

H.M.S. Pinafore Ready For Production

Thirty-Ninth May Festival Planned For AC May 15-18

The thirty-ninth annual May Festival will be staged May 15-18, with the entire faculty and student body playing host to high school seniors from outlying North Dakota towns and the general public.

Schedule Play For May 15

With May 15, opening night of LCT's current effort, only four weeks away, the production staff of The Wild Duck by Henrik Ibsen is swinging into action, according to Miss Constance West, director.

Staff members are Don Viets, stage manager; Jo Anne Zimmerman, assistant stage manager; Clair Houghlum, Clinton Spear and Jim Thompson, stage crew; Gloria Severson, prompter; Charles Dickens, lighting; James Leahy, Norma Jean Steinmeyer and Audre Remme, publicity; Anita Quick, Patty Beckstrom and Dick Goldberg, properties; Audre Remme and Elvin Foss, make-up; Helen Beauchamp, Iona Bolton and Helen Tiegen, costumes.

Concert Presented By SAI On Sacred Theme Thursday

Sigma Alpha Iota, honorary music fraternity, presented a sacred concert in Festival hall from 9:40 to 10:25 a.m. today.

A setting was arranged for the hall in keeping with Holy Thursday. Miss Beverly Anderson was in charge with Miss Marguerite Beard of the college musical faculty as advisor.

Program numbers included a sextet consisting of Ruby Johnson, Mary Jane Shurr, Barbara Nelson, Bettilou McDonald, Virgene Olson, and Delores Patterson. They sang O Divine Redeemer.

Virginia Koloen gave two vocal numbers. He was Despised and But the Lord is Mindful of His Own, Mendelssohn. The College chorus sang To Thee We Sing and Thee, God, We Praise.

Two violin numbers were played by Edward Schroepfer of the music department, Good Friday Spell from Wagner's Parsifal and Ave Maria, Bach-Gounod.

Dr. F. L. Eversull gave the invocation and benediction.

Carolyn Bohrer and Shirley Chaska were accompanists.

Addicot Reviews Book At AC Series

G. B. Cressey's book, Basis of Soviet Strength, was reviewed by Harold B. Addicott, MSTC faculty member, at the NDAC book review series in Old main Tuesday.

Mr. Cressey's book deals with the sources of Russia's strength, her geology and geography, her agricultural and industrial resources and her manpower.

The review series is arranged by Elliott Hardaway, NDAC librarian.

dent body playing host to high school seniors from outlying North Dakota towns and the general public.

Henrik Ibsen's five act play, The Wild Duck, presented by the Little Country Theater at 8 p.m. Friday will open the series of events designed to acquaint the public with NDAC.

Exhibits and receptions in all college buildings will be open to the public from 7-9 p.m. Thursday. A cadet band and college glee club will give a concert on the campus on the same evening.

Visiting high school delegations will register Friday, April 18. Program for the day will include a May Festival assembly, home economics demonstrations and a style show, continuation of the industrial arts exposition, literary and music events and a cadet review with mothers and fathers as special guests for all events of the day.

Future Homemakers of America will meet for their first annual convention Saturday, April 19. The department of physical education for women will stage demonstrations, and there will be athletic games for men and women. A party Saturday evening will conclude the festival.

Cast Members Study Lines

Rehearsing their parts for H. M. S. Pinafore, 1946 NDAC Bison Brevities production, are Merle Nott, left, and Mary Jane Shurr. The show will be staged in Festival hall Monday and Tuesday. Nott is cast as Captain Corcoran in the Gilbert and Sullivan musical while Miss Shurr portrays the part of Buttercup.

Last Rehearsal Slated Sunday

All is in readiness for this year's Bison Brevities production of H. M. S. Pinafore as cast members and production staffs make final preparations for Sunday's dress rehearsal of the first Blue Key-sponsored show since 1942 which will be presented in Festival hall Monday and Tuesday evenings. Curtain time has been set at 8.

Tomorrow, this year's cast and two members of the 1903 show will appear over WDAY at 9:30 p.m. Mrs. A. E. Minard, Buttercup in the earlier production, and Mrs. A. H. Parrott, a 1903 chorus member, were among those interviewed earlier this week on Howard Nelson's transcribed weekly feature.

Meanwhile, Gil Spooner, general chairman of the student show and ticket manager, announces that there are still some good reserved seats remaining for both evenings of the production. He advises, however, that these are going fast and he looks forward to a sellout before the end of this week.

