Get Your Tickets Early Or Else! Chemists Warn

First tickets for the Chemists' Club's Blackout party Friday in Festival hall went to Arvid Melby, agricultural sophomore, and Charles Martin, arts and science freshman Wednesday afternoon. The purchases opened a sales campaign by the chemists which will find ration admittance cards at a premium by the time the air raid siren sounds next week.

Details of the unusual program as planned by the chemists to furnish entertainment for guests during the alert have not been fully disclosed. A floorshow is being arranged to augment the music of Kenny Jones and his orchestra with a short preview of this year's Bison Breviews operetta, "Sweethearts," included.

Program chairman Immanuel Wilk again this week emphasized the fact that all those attending the affair should come attired in any kind of wearing apparel—as if surprised by a sudden ARP warning. Whether you look like a wolf in evening clothes, a co-ed in curlers, or a working man in overalls, come as you are!

Chemists will not give out much information about the party, but anyone may procure tickets from said members of the student body next week. Anyone wearing a lab coat on the campus next week will be able to provide ducats for the affair.

TRYOUTS NEXT WEEK FOR GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

Tryouts for the girls' glee club must be completed by the middle of next week, Ada M. Blakeslee, the director, announced. The group will meet Mondays and Thursdays from 12 to 12:30.

Pile, Heine Named Heads Of Furrows

Named at a board of publications meeting Wednesday, Russell Heine and Robert Pile are the new editor and business manager of the Bison Furrows, school of agriculture publication, respectively.

William Klubben is the new Furrows circulation manager.

Heine succeeds Arvid Melby, present editor, and Pile follows John Emo.

Publications Board Applications Due

In order that those elected to the board of publications control are qualified to hold the positions, the board has ruled that those expecting to run for the openings at the spring student election April 9 must submit an application including their qualification to the board by noon, Saturday, March 28.

Instead of two vacancies on the board, as previously announced, three posts will be filled. A freshman, a junior and a sophomore will be named to serve next year. The sophomore will be elected to serve during his junior year to replace Daly King who has withdrawn from school.

Enrollment Reaches 1,269

The total enrollment as of Thursday was 1269 including regular and graduate students, Registrar A. H. Parrott announced.

"There is a possibility that the figure will reach 1300 before registration is complete," Parrott said.

At the same time in the winter quarter just completed there were 1429 students, and a year ago, at the beginning of the 1941 spring term, there were 1471 students.

Students Required To Have Pictures For School Records

Equipment has been completed on the campus for providing photo identification on the registrar's records of all students. All students, except freshmen who had their pictures taken when they enrolled last fall, are required to have their photos taken in the lobby of Old Main either Tuesday or Thursday from 1:30 to 5.

Sweitzer Leaves For Father's Funeral

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sweitzer left Thursday for Cedar Rapids, Iowa, to attend the funeral of Mr. Sweitzer's step-father, Dr. S. A. Miller.

Sweitzer is the general secretary of the college YMCA.

MISS DINAN BACK

Pearl Dinan, dean of women, is back at school after spending several days in a local hospital with a serious throat infection.

Navy Plan For Freshmen, Sophomores Adopted By AC

Publications Free To Students Now In Armed Forces

Under a new policy adopted by the board of publications control at a meeting Wednesday, free copies of the Spectrum, Bison Furrows and The North Dakota State Engineer will be sent to all former students who are now in the armed forces of the United States.

Students who have friends in the army, navy, marine corps or coast guard that formerly attended NDAC may have these publications sent to them by contacting the editors of the publications concerned and giving them the address to which the papers should be sent.

Applications Wanted For Engineer Staff

Applications for the positions of editor and business manager of the North Dakota Engineer are open, announces the board of publications. Interested persons must file their applications with the board secretary, Betty Jean Brattland, by noon Tuesday, March 31.

Elections will be held at the Board meeting April 1. Retiring editor and business manager are Carroll Eian and John Berge.

American fraternities have been spending $1,500,000 for 200 yearly conventions.

The navy's newest plan for the enlistment of college men, class V-1, may soon go into effect on the AC campus, Dr. Otto J. Beyers, co-ordinator of the college defense activities, announced.

As soon as papers from the college showing how the curricula will be changed to fit navy requirements are accepted, the plan will be available here.

PLAN FOR COLLEGE MEN

Discussed in convocation this morning, the plan is for college freshmen and sophomores between the ages of 17 and 20. Eighty thousand men a year will be accepted in this classification.

