Military Ball Friday Night . . .

Ready to lead the Military Ball, Friday evening, are Fred Kingdon and Ardis Swenson; Gwen Host and Wally Hornberger.

Red, white and blue will dominate at the formal Military Ball, sponsored by the ROTC, tomorrow night in the Men's Gymnasium. This will be the first ball given since the war began, having gone into discard in 1943. The ball, formerly sponsored by Scabbard and Blade, which is now inactive, is being handled by ROTC with the assistance of Guidon, coeds' auxiliary unit.

Dancing will begin at nine and last until one o'clock. The highlight of the evening will be the Grand March, scheduled for ten thirty. Leading the march will be Frederick Kingdon, student with the most ROTC training and scholastically outstanding, in ROTC; Ardis Swenson, President of Guidon; Gwen Host, Vice-President of Guidon; Wallace Hornberger, the student that has been most efficient, co-operative, and shown the greatest leadership since the start of the term.

The plan is to have six non-program dances, the grand march, and six program dances. This plan will be enacted so that everyone will be in attendance for the grand march.

Flags of the United Nations and blue lights secured from the city of Fargo will complete the decorations. Fraternities and sororities have volunteered their davenport, soft chairs and lights.

All men in military uniform and their dates will be admitted free, as guests of ROTC. Anyone can attend for the price of admission. The dress will be formal for women and optional for men.

Francine Stars At AC Convo

Sigma Alpha Iota, national honorary music fraternity, honors the campus Friday at convocation by bringing to the stage one of their members, Meda Westberg known as Francine, the soloist on Phil Spitalny's Hour of Charm broadcast.

Miss Westberg's concert, composed of several repeat numbers from the concert at the Moorhead Armory and a few popular pieces selected from her repertoire, will be dedicated to the SAI fraternity. Mrs. Adele Berquist will be her accompanist.

As a member of SAI Francine played the French horn and violin, besides being a vocalist which was the attribute qualifying her for SAI. While here she gave several voice and violin concerts for small groups.

According to Miss Westberg, "Being back in my home town is to me one of my biggest thrills." Her concert here will be the first presentation before the NDAC faculty and student body. Shortly after her AC appearance, she will leave for New York concluding her short stay with her parents.

While interviewing Miss Westberg it was learned that there is a forgotten man in the picture, Miss Westberg's father. For the benefit of this gentleman who has to answer all her calls and receives no publicity, the Spectrum dedicates this article.

Dacotah Hall Elects

At a recent meeting Dakota Hall girls elected the officers and council for the year. The officers are President, Caryl Freedland; Vice-President, Joyce Watson; Secretary-Treasurer, Shirley Cox. Council members to serve are Jeanette Haroldson, Zella Christensen, Janice Bergesen and Rachel Ann Hanson.

Plans are being made for a Christmas party to be held before vacation.

Christmas Festival Sunday Carries Air Of AC Tradition

By Grace Swigart
Among the most treasured of our college traditions is the annual Christmas Festival, to be held this year for the thirty-first time. It will be at four o'clock Sunday, December 9.

A memorial service in the Little Country Theater will precede the Festival; it will honor John H. Worst and some of his associates who have passed away. To Mr. Worst belongs the credit of establishing many of the principles and traditions of the campus, as well as inspiring the construction of many of our buildings. As each name is read in memoriam, the candles on a Christmas tree will be extinguished one by one.

The ceremony will proceed on a stage flanked by poinsettias and other plants; in the center of a background formed by three classic arches, a portrait of Mr. Worst will be displayed. Participating in the service, which is under the direction of Mr. A. G. Arvold, are Alfred H. Parrott, Mary Darrow Weibel, Ernest van Vlissingen and Lloyd Collins.

For the second part of the program, all will adjourn to the Lincoln Log Cabin. There the Christmas Carol and The Night Before Christmas will be read by Edith Gelder and Audre Remme, respectively. The singing of Christmas carols will climax this Noel celebration, but the serving of Christmas cakes with coffee will follow in the full-blown aura of the Christmas spirit thus evoked. The theater and the Cabin will be appropriately decorated throughout with Christmas trees.

All students, faculty members and alumni are cordially asked to attend this inviting gathering.

