Festivities For Honoring AC Queen Announced

Seniors Play Tryout
Thursday from 11-12 2-4

Big Four Plans Program For Homecoming Event

Elections for the Queen of homecoming from 10:30 to 5:00 o'clock today mark the beginning of the Homecoming festivities which will culminate with the game and dance October 27. The Queen will be honored by several events.

Crowned at Half

During the half of the game the queen attended by Senior Staff will be crowned. The presenter of the crown has not been decided as yet. The Governor was contacted but he will be unable to attend. Flowers presented to the queen will be the gift of Student Commission.

Reign at Dance

The queen will also have the honor of reigning at the Homecoming dance. Both at the game and at the dance seats of honor will be prepared for her majesty.

Luncheon Held

A luncheon to be held Friday noon will also fete the Queen. There she will be the honored guest. To pay their respects to the Queen by their presence, will be Senior Staff, Student Commission, and Blue Key.

Tradition Of Bison-Sioux Nickel Back

With the coming of peace, the old tradition of exchanging the coveted Bison-Sioux nickel will be revived. This is an institution of long standing that was started by the Blue Key organization on the campus of UND and NDAC. The nickel now resides in the YWCA. This is because the AC was the last winner of the series of games between the UND and NDAC. If the U wins the two games this year they will take back with them as a reminder of their victory the nickel. The nickel will be on display at the convocation Friday.

Convocation Has Nelson and Schuur

Festival hall held the second convocation on Friday, October 12. Mary Shurr accompanied by Caroline Bohrer opened the program with two selections: "My Heart and Lute" by Kjerulf, and "I Love Thee" by Grieg.

The speaker was Howard Nelson, WDAY announcer, who recently returned from a trip to Norway. He related his experiences in Norway, including the habits and customs of the Norwegians. High lighting the lighter side of his address was his account of getting in and then trying to get out of the country.

The end of the German occupation brought about problems of getting the people back to work, changing war time habits to peace habits, and improving the diet of the people.

In closing Mr. Nelson told of the Quisling trial which he had the opportunity to attend.

Convo Goes To Rally

Convocation, October 19, will take on a new air. It is to be converted into a Pep Rally. There will be the band, cheer leaders, Coach Kaiser who will present the team, the introduction of the Queen candidates, and the showing of the Blue Key Nickel to the student body. This is all in preparation for Homecoming. Everyone is urged to attend.

Number 3

Fanfare! Trumpets! Announcing, the candidates for Queen of Homecoming! In this corner we have—at 100 odd pounds of pulchritude—Gamma Phi Beta's statuesque, beauteous blonde, Irene Gunvaldsen.

And over here in the Phi Omega Pi spot we have lovely Irish Mary Kay Riley of the blue eyes, dark hair, and sparkling personality.

Kappa Kappa Gamma's Ardis Swensen, petit blonde with charm plus appeal comes next in the parade of Homecoming Queen honors.

Alpha Gamma Delta's candidate, tall, dark, and smooth Jeanne Hendrickson is followed by the Phi Mu shining light, De lores Fishbein of the happy smile and happy personality.

Songstress of the campus, Lucille Vangeruud, is Independent candidate. She is tall and truly enchanting.

And last but very definitely not least comes Kappa Delta's sweet, neat blonde, June Carlson.

Good luck gals and remember, if you don't get to be queen—the 14-day Palmolive Plan can make you even more beautiful.

Kappa Epsilon Plans Tea For Pharmics

A meeting of the Iota Chapter of Kappa Epsilon, National Women's Honorary Pharmacy Sorority, was held Thursday, October 11 in the "Y" Fireside room. Plans were discussed for entertaining the new women pharmacy students at a tea, and the program for the ensuing year was drawn up. All members were present but one. Regular meetings will be held the second and fourth Thursday of each month.

Members of Kappa Epsilon are Ellen Davis, Manango; Allison Hartz, Cavallier; Nancy Headsten, International Falls, Minn.; Marion Lein, Merrifield; Lucille Manning, Fargo; Grace Olson, Minnewaukan; Mary Pane Shurr, Minot.