Those chosen are enlisted in the naval reserve as apprentice seamen on an inactive duty basis and continue their education at their own expense. After half of their sophomore year is completed they take a navy examination covering their educational background. Those who successfully pass the examination will be given the option of going into the naval air reserve or into the sea branch.

CHOICE FOR FUTURE

Those going into flight training will be allowed to complete their sophomore year before they are called as aviation cadets. The others will be allowed to finish school and then given special midshipman training.

Students who leave school or who do not pass the comprehensive examination will be taken into the navy as enlisted men.

Physical requirements for this classification allow those with correctible defects to be accepted providing they guarantee to have such defects corrected before they are called into active service.

Election Announcement

Notice is hereby given of the annual spring election of the student body of the North Dakota Agricultural college, on Thursday, April 9, 1942, in the Office of the Registrar, polls to be open from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. The student body will at that time elect five new members to the Student Commission, namely: a President, a Commissioner of Organizations, an Assistant Commissioner of Finance, a Commissioner of Elections, and a Commissioner of Social Affairs. Also to be elected are a junior, a sophomore, and a freshman member to the Board of Publications Control (these nominees must have been approved by said board), a sophomore and a junior member to the Board of Public Speaking, and three members, a freshman, a sophomore, and a junior, to the Board of Athletic Control.

All nominees will please see that they are qualified and are required to submit a writ of intention to be a candidate for a particular office to the Commissioner of Elections not later than midnight Saturday, March 28. Only the candidates who meet college eligibility requirements and have submitted a writ of intention will appear on the ballot on April 9.

Notice is also hereby given that the student body will vote to ratify or reject the new Constitution of the North Dakota Agricultural college on April 9, 1942.

Signed,

Francis B. Daniel

Bracken Heads Conference Speakers

John L. Bracken, nationally-known superintendent of schools at Clayton, Mo., and two representatives of the Washington, D. C. Office of Civilian Defense will headline the two day War Conference at NDAC which officially gets underway Monday at 9 a. m.

"What Schools Can Do to Meet the War Needs of Our Government" is the theme of the state-wide conference. Active student participation will characterize the event—the first of its kind in the history of the United States.

DAKOTANS TAKE PART

North Dakotans who will participate are A. E. Thompson and Paul Dalager of the state department of public instruction, Roy Johnson of Casselton and R. A. Trubey of Fargo, members of the state board of higher education, and Cyril W. Grace, president of the Mayville State Teachers' college.

Registration for the session begins at 9 a. m. NDAC's mixed chorus, directed by Ernst Van Vlissingen, will sing for the group at 9:30. The invocation will be given by Rev. Thomas Hendrickson.

Scheduled for Monday morning are three conferences. Major Reuben Wood, former congressman from Missouri, will give an address on "Civilian Defense" at 10 a. m.; Mrs. Raymond Sayre, authoress from Hampton, Iowa, will address the group on "Civilian Morale" at 10:45.

BRACKEN

Scheduled for 11:15 is the address by Bracken, chairman of the commission on health in schools which wrote the 1942 Yearbook for the American Association of School Administrators.

He will discuss "The Schools and Health Education."

STUDENT SESSIONS

Of particular interest to students are the sessions for in-school youth Monday. A joint session from 1:30 to 3 will be led by Dr. Otto Beyers, and from 3 to 5 separate meetings are scheduled for men and women with Dr. Beyers leading the mens' discussion and Mrs. Frank L. Eversull leading the womens' meeting.

From 6 to 7 a dinner will be held, followed by a tour of defense projects on the campus.

"What the Schools Must Do to Win the War" is the public forum topic for Monday at 8.

EVERSULL SPEAKS

Miss Caroline J. Evingson is chairman of the Tuesday session which starts at 9:30 with the invocation by the Rev. C. E. Parr. Dr. Frank L. Eversull will address the joint session at 9:35 on "The Victory Program of the Schools".

From 10:30 to 12 conferences are scheduled on School Finance, Opportunities in Government Service and Armed Forces for Youth, Post War Planning, Essential New Areas of Training, What the Schools Can and Should Teach and Teacher Recruiting and Training.

● student appeal

Students might do well to put in an appearance at the sessions for in-school youth in connection with the college's war adjustment program Monday afternoon.

It will be one of the first opportunities offered for students to ask questions concerning their part in the war effort and to receive answers from authorities. Too, for the fellows with low draft numbers, the latest opportunities offered especially for college men will be explained.

