Moe Succeeds George Rulon As Spectrum Editorial Head

Ellsworth Moe, a junior in Agriculture, was named Wednesday by the Board of Publications Control to succeed George Rulon, who leaves for army duty in April, as editor-in-chief of The Spectrum.

Moe, who is at present managing editor of the weekly student publication, will assume his new position next week.

Active in YMCA work, Moe is secretary of the senior cabinet and served as president of the freshman council and junior cabinet.

swan song

God's in His heaven, all's right with the world. Our legislature has adjourned; Cass county stays in the state, and we still have the privilege of paying two cents everytime we spend a dollar.

It's funny how one's mind will wander, but the above caused some cob webs to be broken loose up there in that gray matter of mine, believe it or not a thought was uncovered about the much talked of four freedoms as they apply here at NDAC. Our globe-trotters, Churchill and Roosevelt, spent so much time theorizing (so much in fact that they don't have much time to put many of them into practice) about freedom of speech and press, freedom from want, freedom from fear, and freedom of religion that perhaps it would not be amiss for us, now that exams are over, to give a moments thought to these weighty matters.

Possibly we have all of these freedoms and so it is unnecessary to waste any print on them.

Let's see, now then as far as speech and press are concerned I guess they are free (at least cheap in many cases). There are no strings on these just so we don't try publishing any unorthodox papers for distribution at homecoming football games, don't put up too many posters in the wrong places on college election days, don't try to influence any of the college's policies and can learn to say, "Yes, sir. That's right, sir."

Of course we all have everything we want and thus freedom from want is not a pertinent question. Unless we care to consider a few trivial matters. There's that little matter that some of our students have to work rather hard to get that free democratic education we hear mentioned. But then not many of them get paid much less than 30c per hour anymore, so what more could they want. Some people would like to have certain social barriers and attitudes broken down a bit—at least

Corn Is King.. NLD.. (Not Line Of Duty) With Candidates Neilson and Dinger

By CHARLES VAN HOOFF

There is such a shortage of men that the women all go to the Post Office to look for male. I just happened to pass thru the other day on my way to the bookstore for a look at Genny Lindemann and you should have seen the crowd of women air corps widows. Laura Jane was there. She said it was easy for Washington to throw a dollar across the river 'cause a dollar would go much farther in those days. She claimed Paulson just turned down a soft desk job as captain.

Maxine Schlagel said that Swede went to sleep in a wooden house and woke up in a stone house. The wind made the house rock. She tried to drive her car but it wouldn't go. The wheels were tired.

Ann Selvig got twenty letters if she got one, but she didn't get one. She thinks Fargo is in terrible condition. Grand Forks is in the same state. Joan "Hum Shotty" Klinsmann got so hungry waiting in line that at sixty minutes after seven she eight a clock. She's been running ever since. She won't sleep on a tick mattress.

Jane Gilbert is a northern belle, so I've been tolled. She had the biography of the board woman in her hand. It was knotty but nice. Milly Bean said she hopes Gorman gets the mumps; then she knows he'll have a swell time. She was itching to get to her mail box. Seems that Gorman jumped out of a church window and was arrested for making a dive out of a church.

Seems that Jimmy Sullivan sacrificed two girls to the WAACs. Jolly Roger Pitzenbarger has a girl in the WAVES. I know cause Shaw just got a letter from her.

Well, it looks like the army boys will have to bid their adieus, and prove that the Japs have the wrong slant on things. So as the seven footer said, "This is tall for now."

enough so that we can all feel that we are members of the same college and are not ashamed that the word agriculture is in the name of said institution.

Surely none of us are afraid of anything here at "My" college. Being as how Prexy "don't low no rumors 'round here" I can't say that I've heard any rumors about anyone being frightened. However, someone did tell me for a fact that if necessary certain places on the campus could be closed, that some of our teachers' desires to remain on the payroll necessarily influences some of their statements and action.