Membership Drive For YWCA Begins

YWCA membership drive will be started by the second Blue Monday tea, October 22. Sophomore Commission will be the sponsor.

All girls interested in YWCA are asked to attend. Darleen Thompson is chairman in charge of ticket sales. The membership this year will be $.75.

This Blue Monday tea will be held in the Fireside Room at the College Y from 4 to 6 p.m.

Schedule

Oct. 18—Convocation Rally at 9:40.

Oct. 26—Pep Rally at 7:30 PM in Festival Hall. — Snake Dance follows.

Oct. 27—Parade at 10:00. Assembling of units at 9:30. Parade will leave from campus.

2:00—Game at Fargo High stadium. West side gate is roped off for NDAC section. Queen crowned during half.

Open house after the game.

Dance in Field House from 9:30 PM. Tickets 35c a person.

Art Club Holds Potluck

Holding its first potluck meeting tonight at 5:00, Art Club will gather at the Art Studio to plan activities for the coming year. Officers heading the club for the present school year are: President, Betty Lou Payne; Vice-President, Jean Monson; Secretary, Malbe Maston; and Treasurer, Rose Ann Vogel. Miss Violet Gruenwald, instructor in art, is the club advisor.

Membership in this organization is honorary. Students can join by invitation only.

Queen To Be Honored By Friday Luncheon

Honoring the Queen of Homecoming will be a Friday noon luncheon held at the college cafeteria. The queen accompanied by her two attendants will be seated at the head table along with the members of Blue Key, Senior Staff, Student Commission.

Selling of Tickets for the occasion will be handled by Senior Staff. They are to be purchased this coming Friday right after convocation and before voting proceeds. Only 336 can be accommodated at the luncheon. If the tickets are not all sold the first day, they may be gotten at Dean Dinan's office after Oct. 19.

Mrs. Roen has charge of the luncheon. Food will be served cafeteria style. There will be a planned menu.

It is urged that all students come a little early so that when the Queen arrives she may be welcomed with all due honor. A program for the luncheon is being planned.

Attention Guidon

All members report at 4:00 o'clock every day from now on for marching with the ROTC. Friday there will be a three hour march period from 2-5, which you are to attend. Check on your capes to be sure they are ready for Homecoming.

Spoooner, Swenson, Oliver, Hinz are the names representing the "Big Four" executing the Homecoming plans for next week's Homecoming celebration. Gil Spoooner, President of Student Commissioner of Social Affairs, has charge of the Homecoming dance. Doris Oliver, Editor of The Bison, is the dynamo behind the publicity and Don Hinz is the Parade chairman.

Dance

The dance is to be held in the Men's Gym Saturday evening at 9:00. Final plans for the dance band are not completed. (Watch next week's Spectrum). There will be no restrictions on the attendance of the dance. Senior Staff has the concessions on coat and hat check. A fee of ten cents will be the charge for this service. This year hand stamps will be used instead of the usual tickets.

Publicity

All efforts are being made to make this the most known Homecoming of all. Posters are being distributed in all near-by towns. The Theta Chi Toonerville Trolley leaving for the Forks this Saturday will display the colors with a sign informing all incognizant souls of the event. Posters will be displayed in every building on the campus. There will be a PA system at the game. Radio will aid the cause by advertising the game and parade. Both KVOX and WDAY are cooperating. The parade will be broadcast.

Parade

Don Hinz will have the complete chart of the parade route ready next week, positions of the different floats, and where the participants are to meet to form parade formation. (Next issue of Spectrum will carry complete plans.) The organizations that are to participate to date are fraternities, sororities, band, Guidon, Eagles, Elks, Fargo High School band, and the alumni. Blue Key has charge of getting the route of the parade decorated. It is hoped the Jaycees will offer a trophy for the best decorated store front.

