

NDAC Student Receives Congressional Citation

Lt. Orville E. Block, NDAC graduate from Streeter, N. D., was awarded the nation's highest decoration, the Congressional Medal of Honor. This five foot three inch Lt. knocked out five machine gun nests, killed possibly a half dozen Germans, captured 19 and wounded six more at Poggia village in Italy. Lt. Block was with the Fifth Army at the time.

The Congressional Medal of Honor was given to him by Lt. General Lucian K. Truscott, commander of the U. S. Fifth Army at a special ceremony. Lt. Block is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Block of Streeter. The Lieutenant is expected back in the States this month.

Lt. Block was a member of Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity here. He received his diploma Dec. 18, 1942. After being commissioned at Fort Benning, Ga., in October of 1942, Block became an instructor. While in school he won the Swift essay contest, was a member of Saddle and Siroloin, and the YMCA.

In a letter written to Dr. O. O. Churchill of the AC faculty Block reports having met several other NDAC students. They were 2nd Lt. Reuben S. Nelson, army air corps, Lt. James Purdon, Fifth army, Capt. Orville Monroe, Lt. Alvin Moeltzen, and Lt. Eddies Neisheim.

Lt. Block is the second NDAC student to receive the Congressional Medal of Honor. The other was Lt. Beryl Newman of Baraboo, Wisconsin, who was an outstanding football player at the AC.

History Discussed At LSA Meeting

"The History and Background of the Lutheran Church" will be the topic for discussion at the Lutheran Students' Association meeting on Sunday, February 11. The discussion will be led by Professor Nordlie of Concordia College.

Eileen Brenden and Glenna Kjelland are in charge of the general arrangements. Lunch and games will follow the program. Come and get acquainted with the fundamentals upon which the Lutheran church is built.

The following Sunday, February 18, Rev. F. A. Schlotz, director of Lutheran student work in the American Lutheran Conference will speak on "Friendship, Courtship, and Marriage."

Panhellenic Alters Rules

On Thursday, February 15, at 7:30, in the lounge, there will be a Panhellenic meeting, the discussion at which will concern itself with Panhellenic regulations. Because of the subjects to be discussed, the Council decided at its Monday noon meeting that alumni would not be urged to come unless they especially desire to do so.

Ceres Has Open House

The Ceres Hall Club will hold its annual Open House Sunday, February 11, from 3:00 to 5:00. The Executive Council, assisted by various committees, will be in charge. All faculty members, students, and ASTR are cordially invited.

KKGs Offer Fellowship

Offered again this year by Kappa Kappa Gamma fraternity are three $500 fellowships to graduate women on the campuses of both the United States and Canada where one of the 74 chapters of KKG are located. All women, sorority and non sorority are eligible.

Application blanks are now in the hands of Miss Pearl Dinan, Dean of Women, and also at the Kappa house. These should be obtained at once, filled out, and returned by March 1, 1945, to Mrs. Bernard L. Lilljeborg, P. O. Box 924, Lamar, Colorado.

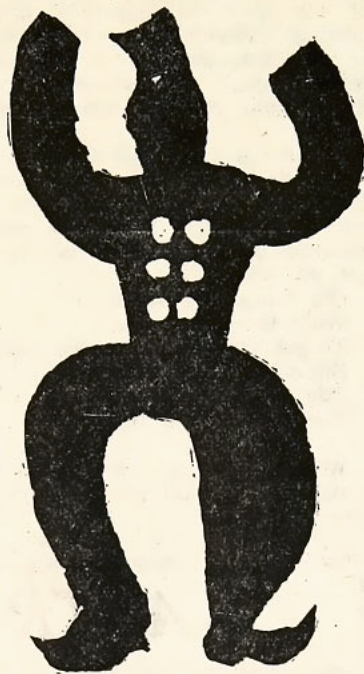

These fellowships, which Kappa has annually awarded since 1936, are available to fraternity and non-fraternity women alike and usually, although not necessarily, are divided into the fields of science, art, and human relations.

