Annual Greek Ball Scheduled Friday Night

Festival hall will be the scene of the annual Interfraternity ball, Friday evening.

Joe Hovland, president of the Interfraternity council, wants all students on the campus to know that the dance is not only for the Greeks, but for any students who wish to attend. The object of this dance, he states, is to better acquaint the Independent student and related organizations with the benefits of Greek life.

Informal dancing starts at 9 p. m., with the change to programs at 10. Tickets at $1.50 per couple may be obtained at the Book store, according to Don Hamilton, ticket chairman.

Don Hinz, assistant to Hovland, announces that Bob Cole's orchestra has been engaged for the revival of this annual affair. Arnold Troftgruben, in charge of decorations, rounds out the arrangement committee.

Guests for the evening will include Dr. and Mrs. Frank L. Ever-sull, Dean and Mrs. C. A. Sevrin-son, Dean Pearl Dinan, Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Cobb, Mr. and Mrs. Stan Kosta, Mrs. Jane Dobervich and Mrs. Eunice Burke.

RT Discussion Held By IRC On Vets Experiences In War

International Relations club's meeting Wednesday evening at 8 p.m. in the Fireside room of the college Y presented a round table discussion dealing with the experiences of eight returned veterans.

The 25 people in attendance found the discussion highly in-formative. A high light of Daley King's talk explained his work charting mine fields five miles off the coast of Japan in preparation for the invasion that never came. Winthrop Dada told of being shot down over Japanese territory and his subsequent rescue by Chinese Communist troops. He also explained the reward system for American personnel shot down over enemy territory. Stating that in many cases up to three hundred men were killed or wounded in the rescuing of one American flier, he closed by saying that one of his most enjoyable experiences of the war was the time spent in the cus-today of the Chinese troops.

Davy Sets Courses For Spring Quarter

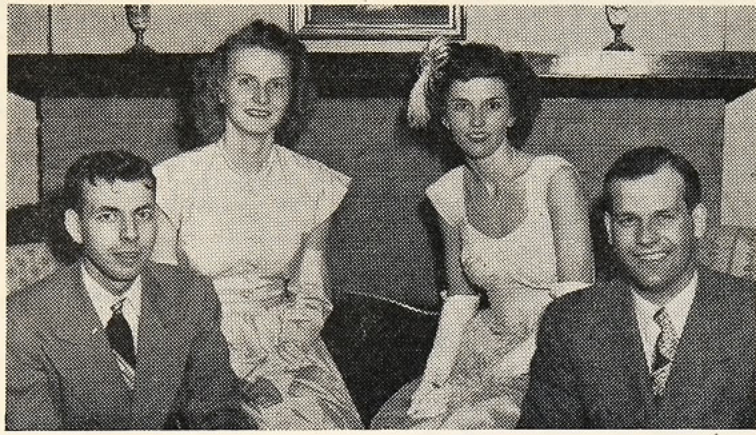

Dean Leita Davy, dean of home economics, announces a new home economics course that will be offered in the spring quarter for non-home economics students.

This course, home economics 240—preservation of foods, will be offered on Tuesdays and Thursdays from nine to twelve (two three-hour labs) for two credits.

Meeting Set For Today

Agricultural Engineers club will meet at 4 p.m., today, in room 10, Morrill hall to hear William Promersberger, assistant professor of agricultural engineering, discuss the four and five year curricula in this field.

Interfraternity Ball Leaders

FIRST IN LINE for the grand march at 10 p.m. of Friday's Interfraternity ball will be Joe Hovland, right, president of Interfraternity council, and his guest Miss Mary Howe with council vice-president Don Hinz and his guest, Miss Shirley Hulebak, second in line.

Panel Discussion Features Today's Religious Program

Highlight of today's program and one of the featured events of NDAC's Religious Emphasis week which closes Friday will be a student panel discussion in the Y auditorium tonight at 8.

Representatives of the various religious groups on the campus will discuss the subject Daily Christian Living with Rev. George R. Metcalf, main speaker of the week, serving as moderator of the panel consisting of Evelyn Thurneau, Methodist; Robert Maddock, Catholic; Doris Oliver, Episcopalian; Leo Vossler, Lutheran, Vernon Hathaway, Congrega-tional.

Two events will feature Friday's closing of the five-day conclave. Glenna Kjelland is chairman of the worship service to be held Friday morning at 7:30 in the Y.

Rulon Names Four To Staff

Four editorial appointments to The Spectrum staff have been approved by the Board of Publications Control, according to an announcement made this morning by George Rulon, editor of the campus weekly newspaper.

