

Faculty Names Nine To Cooperate With Student Group

NDAC faculty members, meeting Wednesday afternoon, elected members of a nine-man committee which will work with student groups on actions deemed advisable for the general improvement of the college and preparation of plans looking toward enhancing the prestige of NDAC.

Named to the group are representatives of all schools on the campus, the experiment station, the extension department and one member at large. Included are:

Dr. A. D. Whedon, chairman, Dr. W. C. Hunter, Dr. J. A. Munro, Dr. Bruno Vassel, Dr. R. H. Harris, Dr. C. A. Miller, Prof. R. H. Slocum, Miss Minnie Anderson and Mr. Harry Graves.

Meanwhile, A. F. Arnason, commissioner of the Board of Higher Education, stated after a visit to the campus Monday and Tuesday that he would recommend a special meeting of the board with various action groups who have voiced a desire to formulate a program for a better NDAC.

Arnason felt that the meeting would be held in Fargo probably the middle of next week.

"No doubt the board will confer with the president, members of the college advisory committee, the alumni association, the special faculty committee (named Wednesday) and representatives of the Student Commission," Arnason said.

Slate Inspection On Campus May 21

Officers representing Second Army and Seventh Service Command will inspect NDAC's military department May 21, according to Lt. Edgar H. Haines, public relations officer on the staff of Capt. Irving L. Smith, NDAC's PMS&T.

Lt. Col. Martin H. Steffin and Lt. Col. John F. Barret will represent Second Army headquarters for the annual inspection while Lt. Col. Willard L. Smith will be here from Omaha to represent Seventh Service Command.

Col. Joseph P. Donnavin will also attend from Second Army as an observer.

Both administrative and training work will be checked during the group's stop on the campus.

English Instructor Offers Journalism

Several journalism courses will be offered next year as a part of the English curriculum, according to Kenneth Kuhn, head of the English department.

Approval has been granted to employ an instructor trained in journalism work as an addition to the English department.

Kuhn has sent out inquiries in order to acquire a man for the position. He said Wednesday that he had been in contact with the University of Missouri and the University of Wisconsin.

Gerald L. Seaman conducted the last journalism classes at NDAC, which were discontinued in the spring of 1942.

The new man will take over a number of the freshmen English sections besides instructing the journalism courses.

X-Ray Unit Serves 1,200

Thanking those who cooperated during the three-day stay on the campus of a mobile X-ray unit from the North Dakota Health department, Miss Helen Johnson, campus nurse, announced Wednesday night that 1,260 NDAC students, faculty and staff members were X-rayed in the drive to record chest plates of all North Dakotans with the state health department.

This number is 71 per cent of the total of 1,774 which might have been served during the unit's visit on the campus.

Miss Milla Tollefson, public health nurse, was in charge of the unit assisted by Andrew Sand and Gerald Pauls, technicians, and Clem Stumpf, clerk.

Miss Orpha LaCroix, public health nurse and tuberculosis consultant for the state health department, was also on the campus Wednesday.

Mrs. J. T. McGillic heads Fargo Grey Ladies who assisted with appointment cards during the X-ray work in Festival hall.

LCT Presents 'Wild Duck' Two Days To Feature May Festival Opening

Working industriously this week to bring perfection to final rehearsals of Henrik Ibsen's Wild Duck are (left to right) Charles Dills, Sandy MacGibbon, June Carlson, Ruth Wilhan, George Truesdell and Kenneth Mick. They are members of the cast of the LCT production which will open the 39th annual May Festival at the Little Country Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday.

Henrik Ibsen's five act play The Wild Duck will be presented in the Little Country Theater twice next week instead of once as originally announced. This change was reported Monday by Miss Constance West, director, as final polishing on the current LCT presentation started at daily rehearsals.

The two-day stand of the vehicle will open the 39th annual May Festival on the NDAC campus which will be host to North Dakota high school students at contests and demonstrations through Saturday, May 19.

