

Blue Key Initiates Thirteen Men

Initiation ceremonies for 13 new members recently elected to Blue Key, honorary national service fraternity, will be held at a dinner meeting of that organization this afternoon at 5:30 in Ceres hall.

Those to be initiated include:

- Leon Bennett
- John Dady
- Charles Dills
- John Donnelly
- Robert Getz
- Vernon Hathaway
- Russell Heine
- Tom Helfrich
- Merlin Miller
- LeRoy Naves
- John Sanders
- Don Viets
- Herman Zimoski

Bennett, a junior in engineering, served as an artillery officer with the First Infantry division in Africa, Sicily and Europe before returning to school last fall with a captaincy in the reserve.

Dady, former president of Sigma Chi fraternity, is a junior in applied arts and sciences.

Dills, one of the singing leads in H.M.S. Pinafore, the 1946 Bison Brevities production, is secretary of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity and a junior in applied arts and sciences. He holds a captain's commission in the reserve after serving with the air forces as a fighter pilot since May 1943.

President of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Donnelly, a junior in agriculture, is also a member of the Agricultural Engineering club and Newman club. He served as a bomber pilot in Europe.

A former air corps lieutenant, Getz is treasurer of Kappa Psi fraternity and a member of the YMCA, Pharmacy club and the Interfraternity council.

Hathaway is general secretary of the Y as well as a junior in education. He is also president of the NDAC Cooperative Boarding and Planning association, and John Robinson club. A member of the Farmers Union and ISA, he is a former member of the Student Commission and has contributed to Bison Brevities and Spectrum activities.

A member of Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity and Alpha Zeta, Heine is a junior in agriculture after serving as a corporal in the air corps.

A senior in pharmacy, Helfrich is an alderman of Trailer City and a member of Kappa Psi and Pharmacy club. He is also business manager of Papyrus Ebers, pharmacy student publication.

Miller is a junior in education and serves as director of NDAC publicity. He enrolled at NDAC during the winter term after separation from the army with a major's reserve commission.

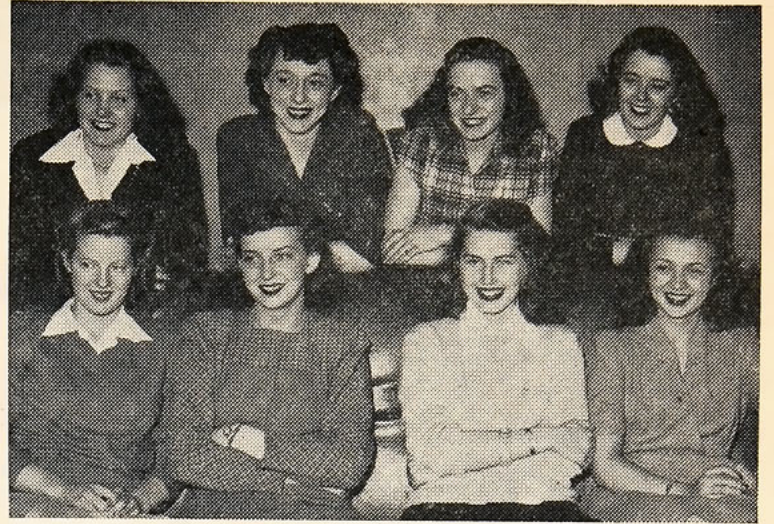

Naves, an agriculture senior, is president of Kappa Sigma Chi fraternity. A former winner of a Sears and Roebuck scholarship, he is a member of Alpha Zeta, FFA, LSA and Saddle and Siroin.

Singing one of the top roles in this year's Brevities show, Sanders is a senior in education after leaving school in 1942 for duty with the army. He served as a captain in China with the infantry and is a member of Theta Chi fraternity.

Viets, secretary of Sigma Chi, is prominent in activities of Little Country Theatre and is a staff writer for the Spectrum.

Zimoski is a senior in applied arts and sciences. He attended Millsap college in Mississippi before entering the army and was a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity at the institution.

