Publications Delay Action

Final action by the Board of Publications Control on selections of editor and business manager for the Spectrum and the Bison was delayed Monday pending receipt of more applications for the four positions, announces Doris Oliver, outgoing Commissioner of Publications and president of the board.

Interested students who have not already applied may submit application letters to Mr. Glenn Hill in the mathematics depart-ment office or to Miss Oliver in the Board of Publications Control office, Science room 123, by 4 p.m., Friday, May 24.

Letters of application should include experience, interest, scholastic standing, other activities on and off the campus.

New applicants and those students who already have applied will be interviewed by the board Monday at 4 p.m.

Select Site For Housing Project Here

With the selection of a suitable site for 65 housing units allocated to NDAC by the Federal Public Housing Administration made yesterday by Frank A. Parks, construction engineer and technical advisor for the FPHA regional office in Chicago, plans are moving forward for a housing project on the campus that will provide dwellings for 130 more veterans and their families.

Site selected for the NDAC development includes areas along Thirteenth street north of the NDAC fieldhouse and the football practice field directly behind the same building.

Final arrangements for the local undertaking with the estab-lishment of starting and completion time is expected to be completed next week in Chicago at a project development program con-ference to be attended by Erling Thorson, superintendent of buildings and grounds, and Miss Edythe Toring, acting secretary-treasurer.

All work on the project will be done by contractors except work necessary to bring public utilities to the site and to provide adequate paving, which will be handled by the college.

Developed for use in a theater of operations, the steel units to be used here will come from Baton Rouge, La., completely new and converted to house two families in each unit. Provision has been made in the units to withstand northern climates.

Each dwelling includes two bedrooms and a combination living room-dining room plus all modern facilities-lavatory, oil space heater, gas stove, hot water heater and icebox.

Thorson has already completed arrangements with local gas and electric utilities companies for installations to each unit.

Excluding any delay in shipment due to strikes, it is expected that the project will be ready for occupancy when the fall quarter opens in September.

Scholarships Made Monday By Panhellenic

Elizabeth Lewis, Melba E. Maston and Shirley Chaska received scholarships at the eighteenth annual Panhellenic scholarship recognition service in the Little Country Theatre Monday evening at 8:30. At that time, scholarship bracelets and a scholarship plaque were also awarded.

Jeanne Hendrickson, new Panhellenic president, presided. Mrs. James F. Moore, Grand Treasurer of Kappa Alpha Theta from the University of Nebraska, made a plea in her talk, "Sororities Face the Future," to the group to educate themselves for world citizenship. Dorothy Allen Amundson, past Panhellenic head, made the awards.

Mrs. C. W. Litten, past president of the Gamma Phi alumnae, presented the Gamma Phi Beta Irene Leimbacher memorial scholarship to Elizabeth Lewis, sophomore in pharmacy and member of Gamma Phi. This is the second time in the fifteen years that the scholarship has been given that it has gone to a member of Gamma Phi tion, alumni association and the student action committee were present at the emergency student body meeting, which was called primarily to reveal to the students the results of the investigation conducted by the Board of Higher Education in its two-day session here May 15 and 16.

Points in the proposed action outline are:

1. The student action committee shall back a campaign to secure a full time publicity director who shall be paid by the college and alumni association.

2. The student action committee proposes an organization consisting of four representa-tives of all the schools of higher education in North Dakota to promote higher education by working cooperatively on common problems. The organization shall be known as the Intra-state student action committee.

3. The purpose of the Intra-state committee is to promote a line of action that will result in contacting the state legislators and making them aware of the need for larger appropriations for the institutions of higher education.

4. The Intra-state committee shall back a publicity campaign to make the people of North Dakota more aware of the value of education and the part funds play in maintaining the desired standards of these institutions.

The student action committee program comes as a result of the go ahead signal given to it by the Board of Higher Education which stated, "adjustments in the administration of the college should be made.

