Bison, Sioux To Clash In Homecoming

North Dakota's Sioux will be gunning for their fourth straight win over the Bison as the two state schools resume a rivalry dating back 23 years as NDAC celebrates its 1942 homecoming Saturday on Dacotah field. Game time is set for 2.

The Sioux, odds-on-favorites on basis of past performances, are not optimistic concerning the outcome of the game. Coach Red Jarrett states, "It is true that we are as yet undefeated in conference competition and that the AC has yet to win a loop contest; however, comparative figures mean nothing when teams representing North Dakota's two great educational institutions meet on the gridiron." The Nodak mentor goes on to say that the Bison always play an inspired game when they meet the Sioux, and he "hopes we will have another lucky day Saturday."

Jarrett, well pleased by the vastly improved form displayed by his charges in last Saturday's 19-8 defeat of South Dakota State, commended them on their defensive play especially.

Big guns in the Sioux offensive are Mert Howe, erstwhile end now calling signals from quarterback for the Nodaks, Phil Haake, hard-running right halfback from Hawaii, and Wally Olson, a full-back, big and fast.

BISON SPIRIT HIGH

Spirit in the Bison camp reached a new high this week and Coach Bob Lowe is conceding nothing to the university, although the Sioux will present the largest team the Bison will meet this year.

Bison fans for the first time this year may have an opportunity to see fleet-foot E. J. Anderson from Dickinson in action. Whether Anderson plays depends upon how well he learns the plays. He has been working into the line-up fairly well, according to Lowe.

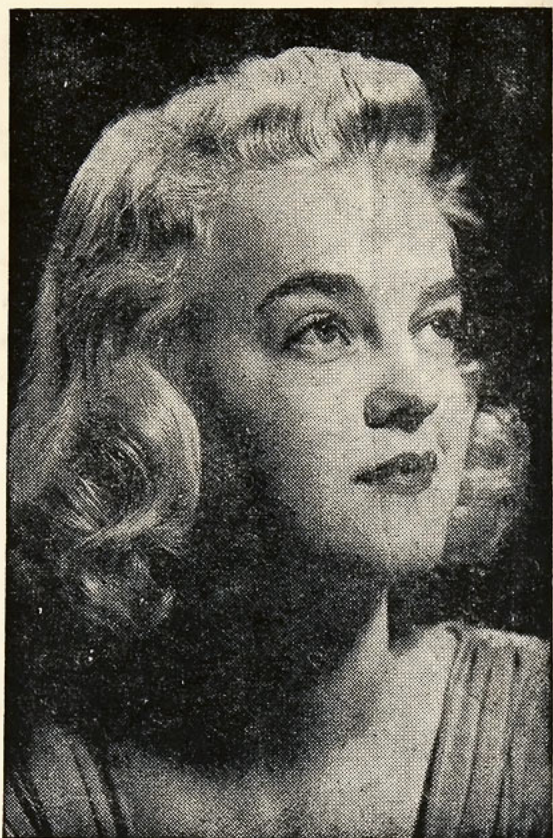

Sophomore end Tom Welles has distinguished himself in practice sessions and is vying with Nick Soullis, Charlie Rafferty and Joe Frezon for starting assignments.

The university comes to Fargo victorious in two starts, both of them against conference competition. Opening with an unimpressive win against Morningside, 7-6, the Sioux came back to smash South Dakota State, 19-8, last week. Meanwhile, the Bison with four losses and one tie are definitely victory-hungry.

Queen Elaine

Reigning over homecoming festivities at NDAC this year is Elaine Wigdahl, senior home economics student from Minnewaukan. Miss Wigdahl was elected to the royal post Wednesday in a general student body election. She has named as her attendants Fannie Helen Dygve, Fargo, and Doris Good, Sheldon.

Miss Wigdahl is a member of Senior Staff, Guidon, Sigma Alpha Iota, Phi Upsilon Omicron, Art club and Phi Omega Phi. She is president of Pan-Hellenic council. She led last year's Charity ball and is past president of Phi Omega Pi. Last winter she was elected Jack Frost Winter Carnival queen.

Recently Miss Wigdahl received the Molly Buckner Hardy national award as the outstanding woman in Phi Omega Pi.

Miss Good is a member of the Mixed chorus, Tryota, John Robinson club, YWCA and Independent Student association of which she is historian.

Other queen candidates included Charlotte Bahe, Kappa Delta; Jean Baillie, Gamma Phi Beta; Georgianna Findahl, Alpha Gamma Delta; and Eleanor Erdahl, Phi Mu.