● dirty politics

Student elections are in the offing. Keen organization and skillful political manipulation has played the winning role in decades past. What the 1942 outcome will be is at present undecided.

Now before the various frame meetings have been scheduled is the time for changes in that antiquated system to be made. We must have politics. Why not adopt the English slogan: "Fair play in politics"?

Every party needs a platform; it needs a convention to present that platform to those concerned; it needs ardent student supporters. Platforms drawn up should be presented at mass meetings and the decision of the student as to which party he should support should not be influenced unnecessarily.

Political folly and railroad-ing of the past should be done away with. Qualified candidates should be named to the nominee slate. With such a system it logically follows that satisfactory elections would result.

It's easy to print, it's not so easy to accomplish in actual practice, but it's worth trying.

Unique Shoe Display Portrays History Of Last Century

Seldom has such an interesting and representative group of early American shoes been brought together in one collection, as is on display at Herbst this week. The exhibit will be brought to the NDAC campus sometime during the coming week.

Starting with styles of 1840 to 1850 there are various examples of the cobbler's art, representing each style period up to the present time. The stand on which they are displayed includes authentic sketches of costumes that were worn during the various periods.

ROMANTIC HISTORY

The history of footwear styles during the periods that this collection represents is a very romantic one. In 1840, and for many years before, and for some years later, all shoes were made on what was known as a straight last; that is, they were interchangeable like stockings, being neither right nor left. This had its advantages though, for when the heels ran down on the side, the right shoe was put on the left foot, and vice versa, so the heels would wear down evenly.

The styles in women's footwear from 1840 to 1860 reflected the styles used in the first part of the century, during the Empire Period. Many were made of fine materials and exquisitely crafted, especially considering that they were made entirely by hand, for the sewing machine did not come into general use until the "sixties".

SEWING MACHINES

In 1848, Elias Howe invented the sewing machine, and its purpose was to aid in dressmaking, but in collaboration with Mr. Singer, a model was developed to use in sawing shoe uppers.

Before the advent of the sewing machine, even stitches on shoe uppers were achieved by pressing a fine tooth comb along the stitch line, thus making a series of indentations in the leather, to be followed with the needle and thread.

Preceding the Civil War, a sewing machine to use in sewing uppers to soles was conceived by Blake and perfected by Colonel Gordon McKay. Before this invention, the general method used was wood pegs, which continued in favor for the heavier types of shoes up, until the "eighties".

ONE HUNDRED YEARS

And so, when you view this most interesting collection of footwear you see not just so many shoes, but you see in them one hundred years of life—life as it was lived in the forties—the early days of Goeddy's Ladies' Book; life in the Civil War days, and life from the Gay Nineties right up to our own time.

So we come to realize that an object as inanimate as a shoe has played its part in the progress of the centuries—just as the men and women who wore them.

JOURNALISTS MEET

Alpha Phi Gamma will hold its next regular meeting Wednesday, March 25, at 6 o'clock in the Kappa rooms," says Willie Boehrs, president.

Plans for the inspection visit of the national secretary will be discussed. All members are requested to be present.

Pledges Form New Council

With a four-point program an Interfraternity Pledge council has been set up on the campus.

The purposes of the group which is composed of two representatives from each of the eight fraternities on the campus are: to establish friendly relationships between the fraternities as the present pledges go active; to meet the actives of all fraternities; to promote good fellowship among the fraternities, and to sponsor a freshman prom.

Representatives on the council are: Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Bill Fleck, council president, and Eugene Bolger; Alpha Tau Omega, Carl Ekern and John Cole; Sigma Chi, Don Crothers and Bob Story; Alpha Gamma Rho, Charles Brandt, council secretary, and Warren Duntley; Theta Chi, Jim Horan and Duane Rice, council treasurer; Kappa Sigma Chi, Dale Morrison, council vice president, and Dave Haibeck; Kappa Psi, Charles Knedel and Don Kuehn, and Sigma Phi Delta, Frank Trenbeath and Harold Young.

Spinsters Pick Campus Model Man At Skip

Officially set for Model Man night is April 24. The selection will be made, as in the past, at the traditional spring term spinsters skip, sponsored by the Senior Staff.

Fraternities, the boys' dorm and the Co-ops are invited to choose candidates for the contest. Selections should be made by Wednesday of next week. Competition between vieing groups in the way of poster campaigns, verbal propaganda and so forth is heartily encouraged.

