Putz, Lange Cast As 'Sweethearts' Leads

Truesdell, Dills, Weiser, Anderson Take Other Roles

Headlining the week's events is the selection of Shirley Putz and Norbert Lange as the romantic singing leads of Sweethearts to be presented to Fargo audiences April 28 and 29.

The story revolves around Sylvia, Shirley Putz, who is mothered by Dame Paula who runs the Laundry of the White Geese with the help of her six daughters. Daughter roles will be portrayed by Rosalie Larson as Babbette, Genevieve Lindemann as Jeanette, Marjorie Peterson as Toinette, Wilma Aney as Nannette, Dolores Huether as Lizette, and Virginia Koloen as Clairette.

Complications arise when Mik-el, George Truesdell, who abandoned Sylvia as a child, attempts to restore her to the throne for she is the actual princess. Love interest is added by Franz, Norbert Lange, and Lieutenant Karl, John Sanders, as Sylvia's suitors.

Liane, a feminine lead played by Esther Gunvaldsen, is a milliner who seeks temporary employment in the laundry and is mistaken for the lost princess.

Other characters are Slingsby played by William Anderson, Van Tromp by Paul Weiser, and Caniche by Charles Dills.

Production is in full swing now but Ernst van Vlissingen says that more cellos are needed in the orchestra.

Informal Discussion Feature Of 'How to Study' Meeting

Featuring an informal round-table discussion with Leon H. Hartwell of the English department, Dr. Ralph E. Dunbar of the chemistry department, Dr. Earl A. Helgeson head of the botany department and Miss Ruby M. Grimes, representing the mathematics department, the second in a series of How to Study meetings will be held in the Fireside room of the Y Wednesday at 7:30.

"Any study problem troubling you is your admission," said Arnold Stockstad, head of the Junior cabinet committee in charge of the series.

Following a short discussion by the faculty members the meeting will be open for student participation.

"We hope that students will take advantage of this opportunity to get into an informal 'bull session' with some of the most capable instructors in the more troublesome courses on the campus and thresh out their individual study problems with them," said Stockstad.

SCABBARD AND BLADE INITIATES TWO SENIORS

Robert Schaezel and Walter Hall were initiated into Scabbard and Blade, military honorary, Sunday morning.

New Type Address Planned For May AC Commencement

Something new in the line of commencement addresses is being planned for graduation ceremonies at NDAC this May.

Under a plan submitted to the college war council by the college advisory committee, the address will be student written and student delivered.

Planned is a contest open to all seniors graduating in May. The entries are to be in the form of an essay suitable for delivery as an oration.

The theme will be American Youth Faces Today and Tomorrow, but the author may use any title he chooses. Reserved by the college is the right to select or reject any and all entries. The production must be original and certified that it is the student's own work.

It must be submitted under a name known only to the writer in an envelope marked "Graduation Oration Contest." All orations must be from 20 to 25 minutes in length and be turned in at the president's office before May 1.

All essays submitted will become the property of NDAC, including the right of publication. The decision of the judges will be final. There is a possibility of two essays being selected if they are of high merit and if they are written by a young man and a woman.

The writer or writers of those selected will receive a cash award of $50, provided that the writer or writers will memorize the speeches under the direction of the speech department and will deliver them on commencement day.

'For Men Only' Plans Session On Etiquette

From 500 to 800 special students for the navy or the army air corps may soon invade our campus.

Men, that means competition for the attention of the fairer sex. Will you be able to hold your own?

Perhaps you should begin preparing early by attending the second in this year's series of "For Men Only", meetings sponsored by the Junior cabinet of the YMCA in the Fireside room of Y Thursday at 7:45.

"Social Relationships and Etiquette", will be the subject discussed under the leadership of Mrs. Paul Chase, program secretary of the downtown YWCA and former secretary of the college YW.

After an introductory talk by Mrs. Chase the meeting will be open for general discussion with any and all "etiquette" questions being welcomed.

Eversull Back; AC May Have Air Corps Unit

President Frank L. Eversull has just returned from a two-week's trip to Washington as a representative of the board of higher education and the institutions of higher learning in North Dakota.

On the trip he contacted the corps area offices of the navy at Great Lakes, Ill., with respect to a naval unit in some of the colleges of North Dakota.

In Washington President Eversull saw the members of the army air corps staff concerning training of air corps units in North Dakota.

