

Religion Week Leader Seeks World Omelet

In a student convocation Tuesday Dr. T. Z. Koo, leader of a Christian Missions team appearing here during Religious Emphasis week, likened the 45 sovereignties of the United Nations to a bowl of eggs and their objectives to an omelet.

Dr. Koo, who was an advisor to the United Nations delegation at San Francisco, addressed the NDAC student body in the first convocation of the week. Another convocation Friday will feature an address by Miss Hanna Schokking, former national commander of the feminine component of the Royal Dutch navy.

Before the world's sovereignties can cohere into an "international omelet", Dr. Koo said, their shells—prejudice and hate—must be broken. "The Christian faith," he said, "can lift all people from their prejudice, above the hate of war, and become a personal guide for all."

Approaching Christianity from the practical point of view, Dr. Koo commented on the effects of acute hunger on persons interned in Shanghai during the war. Many, he said, revealed traits of character previously hidden under the cloak of normal life.

While in Shanghai Dr. Koo was chosen pastor of an American church after imprisonment of American and British clergymen by the Japanese. He accepted, with the condition that complete freedom of worship be granted all nationalities and races. Before leaving he was preaching to the Japanese themselves.

Last of a series of Religious Emphasis week seminars are scheduled for 4:10 p.m. today in the YMCA, led by five members of the Christian Missions team. This evening at 7:30 p.m. Dr. Koo will lead a discussion on Can There Be One World? in the YMCA auditorium. Miss Schokking's talk Friday morning will conclude the week's program.

Action Committee Prepares Booklet On N.D. Education

Eight delegates representing three eastern North Dakota colleges met with Fargo delegates of the Intra-State Student Action committee Saturday to compose a booklet about educational conditions in North Dakota in comparison with standards in other states.

The publication will be divided into four main sections and will be liberally illustrated, according to Ames Skolness, state publicity chairman. The need of education, teachers' salaries, retirement plan and security, conditions of buildings and the cost of education to the individual, will be the main points stressed, with each of the four schools gathering facts for one section.

Delegates were Mary Ann Stovik, Bill Jones, Marilyn Moorhouse and Marvin Abrahamson from Wahpeton School of Science; Bill Thal and Dave Johnson, Valley City State Teachers college; Joyce Lee, UND, and Ames Skolness and Jeanne Wallerius, NDAC.

Spinsters Check Exchequer

Women on the campus will find themselves digging into pocket books Friday as they prepare to escort their guests to the annual Spinster skip in Festival hall. Sponsored by Senior Staff, women's service fraternity, the dance will feature music by Kenny Sutton's orchestra. Reigning over the dance will be Gus X, a door prize turkey. Members of Senior Staff, shown above checking their own finances, are Norma Jean Steinmeyer, Adelaide Dinwoodie and Edith Gelder.

Stop And Swap Bridge Program Slated Saturday

The Stop and Swap college bridge party will "progress" Saturday evening, beginning at 8 p.m. in the "Y" auditorium.

Each person is asked to bring two small inexpensive gifts in a large paper sack. Gifts such as a folder of matches and a bar of soap or a candy kiss and a nut will be acceptable. Each person will have two of these gifts in a sack and after playing four hands of bridge, the winners will choose from their losing partner's sack a gift which he wants. The object is to barter or exchange one's gift for one which is better than the one possessed.

Institution of a naval reserve program at NDAC and formation of a naval reserve unit in Fargo will be discussed at a meeting Tuesday at 4:30 p.m. in the YMCA auditorium for all former servicemen interested in naval reserve training.

Making a precedent breaking move, the navy department has authorized the formation of a naval reserve program in North Dakota, first instance of such a naval program in state history.

Discussion at the meeting will be concerned with the feasibility of organizing the USNR program at NDAC, including naval reserve officers training and the naval aviation program, as well as an explanation of the naval reserve unit now organizing in Fargo.

Representing the naval reserve at the meeting will be Lt. Comdr. R. W. Mackin, North Dakota naval reserve head, and Lt. Comdr. Marvin Doherty, commanding officer of the Fargo naval reserve unit.

