formation of the preparatory committee were the YMCA and YWCA.

Delegates to the conference will hear reports on the Prague congress by Russell Austin, University of Chicago, chairman of the American delegation; and Enid Kass, student council president at Hunter college, delegation secretary, among others.

Among issues to be considered by the conference will be elimination of racial discrimination on college campuses, the increase of government aid to qualified students and extension of equal educational opportunities to all.

Gershwin Show Bison Brevities Choice For 1947

Production to be presented as the 1947 Blue Key Bison Brevities will be Of Thee I Sing, 1935 Pulitzer prize winner, it was announced this week by Mel Miller, Blue Key president.

Rights for the presentation, authored by George S. Kaufman and Morrie Ryksind, with music by George and Ira Gershwin, were procured by Alfred G. Arvold, speech department head, during a recent trip to New York. The play is a musical comedy concerned with the behind-the-scenes politics in the election of a president.

Scheduled for presentation April 29-30 and May 1, the play will be directed by Don Viets, assisted by Kenneth Mick, under the over-all supervision of Ernst Van Vlissingen, voice department director.

Tryouts for parts in the production are being conducted this week. Anyone wishing to audition for a part may do so by contacting Van Vlissingen in the music department before Monday.

Look To The Walls

Have you looked at the walls of Science hall lately? The college administration has and isn't pleased.

Dr. John H. Longwell, NDAC president, issued a request this week that organizations and individuals cease the posting of signs on the campus outside the bulletin boards established for that purpose.

Should existing bulletin board space be found inadequate, Dr. Longwell said, additional space will be provided.

EDITORIAL OBSERVATIONS

Objective

Eastern Thought, Westward Ho

Safely stowed in the confines of a small, mid-western school, the NDAC student may find it none too difficult to imagine there is nothing of value for him outside the limited horizon he knows. Living, as he is, in a Western civilization, he can easily feel a contempt for other world cultures, having never been exposed to them.

Despite the West's preoccupation with its "superior" culture there lie elsewhere in the vastnesses of the world's literature nuggets of poetic utterance well suited for the consideration of our uselessly busy minds.

One such nugget is the work of Sri Ramakrishna, nineteenth century Hindu sage, whose exquisite manner of expression lends a new beauty to the philosophical notion that most of the world's religions are one in principle.

In his writings, a translation of which appears in 'The Bible of the World, edited by Robert O. Ballou (Viking Press, New York, 1939) Ramakrishna says:

"As one and the same material, water, is called by different names by different peoples, one calling it water, another eau, a third aqua, and another pani, so the one Sat-chit-ananda, the everlasting-intelligent-bliss, is invoked by some as God, by some as Allah, by some as Jehovah, by some as Hari, and by others as Brahman.

"As one can ascend to the top of a house by means of a ladder or a bamboo or a staircase or a rope, so divers are the ways and means to approach God, and every religion in the world shows one of these ways."

OUT OF THE MOUTHS OF HUMANS

Later, Ramakrishna writes.

"The Vedas, Tantras, and the Puranas and all the sacred scriptures of the world have become as if defiled (as food thrown out of the mouth becomes polluted), because they have been constantly repeated by and have come out of human mouths. But the Brahman or the Absolute has never been defiled, for no one as yet has been able to express it by human speech."

Still later, he writes:

"As many have merely heard of snow but not seen it, so many are the religious preachers who have read only in books about the attributes of God, but have not realized them in their lives. And as many have seen but not tasted it, so many are the religious teachers who have got only a glimpse of divine glory, but have not understood its real essence. He only who has tasted the snow can say what it is like..."

OVER A GARDEN WALL

In a parable, entitled "The Saints and the Saviours", Ramakrishna relates:

"A place was enclosed by means of a high wall. The men outside did not know what sort of place it was. Once four persons determined to find out what was inside by scaling the wall with a ladder. As soon as the first man ascended to the top of the wall, he laughed out, "Ha, ha, ha!" and jumped in. The second also, as soon as he ascended, similarly laughed aloud and jumped in, and so did the third. When the fourth and last man got to the top of the wall, he found stretched beneath him a large and beautiful garden containing pleasant groves and delicious fruits. Though strongly tempted to jump down and enjoy the scene, he resisted the temptation, and coming down the ladder, preached the glad tidings about the beautiful garden to all outsiders. The Brahman is like the walled garden. He who sees it forgets his own existence and with ecstatic joy rushes headlong unto it to attain to Moksha or absolute freedom. Such are the holy men and liberated saints of the world. But the saviours of humanity are those who see God and, being at the same time anxious to share their happiness of divine vision with others, refuse the final liberation (Moksha), and willingly undergo the troubles of rebirth in the world in order to teach and lead struggling humanity to its ultimate goal."