Except for the fact that some groups occasionally have social meetings on Sunday night that conflict with college church group meetings, we should be proud of our freedom of religion.

So after a hasty exploration of my newly "un-cob-webbed" thought, maybe we do have our four freedoms in full operation here at home and we can better spend our time sipping cokes before the now meager supply is further curtailed by rationing orders. However, if you'll excuse me, I'm going home for the duration.—V. H.

IT WAS A RUGGED WEEK, and any dirt picked up has been strictly coincidental. A 7th class man innocently asked us where we got the black eyes, and we had to set him straight. Some day you too will have dark circles where red cheeks should be, Mr. Freshman. But these frosh are really on the beam. Saw two of them stpdyng Sunday afternoon—getting their notebooks ready for the first Orientation lecture on "How To Prepare a Notebook."

AS MUCH as we hate to pick on the Mayor of the Field House, this one is too good to pass up. On learning that he had been giggered at inspection Saturday, Candidate Hough said in all seriousness, quote: "That just goes to show you that no one is infallible," unquote, period. 'Nuff said.

THE FIFTH CLASS PLAY, "Keep 'Em Laughing," has been postponed until Sunday at 2:30. Bring your wives or sweethearts or come alone, but let's turn out 100 per cent. Plenty of gags, girls, songs and dances are promised by Doblin and his crew.

Greetings and salutations heard around this week: "Well, what test did you just flunk?" In other words, ceiling is "zero" at the Hasty.

Incidentally, Gamma Rho's Kirk Bellows is having heart trouble. Seems he's been getting certain

Kappa Sigma Chi Leads Greeks In Scholarship And Intramural Sports

Kappa Sigma Chi's have done it again—that is, they've proved that where there is brain, there is brawn. They celebrated the capturing of the Intramural Basketball League's title again this year at a banquet at the Gopher Grill recently. Duane Fossum, president, awarded the trophy to the chapter. The fraternity has captured six out of the last seven championships. Players honored were Herbert Glaser, Eugene Jacobs, Clifford Larson, Arden Lalum, Douglas Fisk, La Verne Stirling, Jack Soeby and Lloyd Hillier. Coach for the team was William Klubben. An engraved key was presented to Glaser for having played on four out of five winning teams.

The softball championship has been also won by the fraternity seven out of the past nine years. In 1935 and 1939, they received the kittenball title.

With all these athletics, the fraternity members have not been lax about developing their "brainpower." For the past three terms, the Interfraternity Council has awarded them a cup for having the highest average of all Greek letter groups—1.99, 2.06, 2.04. Maintaining the highest average for 14 years of any fraternity on the campus has been another one of its accomplishments.

Any girl, preferably a freshman, interested in obtaining part time employment as relief operator of the college's PBX switchboard is asked to apply in the Secretary's office as soon as possible.

We hear that Brown is really good. Our boy Jan Harazthy will be a hit at the piano.

"TAKE A BOW."

Knobelock is hurt because we haven't put his name in the column. After Wednesday's recitation in transportation we're glad to give him the limelight. Knobby has two lines backstage in the class play. That's what seven years on the French stage do for you. The man has a future!

LAUGH OF THE WEEK, Bruce King walking into the Gardner hotel with a barracks bag over his shoulder. The management wanted to charge extra, but Bruce said it was just his ARs and transportation problems. (Or was he planning to do his laundry in the bathtub?)

RUMOR OF THE WEEK: The pressure is on!

NOMINATIONS OF THE WEEK: Best dressed candidate—(are you kiddin'?)

Lover of the week: "Swing Shift" Brushe.

Dance floor dynamoes: Candidates Domrose and Sconce.

Sleepingest man: Candidate "Joe Miller, Who was that lady I saw you out with last night, drop another flare" Speer—a strictly off-the-cob kid.

Apple - polisher: "Dry Run" Wray.