Jac Pushor, senior in applied arts and sciences, will be managing editor; Jeanne Wallerius, freshman in home economics, will serve as news editor; Adelaide Dinwoodie, applied arts and sciences junior, fills the make-up editor position and Kenneth Sachs, freshman in applied arts and sciences will assume the sports editorship vacated by Rulon when he became editor-in-chief.

Bolstad Addresses HC Chemistry Club

A. N. Bolstead will address the Chemistry club on The Chemistry of Nitro-Paraffins, March 13 at 8 p.m. in room 207 of the chemistry building.

The nitro-paraffins are a new group of organic compounds whose existence was not suspected until recently.

Mr. Bolstead is a graduate of St. Olaf college and has had one year of post-graduate work at the University of Minnesota. After serving four years in the navy, he is now working for his master's degree in chemistry at NDAC.

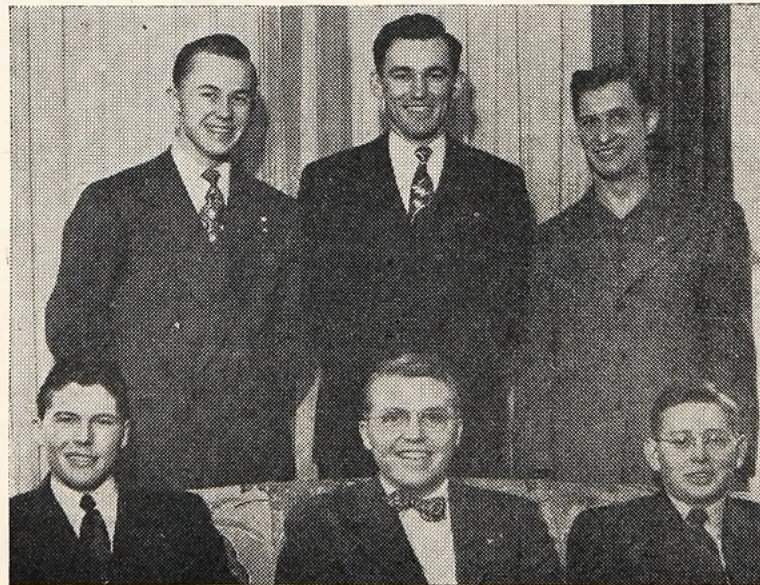

Harold Klosterman, student chairman of the 9:40 convocation in Festival hall, will introduce Rev. Dr. David J. Boyle, who will give the invocation; Rev. Metcalf, the principal speaker; and Rev. Paul E. Lauffer, who will give the benediction.

Zimmerman Takes Tryota Play Contest

Jo Ann Zimmerman, freshman in home economics, is the winner of the play contest sponsored by Tryota, home economics club, for her entry, Adjusting the Budget to Lower Incomes of the Postwar Period.

Her play will be entered in the national Tryota club competition, and she will receive a Tryota bracelet as an award from the local society when her play is staged here in May.

Phi Mus Picked Sween From These Men

Frank Sween, recently elected Phi Mu sweetheart, will be honored by the sorority at a Sweetheart banquet in the Fiesta room of the Gopher Grill, Saturday.

Mary Burfening, retiring chapter president, will present Sween with the official sweetheart scroll.

Band, Chorus To Present Annual Concert Tuesday

NDAC's concert band and mixed chorus under the direction of E. J. Schroepfer and Ernst Van Vlissingen will present their annual winter concert March 12 in Festival hall at 8:15 p. m. One hundred and forty students are included in the personnel of the two campus musical groups combining their talents in this musical feature of the term, open to the public.

Highlighting the program will be a piano solo, Romantic Waltz by Savino, played by Norma Gackle with band accompaniment. Also featured will be the Gypsy Baran Overture by Strauss which Mr. Schroepfer has transcribed for the band from the orchestral version.

Lionel Barrymore's Russian Dances and March Sarcastique from Hamlet written by Shostakovitch, well-known Russian contemporary composer, will be included in the program's third group of selections.

Presented in three parts, the program will include:

Group I—Band — March for Americans, Grafe; The Gypsy Baron Overture, Strauss; Romantic Waltz, Savino.

Group II—Mixed Chorus—To Thee We Sing; Tkach; Thee, God, We Praise, Tkach; Music When Soft Voices Die, Cain; He's Gone Away (Southern Mountain Song), Clokey.