Her Majesty To Be 'Governor Moses March' At Bison Barbecue To Be Dedicated At Game

Presentation of Queen Elaine and her attendants will highlight the annual Bison Barbecue sponsored by Blue Key and set for Festival hall tomorrow afternoon from 12 to 1:30.

Kenny Jones, president of Blue Key, and in general charge of arrangements, announces that there will be plenty of food and music for everyone attending.

Tickets for the luncheon-dance may be purchased from any member of Blue Key on the campus today or tomorrow morning. Tickets will also be sold at the door.

Play Contest Scheduled

"The annual one-act play contest will be held Nov. 4, this year," stated Miss Lorraine Fitar, speech instructor, this week.

Directors for each class have been selected and include: freshmen, Eunice Walster; sophomore, Beverly Halbeisen; junior, Dorothy Munson and Charles Martin; and senior, Jean Baillie.

"The Governor Moses March" will be played tomorrow for the Homecoming Parade Leaves Campus At 10 To Open Festivities

Leaving the campus gate at 10 sharp Saturday morning, NDAC's homecoming parade will open festivities for many old grads and former students who have returned to Fargo and the campus for the annual reunion with classmates and former instructors.

Students Attention!

Is the Fargo address and telephone number that you indicated at the time of registration correct?

Wrong addresses and telephone calls result in a lot of false calls that are a grievous nuisance to a lot of innocent householders.

If the new NDAC student directory, which goes to press early next week, contains even a few such errors, it is worse than useless.

Please check on these items with the Office of the Registrar at once.

Convo Set Thursday

The Deep River Singers, famous Negro quartet, will present a concert in Festival hall Thursday at 11 a. m. as a feature of this year's student convocation program, announces Dr. Chris Jensen of the college convocation committee.

Included on the singer's program are well-known spirituals, work songs and ballads of Negro plantation life as well as a group of classical songs and arias. The program will close with selections from George Gershwin's opera, "Porgy and Bess," and possibly excerpts from "The Swing Mikado." Recently, however, they have discontinued using this work due to the present Japanese situation.

Highlights of the day's program will be the football game between the Bison and the hated Sioux from the University of North Dakota.

Leonard King, parade marshal, has announced the parade's route which will be similar to that followed in the past.

Leaving the gate, the line of march will be south to Eleventh av N, east to Broadway, south to First av N, west to Roberts st, south to Front st, east to Broadway and north on Broadway past the reviewing stand which will be located north of the Northern Pacific tracks.

OCS TO PARTICIPATE

Leading unit of the parade, by army regulations, will be the 670 candidates of the OCS school on the campus.

Following the parade alumni and former students will gather at the Gardner hotel for their third annual open house which starts at 11 a. m. and continues throughout the day. Dutch lunches are to be served during that time.

Blue Key's Bison Barbecue will hold the interest of student body members from 12 noon until 1:30 p. m., with Queen Elaine and her attendants as special guests.

KICKOFF AT 2

Kickoff time for the annual clash between the football teams representing the University and NDAC has been set at 2 and will take up the attention of all homecomers for the major part of the afternoon.

Fraternities and sororities have scheduled after-the-game open houses to honor old grads and parents here for the day. Senior staff will entertain Queen Elaine and other special guests at 6:30 in the Plainsroom of the Gardner hotel.

Sponsored by the Student Commission, the homecoming dance in the field house from 9 to 12 will close the day's program. Tickets for the dance may be purchased from any member of the commission today and tomorrow with final sales to be made at the door.

Senior Staff Honors Queen Elaine At Less Elaborate Annual Banquet

Members of Senior Staff, annual hosts at the Queen's dinner, will entertain on a much smaller scale this year because of the lack of seating facilities in the new cafeteria located in Dacotah hall. Instead, the honorary group will entertain Queen Elaine Wigdahl, her attendants and special guests at a 6:30 dinner Saturday in the Gardner hotel.

Guests will include Miss Pearl Dinan, Dean of Women, Miss

Matilda Thompson, Mrs. Frank L. Eversull, Bernice Wichmann, Helen Warner, Patricia Bjorklund, Jean Ebeltoft and Helen Greenland, Miss Wigdahl's special guest.

Members of Senior Staff are Queen Elaine, Jean Hoeft, Charlotte Bahe, Mildred Strong, Betty Lynne, Annabelle Donovan, Dona Thompson and Marjorie Nees Lindemann.