Just recently a Chinese girl from Hawaii received assistance to study dietetics at the University of Iowa. Miss Dinan, acting in the capacity of National Philanthropies Chairman of Kappa Kappa Gamma, had the privilege to award this fellowship.

Tentative Plans For Barn Dance

Plans are now in the making for an All-College Barn Dance to be held in the Field House either the last week in February or the first week in March. A candidate for the title of Queen is to be proposed by each sorority and by Ceres Hall, and it is hoped that the independent girls will also organize and propose a candidate. The name of their candidate should be given to Marge Peterson not later than next Tuesday afternoon. The fraternities and ASTR will be represented by candidates vying for the position of King. The independent boys, as well as the girls, are urged to select a candidate. The name of their representative should also be submitted to Miss Peterson.

Prom View

Explanation Advanced

By DR. W. C. HUNTER

At the request of students and faculty, I am seeking to explain to the whole college family what "Religious Emphasis Week" means to me as a member of this college community for twenty years.

It is a time for asking ourselves what life means, what we intend to make of ourselves, what sort of goal we are setting up by which to travel. Is there anything in life more than the daily or weekly round of classes, parties, committee meetings, teas, going to church, reading the papers? Does religion have any answer for the student today? Does it help him to know where he is going?

To help you answer some of these questions we are asking a live, stimulating thinker to challenge your thinking the last week of February. We hope that you will give him a hearing. We also hope you will seek to give some previous thought to these problems, so that you may be able to understand his message.

We do not wish to disrupt your week's schedule, we expect you to attend your classes, and expect the faculty to carry on normally; what we do ask is that a reasonable share of your leisure time be spent in exploring the possibilities of making your life count more both for yourself and for others.

64 Honor Mrs. Reid At YWCA Coed Prom

Reveling in the festivities of the Coed Prom were 64 girls of the NDAC. They were all gathered to honor their patroness, Mrs. Grace B. Reid. The order of the program was dancing, amateur hour, grand march, announcement of prizes and winners.

The winners of the contests that were held were Gloria Seidel in the amateur hour singing "Shortin' Bread." Jean Warner singing "Goofus" gained second prize.

Calendar Set For YWCA

There will be a Freshman Commission meeting Tuesday, February 13, at 12:00 noon in the Fireside Room at the "Y". The meaning and purpose of "Religious Emphasis Week" will be discussed by the group.

The second meeting of the "Religious Emphasis Week" committee was held at the "Y" Monday, February 5. Evelyn Thurnau, promotion; and Doris Oliver, finance, reported for their respective committees. Other committee chairman appointed at that meeting were Delores Fankhanel and Madelyn Johnson, co-chairmen in charge of general arrangements; Janet Lyngstad, publicity; Harold Kirk, convocation; Norma Jean Steinmeyer, discussion groups; and Eleanor Juhlke, faculty lunches. These chairmen, their committees, and faculty advisors will meet next Monday afternoon, February 12, at 4:00 p. m. in the "Y" lounge.

Tryota Makes Plans For Panel Discussion

The next Tryota meeting, Thursday, February 15, at 8:00 at the College Y will be a Panel Discussion, "Our Part in the Adjustment of the Returning Veteran."

Panel members led by Miss Mary Rankin will be Mildred Humphreys, senior; Inez Carlson, junior; Evelyn Thurnau, sophomore; and Mary Herbison, freshman. Mr. A. M. Dalen from the Veterans Administration will explain the G I Bill of Rights and will also take part in the discussion. The formal panel will be followed by an open discussion.

For those Home Economics girls who haven't had an opportunity to join Tryota, a special initiation will be held at 7:30 on the same evening.

A social hour will follow.

Single costume division was won by Gloria Crews as "Mother Hubbard."

The award for the best couple was given to Mary Burfening and Gloria Asker as "Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sprat."

The room was decorated with paper doll streamers, and nursery figures. The honored guest, dressed as a gypsy, was presented with a gift.