Veterans of all services will be eligible for the reserve unit training, Doherty said, on condition of signing into the naval reserve. Over $1,000,000 worth of equipment is to be brought into the Fargo vicinity for training purposes.

Former navy veterans may enlist in their old rate, while former army, coast guard, and marine corps personnel will be accepted with the rate of seaman, first class.

NOTICE

Written applications for the positions of editor and business manager of the Bison Furrows must be submitted to Mrs. Lena Hoelt, secretary of the board of publications control, in the college business manager's office before November 30. Applicants must be enrolled in the school of agriculture.

AC Vets File Petition To Renew Housing Unit

Nearly 1000 Signers Protest Recent Ruling Stopping Construction

Two petitions, containing nearly 1000 signatures, were submitted by a group of veterans Wednesday to the Federal Public Housing authority in Chicago in an effort to re-establish the veterans housing project at NDAC.

The program was suspended two weeks ago following a "stop work order" issued by the regional FPHA office in Chicago. The order followed a letter from NDAC officials outlining the delay in the project, scheduled for completion on October 19 of this year. The project originally called for 11 16-man "bachelor barracks" and 65 two-family units, capable of housing 206 veterans and their families.

At the present time there are 105 veteran families with children and 142 families without children registered at NDAC for the housing which would have been provided by this project. In addition there are about 30 families with children now inadequately housed in trailers on the campus, who were awaiting completion of the housing program in order to move to better quarters.

One of two petitions, circulated during the past week by Wayne Rowe of the local chapter of the American Veterans committee and manager of the Farmers Union co-op local on the campus, was signed by over 800 veterans and interested citizens, while the other was signed by 177 veterans who are "in dire need of housing".

Along with the petitions were included statements from the Fargo city commission; Homer W. Ludwick, executive vice president of the Fargo Chamber of Commerce; Rowe, as head of the American Veterans committee local, and Dean of Men C. A. Sevrinson.

The letter to the FPHA was signed by Rowe, Bob Koshnick, mayor of Trailer City last year, and Russell Beglau, a family veteran who was high on the waiting list for the housing which was to be provided by the program. Beglau's wife and child are living at Jamestown at the present time, pending the acquisition of suitable living quarters.

The project is located north of the field house along Thirteenth street, extending west to the practice football field. Converted from army barracks, only a few of the structures are as yet standing, with none fully completed. Shortages of wiring, inside wallboard and other fixtures have been given as reasons for the delay.

Blue Key To Complete Brevities Talent Hunt

Investigation of productions suitable for this year's Bison Brevities will be completed November 30 by the two Blue Key fraternity committees which are considering musicals and an all-talent show.

Assisting Dick Carley on the latter are Tom Challoner and Alex MacGibbon, with Don Viets, Merle Nott and Harold Klosterman working on musical shows.

Faculty Unit Chooses 18 For Who's Who

Chosen by a group of faculty members, 18 seniors were selected this week for acceptance into Who's Who among students in American universities and colleges.

Students selected include:

Carolyn Bohrer
Inez Carlson
June Carlson
Adelaide Dinwoodie
Thomas Evans
Edith Gelder
Ralph Gunkelman
Helen Hawkins
Russell Heine
Jeanne Hendrickson
Melvin Holmquist
Lorna Longwell
Merlin Miller
Ellsworth Moe
Lillian Nydahl
Dolores Shanks
Norma Jean Steinmeyer

Arden Aanestad and Donald Hinz, students selected last year who are still enrolled, will be included in this year's listings.

The faculty committee was made up of two faculty members, the registrar, dean of men and dean of women.

Names were submitted by the deans of the various schools after consultation with their faculties and judged by the committee.

Each student chosen for Who's Who will receive a certificate of election from the editor of the publication.

Plan Reception For Men's Dorm Residents Sunday

Residents of the men's dorm will hold open house Sunday afternoon from 2:30 to 5.

All rooms on the first floor will be open for inspection. Light refreshments will be served and an orchestra has been engaged to furnish a musical background for the occasion.

Alvin Bohne is general chairman of the open house and is assisted by Marlow Foss, secretary of the social committee.

