

Lyceum Presents Rubinoff As Second Guest Artist

Appearing on the stage of Festival Hall Monday, November 25th was Rubinoff with his $10,000 violin. Rubinoff's concert consisted of light and semi-classical numbers drawn from a repertoire of the more popular numbers. The audience was large and very responsive to the maestro's talent and technique. Assisting Rubinoff as a fellow soloist was the accompanist, Alexander Makofka.

The program was divided into four parts, each gentleman performing in two of the parts.

For the second quarter of the program Rubinoff played "Dance of The Russian Peasant" by himself; "Intermezzo," from the picture of the same name, by Provoost; "Tango Tzigane," a well known radio work, by himself, and a theme and variation on "Don't Fence Me In" by Cole Porter. In the fourth quarter of the concert Rubinoff played "Rhapsody in Blue," Gershwin's famous sophisticated number; "When Day Is Done" by Katscher; "Fiddlin' the Fiddle," corny number taken from the American barn dance, by himself, "Souvenir" by Drdla, "Dance Russe" by himself. As a request number Rubinoff played "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life" by his lifelong friend, Victor Herbert.

Rubinoff has lived an interesting life. He was born in Russia, father a packer in a tobacco factory, mother a laundress. His mother's devotion was the spark that lead him to a musical career even under his dire circumstances. He received his first violin when he was five.

At the age of 14, Rubinoff received a Doctor of Music degree upon graduation from the Royal Conservatory of Music at Warsaw. While in Russia Victor Herbert heard the young man and was so impressed that he brought Rubinoff and his family to the United States. Upon arriving they settled in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Rubinoff's broadcasts have proved to be a nest to many of the young birds that have reached their fame under Rubinoff's direction and supervision. Some of them are Benny Goodman, Tommy Dorsey, Glenn Miller, Artie Shaw, and Carmon Lombardo.

If any of you noticed a small medal which Rubinoff wore, it was a token given to him by the Chicago Federation of Musicians on appreciation for services rendered. The medal is gold, set with rubies, and inscribed with diamonds in the shape of a violin and bow.

13 Students To Be Listed In Who's Who

Thirteen NDAC students have been submitted to Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges. This is published each year. The purpose of this publication is to list outstanding college students and to circulate the publication among people interested in hiring students. The selection of names submitted is based on scholarship, character, leadership, participation in extra-curricular activities, and indication of future usefulness to business and society.

The quota for NDAC was not to exceed thirteen. Since there are more upperclass girls than boys, no junior girls were included in order that more seniors might be included. The committee to select nominees was appointed by President Eversull, they included Mr. Parrot, registrar; Miss Dinan, Dean of Women; and Mr. Severinson, Dean of men. The list includes: Arden Aanestad, junior, Agr.; Dorothy Allen, senior, HE; Elizabeth Cochran, senior, HE; John Craven, senior, Pharm.; Irene Gunvaldsen, senior, HE; Donald Hinz, junior, EE; Kathleen Huntly, senior, HE; David B. Johnson, junior, AAS.; Harold Klosterman, senior, chem.; Doris Oliver, senior Ed.; Bette Lou Payne, senior, Arts and Science; Gilbert Spooner, senior, ME.; Jeanne A. Warner, senior, Ed.

Matilda Thompson Holds Sway As Winner Of 'A Chevy' A Day

One car, a 1946 Chevrolet to be exact, will soon be delivered to Miss Matilda Thompson, math teacher, gratis through the courtesy of the Sigmund Romberg hour heard weekly on Wednesday evenings at 7:30, over WDAY.

This honor came to Miss Thompson through her participa-

Superman Didn't Do It; Naomi Did

On a background of red, white and blue stands a shield cut by a fiery red streak. . . . no, this isn't a story on Superman dodging the draft. The above is a description of Naomi Schuricht's prize-winning poster in the contest sponsored by Capt. Smith in conjunction with the military ball.