WHAT'S HE TALKING ABOUT?

Of what is Ramakrishna speaking when he refers to "final liberation" or the "ultimate goal" of humanity? Who can say, save one who has had such an experience as he describes? And who, aside from one who has had such an experience, can say that there is such a thing? It is obvious that one cannot conclude these ideas to be true anymore than he can conclude that they are false. To the seeker after truth, however, the writings of Sri Ramakrishna and other such Eastern thinkers are meat for serious mental mastication.

"Criticism is something you can avoid by saying nothing, doing nothing and being nothing."—Anonymous. (Quoted in the October, 1946, Readers Digest.)

the spectator

By Gil Crane

A sore spot among many of the students, I'm sure, is the fact that NDAC can lay no claim to an honest-to-goodness school song. Army and Yale are both represented on the average of 20 times a year, with the words doctored a little, of course. Hail, Hail etc., is always good for a heavy workout. In fact, Yellow and Green is about the only song played more than twice a year that has any local touch to it, and it would be sacrilegious to try to jazz it into a fight song. There ought to be a few aspiring musicians around the campus who could at least compose a melody that would sound halfway decent. This scrivener would be glad to receive any potential masterpieces which someone might dash off in a weak moment and see about getting the best of them worked up. Just send them to Gil Crane, care of the Spectrum.

* * *

Signs of the times:

In 1940 when a fast operator hung his pin, it was "Baby, this is all yours until I can make enough money to buy a ring". Now it's "Baby, here's my pin. That means you've got to give me first chance on a date next weekend". The latter usually takes place after the second, and no later than the third, date. * * *

Can't help but think that Brig. Gen. G. A. Fraser made a mistake when he signed over the Auditorium to the army and navy units which will headquarter in Fargo in the near future. Ever since I was in high school (1940) and for some years before that, there was at great hue and cry among the younger generation for amusement places. Fargo has had the richly deserved reputation for being a dead town, and closing the Auditorium will just about scatter the ashes. Granted, the Crystal may not be the last word in dance emporiums, but it is the only place in town where a fellow can take a girl dancing without showing his birth certificate. Talk of a new auditorium has been going the rounds for years and years, but so far it is just that and nothing more. After the first of the year, a couple can have a large time going to a show, bowling, ice skating or trying the slop chutes across the river. Much talk has been bruited around about the wildness of the present generation. There are over 3500 college age young people in Fargo. Perhaps the city fathers think that with no place to go there will be nothing to do. Anyhow, the first part is right.

Richard Tavis Takes First Honors In N. D. Architectural Competition

Winners of the annual North Dakota Association of Architects' competition, the first held since 1941, were announced Monday by Professor Knute A. Henning, head of the NDAC department of architecture.

First prize was awarded to Richard Tavis, Mandan, a junior. The second prize winner, Robert Beals, Fargo, a senior, was the 1941 winner. Clayton Melby, Fargo, a junior was awarded third prize. Winners of the first, second and third honorable mentions were, respectively, James McNutt, Bottineau, junior; Patrick O'Leary, Dilworth, sophomore; Warren Die-drich, Fargo, sophomore.

Problem for the competition was the design of a combined clinic and hospital of about 50 beds for a North Dakota town with a population of 2500. Contestants were sophomores, juniors and seniors in architecture and architectural engineering.

Judges were Professor Henning, Professor A. F. Bordeleau, and B. C. Stein, members of the staff, and Harold Bechtel and S. M. Houkom, Fargo architects.

Formal presentation of awards will be made at a party Tuesday for all architecture students.

Band Reorganizes; Thonn New Leader

Leadership of the new college dance band, the Statesmen, was taken over this week by Paul Thonn, Jr. from E. G. Schroepfer, NDAC band director, who organized the orchestra.

Under the new leader, the Statesmen will be available for private dances on a commercial basis, with some new personnel to be added.