The Model Man of the campus will be chosen by co-eds at a door poll the night of the dance.

Despite limitation of the freshman class to 330 students, Manhattan college has one of the largest enrollments in her history.

Fourth In Series Of

I'm Working My Way Thru College

To many the privilege of seeing all of the best shows would be a rare treat, but to Frank Moland, senior in arts and sciences, it has lost its appeal.

Frank is the doorman at the State theater. His work, as you may have guessed, consists of taking tickets. He also ushers rush periods. Although it may seem to be a difficult job to locate seats in darkness, Frank said it is simple when one catches on to the trick.

BLACKOUT PRECAUTIONS

"All you have to do is check the empty seats walking back," he points out. "If there isn't an usher on duty, a good thing to remember is to wait a few moments before rushing down the aisle. Your eyes will become accustomed to the dark and you won't have to fumble and bump against people who are sitting."

Watch The Things Go By We Can Do It Again

By Jim Ford

This column begins by congratulating all of you valiant students who made it back to school after last week. You deserve orchids, but they're costly, believe me.

After a week of exams tucked in neatly beside regular daily assignments and with a commencement thrown in to make things interesting, one doesn't exactly feel like getting back to the old grind. Of course, a St. Patrick's day celebration enabled many of us to get back on the right track with a little relaxation. Despite the war, St. Patrick's day will live on.

WOMEN ENLISTEES?

Uncle Sam is hard up for men. Our latest indication of this is the flood of mail many women students, especially those possessing such masculine names as Pat, are receiving advising them that a very suitable and leisurely career is that of an aviation cadet in the United States naval air reserve. As yet we have heard of none of them passing the physical exams. This paper offers a standing award of $100 to the first woman student accepted as an aviation cadet by the navy.

WHOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

In tune with the time is the latest project of the Chemists' club, a Chemical Warfare Black-out party Friday. We managed to shake a ticket out of the very prudent managers of the affair, and with the ticket came a problem—what to wear.

After many rounds of deliberation we always reach the same conclusion — an old-fashioned nightgown, the kind with the long split tail on which one inevitably trips. Not having much experience with blackouts, we're not sure how to equip this outfit; however, there will be loops on it from which will hang such various articles as a corkscrew with a bottle opener on the end, several pockets full of cigarettes in case of a long alarm, a large pocket for soda pop and other refreshments and an umbrella in case the roof of the shelter, Festival hall, leaks.

You'd also better wear furlined boots, because we know the wind whistles through the shelter. Since the managers assure us that much of the affair will be conducted in darkness with sirens screaming, we feel safe in assuming that the theme of the party will be "Booze in the Night."

SPRING AND ITS BEAUTIES

Ah, Spring! And with it the usual bustle about styles. As usual AC girls, and justly so, took a prominent part in the style edition of the Fargo Forum and in the style show sponsored by a local department store Wednesday. Your correspondent along with six other campus wolves and Dr. Hunter attended and left feeling very sheepish.

We enjoyed watching the birds on the women's hats, and we also managed to drum up a few new adjectives descriptive of the relative sizes and shapes of the feminine population. However, our presence was evidently not so thoroughly enjoyed.

We never got such a cold shoulder in our life, and we've leaned on plenty. We were completely ignored with the exception of a couple of winks from the campus queens in the line of new frocks.

Dr. Hunter seemed to be the only one to rate. His beaming countenance managed to draw a couple of the beautiful blossoms the girls were tossing around so freely.

They also have entertainment at style shows, it says here. Kenny Jones and his Wheezy Five played through the whole show. They played the same piece with 10 different introductions, setting a new record. Also some dancers entertained between the quarters. They stunk. We kept hoping that the perspiration would soak their cellophane skirt into nothingness, but it didn't.

AC Glee Club Will Record For National Competition April 10

April 10 has been selected as the date for the NDAC men's glee club to make its recordings for the National Glee club contest sponsored by the Chesterfield-Fred Waring Pleasure Time Hour.

On that day W. Jack Best, Waring's personal representative, will be on the campus to assist the glee club with any technical problems which arise from the recording process. Ernst Van Vlissingen, director of the group, announced. The disc will be cut at 7 p. m. in the studios of WDAY.

Entered in the competition are 150 college and university glee clubs. To facilitate handling these entries, the nation has been divided into regions. Each regional winner will go to New York for the national finals which will be in the form of 20-minute public concerts for each group in either the Metropolitan Opera house or Carnegie hall.

