All Army Show On NDAC Campus Thursday, Friday

The all-army show from the Seventh Service Command, Omaha, Nebraska, with its presentation entitled "The Production Urgency," will make a two-night appearance on the NDAC campus tonight and Friday at Festival Hall. Both programs will get under way at 8:00 p.m., and the public is cordially invited to attend. No admission will be charged.

This all-soldier show is helping to promote increased farm war production, war bond sales, and the North Dakota cancer drive.

Top concert musicians and former symphony members comprise the string quartet from Camp Crowder, Missouri, which is one of the many featured groups on the varied program.

Pvt. Max Lanner, former pianist-conductor with the Vienna, Austria, Symphony orchestra, is the featured soloist. Lanner came to this country in 1936 when Hitler came into power.

One of the highlights will be the appearance of the well-known 306th Army Service Force Band from O'Reilly General Hospital, Springfield, Missouri. This group features military music and a seventeen-piece dance band combined with a chorus of twenty-seven voices.

Other members of the show include tenor soloist Cpl. Paul Rybert, Master of Ceremonies Hal Fontenelle, and impersonator Pvt. Irwin Bishines.

Lt. S. F. Garside of Las Vegas, Nevada, and a graduate of the former NDAC officer candidate school, is in charge of handling advanced planning. He is assigned with the Public Relations Office, Seventh Service Command.

AC Faculty Club Meeting Today

The N D A C Faculty Club Women's Club will meet today from 2:30 to 5 p.m. in the Ceres hall parlors. Mrs. J. A. Munro is hostess chairman for the meeting. Assisting her will be Mesdames L. Jensen, D. L. Muray, S. D. Owen, E. E. Kaiser, Cap Miller, W. E. Brantzel, T. Gildersleeve, G. I. Nelson, C. A. Sevrinson, Glenn Smith, and J. E. Young and Miss Ruby M. Grimes.

YMCA Notice

All freshman girls interested in serving on the Sophomore YWCA cabinet are asked to see Mrs. Gessell at the "Y" on Monday between the hours of 1 to 5 p.m.

Editorial

Tryota has undertaken the sponsorship of the United Nations Clothing Collection on the campus April 1-30. The object of this campaign is to help with overseas war relief by sending clothing to the millions of destitute in war devastated lands.

Place your clothing in boxes which will be left in the "Y," Ceres Hall, and Old Main. A door-to-door canvas will be made in Ceres Hall. Anyone who wishes to, may use this method of getting their articles to the general Fargo campaign headquarters.

Girls and fellows, can't you get out all of your old but wearable clothes, not in use, to be sent to these poor refugees? Remember, if you didn't wear it this winter, you'll never wear it next; so why use up room in your closet or bother to take it home? Boys, your old faded sweater or baggy pants will be exceedingly appreciated; and girls, a small refugee would be thrilled to wear that dress which you consider homely and out-of-date.

We would appreciate greatly the support of the faculty and office workers, as well as that of the sororities, fraternities, and other organizations on the campus.

General committee members are Janice Bergeson, chairman; Lydia Smith, Lucille Slominski, and Alice Hanson.

Classes Compete In One-Act Play Contest

Four one-act plays, given by the respective classes, will be presented on Tuesday, April 24, at 8:00 P. M. in the Little Country Theater.

The Senior play, "Still Stands the House" by Gwendolyn Pharis, is set in northwestern Canada in a farmhouse at the present day.

Characters are: Bruce Warren, Charles Johnson; Ruth Warren, his wife, Beverly Halbeisen; Hester Warren, his sister, Mary Tilden; Arthur Manning, a real estate agent, Nathan Crosby.

Beverly Halbeisen heads the production staff with Pat Wirtenberger as stage manager, and Nathan Crosby and Gay Ranney as assistants.

Lutheran Students Make Report

Frida Nilsen, former missionary to China and now on the faculty at Concordia College will speak at the Lutheran Students Association meeting on Sunday, April 22. Her talk will be on "Foreign Missions" with relation to the LSA mission projects which were explained at the last meeting.

