Class Officer Nominations November 20

At 9:40 on Tuesday, November 20, nominations for class officers will be held with the freshmen and juniors meeting in Festival Hall and the sophomores and seniors meeting in the college Y. Faculty advisors will be in charge of each class.

Eligibility rules for candidates are as follows: Extra-curricular activities shall be divided into three groups, A, B, and C. All offices in group A shall be valued at 4 points; offices in group B at 2 points; and all other offices not included in groups A or B shall count 1 point. No student shall have a total of more than 8 points at any time. Classification of offices as follows:

Group A. Editor and Business Manager of Bison and Spectrum. Presidents of Phi Upsilon Omicron, Sororities, Fraternities, YMCA, YWCA, Student Commission... Panhellenic... President of Board of Publications, Tryota, and Sigma Alpha Iota.

Group B. Presidents of Interfraternity Council, Senior Staff, Junior and Senior classes, ISA, Art Club, Men's Dormitory Council, WAA, Chemists Club, Pledge Marshal, treasurer, and house manager of fraternities.

Group C. All offices not mentioned in A or B.

The balloting will be held on Friday, November 30, in Old Main from 9 to 5. There will also be a special election on this ballot for a Commissioner of Finance.

All letters of intent to run for the office of Commissioner of Finance must be sent to Don Hinz, Commissioner of Elections, in care of the Dean of Men's Office, not later than November 20.

Nesbitt Accepts Job In Newton, N. J.

Lloyd L. Nesbitt, assistant agricultural chemist at the NDAC, a position he has held since 1923, has accepted a job as analytical chemist in the research laboratory of the Limestone Products Corporation of America located at Newton, N. J. He will leave about November 20 to assume his new position.

Some of the highlights in Mr. Nesbitt's career here were the testing of proteins in flax seed meal, determining the quality of linseed oil by the iodine absorption, quality analyses of meat in beef and lamb carcasses. One of the highspots in his early career was participation in the soil survey of Cass county.

His past experience ties in with his new position. Mr. Nesbitt's job will be to find ways to make limestone a supplement in cattle feeding.

A native of Nebraska, Mr. Nesbitt will be in charge of the survey.

'Has Anybody Here Seen Gus'; Skip, Spinster, Skip For The Men

Farm and Home Week Ends Today

Today marks the end of the Farm and Home Week being held on the NDAC campus under the direction of program committee chairman, Dr. J. H. Longwell. For two days representatives of North Dakota's counties have been in session settling some of the problems confronting the farmers of our state. Two of the outstanding problems discussed were those of barley production and the utilization and marketing of hybrid corn.

A complete program was outlined for these sessions which started Tuesday. This day was

Date Set For Convo

On Friday, December 7, at 9:40 Sigma Alpha Iota will present in convocation, Miss Meda Westberg who is the Francine from the Hour of Charm heard over NBC, Fargo, on Sunday evening. Miss Westberg is a member of Sigma Alpha Iota and is being brought to Fargo by the Fargo-Moorhead Symphony Orchestra which will present a program at eight o'clock on December 5, at the Moorhead Auditorium. Miss Westberg will be soloist with the Symphony Orchestra that evening.

Has Anyone Seen Gus?

Get your track shoes out, round up that rabbit's foot, and dust off Emily Post, spinsters! Tomorrow night is the Spinster Skip and you have plenty to do.

First and foremost, put on your track shoes and catch yourself a fella. Press your slickest dress or suit; then try your hand at a corsage that will go nicely with his suit and with Gus if you win.

And here's where the rabbit's foot comes in! Prince Gus the ninth, a 15 pound pre-baked turkey will be raffled off. Maxine Myra and Glen Landbloom won Gus the first in 1935. Tradition has it that you and your friends feast on Gus after the dance; so bring your napkins and keep your fingers crossed!

Since you spinsters call for your date, pay for the tickets—another minor detail of 60 cents per couple—feed him, and deliver him home, you'd better bone up on Emily. Show him how you like a date to be.