Fraser Receives The Bronze Star

Lieut. Col. Howard E. Fraser of Walhalla, N. D., has been awarded the bronze star for meritorious achievement in the performance of outstanding services as executive officer of a B-24 Liberator heavy bombardment group in the European theater.

During a period of more than a year in the European theater, Lt. Col. Fraser has been responsible for the administration of the facilities and personnel of his station. In this time the group has completed more than two hundred combat operations, and has maintained a standard of combat efficiency such that it was cited by Major Gen. Wm. E. Kepner, commanding officer of the 2nd bombardment division for "distinguished and outstanding performance of duty in combat, contributing invaluable to the success of the aerial war against the enemy."

Lt. Col. Fraser is the son of Frank Fraser of Walhalla. His wife, Mrs. Alice E. Fraser, lives in Fargo, where he graduated from the North Dakota State College in 1938 and was commissioned a second lieutenant in the officer's reserve corps in the same year. He was an active member of the Phi Chapter of Theta Chi on the NDAC campus. In 1940 he entered active duty and after serving with this bombardment group in the United States during its training period, came to England in November of 1943.

College Luncheon Plans Completed

The finishing touches have been put to plans for the All College Luncheon to be held next Thursday, February 15, at 12:15, in the Ceres Hall Cafeteria. Advance reports indicate this event again promises to be a huge success. Students and faculty are reminded to make reservations and purchase their tickets at Dean Dinan's office before the deadline, which has been set at five o'clock, Monday, February 12.

An exceptional program has been planned under the direction of Beverly Halbeisen, Jackie Jongeward, and Sue Stenerson. Acting as Master of Ceremonies will be John Slingsby, president of the Student Commission. Opening the program will be a "Welcome to Guests" by President Eversull. Jeanne Warner and Peggy O'Brien will continue the program with a vocal duet entitled, "Who Spilled the Mush on Father's Vest." Following the duet, Miss June Bolmeier, from WDAY, will play a piano solo. Rounding off the festivities, there will be community singing led by Band Director Edward Schroepfer, accompanied by Miss Bolmeier.

A Valentine theme will be carried out in decorations, which have been put in charge of Margaret Johnson, Madelyn Johnson, and

Claire Ward. Publicity is being taken care of by Nathan Crosby, Laura Jane Hugel, and Marge Peterson, while Gwen Host and Claire Ward are taking care of tickets. Mary Burfening has been named chairman of the table hostesses, and she will be assisted by the following Sophomore Commission members:

Call Board

There will be a Senior Staff meeting held next Monday at noon. Members are to bring their own noon lunch.

A meeting of the Women's Senate will be held Wednesday at 5:00.

The International Relations Club meets today (Thursday) at 4:00 in the Fireside Room at the Y. The topic is "Greece and the Liberated Countries of Europe." Movies will be shown, and everyone is welcome. A picture for the Bison will be retaken at 4:00 sharp.

Open Forum

Well, another contented Campus Week has just gone by. Still no gripes! No gloats either. What can the matter be? (At least hardly none.) What can the matter be? Could it be—oh, no, it couldn't be that. Let's be polite and call it spring fever—nice weather, you know. But now the nice weather is a thing of the past, so please, kids—wait!! (trumpet fanfare). A messenger from Ceres Hall has just arrived with a wax-sealed parchment addressed to "Ye Open Forum." Leave us open same, shall we? Eek! Pardon the exclamation, but a wicked looking six-legged creature is scurrying madly across the precious parchment. Could it be a cockroach? Oh no, not from Ceres Hall.

Well, let us drag ourselves back to the subject at hand. The first gripe listed seems to come from a rather disgruntled student. It reads as follows: "What do we have to have classes for? Everyone sleeps through eight o'clocks and 1:15, nine and two o'clocks are just to wake up in. When ten and three o'clocks roll around, everyone is really beginning to learn something. By eleven and four o'clock classes, the normal student's mind is bent on one objective — food. Therefore, the only time anyone learns anything in a class is between 10 and 11 in the morning, and between three and four in the afternoon. And after all, the more you study the more you learn; the more you learn the more you know; the more you know the more you forget; the more you forget the less you know—so why go to class?" Well, it's an angle.