Olson Speaks To LSA On Luther

Rev. Vendel Olson, pastor of Bethesda Lutheran Church, Moorhead, spoke on the topic, "Martin Luther," at the October 9th meeting of the LSA. Meetings are held every Sunday afternoon at 5:00 with a supper hour followed by a devotional and recreational program.

An added feature of LSA this year is an office located in the "Y" building, directly to the left as you enter the front door. Miss Arlene Olmstead, Lutheran Student Counsellor, is in charge.

Of interest to Lutheran students is the publication, "LSA Flashes," which is now being distributed.

Sunday, Oct. 21, LSA will have a panel discussion entitled "Faith For Our Duty." Those taking part in the discussion are Inez Carlson, Joyce Nelson, Clarence Johnson with Robert Borgwardt as moderator.

Esther Fugl and June Carlson are in charge of the program and Karen Eide will conduct devotion.

At the meeting there will be the regular supper hour at 5 p.m.

Attention: Watch for notices of when your class play practices. They will be posted on LCT bulletin board. More boys are needed for dramatic parts.

• New Adventure

Just between you and me, this kid was thrilled last week. About what? Strange as it may seem, it was nothing but a football game. Sure, I've seen them before, but not with the team wearing the yellow and green and representing my college.

For the information of the Freshmen, the Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors of this institution have never had a football team. Times are returning to normal, or so the alumni say. We wouldn't know, we haven't seen normal times.

There may be gripes that the school is not run like it used to be. But the leaders of the school haven't had the experience of managing such a large student body. The problems are new, varied, and often far more complicated than those previously encountered. An example of this is the Homecoming that is approaching. The whole student body is about ready to launch a peace time "must" of college life. There are no experienced hands at Homecoming managing, so let's direct our enthusiasm and efforts into channels that will be helpful to the Homecoming committee in making our first peace time adventure a success.

❖ Humor - Door ❖

By Tindall

From the ancient archives of our fair institution, I have unearthed some little known facts concerning two of our own illustrious inmates, Frank and Earnest, for that is what they call themselves . . . NOW, are mental giants, j.g. They are only three and a half years old, yet they have been doing Einstein's homework for years. My first encounter with said characters occurred when I found myself in the Outstretched Palm Room telling phony fortunes for a few shekels. They were discussing their coming campaign for the repeal of Newton's law of gravity with Fungus B. Scrapfaggott. Fungus, you must understand, is the original "missing link" (of what, no one knows!) Some brief notes on Fungus B. are: Born at the age of two, in the small village of Ham on Rye, his first words were, "Leave us not be juvenile . . . are you a Republican or Democrat?" Scrapfaggott met Frank and Earnest at a savage football game between Taxidermy Tech and Anthropology A. and M. where F. & E. were teaching safe-cracking and other liberal arts. He has recently patented a process for bottling prop wash to be used as a shampoo, and for this achievement he was made a member of the Ossified Fishcake Union, Local No. 001. As a final note on Scrapfaggott, may I also add that only this week he was elected chairman of the S.P.C.S. (Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Snails.) What a man! What a physique! One hundred and one pounds of bone and muscle! That is, one hundred bones and one muscle!

Getting back to Frank and Earnest, I might say that their interests haven't been confined to only the higher fields of learning. There was a time in their brief lives when money was scarce (does it come in any other size?) and F. and E. became house detectives for Crestfallen Manors. Their greatest exploit in this line was the celebrated 'case of the missing sled dog', in which the main clue was a check for a short beer. Of course, the discovery of this important clue left no doubt in their minds that the true culprits were the Sigma Chi Boys!

And now we leave the Terrible Trio happily smashing and reassembling atoms, on the corner of Hollywood and Vine as they wait for the Robert E. Lee!

Men's Hotel Calling!

By Kenneth Maetzold

With the removal of army troops from the NDAC campus the Men's Residence Hall has returned to its pre-war use of housing college students, and it appears that this college year holds in store many opportunities, fellowships, recreation, and entertainment for those who reside within. With only a month's notice of the government's evacuation, Dean Sevrinson, with the help of other faculty members, planned and prepared the dorm for fall term college students.