Greeks Initiate 43 During Weekend Formal Ceremonies

Alpha Gamma Delta, Phi Omega Pi, Gamma Phi Beta, Phi Mu and Alpha Tau Omega held initiation services for 43 pledges last week.

Gamma Phi Beta initiates include: Gloria Aas, Jean Cosgriff, Beatrice Jones, Lota Junge, Betty Lewis, Ethel Mathews and Jeanne Wallerius.

New actives of Phi Omega Pi are: Grace Swigart, Anita Quick, Gloria Schreiner, Marlys Haarsager and Alice Walla.

Alpha Gamma Delta initiated the following: Carolyn Fossay, Marjorie McDonagh, Barbara Nelson, Shirley Prince, Harriette Thorleifson, Madeline Forsyth, Eleanor Frye and Beverly Marchand.

The Phi Mu new actives are: Murlyn Anderson, Marlyn Myrah, Joyce Watson, Rachel Hanson, Doris Lindstrom, Marie Gehring, Phyllis Westra, Ruth Skeliset, and Marilyn Moore.

Election Candidates Slow In Filing

With the deadline set at 5 p.m. today by Commissioner of Elections Don Hinz, only nine petitions for six of the 12 posts to be filled at the general student election April 25 had been received up to 5 p.m., yesterday.

From the candidates who have filed petitions thus far it seems that this year's election will be a battle between two distinct political action groups. A threatened third party was knocked out of the running yesterday with the announcement by Sandy MacGibbon, president of the Veterans organization, that his group will not place a slate of candidates before the student voters but rather will back particular candidates of the other two parties after a caucus Monday afternoon.

Staff Registers Today For X-Ray

All staff members and campus employees will register for free chest X-rays today in the secretary's office as the first phase of the program that is expected to have every NDAC student and staff member on the campus X-rayed by the mobile equipment which will be used by the North Dakota State Health department here May 6, 7 and 8.

Miss Helen Johnson, campus nurse, announces that letters explaining the entire program are being mailed to students this week with tentative appointment cards included.

Yesterday, the veterans named two committees toward this end. Ed Murphy, Frank Sween and William Provance make up an investigating group which will study the qualifications of all candidates. Perry Clark, Lloyd Steen and Fred Champion will serve as a publicity committee to publicize those selected to be backed by the veterans.

Commissioner Hinz last night listed the following students as having filed petitions for office at that time: Russell Heine, John Deutsch, Jeanne Wallerius, James Carlson, Adelaide Dinwoodie, Perry Clark, Dan Chapman, Evelyn Thurneau and Dorothy Bader.

Union Gets Action

Definite action on the question of NDAC's proposed Student Union was promised this week following a meeting of the YMCA Advisory Council Tuesday evening.

Meeting primarily to hear the report of Prof. Rudolf Otterson, council delegate to a national Student Union meeting held in Minneapolis last week, the YMCA group passed a resolution calling for the formation of a representative student group plus certain members of the advisory council which will study the situation from every aspect and present a report of its findings to the entire student body as soon as possible.

This proposal will be placed before the NDAC Student Commission at its first meeting.

lyn Thurneau and Dorothy Bader.

Heine is the coalition candidate for Student Commission president, Deutsch for senior member of the Athletic Board of Control, Miss Wallerius for sophomore member of the Public Speaking Board of Control, Carlson, Clark and Miss Dinwoodie for student memberships on the Board of Publications.

Chapman, Miss Thurneau and Miss Bader are candidates for the three positions on the Board of Publications Control on the Independent ticket.

Easter Duty

At Christmas children empty stockings that Santa Claus has filled; at Easter they hunt for eggs that the Easter bunny has hidden. What do you do?

Does Easter mean more to you than a visit from the Easter rabbit, a day or two of vacation, an Easter ham or a new spring outfit, or do you still cling to the childish conception of one of the most glorious feasts celebrated by the christian world?

Easter is sort of a V-day for people of every christian faith. America was founded because people wanted "the four freedoms" . . . one of which is freedom of religion. That right was attacked by Japan. Americans died to preserve their beliefs. When they emerged victorious, the country rejoiced.

Jesus Christ came to earth to redeem mankind. He was attacked and died to accomplish his mission. However, he arose victorious on Easter morning. Do you not think it fitting to celebrate his victory by attending your church Easter morn?

