PAUL DRAPER

LARRY ADLER

Draper And Adler Please Large Fargo Audience

Appearing on the concert stage of Festival Hall Wednesday, March 28 was Larry Adler and Paul Draper. These two gentlemen came to us from on concert tour and are two of America's youngest concert artists. They have reached fame in the last few years for their personal artistry of two self developed talents unknown before their advent. Their talents are the playing of a harmonica as a concert instrument and the combination of ballet and tap into an individual style of dancing.

The genius of these two men are shown in their individual biography. Larry Adler was born in Baltimore on Feb. 10, 1914. Because of his religion, Judaism, he was given the chance to go into music. He was a very pious individual. After a few years he was sent to Peabody School of music to learn piano. From there he was dismissed as "incorrigible, untalented, and entirely lacking in ear." The later statement seems rather funny considering Larry Adler didn't learn how to read music until 1941 when Jean Berger, French composer, wrote for

Offer Social Service Opportunities

Ethel Olson, NDAC graduate of 1937, and now district representative for the State Public Welfare Board, visited the campus on Tuesday and reports that the Merit System Council, located at Bismarck, will conduct examinations in Fargo early in April. The Council serves such agencies as United States Employment Service for North Dakota, North Dakota Unemployment Compensation Division, North Dakota State Department of Health, and State and County Welfare Boards.

Any girl on the campus who has finished two years of college and has had two years experience in some field related to social service such as teaching or office work for one of the Welfare Boards, may take the examinations and apply for a position as a case worker during the summer months.

For girls who will graduate in June and who are interested in Child Welfare work there are a number of good scholarships available for work towards a Masters Degree in Social Service. Applications should be sent to Mr. Raymond Riese, Director of Personnel, Public Welfare Board, Bismarck, N. D., or further information may be secured from Dean Dinan.

him a harmonica concerto. Previous to this he had learned everything from listening to phonograph records.

Adler was given his first harmonica by a piano salesman and this got him started. Today he has a collection of 2,000. Mr. Adler said his harmonicas were not especially made but did come from Germany. His first successful job was with Rudy Vallee. He has travelled all over the world with his talent, mainly England and France, and appeared before such people as President Roosevelt, the two Georges of England, King Haakon of Norway, Gustav of Sweden, the Windsors and Kents, and Alfonso of Spain.

In 1943 Adler left on tour to entertain the boys across. He covered Africa and the middle east. Mr. Adler said the greatest audience he ever played to was an audience of 9,000 New Zealander soldiers in Cairo. Also on this trip he met his greatest personality, Henrietta Szold of the Adassi movement in Palestine.

Paul Draper's life is very different in mood. He was born in Florence of a very socially prominent family, then they moved to London. When he was young he had such an inferiority complex that he stuttered. A few years later the family, all of whom had reached success in some talent, moved to the United States. Paul has a proud record of being kicked out of practically all of the best colleges in the U. S. Got started dancing as an instructor at Arthur Murray's to teach the "Lindy." A few years later he took six tap dancing lessons and that is all he has had. At the School of American Ballet the idea came to him to mix his ballet and tap dancing and music. Since then he has appeared at all the famous supper clubs in New York and London. In 1944 he united with Adler.

NDAC Servicemen Die In Action

Lt. Pfusch

The death of Lt. Robert R. Pfusch, 23, was recently reported to his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. T. I. Lewis of 515, seventh street south in Moorhead. His death was caused by wounds received March 6, in northern Italy. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Pfusch of Valley City.

At the time he was serving as rifle platoon leader in the mountain troop infantry and word of his promotion to 1st Lieutenant was just received a few days ago.

Lt. Pfusch was within two months of graduating from the NDAC when he was called into service. He entered the services in March of 1943. Pfusch was born in Valley City and graduated from Valley City high school.

Here at the AC he was an ROTC sergeant and president of Theta Chi fraternity. His training was at Camp Hale, Colorado, and Fort Benning, Georgia, and Camp Swift, Texas. Lt. Pfusch went overseas to Italy in December 1944.

