

Reverend Metcalf Heads Religious Week Program

Chaplain George R. Metcalf, advisor for Episcopal students at the University of Minnesota, will be the featured speaker of NDAC's Religious Emphasis week which opens on the campus Monday.

Rev. Metcalf has just recently returned to civilian life after serving in the army chaplain corps as a major with the 29th Infantry division and Third army headquarters, being chaplain to the late Lieut Gen. George S. Patton, jr.

Program highlights of the five-day conclave will include two all-college convocations Tuesday and Friday with Rev. Metcalf as speaker, luncheon meetings with various campus groups, a student panel discussion and Wednesday's all-college coffee hour.

A Harvard graduate, Rev. Metcalf landed in Normandy on D-day with the 115th infantry of the 29th division for which he was awarded the presidential unit citation. Other awards he has received include a bronze star with oak leaf cluster and the ETO theatre ribbon with five campaign stars.

Before joining Third army headquarters, Rev. Metcalf served as a chaplain in the London area.

In addition to serving as chaplain for the Episcopal students at Minnesota, Rev. Metcalf is vicar of Holy Trinity church at Minneapolis and honorary canon of St. Mark's cathedral of the same city.

Main events scheduled during the week are listed in the Call Board section of the Spectrum on page 4.

Lillian Nydahl, junior in home economics and YWCA representative on the Religious Emphasis week committee, is general chairman of the event, assisted by the following members of religious organizations: Clarence Johnson, YMCA; Harold Klosterman, Newman club and Melba Matson, LSA.

Dr. W. C. Hunter, Profs. Glen Hill and Rudolph Otterson, Miss Arlene Olmstead and Rev. A. C. Barnhart are advisors. Rose Anne Vogel is in charge of publicity.

Phi Mu District Prexy Inspects Local Chapter

Mrs. R. A. Rossberg, Phi Mu district president, is inspecting the Fargo chapter this week.

Since her arrival Monday, she has attended the Panhellenic luncheon Tuesday noon, a coffee hour Tuesday afternoon and a banquet with the alums Tuesday evening.

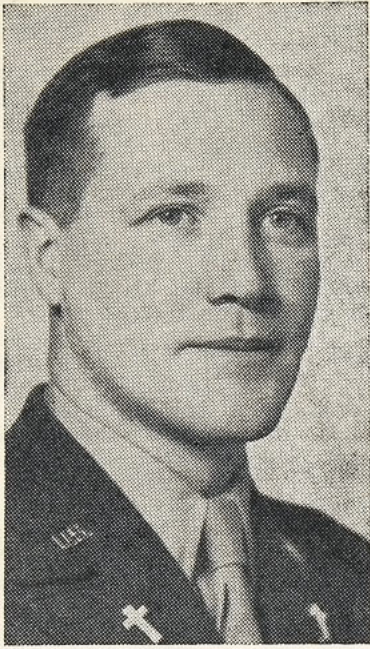

Mrs. Rossberg, now of St. Paul, is a Phi Mu from the University of California.

Former Student Dies Suddenly

Word has been received in Fargo of the death Saturday at Bismarck of Charles Emmett Johnson, former NDAC student and well known figure on the Bison campus.

A member of the band and Newman club, Johnson performed as a cheerleader and was a member of Theta Chi fraternity of which group he was president, vice-president and social chairman. At one time he was secretary of the Interfraternity council.

Johnson is survived by his father, Frank Johnson, of Bismarck and a brother, Tom, in high school. His mother died in January.

Groups Must Sign Events With Dean

All organizations, student or faculty, on the NDAC campus are reminded of the fact that any meetings or events planned by such groups must be registered on the events calendar in Dean C. A. Sevrinson's office prior to the desired date so that any conflicts may be corrected.

Recently, some confusion has arisen over failure properly to arrange for the use of campus facilities by certain organizations. To avoid such trouble and inconvenience in the future, all groups are asked to make certain reservations have been made in advance for particular facilities.