The annual offering for these mission projects under the heading of Lutheran Student Action will be received.

The meeting will be held at the College "Y" at five fifteen and lunch will be served.

Tryota Holds Project Dinner

Tryota Summer Project dinner—

On Tuesday, April 17, Tryota held its annual summer project dinner in the Lincoln Log Cabin of Main Building. A patriotic motif characterized the decorations of the tables, at which approximately 125 members were present.

Four Home Economics girls presented their reports—two of clothing projects and two of foods preparation during the summer months. The reports given were as follows: "An Evening Well Spent", by Darleen Thompson of Fargo; "Natty Needle Necessities", by Gloria Aker of Fargo; "A City Slicker on the Farm" by Wilma Taylor of Lawton; and "The Unpredictable Summer", by Rose Anne Vogel of Fargo. All four reports were original, interesting, and well given.

Miss Hawkins presented the freshman girls who were awarded honorable mention. They were as follows: Melba Maston, Banks; Verna Grage, Grandin; Sue Naaden, Braddock; Evelyn Wyum, Ruthland; Eleanor Juhlke, Arvilla; Dorine Smith, Kathryn; and Lillian Nydahl, Elna Moe, Lois Krebsbach, Mary Burfening, and Peggy O'Brien, all of Fargo.

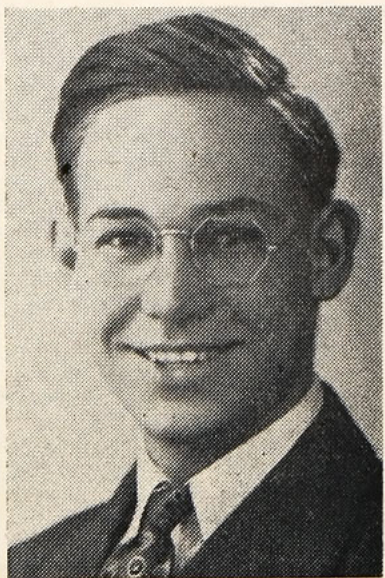

Miss Leebey read the names of sophomore girls receiving honorable mention for their summer projects. The list was as follows: Muriel Vosper, Neche; Doris Dean, Hatton; Marjorie Paul, Edgeley; Lucille Vangerud, Kindred; Janet Lyngstad, Rugby; Marie Fog, Lisbon; Kathleen Huntley, Kindred; Janes Mathe-son, Fairmount; and Peggy Freeberg, Wimbledon.

Farand Clarke of Moorhead, Minnesota, and Enid Whittenberg of Detroit Lakes, Minnesota, were in charge of the dinner.

Scholarship Still Available To Girls

Applications are still available for students to apply for fifty dollar scholarship awards which are made by the Faculty Women's Club, Panhellenic Council and Gamma Phi Beta Alumnae Association. Any student on the campus who meets with the requirements of scholarship and promises success in her field plus need for help is eligible to apply for one of these scholarships. Applications may be secured at Miss Dinan's office.

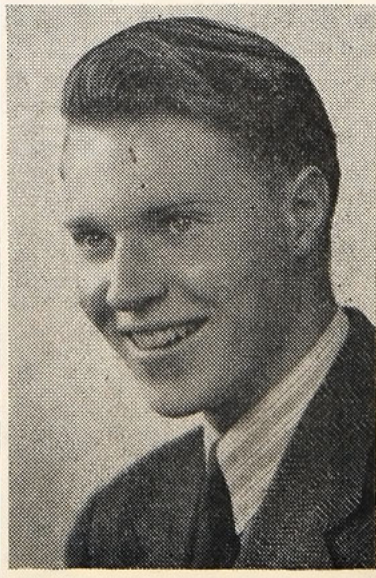

Fraternity Presidents

Recently elected president of the Gamma Tau chapter of Sigma Chi fraternity for the coming year is John Dady. Mr. Dady is a sophomore in the school of Applied Arts and Science and lives in Fargo.