George Truesdell, Sandy MacGibbon, Charles Dills, Kenneth Mick, Dick Olson, Ruth Wilhan and June Carlson head the cast which will present the play starting at 8 p.m. each night.

The drama, a tragedy concerning the conflict of idealism and realism, is one of the best known plays of the great Norwegian playwright. It will be the theater's fourth production of the school year.

What's Your Score?

(Editor's note—The following article appeared recently in the Minneapolis Star-Journal written by Frederick D. Tyner, rector of St. Luke's Episcopal church in Minneapolis. We feel that it merits the attention of our readers at the present time.)

Honest kickers are never popular with people who are willing to let things slip, but they have a real place in the scheme of things.

Did you ever notice how umpires, referees, contestants, and all connected with athletic contests watch their step when an honest kicker is around to check up? Many an official has paid closer attention to the rule book and many a contestant has given up trying to pull a fast one when he has discovered that there is a well-posted kicker hovering around.

And many a civic and social organization owes its success and sometimes its existence to the honest kicker who has the welfare of the organization at heart. Emerson says that many an individual is the better for a good sharp electric shock rather than maudlin sympathy or soft, easy words.

Most Christians think of the Saviour as "meek and mild" but forget that there were times when he rebelled with righteous anger and indignation against the low standards of His day. A bishop of the church said on one occasion, "We have become a soft people when it comes to taking a stand for the highest ideals."

Perhaps a little honest rebellion on the part of people with real convictions would go a long way toward raising moral standards everywhere. A well directed public opinion is the mightiest weapon in any movement toward real progress.

WHAT'S YOUR SCORE?

Oh, Oh! Do You Know 'Em?

Pardon me, but didn't you co-star with Ray Milland?

Male Views Gals

By ELLSWORTH MOE

With the emphasis on casualness in women's fashions these days, the bewildered male can recognize the opposite sex only by a profile view.

May we create a picture... You are seated on the steps of Old Main, while coming toward you out of the sunny, clear mist of the morning is a hint of sweet, tinkling laughter and a lusty coed stomps into view.

Her upper portion is poured into a piece of grey absorbent cotton that carries an atmosphere of casual indifference and produces the same.

Supporting this without any visual security is a pair of grain sacks joined at the top and equipped with an indefinite press obviously intended to confuse the observer.

Peering out from under the cuffs of this drab costume like a pair of dejected turtles are the inevitable saddle shoes.

Surmounting all this like a carelessly placed double flavored ice cream cone is a distracting hair-do. This feature may vary from a deftly molded or moulded coiffure that enfolds the scalp like cleverly coiled taffy to the informal blowy nondescript type that connotes a faint air of a night in the salt spray.

In conclusion may I add, "Of course, some girls are different."

Fem Appraises Guys

By JOYCE TINDALL

Have you ever tried to write about men's fashions? I believe that it is bad enough looking at them, much less trying to describe them.

The best dressed man I ever saw was a bellboy in a hotel in Des Moines, Iowa, and even he looked self-conscious.

Men's clothing falls—and I use the word literally—into hundreds of different classes. There is Type A, easily recognized by the socks which are always worn at half mast above a pair of shoes which look like figments of an insane cobbler's imagination.

His suit gives him the appearance of standing behind a tweed venetian blind. Even if he is standing perfectly straight, the baggy-kneed pants give him the appearance of someone about to spring from a diving board.

His hat looks like it had been blocked with rocks, while the neckties resembles the handiwork of a Boy Scout knot-tying expert.

Type B or the "Joe College" example combines the sports shirts of Bing Crosby with the paratroop boots he just can't tear himself away from. (If you've ever worn them you would understand).

The lapel of his jacket is generally creaking with everything from a ruptured duck to a decayed elk's tooth, the latter indicates meritorious service at the B. T.

A barber has reduced our collegiate friend's head of hair until it resembles a tired toothbrush.

Men must naturally pride themselves on their appearance, but why are so many content to look like one of the original "carpet baggers"?