Competing with NDAC from this region for the right to enter the New York finals are groups from Elmhurst college, Illinois Institute of Technology and Wright junior college, all in Illinois; Luther college, Loras college, St. Ambrose college, Iowa university, Iowa State and Grinnell college, all in Iowa.

St. Thomas college, St. Olaf college and St. Mary's college, all in Minnesota; Midland college, Creighton university and Nebraska Wesleyan university, all in Nebraska; Ripon college, Carroll college and Milton college, all in Wisconsin. and Huron college in South Dakota.

The Bison club has practiced for several weeks on three numbers—one selected by Waring, "Steal Away," a Ringwald arrangement; one selected by Van Vlissingen, "Te Deum," and a college song, "The Yellow and the Green."

Liggett and Meyers, manufacturers of Chesterfields, will pay all recording expenses and furnish two private Pullmans, rooms and meals at first-class hotels and entertainment for the winning clubs.

Noonan Elected By Ag Economics Club

James Noonan was elected president of the Agricultural Economics club Tuesday. Other officers are Wallace Chase, vice president, and Vincent Mayoue, secretary-treasurer.

The program featured a showing of motion pictures of the Northwest Airlines Chicago-Seattle route. Stressed in the films was the growing importance of Fargo in the nation's air transportation system.

Formed last year, the club has grown steadily.

RELATIONSHIPS TOPIC FOR COFFEE FORUM WEDNESDAY

"Campus and Community Relationships" will be the topic for discussion at the coffee forum Wednesday at 4 in the Fireside room of the Y.

Dr. C. I. Nelson of the bacteriology department and Murray Baldwin of the Dakota clinic will speak on the subject before the meeting is opened in general discussion.

Dean Speaks On War Facts At Convo

"Facing Some Facts About the War" was the topic of the address of Dr. H. L. Walster, dean of agriculture, who spoke this morning at the regular convocation called the first week of each quarter.

In his address, Dean Walster gave a report on several speeches from the National Farm institute at Des Moines, Iowa, last month.

He summarized the facts laid out at the institute by Leon Henderson, price administrator of the federal government, who spoke of the effects of the war on inflation.

Other speakers reported on by Dean Walster included Dr. Carl Brandt, a research economist refugee from Germany, who said that he did not believe it possible to starve out Germany through blockade—that Germany can only be beaten by a military defeat.

Dean Walster closed his speech with an account of the address given by Liu Liang Mo, official speaker for United China Relief and former aide to General Chiang Kai Shek. This speech, which Dean Walster considered the most interesting at the institute, emphasized the fact that China has fought for four and one-half years and will continue to fight until they win the war.

Also on the convocation program was Dr. Frank L. Eversull who discussed army, navy and marine plans for recruitment.

Social Notes Of The Week

By RACHAEL ELZNIO

SOCIAL SLANTS

Once again Greek pledges had a skip day, and once again they frequented places across the Red. There really must be some big attraction over there. If you want to know more about it, ask the Alpha Gam, KD, Theta Chi or Gamma Rho pledges.

WEEKEND FROLICS

Saturday night the Theta Chi's will be saying Thank God It's Saturday. They are having a party at the house with Ray Fritz as general chairman.

The Independents are having a supper dance next Monday at 5:30. Chairman is Lester Sites, with Walter Alm in charge of the music. Lois Skadelund and Blanche Carlson are in charge of the food.

NEW PLEDGES

The Mops have added three new pledges to their chapter. Sunday night Mary Gronlund, Eunice Johnson, and Myrna Wiese were pledged at the home of Genevieve Raisler.

Bob Peterson is a recent pledge of Sigma Chi.

NEW OFFICERS

Esther Gunvaldsen, Gamma Phi, has been elected Panhellenic representative and Betty O'Day was elected scholastic chairman.

GOING-AWAY PARTY

Betty Ann Manley, Mop, who recently moved to Minneapolis, was honored at a handkerchief shower held last week by her sorority sisters.

FRATERNITIES ENTERTAIN

Fraternity entertainments this week are four-fold. The Theta Chi's will play hosts to the Kappas Sunday afternoon from 5:30 to 8. The Sigs are entertaining the POPs at a splash party at the downtown Y on Sunday also. Thursday evening, the Kappa Sigs entertained the Alpha Gams in the college Y, and the POPs played hostess to the Gamma Rhos.