For the aforementioned piece of work Miss Schuricht was presented with a cash award of five dollars. Beverly Erickson's jaunty toy soldier earned her the three dollar second prize. Yvonne Christianson appropriately chose the want-ad section of a newspaper to jot her information on, and she walked off with the third prize two dollars.

Dean Dinan, Dean Sevrinson, Capt. Smith, Lt. Haynes, Miss Bruenwald, and Mrs. Dobervich judged the posters on originality, clarity, content, and qualities of design. Competition was open to all students.

tion in their contest in answering the question with 25 words or less "We should all buy Victory Bonds because. . . ."

When interviewed Miss Thompson stated, "Why I think it's perfectly marvelous. You know I've participated in every bond drive the college has sponsored, so last week when I heard their offer, I simply thought that 'Well, of all people I'm certainly well qualified,' so I sat down and wrote what I've been feeling all the time."

But one bit of sadness enters this happy picture. No longer will the students see that blue coupe landmark which has become part of the architecture of Science. You can mark it in your books, students, the day you see her zooting through the college in her '46 Chevrolet, that this is one more proof that the world stems on progress.

Phi Kappa Phi Selects Five

Five NDAC students received special recognition for their scholastic talents by being elected as members of the national scholastic honorary fraternity, Phi Kappa Phi. The students are Kathryn M. Householder, Jeanne Warner, both seniors in the school of Arts and Sciences; Kathleen Huntley, senior in home economics; Marian Lien, senior in Pharmacy; and Harold Klosterman, senior in chemistry.

This honor is rated as one of the highest on the campus. It is based on four years of high scholarship and character.

Sigma Alpha Iota Pledges Six Girls

Sigma Alpha Iota, national professional music fraternity, pledged six girls at a meeting Tuesday evening, November 20, in the Fine Arts club. The new pledges are Genevieve Mork, Mandan; Lanro Longwell and Patricia Mickelson, Fargo; Imogene Johnson, Elizabeth Christenson, and Shirley Holland, Moorhead.

Kay Householder, president of the active chapter, officiated at pledging services, aided by Virginia Koloen, Fargo; Dorothy Reynolds, Moorhead; Lucille Vangerud, Kindred.

Newman Club Plans Religious Breakfast

Members of Newman Club will have a Communion Breakfast this Sunday in Saint Mary's Cathedral and clubrooms. The members will receive Holy Communion in a body at the 10 o'clock Mass and will have a breakfast meeting following in the Cathedral Club rooms. Bishop Muench will be guest speaker.

In general charge is Eileen Herges. Tickets for the breakfast may be purchased from Verna Van Slyck or any member of Newman Club. The price for the meal will be 35 cents.

Local Boy Makes Good

Styled By Ode

There is talent in your own home town! We have sparkling personalities and musical ability! Four of NDAC's students were in the Big Bond Show at the Fargo Theater Tuesday night. To wit and to whom it may concern: Audrey Remme, Roger Malrowe, Jean Hoverson and Billy Olson.

At the rehearsal Tuesday a.m. we got a preview of what was presented at the big 8:00 show. Starting off the show was Remme, Hoverson and the Gal Friends, plus the band in "Buy, Buy a Bond". Girls were in coats with teeth clicking in time to the band—it's cold on stage at 10:30 a.m.

As the show progressed Audrey and Jean were in the spotlight again with a tap number. After their tricky taps came a dog act with Harry Parnell and Magg'e (the dog) who leaped through silver hoops and did other talented things.

The band was terrific and in it—to name a few—were George Mayoue, trumpet; Billy Olson, drums; and Roger Malrowe, trombone.

Also on trumpet and strictly terrific was Chuck Hill of Moorhead who, before his three years service in the Army, played with Glenn Miller and Boyd Reynolds, among others. He had his own band during his Army service, the 311th Army Service Forces band which later became the 15th Air Force Band. That man's horn made us wish that we's had our bobby sox along so we could have squealed.