In interviews with members of the Student Commission and of a special committee of students, the faculty committee, the college advisory committee, a group representing the alumni association, a group representing business organizations in Fargo and the administration, the board received and heard all statements and judged "that some of the things complained about arise from and are aggravated by the present confused and disturbed conditions following the close of the war and that adjustments in the administration of the college should be made."

"One of the outstanding causes of the recent maladjustments comes from the fact that owing to the sudden termination of the war the appropriathe legislature have proved inadequate to cover the many needs of the institution and to provide adequate salaries and retirement pensions for the persons on the staff and thers employed by the institution," stated the board.

In a statement presented at the end of the session, the board and the president approved the suggestion of the faculty committee that there be a reorganization in administration and that "adjustments . . . be made after careful consideration and through close friendly cooperation of the Board of Higher Education, administration, faculty, students and alum-

On Being Naive

A common expression heard on the campus is: "She is so naive" or "She hasn't been around, or else "She doesn't know the score." Well, here is a defense for the gal that is naive, that hasn't been around and that doesn't know the score.

When some of us meet a sophisticated women of twenty who seems to have the wisdom and experience of a women of forty, we begin to wonder where she got all that sophistication. Some of us believe that a miss of twenty should blush once in a while and that she should resent some of the remarks directed at her by the gay young Lotherios on the campus.

It seems as though one of the after effects of war is a wave of "don't give a hang" philosophy. Man, being a selfish animal may take a secret delight in this. But when the veteran makes his final selection, he is going to chose the girl that resembles the one he left behind-who probably married some other guy. The non-veteran is apt to choose the one who he thinks is at least not any more sophisticated than he is.

The purpose of this editorial is not to start a wave of frantic morality or to create a society similar to that of the Puritans of colonial times. It is merely to give a word of encouragement to the girl that thinks that she is being by-passed on the road of life because she has been taught certain standards in her home and is making some attempt to live up to them. — B. T.

A B.S. in Home Economics will qualify this languorous and lissome lass for the position of leading lady in the muscle division at Agassiz junior high school. An NDAC nominee for Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, this young matron is now busily getting into shape (Training, that is) for a part time job at the aforementioned institution.

We say part time advisedly since the young newly-wed will devote the major part of her day completing work for her master's degree in family relations, a course for which her young spouse is taking instruction as lab assistant.

Besides being included in Who's Who, this young lady is a past president of Panhellenic, a member of Guidon and her numerous memberships include almost everything except the Interfraternity Council . . . maybe now she even has a chance for that

They Folded Tents; Quietly Stole Away

"Lilac Days have come and gone, no more elephants on the lawn." (Shakespeare)

Able once more to cross in front of Old Main without hordes of little children pointing at the pachyderm inquiring, "Mama, what's that?", your reporter made it to Science to get this copy into the Spectrum. (We who write most often use the term copy freely. Webster says copy is anything handed to Rulon after 7:00 p.m. Wednesday, preferably in bottles.)

No one is quite able to figure out whether the crowds that came to the gala occasion knew there was a circus showing in Festival hall or whether the sign on the AC's marquee caused such confusion in driving everyone naturally turned in. What would you expect from "Circus Days in Lilac Time?"

It was reported that Life took pictures of the prize elephant. Later Arvold retracted all of them—his hat was on crooked.

Oh well, everyone braved it on, right up to the dinner given in honor of the circus performers. Miss West became confused. She thought some of them were the Wild Duck cast still in costume.

I admit some of them were strange birds. Oh well, up an atom sisters! (Paid plug by Panhell).

Lilac frappee, lilac ice cream, lilac frosting on lilac cake were on the menu. The only thing straying from this monosadistic theme were the faces of the girls serving—a pale white accented in green.

All fifty three North Dakota counties were well represented by the local Debs. These girls were decked out in long skirts and lilac corsages. Yes, George, the corsages were pinned to blouses. Some of the corsages were rather large, but Arvold finally found Eunice. Oh'. Eunice Huso pretty. (Now I won't have to write next week's column.