The Spinster Skip, a traditional pre-Thanksgiving affair, sponsored by Senior Staff, returns after an absence of two years. It will be held in Festival Hall from 9 to 12. Betty Lou Payne heads the committee, assisted by Irene Gundvaldsen who is in charge of the turkey; Delores Fischbein and Jean Monson, publicity; Jean Warner, tickets; Lucille Vangerud, entertainment; Dorothy Allen, decorations.

Musicale Staged By SAI Girls

Sigma Alpha Iota, National Professional Music Fraternity, held its annual Guest Musicale Wednesday evening, November 7, in the Fine Arts Club House, Elizabeth Grosz, NDAC student, was the chairman for this musicale and spoke on the advancement and history of American music and composers. The program consisted of American selections by Vila Seidel, pianist; vocal selection by Ruth Schellerstom, MSTC; vocal trio by Dorothy Reynolds, Lucille Vangerud and Virginia Koloen; cornet solo, Kathleen Huntley; piano solo by

Van Horn To Speak

Miss Rua Van Horn of Washington, D. C., federal agent for home economics in the Central region, will be the guest speaker at a special meeting of Tryota in the lounge of Old Main at 4:30 p.m., Thursday, November 15. Miss Van Horn is well acquainted with Home Economics departments in this area and will tell the local group interesting things that are being done in other colleges and other clubs.

This meeting will follow the regular coffee hour, at which Tryota girls will serve as hostesses.

Vikner Here For 'Y' Volunteer Movement

Rev. David L. Vikner, traveling secretary of the Student Volunteer Movement, will visit the NDAC campus this weekend.

Purpose of his visit is to stress World Mission of the church and to hold interviews for those interested in full time service in church work or church related groups.

Born of missionary parents in China, David Vikner returned to this country in 1935 upon his graduation from Kikungshon American high school. He studied at Luther College in Nebraska, the University of Minnesota, and Augustana College in Rock Island, Illinois, receiving his A.B. degree from Augustana in 1939 with a major in history.

While a student at Augustana he sang in the choir and traveled one summer through New England and New York for the college Missionary society.

After a year at Luther Theological Seminary in St. Paul, he entered Augustana Theological Seminary in Rock Island in 1941. He spent a summer term at the University of Minnesota in 1943, studying Far Eastern politics and later served on the Far Eastern Seminar in preparation for the Conference on Racism and World Order held in Evanston, Illinois, in March, 1944, under the sponsorship of the Methodist Church. During a year's internship at a large church in Rockford, Illinois, he was in great demand as a youth leader.

In 1944 Mr. Vikner was awarded the Bachelor of Divinity degree with honors by Augustana Seminary and was ordained that same year on a call to China by the Lutheran Augustana Synod.

During the school year of 1944-45, Mr. Vikner studied Chinese at the California School in China, Berkeley. He is at present awaiting passage to the Orient.

Mr. Vikner has traveled through much of China, through the Malay Peninsula, the Philippines, Ceylon, Egypt, Palestine, Greece, Yugoslavia, Italy, Switzerland, France, and England.

He will speak at an all-college convocation under the sponsorship of YW and YMCA, Friday morning, November 16, at 9:40 and at a luncheon Friday noon for all YWCA and YMCA cabinet members to be held in Ceres Hall.

He will be available for interviews Friday after Convocation and Friday afternoon in the LSA office in the Y.

Scantly-clad Cleo Schultz, as Daisy Mae, and Bob (Lil Abner) Klein, his patched jeans supported by a single clothes-line suspender, waltzed off with individual prizes for the best costumes at the Sadie Hawkins dance Friday night in Festival hall. As her reward for braving the cold night air in true dogpatch style, Miss Schultz was given a year's supply of genuine, undiluted Parfum de Polecat, while Mr. Klein carried home the largest "preserved turnip" (preserved by freezing) that Spectrum staffers, sponsors of the dance, could locate.

A gallon jug of sweet cider was presented to the best-dressed couple of the evening, artificially freckled Betty Sue Armstrong and John L. Sullivan. Miss Armstrong wore a stunning Dogpatch costume of her own creation. It consisted of a cleverly perforated burlap sack, and, since the party was formal, shoes. Mr. Sullivan was even more unconventionally attired. He had his pants on.