The dorm is not completely adjusted, however. Many is the nickel dropped into the pay telephones by some anxious kid (such as "Fritz") to complete a call to his best girl. The unworkable locks on the doors is another item left by the army, but then, it's always nice to have company.

All dorm students met September 24 to elect the following officers to the Dorm council: President, Bill Byerly; vice-president Milton Anderson; secretary-treasurer, Don Campbell. The purpose of this council is to serve as a governing body, making regulations and requirements for the benefit of the students in the dorm, supervising various dorm activities. In addition to the council, a proctor supervises the students on the floor to which he is assigned. Proctors are Joe Hoveland, Peter Skjerseth, and W. Witteman.

The residence hall is under the new direction of Mr. and Mrs. Moberg. A social committee, with Ernest Wurm as chairman, will see that students receive a well-rounded social life. Others on the committee are Howard Bahr, Don Bogar, James Olson, LeRoy Schonberger, Riny Meyer, and Leo Vossler. They have already organized a men's glee club and a dance band. A touch football team is preparing to play fraternities and other college organizations. Later, a basketball team will schedule games.

There are 145 men now residing in the dorm. Nine servicemen and their wives reside in third floor rooms. In the early hours of the morning friendly calls from the four bouncing babies on this floor, come floating down. Many students seem to be using them as an alarm clock to make their eight o'clock classes.

So you see, it is just one big happy family at the men's dorm again this year.

Go North

It is rumored that all stores will close the 19 and 20 due to the large portion of Fargo's population that is seemingly joining the exodus to Grand Forks, the city in North Dakota which houses The State Correspondence school. The attraction at this unincorporated settlement is the scrimmaging of the Bison eleven vs The Grand Forks? Also of interest to the sojourners is the book review to be held by the DAR on "The Place of Women's Suffrage". Headquarters for the DAR is in East Grand Forks, voted last year as the most thriving community near North Dakota.

Have A Gripe

No coke machine in science. Why do the engineers rate like they do?

No men's lounge in science. A lot of fellows would appreciate a place to rest and study during their free periods; trying to study in the front hall is like trying to sleep during an artillery barrage.

This is try at something many of the students have been asking for—A Gripe Column. A chance to express, for all to see, their gripes pro and con on any and all subjects. This will be your column, your chance to express your opinions, whether it survives or falls is up to you. So, how about it? Label your contributions Gripes and drop them in the Bricks and Bouquets box outside of the Spectrum office. Hope to see you next week. Yours for bigger and better gripes. — D. V.

Bricks And Bouquets

Boy of the week—Forgetful Stan the two bus chip man!

The misery of being a senior girl—not being able to finish a dance with an eligible freshman.

The desire of most men students—a men's lounge in Science, a place to STUDY and rest during their free periods. Trying to study in the front hall is like trying to sleep during an artillery barrage.

Girls who cannot understand English, the happy faces who wandered all over the men's dorm Sunday afternoon. Also in prominence was that musical sound made by galloping dominoes.

Additional Poem

The accounting student grew madder

His Blood began to mount
An adding machine I'll seek, he said.

It's the little things that count.

Not four roses but three times four, that's right, twelve. Recipient of this sweet bouquet was Donna Litherland. The donor—an old four roses man, Ray Gruel.

Result of the Blue Monday tea—blue girls. Reason? No boys.

AC's good will department—the guys and gals who journeyed to Jamestown for the "Y" confab. By the sound of things, they really spread it on, but THICK.

A sequel to "Forever Amber"—"The Life of the Night Watchman at Ceres Hall" or "You Can't Take It With You."

Lost, Strayed, or Stolen:

One Sig pin, finder return to "Hands" Anderson for liberal reward.

A vote will be taken next week to choose the "Queen of the Smoker." All interested report to Science Wednesday afternoon. Bring your own cigs and gas-masks to "I've got to have a fag" Hilleboe, who will be in charge. Appropriate prizes and honors will be given to the winners.