Campus To Choose Queen From Eight Hopeful Coeds

Aggie Baggies and Baggie Aggies will vote for their favorite candidate for king and queen of the annual Farm Frolic sponsored by ISA when they dance to the music of Lloyd Keller's orchestra in the Fieldhouse Friday night from 9 to 12.

Elvin Foss, general chairman of the event, announces that each ticket holder will be eligible to cast a vote for his selection for king and queen from representatives of the sororities, fraternities, Dakota and Ceres halls and the Men's dorm.

Name Nydahl To National

Lillian Nydahl, retiring president of Tryota, campus home economics club, is a candidate for a national office from province eight of the National Home Economics association, while Margaret Anderson has been selected to represent Tryota at the National Home Economics convention to be held in Cleveland in June.

Club members gathered for the last time this year at a supper meeting in the Lincoln Log Cabin Tuesday.

Miss Leita Davy, dean of home economics, spoke on the philosophy of home projects. Inez Carlson, Helen Beauchamp, De Lores Akason, Janice Bergeson and Lillian Nydahl reported on home projects.

Stunt Convo Friday

"Stunts" will be the keynote of the Senior Staff convocation tomorrow at 9:40 a.m.

George Truesdell will emcee the roster of local talent, which will include the Jean-Hoverson-Audrey Remme dance team, vocalist Johnny Sanders, an anonymous "Top-sy Turvy"; a barbershop quintet and a Brevities quartet consisting of Merle Nott, John Sanders, Charles Dills and Ken Sorvick.

Candidates for the Farm Frolic will be presented.

Opportunity Given To Students To Safeguard Health

Every NDAC student, faculty member and staff member of the college will have the opportunity of safeguarding his health by having a free chest X-ray when a mass X-ray survey begins here May 6, 7 and 8.

This announcement has been made by Dr. William Smith, director of the division of preventable diseases for the state department of health which will conduct the survey.

The plan is part of the intensive war on tuberculosis begun recently in co-operation with the North Dakota Anti-Tuberculosis association. In making the announcement, Dr. Smith expressed the hope that everyone eligible would take advantage of this special opportunity.

The process will take only a few moments of each person's time, it is pointed out, as the most up-to-date mobile equipment using 70 mm. film will be employed for the task.

The film can photograph through clothing and the equipment is capable of handling 100 persons an hour.

Further plans regarding the local survey which is part of the state-wide drive will be announced as they are completed.

Students Organize AC Debate Society At Tuesday Meet

Reorganization of the Lincoln club, campus debate team, got under way Tuesday when eleven students met in the library of the Little Country Theatre and elected Daly King, president; James Leahy, vice-president; Ruth McGuigan, secretary-treasurer.

Other members of the initial group are Mayo Kucera, Barbara Hammer, Kay Beattie, Adelaide Dinwoodie, Robert Gough, Virginia Hill, Ed Murphy and Jeanne Wallerius. Mr. A. G. Arvold and Miss Constance West of the speech department will act as advisors.

To create interest, Lincoln club members have chosen a topic in the lighter vein for their first discussion, April 24, "Do Girls Come to College for an Education or a Husband?" Male participants will argue for education, while the female debaters will speak for husbands.

Ruth McGuigan and Ed Murphy will open the discussion by presenting ten minute talks on their respective views. Each remaining member of the club will then speak for three minutes; the meeting will be conducted as an open forum after the first two deliveries.

Bryngelson Directs

Bryng Bryngelson, director of the Speech Clinic at the University of Minnesota, will conduct all speech classes Monday and Tuesday at NDAC. He will be available from 2 to 5 p.m. both afternoons for personal conference with those desiring individual aid.

Monday evening he will lecture to the general public at 8 p.m. in the Little Country Theater. Tuesday noon he will be guest of the Edwin Booth Dramatic club at a luncheon in the Lincoln Log Cabin.