H.M.S. 'Sales' On

To procrastinate is bad, but not to do "it" at all is worse. Specifically, not to buy a Brevities ticket until the last minute is bad, but to miss the first post-war effort of the annual Bison Brevities tradition is worse yet?

H.M.S. Pinafore is steaming into port after a busy voyage, with a crew on hand that is experienced as well as talented because they sacrificed personal pleasure to acquire that polished air.

When the good ship H.M.S. Pinafore drops anchor at Festival hall next Monday and Tuesday, be on hand, mates, to lend real support to a cast of NDAC students that really deserves it.

Open Session

Tuesday, April 30, at 4:00, NDAC's Student Commission will meet to consider suggestions and constructive criticisms for the general improvement of the campus.

A suggestion box has been placed in the college post office. Here is an opportunity for the "gripe" and grievance committees on campus to do something constructive.

Campus Characters

This is the third of a series. Next week's installment will deal with the Broad question, "Will the sorority ever replace the party line?" and will bear the title, "The KD's and what does it get them?" or "let's turn out the lights and hold an election." But this is neither here nor there. To the business at hand:

Called Spill, Gooner, and "hey you," for political purposes, and tenderly referred to as $!?(&)x by his friends, this week's subject for caricature is so active on campus that even a partial list of his activities would identify him positively.

To illustrate our point let us tell a story. This is a tale our grandmother used to tell us while knocking herself out with a keg of Kato: Once upon a time there was a lad who was very, very good. He combed his hair, studied hard and went to convocations. He shared his cigarettes with Gamma Phis and never missed a POP open house. He ignored the Sigma Chis and was frequently seen in the company of Independents.

And do you know what happened to him? He was pledged by the Theta Chis, got lost in the house the next day and nearly starved to death. For this he was rewarded with five swats and the presidency of the student commission. He may be found now in the Bison Brevities office eating reserve seat tickets and picking his teeth with a paper clip.

~ Vittles By Viets ~

Now that the Farm Frolic is passed, and Maxine and "Dunk" reign supreme, life on the ole campus has settled down to normal again.

Local "Aggies" and "Baggies" have sent their farm clothes back home to maw in preparation for the spring work and fall harvest. But, just a note in passing, how about a big bouquet for the boys and gals who made this Farm Frolic such a howling success. I can personally vouch for the fact that a good time was had by all, and all of you who forsaked this dance for other pleasures really missed something big.

By the way, while we're still speaking of Spring, and who isn't, how about reviving the annual "Spring Sing"? It really used to be a gala affair, and with the talent on the campus now, as a trip to any frat center house or congregation will show, there should be some stiff competition.

It seems as if certain organizations are wondering as to what happened to their fall popularity with the opposite sex. Maybe if they would wise up and put the fire under some of their new young actives, the situation would clear up and the besought parties would come back to the fold. It seems as if many have an aversion about social climbers and human icebergs. If course, if that's the way they want to play ball that's their business; but remember, it doesn't do any good to close the barn door after the horse is gone. In these days it's har to get a good horse.

Don't forget the Bison Brevities Monday and Tuesday night, there are still a few good seats left I am told. Tickets are on sale in the Book store and at Daveau's Music company, general admission 60c and reserved seats $1.00. At rehearsal last nite they sounded fine, and I've recently learned that Mrs. A. E. Minard, a former Brevities star, is understudying the part played by Mary Jane Shurr. History has it that Mrs. Minard played the same role in a production of H.M.S. Pinafore that played at the old Fargo Opera House, a few years ago, and that she did a fine job at rehearsal last nite.

A few campus co-eds, after seeing "My Reputation," at the Fargo Theater, are traveling to the lake areas in order to get personal experience so they can write their own sequel; but soon the Pavillion will be open and they will have a legitimate excuse.

Easter Duds Signal Spring's Arrival For Style Conscious Sex

BY HAY FEVER

Since most members of the fair sex are hoarding their latest purchases until the Easter parade, would you like to take a shopping tour thru Minneapolis and St. Paul with me?

Suits dominate the fashion lime light . . . suits with personality, that is. Each one boasts some individual touch. Bolero styles are the rage, as are Eisenhower jackets, blousy sleeves with interesting cuff treatment, belted jackets that give a peplum effect, skirts and jackets in light and dark shades of the same hue, decorative buttons in abundance for trim. Slim straight skirts are still the rage with some evidence of front fullness from gathers and unpressed pleats.

Brown is the most widely shown shade. One day, all of Dayton's windows featured shades of the 'brown family.' Navy comes a close second.

