Blue Key Picks 'Pinafore' As Bison Brevities Vehicle

"Blue Key's 1946 Bison Brevities will feature the Gilbert and Sullivan musical "H.M.S. Pinafore," Ernst Van Vlissingen, director of the production, announced today.

Dates for its presentation have been set for April 21 and 22 with casting to begin next week.

The show has two purposes, that of providing an opportunity for the students to take part in such a production and to provide funds for a scholarship given annually to a student in the college.

"This has been traditionally the largest single student activity on the campus during the school year.

However, the war years and accompanying reduction in enrollment left the college somewhat barren of talent in the field of dramatics. Consequently the Brevities was discontinued," Van Vlissingen declared.

"The scores have been sent for and are expected to arrive within ten days. That means we should be able to start rehearsals in about two weeks.

"Although most of this talent for the musical will be drawn

Robeson Here Tuesday As Lyceum Guest Artist

Paul Robeson, Negro baritone, will appear Tuesday evening, January 29, at 8:15 in Festival hall on the fourth program of the thirty-fifth annual lyceum series.

PAUL ROBESON

Renowned abroad as well as at home, the star has triumphed on Continental Concert tours and in London. In drama, he has been hailed as a success in "Emperor Jones," "Black Boy," "Othello" and many other plays. His songs are preserved on the screen and on more than 300 records.

As a hobby, he has learned to speak Russian, French, German, Italian and Spanish, and to read twenty other languages including Gaelic, Chinese. Bowling, chess and pock-billiards are his favorites for recreation.

His interest in the mechanics of sound resulted in his invention of an electrical device he calls Cynthia, which now accompanies him on all his trips. Professor Harold Burriss-Meyer of Stevens Institute of Technology helped him to perfect the instrument. When placed in the wings it enables the singer to hear himself as he sounds to the audience, yet it remains undetected.

Mr. Robeson's college career gave ample indication of his present greatness. He was pronounced "the perfect type of college man" at Rutgers university from which he graduated as class valedictorian.

Besides winning an "R" in baseball, football, track and basketball during his undergraduate days, he was accepted into membership in Phi Beta Kappa in his junior year. He is now an editor of "The American Scholar", the official organ of that society.

Lawrence Brown, an arranger of Negro spirituals, has been Mr. Robeson's accompanist since his first public concert.

Cut System Proposed

One of the problems of major concern upon the campus is the lack of a uniform system of cuts. This problem existed last year, but it didn't pass unnoticed. A group of interested students met several times to try and formulate a feasible plan that could be adopted by the College Council.

The following is the recommendation which was approved by the committee of students and Student Commission. Last year, third term, the final draft was submitted to the council. No definite action has been taken upon it.

The Student Commission, upon the request of the student body as a whole, respectfully submit, for approval by the College Council, a new and uniform system to govern absences. The reason for this request is to:

1. Assure uniformity to all students, no matter where they are enrolled.
2. To eliminate the present confusion, and in some cases injustices, which exist due to the severity or laxity of some departments or instructors.

The reasons for the various proposals listed below are:

1. That scholastically high ranking students should have the confidence of the faculty in that they will not misuse special privileges.
2. That penalties for misusing the absentee regulations should not reflect in reduced grades, but in some other way. For lack of a better system, the students propose to increase the number of credit hours necessary for graduation on the basis of one extra credit hour for every unexcused absence. It is the hope of the students that they may be permitted to have two unexcused absences in each course without bringing on the above mentioned penalty.