Moulton Arrives On Campus To Confer With Leaders

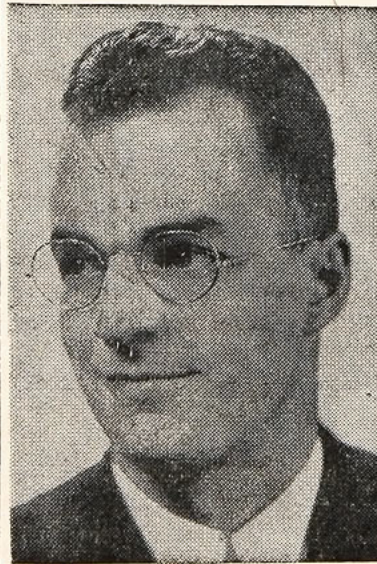

Phillips P. Moulton, director of the University Christian Mission, will arrive on the campus soon from New York to confer with local religious leaders about the holding of a religious emphasis week at NDAC next fall quarter.

Arrangements for Moulton's visit are being made by the NDAC Religious council. Dr. W. C. Hunter announces that the Committee of One Hundred will meet Sunday afternoon at 3:30 in the Fireside room of the Y for that purpose.

Moulton has had wide experience in social and religious work in this country and abroad. As counselor for the Cleveland Guidance service, he edited several volumes describing social, religious, and educational institutions. Later he was director of admissions and instructor in religion at Fenn college. He also served as religious work secretary of the Cleveland YMCA and on state and national committees of the National Intercollegiate Christian council.

The University Christian Mission is a united effort, sponsored jointly by the United Student Christian council and the Federal Council of Churches. It brings outstanding speakers to universities to interpret the Christian gospel, discuss its social and personal implications, and encourage students to choose the Christian way of life.

The program includes university convocations, informal gatherings in fraternities, sororities and dormitories, classroom conferences, daily seminar groups, and personal interviews. Special sessions are also held with faculty members.

Kraemer Heads YW

Mary Lou Kraemer, junior in home economics, will head the YWCA as a result of elections held Tuesday in the college Y.

The other winners, according to Jean Monson, retiring president, include Loretta Swisher, sophomore in applied arts and sciences, vice president; Joyce Hudson, sophomore in home economics, secretary; Ellen Johnson, home economics sophomore, treasurer.

Mrs. W. W. Moberg and Mrs. Eunice Manning were elected to fill positions on the advisory board.

New cabinet members will be announced at a future date.

Union Now?

When an editorial writer proposed in a recent issue of the Spectrum that a Student Union building be erected on this campus, he was posing a red hot issue. While opponents of the whole project are in the minority, interested students, faculty members and former Aggies are divided into two definite camps on methods of securing a building. Let's get down to issues:

First of all, the proposed union will be more than a dance hall and a couple of pool tables. Such a structure, to fill the needs of this college would include an auditorium and several lounges for seminar rooms. These rooms, by providing not only a space for classes of all kinds to hold special discussions, but also would fill a gaping hole in the present educational program here.

Supporters of the program have formed two distinct factions:

1. One group goes along with President Eversull in his announced suggestion that the YMCA building be rebuilt to house the Union. This group is of course strongly opposed by the members of the three sororities who are now using that building as a meeting place. A further objection to using the "Y" is that the building, having been endowed for the use of that organization, must remain a YMCA building, ethically.

