After an officer round-up is held in the YMCA auditorium at 2:00 p. m. Friday under the direction of Jeff Carlisle, officer clinics will be held in various fraternity houses. Don Berg will be chairman of the clinic for presidents, vice presidents and secretaries held in the Y. Dean Turner will be the speaker.

A dance Saturday, Jan. 24, in the Field house will wind up the activities of Fraternity Week.

NOTICE TO ALL STUDENTS

A student civilian defense questionnaire was issued in convocation this morning. All students are urged to secure, fill in, and return this questionnaire to the box in the lobby of Main building by Wednesday, Jan. 14. If you have not received your questionnaire, a copy may be secured at the office of the registrar.

100 per cent return means 100 per cent cooperation.

Presented with commissions on Dec. 12 were Allan Burman, Kenneth Crahan, Graydon Fredrickson, Glen Waller.

Ballet Russe Plays Festival Wednesday

TAMARA TOUMANOVA

Cast Of 125; Special Dress Scenes Included

"Probably the finest attraction on this year's lyceum series" is the way A. G. Arvold describes the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo which plays in Festival hall Wednesday.

Under the direction of Leonide Massine, called the greatest living master of the dance, the company of 125 artists, including a symphony orchestra, is on its ninth consecutive season of touring the United States. The group with its carloads of specially designed scenery and thousands of costumes travels on a special train.

This year's tour, as in the past, started with a three week's season in New York City at the Metropolitan Opera House.

Featured ballerinas with the show are Alexandra Danilova and Tamara Toumanova. They and the other feminine stars have been called "lovely and younger than most of the queens of Broadway musical plays" and "more glamorous than anything Ziegfeld ever assembled."

Many of the male leads will be taken by Massine himself.

On the program are dance dramas set to the music of famous composers such as Tchaikowsky, Debussy, Rimsky-Korsakoff, Stravinsky and Weber. In a lighter vein is a George Gershwin score for the sketch, "The New Yorkers."

Charity Ball Scheduled For Friday Night

First in line at NDAC's annual Charity ball in the Crystal ballroom next Friday will be Betty Olson and her escort, Paul Hanson, followed by Elaine Wigdahl and Mac Foss.

Sponsored by Panhellenic, the Charity will be semi-formal for the first time. The only limitation placed on men's wear is that all shirts be white. Military uniforms will be in order.

Balloons have been eliminated from the decorations as a step toward saving rubber for national defense.

Chaperones are Mr. and Mrs. Knute Henning, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Lawritson and Mr. and Mrs. Stan Kostka.

Panhellenic Proposal To Limit Meetings Accepted By Women

On the advice of the College Panhellenic council, a proposal to limit meetings of women's organizations to one a month has been accepted by the presidents and faculty advisors. A schedule for group gatherings has been arranged with most meetings being held in the afternoon.

Accepted by the organizations, the schedule follows:

- First Tuesday of the month: Phi Upsilon Omicron.
- Second Tuesday: Panhellenic.
- Third Tuesday: 4:00, Senior Staff; 4:45, Women's Senate.
- Fourth Tuesday: 4:00, Guidon; 5:00, Art Club.
- Third Thursday: 4:00, Tryota.

Schedules for other groups are being arranged.

Tulane university's new library is air-conditioned.

Defense Hits Registration

Winter term enrollment reached 1,414 Thursday. At the same time last year there were 1,627 students, 213 more than at present. A. H. Parrott, the registrar, attributes the drop to the war.

Last term's registration total was 1,493.

The largest individual enrollment in schools is home economics with 321. Agriculture has 296; engineering, 293; applied arts and sciences, 288; chemistry 104; pharmacy, 86, and education, 26.

Freshmen again lead the list of classes with 475. Registered are 388 sophomores, 290 juniors, 233 seniors, 24 graduates and 4 special students.

Kenny Jones' Band Plays For First Defense Dance

First college function of the new year is the all-college dance set for tonight from 9 to 12 in Festival hall.

Senior Staff is sponsor of tonight's affair. Kenny Jones and his band will play; tickets are 50 cents.

Muriel Kotschevar heads the publicity committee; Audre Wells is in charge of music; Genevieve Olson, chaperones.

So keep 'em flying and attend the first defense party of the term tonight!

NOTICE
Independent Students association will hold a business meeting Monday, Jan. 27, at 7:30 in the Y auditorium.

Farm, Home Week Feb. 10-13

NDAC's 1942 Farm and Home week to be held Feb. 10-13 will emphasize the part that the state's agricultural resources can play in the national defense program. This year's program features discussions on health, wartime food production and post-war planning. Speakers of national and regional prominence will lead the discussions along with specialists from the NDAC extension service, experiment station and teaching staffs.