The rehearsal was fine. Being too poor to attend the regular show — on Saturdays we sell matches to buy a little food to keep body and soul together—we didn't get to that, but reports indicate that it was also solid, reet and knocked-out. Follows a listing of entire band: Saxes—Kegel, Parmeter, Estenson, Stamness, Cornforth; Trumpets — Mayoue, Hill and Dutchy (who was with Horace Heidt); Drums — Olson; Bass — Schumaker; Trombone—Marlowe, Severson; Piano—Scott and Guitar—Jennings. Arrangements by Frank Scott. Remme, Hoverson, Gal Friends, Jeanne Alm and Linda Lu, furnished rhythm and beauty.

The dance held in the dorm the 17th for Ceres and Dakota Hall girls turned out very well considering the women were in better attendance than the men.

We held a meeting Tuesday night to discuss the possibilities of a dance around the middle of next month. This would be to raise money for a radio-phonograph for the lounge and for furnishing a guestroom for visiting parents. However, nothing has thus far been decided. After much bribery, browbeating, and ram twisting, the proverbial Sweetheart of Sigma Chi has been elected. Recipient of this great honor (I'm prejudiced, just ask Jerry) was Betty Lou Payne of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. Not only will BL's smiling face hang from the rafters of Dady's Dugout, but you'll soon see it staring out of the pages of the LIFE (it costs a dime) magazine. No kidding, it's the truth, and I can prove it—so there too!!

Etta Mae (I don't either look like a chipmunk with my glasses) Kittsmuller has taken to the road. By the way of the 13 st bus, this famous lass intact with $1,300 left fair Fargo to find her fortune either behind the counters of some dime store or who knows? Not stating whether she desired day or night work, Etta Mae gave up college education for pursuits in other "liberal lines". Last woman to see her, according to the Fargo police records, was "My God, I love bridge" Hoverson. Miss Hoverson when questioned said she knew nothing else about her 1st floor Science lounge friend. Don't despair, Aggie Baggies, some other character with some ready Luckies will drop in on your Science Sanctuary.

In the new revamp of "Frankie and Johnnie Were . . . 55, it seems as if Johnnie gets the one way ticket. If you can't understand this one don't blame me. May she wear it till day is DONE.

Dear reader, should I take a chance and make it plural? Yes, I believe I will. MacGibbon said he'd read my column this week, so I gave him back his pocsicle. Now with Liz's support, it adds up to three, so I believe the plural is in order. But enough of that. This week I have a problem to

As We See It

By HARVEY

After the Thanksgiving respite, nearly everyone seems to be back in the usual routine of heavy concentration and study?

The dance held in the dorm the 17th for Ceres and Dakota Hall girls turned out very well considering the women were in better attendance than the men.

We held a meeting Tuesday night to discuss the possibilities of a dance around the middle of next month. This would be to raise money for a radio-phonograph for the lounge and for furnishing a guestroom for visiting parents. However, nothing has thus far been decided. They'll probably end up with a Bingo rally.

I interviewed two of the residents and got their opinions on a few things. They are Marcos Fernandez and Tomas Garcia respectively of Cuba and Puerto Rico. Marco is 20 years old and has lived 18 of those in his own Republic. He came from Havana about a year ago to take Engineering. Although he likes the college, he's not sure how much time he'll spend here. He rather pointedly remarked that women don't wear trousers in Cuba.

Tomas likes our system of dating women better than their own, because for one thing it costs less. In Puerto Rico or Cuba you pay for the chaperon also. Both Tomas and Fernando are members of the Newman club. Tomas is 21 and except for a year and a half in the army, has lived in Rio Piedras. He's going to be an aeronautical engineer and he came to the AC because he likes this part of the country best. He thinks the people are friendly—he's even heard of Jamestown. Like most of the young people of Puerto Rico he'd like to see the territory independent but doesn't expect to because of it's position in relation to the Panama Canal. They are required to take English for around nine years in Central America. Sprechen Sie Spanish?