The sophomores have a particular gripe too. "While other students are immersing their souls in Mr. Shroepfer's music or enjoying an action-packed basketball game, we must study chemistry. We are unable to enjoy candy and popcorn offered in sympathy; we are unable to sing and be merry; we are unable to eat or sleep; also we are unable to get the chemistry. We are only able to ask why chemistry and zoology teachers seem to think their subjects are the only ones taught on the campus that need preparation. We're just not happy. Pretty soon we will be just not. P. S. We are also lowering freshman morale." That's what they said, they said it, so said the sophomores.

General Gossip: All about student activity tickets—are we getting our money's worth? Will we only be allowed to attend one lyceum feature on our winter-term ticket? If so, does the use of our ticket compare favorably with its cost? Information—please!

There's one pharmacy freshman who seems quite content, even with all eight o'clocks. She says, "I sleep straight through every morning until nine, with the exception of a slight interruption between 7:30 and 8:00, when I have to get ready for botany class." Could be—or so we hear.

Report From The ASTR's

Don't Fence Me In

BY ART

Sometimes it is nice to hang over a fourth floor Residence Hall window and gaze over the spacious Aggie campus. Sometimes, however, it is not. It all depends upon what you have been doing. Instances need not be cited; we are all more or less experienced (in this case, the less experienced you are, the more experienced you are). Since we were speaking of hanging over things, though, our subject for today is the hangover.

Hangovers are of three types—undesirable, very undesirable, and extremely undesirable. Naturally, these types differ only in their degree of undesirability. For instance, a cheap but unpleasant beer toot affects one strangely; like the three bears, it leaves one with a sore gut and brown taste; but, on the other hand, it is not long lasting and is soon past. A whiskey hangover, on the other hand, is something to be avoided. It begins with a wracking and leaves with a wracking. It is indeed a solid citizen and a thing to be reckoned with. There are, of course, other hangovers. They should all be left alone, which is a difficult thing to do. It is recommended that we go to Australia, where, instead of being hang-over, we will be down-under. (The preceding paragraphs were found in the pyramid of Tutschutrutskut, and have been translated to English by Fredric Shredlica. Thanks for the swell translation, Freddie.)

Sackett says he thinks this column stinks. I don't blame him; so do I. And don't kid me; so do you. That's what's wonderful. This feeling of unanimous solidarity behind the column is indeed gratifying.

Valentine's day is fast approaching. It is expected that we give our loved ones gifts. Don't ask me why. It's just 'elementary courtesy'—Grimes. This is war; let us forget our romantic ideas and use Valentine's Day as a pretext to exchange presents of an economic and practical value. This writer feels that carbon is still the most precious gem, but not in its pure state. Fie on diamonds; carbon is best in the impure state it holds in the ash of a cigarette. Cigarette ashes would indeed be a suitable remembrance on the great Saint's Day. Remember, however, do not give this present as it is.

PAST

The girls who didn't hear Fran-nie Arvold's talk on makeup MISSED some good ideas on beauty. Some of the girls who did hear the talk claim that Mother Nature MISSED them!

Seriously, it was a fine demonstration, but tell us—how can you curl eyelashes before an eight o'clock class? We'll just flutter the ones we have.

PRESENT

Not seen about the Little Country Theater—Beverly Halbeisen. Her fleet (singular, not plural) is in port. He is Bill Parcels, former ATO here at North Dakota State. His description—tall, ensign, dark, ensign, and, oh yes, he's an ensign in the Navy!

Every able bodied person who can speak—try outs are held in the theater—handsome boys not necessary—boys necessary.