Do you want to go nightclubbing but just can't make the grade because of size or age? Well I tell you what you do, look up Kate Skjonsby and her pals. They seem to have the inside track out at Dilworth.

Stamping ground of the torrid Trio, (Frank, Bob, and Nick) Moorhead's social center—The "Fish Bowl." How was fishing boys? Were the suckers biting as usual?

New campus character—Kitz-miller the modern story teller. Welcome home Etta. I know lots of boys are glad to see you back, eh Dale?

Agency of the times—Doris' date bureau, D. Oliver, President, Vice-president, Secretary, Treasurer and the whole dang works. All in need of assistance please apply in person. (Pd. Adv.) (So they tell me.)

Super Snoopers—Cruising Detective Agency.

FRESHMAN H A N G O U T "Nick's Coke and Phosphate Parlor." Joy Wagon—T. C.'s U. bound rocket, source of joy, the multitudes or sorority gals that are fighting for the "jump" seats. More power to you fellas—hope you have a grand time, I bet that you will.

Sad Sack.

Fashions-Ode

Do you creep unhappily around Science Hall? You do? Sad life, isn't it? But—if this is your foul fate—look upon Jean Rosatti. You will realize that things could be worse. But Rosatti goes padding happily thru life in buskins made of buckskin. Tres, tres, chic.

Seen at the Greek dance—Marj Sebens being very gay in raspberry ice wool jersey with a draped drape which, naturally, gives her a drape shape. Also observed at the Greek Gaities—Freshman Bea Jones in terracotta and green wool jersey. Verree pretty!

Fanfare! New student E. M. Kitz-Miller causes great sensation with black rimmed glasses. Just the thing for a sad a. m. as they cover the bags under the eyes.

Betty Sue Armstrong, pride of Bismarck, blends in beautifully with the autumn campus in her burnt orange coat.

And Jeanne Kibler—having twisted our arm—is now mentioned for her sweat pants, very draped with gathered ankles—very becoming.

Meet The Bison

This is the first of a series of articles to help you get acquainted with your Bison. The first article gives a little history of six of the regular players of the team.

Warner Dickens

Charles Dickens—Charlie is a Freshman who comes from Buenos Aires, Argentina where he played two years of rugby. He plays at right half-back and does a considerable amount of running, passing, and blocking.

Bruce Warner—"Mouse" is the lightest man on the team but is very fast and a hard man to tackle. He is a Freshman from Fargo and played three years at Central High. His running and passing ability makes him a dangerous threat at all times. He plays at the left half-back position.

Hofmeister Otelie

Don Hofmeister—"Hoff" is the "brains" of the team, calling the signals. He is a sophomore from Grand Forks where he had two years of experience at quarter-back position. "Hoff" played blocking back in the army. He plays fullback, does the majority of the plugging and is also a very good blocker.

Hanson Amsden

Dean Amsden — Dean tips the scale at 210. This husky Bison tackle from Hettinger is a natural with four years of football in high school and named on the Class B all-state team his last year. He is a freshman.

Dick Hanson — Bison left end hails from Barnes County where he won fame playing on the Consolidated Basketball team. This is Dick's first year of football but what he lacks in experience he makes up in ability. With a couple of years seasoning this boy will really make a heads-up player. Dick is a tall, rangy player, tipping the scales at approximately 190 and standing an even six feet. After the football season is over you will probably have plenty of chances to see this boy charging up and down the hardwood court.

From The Sidelines

Last week I predicted the Bison to win by a 14-point margin. Monday morning quarter backs are giving me the works for being such a poor guesser. Those who saw the game were thoroughly disgusted with the tie.

The Bison outplayed the Cobbers and should have easily scored two touchdowns against the boys from across the river. What I couldn't understand about the Bison play—they were picking up yardage continuously in the line—why all the passes?

The school spirit wasn't up to par Saturday. The cheer leaders, Joyce Smith and Mary Hilleboe, were not receiving the support they should have. Let's give our all on Saturday in Grand Forks.