Wives Meet Tuesday

Miss Florence Day will discuss the problem of family budgets for veteran's wives in the Fireside room of the Y on Tuesday, March 5 at 7:45 p. m.

This is the second in a series of informal lectures conducted especially for wives of veteran students.

Don Matchan Discusses MVA

Don C. Matchan, editor of the Valley City Times-Record, will discuss the Missouri Valley authority at tonight's meeting of the Farmers Union college local at 7:30 in the Fireside room of the Y.

Matchan is an authority of the TVA and the proposed MVA project having published several articles and pamphlets on the advantages of an MVA in the mid-western states.

Reorganized last week, the local chapter of the Farmers Union elected John F. Maher, president; Wesley Gunkel, vice president; and Peter Konzak, secretary and treasurer. K. G. Hellebust, secretary and treasurer of the North Dakota Farmers Union and former NDAC student, was last week's guest speaker.

Brevities Men Name Initial Staff Members

Ellsworth Moe and Gil Spooner, publicity manager and general chairman and ticket chairman, respectively, for the Bison Brevities production, "H.M.S. Pinafore," have named the nuclei of their staffs, who will in turn appoint students to assist them.

Mr. Moe has selected George Rulon, Forum publicity; Jeanne Wallerius, Spectrum publicity; Dorothy Allen, Forum advertising; George Truesdale and Jac Pushor, radio publicity; Perry Clark, art; Alex MacGibbon and Lorraine Kibler, theatre advertising; Merle Miller and Jean Hendrickson, out-of-town publicity; Loreen Leeb, window advertising; Adelaide Dinwoodie, poster make-up.

Students named to aid Mr. Spooner include Ruth Ann Brown, make-up; Lillian Larson, script; Judy Gessner, costumes; Tom Challoner, stage manager; Don Viets, lights. Each campus organization will select a ticket chairman. Those chosen thus far are Jean Finnegan, Gamma Phi Beta; Cleo Nybeck, Phi Mu; Lawrence Vettel, Alpha Gamma Rho; John Craven, Kappa Psi; Mary Harrington, Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Bison Brevities will award a trophy to the organization collecting the most money from the sale of tickets.

Members of the publicity committee will meet Tuesday in room 9 of the administration building.

Campus Women Frolic Tonight At Annual YWCA Coed Prom

Lil' Abner, Daisy Mae, Dogwood, Smilin' Jack and scores of other comic strip characters will take over the Y for the 28th annual Coed prom tonight from 8 to 11.

IRC Delegate

TOM WOLFE, sophomore in applied arts and sciences will represent NDAC's International Relations club at an IRC conference being held at Emporia, Kansas, Friday and Saturday. Nearly 200 delegates representing 50 colleges will hear Dr. Clyde Eagleton, technical expert of the U.S. delegation at the San Francisco conference speak on a successful UNO in an atomic age.

Arvold Honors Play Casts With Post-Production Party

Over sixty dramatic students and guests were entertained by A. G. Arvold at a party given in The Lincoln Log Cabin of The Little Country Theater Tuesday night after the presentation of "Harriet."

This party honored the play casts of "Harriet," "Skin of Our Teeth" and "Our Town."

Presented to the group by the host and master of ceremonies of the evening, A. G. Arvold, was Leonard Viets, jr., five year old juvenile who was presented by the group with the coveted honor of "best actor of the evening."

Luncheon was served cafeteria style. Tables were arranged along the walls, seating the honored guests, and down the middle of the room, seating the play casts. Twenty guests assembled to honor the dramatic students. They were Beverly Halbeisen, Jean Halbeisen Braseth, June Probstfield Dobervich, Betty Pannebaker Cummings, Jean Cameron Heller Shupienis, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Sackett, Mrs. Agnes Weible Serkland, Mrs. Robert Feeney, Mrs. Louise Darrow Froeschle, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pollock, and Mr. and Mrs. John Pollock.