While at the army offices he was informed that the ROTC summer camp will be abandoned this year. The members of the military staff will be retained at the college during the summer quarter. ROTC members will receive training during the summer quarter as usual, and the basic courses will continue. This program will give an opportunity for entering freshmen to begin their military training as soon as they enter in order that they may complete their work by the time of graduation. Upon graduation from the ROTC unit, members of the corps will go to camps from which they will be commissioned.

While in Washington President and Mrs. Eversull had the pleasure of meeting Lieut. and Mrs. May, Lieut. and Mrs. Manny Ladwig, Bernard Volkerding, and Mr. J. Allen Clark, senior agronomist in the Department of Agriculture.

YW Senior Cabinet To Meet Thursday

Discussion of consumer education in the present crisis and planning a YW program for the rest of the school year will be the basis for senior cabinet meeting to be held Thursday at the Dugout dining room. A supper will be served at 5:30. Annabelle Donovan is in charge.

Annual ND Series Will Decide NCI Championship

The chips will be down when two strong basketball quintets representing the University of North Dakota and NDAC face each other on the fieldhouse floor tonight at 8 p. m. Each club is in a position to win the North Central conference basketball championship and must show up well in this annual series to be certain of the crown.

The Herd needs only a split in the series to take its third straight NCI title.

Coach Bob Lowe gave his Bison team members a rest Thursday after three days of intensive preparation for the invasion by the Nodaks. All of the Bison cagers have been in the best of shape and expect to go into tonight's fracas at full strength.

Combinations that have been used in practice this week indicate that Gene Marquart will get the nod along with the Herd's four veterans when it comes time for Lowe to pick his starting lineup. The little Bison forward has developed into a fine floor player in addition to being a good shot and his aggressiveness is expected by Lowe to cause the Sioux no end of trouble.

Jim Fletcher is slated to go at forward opposite Marquart with Arnold (Swede) Johnson at center and Cliff Nygard and Johnny Abbott filling the guard posts.

North Dakota comes to Fargo determined to show Bison fans that the Nodak loss to Iowa Teachers last week was just a mistake and that the Sioux deserve to hold the NCI cage title. Coach Clem Letich has developed a strong quint around a lone returning veteran from last season—Captain Bruce Stevenson. Bud Halliwell, a transfer student from New Jersey, and Norm Gronna will be at the guards for North Dakota while Gil Olson and Dick Thompson will start at the forward positions.

Plan All-College After U Encounter Saturday Night

An all-college dance will be held in Festival hall following the NDAC-UND basketball game Saturday night. Kenny Jones and his Streamliners will furnish the music. Alpha Gamma Delta's trio will furnish a special skit.

The dance is sponsored by the YM with Al Geiszer, John Finnie and Bud Chase in charge. Admission charge is 35c. Chap-erones are Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Long and Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Sweitzer.

● fair play, please

This is not an editorial written for a credit in News-writing. It is a protest and a plea from a body of music lovers to the student body.

Much has been made of the childish practice of throwing darts about during convocation and lyceum. That doesn't interest us. We wouldn't give a hoot if you threw each other off the balcony, if you would only be quiet about it. But during the Hamline chorus appearance we counted no less than ten couples chattering away like long-parted lovers, and everyone seemed to have an itch he couldn't scratch that made him jerk about and rattle his chair. Is it too much to ask that you all be quiet for the short minutes it takes to finish a musical number before you discuss what's new in Wenger's chemistry tests? Another thing. In spite of the desire of the faculty to have the seats filled at convocation, if you don't like music and can't keep still while it is playing, won't you please stay away so that we who do enjoy music may hear it? You can buy a cup of coffee at the Hasty or the Dugout for a nickel and sit and talk all day if you wish. Or do you think the sight and sound of two people enjoying a loud conversation is more fun for everyone than the music?

When we go to hear music we like to come away feeling filled. Instead we come away feeling for a baseball bat to club the people who drown out the music with their giggles and whispers and chair squeaks. People, please!

SAE Awards Pins

At a dinner held at the chapter house Wednesday six active members of SAE were given scholarship keys for outstanding scholastic work during the fall term. These keys were given to all members with a B average or better by the group of men that fell below the fraternity average. Darrell Dahl presided and gave keys to Julius Walth, Pat Regan, James Leet, Robert Anderson, Dennis Boelke, and Clayton Rush. A short speech was given by each after the presentation.

Dead Pan Alley

In the face of severe criticism, most of which was merited, the Spectrum has decided to discontinue Deadpan Alley.

