April 21-23 Set For LCT Production

On April 21, 22 and 23 the Little Country Theater presents its annual Shakespearean celebration.

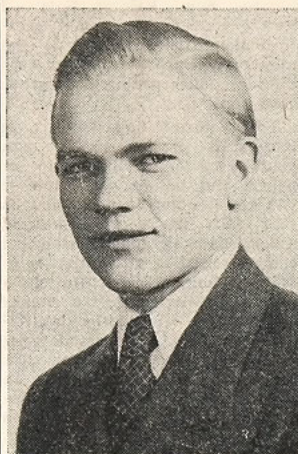

The celebration opens on Tuesday at 8:30 with a presentation of "Queen Victoria", scenes from Laurence Housman's "Victoria Regina," the play which Helen Hayes made famous on Broadway. On Wednesday at 4:30 p. m. the story telling class presents "Jack and the Beanstalk," given especially for the grade school children but open to the general public. Wednesday evening at 8:30 p. m. "Yellow Jacket" by George C. Hazelton and Benrimo will be presented.

"Queen Victoria" consists of seven scenes presenting excerpts from the life of the dominant woman of the nineteenth century. Housman presents very frankly some of the more intimate incidents, which until the present it has been blasphemy to relate. Victoria is depicted as a lovable but wilful wife and queen.

In striking contrast, "Yellow Jacket" is a colorful Chinese fantasy. The weird and, dissonant music, the unpretentious humor and the mysterious occidental traditions combine to give amusement to an audience accustomed to more worldly drama.

The annual Shakespeare's birthday reception will be held Thursday afternoon in the Log Cabin. Students and faculty members are invited.

Staff Heads

NEW STAFF HEADS of the Bison Furrows, school of agriculture publication, are Russell Heine, left, editor, and Bob Pile, business manager.

College YM Elections Postponed To April 8, Broschat Announces

Beginning Monday and continuing through Thursday, the senior cabinet will sponsor Easter week services every morning at 7:15 in the Fireside room of the Y. All students and faculty are invited.

They will continue to operate under the name Gamma Tau Sigma, which was the name of the local organization before the Alpha Phi Gamma charter was granted.

New Attendance Regulations Set Up For Spring Term

Typewritten Rules Must Be Posted By Instructors

A new set of attendance regulations has been issued by the president's office. In effect this term, they follow:

"Attendance upon classes is a joint responsibility shared by the department of instruction, the instructor and the student.

"Requirements in regard to attendance are established by the department, and it is the responsibility of each instructor at the beginning of each quarter and before each class to explain the details of these requirements and the methods to be used in applying them in the interpretation of excuses, tardiness, etc. A typewritten statement of the requirements shall be posted by the department in each class room used by it.

"It is the responsibility of the student to acquire an understanding of these requirements and to adjust his attendance to them.

"Within the limits of the regulations so explained by him, the instructor has authority to fail a student in the course on account of absence; but when an instructor contemplates the issuance of such a failure, he shall first confer with the student's academic dean on the proposed action, inform the student when the failure is finally applied, and then file with the office of the registrar the student's class card after having definitely indicated thereon the failure and the reason therefor."

800 Attend NDAC's War Conference

Discussions of the statewide war adjustment conference for schools here Monday and Tuesday attracted 800 school administrators and officials, with official registration over 400.

"The Schools and National Defense" was the topic of an address by Major B. F. Boyer from the Office of Civilian Defense at Omaha.

Three fronts were named by Major Boyer: the military front where the army is being enlarged to a stupendous size, the home front where homemakers must learn to adjust themselves to food shortages and the school front where the war is curtailing enrollments and forcing changes in curriculum.

The job facing schools is training for more doctors, dentists, pharmacists, technical agriculturalists and other professional training.

An adult training program in civilian defense was another suggestion he made. The necessity of this training lies in the fact that civilian defense measures will leave the army free for military purposes.

He added that all schools, grade and high school as well as colleges, must face these adjustments. Students must also adapt themselves for concentrated work.