Eight Vets Address Next IRC Meeting

Eight veterans of World War II will conduct a general discussion of war experiences at the International Relations club meeting on Wednesday, March 6 at 8 p. m. in the Fireside room of the Y.

Those contributing to the program are: Johnny Sanders, leader of Chinese guerilla troops; Jim Eaton, navigator who flew over many of the European capitols; Daley King, who served on a submarine; Art Carlson, stationed in the Hawaiian islands; Leroy Naves, stationed in Italy; Bruce Bjorstad, who flew over Germany; Keith Christiansen, in charge of German prisoners in Germany and Winthrop Dada, who flew over China.

During the grand march at the conclusion of the prom, judges Misses Jessie Phillips, Violet Gruenwald and Constance Leeb will choose the most cleverly costumed characters.

Emceeding the program will be Edith Gelder. She will introduce Madelyn Forsyth, who will give a reading; Audre Remme, who will play her accordian; Gloria Seidel, who will sing.

Phi Kappa Phi Elects Four As Members

Phi Kappa Phi, honorary scholastic organization, will initiate four students Monday afternoon at 4:15 in Main lounge. They are:

Deloris Fischbein
Marian Lien
Clifford Erickson
Jerry Weingarten

Miss Fischbein, a senior, is enrolled in the school of home economics. Her extra-curricular activities are Phi Upsilon Omicron, YWCA, Senior Staff, and Phi Mu. In Phi Mu Miss Fischbein has held the positions of president and pledge trainer. The honor of having her name listed in the college section of "Who's Who" was awarded Delores this fall. Miss Fischbein plans on teaching home economics in North Dakota next fall.

Pharmacy is represented in Phi Kappa Phi now by Marian Lien, a senior. Pharmacy Club, Kappa Epsilon and Lutheran Students' association are numbered among her activities. Miss Lien's future plans are as yet indefinite.

Clifford Erickson, senior, is enrolled in Chemistry. Clifford is a member of the Chemistry club of which he is now president. In his freshman year, Mr. Erickson appeared in several Little Country Theater productions. His plans for the future are not definite.

Jerry Weingarten is a senior in the school of applied arts and sciences. For the last two years Jerry has assisted Dr. Whedon as an assistant laboratory instructor. Mr. Weingarten is a past vice president of Independent Students' association and reporter for the Spectrum. Jerry has applied to a medical school and hopes to enter there next year.

Mrs. Frank Eversull will supervise the social hour following initiation.

Veterans Hold Election At Monday Meeting

The NDAC Veterans organization will meet Monday at 4 p. m. for the purpose of electing officers and adopting a constitution. The meeting will be held in the "Y" auditorium. All veterans are urged to attend this meeting. A representative of the Veterans Administration will be present to answer any questions relative to veteran's education. He will also discuss the increase in pay the veterans

Religious Week

During the coming week all of us will have an opportunity to take stock of our spiritual selves as we participate in NDAC's annual Religious Emphasis week. That is if we take advantage of the privileges offered by such an event.

Many of us are too prone to sit back and trust that the other fellow will be in attendance at the various sessions because after-all, he's the one that needs that sort of thing. In all probability, those are just the sort of students that should take in every minute of the five-day program.

It behooves each and everyone of us to give the fine series of convocations, discussions and open forums our deepest thoughts and most serious consideration. Regardless of our personal religious beliefs, we will do no wrong in backing the Religious Emphasis week committee which has done so well in bringing a speaker such as Rev. Metcalf to our campus.

He is definitely a man who should appeal to us. Serving as chaplain for Episcopal students at Minnesota, Rev. Metcalf has a clear incite into the many problems which face students of our age today.