FUTURE

The name of the play to be given in March is "Life Worth Living," a three-act comedy by Lennox Robinson. There are parts for seven girls and six boys just waiting to be taken. Miss Constance West will coach the play, which is under the direction of Mr. Arvold.

Which concludes our gleanings for this time.

Make the received work for the ash. Give him a carton of cigarettes, and let him be the cause of the final creation. Get him puffing. Don't like to get personal, but butts are good if a whole package can't be obtained. Even if a whole package can be obtained.

The fellas went over the top in the polio drive, donating thousands and thousands of dollars—one, one token. It was indeed generous of them. Let us not forget the token.

Old Mother Hubbard
 Went to the cupboard
 To get her poor dog some food.
 But when she got there,
 The cupboard was bare;
 The cupboard, of food, was nude.

Which reminds me of bed, which I should hit soon. See you again. G'night.

ASTR Review

Until now only one AST has contributed to the Spectrum, and we think his article could be improved 99 percent if a number of us gave our own views of occurrences on the campus.

First of all we want all you swell guys and gals to know that we appreciate everything you have done to make our stay here a pleasant one. We have but four weeks to remain on the campus. March second will be a glorious and also a sad day—glorious, for we will be finished with the gruelling task of books and studies; sad, because it means that we shall be leaving all you wonderful people and the gala events you've made possible for us. From the bottom of our hearts, thank you all for the fun you have given us and for the jolly times we have yet to look forward to in the few remaining weeks.

After this serious "thank you" I suppose the reader expects some humor, but I am almost at my wit's end. A guy has to be a brain before he can be a wit, and by the looks of the grades and the number of unchaperoned gals running around loose on Saturday nights, you can plainly see that there are very few brains in the group.

One thing I have noticed is that Holly and Stokman have been spending a great deal of their time at Ceres Hall. Good thing, too—we can't have two nice little girls like Vi and Prich running around unescorted. You know Vi has Holly praying already. He's praying for the day when she won't be campused.

Gee, I wish I were as fortunate as Jim (HOMO) Peterson. His letters begin with the beautiful salutation, "Dearest Darling." Good deal, Homo—we don't all get a letter every day.

It's still a neck and neck race between Christie and Helle. It will be a lucky fellow who comes out on top and wins Shirley's heart. I think Lee is slipping, though—Chris got two letters from her this week. (Yes, she lives in Fargo.)

Say, fellows—what's the big attraction in Science Hall on the bottom floor every day at nine? Could it be Avrill Steiner?? I agree with you, she's O. K.; but she also wears a sparkler on her left hand. I suppose this makes some of you guys happy.

Right now I'm going to be very boastful, and I think I have a very good reason to be. In the recent polio drive, we, the ASTRs, contributed 150 dollars for the very worthy cause.

Well, Sunday afternoon turned out to be a very pleasant one. First I paid a visit to the Kappa Kappas at the sorority house. The hospitality extended me was swell. It's a fine place to go, fellows, and there are loads of very beautiful. After bidding adieu to the Kappas, I moseyed over to

Odds And Ends

ODD: Bill Taylor has joined the union of mixers. He established his business in the Sig house at the U. last weekend. He keeps down taxes by consuming his own commodities.

&: I was amazed! Stanley Simons (he's an SAE) is a veddy good basketball player. But if you're not in top condition don't try to dance with the boy.

END: If Bessie Lauder asks you a rather personal question one of these days, forget it. She is conducting her own scientific survey.

ODD: I don't feel so bad about the absence of student spectators at basketball games any more. The Up-State Normal students are worse about attending games than we are. (If that's possible.) &: Have you Miss Dubetz for an instructor? If so, look at her hands. They are the most useful looking hands I've noticed in many a day.

END: 'S amazin' how the students cooperate with the OPA. Have you noticed how no one has been taking off to Grand Forks and other outlying points lately?

ODD: Funniest thing I've seen in months: Willie Christianson inviting a farmer to tiddle with him only to discover that the farmer had a paper clip and a button in his pocket!