Conferences for individuals on the problems of school finance, opportunities in government service and the armed forces for the youth of the nation, post war planning, essential new areas of teaching and what the schools can and should teach were held Tuesday.

Other major speakers were Arthur E. Thompson, state superintendent of public instruction; Dr. Frank Eversull, R. R. Stuart, Omaha attorney, and John L. Bracken, superintendent of schools at Clayton, Mo.

Illuminated V Shines Over NDAC Music Hall

An eight-foot illuminated V-for-victory emblem now shines above the entrance to NDAC's music hall.

The huge V which was used as a background for the Gold Star band's annual convocation concert and which saw duty at two of the NDAC-UND basketball games was erected at the instigation of Dr. C. S. Putnam, chairman of the music department.

Wood work on the sign was done by Howard Lawrence; electric wiring, by Max Vander Horck, and painting, by Doc Putnam. Dick Kraft, superintendent of buildings and grounds furnished the lights. Alfred Lien and W. T. Footer, handled the erection.

Navy Program Okayed By Deans; File New Curricula

The deans of the various schools have approved the navy's plan as outlined by Dr. Otto J. Byers in convocation last week.

Dr. Byers says that the school has filed with the navy department a slightly altered curricula to meet the needed requirements of any students on the campus.

Under present regulations, a student will be able to go on with his regular studies in college while he is enlisted in the navy.

The recruiting program will be given on this campus in April. An educational examination will be given to the enlisted men in May along with the required physical examination. If the boy passes both examinations he will be given an option to join either the naval air reserve or midshipman's training. The boys who select the aviation training will begin work immediately in the education program offered by the navy, while the midshipmen will remain in the college until they receive their bachelor's degree.

Freshman who are enlisted this year will be examined in March, 1943, at which time they will be given the same option as the sophomores are given this year.

Versatile Man, This Jack Knapp

BY MARJORIE HOLLAND

Jack Stuart Knapp, instructor in speech at NDAC during the preceding fall and winter terms, is an individual of rare accomplishments. A native Fargoan, Knapp was graduated from NDAC with a major in education in 1926.

While in college he was active in the Little Country theater and public discussion. Hence the stage was not entirely new to him when he left Fargo for New York to study in the American Academy of Dramatic Art.

NOT SATISFIED

Still not satisfied with his theatrical training, Knapp left the lure of the bright lights of Broadway for Hollywood, where he studied in the Max Factor make-up studios. Having played roles in Shakespearean drama, and a variety of contemporary dramas, he also has had the usual theatrical man's experience in stock.

Interested more in stage technique and production than in acting, the Fargoan returned to the East where he became drama director for the National Recreation association. Conducting drama institutes, he toured the nation instructing and training play directors, actors, and technicians in the fine points of the profession. In this work he has directed large pageants with as many as 5000 persons in the cast.

NOT CONTENT

Not content with play direction alone, Mr. Knapp is the author of Lighting the Stage, How to

KNAPP

Produce Plays and numerous plays including Lights Out, The Command Performance, The Other Side, Four Hundred Nights, The Heritage and The Governor.

Soon to come off the press is his latest creation Technique of Stage Make-up, published by Baker of Boston.

Knapp, who has always hoped to complete his graduate work, now is working toward his master's degree from NDAC which, as he suggests, "If all goes well, I'll have in a few months."

At present he is consulting editor for the Dramatists' Guild in New York. In his position he makes studies of new plays, rates them as to quality and the advisability of production. This work coincides very nicely with his program here, enabling him to carry a sufficient number of credits to complete his course.

CLAY SLAPPER

As your reporter was interviewing Knapp, he was busy slapping clay on the figure of a Mexican vaquero. However art is only a hobby, he explains, but quite a hobby it is—for it includes work in pastel, sculpturing and oils, using mainly foreign subjects.

Through his years in the theater he has had the usual acquaintance with celebrities of stage and screen. Of them he is non-committal but mentions Ethel Barrymore in particular as a star worth knowing.

What will he do after receiving his degree in June? Well, since Dec. 7, 1941, Uncle Sam and the United States Army have held the deciding hand over many a person's future—and Jack Stuart Knapp is no exception.