Group III—Band — March Sarcastique from Hamlet, Shostakovitch; Russian Dances, Barrymore; Blue Moon, Rodgers and Hart; Rhapsody in Blue, Gershwin; Stars and Stripes Forever, Sousa; Battle Hymn of the Republic, Wilhousky, with chorus and band.

Edmonds Wins Y Sponsored Essay Contest

Kenneth Edmonds, Bismarck freshman in chemical technology, is the first prize winner in the YMCA sponsored Citizenship contest, according to results announced today by Vernon Hathaway, Y secretary.

Edmonds' winning essay elaborating on the slogan, NDAC and You—A School for Your Future and a Future for Your School will appear in next week's edition of The Spectrum.

Are YOU a Bison Booster is the slogan of the essay that won second prize money for Mary Herbi-son, a sophomore in home economics from Fargo. A freshman in engineering from Cathay, Richard Broschat, took third place with Let's See What Our School Can Be.

Honorable mention was given to Roland Bemis' entry for the excellent content of his theme along with the slogan, Directed Energy Pays the Dividend.

Prizes will be presented to the winners at a convocation early in the spring term.

Phi Kappa Phi Initiates

Phi Kappa Phi, honorary scholastic fraternity, initiated Marian Lien, Delores Fischbein, Jerry Weingarten and Clifford Erickson Monday at services held in the lounge of Old Main. Miss Lucille Horton was in charge.

Names Chorus For Brevities

Ernst Van Vlissingen announces that the following students will sing in the chorus of the Bison Brevities production, "H. M. S. Pinafore":

Jeanne Altendorf, Beverly Anderson, Edith Arneson, Gloria Bachman, Lucille Book, Helen Bransted, LaMae Daley, Kay Householder, Elizabeth Johnson, Ruby Johnson, Lorna Longwell, Marian Tiechman, Faye Tallack-son, Barbara Nelson, Donna Lith-erland,

Delores Patterson, Betty McDonald, Gloria Seidel, Irene Murphy, Shirley Ann Wilson, Virgene Olson, June Davis, Marilyn Ro-vaart, Alice Springer, Jeanne War-ner, Mary Harrington, Marjorie Brandt, Richard Broschat, Tom Byfield, Fred Grant, Don Hinz, Tom Humphrey, Ronnie Moir, Vernon Pepple, Ben Richardson, Raymond Skorheim, Ralph Simpson, Kenneth Sorvig, Floyd Sparks, Harold Stegner, Howard Thoradson, Stan Simons, and Arden Aanestad.

Honorary Plans Candlelight Vesper

Sigma Alpha Iota, honorary music sorority, will have a candle-light vesper service March 10 at 4:30 p.m. in Gethsemane cathedral.

A program of organ, violin and vocal numbers will include Pre-lude and Fugue in A Minor, J. Sebastian Bach, and Chorale by S. Karg-Elert, played by Mrs. Har-ris Mark; Processional SAI Cho-rale played by Mrs. Aubrey Hook; a vocal trio by Dorothy Reynolds, Lucille Vangerud and Virginia Ko-loen; Litanie Solemne and Cor-tege and Fanfare by Garth Ed-mundsen played by Miss Clara Pollock; Canzonetta from the violin concerto by Tschai-kowsky and Hebrew Melody by Joseph Achron played by Miss Elaine Kjerstad, accompanied by Adele Berquist, and Chorale Postlude by Alexander Guil-mant played by Mrs. Marks. The event is open to the public.

Student Lament

"Where'll we go tonight?" These words might well constitute the first line of a song entitled THE FARGO STUDENT LAMENT. For veterans, returning to the campus, have brought with them the social activities which were so badly missed during the years of war. What they haven't been able to bring with them, however, are places in which to hold the functions so necessary, particularly over the weekends, to keep Jack from becoming a dull boy.

Students need a place where they can mix with members of their own age group; a spot where they can dance, eat, play games, or just sit around and talk in an affable atmosphere. There is no such place in the Fargo-Moorhead area which even approaches these requirements, with the exception of private adult clubs whose membership is beyond the reach of the average student.

The ideal solution to this problem of ours is, of course, a campus Student Union, such as can be found on the grounds of larger or more heavily endowed schools. Since this is out of the question, it is apparent that we must talk up our needs wherever and whenever we can, in hopes that some enterprising promoter in this area will open an establishment which will cater to our social requirements. — T. C.