The gal with her "head in the game" will choose a saucy straw in natural or shiny black, navy, brown or white. She knows that the bonnet style and roll-back brim are the thing. She will find many hats with open crowns—some with ribbons across the open space, ending in short streamers or a perky bow. Gay flowers and loops of crisp ribbon are tucked behind the forementioned rolled brims. Still in evidence are the high crown chapeaux with little turn-down brims or no brims at all.

Accessory aisles catch the eye with scarves in prints and stripes and belts of red and green snake-skin to compliment this year's colored bags. Dressy belts in distinctive shapes sport shiny nail-heads; wide sport belts in natural shades buckle with two or three small buckles with studs and eyelets providing trim.

Plastic patent leather is seen everywhere in bags and shoes. It is being shown in black and in a new reddish-gold shade. Milady will be in style if she steps out in sling pumps, sandals, dorsey pumps that are built up on the inside with only a strap or two crossing over the toes and no support on the other side.

Bags with handles and elaborate plastic tops and in the oddest shapes imaginable are the order of the day.

Soft draping, roll collars and leg-o-mutton sleeves all feature in this spring's fashion picture. Blouses have soft bow necklines, fagotting and tucking around a plain neckline and sap sleeves.

Finders And Losers Visit Registrar's

"The Lord loveth a cheerful giver" . . . and the lost and found department established last term in the registrar's office by the freshman commission of the YWCA is eager to give away a host of articles . . . to their rightful owners, that is.

Awaiting rescue are gloves and mittens, both odd and paired, scarves for feminine heads or masculine shoulders, miscellaneous texts, a manual of ROTC, pens, pencils, handkerchiefs, rings, rosaries, a tobacco pouch and what have you.

Yet many students call for articles not turned in—umbrellas, Schaeffers, books and a cigarette lighter.

To make the department an effective central agency which really finds owners for stray property and vice versa, everyone on the campus must cooperate.

Students may leave articles at the window of the registrar's office in Old Main anytime during the week and record their names and a description of the article on cards left there. The items will be returned to finders if they are not claimed. For inquiries on lost articles, other cards will be on hand.

When commission members are in charge, as they are on Monday, Thursday and Friday afternoons, they will organize the cards and contact proper owners of articles.

To clear the department in the spring, an auction will be held.

Heard About The Herd

By Kenneth Sachs

PLENTY OF SPIRIT

was evident on the Bison football squad Tuesday as the Herd and Concordia Cobbers went through an hour practice scrimmage on the NDAC practice field. In fact the team spirit impressed Coach Stan Kostka more than anything else as the gridgers went through the stiffest workout of the spring season. This looks like a good indication for lack of spirit meant the downfall of many teams composed of returning veterans last fall.

However, there were other highlights in the drill including the stellar play of halfback Bob Heer and guard Dale Clausen. Heer, an outstanding freshmen prospect in 1941 before entering the armed forces, scampered for a number of nice gains while Clausen, a former MSTC star, played steady ball in the line.

The Cobbers received a blow early in the season when Augie Hoeger, star back, was helped from the field with a painful leg injury. This left Clarence Modin and Vern "Fin" Grinaker with most of the ball carrying and both of them came up with a couple of nice runs.

Due to lack of interest the regular volleyball schedule will end today with the playing of the Kappa Sig-Kappa Psi game at 4:15 and the Theta Chi-Sigma Chi I match at 5:00. The Sig-Theta Chi game, postponed yesterday, will determine second place in the loop standings. The Vets have cinched first place with a record of 5 wins and 0 losses.

Playoffs will begin next week after pairings are drawn up for the top teams, determined following today's games.

In the only game played last week the Sigma Chi I aggregation dumped the Dorm 34-28. The ATOs won on a forfeit from Sigma Chi II.

North Central Conference Resumes Competition

Bison Gridder Skis In Alps

Lt. Clifford C. (Boney) Rothrock, jr., former all-conference center at NDAC, is shown skiing in the Alps of Switzerland. Rothrock, stationed with the Third Infantry in Germany, spent a leave vacationing in the mountains.

He expects to return to the United States soon and will enroll at NDAC following his discharge. Stan Kostka, football coach, is anxiously waiting his return to the campus where he will bolster the center position on the 1946 eleven.

Rothrock played two years of varsity ball for the Bison team before entering service in 1943.