● mud-wading?

Some time ago the Spectrum published an editorial condemning students for cutting across campus lawns. May I offer this as a bit of constructive retaliation.

It is human nature to cut corners and take the course of least resistance. It is naught but wishful thinking to believe otherwise and not until our college officials recognize this fact will anything constructive be done to rectify this situation.

Why doesn't the administration meet the students half way and cinder or gravel the more heavily used paths? Several so-called "public-minded" organizations on our campus have expressed the desire to provide the manual labor if the college will pay for the material.

A good beginning was made when the path between the chemistry building and the Men's dorm received the proposed treatment.

The paths as they are now will be widened because students will tend to walk beside them killing more grass rather than to slip and wade down their middle.

Instead of mud lanes let's build neat gravel walks.

—A Student.

YMCA Election Candidates Named

Candidates for the presidency of the college YWCA are Annabelle Donovan and Marian Nelson.

Other nominees whose names will appear on the ballot at the election April 9 are Mrs. Mildred Kirst (for re-election), Mrs. R. L. White and Mrs. William Tousseint, advisory board; Bernice Wichmann and Helen Larson, vice president; Mina Askegaard and Eleanor Erdahl, secretary, and Dorothy Monson and Ruth Pollock, treasurer.

The nominations were made by a committee consisting of Miss Ruby Grimes, Mrs. George Braeth, Mrs. J. E. Bennison, Eilaine Nelson, Mildred Ferch, Betty Greenshields and Genevieve Hamilton.

Installation of officers will be in the Ceres hall dining room April 16 at 7 p. m.

Deadbeat Street

There was a young fellow named Koch
Who'd give any fair damsel a look,
He's got a smooth car,
Brass from every bar,
Who next will him try to hook?

There are scums who are nasty and naughty
Who are heckled by actives so haughty;
They swat them and haunt them
But cannot daunt them—
They'll be actives next week—HOT TODDY!

A charming fellow is Paul Middaugh—
His picture is in Voss's windaugh.
Medals gleaming,
Puss abeaming
He's a military man. Haw, Haw!

There was a young chap who went gooey
Each time that he met up with Huey.
The orchids from Ford
Left the damsel still bored
So all he can say now is Phooey!

There was a young man named Willie
Who had, though it all seems quite silly,
A car that was stinky,
A gal that was Inky—
But I still don't see how he does all the stuff he does and gets by with it or how he gets around the way he does 'cause if I even tried any of that stuff the pace would kill me.

There was a young lad named Wylie
Who lived the life of Riley;
He went to each class
And sat on the seat
And spent his weekends quite highly.

There was a young man named Clark
Who loved nothing more than to park
So he bought him a car
That couldn't go very far
And now that's where he is when it's dark.

There was a young gal who by chance
Wore slacks to an informal dance
But her friend wore a skirt
'Bout as long as a shirt
And she was the one 'caused the pants.

There was a young man named Hilleboe
But if you think I'm gonna stay up all night trying to ryhme that stuff—

Spectrum Sponsors Fifth In Series Of Tourney For Campus Bridge Enthusiasts I'm Working My Way Thru College

Play in the Spectrum's second annual all-college bridge tourney will get underway Saturday, April 4.

This year an entry fee of 25 cents a person will be charged. The entire amount of the entry fees will be put into a fund, two-thirds of which will go to the winning pair and one-third of which will go to the runners-up.

All entries must be made in the Spectrum office by Wednesday noon. Each pair entering must submit their 50-cent fee in an envelope at the office and include a slip on which are written the full names of both entrants.

Pairings will be announced in next week's Spectrum, and first-round games must be completed by Wednesday, April 8. Any games not completed by then will be declared a default and the winner will be decided by the sponsors.

A match will consist of three rubbers and the winning pair will be that having the highest total score.

"I still think to this day he was waiting to bean me." This is a recollection of Bernard Bennison, junior in Arts and Sciences, in relating one of his experiences in hotel work.