Quiz Experts Vie For Booty

In response to thousands of letters requesting another aptitude test for NDAC students, we composed another column for the up and coming quiz kids in our midst.

When we say thousands of letters we mean it literally for George Rulon, editor, man-about-town and BMOC, has been going around with mail bags for the past three months.

1. What would you do if you received a frantic letter from your mother stating that she had found a pair of blue and white BVD's in your laundry?

- a. Say you were caught short,
- b. Flatly deny their presence,
- c. Or laugh shyly and say "Yes."

2. What would you do if you were called into the inner sanctum tomorrow?

- a. Contact Gil Spooner,
- b. Register for sociology,
- c. Or double your insurance policy and settle your estate.

3. What would you do if you found a cigarette entwined in a bacon, lettuce and tomato sandwich?

- a. Order another for a friend,
- b. Smoke the sandwich and eat the cigarette for dessert,
- c. Or send in the recipe to Good Housekeeping.

4. What would you do if you found you were pocket-pinned by a fraternity man?

- a. Say you were "engaged" in subversive activities,
- b. Buy clothes without pockets,
- c. Or buy pockets without clothes.

This week we are offering prizes for students answering all these questions correctly. Submit all answers to the Spectrum. Prizes are: first, letter of introduction to Sigmund Freud; second, a free copy of "Places I have Visited" by U. R. Kilroy; third, Don Hamilton.

Vittles By Viets

This week's epitaph comes to you from the stage of LCT where mad preparations are being made for the spring arrival of "The Wild Duck". The whole production group is burning the midnight oil in order to get a decent home ready for Henrik Ibsen's five-act Norwegian creation. If the finished performance is as good as June Carlson was at rehearsal the other night the play is headed for a four star rating.

Viets

The past seven days have been a week of history for the students on the campus. After a series of mass meetings a representative of the Board of Higher Education arrived on the campus to confer with students and faculty concerning the program set forth by the students and faculty committee. True and all, this is a fine program but I think this should start where all charities start, at home. In all other words in order for this program to be successful the students must carry this program back to their homes. They must educate their families, their friends, and then the state legislature to the program of financial needs for this and other state institutions of higher learning. This isn't a job that can be done by one man or two men it is a project that has to have the unified backing of the whole state. So if you want that new library or new faces on the faculty, go home and stump for the student program this summer. Spend that vacation time for something useful.

To get back to the lighter side of things, the circus is coming. Along with the annual lilac festival, A. G. Arvold has arranged to have a group of high grade circus acts stop here the night of May 21. Under the booking of a former Barnum and Bailey performer the group consists of clowns, wire act, trapeze artist, various animal acts, and last but not least a baby elephant. Working out of Chicago, this group has left a fine record of performances all across the country and will really bring the circus spirit to Fargo. The show will be staged in a typical circus fashion and students will be admitted by their activity tickets. So start saving your nickels and dimes for those little extras and I'll see you at the circus.

I hate to break the news to the girls on the campus but Alexander Duncan MacGibbon, Esq. is no longer on the bachelor list. Last Monday he passed out carloads of YB cigars; Jac Pushor retailed by hauling a trunk load of candy over to the Kappa house.

Do you have that Lifebouy smell, do you have that Ipana smile, do you have that well-groomed look? Well maybe you too can be a model man in your own little world. Anyhow lets all turn out and see who gets the aulted honor of being chosen the Beau Brummel of the campus.

Heard About The Herd

By Kenneth Sachs

LACK OF sufficient manpower is listed by track coach Ernie Kaiser as the main reason for the Bison's third-place showing in last Friday's quadrangular meet at MSTC. While the Herd was able to rack up four firsts, their showing for the other places was weak. On the other hand, the Dragons and Cobbers got more than their share of the important second, third and fourth places as both beat out the favored Bison.

As a result, Kaiser has issued a call for more men this week as the squad prepares for the Jamestown meet tomorrow. He emphasized that one of the main purposes of having track this year is to give the staff an indication of the material on hand for next year when conference competition will be resumed.