William Sherman has served as president of Theta Chi fraternity during the past school year. He is a freshman in Chemistry and is a rehabilitation student on the NDAC campus. Gil Spooner is the newly elected president of the fraternity at the present time.

Not pictured is Arden Aanstad, junior in Agriculture who is from Walcott. He is the new president of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

Open Forum

Another week has elapsed, and we have witnessed the passing of one of the greatest men in history. We will be reminded of this during the coming month by the viewing of Old Glory waving at half mast in mourning for a great president's death.

There seems to have been some controversy over the holding of the dance on Friday night and the stunt program Saturday. There was no noticeable change or cancellation of classes on either of these days; therefore both programs were carried out with full realization of the prevailing situation. At this point it would seem advisable to explain the reason (which was not announced on Saturday night) for the faculty's not being represented on the evening's program as originally scheduled. The course of events during the week deemed it advisable for the faculty not to partake in the presentation of a feature at this time. The double quartet was to have performed, but because of this cancellation will appear at some later date for a program.

Once again we witness the creeping in of "friction" amongst the group which should hold full co-operations at all times.

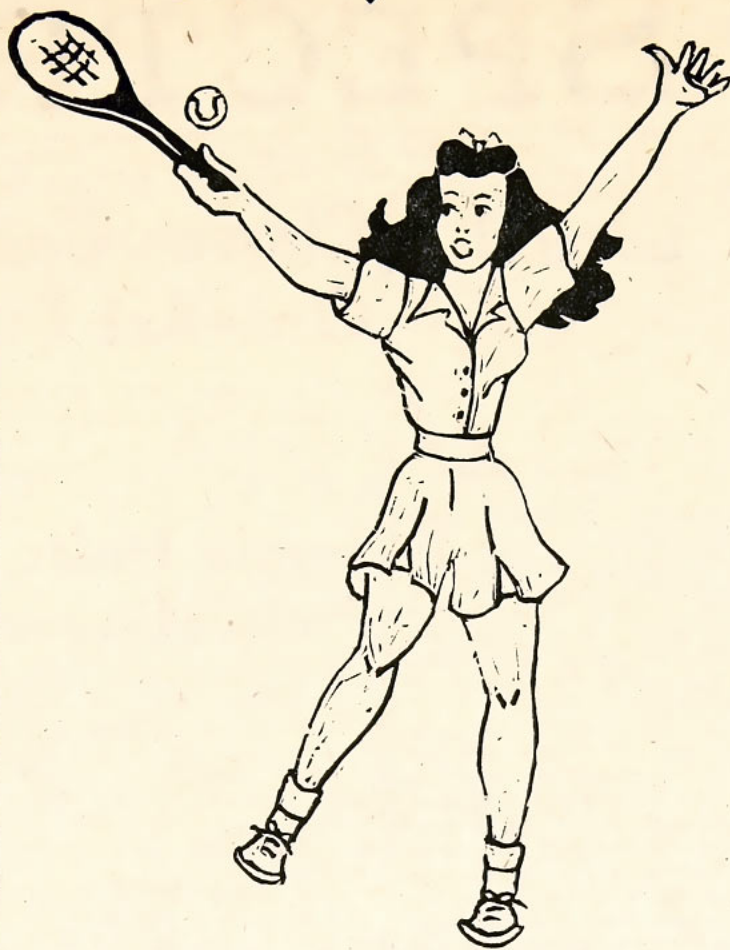

Aside from this, it was pleasing to note the large attendance at this program which was for such a worthy cause and whose goal was far exceeded. Who said the students are not back of any school undertaking?