PROPOSED NEW ABSENTEE SYSTEM

- I. Excused absences for the following must be accepted by instructor:
 1. Illness,
 2. Illness of immediate family or bereavement,
 3. Excused by academic dean, or
 4. By arrangement with instructor.
- II. For the third unexcused absence and for each additional absence in any course, the student will be punished by requiring one extra credit hour for graduation. There will be no reduction of marks. The instructor must notify the student after the second unexcused absence.
- III. 1st Term Freshman are allowed no absences (except as above).
 2nd or 3rd Term Freshman with average in preceding term 2.7 or above—no excuses for absences necessary.
 Sophomores with average in preceding term 2.3 or above—no excuses for absences necessary.
 Juniors with average in preceding term 2.0 or above—no excuses for absences necessary.
 Seniors with average in preceding term 2.0 or above—no excuses for absences necessary.
- IV. Exceptions to the freedom of unexcused absences:
 1. The instructor has the right at all times to tell a student that his average in that particular subject does not warrant continuation of the unexcused absence privileges.
 2. The instructor may specifically advise a class that an important demonstration will be presented; in such cases no one may take an unexcused absence.
 3. Any pre-announced examination period may not be taken by any student as an unexcused absence, regardless of average.
 4. No unexcused absences will be permitted by any student, regardless of average, in laboratory periods.
- V. The mechanics of the new system could be worked out, we believe, as follows without undue hardship on the part of the registrar:
 1. The registrar will furnish each instructor at the beginning of each quarter with a list of names and averages of every student having a 2.0 or above average for the preceding quarter.
 2. Each instructor must state on the report card which he sends to the registrar how many unexcused absences the student took. He should not include in list:
 - a) excused absences
 - b) the first two unexcused absences
 From this the registrar can record the number of extra credit hours the student needs for graduation. These rulings shall apply to all schools in NDAC and supersede any plans previously set forth.

Bits About Brevities; Buildup On Baritone

By Jeanne Wallerius and Jac Pushor

BISON BREVITIES RETURN

Veterans aren't the only commodity returning to the campus these days. . . . Blue Key is back with the Bison Brevities. The all-college production will hit the campus April 21-22.

Way back in the '20's, Gay Cat day unveiled student talent in vaudeville routines. When Blue Key saw possibilities for all-college shows, fraternities and sororities carried the ball and vied in presenting the best skits. The Kappas and the ATO's took the prizes in the initial contest. That was in '29.

Henry and Morris Olson, turned out a musical comedy for the '33 edition. . . . and the entire affair was staged by students.

When productions went professional, audiences heard, "No, No, Nannette," "Tangerine" and "Too Many Girls." And in '42, Shirley Putz, Norbert Lange, Genevieve Lindemann and John Sanders starred in Victor Herbert's operetta, "Sweethearts."

And the "H.M.S. Pinafore" is the vessel that brings back the glamor and excitement of opening night.

ALL-STAR ROBESON

Paul Robeson is the man who couldn't make up his mind about his life career. . . . whether to go in for law, the theatre, professional boxing. . . . or singing.

A giant of a man, Robeson, six-foot-three, will highlight the next lyceum, January 29.

Just last year he received his fifth academic degree. But Mr. Robeson is not the only scholar in the family. . . . his wife is working on a doctor's degree at Hartford Seminary. She has written several books. . . . one about her husband.

CHANGE OF DUTY

Six ex-service women are doing book-duty on the campus this term. The Waves have the lead with Wanda Beattie, Mary Jean Fehr, Edith L. Grinde and Margaret Woll. Luella Monroe and Carol M. Omodt are ex-Wacs.

Series from Ceres

A famous poet whom we number among our close friends once took his pen in hand and inscribed upon the memo pad, which he carried with him on all occasions, the following words:

"Snow, snow, beautiful snow; step on a hunk and away you go!" We will not discuss in detail his source of inspiration for this gem of rhythmic verse. We will merely state that his experience has been wide and varied enough to permit free and easy handling of such a delicate subject as that wonder of nature, snow.

NAVY NEWS

Laverne Zabel said goodbye to two sailors in the same afternoon—one fellow's from Binford, the other from Fargo.

END OF A PERFECT LEAVE

Betty Fernow's "Bob," who has been at Fargo off and on since his leave began at Christmas time, has finally returned to his navy station.