The Old Grads

are returning this week to witness North Dakota's greatest sports spectacle—the AC-University football game. And while they are here they will again visit the Powers Coffee Shop which they, as well as the present students, made their downtown headquarters. See you all at the Powers this weekend!

● Why Homecoming?

There are possibly many of us who are asking the question this week, why should or could there be a homecoming this year?

Isn't it true that a large number of alumni and former students are serving their country in the armed services, others in vital industries?

Why should we celebrate, with very few of those mostly concerned participating?

The real significance of this day is not so much the reunion of people; rather the reunion of minds. Old memories will be revived and new ones created, thus establishing a link between those who have left the college and those who still are learning within its campus boundaries.

This will be a binding factor of cooperation, for the school, and, going even further, for the entire country.

When people are concerned not only about their own interests, but also about those of others, then we may rightly speak of the fulfillment of the real meaning of homecoming.

The old and the young grads, regardless of age, will have a common interest with the undergraduates. All will strive together toward the same goal. The goal which our alma mater endeavored to teach us: The betterment of conditions in general, for all.

● Don't Take It Lightly

Wednesday a student election was held to choose some personable young miss to reign over homecoming festivities tomorrow.

Out of a total of 1348 students at NDAC 376 exercised one of the great privileges granted to citizens of a democracy—that of voting.

It is time that we, the so-called educated, practice democracy in its actuality as well as in theory.

Latin Dancer Scares 'H....' Out Of Scribe

In a Buenos Aires theatre last Arturo Toscanini embraced a summer, white-haired Maestro swart, black-haired, sloe-eyed dancer and cried: "Never in my life have I seen such fire and rhythm!"

In Festival hall Wednesday a white-faced Spectrum reporter slipped out the side door and said nothing. He'd had the hell scared, out of him. Such a person is Carmen Amaya. Despite the fact that she weighs only eighty-seven pounds, she gives a fellow the impression that it would probably be better to know the girl a little better before he tries the rush act.

SIMPLE PHILOSOPHY

Her philosophy of life is rather simple in a violent sort of way. She says, "If I feel like jumping, I jump. If I feel like sitting, I sit." It seems that Miss Amaya hasn't felt much like sitting since her early teens. Even with this disinclination to sit them out, our captivating Carmen has earned a reputation as one of the fastest women in the world. Her English vocabulary thus far consists only of "ello," "hokay," and "goo' night." That sort of sets a fellow to thinking, but then there's probably nothing to it.

AGE QUESTIONABLE

Carmen Amaya is about nineteen; her family cannot quite remember, and their notes on the subject differ. We didn't press the matter any further, thinking it better simply to stare into our empty coffee cup and ponder. Her father, a very young and handsome looking gypsy who goes by the name of Flamenco Agustin Castellan Sabicas, is a remarkable guitarist while her mother serves as cook for the whole crew. Her uncle, a rather fascinating character who claims to have two wives and eighteen children in Spain, contents himself during the performance playing upon one guitar with six strings. The poor fellow looked rather unhappy about the whole thing, however.

'Jeep' Hats, Colors, Feature Fall Styles For Campus Cuties

Color here and color there. No rules, no color charts seems to be the password for fashion this year in both men's and women's clothes. Color is a good morale builder especially in war times.

It has often been said that the college co-ed sets the fashion. What she wears the rest wear. As usual we see some new fads in this year, the newest being the "jeep" hat. This little number has taken the colleges by storm. I really wouldn't be surprised to see them being worn with afternoon dresses sometime.

Shirts and sweaters are still very good and here color again has full play. Orchid has gone up to the front very rapidly to one of the leading colors. A warning should be sent out in connection with sweaters. In my snooping around the sweaters I find that the new sweaters that are coming in will have the strength of iron but will look like tissue paper. I sincerely hope there will be no hollering on this count, because we really should be thankful we have sweaters at all.

Once There Was A Fellow ~

Once there was a fellow we knew
 Who drew.
 And he drew very well for a man who had never had a lesson.
 The only trouble was his sketches kept people gessin' Who it was or what it was or even very often probably why.
 Poor guy.
 He once worked very hard on a painting of a chrysanthemum
 But when people saw it they just remained dumb
 Because
 They didn't know what it was.
 Finally he grew desperate.
 Here he had a great handicap and he didn't know what to do for it
 Then one day he received a commission to do some work so without so much as a how 'do you do he began to draw.
 And he drew everyone except Bahe.
 To put it specifically,
 He drew prolifically.
 For he is the fellow who drew all the pictures of the candidates for homecoming queen that people stop and look at remarking, Who is it or what is it or even very often probably why.
 Poor guy.