Attention

Today at 4:00 in the Spectrum office there will be a meeting of students who are interested in journalism. It is hoped that all students, whether interested in the Spectrum or not, will be present, so that classes in feature and news writing, make-up, and headlining can be arranged. If the students respond, professional journalists will be secured to conduct a series of classes. A special invitation is extended to the Papyrus Ebers staff. This meeting is required for the present Spectrum staff.

Better Late Than Never!?

As We See It

By HARVEY

The men's dorm has become a veritable social club lately with parties and dances planned as far ahead as January. Not that I object because I never have anything to do anyway. It says here some time this or next term the social committee under the able chairmanship of Ernie Wurm would like to have a sleigh ride party for the boys and their girls December 15th. We are having a Christmas party complete with "who could that be under those cotton whiskers" Santa Claus, Christmas tree, and (unadulterated?) cherry punch. It's a date affair and of course there'll be dancing. It ought to prove to be a pretty good hog-rassle.

That's just about all old 1945 can take, anyway we are planning to hold a Snow Ball in January (cold isn't it?). It will be a semi-formal shindig inspired by charity. (The boys have been begging for a radio phonograph.) Magazines seem to be too small to keep in the lounge, but a radio phonograph combination would be missed.

Wedding chimes rang recently for one of our too numerous to mention vets, Peter Skjerseth, and the Christmas holidays may find three or four other residents with the same intentions. Sometimes I wonder about my room mate. He makes out daily reports to Chicago and it's not the veterans' bureau.

Several fellows were recently requested by the President to see him about something at Snelling. Important conference or something, I guess, (but then I should know). However, Wally Hornberger decided December 5th was too early and told him he couldn't make it till January.

I'm told there is one character in the dorm who thought he deserved a service flag for his ten weeks in ROTC (Everyone thought I was crazy so I took it down) and stranger things have happened. Fritz has become a gentleman. He took a bus home yesterday but Mr. Moberg made him take it back. (Editor: if that sounds too corny, leave it out.) (You forget, young man, that you're writing for the Spectrum, the Ed). And he no longer leans out the window shooting peas at the coeds passing by from the Gym. Speaking of Gym, I noticed all the boys are eager to get to the Field house in time for ROTC lately. I guess the girls call it exercise or artificial respiration or something.

Due to the editor misplacing her bifocals, I have acquired the penname of Harvey. Oh, no!

And so we cork the bottle on another one until next week and quietly depart from the little village of "Babies on the Third Floor" and as we proceed further onto the campus, we hear the wailful shrieks of Kent Jones singing, "It All Comes Back to Me Now" as he picks up his unstamped letters at the Post Office.

❖ It Says Here ❖

Collegian manners are traditionally atrocious, but the swank and glamorous Military Ball Friday should bring about a dusting off of Emily Post and Margery Wilson's books on etiquette. If you don't happen to have these volumes in your library, here are a couple of things you ought to remember:

The phrase to use in performing introductions is "may I present —" It isn't considered proper to announce in a loud voice, "Hi, Joe. Come over and slip the mitt to my new chick." If you plan to take the lady of your choice out to dinner before the Ball, and you've never been schooled in the proper use of the knife and fork, play it smart. Take her to a hamburger stand, where they don't use them. And never, even in Don's Whitehouse, break your bread, or roll in your soup. (If the proof reader takes out that comma I'm sunk.)

Anent the big affair, in reminiscent vein: The first Military Ball was held here in 1916. . . . While thumbing ancient files in the Spec office yesterday, we noted this item about the sixth annual Military Ball of March 18, 1921: Said "The Weekly Spectrum," of March 3, "The order of the evening will be the uniform for all ex-service men and members of the cadet corps; for all others appropriate evening dress." Who said history doesn't repeat itself. . . . That year "prominent co-eds" were entertained at a theatre party at the Princess. . . . The Garrick advertised Alice Lake in "Body and Soul." . . . (Coming soon! Doug Fairbanks in "The Mark of Zorro") . . . The deLendrecie school of dancing advertised lessons in "all the very newest dances," the Cat Step, the Chic Waltz, and the Triangle One-Step among them. . . . The AC defeated Fargo College to win the city title in football. . . . Readers in the Women's Lounge in Science note: In 1921 two students were expelled and two were suspended for smoking on the campus.