At the MSTC meet the Herd had only one man entered in the javelin, 440, 880, mile, shot put, high and low hurdles and high jump. For a college the size of NDAC this is definitely a poor turnout. There are undoubtedly more men of track ability on the campus now who could aid the squad very much. It's up to them to put the Bison back on the college track map.

WITH SPRING

football practice closing at most of the North Central conference schools this week, experts in the area are going out on the limb with predictions that Morningside will hold the trophy when the smoke of next fall's grid wars has died away. Predictions of this kind can be made during an ordinary year but in many respects war-time football, with all its uncertainties, is still with us. There is no doubt that the Iowa school will be among the favorites but right now it looks like a knock-down, drag-out fight for first place with no fewer than four schools in the battle.

How the Bison will fare depends largely on how many of the pre-war lettermen either return or remain on the campus. Tuesday's scrimmage showed definite weak spots which will have to be bolstered if the Herd is to be a factor in the title picture.

A CHALLENGE

for a golf match has been issued to NDAC by Concordia college. Whether the challenge will be accepted or not depends on the enthusiasm shown by campus golfers for such a meet. However, it may be necessary to play off this event before completion of the all-campus tourney. For this reason playoffs for team berths may not be possible and anyone with golfing ability will be eligible for the squad by leaving his name at the Fieldhouse.

MSTC Pitcher Hurls No-Hitter

William (Buzz) Gray, MSTC pitcher, entered baseball's elite pitching group Tuesday as he hurled a perfect no-hit, no-run game while his mates edged out Concordia 2-0.

Although the game was only a seven-inning contest, Gray's feat was remarkable for only two balls went to the outfield and one to the infield. Not a man reached first base as Gray, a 29-year old transfer student from Hamline university, held the previously potent Cobber bats silent.

Recently released from active duty, Gray racked up 13 strikeouts and handled 6 chances afield flawlessly. While in service he lost a close decision to Bob Feller now with the Cleveland Indians.

Theta Chi	1	0	1.000
Sigma Chi	1	0	1.000
AGRs	0	1	.000
ATOs	0	1	.000

Next week's feature match of the intramural softball league finds the undefeated Sigma Chi and Theta Chi aggregations meeting Monday on the north field.

Both joined the ranks of the undefeated this week as the Theta Chi club downed the ATO's 12-3 and the Sigs edged out Alpha Gamma Rho 12-11.

Theta Chi had an easy time winning from the ATO's as they jumped into an early lead and stayed there behind the effective pitching of Stephenson. Daly King led the attack on Jake Stappler, ATO hurler, with two singles and a double, scoring three runs.

The Sigs meanwhile had to put on a desperate last inning rally to dump the AGRs in Tuesday's game. Behind 8-0 going into the last half of the second frame, they began to whittle away at Jim Gallagher, AGR chucker, who had started like a house-a-fire by striking out the side in the first inning. Gallagher lost his effectiveness as the game went on and the Sigs pecked away steadily at the Alpha Gams with 6 runs in the last of the fifth bringing them out on top.

After a wobbly start, Brierley settled down to gain the decision for Sigma Chi. Gallagher poled a homer for his club in the first inning and Sorvick knocked one out for the Sigs during the big fifth.

Monday's game between the Dorm and ISAs was postponed due to bad weather. It will be played May 13 instead.

This week's game are:

- Today, May 9
Kappa Sigs vs Dorm
- Monday, May 13
Theta Chi vs Sigma Chi
Dorm vs ISAs
- Tuesday, May 14
ISAs vs SAEs

Sixteen Enter Men All-Campus Golf Tournament

Sixteen golfers are entered in the all-campus tournament which will get under way this week. Pairings have been announced by intramural director, Ernie Kaiser, who has set May 15th as the last day for playoffs of first-round matches. Second-round games must be completed by May 22 with the third-round and finals scheduled to be played before May 30th.