END: Don Hofmeister is going to publish a book on will power. Drop into the Hasty for coffee about 10 a.m.—any morning—and he'll tell you all about it.

ODD: Did you ever notice how wonderful the Kappa's phonograph is working these days? Does seem it would get just a little tiresome turning the records by hand. Is there a fix-it-man in the crowd?

END: That punch was really something at the Theta Chi open house last Sunday. From the looks of some people it would seem that glue was placed on the floor around the punch table.

ODD: The POP pledges really put it over on the actives but when it came to the final round on Saturday night we'll let you guess who came out on top!

ODD: Dr. Vassal has been having a time with his Saturday labs. It seems that some of the students like to catch their forty winks instead of coming to class. This is definitely odd, because Dr. Vassal's sense of humor is tops! His pep is enough to wake you up—once you get there.

END: Something has been missing in this column this week. George Duis—but he hasn't done anything to write about.

ODD: How the Concordia basketball team found it's way to the Kappa open house.

Series FROM Ceres

My column this week will be a very hit and miss one—I left for home, via the fire escape (since the hour was early) last Saturday morning, and after going thru the throes of influenza and pre-pneumonia, arrived back in Ceres Hall Tuesday night, to find it very calm and subdued.

"Cramming doesn't pay," someone said; but I don't believe them any more. Finding Judy Gessner curled up in a chair in the parlor early Friday morning, her Chemistry book about two inches away from her face, and pages of notes strewn wildly about in all directions, I joined her, though it was just five o'clock; and we pushed facts about calcium hydroxide, sodium bicarbonate, and the Solvay process into our tired brains until they would take no more. Holding onto the railing, we trailed up the stairs and there found Jeannette Gaebe in her blue-striped pajamas, her coat around her shoulders, her bare feet up on the black table, wildly repeating equations over and over again. When we had finished our loud laughing, we scoffed at her for her efforts, and fell into bed for fifteen minutes of sleep before we went to take the dreaded exam. When the marks came out, we found out who should have been laughing. Jeannette got a B. What did we get? I'm not telling!

Upperclassmen have the most fiendish ideas!! Coming noiselessly down the hall one night, I found three of them—Janice Bergeson, Marge Paul, and Eileen Herges—each carrying some relics they had picked up in the storeroom, and planning to plant them in some unsuspecting girls' room. I caught them red-handed and chased them up into the gym, where they confessed their aims.

Ellen Davis celebrated her return from home, where she suffered from chicken pox, by having a big time at a formal party with Jim McGovern. How is Jim's dancing, Ellen?

Seems as if someone called Ceres Hall for Loren Linder one night—a visiting uncle. He could not understand why the girl at the desk couldn't locate him. Relatives certainly have queer ideas! By the way, Loren, do you have a telephone?

I like cab drivers. I met one today. Barreling down Broadway, we nearly flattened Georgia Pederson and Marge Cormack. They were jay-walking, but anyway. We hastened out to the Old People's Home where he picked up a woman who was easily 65, and immediately got stuck in a three-foot snowbank. After he practically burned his spark plugs out trying to get out, he suggested we get out and push, which we did, very numbly, but with no success. And when I took the wheel while he pushed, I managed to get us in a few more inches. This went on for half an hour. A walk in this February weather does wonders for you, you know it?

Return engagement for Royce Krueger and Phil Gage at "Since You Went Away." Did you shed any tears, Royce?

Bison Lose Three Games Over The Weekend

Last weekend saw the Bison playing three games and coming out on the short end of the score in each contest.

On Thursday the all-civilian NDAC quintet traveled to Wahpeton to encounter the Science Wildcats in a high scoring game which ended 56 to 45 in favor of the Wildcats. The Bison held close for the first period lagging behind 13-12, but soon dropped as the half ended 30-19. At the close of the third quarter their disadvantage was 40-29. Erv Ulland led the Wildcat offensive with a total of 25 points. For the home team Red Peterson tallied 17 and Vern Strong had 14.