Realizing that the last two issues preceding this were in extremely bad taste, we wish to extend our apologies to the persons concerned, to their families and to any others who may have unintentionally been hurt. We also wish to retract any and all statements made in those issues of Deadpan Alley.

The purpose of Deadpan Alley has been to lampoon campus characters rather than to hold them up for public contempt. Since it is apparent that the writers of the column have gone "stale" in their efforts to be comic and can no longer humorize without doing injustices, the Spectrum has reached the decision stated above.

Faculty Club Holds Guest Dinner

The Faculty club dance Monday at 9:30 in Festival hall will be a guest affair with each faculty couple bringing another couple as guests.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Burris are chairmen of the committee in charge.

They are assisted by Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Douglas, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hanson, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Johe, Maj. and Mrs. C. H. Hart, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Hastings, Mr. and Mrs. Mattys Jongeward, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lembourn, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Lohse and Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Long.

Kappa Epsilon Initiates

Norma Vasenden was initiated into Iota chapter of Kappa Epsilon, honorary women's pharmacy group, at ceremonies Tuesday in the home of Ruth Moll of Fargo. Lorraine McCagherty presided. Following the service, Barbara Holcomb and Claire Ward were pledged to the group.

SAI MacDowell Program Wednesday In Festival Hall

Appearing on the annual MacDowell Endowment fund program to be presented by Sigma Alpha Iota at 8:00 p. m. Wednesday in Festival hall will be Ann Jane Donovan, Mrs. Richard L. White and Mrs. W. P. Tarbell from NDAC. Additional numbers will be given by other members of the organization.

Proceeds of the concert will be used to purchase defense bonds which will be given to the MacDowell colony in Petersborough, New Hampshire. The colony is maintained at the home of Edward MacDowell, great American composer, as a place where creative artists may feel free to work.

Tickets for the program may be secured from actives, alumnae, patronesses and pledges of the local chapter for 25 cents. Tickets may also be purchased at the door.

Be wise and save for Defense bonds now.

Phantasmagoria

By BILL SNYDER

Probably all the juniors and seniors remember a character named Einar Mickelson who used to go to college here a few years ago. Mick, after he graduated, went into the naval air corps and after he had finished that he went to work flying for the Burma road as a member of the American volunteer group.

Little has been heard from him since the outbreak of the war, but the other day Leland Stowe in an article from Rangoon to the Minneapolis Star-Journal and the Chicago Daily News told of Mick's experiences in the far east. Here is the gist of the story:

One day Mick and another pilot had just returned from a flight when a passenger plane landed, so Mick and the other fellow went over to greet the new arrivals. There were in the party two Chinese women and several men, among them Clarke Kerr, the British ambassador.

Mick and his partner offered to take those people down to their quarters; they accepted and Mick jumped in the back seat of the station wagon with a cute looking Chinese woman. They didn't have room to take one man along so they left him waiting at the plane, which was being gased and repaired.

When the party arrived at the quarters they had tea and Mickelson was getting fonder and fonder of the little Chinese doll. During the tea Mick and his friend discovered who their Chinese friend was. She was Madame Chiang Kai-shek and the guy they had rudely left at the plane was the Generalissimo himself!

It is nearly time for the mid-winter trek to the Forx and I have it on good authority that the joint owners up there are plenty glad to have us come. It seems we put a better grade of slugs in the slot machines than the boys from the University drop in those one-armed bandits.

If you happen to see most of the Sioux fellows riding the buses during their two-day sojourn here it is not because they haven't any friends with cars—it's because they are using up the bus chips that we put in the slot machines last fall at homecoming! But we get the last dig—next week we can take the chips back up their and fleece the dime machines like we always don't.

Star Spangled Banner

By "DOC" PUTNAM

We are at war. Since Pearl Harbor that fact has been gradually dawning on the public mind.

In this interior town the war enthusiasm has not burned with a fever heat but it is warming up except in one particular.

I ran across this the other day. Said Mrs. A to Mrs. B, "I understand Mrs. C knows the Star Spangled Banner". Said Mrs. B, "Yes, she does—except the first verse."

At the game the other night our band played the accompaniment to our National Anthem. I watched and listened for the voices that are really the only thing worthwhile about the tune.

I found that Mrs. C was very much in evidence. Almost the entire audience knows the National Anthem except for the first verse. It doesn't seem possible that the students of a modern college do not know the words set to that grand old tune.

When a chorus of foreign born Russians can sing the words of our anthem in English as the Cossacks did the other night, it does not seem right for our American born students to remain quiet when the anthem is played for their accompaniment.