A movement is now under way in the line of a petition from the girls in physical education classes for the obtaining of the Field House for their use. Tennis classes are now being conducted in the midst of many handicaps and hardships which have to be met in crowded and undesirable quarters. After all, what is the Field House for if not for use by the students of NDAC, male or female. Action has been requested on this matter in the past, but so far no request has met with success. If there is a satisfactory reason for refusing the girls' use of the Field House, this reason should be made known by those who have the power to refuse or grant the girls' request.

Competition seems to be running quite high in the matter of the coming one act plays between the various classes. This is the very thing that is needed and should make this event something not to be missed by any student on the NDAC campus.

Please hand in your contributions for the Open Forum. Your opinion is needed.

The try-outs for the play 'Im trying to describe, "By The Skin Of Your Teeth" by Thornton Wilder, followed a serious vein as Arvold's favorite son screamed at the aspirants to come down off the ceiling, they were marking up his father's theater. Never let it be said that the lines are coherent, because they aren't. Do you feel mammoth (don't blush, that's also a kind of animal.) If so, try out. There is also a part of the dinosaur that I'm coveting. Anything for the theater. I've contributed quite abit already though. — Two ticket stubs and three cigarette butts. (Buts spelled backwards is stubs! Remember that cigarette smokers!)

Odds

And

Ends

ODD: After ignoring John Schonberg for three weeks I find that the guy has a lot on the ball. A sense of humor and what a line!

&: My vote for the hardest working human on campus is cast for Mr. Hardway, the librarian. Every time you trot into the place he is pushing books around.

END: Howard Nelson is an all-right guy. I had the idea that he was unapproachable, but in one of my desperate moments I asked him for a cigaret AND GOT ONE.

ODD: For weeks a new diamond has adorned one of our coeds and nothing has been said. Lorraine Yoerg is the afore said co-ed.

&: Audrey Olson went to Delaware during Easter vacation to visit one of her various swains. Seems that she met a Lt. on the train and now she has another swain. Why can't things like that happen to me? The only thing I meet on trains is a long line outside of the Ladies Rooms.

END: Fun Nite was really all right. There were a lot of people around for a change and it did my heart good, and as Beve said, its nice to see spirits abounding for a change.

ODD: Some people have got it and some people ain't. Arden Aanestad seems to think that he has it. Where he got the idea beats me.

&: I have discovered something. The new gathering place after midnight is the North Side dam. I hadn't ben there for years but I certinly enjoyed the evening. I sat and watched Les Walters try to baptize his date. Must say I've seen more subtle ways of getting rid of women.

END: I think Adelaide Dinwoodie is terrific. She's a darn good sport. How many other women would appear on the stage in a night shirt?

ODD: John Slingsby is now buying my coffee. He'll go to any extreme, it seems, to keep his name out of print.

&: The SAEs seem to think that Stan Simons is their best vocalist. I guess they haven't heard Lud Grande when he gets going.

END: George Duis is back among us. He has to have THE hospital. 'S nice to have THE gentleman of the campus back.

ODD: Miss Dakin of the book store has promised to do all in her power to obtain a coke machine for Science Hall. And rightly so we do appreciate her taking an interest in the welfare of the students.

&: Hjeltie, to our way of thinking, is really a style setter in his own way and has made many an eye glance up to view him in passing.

Seasonable Stuff . .

BY UNCLE LOUIE'S NIECE

It takes a brave man to weather the weather nowadays. (Of course you've heard about the forecaster who can look into a girl's eyes and tell whether.) And even if you do succeed in weathering same, there's always Chemistry to live through. Some of us think we could do better in a course on the Greek language. That would only be foreign (Greek to us), but this Chemistry is impossible. At least to a moron, and can I help it if I am? Then there's that sewing project to finish, and me with no sleeves, hem, or collar on my garment yet. How I wish I could be like Uncle Louie, and not worry about anything at all. (Right now he's in a place where he doesn't need to worry—he goes free room and board and doesn't have to pay income tax.) Uncle Louie is my favorite relative, you know. And speaking of relatives, I've been hashing them over in my mind for several years (figuratively speaking, of course) and here are a few conclusions I've reached.