I don't believe I shall make any predictions for the U-AC Game, but I do think it will be a bang-up ball game. Both teams are fairly matched for the battle.

Heard from a sorority girl after the Bison lost the ball on Downs "Why doesn't the AC keep the ball and try to make a touchdown?" "Abe Kashey" Holmes tore out what little hair he had left trying to explain.

Congratulations to Mr. Schroepfer. As they say, "The band is half the battle!"

Gil Spooner, president of the Student Commission has been giving the "Spec" staff the heat lately for not mentioning Homecoming—the date—October 27, Saturday. The Bison play the Sioux in a return engagement. As usual, all the trimmings go with the game. Tell your friends. See you in Grand Forks on Saturday.

Bison In Action Against Winnipeg

NDSC Journeys To Forks For Battle With Sioux

When the NDAC team journeys to Grand Forks this weekend to battle the UND Sioux of that city, they may expect stiff opposition.

Though the Sioux lost their first game, to the Winnipeg Bombers, their starting lineup for the University Homecoming shows more than a little promise. Coach C. A. West depends on the services of Don Hiney, who will probably hold down the lefthalf position at kick-off time. Hiney, a triple-threat man, was an outstanding performer in the U-Bomber game. Blocking back Mike Ranney, only member of the team who has had pre-war experience with the Sioux, should give the Bison considerable trouble. Other probable starters will be Dewey King at Center, who was on the Minnesota squad last year, and Marv Schuler, 190 pound end from Valley City, who should also be in shape for the game Saturday.

Fall to Score

The Bison have yet to register their first triumph of the season. Although they failed to score a victory over Concordia, the Herd is looking forward to a successful engagement with the Sioux. Coach Bob Lowe, with the aid of E. E. Kaiser and Lt. Haynes, is whipping the Bison into shape to face the powerful Sioux aggregation. None of the men removed from the Bison lineup Saturday because of injuries were seriously disabled. All the men are expected to be in the "pink" for the Sioux encounter.

Performers Named

Bison performers who will see action in Saturday's game will be Dennis Drews, who played a brilliant game at his half back position against the Cobbers; Norman (Mons) Otelie, magnificent offensive back and always a dependable pigskin totter; Tony Paliseno, the brick wall of the Bison Line; Don Hofmeister, the Herd's pilot, Warner, who played a good game as safety man. Rick Christianson, Joe Phelps, Joe Hovland, Hanson, Thorngruben and Dyke complete the Herd's probable first string.

The Grand Forks game will be called at 2:30 sharp. Many NDSC students plan on attending the Homecoming Festivities which begin Friday night and close with a Homecoming Ball Saturday night.

Cobbers, Bison Tie Game In 0-0 Heartbreaker

The more powerful NDAC Bison were unable to score against the Concordia Cobbers in the game played at the Fargo High stadium Saturday. The Bison had a decided advantage over Concordia until the last fifteen minutes of play. Concordia threatened to score several times, depending on the passing ability of Auggie Hoeger, star performer for the Cobbers.

NDAC shoved the Cobbers all over the field in the first half of the game, but failed to score a single counter. Mons (the mad Russian) Oftelie played a good offensive game at the fullback position. Every time the Bison hit the line, Mons would pick up several yards. Dennis Drews made a good account of himself on both defensive and offensive play. Saturday's fray was Drew's first start with the Bison.

Don Hofmiester, the Bison quarterback, made the longest run of the game, galloping 17 yards on a reverse play. The light weight safety man, Bruce Warner, also turned in a good game. The Bison line was strengthened considerably with Tony Palesino's two hundred and thirty-five pounds of beef filling the right tackle position.

Other linemen carrying their burdens wonderfully were Rick

The Bison journey to Grand Forks this weekend to battle a powerful Sioux aggregation. Jerry McCoy, acting captain and playing end for the Herd, may not start in the Bison-Sioux game because of injuries received in the Cobber game.