In charge of refreshments are Stan Koich, Charles Basch and Hugh Casey. Serving on the invitations committee are Don Stein, George Worley, Warren Lavasseur, and Dick LeDusquet. In charge of the guest book are William Gallagher and Nick Vujo-vich. Decorations are in the hands of Bob and Virgil Mimch. Responsible for the check room are Jim Stein, Dave Towner, and William Barreus.

Thanksgiving Recess Dates Set Nov. 28-30

School will be dismissed the weekend of November 28 with a three-day Thanksgiving vacation beginning Thursday and continuing through Saturday, November 30. All classes will be resumed Monday, Dec. 2, at 8 a.m.

EDITORIAL OBSERVATIONS

Subjective

On The Pan: Spectrum Policy

Across the campus today, for probably the first time in recent history, The Spectrum's editorial policy is a subject for discussion. Most of the audible comment is unfavorable. Since this newspaper is seeking but one thing—to print that which is best—we'd like to convey in simple language to its readers just what we stand for.

The mere fact, incidentally, that people are thinking of The Spectrum as a newspaper with an editorial policy, good or bad, is first-rate news. For years students have been reading The Spectrum without the least concern for the space devoted weekly to thought-stirring dissertations on campus lawns, the war of the sexes, vague tirades against foreign dictators and campus politics. One former year editorial dealt with the weighty problem connected with the danger to feminine nylons of splintered classroom furniture.

Last August, when the present Spectrum staff began formulating its policies, the question arose, "What's important?" Probably a lot of people don't agree with the conclusions we drew. At any rate, we stated our case in the first Spectrum, in which we said we didn't know what is important, but that we'd taken the only step we could—selected an arbitrary standard. As the weeks rolled by, we observed some concern over what we were saying, and we once again stated our position. By dealing with trivia, we said, we could help no one. By stirring philosophic thought, however, there was at least some possibility of our accomplishing a worth-while end.

Later someone said, "What do these things have to do with college life?" We answered him by saying that college life is no detached existence, that problems of importance to humanity are of importance to college students too.

Now someone says we're dogmatic—that is, that we claim to know the truth. This criticism comes in the face of repeated efforts to prevent such reactions. "Ideas presented in its editorials," we said "are not intended to be accepted as absolute truth."

There probably is no doubt about the fact that the editor of The Spectrum is a selfish person. He is so completely concerned with the importance of basic philosophic problems that he can't help talking about them. Beside those issues, he feels, no other matter can stand.

Look around you and what do you see? A college society, the so-called cream of America's culture, surrounds you, but of what does it consist? Superficiality. If a student fails to get at basic things—must we say brass tacks?—in college, what chance is there for him to do so later on?

People go to college to improve themselves, just as others climb mountains to get to the top. Climbing mountains is hard work at times, and so is self improvement. Reading Spectrum editorials may be like climbing mountains at first, but, even though what we say may be worthless, the reader eventually is going to find his thinking stirred. At least, so we hope.

What, then, is The Spectrum's policy? It is this: (1) Production of a newspaper good in the journalistic sense, (2) Attention to that which is most important, not only in college activities but in the minds of men, and, (3) Following a course, even though arbitrary, believed to be of the greatest value in the final analysis.

Plan Open Forum To Answer Questions Of Women Rushees

Sorority rushing and sorority policies will be discussed in an open forum Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Little Country theatre for the benefit of all rushees.

Six representative sorority girls will be present to answer questions that arise in the rushee's mind concerning formal rushing, which begins December 2.

Deferred rushing, the functions of the Panhellenic council, what sororities do on the campus, and the advantages and disadvantages of belonging to a sorority will be explained.

All rushees are being urged to attend.

A Panhellenic handbook containing information about the finances of the respective sororities will be distributed.