As sponsors of the affair, the Spectrum staff netted fifty-nine American dollars, one Canadian nickel, and twelve cents in sales tax which were collected by Miss Take*.

*Inn Take's kid sister. A distant relative of John Barley corn.

Military Service?

The views herein contained are those of the writer and not necessarily those of this paper or this college.

I will first declare my stand. I am in favor of universal military service or instruction to the sum of one year to be completed between the ages of 18 and 25. There are several ways of doing this, a few of which that occur to me will follow.

First of all, there is the possibility of having a man in this age bracket go for one year of uninterrupted training in a military camp. The branch of service for this training could be decided by availability of camp space and the preference of the individual involved. This will not be considered desirable for every age student. The student desiring to go to college will, of course, desire to go right to college from high school. He will not want to interrupt his college training by a year in the army. Neither will he desire, on completion of his college course, to put off his application of the knowledge theoretically gained at college for one year for military instruction. This eventually brings up an alternative for the men going to college.

Men going to college will be exempt for one consecutive year of training at the age of 18 if they go to college the following fall. During the four years of college, these students should be required to go through a course in ROTC. This course should be four years in length and all four years should be required. However, after the second year, the course would split into two lines of training. A certain amount of the two-year students should be permitted to go into what is now called the advanced program which has a Reserve Commission as its goal, while the remainder should be required to continue in a Basic Course which would result in a reserve non-commissioned grade if the student cared to accept a reserve status. This basic course could cover more specialized topics, such as weapons and tactics that were not covered in the first two years. Upon graduation from college the entire class would be required to take a three-month course at a summer camp, upon completion of which their military training would be considered complete. An alternate course for a college student who did not desire to include military education in his curriculum could go to a summer camp every year for the four years he is in college and upon completion of these four summer camps this student would be considered complete. This latter plan is not universally desirable because some students have to work during the summer in order to continue in college in the fall. Some would have work to do on a family farm. Nevertheless, one of the two plans for college students should fit any and every student in college.

If, for some reason, some one does not get his military education by his 24th birthday, he will then go to a camp for one year. Every male in the United States would have a good basic ground-work in military education if a program such as the one outlined here was carried, and he would have this education by the time he was twenty-five.

This education should be considered in the light of insurance. It is insurance for the individual as well as insurance for our government and way of life.

It's a Tough Life, Gus!

❖ Humor - Door ❖

By Tindall

Last week-end while attending a fierce game between Temperature Normal and Gee Was I High, I had the good (?) fortune to encounter Frank and Earnest as they were discussing the probability of anyone ever hitting the 'ack pot at the automat! With all those nickels someone should cash in! Fungus B. Scrapfaggott was in the crowd too, but due to the strait jacket he was wearing, the attendants kept throwing him out. This was very annoying to Fungus B. for he was attempting to gather some notes on the game for his forthcoming book, "Tom Swift and his Atomic Meatball," or "Run To The Roundhouse, Mary—Johnny Can't Corner You There."

Who? What? Why?

Who's who? What's what? And why haven't we any? No, I'm not confused. It isn't a lapse of —? No, it isn't. It's simply that I want an answer. Why doesn't the AC have nominations to Who's Who? I'm sure we could pick out a dozen or two souls on this campus that could decorate a couple columns of the local sheet as advantageously as the local Corn-cobbers or MSTCites.

If I remember correctly one of the honors of the year and of a lifetime is to have your name appear in said book. In previous years they did have nominations for this honor but something happened in 1939. There may have been a nomination or two after that, but '38 was the last year that an all-out campaign was waged. There are several campus officers who merit attention because of the fine work they have done on this campus. Let's pay them a little homage and see if they can't rate a few inches in America's little red book.

jamas? No? Well, how they ever got into my pajamas I'll never know!" Then Earnest began telling me of his exploits as first oboist with Jascha Pavaslavnik and his Volga Boatmen, but I wasn't interested for anyone knows that an oboe is an ill wind that no one blows good!