Sharpshooter: The ballots in our barracks bag were sent to the laundry by mistake and if the results aren't ruined by the wash we'll pick a winner next week. Competition is slowing down. What's the matter, boys?

WEEKEND MANEUVERS: Though a few boys stayed in for dry runs on the comprehensive, most of the class relaxed Saturday night at the Legion, KP, Mil Ball and other spots. Took in Mil Ball Sat. p.m. and it was plenty smooth. Lots of OCS men there with all eyes on a blond with long white gloves and pale green dress. So used to doing calisthenics in the Fieldhouse that we caught ourselves doing the side straddle hop to the tune of "One o'clock Jump." No jitterbugs around for a change. A welcome relief, especially at a formal.

Spent Sunday at Rec Hall studying for transportation. (Hope it did some good.) Enjoyed the delicious coffee and cookies at 8 p.m. The Hostesses certainly have earned the commendation of the OCS boys. They're doing a wonderful job and we sincerely appreciate the favors.

THE JUNIOR RUMOR BOARD was working overtime Sunday morning. Stayed in the barracks for a change and tried to sleep, but the boys were up at 7:30 critiquing the exams and settling OCS affairs in general so there was nothing to do but get up and eat our first Sunday breakfast. It was worth getting up for. Besides Betty Mae smiled and said "Good Morning" when she handed out the black coffee so life again seemed worth living.

CANDIDATE EDWARDS (W.M.) promised cigars if we could find a spot for his name. The line forms to the right men. We like panatellas, Edwards.

FAMOUS LAST WORDS: "The following named men will report to the orderly room."

FACTS: 19 days, 16 hours, 33 minutes left.

FIGURES: Those of the dancing chorus in "Keep 'Em Laughing."

LAST ISSUE: SECOND TERM

By now your finals have found you out, and everyone prepares to face another term—only this time you'll study of course. It may be well to bear in mind this honorable Chinese proverb: Head not used for entire term May get stale and full of worm Then at end of term—exam What you know not worth a damn.

FALL OF FAME:

Five anonymous post-cards received by the Spectrum only proves that at least ONE person reads it. (Hi Charlie). Each card commented excitedly upon the omission of Van Hoof's column in one issue of the paper. "If you run short of space", it said, "for goodness sakes, cut out any other column but not "Corn Is King". We the reading public DEMAND "Corn". Well, devoted fan today you have it!

PICTURE OF THE WEEK in our opinion was Dorine Helsing at the Military. Many a masculine eye was turned her way, much to the dismay of their guests. Two "Moping Maisies" refused to speak to their escorts for the remainder of the evening.

While on the subject, we should like to give a big bundle of credit to the Publicity committee for the dance. Through their untiring effort they succeeded in making it a well-attended, successful affair.

CUPID'S CORNER

Saturday night, Beth Ann Piers, KKG, received a lovely diamond from SAE George Smith. Tomorrow, Sigma Chi Leonard King and Gamma Phi Margie Margach will become Mr. and Mrs. Leonard King. (What will we put in this column NOW?)

RUMOR OF THE WEEK: Station WDAY is taking over NDAC. So far we have given them Jerry Seaman, Leonard Sacket, George Truesdale, and Howard Evanson, mighty good announcers every one.

Heard About The Herd

By OWEN LANGEN

Activity on the sports front may well be compared to that Jap convoy which was sunk in the South Pacific last week; the convoy no longer exists. And that's just about the way things look in the line of sports at NDAC.

SO—with nothing of interest happening at the present, and since many students are reading the Spectrum for the last time, we feel that a little reminiscence may now be in order.

FOOTBALL was the main feature of the fall program; the main feature of the football season was the 26 to 14 conquest of the University of North Dakota Sioux as the Bison celebrated homecoming in grand style.