2. The other camp advocates the building of a "modest edifice" exclusively for Student Union purposes.

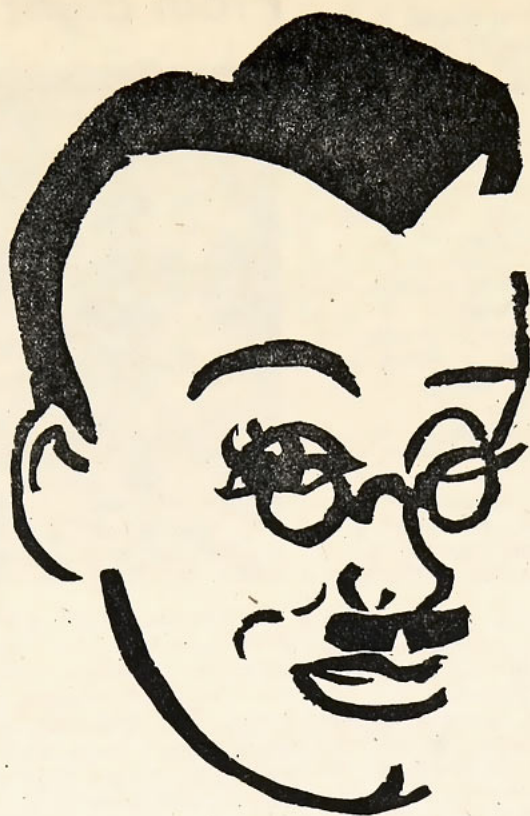

This could be accomplished through one of three methods: student subscription, through an increase in the quarterly fees, an appropriation from the state legislature, or through a combination of the two methods.

What's the solution? We can take the suggestion of one militant nucleus of veteran students who are supporting the proposal to construct an entirely new building. The building would be used as a dormitory for the duration of the housing emergency, being converted into a Student Union later.

The advice of this group is: "Write your state representative, or contact him personally. Let him know that a militant and intelligent student body at NDAC has recognized the need for a Student Union.

DO THIS, and DO IT NOW!
 —Mac.

Campus Characters

In considering a choice for the second broadside against the persons who are individual enough to be labeled as "characters" it suddenly occurred to us that this type is not to be isolated among the student body only. It is believed that the faculty contribute a fair share of butts for our wit (with tongue in cheek).

Upon arriving at this momentous conclusion the next problem arose and proved to be quite difficult. Namely, which one of the faculty is more "individual" than the rest. After much cerebral abuse on this ponderous topic, one man stood head and mustache above the rest. One of his specialties is poetry. A typical picture might see him saying "Gather ye rosebuds while ye may" followed with a smirk and a leer filtering through the lenses of his oxford glasses.

His class attire usually stagnates about two fathoms above the ossiferous cranium of the unwary student. This makes the job enjoyable for him and therefore rather comfortable for the pupils. His anecdotes are always related to the course—course, that is. Due credit must be given, though. His courses are informative and fun for everyone with the possible exception of those who consider sleep more beneficial and enjoyable than painless instruction.

This author, though no judge, unhesitatingly recommends any course that leaves any room at all for instructor initiative. This "character" will make full use of any opportunity for pleasant elaboration.—B. Smirch.

Brevities Briefs . . .

By Jeanne

With the Bison Brevities less than two weeks away, activity on production, publicity and business staffs has heightened.

Mary Tharalson aided in the distribution of placards downtown . . . Betty Getman wielded a brush to the sign on the main gate . . . Iona Bolten, Marilyn Collette and Darlene Thompson, under the chairmanship of Judy Gessner, are arranging for costumes . . . They are frantically searching for costumes characteristic of the period 1850 to 1900.

And while we are being firm, we want you to know that we are not going to tell anyone that Howard Liekvold is stage manager for the Brevities and that he needs some fellas handy with hammer and nails. Incidentally, he lives at the Theta Chi house.

Fargo and Moorhead Rotary club members and Cub Scout guests got a preview of the vocal versatility of Star Betty Lewis and Star Johnny Sanders this week. They also took a novelty quartet (Merle Nott, Johnny Sanders, Charles Dills and Kenny Sorvick), emcee George Truesdell and super salesman Sandy MacGibbon along to convince the people of the merits of "The Bison Brevities of 1946." Kiwanis, Sacred Heart Academy and Fargo High will also be subject to same.

Love, Laugh, Live In Trailer Town

Passers-by stared when the boxcar like trailers started to arrive at NDAC. They looked with interest and amazement as the boxes spread their wings, as the sewers were installed, as foundations were erected. But how many have strolled through the new little community since veterans, their wives and children have turned these trailers into homes? They would notice that the area has taken on a lived-in appearance.