After this there arose a slight disturbance down to our right. It seemed that our friend, Fungus B.'s past had at last caught up with him! And what was this dastardly crime? Well, I just happen to have the case history here with me. . . hm! . . . let me see! check for a short beer . . . ah, here we are. 'Case of Fungus B. versus No. 75. (What comes after 75? Oh, wrong case!) The scene of the crime was a stalled elevator between the ninth and tenth floors of an old warehouse. In the distance we see a pair of skis talking quietly to Tony Paliseno, while some celery stalks down the stairs. The next voice we hear will be that of J. Edgar Hoover's, or "Where were you on the night of June 10, 1947?" "But that's two years away!" "Hm! That's a pretty weak alibi!" Well, we won't delve into the more sordid facts surrounding this little drama. As I've known Fungus B. since he was knee-high to a grasshopper, who am I to blacken his name? (Though if I'd known better I would have made friends with the grasshopper!"

As I folded my tent like an Arab and as silently stole away . . . I overheard Frank say, "You're only joshing!" And Earnest replied, "Oh no, the last time I saw him he was selling blankets on the Navajo Trail!"

'Y' Elects Officers

At a meeting of Y members, Wednesday evening, November 14, in the College Y, the following officers were elected: Miles White, president; Floyd Groethe, vice-president; Russel Calderwood, secretary; Westly Gunkel, treasurer.

Bricks And Bouquets

FLASH!! The boys of the Dorm. have finally broken into the news. After war, conversion, and last but not least reconversion, they've come up with a brainy idea to hear them tell it: Great big Infantry Blue service stars for ROTC. My hat, with the aforesaid blue stripe, goes off to the brainbox who thought up this latest one.

Lacking at the latest hawg restle, commonly known as the bachelor's last stand, which took place last Friday, (Oh! sob) was the conventional jug. But, after viewing various lucky couple's dancing, I wonder if they didn't find their way into Harry Humppy's Dew palace or some other Moorhead establishment.

It is the policy of this column to give credit where credit is due, but due to technical difficulties, namely no name, the following must be presented without due credit being given to the author.

POEM?

'Twas a cold winter's evening
The guests were all leaving
O'Leary was closing the bar,
He turned and he said
To the lady in red,
"Get out! You can't stay where you are."
She wept a sad tear
In her bucket of beer
As she thought of the cold night ahead
When a gentleman dapper
Stepped out of the phone booth
And these are the words that he said:
What did the dapper gent say?
We don't know folks, tune in next week.

The married veteran on campus must be finding co-education rather trying at times; what I mean to say is "I love my wife, but oh, you kids!"

An evening at the adjoining swimming hole will find a Carr pollying his cart around the floor to the tune of "Way Down in Rio de Janiero."

A little late, but Homecoming netted Bette Mickleson a new watch; newest Swiss merchant was General Mill's Arnold Holland. The Four Roses she WORE wasn't the bottle variety. (So they say?)

Sadie Hawkins Day brought another interesting fact. There are still two girls to every man. P. S. The editor just made the last dog sled to Alaska.

I'm sure that all of the coeds at our fair institution are "as pure as the driven snow." But some people want to know which snow, that which is driven down Broadway.

WANTED: Instrumentalist or manager for the Merry-go-round. Married man whose wife has a college and sorority background preferred.

Strange what queer things the editor of this weekly blurb gets accused of. Now they are trying to pin on her the source of some salt to the wounds existing between a couple of the local hardware supporters. (Sorority pins, Freshmen!)

A few bricks could be tossed at the Bystander of collegiate affairs at Up State Normal for his quasi-humorous observations made from the Homecoming edition of the Spectrum. But upon hearing the reports of the local housing shortage we've decided to aid by saving all building materials.

But one thing that there is no need of saving is an occasional Bouquet which this week shall go to the same Bystander. Thanks, Mike. Your "Defense of a Fourth Estate brother" aided the cause down here. "The weekly blurb from down state tech" wishes to thank you.

Jergens (Oceans of suds, to you!) added several new customers to their beauty course after the Sadie Hawkins dance. This beauty course is quite novel. If at least you aren't better to look at after its completion, it's guaranteed you'll have been seen.