The program committee, under the leadership of Dr. J. H. Longwell, chief of the NDAC animal industry division, has outlined a tentative schedule of events. General sessions each morning will take up problems of civilian defense, nutrition and post war planning. Group sessions are planned for the afternoons when production, marketing and distribution and other vital points will be discussed. One of the featured speakers will be H. J. Gramlich, secretary of the American Shorthorn Breeders association, who will discuss beef cattle breeding before a large group of North Dakota cattle breeders and other cattle men.

Another highlight will be the showing of a sound motion picture, "The Home Place", a three-reel picture recently produced by the U. S. department of agriculture which shows the development of the American farmstead from colonial times to the present. It includes many scenes of historic interest and points out the types of rural architecture that have survived.

Evenings will be largely devoted to entertainment. The annual Little International Livestock show, put on by NDAC agricultural students, is scheduled Feb. 10, and the annual Saddle and Sirlin Club Recognition Banquet will be Feb. 11. This year, D. C. Crimmins, Hazelton, pioneer shorthorn breeder, will be honored. The annual Lincoln Day banquet sponsored by A. G. Arvold is the evening's program for Feb. 12.

A taxi downtown, the theatre, and hot chocolate at the Powers . . . That's a perfect evening these 25-below days. A taste-tempting sandwich at the Powers and rich, creamy hot chocolate. Gay music by Lloyd Collins and Jeanne Alm. Sound good? Join the smart set at the Powers.

earlier hours!

With the advent of war it is more important than ever that time which could be spent on studies is not wasted—so leading educators tell us.

This year for the first time, the college library opens at 9 in the morning instead of 8 as in the past.

The library being closed during the first hour of the morning is an hour a day wasted for many students. Many Fargo students and some out-of-town students who live off the campus ride to school when it is most advantageous, at 8 o'clock. If these students don't have first-hour classes, they can study, theoretically. But, with no place to go, they must spend their time hanging around the halls or in places equally unsuited to study.

This situation could be easily cleared up if the library opened an hour earlier and closed an hour earlier.

information

Clarifying the effect that the selective service program will have upon the college student is the following information released from President Eversull's office:

1. No man is inducted into the service until he has been placed in Class I-A. He is not placed in Class I-A until he has been called in for physical examination. After being placed in Class I-A, he waits until he is called for induction. It is possible for him to enlist anytime before the actual call is made for induction.
2. No one can enlist under 21 years of age without his parents' consent.
3. Farm boys of registration age who can show that they are actually needed on the farm may be deferred for not more than six months and a possible continued deferment may be granted. Father will have to file affidavit that this boy is necessary on the farm. Individual decisions are left to the local board.
4. According to the newspaper report of bills now before Congress, registration for those between 20 and 44 will be taking place on Feb. 16,

Dead Pan Alley

Hasn't this Campus Romeo got the cutest face you have seen? If you look at the above picture long enough you can actually see his hair recede. But why shouldn't it recede when he spends one-third of his time drawing for his architecture course, a third of his time spooning with his girl, and the other third sitting in a beauty parlor. Someday he's going to be caught with one hair out of place and eight will get you five that he blushes every color of the spectrum from 400 millimicrons to 800 millimicrons. (These technical figures are from the physics he hasn't passed.)

Really this kid is a reader! He can make a saxophone moan, whine, and squawk; but try as he may he can't get any music out of it. If he could, it would probably be The Sweetheart of ATO, Thine Alone or Four Roses of Picardy.

He calls himself an artist, but his friends call him Magnus, McFoo, Mac Foss, and &$(8*$.-

Santa, Dan Cupid At Work; Vamp Home Ec Teachers

Dan Cupid threw a wrench into the placement machinery of the home economics department during the Christmas vacation. Eleven graduates and one senior were married, leaving 11 vacancies for which the department has no girls.

Joined in matrimony were Elaine Matteson and Eugene Blanco, Joyce Ogilvie and Ed Peters, Beryl Burkee and Don Mishel, Tina Hovi and Arthur Sater, Barbara Black and James Hall, Ethel Botman and Kenneth Arntson, Lois Hotvedt and Roger Strassburg, Maxine Rustad and Oswald Thorson, Jean Leake and Stanley Baeder, Lila Johnson and Oscar Zetter, Gertrude Armos and Norvald Iverson and Betty Hodgson and Neal Tracy.

'Grind The Axis', AC Girls' Motto

AC girls are doing their share toward "grinding the Axis"—in other words the knittin' needles are really clickin'.

Set for Wednesday afternoons, girl students will meet in the Y lounge from 3:30 to 5:00 to knit and sew in connection with the local Red Cross project. Articles made will be sent to war zones for American soldiers and war casualties.

Mrs. Richard Sweitzer is in charge of the program and urges all girl students to join in the task of "grinding the Axis."