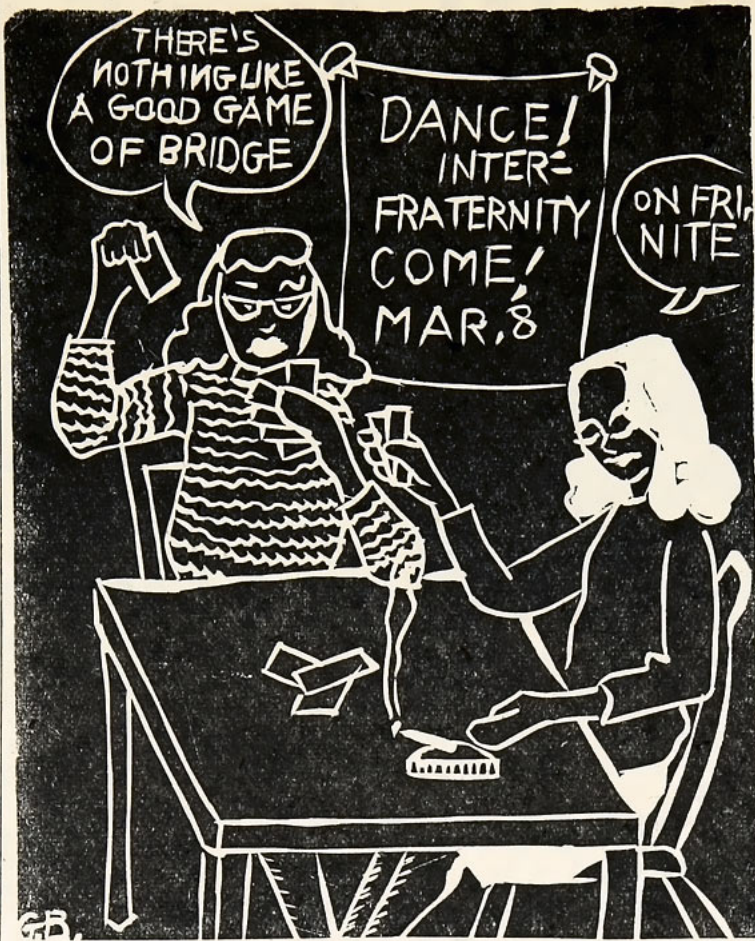

Apple Polishers Meet At Y Party Wednesday Night

Rosy red apples will be the order of the day when members of the YM and YW entertain the faculty at an Apple Polishing party in the Y March 13 from 8 to 11 p.m.

Lillian Larson, social chairman of the YW, is general chairman. Gloria Schreiner, entertainment; Helen Beauchamp, program; Gloria Asker, publicity; LaDonna Archer, decorations; Judith Gessner, refreshments; Iona Bolton, invitations; Helen Crews, cleanup will assist her.

A fee of 15 cents will be collected at the door. With a twinkle in her eye, but a firm note in her voice, Miss Larson declares, "Absolutely no credit!"

IRC Representative Wolfe Tells Convention Highlights

By A. D. MacGIBBON

That the UNO in its present form lacks the authority to maintain international peace and that educators and that students the world over have a responsibility in keeping the peace were two significant conclusions which Thomas Wolfe brought back with him when he returned Monday from the Mississippi Valley conference of International Relations clubs at Emporia, Kansas.

Wolfe represented NDAC's IRC at the conference which convened March 1-2 and was attended by nearly 300 students from some 50 colleges in seven states.

"It was pretty well agreed that the UNO is acceptable," he said in an interview yesterday. "It was its effectiveness that was questioned."

Wolfe, who claims he is not related to the author of "The Web and the Rock," is a native of New Leipzig, North Dakota, and a sophomore here in applied arts and sciences. Over a snack in Bill and Blanche's local eatery, he recounted that the principal speaker at the conference, Dr. Clyde Eggleton, had cited as an outstanding weakness of the UNO, "It has a definite inability to control atomic energy." Dr. Eggleton was technical expert of the U.S. delegation at the San Francisco conference.

"Eggleton gave us the impression that the responsibility for the reorganization of the UNO lies principally with the American people," Wolfe continued, between bites of pecan pie, "and he may be right!" Here he took a swallow of coffee for strength. "I personally think some changes will have to be made in the way the Security council is set up, especially in view of the atomic threat."

"As an American college student, what is your idea of the role education should play in helping to keep peace in the world?" we queried as he started to reach for the check. "That's a pretty involved question," Wolfe ventured cautiously. We repeated our query.