Green 'Round Faces' Invade AC Campus; Scare Undergrads

"Stand in line. Please, stand in line, boys. There will be another girl along in about fifteen minutes. One long low whistle is permissible. No shoving, please."

Maybe you'd like to know what gives? Well, for the information of all disinterested parties, I will say nothing, but confidentially, out of a total of 1348 students enrolled in this co-educational (sneeringly) school of higher learning, 955 are men and 393 are women. The social outlook is vurry, vurry low. What's the army waiting for? There's hundreds of manly specimens just ripe for the pickin'.

CAMPUS INVADERS

An invasion of round-faced, young and innocent-looking freshmen have taken over in hordes, a total of 531 in all. NDAC has been noted for years for its teaching abilities, but never before has there been an object lesson as there is this year, which all goes to show the futility of a college education. Sophomores number 328, showing that the freshmen learn a lot in one year. Getting smarter every year, the junior class consists of 260 students. There there is the senior class which totals 220, the small gap between the number of juniors and seniors proving that juniors can't learn any more, or else they figure they're in so deep that they might as well stick it out. There are also eight graduates, indicating that some people never learn from where to stay away.

MANY ENGINEERS, AAS's

Engineers and arts and science students are plentiful, engineers having 319 and AAS having 305. Ambitious girls are numerous, most of them wanting to get married. At least, it looks that way with 281 enrolled in home economics. They have adopted the motto "Get Your Man Now" and are evidently preparing to be all prepared when the war's over. Never a shortage in farmers, we have 249 in the School of Agriculture (latest reports not available after two weeks farm work). The total enrolled in Chemical Technology is 115 (Paint Chemistry to you, dope, but don't feel bad, we had to ask three dozen people to find out what it meant. The School of Pharmacy has 79 enrolled, learning how to be dopes, fiend—we mean dope fiends.

Harvest Hand Hunts—Get's One, Loses Her

By WILDER WYLIE

Well, it was nice while it lasted, even if it isn't true what they say about farmer's daughters. Of course I may be wrong. At the farm where I was the oldest daughter was ten years old. It was not her age that bothered me so much though as the fact she was wearing a Sig pin. It wasn't so bad, however, since I didn't stay long. I went out the first morning. The farmer said, "Hi." I admitted I was and was dismissed from the job at once.

Really, though, I think it was a fine patriotic gesture on Prexy's part to close school. Anyway, it gave a lot of fellows a chance to go hunting. Some of them had pretty good luck, too, I understand. I only got one and she had to get in early.

It did strike me, however, that Prexy passed up a great opportunity to get some publicity. The way he handled the whole matter was somewhat trite. After all, he only got two small items and a headline in the local paper. It occurred to me how much the departed Heggeness could do with a matter of this sort. Any fellow who could convince people that nine old men and a bat boy make up a baseball team could surely make a national issue of a two week's holiday. I could see Heggeness now releasing a picture of the Gamma Phi's picking onions with the caption, "They Stink."

Heggeness, we miss you. But then it's nice to see you in the army. It's the first winning team you've been on yet.

In times like these, though, I suppose we must all do our part without thought of personal glory. After all, there's a war on and believe me I'm going to really get in there and fight. It looks like I'll probably have to go though anyway.

Now that the weather is again turning cold it brings up the subject of the fuel rationing. It looks like we're in for more than cold shoulders for the duration. The law says that buildings must be kept at sixty five degrees but personally I don't think it can be done. I've been here three years now and not once has Science been over sixty degrees.

We must admit frankly that we were rather disappointed in the outcome of the homecoming queen contest. Not that Miss Wigdahl won't make a very charming queen, but I went to an awful lot of trouble plugging my own personal candidate, Carmen Amaya. The way I look at it, they both get around a lot but Carmen does it without O'Leary (Continued to Page 7)

FFA Convention Delegates Named

Delegates to the National FFA convention in Kansas City, Oct. 25-28, will be Kyle Miller, Towner, state FFA president, and John Schmitz, Williston, state vice-president, both of whom are freshmen at NDAC. They will be accompanied by Ernest L. DeAlton, state FFA adviser.