DICKINSON GAME

A well balanced and aggressive Dickinson State Teachers College Navy V-12 unit completely outplayed the ASTR Bison to the tune of a final score of 58-31 on the home court on Friday.

The Savages from Dickinson got off to a fast start and there was never a doubt as to the outcome as the visitors went on to build up quarter leads of 8-5, 23-7 and 39-20.

Arnie Martin was outstanding in the Dickinson scoring department with 15 points, while Ernie Johnson and Joe Hicks followed behind with 13 and 11. For the Bison Phil Feir was the only constant scorer with 14 points, while Dale Lary contributed 8.

NDU GAME

Coach Bob Lowe and his all civilian cagers traveled to Grand Forks on Saturday for the third game between the Bison and Sioux. The NDU emerged victorious 69-44 to take their first game from the AC this season.

The Bison were very slow in getting started and were unable to connect on their shots in the first half which ended 37-13 after the Sioux had built up a 16-5 first quarter lead. In the second half both squads played on fairly even terms and going into the final stanza the score read 43-21.

Reserve forward Stan Simons was a new find for Coach Lowe, and Stan dropped in a half dozen buckets. Vernon Strong paced the Bison scoring with 15 points and Don Hofmeister had 11.

NDU And Jimmies Will Battle Bison

There will be plenty of basketball on the schedule over the weekend at the NDAC Field House with the Bison playing host to the NDU Sioux on Friday followed by the Jamestown Jimmies game on Saturday night.

Friday night's game will mark the finish of a four game series between the NDU and the NDAC basketball teams. The Bison copped the first two encounters, while the Sioux came out on top in the third game. Considerable improvement has been shown by the Sioux and they will be out strong to win this final game and thereby even the series between the two schools.

On Saturday night the Herd will be out to avenge the defeat suffered from the Jamestown College Jimmies earlier in the season. In this game the Jimmies came through with a 46-33 win by virtue of a last half rally. All indications also point for this being a top notcher.

Sigma Chi

An informal pledging ceremony was held Monday evening for Bob Shirley with John Dady in charge.

Dinner guests that evening were Pvt. Bob Porter, Warren Comford, and Red Quarni.

Ensign Bill Suhr is now home on leave.

SAE

Marvin Alberts and Vernon Wagner were formally pledged at the Monday meeting with Arden Aanestad and Jerry Reinan in charge. Plans were also discussed for an open house to be held Sunday, February 18. Pledges are returning the party given last term by the Actives at a record party Friday evening. Louis Larson is general chairman, with these fellows assisting: Refreshment, Royce Knapp, Sherman Rorvig, Glen Blue, and Odmund Lervik; Entertainment, Dick Still and Royce Knapp; Floyd Grothe is in charge of arranging for chaperones. The banquet in honor of Miss Kay Huntley, SAE Dreamline Girl, will be given Saturday evening at the Gopher Grill. Committees were appointed with Bill Stockman and Arden Aanestad in charge of general arrangements. Lt. Kenny Gettman left for Liberal, Kansas, Saturday evening after a 15 day furlough at his home here in Fargo. Lt. Lee Briggs left Sunday afternoon after being home on a furlough.

Alpha Gamma Delta

Miss Sue Stenerson was assisted by Florence Goedert at pledging ceremonies for Nancy Dollar of Bismarck, and Ellen Davis of Monango, Thursday evening in the chapter rooms.

Miss Betty Getman was potluck guest Monday evening.

Kappa Delta

There will be an open house Sunday from 3 to 5 for the ASTR fellows. The refreshment committee consists of Inez and June Carlson, and Farrand Clarke; cleanup is Gwen Host, Claire Ward, Jean Monson, and Arlys Jensen; publicity by Mary Scherling and Pat Sorlie.