A navy duffel bag swings outside another doorway . . . the stenciled name and serial numbers yet undimmed by the elements. Smoke curls from the chimneys in wispy blue curls.

License plates from Maine to California adorn cars of many colors, makes and styles.

And odors of coffee perking, bacon frying and the wails of young ones fill the air.

When one couple was approached about living in such cramped quarters, they looked at each other, smiled and gayly replied, "Home is where the heart is; ours is here. We don't mind. It will be another experience to tell our grandchildren!"

'Story' Takes Fearn's Work

"Just To Be Remembered" might well be Jack Fearn's slogan instead of the title of a short story to be published in Story Magazine . . . for that's what he wants in his writing . . . for it to be remembered.

Fearn

Fearn, freshman in applied arts and sciences, recently received notice that two of his stories have been accepted for publication. The second story is titled "Some Day After Sunday" and both are based on wartime themes.

Painter, writer, talker, Fearn attended two terms at NDAC in 1940 and left with the 164th Infantry group in February 1941.

He returned from overseas via the hospital route early in 1943 and spent several months in Letterman General hospital at San Francisco.

Following his release from the hospital, Fearn was sent to Galileo high school in San Francisco by the army to instruct a military science course.

During the two and one-half years he spent at Galileo, he wrote and acted in scripts publicizing the Red Cross blood donor program for radio stations KSFO and KGO.

Fearn is now holding a position on the Fargo Forum staff in addition to his school work.

He has decided to make writing his career and "Just One Tear," the novel that he has begun, looks like a big jump in the right direction.

Newman Club Plans Retreat For Students

The annual retreat for all Catholic students at NDAC sponsored by the NDAC Newman club will be held Saturday and Sunday. The retreat will be conducted by Father Lancelot O.S.B. Each Catholic student will be contacted by letter telling the time and place of the event.

Socially Yours

Additions to the diamond category are Donna Johnson, Alpha Gam and KKG Ardis Swenson. Pat Callinan and John Dady, Sigs, are to be congratulated.

Theta Chis will entertain the Kappas next Wednesday eve.

Sigma Chi returnees number an even dozen this term with the re-appearance of Fred Hagen, Bob Dawson, Mark Andrews, Fred Bristol, Bob Lien, George Powell, Leonard King, Sid Cichy, Alden Foss, Bud Johnson, Jim Posely and Dick Olson.

All tied up with the Alpha Gams are Shirley Prince and Marjorie McDonagh after pledging on April 4.

Sitting at the POP potluck table last Monday were guests Lois and Shirley Bang and Vonnie Clark.

Wedding bells will ring out for Anna Schulz, former AC student and member of Phi Mu, on April 28. The bridegroom to be is Cyril Illing, Chicago, who was stationed on the campus with an army unit.

Milt Lussenden, Kappa Sigma Chi, passed cigars to his brothers Monday night.

AGR Arnold Troftgruben is back after a three week practice teaching stint at LaMoure.

KDs set three extra places at potluck Monday night for Dorothy Sill, Lorraine King and Neone Dunsdon.

Newly marrieds Irene Gunvaldsen Deidrich and Dorothy Allen Amundson were in the center of festivities at the Gamma Phi rooms Monday night. Both were presented with gifts from the actives and pledges. Alumnae Miss Mildred Hawkins, Mrs. C. C. Finnegan and Mrs. J. M. Powers were guests at the party.

Jean Parizek, KD, passed candy to the sisters Monday night, after the diamond from Ed Gaines.

Gordon Jacobson returned to school and Kappa Sigma Chi after a "vacation" of six years.

Mavis Meyers confirmed her pinning to George Booth with a box of candy for the Alpha Gams Monday night.

All smoked out are the Kappa Sigma Chis after a cigarette, cigar and pipe party in the house last Thursday.

Jo Ann Herigstad and Muriel Solberg headlined the Alpha Gam Monday potluck.

Kappa potluck guests Monday were Phillis Knott und Meta Lou Sheffield.

