

'Marriage Of Figaro' Second In Lyceum Series

Fargoans will have an opportunity Tuesday night to enjoy high comedy and hear great music at the Nine O'Clock Opera company's presentation of "The Marriage of Figaro" in Festival hall.

It will be sung in a translation by Edward Dent which has done much to popularize opera in America. Another manner in which this production has been streamlined is by substituting a narrator as was done in "Our Town" for the usual awkward operatic sets. The troupe can then travel comparatively "light" and present an opera in towns where before there would not have been the facilities to put on such a production.

Many students' ideas of opera singers will be disturbed Tuesday when they will see a group of good-looking American singers, all under thirty, and not the traditional rather plump, grey-haired stars, perform in modern dress. Helen Van Loon will portray Susanna; John Tyers, Figaro; John McCrae, the Count; Vera Weikel, Cherubino; Gertrude Gibson, the Countess.

The company made its first transcontinental tour last year covering 75 cities. The Utica Observer-Dispatch says "A hit from the first moment. Audience greatly appreciated luxury of knowing what was going on. Mozart music shone in all its sparkling gaiety." From the Buffalo Evening News comes this clipping: "Blue-nosed prophets who but a short while ago predicted the death of opera in this country are being put to scorn by the Nine O'Clock Opera company as it travels up and down the land staging its novel and engaging presentation of 'Marriage of Figaro'."

'Cut Rules' Explained

To clear up questions pertaining to attendance requirements at NDAC, the attention of both students and faculty is called to the following rules and regulation:

"Attendance upon classes is a joint responsibility shared by the department, and it is the responsibility of each instructor at the beginning of each quarter and before each class to explain the details of these requirements and the methods to be used in applying them in the interpretation of excuses, tardiness, etc. A typewritten statement of the requirements shall be posted by the department in each class room used by it.

STUDENT'S RESPONSIBILITY

"It is the responsibility of the student to acquire an understanding of these requirements and to adjust his attendance to them.

"Within the limits of the regulations so explained by him, the instructor has authority to fail a student in the course on account of absence; but when an instructor contemplates the issuance of such a failure, he shall first confer with the student's academic dean on the proposed action, inform the student when the failure is finally applied, and then file with the office of the registrar the student's class card after having definitely indicated thereon the failure and the reason therefor."

EXCUSES LIMITED

The college nurse will issue statements only for those students who make use of the college health facilities during their illness. Statements received from physicians should be presented directly to the instructors concerned.

In case of any misunderstanding, students may consult the dean of men or the dean of women.

NOTICE

All Spectrum reporters and prospective reporters PLEASE COME to Sc. 112 from 3:30 to 4:30 p. m. Monday.

Four Seniors, Two Juniors Elected To Blue Key Thursday

Ends Today

4-H Achievement Week Session In Final Stages

In session this week at the NDAC for the annual North Dakota 4-H Achievement Institute are club delegates and leaders from nearly every county in the state. The meeting opened Tuesday with arrangements made by the Extension Service to accommodate more than 425 delegates from about 49 counties.

The program has been devoted to a discussion of the responsibilities of the individual in the home and community during wartime, finances and conservation of resources and other problems. The sessions were devoted especially to the development of 4-H plans which will make a greater contribution toward winning the war.

Highlights of the week were recreation events in the Little Country Theater at the NDAC and the annual institute banquet held Wednesday evening, when the club members were guests of the Fargo Chamber of Commerce.

Several of the year's most important awards were announced, including the annual awards made by Alpha Gamma Rho, agricultural fraternity, and Phi Upsilon Omicron, honorary home economics sorority. The home economics awards went to Myrle Winkler, Montpelier; Dora Jensen, Rhame; and Laura Kristjanson, Crystal.

NOTICE

Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors who wish to join the Army reserve must do so before Jan. 1. After that time, enlistment in this reserve will be open to freshmen only. The Navy and Marines are planning on adopting similar policies.

Journalists To Hear Officer Candidate

Elmer M. Borsuk of Company A of the OCS will speak to the English 201 class Monday at 10 a. m. Techniques and Objectives of a Typical Army Public Relations Office will be his subject.

Mr. Borsuk is a journalism graduate of the University of Wisconsin. He entered public relations work because of his previous journalistic experience.

Students and faculty members are invited to attend the class which is held in room 306, Morrill hall.

The award in agriculture was won by Jerrold Johnson of Norma.

