

20 To Receive College Degrees December 8

Dean Alba Bales To Give Commencement Talk For Seniors

Thirty candidates will be presented for bachelor of science degrees at the fall quarter commencement exercises at North Dakota Agricultural college on Monday, Dec. 8, announces Registrar A. H. Parrott.

The exercises will begin at 3 p. m. and will be followed by a reception for graduates and their parents and friends, says Miss Ann Brown, head of art instruction at the college, who is chairman of the program. Dean Alba Bales of the school of home economics will deliver the commencement address. Her subject is "The College in Defense and Post War Planning."

Candidates from the school of agriculture, 12 in all, make up the largest group of graduates this term. They are Norman M. Craft, Henry Elvik, Theodore F. Grenier, Ivan E. Johnson, George W. Johnson, Richard J. Knapp, William L. Larson, Alvin E. Moltzen, Floyd F. Monteith, Odd A. Osteros, Frank V. Schaan and Julius Walth.

Craft was granted permission to complete his work early in order to accept a position on Nov. 24 with a company manufacturing explosives under the national defense program. He was a student in the special explosives course taught at NDAC during the past summer.

Five candidates are listed from the division of education. They are Edward R. Cummings, Donald C. Jones, Kathleen McCarten, Joel S. Nelson and Harold A. Twedten.

From the school of applied arts and sciences, five candidates will be presented for degrees. They are Vernon M. Haugland, Franklin W. Heggeness, Fay Ann Nelson, Philip S. Scott and Harriet E. Shigley. Heggeness will receive his degree in absentia, as he is an assistant in physiology at the University of Rochester, Rochester, N. Y. He accepted the position last spring and has completed his work at NDAC through correspondence courses.

Four women students will be graduated from the school of home economics. They are Eleanor Boe, Mildred Cone, Margaret Pile and Helen Sundquist.

Engineering graduates are Jesse E. Hall and Leslie C. Voss. James R. E. Smith will receive his degree in chemical technology and Russell G. Manning will be graduated from the School of Pharmacy.

Commissions in the organized reserve of the United States Army will be granted at the end of the quarter to seven NDAC students who then complete their advanced military training in the college Reserve Officers Training Corps. They are Allan Burman, Kenneth Crahan, Graydon Fredrikson, Donald Jones, William Larson, Richard Knapp and Glenn Waller.

Military Climaxes Fall Season

BILL LARSON

LEONARD KIRK

Cadet Captain Bill Larson, ball manager, and his guest, Ruth Powell of Fargo will be first in line when the grand march gets under way at 10 tonight at the annual Military ball.

Second in line will be Cadet Major Leonard Kirk, assistant ball manager, and Betty Sandberg of Minot. Cadet Captain Kenneth Stamus with Lorraine McCagherty and Cadet Colonel John Hohnke with Audrey Roen will follow.

Scabbard and Blade, sponsors of the affair, have engaged Jimmie Barnett and his orchestra to play.

Decorations tonight will follow an American Patriotism theme and according to Allan Burman, in charge, they promise to be much different from those of last year. Featured will be a bandstand built in the south end of the Field house, a "breezy" ceiling and novel lighting effects. Assisting Burman is Bill Snyder.

Following the sixth dance, Cadet Captain Ralph Martin will direct the crack drill squad in an exhibition. Major Russell L. Kiker has coached the squad. At the conclusion of the exhibition Major Charles Hart will present honorary commissions and gifts from the cadet corps to Lorraine McCagherty and Evangeline Schwartz.

Major and Mrs. Kiker, Capt. and Mrs. R. E. Fredeen, Capt. and Mrs. N. W. Lovness and Lieut. and Mrs. Max Hughes will chaperone.

Honored guests will be Gov. and Mrs. John Moses, Mayor and Mrs. Fred Olsen, Col. and Mrs. M. F. Steele, Col. George H. Russ, jr., Col. and Mrs. Whiting, Lieut. Col. and Mrs. C. S. Putnam, Major and Mrs. C. F. Prickner, Major and Mrs. Charles Hart, jr., Capt. and Mrs. Albert F. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn U. Stambaugh, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Stern, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Goodearl and the college deans and their wives.