HOMETOWN BOY MAKES GOOD

We hear that Bob Alme is the man in Roberta Hegge's life. He just returned to their hometown, Drake, after spending a week here at Fargo.

TIME AND TIDE—

Time waits for no one. But can we convince POP pledge Marlys Haarsager of that fact? The other night she went to sleep holding the alarm clock.

Editor Seeks Cooperation For AC Goals

One of the supposed attributes of a group such as the student body of this campus is cooperation. There probably isn't on campus a more concentrated source of potential energy than the united action of an active student body.

During the year there haven't been too many shreds of evidence leading one to believe that AC students work and respond as a united group.

But facing us this week will be at least four opportunities for the student body to show that they are an active, vital force willing to back causes which promote the general welfare of the college. Let us not leave behind by our actions any doubt as to our power for those who might wish to term the action of the students on this campus as apathetic.

Guidon Sponsors

Guidon has taken upon its shoulders the responsibility of collecting $125 toward the furtherance of the March of Dimes campaign. It isn't necessary to list the attributes and gains received from making this drive a success.

Clothing drive sponsored by Tryota ends tomorrow. Although there are no complaints as to the quality of garments submitted, yet there is much to hope for in the way of quantity. There will be no house to house campaign. This drive is for your convenience; you will not have to take your clothes to one of the local schools. How many of us can say we really made a sacrifice of some kind to this campaign?

Post Cards Sent

Last week eighty post cards were sent out requesting an answer in regard to a proposed bus service for the part of Fargo East of Broadway. Here is an actual statistical point for my stand—only forty-five returned their cards. If this campaign for the good of those students concerned is to be something feasible, then the opinion of all concerned must be known. The thirty-five who failed in their reply can by their action make it impossible to carry through such a plan for those interested.

Saturday we have a basketball game. In what better way can a school show its spirit than by having a good cheering section. Cheering is just one of the more subtle ways in which a student body shows its cooperative spirit. The University-AC series comes up next month. If for no other better reason than to out-do our Country-Club Competition, let's start practicing.

Eversull Urges Veterans To Join National Groups

Veterans held their second meeting of the year in the "Y" auditorium Monday afternoon. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss the constitution and also to set a date for the election of officers for the organization.

Principal speaker for the group was President Eversull. He advised the veterans in regard to formation of the organization and purposes for which such an organization might exist on the campus. He urged the veteran to join some national organization which has been established just for that purpose instead of forming a similar group on this campus.

First and third Monday nights at 4:00 p.m. were set for future meetings. The meeting place of the group will be the college "Y." Nomination committee will meet today to draw up a slate of candidates.

Joe Maynes: "Nuts!!!"

Ruth Ann Brown: "Depends if they're married or not."

Wave Interviewed On Navy Life Of Over Two Years

"No one knows how wonderful it seems to be out of the Waves," was the remark made by Mary Jean Fehr, while packing away her Wave uniform after two and a half years in the Navy.

Miss Fehr, who registered again this term, was a student in the school of pharmacy and a member of Kappa Delta sorority at NDAC for two years before joining the Navy.

In Miss Fehr's opinion the most wonderful way to receive an education is through the GI bill.

After settling down to a regular routine, this new college life seems very quiet compared to the college life that she knew before the war.

Her main difficulty now is to make herself study.

"I find everyone so reserved and quiet compared to the way college students used to be," remarked Miss Fehr, who joined the Waves in the summer of 1943 after having what she called a "brainstorm."

She received her preliminary training at Hunter college where she was given the rating of pharmacist's mate. Upon completing her training, she took up Navy duty in Oakland, Calif. There her job was to buy and sell drugs.

Miss Fehr liked the Navy, but she said, "It's not all that it's built up to be."

Merit Standards

Scholarship, citizenship, personality, leadership, perseverance, resourcefulness, patriotism and general worthiness are the criteria by which the applicants will be judged.