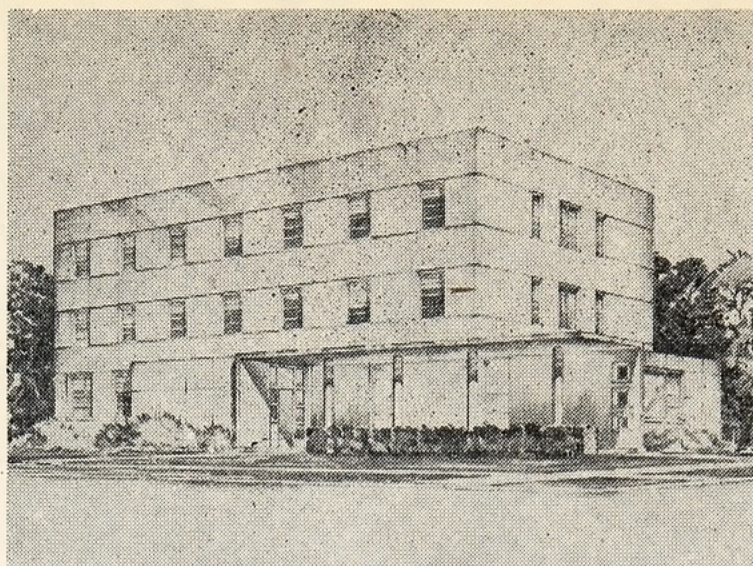

YM-YW Seek Delegates

NDAC chapters of the YMCA and YWCA issued a call Wednesday for students interested in attending the organizations' combined assembly at the University of Illinois Dec. 27-Jan. 3. Delegates, who will be picked from the organizations' entire membership, will be interviewed by Verne Hathaway, general YMCA secretary, and William Provance, president.

MUST REPORT CLASS DROPS

All schedule changes or dropped courses must be reported to the Veterans administration by veteran students, officials announce.

Co-ops Complete House Plans

Trials and tribulations of a band promoter: Ambitious members of ROTC and Guidon who have attempted to secure a name band for the Military ball have just about just about given up hope. Only top aggregation scheduled for this neck of the woods the first part of December is Woody Herman's crew. All the Old Wood-chopper is asking is 2000 smack-ers plus 60% of the gate. Local impresarios are limited by the fact that the college usually places a $600 top on all band importations to forestall any large expenditure of red ink. In addition costs are high here due to the fact that most bands charge for two traveling nights plus the night they play. A majority of bands going from Minneapolis or Chicago to the west go through Omaha, Kansas City and Denver; consequently it takes quite an inducement to branch off up here. At last reports, the band situation was still in the fluid state.

All their friends will be glad to know that the ATO's are off the carpet following their short-skirt dance of a couple weeks past.

Seems the boys forgot that the style this season is to make 'em longer instead of the other way around.

Freshman underground has it that rushees are pretty browned off at the present system of sorority rushing. The delayed program, instituted this year to give the Greeks a better chance to become acquainted with prospective pledges, has backfired due to the stringent control over Greek-rushee relationships. As a result, (1) most freshman girls are still friendless in the upper classes and (2) the Independents have been making hay. Most sorority gals admit privately that the whole thing is pretty awful but don't trust their rival sisters far enough to relax the rules.

There's no telling a woman's mind. During the summer, the more a girl can show on the beaches, the more in demand she is. This week, when The Spectrum went over to Ceres to snap a photo of the modern dancing class, the girls, all attired in bathing suits, screamed like banshees and ran for the nearest door. It's all in where you find them.

President Urges Fraternity Unity

Dr. John H. Longwell, president of NDAC, in an address to the Inter-Fraternity council, urged complete co-operation of fraternities in their relations to the college and in inter-fraternity activities.

He stated that only by working together for the benefit of the college and for themselves can fraternities live up to the principles for which they were founded.

Dr. Longwell and Dean C. A. Sevrinson were guests of the council when the pre-war custom of holding dinner meetings at different fraternities was revived at the AGR house November 13.

Clayton Melby was appointed dance chairman for the annual Inter-Fraternity ball, to be held March 7.

In elections held at an earlier meeting, Kirk Bellows, AGR, was elected president of the council; Lee Stoxen, Kappa Psi, vice president; Bob Dawson, Sigma Chi, secretary; and Dale Morrison, Kappa Sigma Chi, treasurer.

Next Spectrum Dec. 5

Due to the fact that a shortened Thanksgiving week would place too great a strain on the facilities of the plant which prints The Spectrum, no paper will appear next week. Next issue of The Spectrum will be on Thursday, December 5.