Following new and revised goals set up in the program of work for the coming year, Future Farmers expect to contribute materially toward winning the war, with enlarged and improved farming programs to increase egg, pork and dairy products production.

The convention will be streamlined this year, in line with wartime needs, and attendance will be limited to national officers, two official delegates from each state, American Farmers degree candidates, and the state adviser or his representative. Regular business will be transacted and plans laid for the important year ahead. Special emphasis will be given to service which this organization can render in the all-out war effort.

U. S. Loans Offered To Students

Loans to students attending NDAC are available from the United States Office of Education to assist them in accelerating training for certain technical and professional fields which are war-essential.

Fields of work which have been designated as essential include engineering, physics, chemistry, medicine (including veterinary), dentistry and pharmacy.

Students must enter into a written agreement to complete his present course, unless otherwise directed by the chairman of the War Manpower commission, and to accept positions, upon graduation, as assigned by the same commission. They also must agree to continue this work as assigned to them for the duration of this war. Students must continue satisfactory scholarship and be in need of the assistance. Repayments of loans is to be made through the college.

Full particulars regarding the plan may be obtained by contacting any of the members of the Student Loan committee of which Miss Matilda Thompson is chairman. Other members are Dean Pearl Dinan, Dean C. A. Sevrinson and Mr. Shubel Owen.

Sears Roebuck Sophomore Scholarship To Rosenberger For Outstanding Work

The Sears Roebuck Foundation Sophomore Scholarship has been awarded to Eugene Rosenberger of Lakota.

Rosenberger was selected from a group of 18 members who were awarded the Sears Roebuck Scholarships for Freshmen, announces Dean H. L. Walster. He maintained the highest scholastic average during his freshman year and was outstanding in extra-curricular activities.

He graduated as valedictorian of his class at Lakota high school in 1941. In high school, he was active in FFA work, serving as president in his senior year, and was also a member of the Boy Scouts, high school band and DeMolays.

In college he has been active in the FFA college chapter, Saddle and Sirloin club, John Robinson club, reporter on the Bison Furrows, and is a member of the Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity.

He holds a state farmer degree in the FFA.

Teachers, Vikings, Sioux Top North Central Loop

High-scoring, high-riding Iowa State Teachers college Panthers, unbeaten, unscored-upon Augustana, and the University of North Dakota Sioux are deadlocked with two wins each for the leadership of the North Central Conference as league play enters its fourth week.

Injuries are the most serious barriers in the way of the Panthers to a third conference crown as three regulars—all-conference back Gene Goodwillie and linemen Jim Maas and Norm White have been left at home on the last two trips. All sustained injuries in former games.

Fullback Bob Hadenfeldt and quarterback Lloyd Miller have been the big guns in "Buck" Starbeck's line-up this year. South Dakota university, Drake and Omaha remain on the Teachers' schedule.

AUGUSTANA UNDERRATED

Augustana's Vikings, babes of the conference and vastly underrated at the season's start, have shown tremendous power with fullback Don Halverson showing the way.

The Viking line play is comparable to that of the backfield as evidenced by the goose-eggs in the opponent's scoring column. Senior Ray Sandvig, six-foot, two inch end, is Coach Casey's stand-out lineman. Games remaining include the Bison and Morningside.

Jarrett's Nodaks have played but two games, both of them against conference competition. In their opener against Morningside the Sioux eked out an unimpressive 7-6 win; last week, however, NDU easily downed a better-than-average South Dakota State team 19-8.

The Sioux, after tackling the Bison tomorrow, meet Augustana and South Dakota university.

COYOTES PERFECT "T"

A tricky "T" formation, perfected since their disastrous encounter with Augustana, has given the Coyotes of South Dakota U two lop-sided wins in the past fortnight, against the Bison and Morningside, respectively.

Biggest noise in the Coyote pack is the leading conference scorer, halfback Carmody, a senior. Three sophomores, Cahalan, Fechter and Graham, also have received favorable comment.

phus and North Dakota U are yet to be played by the Pack.

Heading the second division is South Dakota State with two victories in four starts. After taking a 38-0 rouncing from the Panthers, the Rabbits found new life to down Omaha, 20-0, and Morningside, 3-0. The Nodaks, however, had little trouble in defeating McCrady's charges 19-8 last week.

RABBITS MEET BISON

Sure-footed Don Healy's educated toe and the running of Bud Billings and Loren Niklason keep the Jackrabbits in the game all the way.