This routine patriotic prelude will be played by the band before every game: The Morse telegram "Three short, one long"—V for Victory—will be played as the illuminated letter is displayed, followed at once by the National Anthem sung by the entire audience; then our "Yellow and Green" is to be sung by our students, followed by the Team song to honor our team.

To make it possible for all our "Mrs. C's" to know the first verse, here it is—Clip it, learn it and sing it.

Oh, say can you see, by the dawn's early light
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, thro' the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watch'd, were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there.
Oh, say does that Star Spangled Banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

The other morning when the Hamline choir was with us I asked to lead the "Yellow and the Green." I discovered that there are a lot of AC students who evidently don't know the first verse of that, so here that is too:

Ho! A cheer for green and yellow,
Up with yellow and the green,
They're the shades that deck our prairies,
Far and wide with glorious sheen.
Fields of waving green in springtime,
Golden yellow in the fall.
How the great high arching heaven,
Looks and laughs upon it all.

Then the Team song is in the same condition, so you might as well clip it too:

On brave old SC team;
On to the fray—
Fight on to victory—
For that's the fearless SC way.
Let's turn on the heat of enthusiasm nationally and locally for our guests this weekend.

Fellowships Again Offered By Kappas

Kappa Kappa Gamma announces through its central office three $500 fellowships available to fraternity or non-fraternity women to do graduate work in the field of their choice in the university of their choice. This past year four fellowships were awarded and the recipients are studying at Western Reserve university, Washington university, Stanford university and the University of California. The procedure is to secure an application form through the dean of women's office and to furnish the required information.

Under ordinary circumstances Kappa Kappa Gamma also offers exchange fellowships for study in foreign countries. Conditions do not make these exchange fellowships possible now; but interested persons may apply for graduate work in the Latin American countries. All graduate fellowships are available to women of any fraternity or to women who belong to no fraternity. Selection is based on undergraduate scholarship, and on plan of study in the graduate field. Applications must be filed with the chairman of fellowships by March 25.

Engineers Club Has 200 Members

Membership of the Engineers' club climbed to a new high last week when the 200 mark was passed. This makes the Engineers' organization almost three times as large as any other men's organization on the campus except the YMCA.

To accommodate members at the last meeting it was necessary to move to the largest classroom on campus, Chemistry 207. The influx of members didn't just "happen" as some would like to think, but came as a result of a concentrated drive for initiates.

The program had a variety keynote. E. L. Mayo, instructor in English, presented a sleight-of-hand demonstration; movies in technicolor on the production of steel were shown; and the Engineers' quartette, Leonard King, Bob Yeasley, John Babcock and Pat Regan, sang several songs.

The club's officers are Reuben Gerlitz, president; John Calhoun, vice-president and Bill Hope, secretary.

Volleyball Opens Wednesday

New League Starts With Eight Teams

With the addition of another team during the week, the newly organized volleyball league is set for opening games next Wednesday night on the fieldhouse stage. Alpha Tau Omega's entry, managed by Bud Sweeney, was the last team to enter and rounded out the loop's membership to eight clubs.

All games will be played on Wednesday and Thursday nights with the first contest set for 7:30 p. m. and the second immediately after the first—or about 8:15 p. m. Matches will be played on the stage court in the fieldhouse under the direction of Bob Kaercher whose decision as to fouls will be official.

Three games will constitute a match with the team scoring the most points in the three games winning the match. Therefore, if one team wins the first two games of a match by slight margins, the opposing club may still take the match with a wide margin of victory in the final game.

For the convenience of those players and teams participating the Spectrum prints the schedule for the first set of matches in the round robin. Getting underway Wednesday, the first round will end on April 9.

Woods' Standings Find Herd Dropped To Third Position

After holding second place in the Glenn Woods trophy competition for one week, Coach Bob Lowe's Bison basketball team has again dropped to third place behind two high school quintets—Moorhaed high and Sacred Heart Academy.

Other changes this week find the Cobbers dropped to fifth place and the Dragons finally outscoring their opponents.

Present standings of the six teams competing for the award are based on the scores of games played on or before Saturday, Feb. 14. The ratio by which each team has outscored its opponents determines the standing it holds.

Team	TP	OP	Ratio
Spuds	563	364	1.546
Deacons	501	399	1.255
Bison	859	717	1.198
Baby Dragons	494	464	1.064

Berg's Target Paces Gunners In Area Meet

John Berg, firing on the "A" squad, posted the best score in the kneeling position as the ND-AC rifle team completed the third stage of the Senventh corps area intercollegiate match. Berg fired a 96 target to lead the riflers, while Norman Moen recorded the best score on the "B" squad as he turned in a 93.