Form of Application

The Foundation Trustees furnish a blank entitled "Memorandum of Required Facts," which must be filled out in typewriting and made a part of the student's presentation. The Trustees do not furnish any other blank nor do they insist on any special form of application or presentation. They prefer that each applicant use his own ingenuity in presenting his case.

Rules for the contest and application form can be obtained from the office of either the dean of men or dean of women. You can also obtain them from the Elk's Lodge nearest to your home. In Fargo address your request to Scholarship Committee, Fargo Elks Lodge No. 260, Fargo, N. D.

Filing of Applications

In order that your Lodge may have an opportunity to judge your application and forward it to the State Committee, your application must be filed with them not later than Feb. 15, 1946.

Deloris Barker of Harwood, N. D. is the most recent winner of a prize in this contest. She was the recipient of two $25 war bonds in 1945. Madilyn Johnson of Fargo won an award in the Elks Scholarship Contest in 1944.

Sunday LSA Meeting Features Borgwardt

Bob Borgwardt, student interne at the First Lutheran church, will be the guest leader of a Question Box at LSA, Sunday, January 27 at 5:00 p.m. Team captains for the evening will be June Carlson and Louis Larson.

Gertrude Walck's piano playing was the feature attraction of the LSA meeting Sunday, Jan. 20. Miss Walck's rendition of "Onward Christian Soldiers" had five variations: as a five year old would play it, as a "one day a week Christian" plays it, as a funeral march, as a high school pep march, and as a grand march. Tobogganing at Island park followed the program and supper.

Trailer Residents Outline Policy

Kenneth Hillier was elected the temporary chairman of the executive committee which will draw up plans for establishing the trailer house group on a city government basis at a meeting held January 21 in the college Y.

Of the 80 trailer houses on the campus 35 have been occupied and the remainder are expected to be ready for residence by February 15.

These trailers are classified into two types—the expansible and the standard trailer. Sixteen of the expansible trailers are steam heated moderns and are designed for families. The 42 smaller trailers are for couples.

Rhoades Scholarships Resumed This Year

Elections to select Rhoades scholars from the United States will be resumed this year, the first time since 1939. The winners will enter Oxford university in England in October 1947.

In addition to the 32 regular appointments in the United States, the Rhoades trustees have created 32 war service scholarships. Eligible for these are men between the ages of 19 and 25 who have completed a year of war service. Included in this is civilian war work. All applications must be registered by Nov. 2.

Among the 20 North Dakotans who have received Rhoades scholarships since 1904 when they were first granted, are three Fargoans.

Adda Blakeslee Retires From Active Musical Life

Miss Adda M. Blakeslee, voice instructor at NDAC, has resigned from her position and leaves today for Los Angeles California, to live with a nephew, Joseph A. Blakeslee.

Miss Blakeslee has been in charge of the girls' glee club and has been giving voice lessons since 1925 when Dr. Putnam requested her to become a member of the AC music department. She is patroness of Sigma Alpha Iota, national professional music sorority, and Kappa Delta sorority on the campus.

MISS ADDA BLAKESLEE

All-College Coffee Hour on Wednesday honored Miss Adda Blakeslee, who has resigned her Music connections with the college after twenty years of service. Miss Mathilda B. Thompson and Miss Pearl Dinan, faculty patronesses of Sigma Alpha Iota, were in general charge of arrangements, with actives and pledges of Sigma Alpha Iota as assistant hostesses. Kathryn Householder, campus president of Sigma Alpha Iota, was in charge of receiving the guests and Elizabeth Grosz was in charge of the table. Miss Marguerite Beard, of the college music faculty and a member of Sigma Alpha Iota, poured. Invited guests from off the campus were alumna and patronesses of Sigma Alpha Iota. Following the Coffee Hour the patronesses met informally with Miss Blakeslee and presented her with a gift.