South Dakota State is the next Bison foe, the game scheduled for next Saturday at Brookings. The Jackrabbit's finale is set for Nov. 7, with Carleton college as opposition.

Still awaiting their first conference wins along with the Herd are Morningside and Omaha.

OMAHA, MAROONS HAPLESS

The Maroons see no win in sight for this week as they travel to Cedar Falls, Iowa, for a game with Iowa Teachers tomorrow.

Omaha meets a stern test this week in Bradley Tech, the game to be played at Peoria, Ill., tomorrow. One of these two cellar occupants should break into the win column next week as Morningside travels to Omaha.

The Bison look for a tapering-off in the calibre of opposition for the final games of the year with second division teams South Dakota State and Morningside as opponents.

Not so rosy is the outlook from the Maroon and Indian camps as the former has yet to play Augustana, while Omaha's finale finds them host to the Panthers.

Heard About The Herd

By OWEN LANGEN

Homecoming, in time of peace or in time of war, is always a gala event; homecoming with the Bison host to the University is an even greater event, whether the comparative strength of the two teams is equal or not.

This year on paper the Sioux is very definitely the stronger club, BUT DON'T SELL THE BISON SHORT!

Rather "irked" at being called the "conference clowns" by Aaron Sternfield, sports editor of the Dakota Student, official student publication of Upstate Normal, the Herd has shown more steam in the past three drills than at any time this year.

WE EXPECT A CIRCUS AT DACOTAH FIELD TOMORROW AND WHO HAS SEEN A CIRCUS IN WHICH THE CLOWNS DIDN'T STEAL THE SHOW . . . So kiddies, bring some peanuts to feed the monkeys as the clowns come through.

* * * *

Jimmy Miles, UND's triple-threat star who was injured early in the season, will see some action tomorrow. Jarrett, in commenting on the South Dakota State game, stated that despite his injuries, Miles would prove useful as a spot runner and passer against the Bison.

* * * *

"Coke" Healy, South Dakota State quarterback, seems to be the difference between scoreless ties and Jackrabbit victories when they play Morningside.

Last year Healy came off the bench late in the game to boot a field goal from a difficult angle to give the Rabbits a 3-0 margin.

Two weeks ago this same Healy entered the Rabbit-Morningside game in the closing minutes of the fourth quarter with the score nothing to nothing and once again came through with a field goal, this one from a greater distance and angle than the first.

* * * *

Then there was the one about the superstitious football player who wouldn't sleep thirteen in a bed.

* * * *

All year he's been sitting on the bench, sometimes most of the game, at times during the whole game. Yet, each day, five times a week, Tim Callinan, substitute Bison quarterback, has been giving his all, and doing a good job, too. Many players would have grown disgusted and either started to loaf or quit altogether; but not Tim—he worked that much harder. And it paid big dividends, too, because this week he caught the coach's eye.

He isn't starting tomorrow, but he's expected to see plenty of action before the final gun sounds. His blocking, tackling and signal calling leave little to be desired.

Conference Clowns? Time Will Tell

Here is pictured the Bison football team, renamed "Conference Clowns" by Aaron Sternfield of the Upstate Normal publication, Dakota Student. Sternfield, in predicting the final North Central League standings, placed NDAC's Bison in eighth place with the following comments: "Eighth place — The down-trodden Bison, conference clowns." "For patriotic reasons," Upstate Normal ranked second in his book.

Bison, Sioux Continue Long Grid Rivalry

As that time of year is again reached when the Bison-Sioux football clash is uppermost in the minds of fans in this area it is interesting to go back and tabulate final results in the past years.

The records say that in the past 20 years the Bison have been successful just one-fourth of the time. The figures for the past 20 years follow:

Year	AC	U	Year	AC	U
1922	0	7	1932	7	6
1923	3	10	1933	7	7
1924	20	7	1934	7	0
1925	19	10	1935	20	20
1926	6	7	1936	0	14
1927	0	13	1937	0	27
1928	0	18	1938	17	13
1929	0	14	1939	0	19
1930	7	14	1940	0	24
1931	12	20	1941	6	20

It is interesting to note that the Bison have been able to whitewash the Sioux only once in 20 years although that has been their fate eight times over the same period. According to the figures the Bison are about due to win as their victory-loss ratio has never been lower than it now stands.

Swede Johnson Called To Navy

Arnold "Swede" Johnson, who made basketball history during the last three years at NDAC, has received his orders to report to the Prairie State Training Ship, New York City, on Oct. 30 to begin officer's training under the V-7 program. "Swede", a member of the Sigma Chi fraternity, will leave next Wednesday.