"Well, I'd say the role," he began thoughtfully, "the duty of every American — particularly of every student—is first of all to know the score on international affairs. If they really understand the situation they will support the UNO. They will raise their voices to bring about the changes that are necessary to make the UNO strong enough to handle the atomic threat."

"You seem to be pretty steamed up about it," we suggested.

He picked up the check again and put his hand in his pocket. "I am. It was a pretty interesting week end, that conference."

"May we quote you?"

"Sure," said Wolfe. He paid both checks.

Zoologists Aim Education For Intellect And Future

By Joyce Tindall

Dr. A. D. Whedon, head of the NDAC zoology department, stated in a recent interview, "Our fundamental aim is to educate for the intellect and the individual student."

Zoology includes the study of physiology, parasitology, embryology, bacteriology, comparative anatomy, and other miscellaneous sciences. Curricular alignments in this department vary slightly with the student's course, for among those enrolled are pre-medical, pre-dental, pre-nursing, and pre-technician students, as well as those in arts and science.

In charge of work done in the increasingly well-equipped physiology lab, is Dr. Edward Opton from Yale university. Dr. Whedon has over-all charge of the zoology department and more especially those classes in histology, parasitology, and embryology. He took his M. S. degree at the University of Iowa and was formerly head of the hot- any department at McKinley high school in St. Louis, Mo. He later obtained his doctor's degree at the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia.

Laboratory procedure in general zoology is a very comprehensive, survey of outstanding examples and experiments in various zoological fields. As evidence of this, the complete outline of a typical problem might include a history, examples, environmental relations, structure, and scientific importance of the members of a particular phylum. This selection is such as to supply the basis for the study of the larger principles of animal biology.

The approximate enrollment of the zoology school at present is estimated at 150, while over 200 are expected next term.

A little-known corner of Science hall is the museum on the second floor which is under the supervision of the zoology department. The exhibits provide concrete illustrations for actual laboratory work and though it was not built for general public use, it is open to any particular group who wish to use its facilities. Working an entire summer with some assistance, Dr. Whedon arranged and classified the entire material in the museum. A few of the main items include a rather distinct collection of North Dakota mammals and mammal-skins, made up several years ago in cooperation with the Biological Survey of the Department of Agriculture; a display of North Dakota birds, and some small collections of invertebrates for class demonstrations. The geology department's cases of minerals are also on display in the museum.

Courses in any biological science necessarily include instruction by several methods and when properly coordinated such a course gives invaluable training in the application of scientific procedure and technique, while providing a knowledge of the subject principles.

Student Reviews Russian Art

By Jeanne Wallerius

Russians must be very dynamic, emotional, gay people if they are like the Russian artists who have displayed their emotions through the media of the paintings now on display in the art department on the third floor of Science hall.

This exhibit of approximately 100 originals in oil, tempera, water color, charcoal, decor for the ballet, costume design, wood carvings, small pieces of wooden sculpture and book jackets arouse emotions of confusion, dislike, laughter, wonderment, admiration.

Most of the figures are very distorted and awkward looking. Brilliant shades in unusual combinations and many intricate designs within each picture characterize Russian painting. Although some of the figures tend toward the kindergarten style, they impart distinct feelings to those viewing them, and they prove the adage that polish kills true art.

However, realistic and cubistic works are also on display, as well as able parts—and the wood sculptures—some of them with movable parts—and the wood sculpture is very unique in design and technique.

These originals — pencil marks are still evident on some pictures—were procured from the Philadelphia Art museum; the paintings were shipped from a showing at the Speed Memorial museum, Louisville, Kentucky. They will be on display to the public through April. Local art clubs and classes have arranged to visit the exhibit.

Members of the NDAC Art club heard a discussion of Russian art at a Russian tea given by the Fine Arts club, Tuesday. Fine Arts club members and teachers of Fargo and Moorhead will be among the guests of the Art club at a tea, March 12.

Pertinent Impertinence

Appearing in the Weekly Spectrum way back in March of 1921 was an item announcing the adoption of a resolution by the college council... penalties were established for smoking in the college buildings. For the first offense, the prize was suspension from college for two weeks... for the second time the offender would be out of school for a whole term.

Then a month later another notice appeared. The same penalties were to be imposed on any person smoking anywhere on the AC campus... Might be interesting to find out if that law is still in effect... if so, there would probably be less than 200 students on the campus next term.

In another issue of a 1921 paper... all students were asked to put in the price of two quarts of gas to help buy a round trip ticket to Salt Lake City for the Spectrum representative... he was supposed to get the dope for the AC on how to run a college publication. Guess that boy never made it back here...