Phantasmagoria

By BILL SNYDER

Last Monday I began my last term in college, and am I glad I'll never have to go through that registration process again. After going through that one in Festival hall last Monday, I believe it's harder to get into college than it is to get out. It only takes one piece of paper to graduate, but it takes a ream of paper and a Philadelphia lawyer to get in.

I didn't get started with registering until about one in the afternoon. I went over to Festival hall and sat down at one of the tables to make out a program. It was so cold in there that it was the first time my fountain pen ever leaked icicles. The guy sitting next to me was making some calculations on a slide rule. I became interested and so I asked, "Are you figuring out how many credits you have to have?"

He looked up from his work and said, "No, I'm from Armour's and I'm figuring out how much meat we could store in this ice box."

PAY DAY

After I had my program approved, I discovered a big Conga line forming up by the stage. It was the biggest Conga line I had ever seen; in fact, it looked like pay day at Lockheed. I like to Conga, so I joined the line. After I had been dancing about an hour, I said to the fellow in front of me, "Gee, you sure can Conga swell."

He turned around and muttered, "We ain't doing the Conga, we're just jumping around to keep warm."

But I didn't mind standing in line to pay my fees after I found out the Red Cross was serving hot lunch to the survivors. By the time I got up to the desk to pay my dough, the joint was so cold that the people taking the money moved around like penguins. On second thought they were penguins. Who else could stand the cold?

TOO COLD

After I had been relieved of my money, I went up to Al Lien, the janitor in Festival, and said: "Why don't you turn on the heat?"

Lien smiled and said, "It's not my fault. They're waiting for the tuition to come in so they can buy another load of coal. And furthermore, this place is a theater and most theaters advertise "Twenty degrees cooler inside!"

MORE COLD

On my way home from registering I drove by that new engineering lab. Boy, does the cold weather effect those guys who are building it; instead of looking like statues when they work, they are statues.

Speaking of statues, when I got home Monday, my snow man was pounding on the door trying to get in and warm up.

Boy wants roommate.

Herd Defends Cage Title In NCI Opener Saturday

Coach Bob Lowe and his NDAC Bison basketball team open the defense of their North Central conference cage crown tomorrow night at 8 p. m. when they face Omaha university's quintet on the field-house floor.

Tomorrow night's contest will be the second loop engagement in as many evenings for Coach "Stu" Baller's team which tangles with North Dakota tonight in Grand Forks.

POOR RECORD

Omaha's record to date has not been very impressive. The Indians have taken only one of their seven pre-conference games, a 40-37 thriller from Simpson college. Regardless of this fact, Lowe and his Bison cagers expect tomorrow's game to be a tough assignment and look for the Indians to have a lot to say about the conference race this season. Baller's crew have played top-flight competition so far and will no doubt make a much better showing in their own league.

Two junior college transfer students have received praise from Coach Baller for their work in early games and will be men the Herd will have to watch. "Dee" McCartney, a center, and "Len" Graham, a guard, are the new Omaha stars. Captain Bob Matthews teams at guard with Graham.

FOUR FORWARDS

Two sets of forwards are available for use by the Indian mentor. Jimmie Taylor and Walt Vachal are midget speed merchants while Jerry Dutcher and Earl Rhinehart make up in height what they lack in speed and finesse.

No changes are expected in the Bison lineup with veterans Johnny Abbott, Cliff Nygard, Arnold Johnson, and Jim Fletcher at their starting posts. Lanky Bob Yeasley will probably get the fifth assignment at forward opposite Fletcher.

Johnson Leads Bison Scoring

Big Arnold (Swede) Johnson, Bison co-captain and all-conference center for the past two years, leads his teammates in the scoring column after the first 11 games on the Bison schedule.

Totals including Tuesday night's game with Concordia show that Johnson has scored 131 points on 57 field goals and 17 free throws.

FLETCHER HAS 100

Jim Fletcher, with an even 100 tallies, is the only other Bison cager that has moved into the three-figure class. Fletcher has been especially effective from the free throw line—the Herd's star forward having already dropped in 36 single-counters.

With 57 points scored to date, Cliff Nygard is third in the Bison scoring. The speedy guard has tallied 21 from the floor and 15 gift shots. Lanky Bob Yeasley and Russ Burfening are near each other with 43 and 40 points respectively.

TWO IN 30's

Johnny Abbott and Gene Marquart round out the main scorers with 36 and 31 counters respectively.

479 points have been scored by the Bison in the pre-conference games while the opposition has tallied 412 counters.

The scoring:

PLAYER	G	FG	FT	TP
A. Johnson	11	57	17	131
Fletcher	11	32	36	100
Nygard	11	21	15	57
Yeasley	10	19	5	43