"The Return of Peter Grimm" or "The Return of Beth Cochran Looks Pretty Grim" has proven to be one of the most talked of books on campus last week. It's been reported that it will take all of the laurels or if not that, at least it has caused the local sassiness clubs to look to their laurels.

One of our dear little girls, should we call her Malcient (derived from Malicious) seems to have a new aim in life, to get back for Theta Chi's Johnson all of his lost, strayed, or STOLEN jewelry. Her campaign thus far has been quite successful with the return of one frat pin via the mail. The only thing out now, according to the inventory, is one class ring which she herself retains. As soon as the campaign is successfully completed, her OOGPU will be taken over by another concern. The debate is whether her organization would appeal more to Panhell or the FBI. For further details see Johnson.

BOUQUET—Don't faint friends. Here is posy number 2. Leave us give this one to Captain Smith, the AC's nomination to replace Ike, for his work, spirit, and interest he is putting on our military ball. The only trouble with "Captain, my Captain" is that every time he wanders out of the Phy Ed building several thousand woman hours are lost.

With the opening of the new frontier to expand America's "Empire" several of the local offices will have a change of phone number and address. We are especially interested in seeing the debit side of the ledger; those who haven't the prerequisites for finding out may phone 4705.

My, my how the Dakota Student rates. Here is another bouquet for the University. It goes to the Beta chapter of "Thank God, it's Friday! Boys," a young men's business club, which was recently formed on the UND campus. The Alpha chapter was established on the NDAC campus by Gorman King of Theta Chi fame, ably assisted by his fellow brothers.

The snack bar, which is being erected in the Gamma Phi kitchen for the use of guests at pledge presentation, is going to be incomplete at its first showing. Instead of having the usual red leather fixtures the girls will have to be content with red paint. Seems as if the leather of said bar was sold to the Empire to improve the atmosphere. One of the actives thought that wasn't being very sorority minded, but we wonder?

Doll Adoption Class Feted With Thanksgiving Party

Twenty-seven young Home Economists, members of the Doll Adoption Class which has been taught under the auspices of the Cass County Red Cross, were guests at a Thanksgiving party sponsored by Tryota. The party was held in Ceres Hall gymnasium from four to six, Tuesday, November 13.

The children were entertained at the party with supervised games and singing, and refreshments were served. The girls were asked to bring their "adopted" dolls, and these figured in part of the entertainment.

Marie Fog was general chairman of the party. Committees were as follows: Invitations—Joyce Gundvaldsen, Fargo; Yvonne Christianson, Moorhead; Muriel Vosper, Neche. Transportation—Phyllis Cummings, Fargo; Lillian Nydahl, Fargo; Evelyn Thurnau, Fargo; Selma Moss, Fargo; Carolyn Fossay, Moorhead; Syretta Hoffman, Fargo. ## 10th Anniversary Celebrated by LSA

Lutheran Students' Association will hold its tenth anniversary this weekend. The program begins on Saturday afternoon with registration at 2:30 p.m. and a coffee hour in the fireside room of the "Y." At 6:30 p.m. a fellowship dinner will be held at the First Lutheran Church. The Rev. Arnold Carson of Wolverton, Minn will address the group. Clarence Johnson is toastmaster.

On Sunday, November 18, the LSA Bible class will meet at the First Lutheran Church. Robert Borgwardt, student interne, will conduct the class. Divine worship services will be held at 11:00 a.m.

On Sunday afternoon, the regular LSA meeting will be held with a supper and fellowship hour at 5:00 p.m. Dean Sevrinson is the speaker for the program. His topic is "The Place of Church in Campus Life." Clarence Johnson will lead the devotions.

Basketball Dates Set By Kaiser

Schedules for intramural basketball games have been announced by Coach Kaiser. Games are played from 4:00 to 5:45, except Friday games which start at 5:00.

ATO'S play November 8, 14 and 17; Sigma Chi's on the 9, 14 and 17; Alpha Gamma Rho team on the 10, 15 and 19; Theta Chi's on the 9, 10 and 19; SAE's on the 8, 10, and 16; Independents on the 13, 16 and 20; Dorm on the 13, 15, and 20.