Relatives may be classified in the following categories: 1. immediate, 2. distant, 3. big brothers.

Immediate are the type who are close enough to know where to get hold of you when they need a little extra change, but sometimes forget to let you go after mangling your bank account. Distant relatives are governed by the same general principles, except that you usually are forced to lend the money without a struggle to distant relatives to keep them that way. Another characteristic common to both types is the drop-in-for-a-few-days-and-stay-a-month habit. This is practiced especially by great aunts, usually accompanied by the gremlin-typé nephew. This little fellow's actions can be conservatively compared to those of an amphibious PT boat with wings. He commonly is found camouflaged by the davenport, preparing a scientific hot-foot with his Superman Chemistry Set.

As for the third class, I trust tha many of you have had previous experience with big brothers. A big brother is a swell person—if he is you. If, however, you are the baby of the family, and the character in discussion is your big brother, most experts advise the keeping of an accessible supply of hand grenades and a kit of K-rations in case you are ever locked in a closet or coal bin while performing an errand for said brother. For instance, he might request you to "Run down the basement and get me my double-barreled shotgun with the suicidal recoil. We'll go rabbit hunting, and you can have the first shot!" And then, as you race eagerly down the cellar stairs, you suddenly come into unhappy contact with a tightly strung piece of wire which was once an innocent radio aerial, but which now has all the earmarks of a booby trap. When you regain consciousness and have blasted yourself an escape from the cellar with one of your ever-present hand grenades, you may desire revenge. Don't attempt it if you want to live! Once, as a silly child, I tried to give my brother a playfull tap on the cranium with a padded blackjack. At the last moment, however, I was apprehended; and, as a punishment for the attempt, my brother took away my precious little toy stove. I've been slightly deranged ever since.

But, whatever may be said about relatives, they're always with you when you need them. This is because they are simply always with you. The only trouble is that you never need them quite as much as you could get along without them. Nevertheless, we must admit that relatives are loyal, ever-present, and, indeed, good to the last drip.

CAMPUS CLADS

By Pat and Marian

Yes, boys, the girls are turning feminine on the campus. At least it seemed so Friday night when the coeds came sauntering into the big Blue Key affair, proving to you that they can look lush de lush. In spite of the fact that everyone was dancing in a dimmed-down atmosphere with their favorites, to their favorite pieces (played by George Schoen) a watchful eye was busy catching glimpses of this formal and that.

Marge Peterson was seen in a a billowy gold net skirt and taffeta top worn with green and gold sequin butterflies on the shoulder and the skirt.

Kay Householder wore a black crepe peg-top formal skirt with black sequins unexpectedly sprinkled across the lime-colored top. Very chic!

Audrey Remme took the limelight in her white marquisette formal with drop sleeves. The top is showered with red and green sequin flowers throughout. The skirt also reflected numerous sequins. To make a dream team, she also wore white jersey formal gloves trimmed with lace.

Liz Haggart appeared in a suavely tailored royal blue crepe dinner dress with a V-neck and sequin trim in fuchia, green, purple, and pink. The draped skirt has a four-inch slit in the bottom.

HAVE YOU SEEN?

Lillian Larson's striking charreouse blouse. It is wool jersey with three-quarter length sleeves. The tie-neck creates a dainty effect.

Rayon print jersey dresses seem to be dominant this spring such as seen on Rose Anne Vogel. The print is somewhat abstract with a low neckline, tie belt, and groups of gathers on each side of the gored skirt.

Betty Jean Chapman's off-shade white wool shorty. It's an all-around coat.

Bessie Lauder's light blue shorty, giving a chinese effect. There is a black band around the hem and the front.

Kathy Biley's blue season-skipper is a knockout, and a go-everywhere coat.

Arlis Jensen's Aquamarine tuxedo coat with a straight back and trimmed with brown beaver.

Gloria Crems' blue-green box-style coat with black buttons and a scallop effect on the front.