Convocation

Dr. Frank L. Eversull will deliver the convocation address tomorrow morning at 9:40 in Festival Hall. It is the usual custom for the president of the college to give an address each quarter. Elizabeth Lewis, Bismarck, will sing two numbers.

Heard About The Herd

By George Rulon

returns to the sports page of the Spectrum after an absence of nearly three years during which time one of its former authors, Owen Langen of Fergus Falls, Minn., made the supreme sacrifice April 21, 1945, on Okinawa.

Langen served as sports editor of the Spectrum from the time he entered NDAC the fall term of 1942 until he was called into the army at the end of the winter quarter in 1943. His successor, Jack Rilling of Fargo, carried on briefly until he too was called to duty with the 1944 advanced ROTC class. Rilling is now stationed in the Philippines as a lieutenant.

Both men were members of Sigma Chi fraternity on the campus.

BISON FANS

should be able to breathe much easier now with the announcement from Stan Kostka, NDAC head football coach, that he has not yet accepted or rejected the coaching offer from Lehigh university, Bethlehem, Pa.

Although the offer from the Pennsylvania school was attractive, Kostka, after four years of service in the navy, wants to settle down with his family and feels that he would be more satisfied with the entire setup—both on and off the campus—here than he would be at Lehigh.

The former Minnesota grid great is expecting the Bison eleven of next fall to show fine possibilities as soon as spring practice can get under way what with the holdovers from the 1945 edition and the many returning veterans and new high school talent that will enroll next September.

GOING OUT

on a limb to pick the winners of various athletic events has been a passion of mine for many years but this week I feel that I can pick ten basketball games in this area which should be such cinches that anyone who would care to could make book on them. Here they are with the winner of each game in boldface type:

Tonight

Wahpeton at Ellendale.

Friday

St. Cloud at MSTC.
Valley City at Mayville
Morningside at USD
Jamestown at Minot.

Saturday

NDAC at Bemidji
St. Cloud at UND
Iowa Preflight at S. D. State

Monday

Mayville at NDAC

Tuesday

Valley City at MSTC

Herd Defeats MSTC Dragons Again, 38-25

Marvel Deike scored 16 points last night to pace the Bison to a 38-25 victory over their intercity rivals, the Dragons of MSTC, on the Fieldhouse floor.

NDAC's win was not as easy as the final score might indicate. The Dragons set the pace throughout the first half and it wasn't until 1:25 of the third stanza had elapsed that the Bison took their initial lead at 16-14.

Maurice (Chubby) Ness opened the scoring with a basket for the Dragons and although the Bison tied the score four times in the first and second quarters, MSTC was out in front at halftime, 14-12, after a 7-all tie ended the initial stanza.

John Deutsch tied the score at 14-all as the third period opened and Deike looped in his first of five field goals scored in the second half to place the Lowemen out in front for the first time at 16-14. Ness tallied a free throw before Virgil Robinson and Bob Dodds sank two-pointers for the Dragons and it was up to Deike and Dennis Drews to counter with two baskets for the Herd as the Bison went back into the lead to stay at 20-19.

Deike scored twice more and Bruce Warner added a field goal to the Bison total before the period ended with NDAC ahead, 26-23.

Dodds scored from the floor for the Dragons after two minutes of the final canto had passed to bring MSTC within a single point, 26-25, but from that moment the rest of the scoring was all NDAC.