"It happened one night when I was bell hopping at the Rudolph hotel in Valley City. Hotel rules state that a check-up of the halls must be made every hour, so I picked up the gun and went upstairs. We always had a gun because of hobos who hung around in the summer.

DOOR CLOSED

"When I came down, I noticed the dining room door was closed. I was sure it was open before. At first I thought of barging in, but then I decided to go around to the back entrance. I carefully opened the swinging door and switched on the light.

"Standing flat against the dining room door was a dirty, unshaven, big hobo. When I asked him what he was doing there, he said that he wanted to get out of the cold—it was a warm summer night.

HANDLES GUN

"I still think to this day he was waiting to bean me. You can bet your last cent I didn't take my hand off the gun until a long time after he had gone."

Bennison started in hotel work as a bell hop in Valley City and was cashier in the Powers Coffee shop before going to the Fargoan where he is now working as a night clerk. His main duties consist of doing the bookwork for the hotel and keeping the customers happy at night. During the night he operates a switch-board.

MOSTLY NICE

"Usually 75 percent of the patrons are nice if you are friendly to them. The others are difficult to please. People coming in at night are, as a general rule, tired and sleepy and harder to please," Bennison observes on hotel customers.

Watch The Things Go By And Easter's Coming!

By Jim Ford

HOWLING WINDS

Thursday's howling winds and swirling snow added little to the effort of the registrar's office to have pictures of all students taken for the college's permanent records. Heinie haircuts flattened by the wind and snow and beautiful blonde curls matted by the blizzard will probably be unrecognizable under ordinary weather conditions.

The picture-taking itself is an interesting process. You sign your name on a little slip of paper, and before you know it you are standing in an apparatus that looks like a cross between a dentist's chair and the standard cameras used in all of the country's leading penal institutions—only in prison you get a chance at a pardon. A good-looking fellow behind a neat moustache says, "Look this way," and just like that it's all over. No waiting. In fact, you don't even get a chance to comb your hair, straighten your tie or replace your lipstick. The results, let us say, are not flattering.

SALUTE

This week's salute goes to the administration for finally devising a system of controlling cuts that should be at least part way satisfactory to both the students and the faculty. It is a happy medium between the old system in which a student received a given number of cuts regardless of the need for good attendance in some specialized subjects and the last system whereby the faculty members made their own cut rules and failed to let the students know them, causing many difficulties and irregularities.

INTRAMURAL RIFLES?

One sport which has not been exploited to its fullest extent on this campus is riflery. Combining both a healthful exercise and a useful practical knowledge in these times of strife, this form of exercise, it seems to us, could be turned into an outstanding intramural sport. We have on this campus adequate equipment for carrying on intraschool matches, and there is plenty of coaching talent in our excellent military department. Members of the rifle squad could act as officials. We toss out the above suggestion to the military department, the Interfraternity council, Scabbard and Blade or any other organization willing to sponsor such a movement.

ZOOT SUITS

Easter is a comin' in. Soon it'll be time to go down and buy that new war-time zoot suit or zut suit, whatever it is. Pants without cuffs will probably hit collegians harder than any other section of the population, for they will no longer have portable ash trays with them wherever they go.

Blackout Forecast From 9-12 Tonight For Thrill-Seekers

Fargo will see its first blackout tonight with the chemists sponsoring a Blackout dance in Festival from 9-12. Kenny Jones will furnish the music while Captain and Mrs. R. E. Fredeen and Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Cobb will chaperone the affair. They told your reporter to "blow up" this story for the dance is going to be a big affair. It isn't going to be hard to accomplish that for many is the time yours truly has desired to blow up the chemistry department.

Blackouts will undoubtedly last for the duration. In some cases this is not such a bad idea. If an air raid warden sounded a warning while we were studying, it wouldn't matter much for we are usually in the dark about our lessons anyway.

Don't forget the Chemists are "Holding Back the Dawn" so we can be "Dancing in the Dark" tonight. During the intermission there will no doubt be more than "Two Cigarettes in the Dark."