Additional equipment for orchestra operations has been purchased by Thonn and Jim Hulebak, assistant leader, and the band will be available for booking in the latter part of December.

Leader Thonn says, "With this orchestra we hope to set a new standard of dance music for NDAC and Fargo—music that will be pleasing to the ear yet available at a reasonable price."

Annual Kiddies' Party Scheduled For Y Today

The YMCA-YWCA sponsored annual Christmas Kiddies' party takes place this afternoon from 5-7 p.m. in the college Y.

Seventy-five underprivileged children are to be presented candy, nuts, and various gifts at the party. A limited number of tickets are available for NDAC students who wish to go to the party to act as companions for the children.

Ceres Hall Girls Plan Xmas Party

Ceres Hall's annual Christmas party is scheduled to take place Sunday evening, the festivities to begin with a candle light procession at nine p.m.

More than ninety residents of the hall will take part in the processional and candle light singing of carols with music and gift exchanges climaxing the evening.

Program direction has been planned by Mrs. Mildred Kirst, Ceres Hall social director, in cooperation with Joyce Gackle and Naomi Schuricht.

Co-chairmen of planning committees are as follows: Doris Bernhoft and Florence Olson, invitations and gift arrangements; Yvonne Clark and Mildred Swanson, decorations; Margaret Pavlik and Dorothy Bork, refreshments.

DEAN WALSTER SPEAKS

Dr. H. L. Walster, dean of the school of agriculture, addressed members of Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity on the history of the NDAC chapter during its regular meeting Monday evening.

Socially Yours

By JEANNE

Holly, mistletoe and stately red candles mixed with a jostling crowd, festive street lights and gay decorations lend that old feeling that Christmas is in the air! I haven't seen that familiar old man in the red suit with the tinkling bell and big iron pot. But the lovely tree on Center avenue in Moorhead is a sight to behold.

And with only 10 shopping days until Christmas, social groups are entertaining and being entertained in the true holiday spirit. Phi Mu pledges and actives trimmed their tree Monday evening following pledging. Next Tuesday, their alumnae will entertain at the house. Gifts will be brought to be given to needy children in Fargo.

Alpha Gam alums will Christmas with actives Monday at potluck; gifts will be exchanged and pledges will entertain. The final Alpha Gam coffee hour of the term will honor pledges Friday from 4-6 p.m. . . . after the pledges get the rooms cleaned, undoubtedly.

Gifts will be exchanged at the Dakota hall Christmas party tonight, with a program in the offing. Mrs. Manning and Mrs. Tyler will relax as guests of honor.

Gamma Phis will bring gifts for the sorority apartment when they gather round their tree Sunday at 5.

Coffee will be served to all comers at the Beta Xi house Thursday at 4 p.m.

Potluck guests and week-end visitors were Mrs. Paul Hanson, Phyllis Probstfield, Virginia Hill and Mrs. E. H. Archer at the Phi Mu residence; alums Dorothy Jensen, Polly Carter, Lois Wangen, Mrs. Bob Anderson and Mrs. Bob Binford at the Beta Xi house.

Sorority pledging took place in chapter rooms or houses in most instances Monday evening; however, Gamma Phis held their ceremonies at Marilyn Collette's in Moorhead. Refreshments were served to newcomers of the respective Greek groups.

AGRs and KDs will enjoy a "double-header" next Wednesday. The two groups will play host to a group of kiddies from 4-6 and then will party themselves from 6-11. . . Fun and a bountiful spirit that sounds like a good time for all.

Other term affairs we've heard about are the KD and Kappa parties Friday, December 20, in the Avenue room of the Graver and the Sig shindig in the American Legion hall that Saturday.

And after numerous postponements, Sig pledges will finally be presented to the world at large this Sunday from 3-5 p.m. in the College Y auditorium.

Can't think of a snappy conclusion to this social nonsense, but it seems that the social organizations are writing a final finish to this weekly contribution by the ever-subsiding flow of news. That's a hint for more news on time, frankly.

Local Saddle, Sirloin Essay Entrants Place

In a recent essay contest sponsored by the national Saddle and Sirloin club, two NDAC students, Reuben Torgerson and Howard Knoepfle, placed seventh and nineteenth respectively. The subject of the essay contest, which was entered by agricultural college students from all over the country, was The Livestock Industry's War Contribution.