After graduating from officers candidate school at Ft. Benning, Georgia, in June 1944, he was assigned to the Infantry School as an instructor. While there he competed on the football team, playing fullback on a squad which included Billy Hilibrand, Chuck Jacoby and Lou Saban, for mer all-Americans at the University of Indiana.

In February 1945 he left for duty in the European theater and after the cessation of hostilities he was assigned to guarding prisoners of war. At the same time he was given the position of athletic officer and coach.

Rothrock was a member of the Third Infantry eleven which won the Seventh army championship last fall. Following completion of the schedule he was selected for the center post on the Seventh army all star team.

With all this added competition Rothrock is expected to make a big difference in the center of the Bison forward wall which has looked weak in spring practice sessions.

Herd Track Squad Begins Practice This Week For Jamestown Meet

With their first meet coming up at Jamestown the first week in May, a small squad of Bison trackmen are working out daily under the direction of Coach E. E. Kaiser.

Outstanding candidates for the team so far include Vern Pople and Bud Lannoye in the dashes; Dick Hilden in the pole vault; Bruce Biddick, hurdles; Bob Mossman, mile; Harry Solberg, mile and a quarter, and Jerry Mulready, shot and discus.

Leonard Doran, Hjeltie Palsson, Dave Fredin, Janus Sparks, Fred Scheel and George Horner have also checked out suits but as yet haven't been placed in definite events.

Two other meets are also pending but dates as yet haven't been set. They are a triangular meet with MSTC and Concordia and an all-state college meet at the University of North Dakota.

Bison Gridders Meet Cobbers In Scrimmage

Appearance of seven new members on the Bison football squad and a practice scrimmage against Concordia on Tuesday were the highlights of this week's grid sessions at NDAC.

The new members include Tony Paliseno, a regular on last year's eleven, Don Magloughlin, John DeBrito, Curtis Keogh, Hampton Spencer, Edwin Anderson and Don Matson.

The Bison coaching staff got a little indication of the strength of their squad Tuesday as the Herd and Cobbers went at it for about an hour on the practice field. No downs were measured with each team holding the ball for half of the session.

Coach Stan Kostka's starting eleven had Moores and Soulis at ends; Hanish and Cichy at tackles; Clausen and Levasseur, guards; Polisen, center; Stappler, quarterback; Heer, left half; Drews, right half and Christenson at full. The coaching staff substituted freely during the latter part of the scrimmage giving most of the members a chance to show their wares.

Another scrimmage with the Cobbers is planned, possibly the week after next.

An attempt to postpone resumption of North Central Intercollegiate competition Sept. 1, 1946 failed in Minneapolis last Saturday when faculty representatives of the conference voted down a resolution containing the proposal.

The Sept. 1 date was set last December by the conference committee and Saturday's proposal would have postponed resumption of play indefinitely.

The expected fireworks at the meeting did not come off. However, the withdrawal of Omaha university from the conference was accepted by the representatives.

Eligibility rules came up in the afternoon session when the delegates voted to adopt the regulations of the Big Ten. H. C. Severin, South Dakota State, was renamed secretary and authorized to look into the Western conference rules.

Degree students will not under any circumstances be allowed to compete. Professionals are also barred. All players barred by the freshman rule before March 1, 1942, will now be eligible for three years of varsity competition while freshmen who have competed on varsity teams since that date may complete four seasons. A late registrant will have a full year of competition counted against his record if he competes on any varsity teams for a part of the period.

I. G. Gwin of Morningside was named president of the loop with R. D. Koppenhaver of the university of North Dakota taking over the vice-president's post. On the eligibility committee are Dr. O. O. Churchill of NDAC, Marshall McKusick of USD and Severin.

A full conference football schedule, tentatively set at the December meeting, was accepted by the committee and partial slates for basketball were drafted.

Dr. Churchill and C. C. Finnegan represented NDAC at the meeting.

Dinan Sets May 1 As Deadline For Scholarship Bids

Applications for scholarships for NDAC women students must be submitted by May 1, according to Miss Pearl Dinan, dean of women.

Six organizations will offer $50 awards to girls who have 1.5 averages or better, who show promise in their fields and who are now earning a portion of their school expenses.

The groups awarding the scholarships are: NDAC Women's club, Women's Senate, Panhellenic, Senior Staff, Kappa Kappa Gamma alumnae and Gamma Phi Beta alumnae.

Blanks for application may be secured either in Miss Mildred Hawkin's office or in Miss Dinan's office.