While Theta Chis are reminiscing about a pledge presentation Sunday that drew about 90 guests Sigma Chis and AGRs are completing arrangements for a like occasion this coming Sunday in the Y auditorium and AGR house, respectively.

Additions to the Theta Chi pledge list are Richard F. Johnson, Robert Molland, Phil McLerman, George Lawrence, Michael Heller and Henry Ebson. And speaking of Theta Chi pledges, new officers are Jim Johnson, president; Alvin Boe, vice-president; Bob Roach, secretary; Bob Olson, treasurer.

Chalk up two marriages in the near future and an engagement in the romance department this week. Jack Cosgriff of Sigma Chi and Lorraine Kibler, KKG alum, will exchange marriage vows Thanksgiving day. Betty Lou Payne, ex-Sweetheart of Sigma Chi, and Sigma Chi's Perry Clarke will be wed December 2. Engaged are Marshall Hanna and Ruth Walbaun of Alpha Gamma Delta.

Visiting clergy here for religious emphasis week were guest speakers at the various social potlucks and meetings Monday. Other potluck guests were Miss Minnie Anderson and Kay Davis at the Phi Mu house and Mr. and Mrs. Royce Knapp, George Booth, Jim Dawson, Keith Schollander and Ivan Johnson in the Alpha Gam rooms.

Socially speaking, the men's dorm will hold open house Sunday . . . Alpha Gams will serve coffee from 4-6 Friday. Religious leaders were honored guests at the Phi Mu tea Sunday afternoon, and AGRs were entertained by the AGR Women's auxiliary in the house. Dining and dancing was the program offered Beta Xis Wednesday by the ATOs. Final sorority open houses at the Alpha Gam and Gamma Phi rooms will be Monday from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

Confidentially speaking, all social news not submitted by Tuesday at 1:15 will not be printed . . . deadlines you know.

Heard About The Herd

By JACK RILLING

Congratulations

to recently elected 1947 football captains Paul Moores and Dennis Drews and to Cliff Rothrock, the 1946 choice. With only five members of the squad bowing out last Saturday, the new co-captains will head an experienced group next year.

And A Few Bouquets

to Jim Davis, Marv Deike, Jerry Mulready, Rothrock, and Nick Soulis, the graduating seniors. Thanks for a big year, fellows.

Noticeable

against Montana State was the Herd's improved aerial attack that counted at least one score and carried the Bison to the 1-yard line on another occasion.

Elected Cheerleader

recently was Dot Irvine who will join Denny McMullen, Meta Lou Sheffield, Bob Smoot, and Jo Torson in leading the NDAC rooting section this winter.

Basketball and Volleyball

entries in the soon to start intramural tournaments must be registered with the athletic department Monday and Tuesday, respectively, Volleyball and a practice basketball schedule will start the first week in December according to tentative plans. All interested groups contact E. E. Kaiser in the field house.

Shortsighted

describes the emphasis on trophies by most groups participating in intramural play. Not uncommon are teams that drop out of competition once their chance for the title is lost. In reality these tournaments are provided to give students a chance for a good time as well as a little exercise.

In Reply

to an unsigned letter addressed to the Spectrum that pans athletics and school spirit here at NDAC may we say that the writer has hit the nail on the head with a few points. BUT we would like to point out that affairs of state are not as glum as you picture them.

First Of All,

athletic equipment has been hard to get these past several years. Les Davis, Morningside coach, remarked before the Maroon game here that his team was wearing practice jerseys despite a standing two-year old order.

Then, School Spirit

is on the upswing to our mind. Don't forget the late start the school got this fall and the many students that are enrolled for the first time. We expect to see a bangup cheering section in the field house this winter.

WAA Plans Tourneys

An intramural basketball tournament is now under way and a bowling league is planned after Thanksgiving, according to Royce Krueger, president of the Women's Athletic association.

Dakota Hall defeated Phi Mu in opening night play in the Ceres hall gym Tuesday. Games scheduled tonight are Ceres Hall—Fargo and Dakota Hall—Kappa Delta. Doris Mae Thompson and Betty Fernow are in charge.