Scholarship among the actives and pledges was recognized when Elizabeth Grosz received the bracelet for the highest average during the Fall Term for a pledge; Gwen Host received the bracelet for the active who raised her average the most from the previous term; and Claire Ward received a necklace and bracelet which was presented by Pauline Reynolds for the Pauline Reynolds award given to the girl with the highest average in the Active Chapter.

Potluck guests were Mary Brandt Taylor, of Beloit, Wisconsin, Jean Bohlig, Jean Gowenlock, Mary Gromesh, Pauline Reynolds, Audrey Quinn, and Gloria Asker.

Kappa Kappa Gamma

Pledging ceremony was given for Jeanne Johnson of Buffalo, N. D., Monday evening with Margaret Johnson and Kay Householder in charge. Potluck guests were Dr. and Mrs. Bruno Vassal, and Marjorie Sebenes. Dr. Vassal gave a very interesting talk on South America accompanied with pictures.

A large Sweetheart Valentine was signed by the Active Chapter to be sent to Lt. George Rulon, Kappa Kappa Gamma Sweetheart. Each member will also send Lt. Rulon an airmail letter.

Gamma Phi Beta

Scholarship awards were presented recently to Virginia Pauls-rud, active, and Marilyn Collette, pledge, by president Dorothy Allen. Pat Reimer and June Issak were presented with these awards last term. The awards are in the form of inscribed gold bracelets which, according to the sorority tradition, are passed to the girls who have the highest scholastic averages. Potluck guests Monday evening included Judy Gessner, Ensign Robert Roethke, Ensign Don Colman, Ensign William Suhr, and Pvt. Robert Ames.

Phi Mu

The pledges entertained the actives at a tobogganing party at Island Park Friday evening. The guests and hostesses returned to Phi Mu house for hot chocolate and hot dogs. Special guests were Eunice Huso, Mary Ann Rinzwel, Eugenie Skarstad, Gwen Aakeson, Phyllis Nickeson, Freddie Cooper, Betty Johnson, and Wanda Nenis.

Potluck guests Monday evening were Eugenie Skarstad, Betty Johnson, Wanda Nenis, Janet Lyngstad, Doris Oliver, and Rosella Boardman.

Formal pledging was held in the Chapter rooms for Betty Johnson Wednesday evening. Betty was presented with a gift and the traditional Phi Mu carnation. After the ceremony the actives gave a dinner in her honor.

Phi Omega Pi

All students and faculty members are invited to the open house to be held Sunday from 3 to 5 under the general direction of Lorraine Gustavson. Potluck guests included Miss Christenson, Mrs. Sam Dobervich, Mary Iverson, Florence Teigen, Lola Card, and Marty Anderson.

Cooperates With March Of Dimes

A letter from Kathryn Ridley, Executive Secretary for the Cass County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, thanks all the NDAC students and college staff for their contribution to the 1945 campaign through the campus March of Dimes Drive. The sum of $46.70 was collected and turned in. Credit for the drive goes to Marjorie Anderson, Phi Mu representative to the Women's Senate, who was chairman of the Drive Committee, and to the Art Department for its fine contribution in the way of posters.

Kay Huntley Honored At Banquet By SAEs

The SAE fraternity will hold a banquet in honor of Miss Kay Huntley, SAE Dreamline Girl, on Saturday evening, February 10, at the Gopher Grill in Moorhead, under the general direction of Bill Stockman and Arden Aanestad. Entertainment is being arranged by Odmund Lervik and Duane Peterson. Highlight of the evening will come when Miss Polly Carter, last year's Dreamline Girl, will present Miss Huntley with the SAE sweetheart pin. Dr. and Mrs. Frank Eversull, and Mr. and Mrs. Sturat Schilpf will be the other honored guests.

Faculty Women Entertain

The Faculty Women's Club will meet February 15, at 8:00 p.m. in the Little Country Theatre with their husbands as their special guests. The entertainment will be a varied program of music, speeches and readings. Mrs. Leon Mettizinger will be in charge of the refreshments which will be served in the Lincoln Log Cabin. Mrs. Frank Eversull is to be in general charge.