Bricks And Bouquets

present to you faithful readers. One dark night as I was wandering home from the Spectrum office, after beating out the only lonely brain I own, I ran across this amazing puzzle: Directly in front of me were two campus BTO's returning from their fruitless search for food. Suddenly the corner of 13th street and 12th avenue was lit up by the radiant appearance of two blonde operators! With a startling cry of "SCHRANCH"? the two gentlemen descended on the ladies and whisked them away. And now my question arises: Upon arriving at the corner, I found draped over the curb a white handkerchief with the red initial "A" in the corner. Here is where I need your help, dear readers. Do you know a pretty, well-stacked gal by the name of A. SCHRANCH!!! If you do, please send her around . . . and I'll return her handkerchief!

In case that cold north wind has been bothering some of the local boys, there is no longer any need to worry about them freezing. The GPB apartment's stove is all hooked up and they are reported about ready to "Cook".

Three of the local gals who have had their heads in the clouds via Northwest Air Lines have returned to earth and the local Kappa chapter. The gals reputedly are so engrossed in their work they've got NWA all over their apartment door. (NO WOMEN ALLOWED!)

The Sociology classes decided to follow up the car slogan and "asked the man who owns one," our dear salt and pepper Smith, to speak to them on love, family relations, and all those kinds of subjects. With no chagrin, much poise, and lots and lots of experience, "Captain, my captain" told the giggly bunch of femininity how it wasn't all birds and bees but depended somewhat on what kind of honey you could make.

After much research we found out what we always suspected, Ira Slingsby is related to Sonny Boy Heartcraver.

Not only did Monday's bright lites discourage campus compos, but some bright chap claims that they had to push Rubinoff's Pianer player on the stage. Maybe the lite furnished too good a target for local marksmen. Who knows, but he won't tell.

Patrons of the opera who have boxes named after them have nothing on shiek (and I use this word loosely) Stewart. It seems as if Stew. has his own box at Nick's Coke & Phosphate Parlour where he plies his vivacious trade to his heart's content. Any slick chick who desires any fatherly advice on any subject concerning girls is asked to see Stew. at his office any time after 4' in the afternoon. All patrons will be met in a very friendly manner, also Stew, wants it known that there is no charge for this service. (So, he says.)

There haven't been any local fight promotions since the AC dropped its Golden Gloves entree a few years ago, but that doesn't keep us from wondering when the third round of the Smith-Thompson fight is coming off. But with Margie in there coaching one half of the fight it doesn't quite seem fair. But as in every battle this one also has its sneaker. Who is the local Moorhead competition?

Food for thought: Local butchers claim that the best part of the Pig is the ham.

And continuing from below, the best part of ham is his ability to DRAWZ?

Swanston's Body Works seems to have changed the kind of models it goes for. He's leaving one of the Dahly sisters for that former ham admirer, Miss Brady of the Brady motor works. Just two mechanics at heart, I guess.

Scantly clad Schultz of previous Spectrum fame has given up some of her Washington vices since she arrived, but one of them isn't Bemis Pep Sin Chewing Gum. (A funny!).

Here dear readers (we're using plural now) is a treat promised last week, the second part of the poem. Refer to last week's edition for the first part of this spine chilling drama. Well, here goes nothing:

What did the dapper gentleman say?
 Has no one ever told you
 The bother a young girl can be
 To a mother with eighteen off-springs?
 Well, listen! and you shall see.
 This little lass's mother
 (Now grown quite old and gray)
 No doubt has never told her
 How young girls are led astray
 By a man of drunken demeanor
 Or even a lad with a car.
 So think of your own little sisters.
 And let her sleep under the bar.
 (It's warmer there.)

Campus co-eds were taken by storm last week by the unexpected visit of dizzy, dazzling Jim Dawson on his way over—to some sorority house. After accomplishing his merry mission Jim returned to camp; two miles ahead of the M. P.'s. You know what M. P. means: my pal, that's what they told me, but then I know I'd believe anything. I received a letter from Leavenworth, Kans., marked "P", in which Jim sent his love to all his friends, and said he see them at Christmas time—in 1975. Ah! such is life in the U. S. Army Air Corpse.