This weekend socialites will gather at Festival hall. "Black-out" is the theme of the dance sponsored by the Chemists' club Friday night.

INITIATION WEEK

Saturday the Alpha Gams will add new members to their active list. They are planning to hold initiation services tomorrow.

As part of pre-initiation week the actives held a "traveling supper" for the pledges last Tuesday evening. They started at the Karmel Korn shop, then went to the Spic and Span hamburger shop, to the south side Dutch Maid and back to Knerr's ice cream store.

Thursday night the pledges served the actives a "plaid supper". All the food was designed to look like plaid material.

SCUM WEEK

With the dawn of the spring term we find the fraternities having hell week. Those going through right now are Bob Gorud, Carl Goulden, Jim Horan, Duane Rice, Blaine Vorachek and Jack Williams, Theta Chi; Donald Kuehn, Curtis Reseland, John Craven and Melvin Waters, Kappa Psi; Curtis Lindberg, Frank Trembeth and Harold Young, Sigma Phi Delta; and Gene Bolger, Bill Fleck, Dallas Franke, Kenneth Getman, George Klein, Charles Martin, Howard Nelson, Jack Stockman, Charles Van Hort and Manual Walth, Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

ATOs are putting 17 fellows through the paces this week. In the group are Wallace Anderson, Wayne Candor, Bob Cackle, John Cole, Carl Ekern, Bud Finsand, Neil Finstad, Bob Flynn, Ralph Gunkleman, Ernie Hector, Oscar Mueller, Dave Odgen, Bill Parcels, Les Price, Frank Saunders, Bud Sweeny and Bob Tisdale. Only some of these fellows will be initiated this spring but it is the custom of the fraternity to conduct informal initiation for all rooks at the same time.

TWO NEW PLEDGES

Two new pledges are added to the POP chapter, Laurel Hadler and Betty Jean Helseth.

FRATERNITY GUESTS

Last Monday night the Theta Chis were honored when they had as their guest Richard Lewis, alum of 1918. Mr. Lewis was the last president of Alpha chapter while they were still local and the first president of Phi chapter when they went national in 1917.

Other Theta Chi guests were Sergeant and Mrs. R. L. White and Mr. and Mrs. M. H. McDonald, Sunday dinner guests, and Clayton Reeves, alum of 1938, a Monday evening visitor.

Al Schoth, national chapter supervisor of SAE, was a Monday and Tuesday visitor to the NDAC chapter.

Monday night guest at the Sig house was Don Buchanan, alum from the University of Chicago medical school.

NEW OFFICERS

John Finnie was appointed the new social chairman of Sigma Chi.

New pledge officers at the Sigma Phi Delt house include Bill Centerwall, president; Wally Lamb, vice president; Don Charlesworth, secretary, and John Babcock, treasurer.

NO HARD FEELINGS

A proof of the fact that sororities are not always clawing at each other's throats will be the exchange potluck between the Gamma Phis and the POPs. Next Monday evening one half of the POPs will have supper at the Gamma Phis and the POPs, half of the Gamma Phis eat at the POP house.

TIDBITS

Bill Barner, Theta Chi who has been ill, was released from the infirmary Monday afternoon.

NEW KAPPA DELTA president is Betty Lynne. Serving with her are Charlotte Bahe, vice president; Aileen Thompson, secretary; Doris Larson, treasurer; Donna Jean Gunthorpe, assistant treasurer; Grace Getman, editor; Dorothy Monson, social chairman; Delight Whempner, Panhellenic delegate; Norma Vasenden, house manager; Ruth Hvidston, rushing chairman; Betty Dickson, cultural chairman; Betty Provan, activities chairman; Jean Huntley, scholarship chairman; Norma Severson, historian; Genevieve Graber, guard, and Jean Parizek, sergeant-at-arms and social service chairman.