Committee for the Junior prom in 1915 decided to decorate the armory, now Festival hall, in the form of a box. Expenses must have been low that year... a big ribbon was all they'd need.

Going back to the old days makes us wish the days of Sir Walter Raleigh were here again... some of those puddles spotting the campus are of dangerous depth.

The editorial page of the Spectrum must be widely read... six persons turned up at the Coed prom last Thursday... one of them was costumed. As a result the affair was cancelled on the spot.

We might be safe in assuming that more students will turn out for the "seasonal" apple-polishing tea next week.

District 23 Tourney Enters Second Day On NDAC Court

Six high school basketball teams of Minnesota's District 23 remain in the running for the district title as the area's tournament enters its second day of competition on the NDAC Fieldhouse floor after first contests were played last night.

Tonight's opening game pits seeded Barnesville against Dilworth at 7:30 as Moorhead, co-favorite with Fergus Falls, faces Perham at 8:45 in the second contest.

Dilworth's Locomotives come into the district event as the dark horse after winning the west sub-district meet last week at MSTC. Perham was runner-up to Detroit Lakes in the east subdistrict at Detroit Lakes last week.

Last night's winners will oppose each other Friday in the first semi-final game at 7:30 with the winner of the Barnesville-Dilworth tilt facing the winner of the Moorhead-Perham fracas in the other semi-final match at 8:45.

The championship final between Friday's winning quintets is slated for Saturday night at 8:45 following a consolation engagement between Friday's losers at 7:30.

Deike Paces Bison Cage Scoring

Marvel Deike, sharp-shooting forward from Detroit Lakes, Minn., topped all scorers on the NDAC Bison basketball team during the past cage season, according to statistics compiled by The Spectrum sports staff and released for publication today.

Appearing in all the 22 contests played by Coach Bob Lowe's quintet, Deike tossed in an even one hundred field goals and 81 free throws for an offensive total of 281 points.

Deike's finest scoring performance of the year was in Friday's season finale against the South Dakota State Jackrabbits when the NDAC shot-maker sifted through the Bunnie defense for 20 counters on eight goals from scrimmage and half that many gift tosses.

Finishing second to Deike in the scoring column for the season but well back in the pack was Bruce Warner, Fargo's former all-state basketball star, who tossed in 158 points on 60 field goals and 38 free shots.

In addition to setting the pace for the Bison scoring machine, Deike and Warner were the only two men on the squad who appeared in all games and yet Deike was never ejected from the lineup on personal fouls while Warner's record in this respect was perfect until the final game against South Dakota State.

Only two other Bison finished above the century mark as the squad's season total dropped below one thousand tallies. Dennis Drews, out of the lineup for only one game, dumped in 149 markers while Dick Hilden totaled 136 points although he missed three tilts because of injuries.

Hilden got one more free throw than Drews, 32, but the steady Bison guard hit 59 times from the floor against Hilden's 52 field goals.

Jerry Mulready, fifth starter during the season, hit the nets for 83 points on 37 field goals and only nine free throws.

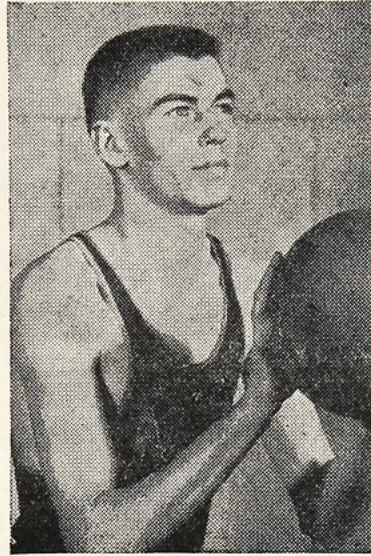

Lowe's second five as far as scoring was concerned includes Johnny Deutsch, Warren Hanson, Dan Polis, Bill Toussaint and Ken Jacobsen in that order.

Hanson, appearing in only six games before leaving school for the armed service, scored 43 points and Polis, playing in only nine games after returning to school from the armed services, tallied 36 counters.

As a team the Bison averaged 45 points per game against 45.27 for their opponents. Outscored by six points, the Herd racked up 382 field goals against 373 for the opposition but trailed at the free throw line, 250 to 226. A total of 395 personal fouls forced 26 Bison from the lineup while 16 opponents were ejected as the opposition committed 373 infractions of the rules.