This week the team is firing the last stage of the match before meeting a University of North Dakota squad in a shoulder-to-shoulder match on the fieldhouse range Saturday. A return meeting between the two teams is scheduled for next week on the university range.

To date in the corps area match the Bison marksmen on the "A" and "B" squads have posted scores of 2842 and 2756 respectively. The "A" group has targeted scores of 978, 969, and 895 for its total and the "B" team's score has come with scores of 966, 928, and 862.

Sioux, Herd Contend For Cage Honors In Annual Series

By LEE LAWRENCE

When 8 p. m. rolls around tonight, a determined squad of basketball players from UND will square off against NDAC's five and thus will inaugurate the opening of the annual four-game series between the Bison and the Sioux.

Yes, it's that time again and, as is generally the case, a lot of interest will be centered on this series. Aside from the fact that the two schools hold highly antagonistic views of one another, these games are very important in the North Central conference standings. The Bison can clinch the loop title by breaking even in the series but the Sioux can throw a wrench in the machinery if they should so happen to sweep the classic.

STEVENSON DANGEROUS

The Sioux have a dangerous man in their elongated center, Bruce Stevenson. The tall Nodak captain scored 29 points against Morningside at Sioux City for what is believed to be a conference scoring record and if he should go on such a rampage when he leads his team onto the local hardwood, it will make the row a tough one to hoe for the Bison.

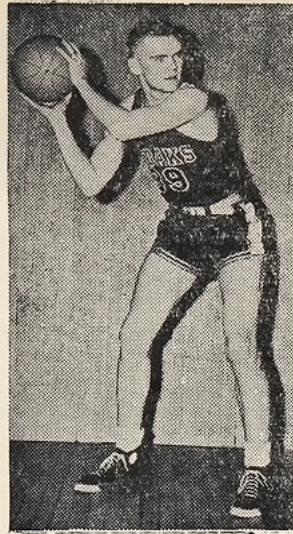

However, the Herd also has a capable center in not-too-short Swede Johnson and the Sioux star may find some very tough competition for center honors. The Bison center shackled ISTC's Seidler very neatly when the two teams met here, and Seidler is the loop scoring leader.

The starting five for the Sioux will most likely be Dick Thompson and Gil Olson at forwards, Bruce Stevenson, center and Bud Halliwell and Gronna at guards. Against this array, the Bison will send their regular starting team of Jim Fletcher and Gene Marquart, forwards, Swede Johnson, center and Cliff Nygard and Johnny Abbott, guards.

BISON FAVORED

Perhaps this is not the time for predictions, but here goes with some stuff about who will win and why. Last year, the brilliant play of Jim Fletcher was outstanding in the series and this year should be no exception when it comes to having a single out-

Sioux Forwards

GIL OLSON

DICK THOMPSON

EXPECTED TO START at the forward posts for North Dakota's Sioux against the Bison tonight are Gil Olson of Bismarck and Dick Thompson of Grand Forks. Thompson, a sophomore, has been a starting Nodak forward from the opening of the season and has been a consistent scorer. Olson is a junior who starred with NDAC's Bob Yeasley while they were teammates at Bismarck.

standing player. The prediction of this writer is that Swede Johnson will be the most talked about ball player when the games are over. The Bison co-captain will be playing in NDAC basketball togs for the last time in college competition and my theory is that he will never need to look with disdain upon his final games as a Bison.

The scores of the games are, of course, a trifle harder to predict but a safe bet for the first game should be 49-33 with the Herd on top. Saturday's game is tougher to pick as the teams will know each other better but we hope the Bison come through with a score of about 50-38.

TO SPLIT AT FORKS

When the boys start playing upstate next week, that cracker-box gym is going to be a stickler but it's the Bison again by a score of 38-32 in the third game while the final game is a toss-up with about 5 points between the two teams.

Finally, any resemblance of these predictions to final scores is purely coincidental. No mathematical genius was involved in the calculations.

AC Frosh Face Papooses Tomorrow Afternoon

Coach Charlie Solberg's squad of Bison yearlings will trot onto the basketball court at the Fieldhouse Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock to tackle a very strong crew of Sioux Papooses as a feature of the annual basketball series between the Bison and the Sioux.