Appearing on the stage last Monday was a ten thousand dollar Stradivarius and a lot of acting ability. Both were well accompanied by Rubinoff. We do feel sorry for the custodian of Festival though, having to pick up all the pieces of classical music his accompanist ripped apart. Evidently our lyceum artists are taking their cue upon choosing their repertoire from the national advertisers, appeal to the eighth grade level.

The local "den of iniquity" (some times spelled neck-i-ty) is now finished. Anyone who isn't invited in to see the "etchings" knows he doesn't rate in Fargo's 32,560. The high light of the affair is the last week mentioned article, one red bar, not too forget the new venetian blinds. The latter are of course to keep the bright light out.

Little Pinky Gelder hit the red side of the ledger this week with a bid for better international cooperation. This peace offer came from one of the "Boys over there" in the form of a dozen roses. Both she and her fellow sisters seem to be doing alright. I wondered why they prayed nightly for the return of the AST's.

These Tidbits are not the Feebel mutterings of one campus crackpot but are the combined opinions of many prize fools, as anyone can plainly see.

LSA Celebrates Anniversary With Complete Schedule

Lutheran Student's Association celebrated its tenth anniversary as an active organization on the NDAC campus, November 17-18.

Coffee hour and registration, under the chairmanship of Deloris Barker and Genevieve Mork, opened the convention, Saturday afternoon. Over 80 guests heard Rev. Arnold Carlson, Wolverton, Minn., give the main address, "It Is Tomorrow," at the Fellowship dinner in the First Lutheran church, Saturday evening at 6:30. Lucille Vangerud was general chairman. "Yesterday, Today, Tomorrow," a dramatization of the history of LSA on the campus; selections by Lucille Vangerud, Genevieve Mork, and addresses completed the program.

Robert Borwardt conducted a LST Bible Class for over 30 in the First Lutheran Church, Sunday morning. A meeting from 5 to 7 p.m. in the College Y concluded the LSA anniversary program. Charles A. Sevrinson spoke on "The Place of Church in Campus Life." Lillian Nydahl acted as chairman.

Otterson Remarks On Convocation

Our last convocation interested me for several reasons. The speaker, Mr. Vikner, was a young man who has been places and seen things. The students who visited with him during the day were also interested in his first hand information about most of the trouble spots of the world. Sponsored by the joint efforts of the YW and YM he preached no narrow denominationalism. For that matter he was primarily an ambassador of good will, giving all of us a bit of education about the many dark corners of the world he had studied so thoroughly.

The folks who arranged for having him here were told by the convocation committee that "WE are not interested in promoting such things". It seems to me that this is a very negative program. Positively speaking, what is our convocation committee interested in promoting?

—Rudolf Ottersen.

Knox Speaks At ISA Meet

Agent Knox of the FBI and Sergeant Olson of the Fargo Police department spoke at a meeting of the ISA Tuesday evening. Mr. Knox discussed the functions of the FBI and the qualifications and training of its agents. He also illustrated the use of their armament. Sergeant Olson spoke of the duties of the many different police departments. He remarked that people call on the police for everything from a fist fight to a dog fight.

A short business meeting was held after the program. Plans for a term party and a membership drive will be made at the next meeting on Monday, December 3 at 6:30 p. m.

Chorus Reorganized

Mr. Van Vlissingen, of the Music Department, is on the NDAC campus again and is organizing a college chorus. He was on the campus from 1934 to 1942 at which time he entered military service. "Van" hints at big things to come from his chorus of fifty voices during the rest of the year. He also offered to assist the sororities and fraternities in their singing at Monday night meetings.

From The Sidelines

Eight teams participated in the intramural basketball game this week. A strong veteran's team downed the Theta Chi five by a 20-17 score. Klaus of the Vets and Kartenson of Theta Chi led in the scoring for the two teams.