The Herd won 2, lost 5, tied one during the season. In conference play NDAC downed the Sioux and Morningside (13 to 7), while losing games to Iowa State Teachers, conference champs with Augustana, (27 to 19), South Dakota University (37 to 12) during the harvest vacation when the team was undermanned, and to South Dakota State, 14 to 0, in a game not without discord and conflict.

Looking back now, we can't help but think of how the breaks of the game directed the destiny of certain players. The one we're thinking of in particular is Fred Trowbridge, generally conceded to be the best all-around back on the squad. Fred played bang-up ball until spraining an ankle midway in the season.

The Bison fared quite well when time came for all-conference honors to be accorded. Cliff (Boney) Rothrock, center, Johnny Zaic, tackle, Capt. Harry Treglawney, quarterback, and Nick Soulis, end, all landed berths on the 23-man squad selected by the coaches. Ted Barnick, tackle, and Daly King, halfback were given honorable mention.

INNOVATED during the fall term was the obstacle course, work on which was nearing completion just as winter set in. The course will soon be finished and gym and military classes as well as the OCS will use it extensively this spring in the physical build-up program.

STARTING SLOWLY, playing plenty of ragged ball with flashes of fine form interspersed, Bob Lowe's inexperienced Bison basketball team hit its peak in the final games of the year, downing the University in three out of four starts.

Lettermen Bob Yeasley and Russ Burfening, reserve Nick Soulis, sophomores Paul Brostrom and Jim Noonan, junior Cliff Rothrock, reporting for the first time, and freshmen Dan Polis, Howie Rohs, and Jim Werre gave Lowe an aggregation of but little experience; no one conceded the NCI champs to be as much as a factor in the title chase, let alone repeat their 1942 performance.

The team was poor at the outset; Swede Johnson Jim Fletcher, Gene Marquardt, Johnny Abbott, and Cliff Nygard were sorely missed. After the holidays Lowe's boys began to look like a ball club. BUT THEY WEREN'T CONSISTENT! In one game they'd literally go to town; in the next they'd revert to ragged form.

Nick Soulis, one of the loop's leading defensive men, was called into the service; the Bison outlook was dark, what with the Sioux boasting a near-perfect record. NDAC was virtually out of the title race, with chances of a championship only mathematical.

South Dakota State clinched the title, and the annual UN-NDAC series became a battle for second place, which the Bison finally copped.

Brostrom, Yeasley, and Burfening gave the Bison the scoring punch that earned for them the title of the best shots in the conference. Polis and Rohs were outstanding floor men, and contributed their share of the points. Noonan, Werre, and Rothrock were all dependable replacements.

Kappa Sigma Chi replaced Sigma Chi as Intramural basketball champs by defeating Kappa Tappa Keg, 13 to 11, in the finals. Other semi-finalists were the defending titlists and Coop I.

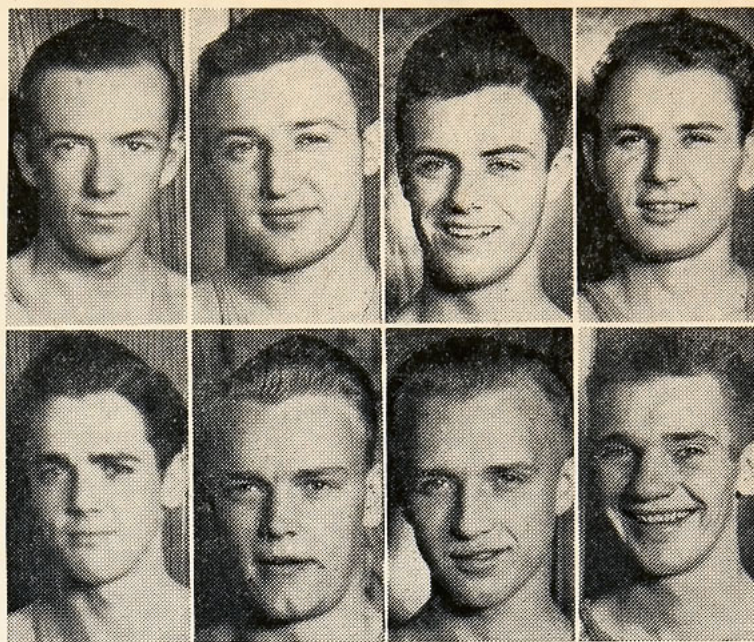

And that just about winds up the sports program at NDAC for the duration—the final decision rests upon how the school fares in the reservists, etc.