Lt. Dobervich

Former NDAC athlete, Lt. Sam Dobervich, was recently killed on Iwo Jima, according to word received by his wife, the former Jane Schultz of Fargo. Lt. Dobervich was killed in action with the Marine Corps. Sam is one of six brothers in service coming from Ironton, Minnesota. He is a veteran of marine campaigns in the Marshall Islands, Tinian, Saipan, Roi and Namur.

Lt. Dobervich was recently awarded the Bronze Star for meritorious achievement. The Lieutenant was born March 13, 1913, at Ironton and was graduated from Crosby-Ironton high school in 1932. He was very outstanding in basketball and football at the NDAC from which he graduated in 1936. He married Jane Schultz, who is now an instructor in the Art department at the NDAC, on July 10, 1938, at Ames, Iowa.

Sam joined the marines in February 1942. He received training at Paris Island, South Carolina, and Camp Le Jeune, North Carolina, and was graduated from officer candidate school at Quantico, Virginia.

Sgt. Nelson

Sgt. David Nelson, 23, son of Dr. and Mrs. Casper I. Nelson of 1358 Twelfth St. No., Fargo, has been reported killed in action on Leyte, February 28, by the war department. Dr. Nelson is professor of bacteriology at NDAC and is a former member of the Fargo board of education.

Sgt. Nelson left Fargo with Company B, 164th North Dakota infantry in February, 1941, and had returned home only once since that time. Sgt. Nelson was a veteran of the Guadalcanal and Bougainville campaigns in the South Pacific.

He was born in Fargo, May 23, 1921, and was graduated from the Fargo high school and attended NDAC a year before entering into active service.

Vassel And Hardaway To Advise ISA

At the potluck meeting held in the College Y at 6:30 Monday evening, Dr. Bruno Vassel and Mr. Elliott Hardaway were welcomed into the Independent Student Association as advisers of the newly reorganized group. Potluck committee consisted of Evelyn Thurnau, chairman, assisted by Ivy Ostby, Inez Kastner, and Madelyn Johnson. The clean-up committee consisted of Mary Manus, chairman, assisted by Gladys Peterson, and Fred Kingdon.

A motion was passed that a fine of 10c would be charged to any member who missed more than one meeting per term and this will be collected by the treasurer.

Lucille Vangerud gave a report on the Name committee and it was decided to keep the name, Independent Student Association, used in the Constitution.

Dues were set at $1.00 per person per term which are to be paid to the treasurer, Glenna Kjelland. A charge of 10c will be collected for each person at the potluck suppers.

Jerry Weingarten was appointed substitute vice-president to replace Harold Kirk until his return to College again. Jerry is chairman of the social committee assisted by Selma Moss, Eleanor Juhlke, and Lorna Longwell.

Committee for the All-College Stunt Night consists of Ben Richardson, chairman, assisted by Marie Fog, Marion Bye, and D'Vera Greenberg.

Potluck committee for April 16 consists of Melba Maston, Georgia Pederson, Janice Bergeson, and Laura Pollman. Clean-up committee is June Stotlar, Jerry Weingarten, Evelyn Wyum, and Marie Fog.

Coffee Hours Resumed

The weekly series of all-college coffee hours for college faculty members and students will be resumed today at the regular hour of 3:30 to 4:30 p. m. in the Main Lounge. Phi Omega Pi will act as assistant hostesses.

Blue Key Plans Dance For April 13

Blue Key fraternity will defy the common old adage of Friday the thirteenth bringing bad luck, by sponsoring a semi-formal dancing party in Festival Hall from 9 to 12 on April 13.

Furnishing the music for this event will again be Wen Schuh and his eight piece orchestra. Wen will be remembered for his contribution in music to the Barn Dance for which he was proved to be a favorite whenever performing.

The dance will be semi-formal with corsages being optional, however, the matter of invitations will be strictly informal and it is hoped that because of present conditions girls as well as boys will acquire dates for this affair. Any college student may invite an outsider if desired by them, thereby making a larger crowd.