Five other awards for excellent records in food preservation activities during the year were announced during the institute. They were made to: Patricia Wharton, Des Lacs; Lillian Doran, Raub; Bernice Kalland, Hannaford; Marjorie Diede, Antelope; and Lyla Carlson, Antler.

Adjournment of the institute is scheduled for today when the delegates will hold their annual business meeting to elect officers for 1943.

Y Groups Set Fall Programs

The YMCA and YWCA fall programs get under way this week with coffee forums, Dancing lessons, Worship services, "For Men Only" series, and membership drives.

With the promotion of Christian fellowship in all phases of college activity as their purpose, both organizations will begin their annual membership drives Monday.

Jean Mason is chairman of the YW group; Bob Hunsaker heads the YM drive.

MEMBERSHIP ALL-INCLUSIVE

college students. In the past the North Dakota State Anti-Tuberculosis association has defrayed the cost of the initial X-ray for those students whose patch test shows positive. As it is impossible for them to continue this practice indefinitely, the plan is to sell as many seals as possible and take the responsibility upon ourselves.

Undaunting Cadets Arrange Bivouac

Friday the 13th holds no qualms for NDAC cadets of the ROTC regiment as they plan the first cadet bivouac for that night. Planned by the 1st Battalion, Friday's party will be under the direction of Leonard King, this year's Military Ball manager, and will feature the music of the Bucky Cooper orchestra.

All cadets of the ROTC regiment in uniform and their guests may attend the bivouac, King announces.

NOTICE

Any girl, preferably a freshman, interested in obtaining part time employment as relief operator of the college's PBX switchboard is asked to apply in the Secretary's office as soon as possible.

There will be an Invasion

this weekend—not a hostile invasion by the enemy, but just the regular influx into the Powers Coffee Shop of the NDAC students and officer candidates who take over the place each weekend. We are looking forward to this invasion, and hope that YOU will be a part of the invading force.

Salutation

Many folks visit the college campus every week. None are more welcome than the members of the Annual 4-H Club Achievement Institute. They come to us with their exhibits, proof of their achievements in various fields of activity in agriculture and home economics. Their eager forward look and their confidence in the future is reassuring in these days of uncertainty. When each goes back home each can go with the realization that "I came, I saw, I conquered". They came as our guests, they saw this, theirs and our institution, and they return with a sense of conquest and adventure, with a new determination to win against all the odds ahead. The School of Agriculture salutes each and every 4-H boy and girl here.

- Also there are several books on Personnel management and administration.

Give Me FOOD— Cries Famished Virginia

By VIRGINIA MASON

"Do I eat today?" seems to be the patriotic theme song of all the students at the AC who attempt to seek entrance in the Hasty or Dugout (or should I say Digin) at exactly 11:51 every noon.

After becoming thoroughly exhausted from watching the hands of the clock roll around and praying for the much welcomed bell to ring, the poor student finds that his stomach is actually sticking to his backbone. So with visions of a nice hard roll (only have a nickel today) over he trips to the Hasty. He reaches the door, and believe me no further, for there he is greeted by a few hundred of his fellow students. With all their stomachs growling together it sounds like a pack of howling wolves. Unable to stand the aroma of food (even a spanishburger looks good now) he departs for the "Y".

"Hi, Joe, any room down there?" Sure, come on in and sit on your thumb and let your feet wag." So on I trot. After waiting a good forty-five minutes back to the Hasty I go. Gee, an empty booth, so down I sit. Frantically I look at my watch. I notice I have fifteen minutes left till class. Enters the army, just as I thought I might get a little bit of service.

Blood Wanted

If you wanna be patriotic While you're waiting for the draft. Donate your blood to the blood bank 'Twill be received without graft.

It's up to the healthy, happy and strong To help someone's life to save, If you think you're being left out of the fun Then think of the blood you gave. All kidding aside, the Health Center is asking volunteers to donate their blood to the blood bank. These donations will be sent to St. John's hospital where the bank is located and will be stored for an emergency. Students are urged to contact Miss Elizabeth Bertsch at the Health Center for further details.

Sophomores Triumph In Class Play Recital

Picked as the winner in the annual class play recital Wednesday, Nov. 4, was the sophomores' presentation of "A Short, Short Story" by Marion Short. Directed by Beverly Halbeisen, members of the cast were George Truesdell, Beverly Halbeisen and Philip Thompson. Truesdell and Miss Halbeisen were chosen the most outstanding boy and girl with Betty Lou Payne and Delight Whempner receiving honorable mention.