Bowling has been limited to WAA unit-credit participation with Manager Fay Tallackson scheduling group competition after Thanksgiving.

Elect Drews, Moores 1947 Grid Captains

Dennis Drews, Paul Moores and Cliff Rothrock were honored by the varsity football squad at an athletic department banquet for the squad Tuesday evening.

Drews and Moores were elected to co-captain the 1947 football season while Rothrock was named captain and received a most-valuable player award for the current year.

Before being injured in the Augustana game, Drews, a sophomore from Detroit Lakes, was a standout punter and blocker in the Bison backfield. Moores, a junior from Jamestown, led some fine end-play for the Herd this past year.

Completing his last season of competition, Rothrock is a possible choice for Little All-American honors as a result of his top performance at center.

Paying tribute to his squad, Coach Stan Kostka termed the group "the nicest bunch he has coached."

Guests included Dr. John H. Longwell, college president; Dr. E. K. Bjornson, Dr. O. O. Churchill, J. G. Halbeisen, Prof. K. A. Henning, John Deutsch, and Jerry Reinan of the athletic board of control; Eugene Fitzgerald, Fargo Forum; Manny Marget, KVOX; Bill Weaver, WDAY; and Brice Worthington, Moorhead Daily News. Pictures of the NDAC-UND game at Grand Forks were shown.

Bowling Schedule Gets Underway

Kappa Psi and Theta Chi fraternities took the lead in opening night play of the intramural bowling league Thursday. Orville Laidlaw, rolling with the Dorm, was high with 527.

Sponsoring the league for the first time, the Intramural Athletic Association is offering a trophy for the individual high average at the end of the 15-week schedule.

Slated tonight at the Grand alleys at 9:00 p.m. are Dorm-AGR, ISA-ATO, Kappa Psi-Sigma Chi, and Kappa Sigs-SPD matches.

Cagers Talk 1947 Prospects

Huge Squad Greet's Reed's First Season

If numbers meant anything to championship basketball, Chalky Reed in his first season as NDAC's basketball coach would have a winner. For about a hundred men are expected to report before the week is out.

However, Reed must have his squad ready to go in but three short weeks as a three game pre-holiday schedule lists MSTC at Moorhead on December 11. The other two games are with Minot Teachers college at Minot on December 14 and Concordia at Moorhead three days later.

This means some uncertain cutting will have to be made at first with the nod going, perhaps, to some who are better known than others. "However," Reed hastened to add, "positions on the varsity squad are wide open and, if the fellows will stay with us, we promise to give everyone a try-out."

Besides having to make a quick, drastic cut, another problem faces Reed in the pre-holiday play. Dan Polis and Bruce Warner, last season standouts, will be ineligible until the winter quarter starts and Dennis Drews, another 45-46 regular, is not expected to be ready until after Christmas as a broken jaw suffered during the football season will take that long to heal.

However, the return of Paul Brostrum, 6-4 all-conference center in 1942, and Nick Soulis, another 1942 veteran, plus last year's Dick Hilden and John Deutsch among a host of others shouldn't cause the Bison mentor to frown.

Led by 6-5 Jack Garrett of Moorhead, the Herd will boast plenty of height. Bill Borland, who was under Reed at Albert Lea, Louis Opheim, who has Bemidji Teachers college experience, plus Brostrum are in the 6-4 class and head a large group of six-footers.

Montana State Bobcats Skate To 39-18 Win Over Bison On Ice-Covered Field

Skating to a 39-18 victory, Montana State college defeated NDAC on an ice-covered field in the Herd's last game of the season at Bozeman Saturday.

Despite efforts, aided by spectators, to de-ice the playing field with mud, sawdust, and a flame-throwing weed-burner that delayed starting time a half hour, the center of the field was practically untreadable.

Alvie Lund blocked a Bobcat punt on the 27-yard line and Paul Moores grabbed the ball and ranged over to give the Bison an early lead in the first quarter. Sid Cichy's placement was wide.