The ATO scored a victory over the Sigma Chi team in a close 21-20 thriller. Hofmeister dropped in 10 points for the Sigs and Kludd scored 11 points for the ATO cagers.

A fast dorm team outpointed the SAE cagers by a 33 to 28 score. Mattis of the dorm paced the winning team by sinking 5 baskets. Randy of the SAE kept his team in the game by dropping in six timely buckets.

A good passing AGR team suffered a defeat at the hands of a powerful Independent team. Knott of the Independents dropped in 14 counters to lead his team in scoring, while Stark of the AGR scored 8 points for his team.

The varsity will play their first game at Mayville Thursday night. Bob Lowe expects tough competition from the Mayville Comets and will not predict the outcome of the game.

Intramural bowling will get under way this week at the Grand Recreation parlors. All fraternities and the Independents have a team representing them in the league.

Stan Kostka and E. E. Kaiser will represent the AC at Minneapolis for a meeting of the Northern Conference. The representatives of the schools in the conference will work out a basketball and football schedule for the future.

Alpha Gamma Delta

Alpha Gamma Delta held pledging November 19 in the chapter rooms for Edith Arneson. Pot-luck guests Monday were Joan Theby, Elizabeth Ann Johnson, Annette Martin, Donna Fisk, Eunice Huso, Susie Naaden, Barbara Ann Nelson, Mrs. Brandstad and Miss Krueger. The Alpha's are busy planning for their formal term dance December 1st.

ATO News

The ATO's will hold their fall term party Friday, November 30 at the Moorhead Country Club. The banquet starts at 7:30 followed by dancing.

The ATO Alumni met a week ago Tuesday at the Graver Hotel. A banquet was held and new officers were selected for the coming year. Bernie Majours was elected president. We were happy to see Acey Olson with us again, a former ATO who is a captain in the Army. Acey has gained a pretty good name for NDAC in the basketball world.

The ATO's will hold a banquet before the Military Ball, December 7, at the Graver. This banquet was formerly held at the house in past years, but due to the present situation it will be held at the Graver.

Ensign Bill Tarbell, who was home on leave has now left for the Navy. S/Sgt. Bob Flynn of the Army has also ended his furlough.

Lt. Grace Magocc is still with us for sometime to come, before reporting back to duty.

We expect to have many more former ATO's home on leave, and being discharged, most of these fellows are going to start school again at the AC.

Gamma Phi Beta

Presenting the sorority pledge class, Gamma Phi Beta will have a tea in the chapter rooms in the Y Sunday from 3 to 5 p. m. All the fraternities and representatives from the sororities have been invited to attend.

Joyce Gunvaldsen is in general charge of arrangements. She will be assisted by Lillian Larson, invitations; Gwen Lee and Elna Moe, refreshments; Mary Hilleboe, flowers; Virginia Paulsrud, house; Frances Biever, Alice Reimers, Darlene Jones and Marilyn Collette, clean-up. Pouring will be Joselyn Birch and Jean Shotwell.

In the receiving line will be Irene Gunvaldsen, president of the chapter; Dorothy Allen, pledge trainer; Jean Wallerius, pledge president; Donna Evenson, vice-president; Gloria Aas, secretary; Edith Arneson, treasurer; Donna Christianson, Pat Story, Beatrice Jones, Betty Lewis, and Ethel Matthews.

Kappa Delta

Our term party will be held on Saturday. Kay Huntley is general chairman. Committees working with her are: decorations, Marge Brandt, Pat Farr, Avis Salisbury, Irene Murphy and Arlys Jensen; music, Mary Scherling and Loretta Swisher; refreshments, Caryl Freedland and Lois Dickson.

Joanne Zimmerman was a guest at potluck on Monday night.

Thanksgiving vacation brought more than turkey to Inez Carlson and the chapter is expecting candy next Monday.