The freshmen class play "He Said, She Said" by Alice Gerstenberg was directed by Eunice Walster with Sally Renden, Betty Lou Payne, Helen Schumacher and Ernest Lidstrom participating. Dorothy Munson and Charles Martin were co-directors of the junior play "The Same Old Thing" by Guy Roy Cooper, with Donald Ness, Jane Laskowitz, Adeline Snellman, Charles Martin and Delight Whempner in the cast.

Jean Baillie, representing the senior class, read "A Short Story" by Dorothy Parker.

OC To Preside Sunday At Worship Services

Unusual in the fact that an officer candidate rather than an ordained minister will deliver the sermon, the weekly Protestant Worship service will be held again in the Little Country Theatre Sunday at 9 a. m.

The program is as follows: Prelude, Lloyd Collins; Opening Prayer, Elwood Berrett; selection, candidate choir; Responsive Reading, "Supremacy of Love"; Talk, "The Mission of The Church in War", Charles Romney; Organ Solo, Leland Carden; Prayer, John Moffet; Postlude, Lloyd Collins.

The Worship is held "army style" and the public is cordially invited.

Heard About The Herd

By OWEN LANGEN

Displaying an amazing flare for words, Aron Sternfield went to great length in answering this corner in last week's Dakota Student. What he said was indeed well written; what he said was nil.

Mr. Sternfield seems to have forgotten that he started this battle of words by slapping the moniker "Conference Clowns" on the Bison. Instead, he appears rather perturbed over our terming of the University as "Upstate Normal."

He takes pride in the fact that the "U" is sure to top the AC in the conference standings, but if the two teams run true to form both teams will finish the NCI season with a win-loss record of two and three, good for a fifth place deadlock. SDU should defeat the Sioux next week, while the Herd is expected to edge out Morningside.

JOHNNY ZAIC

All-Conference selectors should not overlook Johnny Zaic when time comes to pick the NCI mythical eleven. Zaic, a senior, has been an outstanding member of the Bison forward wall all season and will be sorely missed in the Morningside game tomorrow. Johnny suffered an injury to his knee last week and was left behind when the squad left for Sioux City this morning.

One of the most underrated and less-publicized linemen in the conference, Johnny has performed ably at both guard and tackle for the Herd this year; his top performance against North Dakota two weeks ago won for him the admiration of all who saw the game.

Undoubtedly the NCI's number one center is Cliff (Boney) Rothrock, 60-minute pivot-man for the Bison. In seven games this year, Boney has played all but ONE minute, a record unequalled by any man in the conference.

Rothrock was the victim of foul play last week at Brookings, but even the unethical, unclean tactics of his opponents could not put him out of the game or keep him from turning in another creditable performance.

Whether it be in practice or in a game, Boney gives his all and keeps himself in top physical condition. He has no peers when it comes to backing up the line; his offensive play is equally proficient.

ROTHROCK

A poor job of officiating, or unclean sportsmanship on the part of the opposition is indeed disheartening to a team trying to play clean ball, but when a club has to buck both poor officiating and poor sportsmanship, the boys just about give up.

And that's just what the Bison had to contend with at Brookings last Saturday. Time and time again, AC linemen were slugged in the mouth as evidenced by bleeding lips suffered by every member of the line. Treglawney grabbed a Jackrabbit player by the shirt and was ejected from the game; Gorman after being kicked intentionally in a pile-up, also grabbed an opponent. He, too, was thrown out.

The grape-vine has it that a high school coach at Brookings worked the game as referee in return for services rendered by Rabbit Coach Thurlo McCrady the night before.

WE WONDER WHAT KIND OF A JOB MCCRADY DID IN THAT HIGH SCHOOL GAME!

Bison Make Final Start Of NCI Season Against Morningside Maroons Tomorrow

By DOUGLAS FISK

The Bison football team makes its last start of the current campaign tomorrow night when the Herd tangles with the Morningside Maroons at Sioux City, Iowa.

Both teams will be in search of their second conference victory and a chance to finish one notch higher in the final conference standings.

The Bison continue to be dogged by injuries and John Zaic, outstanding lineman, who was injured in the South Dakota State game last Saturday, is definitely out for tomorrow's engagement. As Bob O'Neil, freshman guard from Carrington, has left school, the Herd is short of reserves in the forward wall. In addition, it isn't known how much E. J. Anderson and Fred Trowbridge, backs who were on the injury list last week, will be able to play.