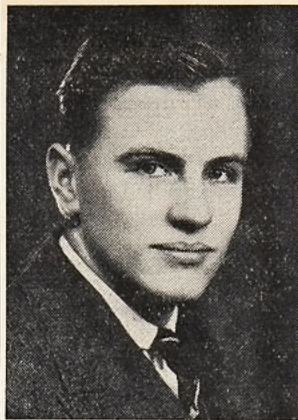

Kappa mothers will hold their regular monthly meeting Thursday afternoon in the Kappa rooms.

MOP pledges will hold a regular meeting this evening in the home of Olive Masterson.

SAE Mothers' club will meet at the house next Monday afternoon.

Alpha Gams held open house Thursday afternoon.

CLARENCE BECKER is the new president of Kappa Sigma Chi fraternity. Other officers are Roland Currie, vice president; William Klubben, secretary; Russell Schnur, treasurer; Leroy Naves, house manager; Earl Walter, historian, and Allan Olson, pledge captain.

'STAYING IN COLLEGE' DISCUSSION TOPIC

"Should I Stay in College?" a panel discussion, will be conducted Monday at 7:30 in the Y.

Sponsored by the Independents, all who are interested are invited to attend. Norbert Lange will lead the forum.

Stamp Drive Gets Postoffice Okay

"Everything is on the up-and-up," announces Lillian McDowell, chairman of the Tryota stamp collection drive. She advises students and faculty that the campaign will be continued throughout the spring term.

Inquiries directed to the post-office department, and P. B. Richter, postoffice inspector in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., reveal that the drive is legitimate. Richter explains that Mrs. L. A. Gillet, sponsor of the project, has retracted statements made by her to the effect that dyes were removed from the stamps. The stamps are shipped to England and there disposed of for philatelic purposes, the money being used to purchase beds for the Queens' hospital.

Kappa Chapter Sets Many Events During Initiation Weekend

Kappa's slate of events for the weekend includes pledging initiation ceremonies and banquet, term party and church.

To be initiated into the active chapter are nine pledges: Beatrice Bolkan, Mary Bristol, Betty Ann Huey, Jane Cumming, Margaret Johnson, Joan Klinsmann, Dorothy Myrha, Gail Putz and Mary Margaret Vail.

Highlighting pre-initiation week was the traditional Cocoa party yesterday in the chapter rooms. Preceding the affair, Marian Dewey was pledged to the group.

The traditional preparatory initiation service will be held at the home of Beth Ann Piers this evening.

Featured this noon is the annual "square-meal" potluck.

Initiation ceremonies will be conducted in the chapter rooms at 9 a. m. Saturday. Marjorie Nees, president, will preside.

Saturday evening at 7 the active chapter will honor new initiates at a banquet in the Graver hotel. Pledge and active awards for scholarship and outstanding achievements will be made. A brief program will follow.

Climaxing the day is the term party at Memorial hall from 9:30 to 12 with Mary Betty Punton, social chairman, in charge. Sergeant and Mrs. L. L. Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Johe will chaperone the dance.

The entire chapter, culminating events of the weekend, will attend the Presbyterian church in a body Sunday morning.

Committees in charge of the various affairs are: Cocoa party, Virginia Wattam, Fannie Helen Dygve and Kay Bristol; potluck, Pat and Doris Bjorklund, Marjorie Nees and Mary Howe; dance, Helen Johnson, Beth Ann Piers, Gayle McDowell, and Virginia Elznic; banquet, Shirley Putz, Fannie Helen Dygve and Marjorie Nees.

RACKETEERING SANCTIONED

It's not just a racket, we're really going to have a badminton club. Starting Tuesday at 7 p. m., the group will meet in the Field house every week. Membership is open to any girl on the campus regardless of ability or previous experience. The only requirement is that players must wear gym shoes and bring their own birdies. Rackets will be furnished.

At the first meeting, the girls will vote on whether they wish to make the group co-recreational. So if you fellows want to play badminton, you'd better do a little campaigning before Tuesday.

HERE'S YOUR CHANCE

WAA bowling under the direction of Lorraine McCagherty will get underway tomorrow at Kossick's from 10:30 to 12. All girls are invited to participate and compete for bowling team positions. WAA points will also be given.