The following committees are in charge of arrangements: Arden Aaenstad and Dave Johnson, decorations; Gil Spooner, tickets; Wilbur Christenson, chaperones; John Slingsby, orchestra; John Craven, checking; Nathan Crosby, publicity.

Tickets will soon be on sale at 75c per couple.

Scholarships For Students Offered

Announcement is made from the Dean of Women's office by Miss Dinan that there are various scholarships now available to women students on the campus. Students may now become applicants for these awards which are being offered by the college Panhellenic Association, Gamma Phi Beta Alumni association, and the N. D. A. C. Women's Club.

As usual the Norman B. Block Scholarship awards will also be made to students who are to be nominated by the deans of the various schools. These awards are presented by the Fargo Rotary Club.

Danforth Meeting To Be Held April 5

Thursday, April 5, at 7:30 p.m. there will be a Danforth Meeting held which will be sponsored by Phi U and Tryota. At this meeting the Danforth Foundation will be discussed and also the matter of the fellowships which are offered each year to an outstanding Junior and Senior in the school of Home Economics.

Artists Give Interview To Spectrum

It was with mingled emotions that the audience attending the concert of Paul Draper and Larry Adler praised the work of these two young geniuses. After all, why not? At one moment the audience was enraptured by the ethereal grace and rhythm portrayed by Paul Draper to one of Brahms more fanciful moods, and at the next moment enraptured by how well Alexander Graham Bell's gift to mankind functioned. It isn't often DeBussy gives us visions of the moon via Larry Adler while we are wondering if the poor gentleman on the spotlight could be cured of his palsey. But then I was shaking too, but it was with mortification.

Going backstage to meet the two of the younger prodigees of American favorites was quite an experience. Hope I have the privilege of telling it to my grandchildren. In one way I was very disappointed. They're married. I told Mr. Draper that that reduced his popularity on this campus by 100 per cent but he said his 14 month old daughter was worth it.

If you have a sudden desire to know Leslie Howard with a Phi Beta Kappa key, Paul Draper is your man. The gentleman is only a little under six foot but because of his tremendous poise I got a stiff neck just from the impression that he was so tall. His every action is with undeliberate grace born of self assurance.

And for the fans of Larry Adler might I add he is one of the most charming men I have ever met. His witticism is wonderful. In conclusion both of these men would be very handy to have around the night you have to write that "A or bust" English theme.—By Adelaide Dinwoodie.

Well, the frost is off the pun-kin, and the grass is getting greener all the time. Speaking of grass (and you'll undoubtedly wish we weren't), the well-known lyric, George Gershwin del Schmut, has written, especially for our column, this little lyric verse, to be sung to the tune of "Smiles". He has entitled his beautiful verse, "One Never Can Tell, But Then, on the Other Hand." Here it is:

There's a green that evergreens are;
 There's a green that comes just from envy;
 There's a green that little boys are drawn to
 When they see green apples on a tree.
 There's a green that people seem to love to Call each meek young freshman lad and lass,
 But the green I love the most to gaze at
 Is that beautiful first green grass.

And, just like the grass (only not quite so green, we hope), here WE are getting a fresh start in a brand new term with a student enrollment of approximately four hundred. And miracle of miracles, up to and including the present time, not one gripe has rolled in. Maybe it's spring fever; but anyhow, it's a good way to start the term. If there's a lack of gripes, there should be a corresponding surplus of gloats, so let's try to enumerate a few of the latter.

First there was vacation. Practically everyone went home for vacation. We of the luckier "get-spoiled-when-you-go-home" group were fortunate enough to be able to sleep until noon almost consistently. We awoke gaily singing "Oh, What a Beautiful Morning" to the tune of a gently tinkling luncheon bell. Of course, many of our fellow students have not quite mastered the gentle art of appearing completely fatigued by rigorous scholastic effort; consequently they claim to have been gently, rudely, or just plain awakened early every morning of their vacation. And we can't even label their statements a gripe, because we have as yet encountered no one who didn't enjoy their own version of "our brief respite", as Dr. Eversull called it.