Veterans, ATOs Vie For Basketball Championship

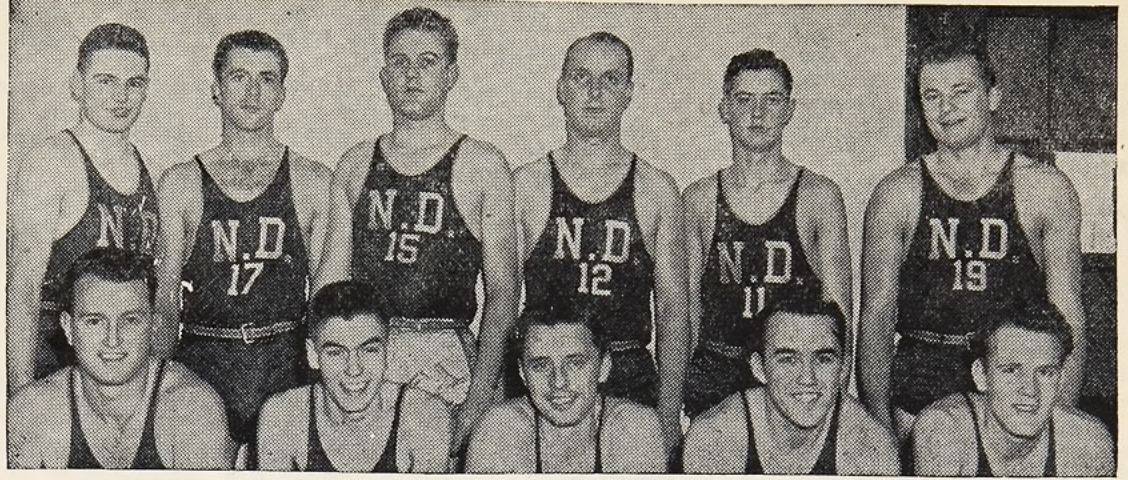

The Alpha Tau Omega Intramural basketball team trounced the Sigma Alpha Epsilon quintet Wednesday night 40 to 22, thereby assuring themselves of a place in the intramural championship finals opposite the Veterans' aggregation.

Robert Cook and Andrew Meyer, ATO forwards, paced their team mates with six buckets apiece. The SAE's frustrated attack was led by Irvin Wangness who netted four field goals and four free throws.

Defeating the Dorm and Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity by scores of 15-4 and 22-16 respectively, the Vets basketball quintet won the right to play in the finals of the Intramural basketball league Feb. 1.

The championship game, scheduled as a preliminary contest to the NDAC-Augustana clash, will pit the Vets against the SAEs or the ATOs. These two teams played last night as a preliminary to the Bison-Dragon contest.

NDAC Cagers Meet Bemidji Saturday

Stan Kostka Happy To Be Back, Looks Forward To Spring Practice

"I'm plenty happy to be back on the NDAC campus and am looking forward to spring football practice with a great deal of interest."

That's the word from Stan Kostka, Bison football mentor, who earlier this week figured prominently in reports from various sources that he had been offered the grid coaching position at Lehigh university, Bethlehem, Pa.

Back on the campus since December 1, after a four year leave of absence from the college during which time he served as a commissioned officer in the navy, Kostka admits that he has been offered the Lehigh position but that he definitely has not made any final decision one way or another.

Right now he says he is more interested in settling down, being with his family and getting back into the swing of football after three years without any contact with the sport.

Though away from the Bison staff four years, Kostka did spend one season on the staff of Bernie Bierman at the navy's Iowa Preflight school.

Naturally it is too early for any comments on the Herd's 1946 possibilities, but Kostka is enthusiastic over his plans for spring practice. Besides the returning candidates from the 1945 edition of the NDAC eleven, several experienced men of other seasons have returned to the campus during the winter term and will be available for spring practice.

COACH STAN KOSTKA

Lowemen Score Win Over Dragons, 44-33

Displaying their poorest form of the season, NDAC's Bison basketball team defeated the MSTC Dragons, 44-33, in the first contest of a two-game series on the MSTC floor Saturday.

Bruce Warner, playing at forward instead of his usual guard position in the absence of Dick Hilden, paced the Herd's winning attack with four field goals and three free throws. That total tied for the game's scoring honors with Maurice (Chubby) Ness of the Dragons who also tallied eleven counters on three goals from the field and five gift shots.