The regular schedule for the basketball league is as follows; SAE's on November 26 and 28, and December 3, 5, 10, 12 and 17; Dorm on November 26 and 28 and December 3, 5, 10, 12 and 13; Theta Chi's on November 26 and 28, and December 3, 6, 11, 13 and 17; Alpha Gamma Rhos on November 27 and 30, and December 4, 6, 11, 12 and 17; Vets on November 26 and 28, and December 3, 6, 11, 18 and 19; Independents on November 27 and 30, and December 4, 5, 11, 13 and 17; Sigma Chi's on November 27 and 30, and December 4, 5, 10, 13 and 19; ATO's on November 27 and 30, and December 4, 6, 10, 12 and 18.

The two highest teams will compete for a trophy in a three game series at the end of the season. Games which may have to be postponed will be played at the end of the season, before the trophy game.

Officials of the North Central Conference will meet in Minneapolis December 10 to plan schedules, according to Coach Kaiser.

From The Sidelines

Competition should be keen in intramural basketball this year. Every fraternity, plus the independents and the men's dorm, have dreams of winning the trophy that is being offered the champs this year.

A movement for intramural competition should get underway in bowling. The girls could also be active in competitive sports.

How about it girls? Who will take the lead.

I wish to take this opportunity to thank Mike Ranney, columnist on the U Student. Thanks for the lift, Mike. I will also return your shirt that you so generously loaned me when I was caught short during Homecoming at Grand Forks.

"Dede" Cossette, student enrolled in Arts and Sciences and also a pledge of Theta Chi Fraternity, leaves for the army today. Dede was a cheer leader and student manager of the Herd.

The basketball team is being whipped into shape for their game against Mayville Teachers. Bill Krogh, Mayville center, should prove to be a thorn in the side of the Bison.

I overheard an enlightening conversation at the Hasty today. One of the football players made the statement to the effect that the team is to receive football jackets this year. I certainly hope this report is true — they earned them.

Just as I was writing this column, someone called my attention to the trailer-houses being camped within the stadium walls. I hope this doesn't mean that they will hinder the use of the field for next year's games. If that is the case, I believe they could find room elsewhere on the campus for the houses. I am sure that the veterans who are going to occupy the houses will agree with me. They would probably be enjoying an evening meal and a football would come sailing through a window.

Fraternity And Sorority News

ATO
Wednesday evening the ATO's were entertained by the Alpha Gamma sorority. The AGD's presented some fine entertainment to the ATO's which consisted of a special song composed by Mazie and a reading by Madeline Forseyth.

Sunday the ATO's were present at the presentation of the Kappa Kappa Gamma pledges.

The ATO alumni are having a banquet at the Graver Hotel on Monday, November 20, and will have an election of officers. It will also be attended by members of the chapter.

Gamma Phi Beta

Mothers of the pledges were honored guests at the Founders Day banquet in Town Hall, Monday, November 12. Highlights of the evening were Betty Lewis' vocal rendition of "One Kiss" and the alums' shadow play. A pledge skit, songs by the pledge and active members, and a candle-lighting ceremony rounded out the evening. This was the largest attendance at an Alpha Omicron Founders banquet. We also learned that our chapter is leading all other Gamma Phi chapters in the U. S. in the magazine subscription drive.

Last week the Gamma Phis were entertained by the SAE's. The frat boys matched the right shoe with the left shoe of their guests for supper partners. One enthusiastic active, a senior too, wanted to know if she could give up the other shoe for more food!

Kappa Kappa Gamma

Today from 5:30 to 8:00 we are entertaining the Sigma Chi chapter with an informal party. A skit will be given by the pledge class. Committees for the party are: food—Mary Herbison and Barbara Hammer; kitchen—Jack Pushor and Mary Arnold, and cleanup—Iona Bolton.

Our guests at potluck Tuesday, November 13, were: Annette Martin, Jean Hoverson, Mary Tharaldson and Marian Thompson. We have had our fill of chocolates lately. Barbara Hammer passed candy last week and Joyce Tindall and George Rulon furnished the sweets this week.