OPEN HOUSE

Alpha Gams held open house Thursday.

Girls' Rifle Team Attains Revenge Against Boys In Close Shooting Match

The girls' rifle team staged a comeback last week when they nosed out the men's varsity team 767-765, the same margin by which they had previously been defeated.

Betty Greenshields was top scorer for the girls, and John Berg and Harold Rohde for the boys, all three bringing in targets of 98. Runnerups with scores of 97 were Tillie Ruud and Dorothy Freeman.

The men's second team retaliated by defeating the girls by a 12-point margin, 780-768.

WELKEN GETS 100

Gladys Welken earned scoring honors for the match, bringing in a record target of 100. Second place was shared by Robert Flynn and Jack Johnson who brought in targets of 99.

On the varsity firing squad were the following girls:

Polly Carter, 94; Rachel Elznic, 88; Dorothy Freeman, 97; Betty Greenshields, 98; Ruth Kellevig, 89; Betty Myrbo, 94; Janice Nelson, 95; Tillie Ruud, 97; Evangeline Schwartz, 96, and Delight Whempner, 96.

TWO HAVE 98

Shooting for the men's varsity team were John Berg, 98; Royal Berstler, 94; Paul Middaugh, 96; Peder Week, 94; Vallas Walwood, 90; Harold Rohde, 98; Charles Mratin, 94; Melvin Holmquist, 93; John Kingzett, 95, and Payne Lysnee, 96.

Firing for the second team were Dorothy Chase, 95; Jane Cummings, 96; Louise Haugsjaa, 90; Jean Hoelt, 94; Genevieve Lindemann, 98; Ella May Reynolds, 92; Shirley Soliah, 95; Lois Skadeland, 97; Kay Spohn, 93, and Gladys Welken, 100.

On the boys' second team were Kermit Davison, 94; Harold Lyngstad, 97; Robert Flynn, 99; Roy Miller, 93; Norman Moen, 97; John Olson, 96; Phillip Thompson, 98, and Raymond Schwarting, 96.

The score of the 8 highest of the 10 persons shooting was chosen as the team score in each case.

Phyllis Lane Follows Olson As WAA Head

Phyllis Lane has been elected president of the Women's Athletic association to succeed Genevieve Olson. Other officers chosen were Lois Skadeland, vice president; Doris Marie Larson, secretary; Aileen Thompson, treasurer, and Florence Potter, point recorder.

These five girls comprise the WAA council which will direct the organization's activities for the coming year. The first major duty of the new officers is the planning of the annual awards banquet which will be held at 5:30 p. m. April 8 in Ceres hall.

Managers for sports to be sponsored during the spring term were appointed by the retiring council. They include Pat Torgerson, softball; Lorraine McCagherty, bowling; Janet Peterson, bicycling; Jeanette Archer, roller skating; Tillie Ruud, badminton, and Doris Marie Larson, archery.

WOMEN'S SPORTS

By FLORENCE POTTER

Evangeline Schwartz of the distinguished expert division captured honors last week at the last riflery practice of the season with a score of 99. Shooting 98 for second place were Dorothy Freeman, Delores Huether and Tillie Rudd, distinguished experts, and Mildred Frendberg, sharpshooter.

For the experts, Gladys Welken shot 97, and Dorothy Engesather and Kay Odney, 96.

Second place in the sharpshooter group was shared by Olga Garaas, Barbara Holcolmb and Claire Ward.

Pat Rengle and Pat Reimers brought in targets of 93 and 90 for marksmen's honors.

Ruth Nye of the novice division made a score of 96, second place going to Gail Putz for her score of 72.

DREAMS AND HOW TO INTERPRET THEM

We are told that dreams may mean nothing at all. Many are trivial—most are transient. But we are all curious to know the meanings of our every changing dreams. Our new booklet on Dreams includes rules for interpretation, a dream dictionary, gives dream lore of the past, and the meanings of many dream symbols according to the ancient practice. You will find this little publication amusing and fascinating. Order your copy today—ten cents postpaid.

Bivouac Aims To Entertain In Double Roll

Planned to appeal to one's gustatory and terpsichorean senses is the Bivouac sponsored by the military department tonight in Festival hall. From 9-12 Kenney Jones and his boys will offer just the right beat for those inclined to trip the light fantastic. That is, if the students can get a release from the sanatorium—result of exams last week—long enough to shuffle around.