POP News

Several girls of the Phi Omega Pi sorority left Fargo to visit friends and relatives for Thanksgiving. Among them were Irma Skolness, Valley City; Kathy and Mary Helen Riley, Lidgerwood; Lila Johnson, Leonard; Jerry Clough, Jean Rende, Hoople; Florence Tiegen, Grenora, and Eileen Herges, Sisseton, S. D.

Phyllis Knott was a guest at dinner Tuesday, November 20.

An Active meeting was held Monday and a pledge meeting Tuesday at the chapter house.

SAE News

The SAE's entertained the Kappa Delta sorority at an informal party on Wednesday evening, November 14, from 5 to 8 p. m. Highlighting the party was the exchange of songs and also two numbers by the SAE pledge Quintet.

The Active chapter of SAE will entertain the pledge chapter with a semi-formal term party. It will be held in the college YMCA Friday night, November 30. Wally Erikson is in charge.

Former members of Beta chapter visiting at the house during the past week were Lt. Bill Guy of the USN, Don Bloomquist, recently of the U. S. Army, and ohn Donnelly, recently of the Army also.

Study hours are being held for all members in the basement of the chapter house from 7 to 9 p. m. three days a week.

The chapter basketball team acquired a defeat at the hands of the Men's Dorm Monday night. We at least won a moral victory.

Sigma Chi

With all the returning men it seems more like old home week at the chapter rooms than just the closing weeks of another dreary term. Dick (carrot top) Gengston, who is with the armed forces, is going strong in his old haunts again; his medals, we understand, are too numerous to take along. Fred (mighty mouse) Mohr is also back telling us all the "ins" of army life after having served in several campaigns, all after dark. Some more attractions for the campus coeds to battle over are Bill Suhr, Glenn Wickman, and Jim Dawson who have also returned to pass again through the bright portals, we don't know which portals. Betty Lou Payne has been elected as the latest Sweetheart of Sigma Chi. Sweets to the sweet, so we send our congratulations to Betty Lou. A record party was held at the College Y during the week preceding Thanksgiving with all the actives and pledges attending at one time or another.

Francine Back For Concert

On Wednesday, December 5th, residents of Fargo and Moorhead will hear Meda Westberg, former Concordia student, sing a concert dedicated to her hometowns, Fargo and Moorhead. Meda, known as

FRANCINE

Francine Falkon, is soloist with Phil Spitalny's All Girl Choir and Orchestra featured on the Sunday evening radio program The Hour of Charm. She is the only daughter of Mrs. Claus Westberg, 610 Sixth st S, Moorhead.

Francine will appear as soloist with the Fargo-Moorhead Civic orchestra in their first 1945-46 concert. It will be under the baton of Sigvald Thompson leading the orchestra in a Haydn symphony and a group of assorted symphonic poems in addition to the accompanying works for Francine.

Francine was discovered as a student at Concordia when she starred in the operetta "Pirates of Penzance" presented by the college chorus. Before that she had been active in music circles as a violinist and player of the French horn. As a student she played violin with them two years. Francine now has to her credit shows in many of the larger cities and a part in the movie "Here Come The Coeds." She will continue her vocal studies with Madam Rhea Silberta in New York. Francine is a member of SAI.

Through SAI Miss Westberg will appear at a NDAC convocation accompanied by Mrs. Adele Berquist.

Agnes J. Kise of Moorhead was in charge of her vocal study while Francine was here. She won the North Dakota State Young Artists contest and tied for first place in the district contest at Minneapolis. Both competitions were sponsored by the National Federation of Music Clubs. In the fall of '41 she went to New York and was given a fellowship to Juillard. Twice the fellowship was renewed. Francine appeared in several productions there.

During her third year at Juillard she left school to join the Spitalny choir. She has soloed

All Electrical Engineering students are invited to an informal get together at the home of Prof. Dixon, 1314 N. 10 Street, on Thursday, December 6 from 7 to 8 p. m.