Late in the first period, the Cats evened the score at 6-all when Brooks took a Montana State forward and stepped into the end zone. Nelson added the Bobcat's second touchdown on an end run in the second quarter. Dunn's kick was good.

In the final minutes of the half Charlie Basch passed from his 31 to Moores who carried to the Cats' 37 and on another forward Fred Troubridge tossed to Nick Vujovich on the one-yard line where the threat was stopped.

Vujovich recovered a fumble on Montana's 29 early in the third period and Basch passed to Moores again for an easy score. The place-kick was no good.

Nelson scored again for Montana State on an 80-yard criss-cross run and Dunn's kick was good again. Five minutes later Slinger added another score to bring the count to 26-12 at the end of the quarter.

Jerry Mulready bounced over for the Herd's last score in the fourth but his attempt for the point was blocked. Montana scored twice in the final quarter.

Bill Deitz and Cichy, Bison tackles, were outstanding in the line, while Basch and Troubridge led an improved aerial attack.

KSC Slogan Wins Contest

"Appropriate to Educate," submitted by the Kappa Sigma Chi fraternity, is the slogan students voted to keynote the local drive in conjunction with the Intra-State Student Action committee campaign for higher appropriations to raise educational standards in North Dakota.

Dave Haibeck, Kappa Sig representative, accepted the silver trophy from Ames Skolness, local chairman and state publicity chairman of ISSAC, at the ISSAC-sponsored dance in the field house Friday, following balloting earlier in the evening.

Kappa Sigma Chis also copped second prize honors with the motto, "Give Us Education or Give Us Up," while the Co-ops took third place with the saying "Knowledge Is Power; Make North Dakota Strong."

Approximately 300 ballots were cast for the six slogans selected by a three-man judging committee from 28 entries submitted. Judges were Ed Kraus of the Fargo theatre, Ken Kennedy of WDAY and Stan Cowan of The Fargo Forum.

Ask Vets Notify VA On Address Changes

Veteran students who have changed address since entering school must inform the Veterans' Administration office as soon as possible announced Stafford N. Ordahl of the college VA office.

Vets Must See VA To Change Course Of Study

NDAC veteran students who wish to change their course must secure approval of the college Veteran's Administration office before they make the shift, it was announced Tuesday by Stafford N. Ordahl of the college VA office.

To gain this approval, the student should submit a written request for the transfer setting forth reasons for the desired change. In addition to this he should also attach to the request a report of the grades received in his present course.

Mr. Ordahl also said that it was advisable to contact the VA as soon as possible if a change is contemplated for next term. In some cases, approval of the requested shift in course may take several days, therefore the veteran should not attempt to transfer courses during registration as this could delay his entrance into school.

YW Blue Monday Program Altered

Substitution of a Blue Monday program featuring dancing and refreshments in place of the usual teas was announced this week by the sophomore commission.

The weekly program will be held in the YMCA auditorium each Monday at 4:30 p.m.

First of the new affairs will be held next Monday with contributions being donated for Thanksgiving baskets to aid needy families.

Ag Engineers Meet

All agricultural engineers are invited to attend a meeting Tuesday in room 10 of Morrill hall at 7:30 p.m. Refreshments will be served, educational films shown and plans for the December banquet discussed.

Episcopal Students Meet

Episcopal students and any students interested in the Episcopal church are asked to meet for a program and light supper on Sunday from 5:30-7:30 p.m. in the crypt of Gethsemane cathedral.

Book Missionary For LSA Session

Rev. A. S. Burgess, director of missionary education for the board of foreign missions of the Evangelical Lutheran church, will speak in Festival hall Sunday at 7:30 under the sponsorship of the Lutheran Students association.

Motion pictures Rev. Burgess took of Malagasy rituals in the southern part of Madagascar, the first photos ever taken by a white man, will supplement his lecture.

Mr. Burgess, who was a missionary in China for two years and in Madagascar for nine years, has traveled extensively throughout 52 countries of the world, visiting especially Japan, China and Africa.

Preceding the meeting in Festival hall, Mr. Burgess will address the LSA at 5:15 in the YMCA auditorium. Student co-chairmen for this first LSA mission program are Grace Nye and Clarence Johnson.