First round pairings are as follows:

Daly King vs Bill Toben; A. Heine vs Robert Grorud; V. Just vs W. Teichman; V. Johnson vs John Dady; M. Grossinger vs Walt Solien; Rex Towey vs Ken Boley; Don Mohr vs Cec Sturgeon and R. Weber vs Bob Heer.

Green Drops Yellow 6-0 In Spring Game

A 65-yard runback of a pass interception by Jack Barner, a high school Bison football candidate from Fairmont, N. D., gave the Greens a 6-0 win over the Yellow in Tuesday's intra-squad game held on the practice field as the spring grid session draws to a close.

For the remainder of the hour and a half session the teams battled up and down the field with neither squad able to put on a sustained drive.

Coach Stan Kostka split his squad into two teams for Tuesday's game, which had all the markings of an official contest except for kickoffs. The Green squad held the Yellow in check most of the afternoon with the exception of one drive midway in the first half.

Members of the two squads were:

Green—Bireley, Clausen, Christenson, Fuls, Hanish, Moores, Scheels, Drews, Hazel, Edmonds, Stappler, Anderson, DeBrito, Nemzek, Polisen, Barner, Houghlum and Dickens.

Yellows—Galloway, Levasseur, Holwell, Cichy, Amsden, Soulis Gorman, Seelig, Heer, Keogh, Strandemo, Priske, Hovland, Maher, Magloughlin, Laraway, Frenette, Kingston and Comford.

Practice sessions will end this week. Plans for another scrimmage this Friday were called off when a number of the men turned up with injuries following Tuesday's game.

Kaiser has named 12 men to make the Jamestown trip. They are Moore, Horner, Pepple, Lannoye, Solberg, Askew, Mulready, Hilden, Doran, Jeanquenet, Fredin and Scheels.

MSTC showed good form as it walked away with Friday's meet piling up 56½ points to 37 for second-place Concordia. The Bison were only one-half point behind the Cobbers with 36½. Wahpeton Science finished with 20½.

The Herd managed to pile up four firsts but lack of reserve power needed for the thirds and fourths brought about their defeat. This fact has prompted Kaiser to issue another call for trackmen.

Jerry Mulready brought home two of the medals with his winning heaves in the shot-put and discus with Dick Hilden getting a first in his specialty, the pole vault. The relay team, made up of Pepple, Lannoye, Moore and Horner garnered the only other first place spot.

Two Staples, Minn., trackmen competing for MSTC, Curls Nelson and Virgil Robinson, took high point honors with 15 and 14 points respectively. Mulready led the Herd with 10, Lloyd Ellefson of Wahpeton made 10, and Bob Johnson of the Cobbers led his mates with 10 to head their respective schools.

Anderson To Gather Tryota Club Exhibit For Convention

Margaret Anderson, home economics sophomore, has been named by Tryota to assemble an exhibit to be displayed at the American Home Economics association's national convention at Cleveland in June.

The whole exhibit, to be made up of materials from the 327 college home economics clubs throughout the nation, will also be available for loan to the 16 province conventions during the coming year.

Miss Anderson's appointment was announced at a recent meeting of the retiring council and the newly elected body of Tryota.

The group also selected Miss Ada Campbell as Tryota's new advisor to replace Mrs. Eunice Burke, who has left the campus.

Lincoln Debaters Discuss Cut System

Four members of the Lincoln debating club discussed the resolution The Cut System Should Be Abolished at the group's bi-monthly meeting in the Little Country Theatre Tuesday.

Virginia Hill presided; Daly King contended that a definite cut system should be worked out in his 10-minute speech for the negative side; James Leahy argued that no cuts should be allowed in his defense of the affirmative stand. King was supported by Barbara Hammer, while Leahy was aided by Jeanne Wallerius.

The affirmative members declared that every class period contributes something to the students knowledge, that good students attend class while those who cannot afford to usually cut, that cuts are often taken when lessons have not been prepared.

Education should be a stimulation of the mind to make students think, rather than a compulsory process, according to the negative factor.