Man Hours Lost

During a time when such a premium is put on the man-hours spent in labor, it seems strange that the student body of this campus ignores one of the campus activities upon which more man-hours are spent in preparation than probably any other student project. To be more specific, it is apparent almost to the point of ridiculousness the poor student turnout for The Little Country Theater productions put on every six weeks to display the talent of the NDAC campus.

This year three plays have been given: "The Little Country Theater has a seating capacity of approximately 350. Each play was presented one night to an audience of around 325. The sum total of all attending would not equal the enrollment of the school this term.

One of the major complaints directed toward our campus is that the student energy seems placed more on social activities than on cultural activities.

In one fell-swoop the student body can eliminate this criticism which conjurs much worry on the part of the campus leaders.

'Harriet' Cast Plays Well

By CHARLES DILLS

Catering to the jaded taste of a provincial town, the Little Country Theatre presented the three-act play "Harriet" by Colin Clements and Florence Ryerson, Tuesday, February 26, at 8 p.m.

The play is a biography of Harriet Beecher Stowe and half the United States, to judge by the number of characters. It depicts Mrs. Stowe's struggle to get the inspiration and courage to write "Uncle Tom's Cabin." The passage of time was indicated by the appearance of quantities of new children in every act.

Harriet was very ably handled by Alice Walla, a Fargo freshman in home economics. Ernest Van Vlissingen gave a convincing performance as Dr. Lyman Beecher. Mayo Kucera as Calvin Stowe flitted around amidst the uproar and confusion acting perfectly natural. Alex MacGibbon capably portrayed his role as one of Harriet's brothers and prominent minister with the exception of a few forgotten cues.

Townpeople appearing in the drama were Murray Baldwin, manager of the Dakota clinic; Murray Weible, NDAC graduate recently discharged from the Air Corps and Betty Cummings, former NDAC student and secretary of the alumni association. Faculty members were Ernest Van Vlissingen, professor in music; Knute Henning, head of the department of architecture; Leonard Sackett, professor in English; Alfred Arvold, head of the speech department.

operator the knell of parting day was being struck as Gulp chapter of Beta Tau (local) approached the point of saturation.

Meantime a little known character named Smoe was competing with Gilberetta Gobbleknocker for nomination as sweetheart of that organization. Our readers will be gratified to know that the age of chivalry is not dead and that Gilberetta won the nomination on the strength of her legs (she has two of them). And beauteous they are, too . . . some women have legs by Petty, and some have legs by Varga but Miss Gobbleknocker has legs by Steinway.

We met her first at a scrap metal drive in the early days of the war. There we were. We had our little pot and she had that pan of hers. It was love at first fright. "Say something soft and sweet to me," she whispered. And we answered, "Custard pie."

As she put her hand in ours, we felt the touch of her dainty fingers . . . like five pieces of cold unsliced salami. Then the music started and we danced. We danced and danced . . . we light as a feather on our toes . . . she also light as a feather . . . also on our toes. We were at the place of the shooting star, at the time, and a hippopotamus walked into the room (the appearance of a hippopotamus is not at all unusual at that hour in some of the less frequented villas in western Minnesota). Said Gilberetta, as she eyed the beast suspiciously, "Is that hippopotamus a male hippopotamus or a female hippo?" Smoe who was watching us, answered, "The sex of that animal would only be of interest to another hippopotamus."

Heard About The Herd

By George Rulon

NDAC CAGE FANS

will have the opportunity to witness some fine high school basketball next week when the Minnesota District 23 tournament moves into the NDAC Physical Education building for a four-day stand Wednesday through Saturday.

Dilworth and Comstock have already gained berths in the eight-team event along with seeded Moorhead, Fergus Falls, Barnesville and Hawley. The remaining two quintets to round out the brackets will be selected in a sub-district meet which opens this afternoon at Detroit Lakes, Minn.

Opening round contests are slated for Wednesday and Thursday nights, the semifinal tilts Friday night with the championship game scheduled for Saturday evening.

on the NDAC rifle team scored 1,590 points from four positions in a postal match with the University of California varsity but California's total has not yet been received. Peter Fog turned in the best target for the Bison, 96, in the prone stage.