The team of yearlings from NDU has been rolling up lop-sided scores this season despite the frequent absence of some of their best players. Other than their official contests this year, they have been repeatedly playing the varsity on even terms.

Coach Red Jarrett will send a starting lineup of McClintock and Malone, forwards, Halpin, center and Draxton and Schue, guards. Others on the squad are Ferber, Nordstog, Thompkins and Dale, forwards, Hepper, center and Ellingson, Hausauer, Madsen and Christianson, guards.

The Baby Bison have been busier than the Sioux yearlings and have engaged in 9 games. They hold 3 wins over the MSTC frosh, 2 wins over the Concordia freshman and single victories over the Powers Coffee Shop quint and Crarys. They have dropped two games to the Spitfires.

Coach Solberg's choice for a starting lineup is Wally Parkman and Bob Kaercher, forwards, Paul Brostrom, center and Bill Sturlaugson and Jack Burchill, guards.

Debaters Face MSTC, Cobs

Debaters from NDAC, Concordia college and MSTC will participate in the second in a series of three tri-college debate events on Tuesday.

The topic chosen for this debate is the Atlantic Charter, Resolved: That After the War the Democracies Should Form a New Federation to Establish and Maintain the Eight Churchill-Roosevelt Principles.

Students who will represent NDAC in the tournament are Wallace Sweeney, David Haibeck, Neil Skaar and Andrew Kovash.

Under the guidance of the Lincoln Debate club, a number of students at NDAC are preparing for the district contest to be held in connection with the national extempore discussion contest. This is being held at UND the forepart of March.

It is the wish of the Lincoln Debate club that all students interested will attend the meeting on Monday at 4 o'clock in the Little Country theater.

To the Editor:

Today when we hear much of "student morale" it seems inane and senseless that perfectly good newspaper space should be used for throwing brick-bats.

A well aimed brick-bat now and then might be a good thing, but brick-bats that deliberately undermine personality and self-confidence are certainly not to be lauded.

It isn't that we disapprove entirely of your "Dead Pan Alley"; it's just that we don't like its moral tone. "Dead Pan Alley" could well be amusing and enjoyable reading, but the way it has been used of late doesn't appeal to us.

Clean out that literary closet and we'll be a lot happier.

Civil Engineers Have Luncheon

Guests at a noon luncheon meeting of the student chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers in Ceres hall Tuesday were: James E. Jagger, field secretary of the society from New York City; F. S. Altman, district engineer for the Portland Cement association and secretary-treasurer of the northwest section of the ASCE from Minneapolis; and P. K. Lewis, field engineer for the Portland Cement association from Fargo.

Mr. Jagger, guest speaker for the occasion, pointed out the objectives of the society, the fact that these objectives have never needed changing since the founding of the society in 1852, and the way in which they can be of use to the engineer through membership.

After the luncheon a discussion was held, with Jagger answering questions on engineering in relation to civilian, army and defense work.

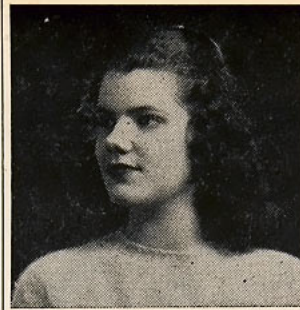

Blue Key Cites Dick Kraft

Honoring a man who has served NDAC faithfully for 45 years, Blue Key fraternity last Thursday evening held a testimonial dinner for Dick Kraft, superintendent of buildings and grounds.

Toastmaster Frank Carlisle introduced Bob Thorson, a former Blue Key member, who presented Mr. Kraft with a Master of Service certificate bearing a citation for meritorious service to the institution.

Special guests at the dinner included all former recipients of the Doctor of Service award, all of whom spoke words in praise of Mr. Kraft's fine work in keeping the college plant in running order and in helping to beautify the college grounds.

Music was provided by the Alpha Gamma Delta trio. John Calhoun and George Koch composed the committee on arrangements.

MARJORIE NEES, junior in applied arts and sciences, has been elected president of Gamma Tau chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Other officers elected were standards chairman, Jean Mason; rushing chairman, Mary Howe; pledge trainer, Ann Donovan; recording secretary, Doris Bjorklund; treasurer, Pat Bjorklund; registrar, Shirley Putz; rooms chairman, Beth Ann Piers; social chairman, Mary Betty Puntun; junior Panhellenic representative, Jean Mason; and marshal, Genevieve Lindemann.

Installation will take place Monday evening.