Bison fans

can see the Herd in action again Tuesday against Concordia on the Moorhead jr. high court. The Bison rooting section at the MSTC game was pretty good but not what it should be for these inter-city games. How about it—lets move over to Moorhead Tuesday.

Athletic director

Casey Finnegan and Stan Kostka are meeting with conference officials today in Chicago to determine an official North Central conference football team among other things. Expected to cause a good deal of discussion is the apparent Iowa Teachers dissatisfaction with some recent conference rulings.

No secret

is the fact that the Teachers are a bit peeved with the North Central conference. Slowness in reaching a decision regarding player eligibility has inconvenienced the Panthers both in football and basketball this year with ineligible rulings arriving just before opening games. Then there is the conference member that will not schedule the Teachers. With their domination of conference play, it is not unreasonable to link the Iowa school desiring to join the faster Missouri Valley league.

Also named to the 1946 Little All-American from this area were Vic Pederson, Gustavus Adolphus, at a second team guard and Al Camarata, Iowa Teachers, to the third team backfield.

Rothrock's selection is the second time the Bison have been so honored. Fritz Hanson was named to the 1933 backfield. Lyle Sturgeon was selected for the East-West game a few years later and in 1938 Ernie Wheeler played in the North-South game.

ATO, OX Retain IM Bowling Lead

Alpha Tau Omega and Theta Chi continued their intramural bowling tie by winning two lines and dropping one last Thursday.

Fred Bjornsen, ATO, took over the high individual score from Orville Laidlaw, Dorm, with 548. Laidlaw set a high single game score with a 214 total. Louis Opheim, Kappa Psi, has the leading league average with 179.

Bowling tonight on the Grand alleys are AGR-ISA, Dorm-SAE, ATO-Theta Chi, and Sigma Chi-Kappa Sigma Chi.

Bison Master MSTC 44-40 In '46 Opener

With Paul "Red" Brostrum leading the way with 18 points, Chalky Reed's debut as the NDAC basketball coach was a success as the Herd mastered the MSTC Dragons 44-40 Wednesday night on the Dragon court.

In a preliminary game the Bison B squad dropped a 30-22 decision to the Baby Dragons.

Dick Hilden put the game on ice for the Herd with a bucket in the last minute after MSTC had closed the gap to a two-point margin and another after Gordy Deike scored for the Dragons again with only 15 seconds to go.

Brostrum led the Herd's scoring in the first half with 12 points, and, after being held bucketless in the third quarter, helped the Bison pull away to an eight-point lead with three baskets at the beginning of the final canto.

After a scoreless two and a half minutes for both teams in the final half of the last quarter, Jim Gotta and Bernie McGuire dropped in six points to pull the Dragons dangerously close, but Hilden came through to clinch the game for the Herd.

MSTC had a 11-10 advantage at the end of some see-saw battle in the first quarter.

Bill Gallagher scored three points to push the Bison to a 15-all tie shortly after the second period began and Brostrum and Jack Garrett led the Herd to the 24-21 lead at the half.

Nick Vujovich, Dennis Drews, Marv Deike, and Garrett took over the scoring duties from Brostrum in the third quarter to maintain a 32-28 advantage going into the last period. Buzz Gray kept the Dragons in the game with two timely buckets and some fine floor play.