ARCHERY SHOTS PROMISED

Outdoor archery shoots will be provided as soon as the weather permits, promises Miss Wartchow of the physical education department. Archery has proved itself to be the most popular class activity this term.

Girls' Rifle Team Loses Close Contest To WAC In Season's Final Match

Parish, Melaas, and Beito posted 98 targets for runnersup honors on the winning team and Evangeline Schwartz added 97 points to the Bison total to be second for the NDAC team.

Spring Grid Season Opens On April 8 With Smith Coach

Spring football practice sessions for NDAC gridiron candidates will begin April 8, it was announced this week by athletic director Johnny Smith.

Smith, assistant football coach last fall, will take charge of the squad in Coach Stan Kostka's absence.

Prospects for the 1942 season are anything but definite as the war makes changes necessary each day. Several players on last fall's squad have already left school for various defense reasons and several more are slated to leave before the grid schedule opens next fall against Iowa university.

Solberg Seeks New Material For '42 Track

Weightmen Needed As Cinder Season Comes Into Spotlight

Track coach Charlie Solberg issued a call this week for more track candidates to augment the squad which has already started conditioning workouts on the running track in the fieldhouse.

Weight men are the main worry of Solberg as he starts his first season as mentor of the Bison thinclads. So far no candidates for the weight events have reported to Solberg although Harry Treglawny is expected to compete in the shot put as he did last spring.

Solberg is also anxious for any dash candidates to get out so that a strong relay team may be developed to represent NDAC in the meets which the Herd will enter this spring.

Milton Lussenden, a sophomore, and Gail Holmes are being counted on to give the Bison a strong duo in the mile event. Both men are capable of running that distance in about 4:40. Holmes is a freshman but will be eligible for the conference meet according to a ruling decided upon by NCI officials.

Jerry Morrow, former Fargo high star, will be a leading contender in the hurdles. Leland Brandes who placed in the hurdle races last season has left school and will not be eligible. Nick Soulis and Gerald Theobald are other hurdle candidates.

Dash men who have reported for workouts or who are expected to report are Cliff Nygard, Jim Noonan, Sid Cichy, Lee Christensen and Ed Gall.

NCI Officials Rule Freshman Eligible For Track Meet

Due to the effect of war on intercollegiate athletics, freshman will be eligible to compete in track and field events in the North Central conference this year.

The sports program of NDAC and other conference colleges will be greatly relieved by this new addition of freshman talent in the track meets.

It was the general opinion, following the winter meeting of the North Central conference leaders, that freshman would be eligible for conference meets, but it is now generally accepted that they will be allowed to participate in all meets.

With the emphasis placed on regular spring sports rather than on spring football, this ruling will give track more interest than has been present in past years. The patriotic angle of physical fitness for national defense will raise the importance of training and should encourage bigger and better track meets this spring.

North Central conference heads will hold their spring meeting in Minneapolis on April 5 and 6. More will be known as to the extension of the freshman eligibility ruling to all intercollegiate sports following this meeting.

Dorm Remains Top Contender In Volley Loop

Activities Of College War Council

Numerous functions of the War Council came to the fore this week beginning on Monday with the opening of the Key Center of Information. It was in operation during the War Adjustment Conference and regular hours will be announced later.

The bulletin, "War Activities of the North Dakota Agricultural College" was distributed to students on the campus and is being sent out to all high school seniors in North Dakota. The bulletin is available upon request.

Approximately 200 students attended the conference on "Opportunities in Government Service and the Armed Forces" led by Dr. Otto J. Beyers. Most students wanted to know of what value their college training would be in the armed service, what natural outlet had been provided for their particular field and what training would be best.

It was clearly stated by both the Army and Navy representatives that the college work would be changed only to fit the requirements of the armed forces.

An individual with special training would be able to go into his particular field upon approval of the officials in that branch.

Stressed also was the fact that the same opportunities exist whether one enlists or is drafted. To stop groping around after this abrupt change and find some specific work, to adapt oneself in a field where the training possessed may be utilized to the utmost and plan definitely with regard to one's education were some of the ideas brought out for discussion.