MSTC led 6-5 at the end of the first period but the Bison pushed into the lead during the second stanza and held period advantages of 22-15 and 31-20.

Third Bison-Cobber Tilt Announces For Feb. 4

A third basketball game between the Bison and Concordia college's Cobbers has been scheduled for Feb. 4. Rubber tilt of the series, the game will be played on the Bison court.

Students of both schools will be charged 25 cents admission in addition to the presentation of their student activities tickets at the game.

Skin Of Our Teeth Seen As Confusn', Amusin' Comedy

"A delightful and unusual comedy of the optimistic Antrobuses," is the Way Miss Constance West, producer of "The Skin of Our Teeth," describes the play that will be presented January 31.

It is definitely something "different" in the line of plays. Symbolism and reality often come to grips much to the confusion of the audience.

For instance, the first act takes place in a nice little home situated in Excelsior, N. J. Furniture, sets, clothing are modern. Action—Mr. Antrobus sends singing telegrams announcing the invention of the alphabet and the wheel. Characters—the regular family personalities augmented by a few confused and befuddled dinosaurs, mammoths, and B.C. characters, such as the Greek Muses, Moses, and blind Homer. Situation—glaciers from the "Glacier Age" are about to descend upon the house.

It is from just such an event as this glacier from which the Antrobuses escape that the play gets its name. Man is always escaping one catastrophe after another by the skin of his teeth.

But none of this is in comparison to some of the action. As you sit there calmly expecting just "another" play, flats and drops start rising into the loft, women cry in the audience, ushers start bringing up chairs for fire-wood, conveners come running through letting you in on the inside of what convention time in Atlantic city is like.

But none of this action is without its basis. The satire on conventions included in the second act, though it may throw you into a panic, is too reminiscent of events you've seen to be very far from having you laugh at your own father. Or isn't he the type that dons a fezz and takes off with the boys for an evening at the lodge?

Dickenson Gives Interview

By Adelaide Dinwoodie

"Nightingale of the Airwaves" has been the title given to Miss Jeanne Dickenson, opera singer and radio star, but it is admitted that whoever bestowed on her this title knew that the general public would be unfortunate not to meet her personally.

For those who have this opportunity the "Nightingale" becomes "One of the most charming personalities I've ever met".

Miss Dickenson is a native of Denver, Colorado, having graduated from the Lamont School of Music of Denver University. It was there she joined Gamma Phi Beta and became an honorary member of Sigma Alpha Iota.

It is a long ride from Miss

Dickenson's home out to DU which is on the skirts of south Denver. Inquiring into her likes and dislikes as to the 45 minute ride from mid-town to DU, she informed me that in those days every one had cars. In fact so many had them, you weren't often sure you had your own, or if you didn't, who had yours.

But it was rather easy to gather it was no Rolls-Royce she drove. In fact it shook so, Miss Dickenson's hands were always numb. This could have been due in part to the speed at which she drove. But being a lucky individual the only time she was arrested was when a new city ordinance requiring reflectors was put into effect. At last, something Miss Dickenson hasn't got. A reflector.

Vacationing was always a lovely time for Jeanne. Her summers were spent in South Park which is a few miles to the west of Denver situated between the two main ranges of the Rockies. One of the advantages of South Park which she never enjoyed was the skiing.

It seems the first time on skis Jeanne got them crossed and it took her twenty minutes to figure out she should lift the top one first. Equally complicated problems followed with getting her legs crossed. I'm sure she looks much better in a formal than a ski suit anyway, besides whoever heard of a "Nightingale of the Skii Waves".

This is the farthest that Miss Dickenson has traveled into the US since the start of the war. Sioux City was where she sang before here. At Sioux City Miss Dickenson was accompanied by the Sioux City symphony, an organization of the young musicians in the town. "I would like to see every city have such a symphony," said Miss Dickenson. "It is a way for the young to get routine which is so valuable if you plan to make music a career."