If you weren't at convocation on Monday morning, you missed an excellent address. It should have given every student a definite something to think about and upon which to be prepared to act when he is called upon to do so. We hope all the students will accept Dr. Eversull's advice and make this term an outstanding one.

Series FROM Ceres

BEGINNING

May as well begin by saying that news items are few and far between—that week's respite from the joys and woes of college put things off the beam...

SLEEPY-TIME GAL

Rhoda Johnson admits that her vacation was spent, for the most part, in commuting between Fargo and Hawley and sleeping...

ANOTHER

Ensign for Jean Johnson home on leave... she came to Ceres to rest up after having a wonderful week at home...

A BLOW

For Joyce Smith and Janet Drawz, to spend hours on the train between here and hometown Jamestown, only to find themselves locked out of their room... at 2 in the morning that would discourage the hardiest soul...

MISSING

From the dorm this term are Judy Gesner and Nancy Headsten... we'll miss their shining countenances and happy dispositions... and Judy—I'll especially miss those early morning Chem conferences...

WHOOPEE

For the nine o'clock week-day hours at Ceres... no more of this running your legs off and stumbling up the last three steps to sign in, just as the 8 o'clock bell rings... now it will all happen at 9 o'clock...

BIG TIME

At Valley City for the tournaments, Ardyce Nelson and Jean Gowenlock had the time of their lives... standing up on the bus those last 65 miles on the way to Fargo through the mud and water of those prairie roads wasn't so much fun, though... that one jolt was Jean's downfall though... you can call her Flattop now... wonder if that hole in the ceiling of the bus has been fixed yet...

SHORTAGES

Of cigarettes are a thing of the past this first week... before vacation the smoking gals would take all if, ands, and also any butts, but now, there's been a change in the situation...

ENCOURAGED

By Dr. Eversull's statement that there might, just might, be some Navy boys at the AC in the not too distant future...

A FAMILIAR SIGHT

In the cafeteria today, Lieutenant Smith, striding down the room with a broad smile on his face...

SWINGING

After taking tennis for just one day, the students of that fine sport are swinging that old racket in their sleep... elbows straight, knees bent, hand on the head of the tennis racket... now get that serve!... well, you can't hit it every time, can you?

Coeds Notice!

Girls! Do you want to continue to have the Rest Room in Science Hall? It's up to you whether or not you have it. During the vacation period it was scrubbed from the floor to the ceiling and the day bed and cushion covers were mended and sent to the cleaners. If you appreciate the use of the room enough to keep it from looking like a "hole" it will continue to be available. If you sit on the partition railings, lie down on the day beds with muddy shoes, and leave cigaret stubs, papers, and food containers around, the room will be closed.

Remember! Do not sit on the partitions and dangle your feet against the painted surfaces; clean or remove your shoes before lying down on the day beds; put cigaret stubs in the sand containers or inside the containers on the stands, put wastepaper and unused food and food containers in the wastebaskets. All these are musts. You might just as well talk this over and agree mutually all being deprived of it.—P.D.

Odds

And

Ends

ODD: Peg Freeburg seemingly runs a U. S. O. all of her own. One week it's an Inf. Lt. The next a medic pfc. The next a Marine. This is all professional jealousy. How does she do it?

&: Minneapolis and points east were the spots for action during vacation. Lotsa co-eds migrated east and all report to have had a wonderful time. I wonder if any of them bought an extra 10c war stamp this month.

END: Ah! the influence of the pen. Note the floors in Science. AND—the base boards in "The Girls Lounge" have been washed!

ODD: The various activities that take place on Monday afternoons. Nath, Hoff, June and Fee drink frosted malts. Willie & Liz—because of censorship nothing more can be said.

&: Bill Stockman's luggage. That thing is even big enough to contain John Slingsby's ego.

END: David Johnson's Elizabethian courtesy. 'S a pleasure to be in that boy's company. HE is a gentleman.

&: Another Sig Chi pin is adorning a fair maid's bosom. Gloris Crews—so goes the story—needed a pin to fix a sagging hem line. Bev Anderson had a Sig Chi pin. And things like Sig Chi pins are expendable.