Campus veterans who met in the Little Country Theatre Tuesday afternoon will bear watching. Unanimously favoring the formation of an NDAC veterans Service organization, the vets elected Ed Murphy their temporary chairman, chose a committee on constitution and by-laws headed by Mayo Kucera, and a nominating committee led by Perry Clark. The group will hold another organization meeting next week . . . same day, same hour, same place.

Doo-dads: Don Byrnes, at the next desk, tells us the muzzle velocity of a sneeze is 275 miles per hour . . . and he has a hole in his handkerchief to prove it. . . . Ye Ed tells us "nothing is impossible" . . . ever try to wear a pair of skis through a revolving door?

Found in our pocket this afternoon: an old prescription often used. Even the druggist couldn't read my doctor's handwriting. However we have used the prescription twice as a railroad pass, three times as an invitation to a dance, once as a complimentary ticket to a football game and once as a recommendation from our old boss. Since it had already served this long and faithful period of indenture, we took it over to the Y this afternoon and had Don Matson and Vi Siedel play it as a duet on the piano.

AND THE WOMEN, LOD' BLESS 'EM

Tuesday evening the Kappas won a 20-18 victory over the KD's in basketball, and the Phi Mu's took a close one, (8-7) from Gamma Phi's, in the Physical Education building. Next big athletic contest set for that self-same floor, is the combination wrestling match and track meet, Friday night—see you there! ! !

A. D. MacGibbon.

Series from Ceres

This week finds Ceres Hall just hanging between holidays . . . looking back at that happy Thanksgiving, and looking forward to an even bigger and better Christmas. Of course, we'll all hate to see those fascinating term exams come to an end, but we hear all good things must. (Thank goodness term exams do, too!)

Patter of Little Feet

Well, anyhow, patter of feet. Where? Up and down that long, long South corridor. When? Sunday morning, early Sunday morning, between about 1:00 and 3:00—we'd say off hand. Why? Left-over energy from Saturday night, maybe. Sometimes I wonder, though; do you suppose one of those South Corridor gals has a pappy in the rubber goods repair business? The man who got a contract to retread a rubber floor mat the length and width of South Corridor would make a fortune.

Case of the Breezing Buzzer

Or "Did he say he'd come at 9 to 10 or at 10 to 9?" Well, Joyce (Arntz) guessed, but the guess was wrong. He came at 10 to 9. Have you ever known a gal who can put on a formal and all the trimmin's in 10 minutes flat? Well, it can be done, believe me! I seen it wid me own eyes. (She had fun at the party, too, as did a sizable number of other dorm girls at the parties on Friday and Saturday nights. We who had the flu sat and watched them parade gracefully through the hall—cor-sages and all; watching was even fun!)

Secret Supply Base

We hear Roberta (Hegge) keeps a number of neatly-arranged piles of boxes under her bed. Every time she cleans the room, she dusts the boxes too. Some of the boxes have FOOD in them. Roberta is a fine girl. We all love her—and her boxes.

From The Sidelines

BISON WIN

Paced by Marvel Deike, who played a brilliant game at his forward position, the NDAC Bison scored a 53-33 victory over a strong Mayville State Teachers college team at Mayville Thursday night. The Herd led throughout the game having a 12-11 advantage when the first period ended and a 24-20 lead at the half. Coming back strong in the third and fourth quarters, the Bison had little trouble in outscoring the Mayville Comets.

Other starters who displayed some real basketball ability were Drews, Warner, Hanson, and Hilden. A bad ankle prevented Hilden from playing his best brand of ball. Brakke, Flashe, Hathaway and Horneberger also saw action for the Bison.

DORM WINS THREE

In Intramural basketball competition, the Men's Dormitory Cagers lead the field with three straight wins chalked up to their credit. Other teams that boast a clean slate are the ATO's and the Independent team, each winning two games.

Latest victims of the Dorm five was the hard luck Theta Chi five who have lost three games by a one point margin. The Dorm downed Theta Chi by a 22-21 count, Kuntz led the scoring for the Dorm with eight points and Rinas dropped in six baskets and one free throw to lead the Theta Chi team with 13 points.

One other game played Monday night was the exciting SAE-Veterans game. The Veterans threatened to score in the last minute of play when Lutjens went in for a shot and was fouled. Referee Tony Polisono awarded the Vet one gift shot making the score 20-19, the SAE cagers coming out on the long end.