~ Vittles By Viets ~

This week's epistle comes to you from the mist of various education weeks. New actives are appearing like spring flies, and old actives are limping back home, beat and bloody after their trying ordeal.

Viets

Yes, yes, Callinan is back, and Johnson's got him.

A very trying question has the local soothsayers pondering, they are all wondering who will be the next Sig to buy a diamond ring. Past council Jerry Dady was the last Sig to take the fatal step. Who's next? Do you know? I've got a pretty good idea, but I won't tell.

Along with spring comes warm weather, strange ain't it, and along with warm weather comes thoughts of picnics and stuff. And along comes ISA with a farm frolic, oh!! happy day, so how about it boys and gals. Let's dress up and give this annual affair a big boost.

and please, one last word old fellow student, don't try to sneak in, buy a ticket and cast your vote for your king and queen.

At the opening spring football practice, it is said, Coach Kostka laid down the law. The result of which, Frank Sween received enough coffin nails to last a normal man 10 years. Who said that football practice doesn't pay off?

Is it true that Mabel of campus fame is coming between Donna and Clint? Whenever you see Clint, you see Mabel, a pure, wholesome, red-blooded, American girl. Also, and this is strictly scandalous, Mabel was the first girl in 50 years, to attend a Sigma Chi initiation. Maybe she'll be the next Sig Sweetheart. Who knows besides Mabel? Ask "Dunk the Skunk," he knows everything.

You know dear reader it's one heck of a job to gather dope for this little column, so how about a little help? If you have any hot dope, as you probably have, how about passing it on? Just jot it down and send it to me, or drop it in the Spec office. Any help will be appreciated.

Heard About The Herd

By Kenneth Sachs

of this week's football drills has been the appearance of several members of the 1941 squad as Coach Stan Kostka prepares his charges for the first normal football season in five years. As a rule the men are older and more experienced than recent Bison teams. Whether these men will be able to put out the same effort as they did before the war remains to be seen, but there is no doubt that the brand of football will be better than in the past few years when the squad has been made up mostly of inexperienced men just out of high school.

Barring transfers and injuries Kostka will be able to field a pretty big team next fall with a number of men tipping the scales above 200. As it looks now the main battle for positions will be in the backfield as the pre-war lettermen attempt to regain their positions from the members of last year's squad.

Kostka has high hopes for the team even though his squad will be playing the toughest schedule in the loop. The Bison will meet both Augustana and Iowa Teachers, who tied for the last official conference title. In addition the Herd will meet South Dakota State and North Dakota University, both strong contenders for the title every year.

AN ENTIRELY

different situation exists in track where Coach E. E. Kaiser's call for men has apparently fallen on deaf ears. The turnout in this sport is very discouraging for a school of this size. Both MSTC and Concordia have more men out and unless more thin-clads report the Bison showing in this sport is going to be very poor. There is still an opportunity for anyone having track experience to report during the remainder of this week and next.

Royce Krueger Named WAA President

Royce Krueger was named president of WAA, to succeed Susie Naaden, at a recent meeting. Doreen Smith as vice president and Luverne Zable as secretary-treasurer will assist the new president.

According to Miss Krueger, a Sports day will be held May 9 or 10. The extent of the event will depend upon the response to the new WAA sports program. It is hoped that there will be some inter-collegiate competition if the program is definitely scheduled.

Churchill, Finnegan Attend NCI Meet In Minneapolis

NDAC will be represented at the North Dakota Central conference meeting at the Andrews hotel in Minneapolis Saturday by Dr. Churchill, president of the athletic board and C. C. (Casey) Finnegan, athletic director.

Main purpose of the meeting will be to reorganize the conference which was suspended due to wartime restrictions. The only sport for which conference schedule has been drawn up as yet is football.

The question of eligibility rules will also be one of the major topics for discussion. Heated debate is expected over the question of allowing freshmen to compete varsity squads.