Because the need for healthy bodies is being emphasized now, the militarists are serving enough vitamins tonight in their delicious food to last for the duration. Not only will there be flying feet, filling food, but also fun in the form of entertainment during the intermission. Guidon is helping Harold, Gordon out in arranging this affair.

Ed Lokken is in general charge with Ralph Martin assisting in the music department. Captain and Mrs. N. W. Loyness and Captain and Mrs. Max Hughes will chaperone the affair.

NOTICE

The YMCA Senior cabinet will meet Tuesday at 7 in the Fireside room of the Y.

NOTICE

The Y Freshman council will meet Thursday at 7:15 in the Fireside room of the Y.

Minneapolis Artist To Present Concert At Grace Lutheran

Lorraine King of Minneapolis is to give a sacred harp concert at Grace Lutheran church Sunday evening. Miss King is sponsored by Gamma Delta, which is the Lutheran students group of the three college campuses.

Two years ago when Miss King was a girl of sixteen years, she won the Phi Beta cup for being the outstanding soloist at the regional music festival at the St. Paul auditorium. Last year she won first place in the solo division of the Region Two National School Music competition-festival at St. Paul. Since this time she has been heard in concerts in and about the Twin Cities. She has accompanied the Twin City Walther league a cappella choir and has played with various symphonic groups of the Twin Cities.

Kostka Granted Leave From Coaching Position To Enter Naval Service

Stan Kostka, NDAC's head football coach, left Fargo last night for Minneapolis where he will take final physical examinations before being sworn into the navy with a temporary assignment as ensign.

Kostka was granted a month's leave of absence from his coaching duties yesterday by President Frank L. Eversull. Should the Bison mentor fulfill all navy requirements at the end of a month's training period at the U. S. naval academy, Annapolis, Md., he will receive a permanent commission and his leave of absence will be extended by the college, Dr. Eversull said.

The former all-American full-back from the University of Minnesota will fill the capacity of physical education instructor in the navy's expanded physical fitness program.

In Kostka's absence the spring football drill sessions will start next week under the direction of athletic director Johnny Smith, Kostka's assistant last fall, his first season as Bison coach.

Bison Cagers Perform With Barnstormers

Three senior Bison basketball performers who had much to do with Coach Bob Lowe's team winning its third straight NCI conference cage title this season are still using their court ability to win basketball games.

Arnold Johnson, Cliff Nygard, and Johnny Abbott—the three seniors—are members of a barnstorming team playing in this territory. The traveling aggregation, known as the Lutheran Brotherhood Bombers, also has Gordon Nelson, MSTC star, Harold Poier, Concordia veteran, and Red Haroldson, the team's sponsor, on its roster.

Johnson rang up 24 points in the team's first start—a 60-33 victory over Kloten. Nelson and Haroldson were runnerups for scoring honors with 14 counters through the nets.

Tonight the team plays at Park River and tomorrow night will perform at Osnabrock, Poier's home town.

Dr. John M. Fletcher, professor emeritus of psychology at Tulane university, is directing a study of Louisiana public schools.

Sigs Win I-M Scoring Honors

Sigma Chi's title winning intramural basketball quintet also walked away with individual and team scoring honors, it was revealed this week in the unofficial records compiled by the Spectrum sports staff.

Roy (Sonny) Olson, lanky pivotman on the new champions' five, took individual honors with an 80 point total while Paulie Paulson, guard on the Sig squad, was close behind his teammate with 71 counters. Olson also scored the most field goals—37.

Walt Johnson, Kappa Psi, Herb Glaser, Kappa Sigma Chi, and Jim Leet, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, tied for third place in the scoring race with 68 tallies. All three men acquired their total on 31 field goals and six free throws.

Sigma Chi rolled up 271 points in nine league contests to lead in this department with an average 30.1 score. This average bettered the closest opponent by over six counters. Alpha Gamma Rho had 23.8 in the Sigs' bracket while the Rammies lead Division B with a 23.7 average.

Theta Chi's quint had the best defensive record in the upper bracket but the Kappa Sigs in the lower bracket were strongest defensively for the entire league when the former champs held their opponents to a 14.9 point average in 10 contests. The Theta Chi average was 17.6.

Riflery Teams Defeated In Area Matches

NDAC's two rifle teams placed 11 and 16 respectively in the Corps area matches, results as published by area headquarters in Omaha reveal. The Bison No. 1 squad posted 3578 points out of 4000 possible counters while the No. 2 team scored 3410 tallies.