Pittsburgh university's squad defeated the Herd 1,391 to 1,260 last week in a postal match which included only three phases.

Bison Close Season Friday Against SDS

Coach Bob Lowe sends his Bison basketball team against the South Dakota State Jackrabbits Friday night at 8 on the Fieldhouse court in the Herd's final cage contest of the season.

The Bunnies move on to Grand Forks Saturday to close the North Dakota Sioux schedule with a game at the University armory.

Besides wanting to close their record book with a victory Friday, the Herd will be out to avenge a 62-45 defeat administered by the South Dakota quintet early in February when the Bison invaded the Bunnie stronghold at Brookings.

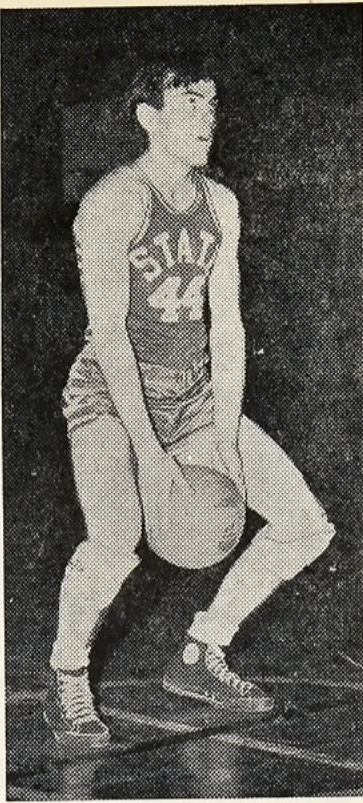

Thurlo McCrady, South Dakota State mentor, will present a well-balanced team sprinkled with veterans who appeared in Jackrabbit uniforms before the war and who have now returned to the Bunnie campus.

Johnny Billington, former all-conference guard, is the mainstay of the club which has piled up a creditable record after a not too outstanding start. Billington contributed nine counters against the Bison in the first game between the two fives and will figure in the Bunnie plans for Friday.

Christopherson, Jackrabbit pivotman, led the attack against the Herd at Brookings with 17 tallies. He was ably assisted by sharpshooting Thornton with 13 and Willis who garnered eight.

Lowe's usual starting lineup is expected to oppose the Bunnies at the start Dick Hilden and Marvel Deike at forwards, Jerry Mulready at center, Bruce Warner and Dennis Drews at guards should face McCrady's crew at the tipoff.

Jackrabbit Cage Performers

UND Sioux Sweep Cage Series From AC Winning Final Two Games at Grand Forks

North Dakota's Sioux scored a clean sweep in the annual North Dakota cage classic between the University and NDAC when the Nodaks took both games of the Grand Forks half of the series Friday and Saturday, 51-42 and 64-40.

As was the case in the first half of the four-game series at Fargo, the smaller Bison cagers were unable to cope with the taller Sioux hoopsters throughout four full quarters of play.

In the third game Friday, North Dakota jumped into first period lead of 15-9 but the Herd came back in the second quarter to outplay the Sioux as Coach Glenn (Red) Jarrett's quintet left the floor at the intermission with a slim 25-22 margin.

Tom Amberry, Sioux center, racked up 18 tallies to pace Friday's scoring while Dick Hilden was the top offensive performer for the Bison with 15 markers.

Amberry again was the principal point-getter for the Jarrettmen in the series finale as he sank eight field goals and a single free throw. Don Bell added 12 counters to the North Dakota total to tie Marvel Deike, top scorer for the Bison who had an equal number of field goals and gift shots.

Gamma Rhos Take Victory In I-M League

Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity captured two out of three games from Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity Wednesday for the first victory in the Intra-mural volleyball league which opened this week.