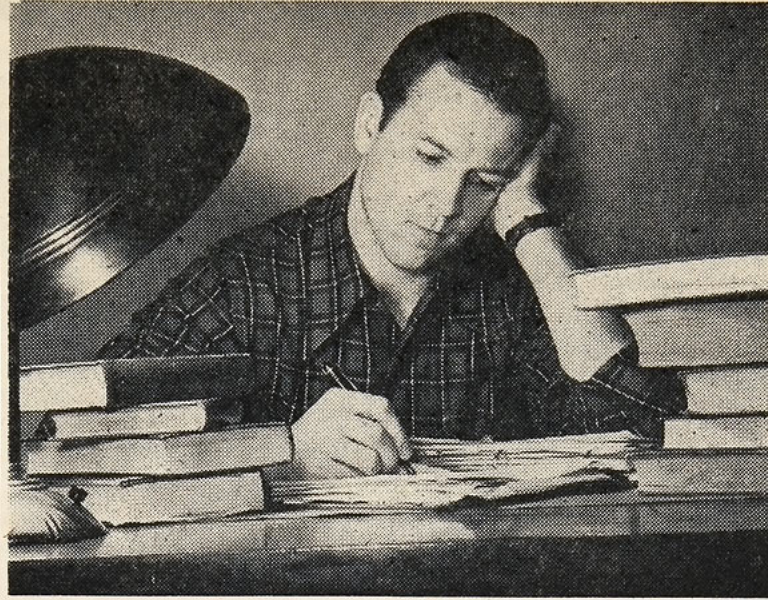

Garrett and Hilden with six points apiece aided Brostrum's efforts.

Dorm Ekes 38-31 Win Over Sigma Phi Delta

The Men's Dorm eked out a 38-31 win over the Sigma Phi Delta volleyball team Wednesday afternoon. Other games during the week saw Theta Chi whipping Kappa Sigma Chi, 45-19, Tuesday and Alpha Gamma Rho defeating Trailer City, 39-32, last Thursday.

Sigma Chi 2 meets Kappa Sig 2 this afternoon at 4:30 on the gym stage. Games next week match Sigma Chi-ISA Tuesday and Kappa Psi-AGR Wednesday.

Bony Hits The Books

Asking, "why not get the rest of the guys in this thing," Little All-American Cliff (Bony) Rothrock continues to hit the books once again now that football is past history and exams are just around the corner.

Herd Winds Up Pre-holiday Play With Road Trip, Concordia Setto

With the opening game with MSTC out of the way, Chalky Reed can take his Bison cage squad to Bismarck Friday with some idea of what he has to pit against the independent Phantoms.

Saturday the Herd takes on Minot Teachers there and winds up the pre-holiday play against Concordia on the Moorhead junior high court Tuesday.

Not much is known about the Phantoms outside of the fact that Jim Fletcher, pre-war NDAC star, has been added to an impressive roster of former UND players.

However, Minot Teachers have five games under their belt—victories over Bismarck jr. college, Northern Montana, and St. John's and losses to Concordia and St. Cloud. Elmo Burns, former Minot high all-stater, and Bill Winderl can be expected to give the Bison plenty of trouble.

Concordia's setto with MSTC Saturday will give the Herd's coaches an inkling of what to expect against the Cobbers on Tuesday. But, when the Moorhead intra-city rivals get together for their first clash Saturday, fans can expect anything to happen.

Reed will probably use Dick Hilden and Marv Deike at forward, Paul "Big Red" Brostrum at center, and Nick Vujovich and Dennis Drews at guard with Jack Garrett, Bill Gallagher, Nick Soulis, Clayton Sondag, and Keny Jacobson for relief roles.

Seek Amateur Boxers

A call for students interested in an amateur boxing program was established Wednesday afternoon, according to E. E. Kaiser, intramural athletic director.

If enough interest is established, a boxing schedule with UND and Wahpeton Science is a possibility. Applicants may register with Mr. Kaiser in the field house.

Pick Rothrock On AP Little All-American

"Anyone can be a backerup and get a lot of tackles when fellows like Davis, Vujovich, Koich, Dietz, Cichy, Moores and Soulis and the rest are cutting down the interference," declares Cliff Rothrock, recently named Little All-American center.

Starting the season with bang-up defensive game against Iowa, the Herd's center was nationally known for the number of tackles garnered while playing behind the Bison forward wall.

Rothrock added the Little All-American laurels to an honorable mention on the AP All-American, selection on the Fargo Forum all-conference eleven, 1946 Bison captaincy, and Casey Finnegan most-valuable-player award already showered on him.

A North Dakota all-stater in 1938 and 1939 with Fargo high, the Herd's honor athlete played freshman ball at NDAC in 1940 and in 1941 with the varsity. In 1942 Rothrock was selected on the all-North Central conference eleven.

With the 3rd Inf. Regt. Cockades at Ft. Benning, Ga., in 1944 Rothrock was shifted to fullback, and last year in Germany the Cockades, only a regimental team, won ten straight from division opponents before losing 20-6, on three intercepted passes, to the 71th Division for the European championship.

Rothrock calls the 1945 season with the Cockades his most enjoyable and notes that eight regulars of that club were starters with college teams this fall.