3722 points was the total scored by the State University of Iowa in taking first position in the annual matches. Other schools in this area qualifying with Iowa for the national matches include the University of Nebraska, the University of Minnesota, South Dakota State, the University of Wichita, and Iowa State college.

South Dakota University finished 11 points better than the Bison No. 1 team to keep NDAC from entering the first ten bracket. North Dakota failed to qualify.

Both Bison squads made their best scores in the prone stage of the matches while the poorest showing was made in the final or standing positions.

Dr. E. H. Sellards, director of the University of Texas bureau of economic geology, has been elected president of the Paleontological society of America.

Activities Of College War Council

The bulletin, "War Activities of the North Dakota Agricultural College," will be available to students Monday.

Contained in the bulletin is a summary of the program of the war council and the war work being done on the campus in the various departments.

PROLOGUE BY EVERSULL

Beginning with an introduction by Dr. Frank L. Eversull to show what has been done by the college and the efforts of groups to do their part in the war program as outlined by the war council. Dr. Eversull presents a picture of the events that take place, what has been done, and what will be done.

Listed also are the programs and schedules for the coming quarters.

PHOTOGRAPHS INCLUDED

Several departments have for some time had courses in defense training and their vital work is shown in photographs and articles. Cooperation with the armed forces and special war time courses with opportunities for students in this area are carefully explained.

The projects in student morale in bringing informed speakers before the students, holding forums and panel discussions, concerts or records and numerous other activities are well attended, and students are showing great interest.

The work of other agencies on the campus is brought out in articles on the wide program of the extension service and the experiment station in the work on nutrition, Food-for-Defense and other fields.

INFORMATION CENTER

A Key Center of Information is open and students may avail themselves of the many opportunities which it has for information in all areas connected with war work.

"The Center is located in Festival hall and will be in full operation Monday," says O. A. Stevens, faculty member in charge. Phi Kappa Phi and Pi Gamma Mu have volunteered their services and will set aside regular hours at which time the Center will be open.

NOTICE

There will be a regular dinner meeting of the Interfraternity council Tuesday at 5 in the Kappa Psi house.

Plan Future Teachers Chapter At AC

"NDAC may soon have a campus chapter of the Future Teachers of America," states Eileen Dolve, secretary of the student group assigned to investigate the possibilities of such an organization.

At a recent meeting of interested faculty members, it was decided that the question of forming an active professional group of prospective teachers should be put before the student body. Department heads were requested to name representative students to a committee.

COMMITTEE NAMED

Students named to the investigation are Betty Lynne, Eileen Dolve and Ralph Steinhilber, department of education; Wilma Grant, Rosalie Gabbert, Shirley Soliah, Donna Thompson and Carol Fortney, home economics; Francis Daniels and John Logan, agricultural education. Logan replaces Everett Orth, who was called into military service.

Daniels and Logan are co-chairmen for a panel discussion tentatively set for April 15 or 16. Open to all prospective teachers, the meeting will include a discussion on "Establishing an FTA Chapter on the Campus", following which the meeting will be opened for audience participation.

Officers of the committee are Wilma Grant, president, and Eileen Dolve, secretary.

UNITY DESIRED

The purposes of the FTA movement are to promote a professional teachers' attitude and to provide panel discussions on professional topics.

Upon the outcome of the open meeting depends the future of the organization on the NDAC campus. It is necessary to have 10 members to start a chapter. Dr. Darling, director of education, predicts that the group would soon total 100.

Organized in 1937 following the Horace Mann centennial the FTA solves the need for professional duty. Membership in the nationwide club now numbers 2097 with 84 chapters.

North Dakota chapters of FTA include one recently formed at Mayville State Teachers college and a high school group in Sentinel Butte.

"It is hoped that response to this movement will be widespread," explains Miss Dolve, "for there is a definite need on this campus for such an organization. Membership will be open to all future teachers. A nominal fee of one dollar per year which will cover state and national dues will be charged."

Scabbard, Blade Company Inspected

Lieut. Leslie H. Johnson, seventh corps area inspector for the national Scabbard and Blade headquarters, visited the local company last night.

On his trip here Lieut. Johnson was accompanied by three members of the South Dakota State company which he had previously inspected — Paul Engebretson, captain of the Scabbard and Blade company there and a cadet captain; Carl Fagrelus, cadet lieutenant-colonel, and Charles Foster.