Theta Chi scored a clean sweep of three games as the Dorm forfeited to the "Buckingham Palace" team. Only other game this week pits the ATO squad against Sigma Chi I today at 4:15.

Monday Kappa Sigma Chi meets Sigma Chi II and Kappa Psi faces the Vets Tuesday. Both matches are slated for 4:15. Wednesday's doubleheader puts the SAEs against the ATOs and Sig I against Gamma Rho. Kappa Psi tangles with the Dorm at 4:15 March 7.

Sig Chi Frank Sween Is Phi Mu Dream Lad

Frank Sween, member of Sigma Chi fraternity and a sophomore in arts and science, was elected Phi Mu sweetheart from candidates of the six fraternities.

Nominees were entertained by the Phi Mus at potluck, Monday, February 25; the election followed. Other candidates included Don Campbell, Theta Chi; Louie Larson, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Bud Lanvy, Alpha Gamma Rho; Milton Sussenden, Kappa Sigma Chi; Don Horn, Alpha Tau Omega.

Mr. Sween succeeds Luck Wilson, member of the ASTP unit formerly stationed at NDAC. Mr. Wilson, member of the SAE fraternity, has recently been discharged from the Army.

The sorority will entertain Mr. Sween at a banquet.

Miller Made Kappa Phi

At a recent meeting of the chapter, Dr. C. E. Miller, professor in the pharmacy department, was given the title of honorary member of Kappa Psi.

Six pledges have joined the ranks since the beginning of the term. They are: Vernon Bursch, Samuel Smith, Earl Chase, Ted Tiegen, Harold Nelson and Harlan Kraft.

Plans are being made to hold our annual winter term party at the Graver hotel Friday night. The event will be a dinner dance beginning at 7 p. m. Members of the alumni association and sponsors have been invited to attend.

Thomas Helfrich was initiated into Beta Sigma chapter at a recent meeting. Tom has been a pledge of the fraternity since before the closing of the house in '43.

'Y' Corner

Those who have not yet entered the citizenship contest sponsored by the Y are reminded that the contest closes March 1. Prizes of three trips to Lake Geneva or awards amounting to $75 will be awarded for brief, catchy slogans that can be applied to the NDAC campus to stimulate spirit, tradition and pride.

Clem Elliott of Minneapolis, area student secretary for the YMCA, will pay a visit to the campus, March 5 and 6. He will be available all day Tuesday and Wednesday to any men desiring personal conferences.

All the members of the YMCA will meet Tuesday evening to discuss current Y objectives and to get acquainted with Mr. Elliott. Group singing and refreshments will round out the program.

More girls are needed to register for the advance dancing class.

Wide Interest About Bread Display

Approximately 200 housewives, high school and college students inspected the bread baked by standard experimental baking methods in the college cereal technology laboratory using flour produced under the federal government's ruling that flour extraction be raised to 80 per cent March 1.

JUDGE'S DECISIONS

All judges indicated that crust color was satisfactory except that the 85 per cent extraction would be unsuitable for a light colored product. The shape and size of the 70 and 80 per cent loaves were judged favorable, but the 85 per cent loaf was thought to be a little small and abnormal. Flavor was satisfactory to some for all extractions, but others detected a pronounced nutty flavor and odor in the 85 per cent bread. Some of the judges objected to the grayish-tan color of the 80 per cent product, as did some of the visitors.

PUBLIC'S VIEW

The majority of the public viewing the bread voiced no reluctance to using either of the higher extractions. Those who preferred the darker breads in their homes favored the 85 per cent extraction, while those who disliked the nutty or wheaty flavor preferred the 80 per cent loaf.

SUGGESTIONS

Both judges and visitors suggested that two flours be milled, one of 70 per cent and one of 85 per cent extraction, thus giving the housewife a choice of white and dark bread and allowing some white flour for pastries, instead of having all 80 per cent flour.

Interest was expressed regarding an exhibit showing the effect of these flours in cakes.