ISA Hears Dunbar

Dr. Ralph Dunbar, Dean of the Chemistry School, displayed several volumes from his eighteen volume stamp collection at the ISA meeting Monday evening. He introduced them to the different phases of his hobby by relating something of stamp history, describing some rare stamps, and adding a few subtle quips. He ended his discussion by showing his collection of freak envelopes which is a favorite part of his hobby.

At the business meeting, plans for a Christmas theme at the potluck December 10, were discussed.

Election of officers will be held at the next meeting.

Xmas Seals Sold By Panhell, Senate

Women's Senate and Panhellenic are jointly sponsoring the sale of Christmas seals on the campus. Seals have been distributed to all sorority and fraternity presidents, to the Independents, Ceres Hall, Dakota Hall, Men's Dormitory, and Pharmacy Club. They are asking that each person buy a minimum of 25c worth, and more if possible. Jean Rosatti and Norma Jean Steinmeyer are in charge of sales.

Part of the money from the sale of the tuberculosis seals goes to the Health Center on our campus and is used for taking tuberculosis tests and X-rays. This is a very worthwhile investment of your money and both Women's Senate and Panhellenic urge that you buy as many seals as you can. Use them on your Christmas cards to show that you too are in the fight against tuberculosis.

ROTC Outlined

By Don Viets

With the arrival of peace and reconversion to pre-war living, the War Department has reactivated the advanced ROTC courses in many of our colleges and universities. From the national quota of 10,000 men for the ensuing year, NDAC has been allotted 30 cadets.

The purposes of this program are many: first, and mainly the army desires a trained reserve of college men highly schooled in the business of war, a group of men who may be called up to form the nucleus of our next war time army, if the need ever arises again. Recent experience showed that if it hadn't been for the ROTC our huge civilian army might have gone down to defeat instead of bringing home total victory.

Also the Army hopes to derive better citizens, men able to get behind their country and push, and keep America where it belongs, on top. Many college and university presidents, joined by prominent businessmen, highly commend the advanced ROTC program for the benefits it imparts to its enrollees. They state that many of the qualities obtained from Officer Training are highly desired in the business world.

What are the requirements for qualification? The following is a list based on the latest War Department circular on file in Captain Smith's office.

1. For the present no man who served as a commissioned officer in World War II will be eligible for appointment. Maybe, at a later date second lieutenants will get a chance to work for silver bars.
2. All men must have successfully completed their two basic years of ROTC. In the case of honorably discharged servicemen the following waiver will hold true; not less than 6 months active duty equal to one year of basic ROTC, not less than 1 year active duty equal to the second year of the basic course.
3. All men must be in the 19 to 26 year bracket. All men formally enrolled in the advanced course will be exempt from the provisions of the Selective Service Act of 1940.
4. All men must have two years of school left at their respective stations. They must also pass the army AGCT test with a score of 110. If the applicant should fail the first time, he will be given a second chance.
5. All men must pass a regular army physical, similar to those now given by local draft boards and reception centers.
6. The course shall consist of 5 hours weekly. As yet no policy on credit has been determined.
7. Cadets will be issued one officer's type uniform complete with field shoes and coat. They will also receive a monthly subsistence check equivalent to the value of the current garrison ration. Cadets will be placed in charge of all basic units and will wear their uniforms to class and military functions.

Any further information may be obtained from Capt. Smith.

When interviewed on the new program Capt. Smith was very jubilant. He said that at the first meeting held recently, the reaction was very good. He also stated that 31 men have already made known their intentions to participate, and that the Military Department would be glad to meet any interested candidates.

The ROTC unit on this Campus has always been a source of pride to anyone connected with the college or North Dakota. Since its beginning it has always been rated Superior and Excellent by the inspecting officers of the 7th Service Command. If you get close to one of these uniforms take notice of the blue star on the right sleeve. No, that doesn't stand for Infantry—it stands for a unit rating of Superior or Excellent. But that is not all of the ROTC's laurels, it has furnished many heroes in World War I and II. Not only numerous bronze and silver star winners did it produce; but it supplied the nation with two Congressional Medal of Honor men during World War II. The former cadets and holders of the nation's highest award are Beryl Newman and Orville Block, grads of the NDAC's advanced ROTC course.

Yes, we're all glad to see the cadet corp back. Any organization that's done what it has for the freedom of America should be an integral part of that great American institution—the American college.