Deans Report

All College Coffee Hour for faculty and students today, Thursday, from 3:30 to 4:30 in Main Building Lounge. Dean Sevrinson and Dean Dinan are in charge of arrangements and members of Senior Staff will be assistant hostesses. Next week a group of students from the Independent Students Association will be assistant hostesses. Drop in today and talk over Homecoming plans

The Faculty Women's club will hold a picnic supper Friday evening in the Log Cabin at 6:00 p. m. Each family brings its own picnic lunch and utensils. Following the supper will be a social hour of games. Mrs. Leon Metzinger is in charge.

Monday October 22 the Board of Publications will meet in the Spectrum office at 3:00 p. m.

Commission Members Chosen By Sophomores For Year

Sophomore Commission for the YWCA has had two meetings this fall. The members of the Commission are:

Cabinet Advisor, Lillian Nydahl; President, Ellen Johnson; Vice-President, Judy Gessner; Secretary, Ruth Gordon; Treasurer, Helen Crews; Campus Sister Committee, Marilyn Collette; Membership Committee, Helen Beauchamp; Worship and Chapel, Donna Fisk; Public Affairs, Lucille Book; Social Activities, Gloria Crews; Music, Mary Herbison; W. S. S. F., Mary Lou Myers; Radio and Spectrum, Loretta Swisher; Publicity, Freddy Cooper; Assistant Freshman Commission Advisor, Joyce Hudson; Conference Chairman, Lois Harrington; Courtesy, DeLores Lamb; Social Service, Delores Martinson.

Commission Meets

The Commission meets on Monday noon and each girl brings her own lunch. The chief function of the Sophomore Commission is the sponsoring of the Blue Monday Teas to which everyone is cordially invited. Monday, Oct. 15, was the first Blue Monday Tea of the year. Gloria Crews was chairman, assisted by the entire Commission. Mary Herbison furnished the background music. Mrs. Hoppert was the hostess. In charge of the Tea next Monday will be Helen Beauchamp and Lucille Book. The next Blue Monday Tea will be the kickoff tea for the Y Membership Drive. Darlene Thompson is head of this drive, assisted by Helen Beauchamp and Mary Lou Kramer. You may join the YWCA Monday at the tea or at your sorority house, dorm or independent meetings.

Representatives of the Sophomore Commission at the Area Conference in Jamestown this past weekend were Lois Harrington and Loretta Swisher.

Tryota Club Initiates 83 Freshmen Girls

Tryota, home economics club, initiated 83 students Tuesday at a candlelight ceremony at the college.

Participating in a skit which followed the services were Leola Myra, Fairdale; Phyllis Nickerson, Langdon; Lucille Vangerud, Kindred; Janice Bergeson, Lake Park, Minn.; and Beverly Anderson, Kulm.

Jean Carlson, Mohall, was elected freshman representative to the student council. Janet Lyngstad, Rugby, was in charge of refreshments for the social hour.

YM and YW Make Report

Jamestown was the scene of the YWCA and the YMCA Conference held Oct. 11 to 14. The main topic for the three day session was "Christian Responsibility on the Campus." This year's program is being planned on the basis of information gained at the meeting.

Those who represented the "Y" were: Loretta Swisher, Mary Burfening, Lois Harrington, Ivy Osthy, Gloria Asker, Jean Monson, Gladys Peterson, James Fuller, Edwin Anderson, Russ Cold-erwood, Kenneth Maetzold, Eugene Weist, Beverly Anderson, Floyd Grothe, and Vern Hathaway. Advisors for the group were Mrs. H. L. Walster and Mr. Otterson.

"Y" Aids Homecoming
The YMCA will turn into the nerve center of college activity during Homecoming as the information bureau for returning students, faculty, and alumni. This service is extended to all who wish it.

Worship Planned
Friday morning, Oct. 19 at 7:30 a worship service will be held. This is the first in a series of services to be held on Fridays. Those in charge are Beverly Anderson, Glenna Kjelland, Delores Fischbein, Donna Fisk and Mary Herbison. This service is open to students and faculty members.