Morningside scored their initial 1942 conference victory last Saturday when they turned in an impressive 49-13 triumph over the Omaha University Indians, and are said to be stronger than their record indicates.

The Maroons have a fast-stepping backfield led by Charlie Durr, Lowell Buchmiller and Orin Goodrich, while 225-pound tackle, Orlan Ott, causes much trouble in the line.

leaving Trig alone to assume the responsibility of captain.

This fall, due to scarcity of material, Treglawney has been a handy-man in the Bison line-up, playing fullback, quarterback and tackle.

Jackrabbits, Bison Stage Rough Battle

In a game sparked by fist fights and general roughness, the Jackrabbits of South Dakota State humbled the Bison, 14-0, at Brookings on Saturday.

The first South Dakota counter came in the second quarter when Lars Overskei, a reserve fullback, plunged over from the two-yard stripe after a march of 42 yards. The try for extra point failed.

Later in the second period, a pass from Daley King was intercepted and returned to the Bison 16. The Herd held for four downs, but on their first offensive play a bad pass from center went into the end zone where it was recovered by Neil Wilder who was swarmed upon by a host of State tacklers for a safety.

The South Dakotans didn't score again until the final quarter. After downing a punt on the Bison 27, the Rabbits tallied on the second play from scrimmage when Devaney passed to Hoellwarth. Again the attempted point after was no good.

Two Bison players—Treglawney and Gorman—were removed from the game as were two Jackrabbits.

NOTICE

There will be a debate meeting in the Log Cabin of the Little Country Theater Nov. 9 at 4 p. m. Anyone interested in debating is invited to attend. The question "What Should Our Colleges Offer?" will be presented by Vernon Hathaway and Arnold Bjorlie.

NOTICE!
Any organization interested in Intramural basketball or volleyball should contact E. E. Kaiser, director of physical education. It is the desire of the department to enter eight teams in fraternity competition and eight teams in independent competition. The program of scheduled games will be started next week.

Valuable Man— Harry Treglawney In Final Game

Tomorrow marks the finale of the 1942 Bison grid campaign; it also marks the end of Captain Harry Treglawney's football career at NDAC.

Ever since the day Trig entered the AC from Valley City high, where he was an all-state performer at guard, he has been a 60-minute man. As a freshman he was a standout quarterback on the Baby Bison.

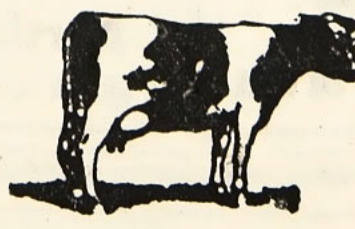

Harry made his varsity debut as a guard in his sophomore year. In that position he turned in stellar performances all year. Coach Stan Kostka moved him to tackle last year and Treglawney proved his worth at that slot by garnering a berth on the All-Conference team. He was honored further by being elected co-captain of the Bison for the present season. The other co-captain, Jim Davis, did not return to school,

I-M Basketball Plans Made

According to E. E. Kaiser, intramural athletic director, intramural basketball and volleyball will begin in the near future with teams to be drawn up from the list of non-fraternity boys who sign up in his office at the Physical Education Building.

All boys who are not members of a fraternity and who are interested in the exercise and recreational value of these sports are urged to see Kaiser immediately.

After teams have been drawn there will be a week's practice before scheduled games are started. When all contests have been concluded, the non-fraternity champion, according to Kaiser, will then meet the number one fraternity team in a two out of three game championship play-off.

No plans have been made as to the days of the week and time of day which the games are to be played as it is not known as yet when the gym will be free.

goal of realizing a full and creative life for all people," said Norbert Lange, YM general secretary.

Tickets will be available at the Y office and from YM and YW cabinet members at any time.

The first in a series of Coffee Forums, led by Dr. John C. Irwin and Mrs. I. E. Bennison, will be held on Thursday from 4:15 to 5:30 in the East room of the Y.

Topics to be discussed are the relationships between men and women in army camps, problems of army wives and pre-induction marriages.

The discussion will be open to the faculty as well as the student body.

DANCING CLASSES HELD

Dancing classes for all men who wish to learn fundamental and new steps will be held weekly beginning Thursday, Nov. 12, at 7:15 to 8 p. m.