Phi Mu

Phi Mu will present nine pledges Sunday, November 18, at the Chapter house at 1131 College Street. All students are invited. Deloris Fischbein is the general chairman.

Lt. Phyllis Rowe was a guest at the active meeting Tuesday evening. She is on terminal leave from the Army Dietician Corps and has just arrived from the Pacific.

Actives Virginia Hill and Deloris Fischbein spent the weekend at the home of alumna Marjorie Anderson Odney in Jamestown.

The Sigma Chi fraternity was the guest of Phi Mu at a scavenger hunt recently.

Phi Omega Pi

Potluck guests at the Phi Omega Phi sorority Monday evening included Millie Bean, Ethel Gores Wagner and Polly Carter. Kathy Riley was named social director.

Sigma Chi

The actives and pledges will have a party next Saturday night in the College Y. Don Hoffmeister, Beverly Anderson, Nick Hertz, and Don Viets are on the social committee. The chapter was very ably entertained last Thursday by the Phi Mu's with a scavenger hunt as highlight of the evening. Tonight the Sigs will be entertained by the Kappas at an open house. Visitors at the cave this week included Morris Johnson and Bob Davenport. We're all looking forward to the winter term when they will return to school.

Theta Chi

The Theta Chi fraternity entertained the Phi Omega Pi sorority last Wednesday. Highlight of the party was a song fest featuring Dale Haakenstad, Don Matson and Jerry Cossette in an operatic number.

Daly King and John Blake, former NDAC students, and members of Theta Chi fraternity were visitors at the chapter house this week. Daly King, still in the navy, expects a discharge soon and plans to resume his studies here after Christmas.

Capt. Kenny Jones is now home on leave after an extended term of duty with the 31st infantry in the South Pacific.

Bill Sherman and Capt. Dave Miller of Beta Gamma chapter were callers at the house last Sunday night.

The Kappa Delta sorority were entertained by the chapter on Wednesday of this week.

The chapter regrets the loss of one of our outstanding pledges, Jerry Cossette, who left for the army today. Jerry was well known as a cheer leader, and as student manager of the football squad.

Nesbitt Accepts

Nesbitt moved as a boy to Colfax, Wash., with his parents. He was graduated from Washington State college, Pullman, Wash., in June 1923, and has been continuously with the NDAC since except for a year of graduate study with a teaching fellowship at University of Washington, Seattle, in the 1928-29 school year. His wife is also from Colfax.

Brice, their son, is a former NDAC student. He is a Lieutenant in AAF Communication.

dedicated largely to rural electrification.

Wednesday was devoted to several group studies dealing with farm crops, horticulture, dairy husbandry, animal husbandry, poultry, a family living conference for young adults and a rural health study.

The North Dakota Crop Improvement association met last evening at the Gardner hotel for dinner and a business meeting.

WOMEN MEET

In connection with the Farm and Home week delegates from 49 of the 53 counties in the North Dakota Council of Homemakers clubs meet. These clubs are organized by the Extension Service of the NDAC and the work is carried on through the associate county extension agents and county extension agents.

Some of the topics discussed were "The House as a Center of Family Life" and the plans for the 1946-47 program. The sessions were all open to the public and many persons took advantage of this opportunity. Members of the AC Extension Service that took part were Ruth Dawson, Julia Brekke and Grace Delong and Mrs. Florence P. Day.

Carolyn Bohrer; vocal solo, Kay Householder; and two-piano numbers by Olivia Tarbell and Iva Fillebrown.

Sunday afternoon, November 11, a formal Red Rose Tea was held at the home of Mrs. C. A. Williams for the actives, alumnae, pledges, patronesses and guests. Background music was furnished by Carolyn Bohrer, pianist.

On Wednesday night, November 14, Sigma Alpha Iota had a "Musical Choir" party at the home of Mary Herbison. Elizabeth Grosz and Vila Seidel were assistant hostesses.

Kappa Epsilon Meets

A regular meeting of the Iota chapter of Kappa Epsilon, National Women's Honorary Pharmacy sorority of NDAC, was held Thursday, November 8, in the Y Fireside room. Plans were made for a banquet to be held in December.