Lead Herd's Offensive

South Dakota State Cagers Score 56-45 Victory Over NDAC In Basketball Finale

NDAC's Bison basketball team was ahead through the greater part of the first half Friday but South Dakota State came back in the final two periods to defeat Coach Bob Lowe's team 56-45 on the Fieldhouse court in the Herd's 1946 finale.

Playing before one of the poorest college basketball crowds of the season in the Fargo-Moorhead area, the Bison jumped into a 6-0 lead before the invading Jackrabbits netted a single free throw and by the end of the quarter the South Dakotans were on the short end of a 15-11 score. The Bunnies moved within three points at half-time, 30-27, although the Herd had enjoyed six-point margins of 19-13 and 24-18 and when the final period rolled around, South Dakota State led 39-36.

Marvel Deike tallied 20 counters on eight field goals and four free throws to pace the Bison attack and also to set an individual scoring record for a single game this season.

Coach Thurlo McCrady's five were in the lead 10-9 and 11-10 late in the initial period but Dennis Drews hit from well out on the floor to place the Bison ahead, 12-11, and the Herd never trailed through halftime.

After Bruce Warner's tally had given the Bison a 24-18 margin, the Bunnies rapidly closed the gap in the last four minutes of the half and were trailing, 28-27, before Deike registered his fifth basket of the half for the Herd's intermission advantage.

Six minutes remained in the third canto when the score was tied 32-all on a free toss by Duane Shefte for the Jackrabbits and from that point the visitors never were headed or tied.

Dick Hilden fouled out of the tussle midway in the third frame and his absence was keenly felt in the Bison lineup. Although he contributed only six points to the Herd's total scoring effort, Hilden was a steadying influence to the Bison offensive which operated through the first half in the smoothest manner seen on the home floor all season.

Loren (Dutch) Thornton was the top scorer for the South Dakotans. The husky forward hit the nets for six field goals and two free throws.

Heard About The Herd

By George Rulon

RETURN OF PEACE

to our country and the resumption of normal athletic competition among our many colleges and universities, especially the healthy rivalry between NDAC and the University of North Dakota, has also brought about the return of mud slinging on the part of certain writers on the sports staff of The Dakota Student, official UND student publication, which this writer does not think was justified.

These same writers have already been taken to task editorially by Eugene Fitzgerald, Sports Editor of The Fargo Forum, for statements made about the sportsmanship of NDAC students and FARGOANS who witnessed the first games of the annual cage series between the two schools on the Bison floor three weeks ago. I wish to add my bit.

The Nodak writers devoted columns and columns of copy in two editions of their paper to spiel about the rough tactics and unsportsmanlike conduct of the Bison basketball players. At the same time, these budding journalists went to great length in relating how nobly the Sioux had won all four games against such odds. They even insinuated that the booing was so great, the officials worked at a disadvantage.

If these same writers would check the record books of the series they would learn that actually North Dakota had two MORE personal fouls called on its team than did NDAC.

In addition, the Sioux center, Tom Amberry, indicated he isn't the man he might be either when he deliberately dropped the ball to the floor on a free throw attempt when the crowd yelled a little more than "His Nibs" liked.

Sigma Chi I took three straight games from the SAEs Wednesday to chalk up their second win in as many starts in the Intramural volleyball league. Kappa Sigma Chi and the Vets are other undefeated teams in the ten-team loop.

Today Kappa Psi faces the Dorm at 4:15 in the final match of the week.

Monday Theta Chi meets Sigma Chi II with Kappa Sigma Chi opposing the Vets on Tuesday. Both sessions are slated for 4:15. Wednesday's doubleheader pits the ATO six against the SAEs in the first game at 4:15 and the Gamma Rhos against the Dorm in the nightcap. Sigma Chi I tangles with the Vets March 14 at 4:15.

Theta Chis Take Three Games In Bowling Loop

Theta Chi fraternity swept through three straight games Thursday night over Alpha Gamma Rho to take over undisputed possession of second place in the Interfraternity bowling league at the Grand alleys.

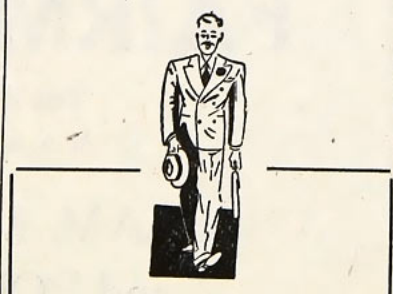

The clean sweep broke a three way tie among the Theta Chis, Gamma Rhos and Sigma Chis.