Four Lettermen Return As Bison Plan Cage Slate

Coach Bob Lowe is going ahead with plans for a full conference basketball schedule despite the fact that the army may take over the physical education building unless other arrangements are made.

Games with Minnesota, Concordia, MSTC and Jamestown college are also being slated. Practice sessions will start soon after conclusion of the football season.

Four lettermen, headed by Gene Marquart, regular forward on the North Central conference champs of last year, form a nucleus for the 1942-43 Bison basketball team. Other returning lettermen are Lloyd Fercho, Russ Burfening and Bob Yeasley.

Returning members of the frosh squad of a year ago known to be in school are Paul Brostrom, Jack Berchill and Tom Wellems.

Several outstanding freshmen have enrolled from schools in Minnesota and North Dakota. Among them are: Dan Polis, Don Coleman and Howard Rohs, Fargo; Jim Werre and Gordon Monson, Moorhead; Bob Dobervich, Crosby-Ironton; Don Anderson, Bismarck; and Joe Frezon, Rugby.

The first game on the schedule is against Minnesota at Minneapolis on Dec. 18.

I-M Fall Program Plans Fall Through After Recess

"Due to the harvest vacation touch football, as an intra-mural sport, will not be carried on this fall," says Dr. Churchill, Athletic Director.

As weather conditions are so uncertain at this time of year it has been decided that no intra-mural sports will be started until basketball season arrives. That program is also indefinite as it isn't known yet whether the Army will take over the gym. The last contingent of soldiers will arrive soon and, unless some other building is found in which to house them, the gym will be taken over. In that case even varsity basketball is in doubt.

Carmen Amaya

in the family cave in the gypsy quarter of Granada. It is reported she waited three days for a bid to the military and then went out on her own. Needless to say she is doing quite well as her present earnings average about two thousand dollars a week. Her dancing which gives one the impression that she's shaking off a bad dream, has drawn raves everywhere she has appeared. Famed conductor Leopold Stokowski probably topped the rest when he asserted, "She has the devil in her body." Leaving such matters of research to Maestro Stokowski we nevertheless arrived at the conclusion that if such is the case, the devil has taken one hell of a beating in the last few years.

DIVE INTO DINNER

We gained a further insight in the matter of her dancing, however, later in the evening at the supper given in her honor at the Little Country Theatre. After watching the entire troupe dive into the repast prepared for them we somehow concluded that Emily Post would be out of place in such a gathering. After being stabbed twice in the hand by her bigamous uncle in an effort to get a slice of bread we came to the same conclusions concerning ourselves. We pondered wistfully for some while over which was the more remarkable, the fact that she doesn't get fatter eating so enormously as she does, or the fact that she doesn't get thinner dancing as terrifically as she does. It all ended in our remarking upon the wonders of nature. This comment was naturally unheard for at this point Spanish was flying around the table faster than her uncle's knife and fork. The only part of the conversation we could understand after our one week of Spanish was that they were rather disappointed that there was no wine to be drunk. However, they managed to drown their sorrow with gargantuan gulps of coffee. After the dinner the troupe grunted "gratias", the uncle wiped my blood from his knife, put it in his pocket and they departed.

All Carmen Amaya really wants is "to be known as the greatest gypsy dancer in the world." Somewhat scornful of other gypsy dancing she says, "It is weak, diluted stuff. But I—I am straight whiskey." That we think is a good place to close.

Joint Board Says Reserve Setups Equal

Believing unanimously that no certain service offers any advantage as to deferment, a board of five commissioned officers representing the army, army air corps, navy, navy aviation and the marine corps told students at NDAC

College Personnel Director E. Murray Schaetzel announced Thursday afternoon that students interested in joining the army reserve program should do so immediately as the quota for the calendar year ending Dec. 31 is nearly filled. Schaetzel also stressed the importance of enrollment before Nov. 1 of any upperclassmen expecting to get into the naval reserve setups.

Thursday to become members of the enlisted reserve of their choice.

If one service begins calling up its reserves it is inevitable that all the others will find the same procedure necessary, was the feeling expressed by all the officers.