Flash!! An announcement was just received from LCT. The next play to be produced this year will be "Green Grow the Lilacs."-AD outstanding marks came out of last Thursday's seven-team track meet at MSTC. Ellendale's Leo Lacher lived up to advance notices by clipping off the 100 yard dash in 10 seconds and the 220 in 22.9. His time in the low hurdles also was considerably better than other marks registered in this area in previous meets.

Jamestown's relay team pressed by both the Bison and Ellendale, scampered the half mile in one minute 34.9 seconds while Stassen of Bemidji clipped off the 3 mile run in 10 minutes, 50 seconds.

Jamestown showed a well-balanced squad as it walked off the meet. Big surprise was the poor showing of MSTC which had been expected to give the Jimmies a fight for the team title.

The Bison closed their season in fine style as they topped both MSTC and Concordia who had defeated the Herd in an earlier meet this year. Hampered all season by a lack of strength in the running events Coach Ernie Kaiser's squad finished strong with Jerry Mulready and Dick Hilden.

Bison sprinters also showed that they may have to be contended with next year as they racked up more points than in any other meet.

of NDAC will join with citizens of Fargo this Friday in welcoming home the Fargo-Moorhead Twins baseball club which is returning to loop play this year after a 3season layoff. With an absence of baseball on the campus, a large college turnout is expected for the Twins home games which begin at 7:30 Friday night with the Aberdeen Pheasants furnishing the opposition.

Several local products will be in the Twins lineup including Don Corcoran, star centerfielder for MSTC, and Bob Rhode, former Fargo legion pitcher.

Meanwhile Coach Ernie Kaiser has announced that the four top golfers determined by this tourney will meet Concordia with the winner to receive the Georgia Tainter trophy. Concordia previously defeated MSTC. Details of this match will be announced followin completion of the campus

tained from her or at the Dorm

Booster tickets will be $1.00. Proceeds from this sale will be used to help the Twins get off to a successful start financially after a 3-year war layoff. A trophy put up by the business men of Aberdeen will be awarded to the league had been the traditional winner of this trophy before the war. Opening night opponent will be the Aberdeen Pheasants. The F-M club dropped two out of three games to the Pheasants in the opening series of the year early this week, but all three games were hotly contested. Starting time is 7:30 with pregame festivities set for 7:15.

The Aberdeen game will open a nine-game home stand for the Twins including a doubleheader on Memorial day.

Besides Fargo-Moorhead and Aberdeen the Class C Northern league includes St. Cloud, Superior, Duluth, Sioux Falls, Grand Forks and Eau Claire.

Aberdeen and St. Cloud have been established as the league favorites with all the other teams pretty much of an unknown quantity. Fargo-Moorhead was hampered this spring by bad weather during the training season and cannot be judged by early games although the squad is made up of several veterans and some promising rookies. The Twins may receive player help later from the Boston Braves with whom they have a working agreement. Bruno Haas, colorful manager in the Northern league since its origin, will pilot the F-M club.

Capt. Charles H. Dornacker reported on campus Wednesday as the new head of NDAC's military department replacing Capt. Irving L. Smith who leaves Fargo Friday for Fort Dix, N. J., where he will be separated from the ser-

Although he now makes his home in Minneapolis, Capt. Dornacker was born and raised at Steele. He attended NDAC in 1935.

Entering the army in 1941, the new professor of military science and tactics received his infantry commission at Fort Benning, Ga., in 1942. His overseas duty was spent with the 88th Infantry division as a platoon leader and company commander.

Camp Robinson, Ark., has been Capt. Dornaker's station since returning to the States in September 1945. Married, Capt. Dornacker's wife is in Fargo with him. They have no children.

Combat awards worn by the new commanding officer include a bronze star with one oak leaf cluster, the combat infantryman's badge and the ETO ribbon with three campaign stars.

Capt. Smith first came to NDAC in November of 1944 serving un-der Maj. Glenn Hofto until June of last year when he became PMS &T. Mrs. Smith and their young daughter returned to New York sometime ago.