FLASH OF THE WEEK!

Dr. Vassel in a tux at the Blue Key formal. Very nice!

Rifle Team Ends Season

April 13th marked the date that the NDAC Rifle Team fired its last rounds of ammunition for the final match in competition for the National Intercollegiate Rifle Match. The team has shot three matches since January 1st. The first of these was the Randolph Hearst Trophy Match, the Seventh Service Command Gallery Match, and the National Intercollegiate Rifle Match. Those that have shot in these competitions are Robert Shirley, Clarence Ihme, Thomas Fugle, Herman Brusven, Sherman Rovig, Beverly Anderson, Dale Myrha, Ben Richardson, Ernest Iverson, Vernon Strong, Fred Kingdon, Chester Levenson, Dash Comford, Paul Kornberg, Bill Taylor, and Norman Christenson.

The scorings for these matches are listed below, all except those for the Hearst Trophy Match which are not available. The last match listed here shows a drop in score due to the loss in membership and cooperation. It is almost 300 points below their Seventh Service Command Match. The high man for this match was Bob Shirley. Mr. Shirley also had charge of the firing line along with Paul Kornberg.

Independents Have Potluck

About 58 students attended the I. S. A. potluck and meeting held Monday evening in the College Y. Dean and Mrs. Walster and Miss Ruth Haines, Y. W. C. A. National Secretary, were guests for the dinner. Dean Walster showed four reels of colored film which he took while visiting in South America in 1943.

All dues must be paid by April 30 if there is to be any type or form of a term party in May. Plans were discussed for a Friday afternoon picnic on May 18.

The next meeting will be held on April 30 at 7:30 in the College Y. Betty Mickelson is in charge of the program. An executive meeting will precede the regular business meeting.

The final potluck meeting will be held on May 14 in the College Y with the following committees in charge: potluck, Lillian Nydahl, chairman; Delores Aikison, Doris Oliver, and Betty Lou MacDonald; clean-up, Norma Jean Gackle, Ennis Anderson, and Allison Hartz.

I. S. A. has charge of the All-College Coffee Hour today from 3:30 to 4:30 with President Beth Cochran and Inez Kastner pouring. Hostesses from 3:30 to 4:00 will be Dorothy Bader, Evelyn Thurnau, Gladys Sather, and from 4:00 to 4:30 they will be Laura Pollman, Madelyn Johnson, Lorna Longwell, and Joyce Nelson. The honored guests will be Dr. and Mrs. Frank Eversull and Mrs. R. P. Briegel, mother of Mrs. Eversull. The occasion being the President's birthday.

Sigma Alpha Iota Presents Musicale

A program of English and American music was presented followed by a short business meeting of Omicron chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota yesterday at 8 pm in the Fine Arts clubhouse. Miss Matilda Thompson gave the research.

Included in the program were a piano solo, Goosen's The Hurdy Gurdy Man, played by Alethe Wiger. Lucille Vangerud sang Corals by Treharne and Vaughn Williams' Silent Moon. Mrs. B. E. Cooper, pianist, played Lente and Darise Negre by Scot, and Stoessel's Suite for Two Violins was played by Mrs. R. H. Young and Mrs. E. R. Stern. Virginia Koloen sang May Day Carol by Deems Taylor, and a piano solo, Praeludium, by MacDowell was played by Mrs. J. J. A. Ostfield.

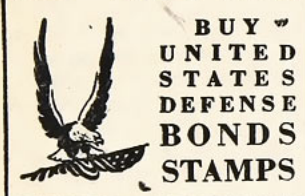

Mrs. Ross Fillebrown and Alethe Wiger played a two piano number, Grofe's Mississippi Suite; and a cornet duet, Concertante by Carl Busch, was played by Mrs. Howard Nelson and Kathleen Huntley.

Serving on the social committee will be Mmes. A. S. Hook, Ross Fillebrown and the Misses Alethe Wiger and Dorothy Fobes.