END: Spring must be here. Last week-end the official college lake season opened. Ice hasn't gone from the lakes as yet, but who is interested in water while in that area?

ODD: Ludwig Grande and Jean Newman.

&: We have a competing clothes horse on campus. Jack (Abe Kashey) Holmes—known as John Edward in the better circles. George and Abe are both fine figures of manhood and they both have the clothes to adorn their physiques with.

END: Betty Lou Payne has only three medals of achievement on her blouses these days. The Sig Chi pin is back in the boy's dresser drawer. Personally, I think she should get a badge of merit for returning it.

Easter??

In the past, to a lot of people, Easter has merely meant new clothes and their annual trip to church. To some people it will still mean only that; but to others it will mean a lot more.

Our first thoughts will center around the true meaning of Easter and by so doing the meaning of "freedom of religion" will be a little clearer. We now know what it means to give a life for the principles you uphold. We realize that even a war and greed can't stamp out anything as great as the cause of which Christ gave His life. Just as He arose from the grave, a new and better world must arise from the grave of destruction and hate.

Our next thoughts naturally go to those who are far from home, or those who will never return. Because of them we will be a little more somber, a little more serious and little more inclined to make it a true Easter, not merely a fashion show. Be sure and tell those whom you hold dear something of Easter—you can be sure their thoughts are at home with you.

Finally as you come to the climax of the Lenten Season, try to make Easter a day you have added something to. It isn't a morbid day—don't make it one but give it the real you. America can't afford to be hypocritical on one of the days our boys are fighting to preserve.

Thirty faculty members and students assembled in the lounge of Main Building on Friday March 9, to discuss problems concerning all types of absences. After the present rulings regarding absences had been discussed pro and con, it was decided that only a working program concerning individual cuts could be considered. The rulings governing mass cuts and absences before and after holidays will remain the same. Various systems based on special privileges for advanced students were proposed, but no definite system was decided upon.

On Friday, April 13, another meeting will be held in Main Building Lounge. The Student Commission, class officers, Dr. Vassel, Dean Dinan, and Dean Severinson are to represent the students and the faculty at this meeting. However, all students interested in proposing some type of more liberal individual cut system are requested to write out their suggestions and present them at that time. Any students really interested in helping to work out a worthwhile system for remedying the present situation are welcome to attend the meeting.

This problem is a problem of the students, and one which the students must help to solve. If you feel that you have a helpful suggestion, by all means be present at the meeting and express yourself.

Local Meetings To Replace National YWCA Convention

Due to OPA restrictions the national convention of YWCA was called off. One thousand and six YWCAs all over the United States are to have local meetings to discuss the issues which would have been brought up in the convention.

Delegates from the YWCA on the NDAC campus will meet with work groups from the community YWCA in Fargo on the night of April 4 to work out the plans. The members of the YWCA of NDAC, MSTC and community groups will hold joint meetings, including a dinner meeting, the night of April 11. At this time the findings of these groups will be presented and national board member candidates will be voted upon.

YWCA To Present College Radio Skit

Eight o'clock Thursday evening, March 29, the YWCA of NDAC is sponsoring a quarter hour program over KVOX. Beverly Halbeisen is radio chairman.

Madelyn Johnson and Lucille Vangerud will be interviewed by Jocelyn Birch of KVOX concerning the YWCA's work and purpose on this campus. Other numbers will be a vocal solo by Lucille Vangerud, a trio consisting of Marjorie Peterson, Helma Kinzley, and Lida Lawrence accompanied by Elizabeth Grosz, and a piano solo by Carolyn Bohrer.

Red Cross Drive Come To Close

Monday, April 2, at 5 p. m., has been set as the deadline for final contributions to the American Red Cross drive on the N. D. A. C. campus. The suggestion has been made by Dean Dinan that both organizations and individuals may make additional offerings. It is also noted that a few of the pledges still remain unpaid and should be taken care of at once. All contributions are to be turned into the Dean of Women's office. At present about $430.00 has been raised and this sum is expected to reach the $500.00 mark by the close of the drive.