39 Report For Spring Grid Drills

Herd Draws 'Spring' Gear

Drawing spring football equipment from Andy Teschendorf, Fieldhouse janitor, are Nick Soulis, Sid Cichy and Llewellyn Christenson, members of the 1941 Bison eleven and Dean Amsden, a member of last year's squad. They are part of a squad of 39 griders who reported to Coach Stan Kostka Monday. (Photo by Dick Olson).

Many familiar faces were seen on the NDAC football practice field this week as 39 griders reported to Coach Stan Kostka for spring practice.

Among the pre-war lettermen who had changed from khaki to moleskins are Llewellyn Christenson, Don Laraway, Bob Heer, Nick Soulis, Sid Cichy, Paul Mooves and Warren Levasseur.

Only members of last year's first string who have reported are Joe Hovland, tackle, and Dennis Drews, hard-driving back. Still listed among the missing are such stalwarts as Marvel Deike, Tony Paliseno and Jerry Mulready who formerly was a member of the Minnesota Gophers.

Loosening up drills are taking up most of the time as Kostka prepares his squad for one or two spring practice games.

Squad members so far are:

Dash Comford, Alfred Hougum, Llewellyn Christenson, Bob Heer, Kenny Edmonds, Bubby Hazel, Don Matson, Jake Stapler, Bubby Drews, Eldon Seelig, John Maher, Nick Soulis, Paul Mooves, Maurice Anderson, Dean Amsden, Fred Scheel, Sid Cichy, Vern Strandemo, Joe Hovland, Douglas Fulks, Warren Levasseur, Dale Clausen, Don Laraway, James Holwell, Charles Dickens, Bill Byerly, Bill Stark, Neil Brunton, Oscar Berg, Marv Priske, Ken Jacobson, George Galloway, George Gorman, Bob Rosatti, Wally Rumrick, Sigurd Johnson, Jack Grenetti and Edward Leach.

Any men who are interested in trying out for the team may still report to Kostka at his office in the Field House.

Extensive Spring Sports Program At Concordia

Concordia college of Moorhead is planning a complete spring sports program including golf, track, tennis and baseball. In addition daily spring football drills are being held for some 25 grid candidates headed by six regulars from last year's eleven.

Efforts are being made to schedule spring games and meets against MSTC and NDAC provided both these schools have active teams in these sports. A tentative dual tennis match has been scheduled with Jamestown.

Dorm	11	16	.407

Second place Theta Chi meets the league leading Alpha Tau Omega team tonight in the feature game of this week's NDAC Interfraternity bowling league at the Grand alleys.

Other matches will pit the Sigma Chis against the Alpha Gamma Rho quint, the Men's Dorm against the Kappa Psis, and the SAEs against the Kappa Sigma Chi aggregation.

In last week's play the Kappa Sigs surprised the ATOs, taking two out of three from the league leaders. Other games found Theta Chi winning two out of three from the SAEs and the Kappa Psi quintet grabbing two out of three from Sigma Chi.

The results of the Alpha Gamma Rho-Men's Dorm matches were unreported and aren't included in the league standings. They will be announced next week.

Painter Attends Chemical Society Convention Today

By MEL MILLER

Dr. Edgar Painter, agricultural chemist and professor of biochemistry at NDAC, will have presented three technical papers when the 109th spring meeting of the American Chemical society being held this week in Atlantic City, N. J., closes tonight.

On Tuesday, Dr. Painter addressed the division of agricultural and food chemistry on the subject of nitrogenous constituents of flaxseed. III. On the separation of protein from flaxseed. [His paper dealt with methods of removing the protein fraction from the rest of the meal.

Speaking before the division of biological chemistry today, Dr. Painter will present two papers on selenium discussing progress which has been made on the chemical nature of the selenium compounds in plants.

Dr. Painter came to the chemistry department, N. D. Experiment station, NDAC, in 1940. He received his Bachelor's and Master's degrees at South Dakota State college and his Ph. D. in chemistry at the University of Minnesota. Aside from local publications, he has had one or more papers published in 14 different scientific journals