Phi Mu Sees Ninety-Fourth Anniversary

Zeta Iota chapter of Phi Mu celebrated the ninety-fourth anniversary of the founding of the sorority Monday. Phi Mu, the second-oldest fraternity for women, was announced to the world on March 4, 1852, at Wesleyan college in Macon, Ga.

A banquet was held Monday at 6:30 p.m. in the Star room of the Graver hotel. In charge of arrangements for the banquet were Ruth Twete and Helen Crews assisted by Mary Burfening, Marie Weinberger, Marilyn Myrah, Marie Gehring, Joyce Watson, and Rachel Ann Hanson.

Numbers on the program included a piano solo by Betty Johnson, a vocal duet by Betty Johnson and Helen Crews, announcement of newly-elected active chapter officers by retiring president, Mary Burfening, and newly elected alumnae chapter officers by retiring president, Mrs. W. H. Miller.

Phi Mu began the commemoration of its founding by attending Plymouth Congregational church as a group Sunday. Mrs. Helen Jents, organist, honored the group by playing the "Phi Mu Covenant" as a prelude to the service. The annual Founders Day ceremony was held by the active chapter at 7:15 Monday morning at the chapter house. Each member contributed 94 pennies, one for each year of the sorority's existence, to the national scholarship fund. The service culminated in the presentation to each girl of the sorority flower, the enchantress carnation, which was worn throughout the day.

POPs Hold Founders Day

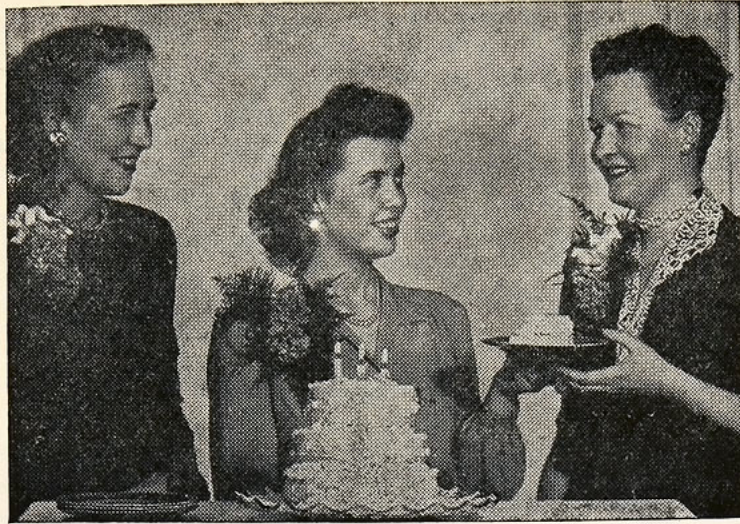

Zeta chapter of Phi Omega Pi held their Founders Day banquet Monday evening at the Graver hotel in celebration of the 36th birthday of the sorority.

Beverly Halbeisen served as mistress of ceremonies and Mrs. Leon Metzinger appeared as guest speaker.

Decorations carried out the sorority colors, sapphire blue and white.

Installation of new chapter officers, conducted by Jeanne Warner, retiring president, and Irma Lee Skolness, page, followed the banquet.

Cut Cake On Sorority Anniversary

FU Panel Discusses Future Of MVA In Dakota Area

Advantages of a Missouri Valley authority in the midwestern states were discussed Thursday evening in the Fireside room of the college Y by Don C. Matchan and Quentin Burdick at a meeting of the Farmers Union college local.

Mr. Matchan, president of the North Dakota committee for a Missouri Valley authority and editor of the Valley City Times-Record, is the author of various articles favoring the MVA based on his extensive trip through the Tennessee Valley authority project. Mr. Burdick, Fargo attorney, is secretary of the North Dakota democratic state control committee.

Dr. P. J. Iverson showed a film of the TVA and its accomplishments, and the college local board passed a resolution favoring the Missouri Valley authority to be sent to U.S. senators and representatives.

SAI Initiates Five At Sunday Service

Omicron chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota, honorary music sorority, initiated five girls at the Fine Arts clubhouse Sunday at 8 a.m., with Kay Householder, president, conducting the service.

Virginia Koloen was in charge of the arrangements.

New members are Elizabeth Christianson, a senior at MSTC, Mary Herbison and Phyllis Cummings, both sophomores in home economics at NDAC, Vida Seidel, a sophomore in arts and sciences on the campus and Lorna Longwell, NDAC junior in arts and science.

Following the initiation there was a breakfast for the active chapter.