An enlarged intramural program may take the place of inter-collegiate competition this spring. If enough interest is shown in track, Lowe may be able to arrange meets with the Moorhead schools and some North Dakota colleges.

And that's thirty for now.

These AC Interamural Players Are All-Star

PICKED BY fellow participants, these eight Bison intramural basketball players are members of the Spectrum's All-Intramural team. Paul Paulson, star of the Rammy Chi squad, is the ninth member of the squad, but had already reported for duty with the Army Air Corps when these pictures were taken.

officers. It is understood that similar two-week notices will be given ROTC men.

MUST HAVE TRANSCRIPTS

All men reporting for army duty are advised that they must take with them a transcript of their college credits. Other written and certified information which establishes education, aptitudes, experience, and interests are important in classification and assignment in the army. Students who have attended more than one college should have transcripts for each college attended.

ERC men are reminded that if they desire assignment to the specialized training program or to officer candidate school, they must initiate such applications themselves. Further, they are free to request assignment to any branch of the army including pilot training with the Air Force when they are being processed at the induction station. Those who have definite plans as to where they desire assignment should be persistent in their requests for assignment.

COLLEGE WILL HELP

All NDAC faculty and staff members will be glad to furnish references or other material needed by these students when applying for specialized or officers training in the army, and they should not hesitate to make requests of the college.

Enlisted students in the Army Air Force Ground Crew on the deferred plan are not affected and their deferments will continue in force until they are individually ordered to duty by Army Air Force Headquarters at Washington. There is no information that indicates such deferments will be cancelled.

Members of the Navy and Marine Corps Reserves are not affected by these announcements and as previously stated will continue in college as civilians until about July 1, 1943.

NDAC Selected As Center For Initial Navy V-12 Tests

NDAC has been selected as one of the centers for preliminary selection of men who wish to enter the navy's new college training program.

To be known as the V-12 program, it will have as its purpose the training of high school seniors, high school graduates, and college students who appear to have potentialities for ultimate selection as officers in the U. S. Navy.

The plan contemplates that this college training will be carried on while the men are on active duty, in uniform, receiving pay, and under general military discipline.

The test used for the preliminary selection of the men who are to be given this college training will be administered in high schools and colleges including NDAC throughout the United States between the hours of 9:00 and 11:00 a. m., on Friday, April 2, 1943.

Only the following college groups are eligible:

- (a) High school and preparatory school graduates who will have attained their 17th but not their 20th birthdays by July 1, 1943, regardless of whether they are now attending college.
- (b) Students who will have attained their 17th but not their 20th birthdays by July 1, 1943, who do not hold certificates of graduation from a secondary school but who are now continuing their education in an accredited college or university.

Furthermore, to be eligible for selection each applicant must:

- (a) Be a male citizen of the States.
- (b) Be morally and physically qualified for this program, including a minimum uncorrected visual acuity of 18-20 for each eye.

- (c) Be unmarried, and agree to remain unmarried until commissioned, unless sooner released by the Navy Department.
- (d) Evidence potential officer qualifications, including appearance and scholarship records.

Men now enlisted in any branch of the armed services, including V-1, V-5, V-7 reserves on inactive status, are NOT eligible to take this test.

Anyone interested in obtaining more detailed information about this program or in registering for the qualifying examination may call at the Personnel Office in Main Building.

Admission - identification forms must be presented at the time of the examination. These forms may be obtained from the Personnel Office within the next several days.