The joint board will remain on the campus today, for private interviews with interested students.

which is at least two points in her favor. My last minute suggestion that the winner be decided by a free for all, catch as catch can wrestling match was rejected by the College Council as unethical despite the fact that Carmen was willing to spot any of them ten pounds. A SAD FAREWELL

Dean Bales Retires; Saw Many Changes In 22 Years

The resignation of Miss Alba Bales as dean of the home economics department Sept. 1 caused the student body and faculty deep regret. Her fine philosophy of life had aided the development of the home economics department and won for her a host of friends. The twenty-two years she spent here has resulted in many changes in the department and a steady increase in enrollment. Sixty girls enrolled in 1920 as compared to approximately 326 this fall quarter.

One of her outstanding innovations is the home management house where the girls were always her first interest. The dietetics program, the correlation of art to home training and the health program were other new developments.

For a hobby Miss Bales enjoyed working with shrubs and flowers. At the present time she is retired.

Succeeding Miss Bales as dean is Miss Horton who came to our campus in 1929 as head of the home economics education department. Miss Horton is a graduate of the University of Minnesota. During her first year here there were only twenty-five senior students; last year there were between sixty and seventy girls. Her work has been largely with the senior students who practice teaching five weeks during their last year in ten different schools.

Miss Horton is a member of Phi Upsilon Omicron, Omicron Nu, Pi Lambda Theta, Phi Kappa Phi and Pi Gamma Mu.

Her hobbies consist of golfing, swimming, reading and traveling.

YMCA Seeks New Members

Robert Pile, student president of the College YMCA, announced this week that the organization's fall membership drive will be continued after the two-week shutdown caused by the closing of school. Pile stressed the point that, "membership in the YMCA makes a student eligible to attend all fall activities and enjoy the regular privileges of the YMCA."

Announced by Pile as committees to handle fall activities are the following:

Worship services, Vernon Hathaway and Frank Bauman; "How to Study", Arnold Stockstad; Dancing classes, John Finnie, Al Foss and Stuart Calderwood; "For Men Only", Charles Mutchelkanes, Vernon Ashlim and Bill Stegner; and Freshman mixers, Ted Brevik, Eugene Rosenberger and Ames Skolness. Freshmen will be added to these committees from time to time, Pile stated.

AC Coeds Are Advised To Take Long Time View

"Take a long time view . . . preserve your home and country so the fighting men will have something to come back to . . ." was the advice of Miss Gladys Branigan, dean of the Montana state university home economics school, at a meeting of college women on Thursday.

Miss Branigan outlined the work being done at Montana state for the Red Cross and courses relative to the national defense effort. A review of aspects of consumer problems was another phase of her talk.

Brush Up On Them For Tomorrow

Here Are Songs, Yells Of Our College

NORTH DAKOTA HYMN

North Dakota, North Dakota
With thy prairies wide and free,
All thy sons and daughters love thee,
Fairest state from sea to sea;
North Dakota, North Dakota,
Here we pledge ourselves to thee.
North Dakota, North Dakota,
Here we pledge ourselves to thee.

YELLOW AND GREEN

Ho, a cheer for green and yellow,
Up with yellow and the green,
They're the shades that deck our prairies
Far and wide with glorious sheen,
Fields of waving green in the springtime,
Golden yellow in the fall—
How the great high-arching heaven
Looks and laughs upon it all.

ON, BISON

On Bison, carry the fight
State is backing you.
Green and Yellow—colors bright,
To them we will be true.
(Yell) YEA — Bison.
Fight them right back to their goal,
A vic'try for our name.
On you Bison!
Fight, you Bison!
Stampede and win this game.

TEAM SONG

On brave old S. C. team;
On to the fray
Fight on to victory
For that's the fearless S. C. way.

FIGHT SONG

Fight, you Bison, loyal, true;
We have set our hopes on you.
Put your all into the fray
And fight the S. C. way—Rah!
Rah! Rah!
Smear 'em gang and then, let's go!
All the world will surely know
We are fighting for S. C.
The college that we love.

STATE SONG

Our North Dakota State
Is among the great.
We have a hall of fame
To preserve our name.
Come on hold that line
For you're never mlne.
Use the ax boys
Before it gets too late
Our North Dakota State.

DON'T SEND MY BOY TO MORNINGSIDE

Don't send my boy to Morningside
A dying mother said.
Don't send my boy to Omaha,
I'd rather he were dead.
Just send my boy to N. D. State
'Tis better than Cornell

But, see my boy in NDU
I'd see my boy . . . In . . .
The evening by the moonlight
You can hear those Bison singing
In the evening by the moonlight
You can hear those cows bells ringing
As we play in the evening
By the moonlight.