Next LCT Play Wednesday

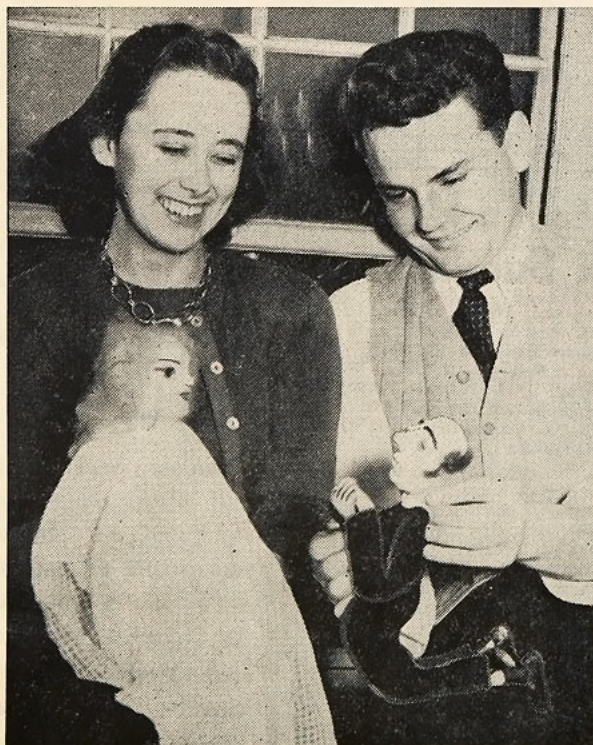

As emotional and gripping a story as was ever dramatized will be presented at the Little Country Theater Wednesday, Dec. 3, when the curtain comes up on Emily Bronte's Wuthering Heights. Randolph Carter's adaptation of the novel is a strong vehicle and under the direction of A. G. Arvid promises to be one of the most effective productions to be given in the Little Country Theater.

Catherine Ernschaw, played by Ann Murphy, is a wilful, tempestuous girl. She lives at Wuthering Heights, a bleak house on the moors, with her servants and with Heathcliff, the wild gypsy boy who has grown up with her and loves her. Heathcliff is played by Tom Reed.

Catherine has a violent quarrel with Heathcliff and after he goes away she marries Edgar Linton (Charles Brandt) and they go to live at the Grange. Heathcliff returns and, out of spite, marries Isabel Linton (Dorothy Jensen). Catherine is take very ill and during her convalescence she walks over to Wuthering Heights. Edgar follows her and there is a violent scene which brings about Catherine's death from the excitement. This brings to an end the tempestuous love affair between Catherine and Heathcliff.

Others in the cast are Ellen Dean, a faithful servant, played by Mary Tilden; Joseph, another servant, played by Norbert Lange; and Hindley Ernschaw, played by John Carlson.

The staff includes Betty Pannebaker, script girl; Jack Stuart Knapp, make-up; Beverly Halbeisen, properties; Kathleen Strandvold, costumes.

There really isn't much purpose behind the marionettes—it just happened that Heathcliff and Catherine (TOM REED and ANN MURPHY) were stopping for a "breather" between scenes in Wuthering Heights, latest Little Country Theater production, which will hit the public next Wednesday night at 8 p. m. Recently popularized by a movie of the same name, Wuthering Heights promises to be one of the highlights of the LCT season.

Take Your Kiddies By The Hand At The Y Xmas Party

Fargo youngsters will be feted at the annual Xmas Kiddies' Party, sponsored by the YM and YW. To be held Wednesday, December 3, at 5:30 in the Y auditorium, the affair is this year to be co-sponsored by the Student Commission and the Women's Senate.

Food, toys, candy, apples and entertainment will be provided for 130 youngsters (age 6 to 10).

Students may purchase 35 cent tickets which buy the meals for both student and one youngster.

In general charge of the party are Cliff Schaible and Kathleen Strandvold. Other committees include refreshments—Wilma Grant and Ted Brevik; tickets—Marjery Fjeld and Norbert Lange; decorations—John Finnie and Beth Ann Piers; publicity—Hazel Hooper, Jim Ford; entertainment—Clark Heggeness, Dorothy Monson; transportation—Beverly Gorman, Bob Pile; presents—Mary Warner, Morris Jorgenson; candy—Kathleen Strandvold, Oscar Juntunen.

Operetta Replaces '42 Bison Brevities

"The Bison Brevities of 1942 are called off," announces Jeff Carlisle, president of Blue Key fraternity. Instead the men's service organization will sponsor an operetta, directed by Ernst Van Vlissingen. Blue Key will manage finances only.

Applications for the position of business manager must be in the hands of John Snowberg not later than Wednesday noon.

Interviews of prospective managers will be conducted Thursday at 5 in the Ceres Hall small dining room.

Set for early in May, the operetta will feature the AC mixed chorus with other campus talent.

Van Vlissingen announces that Victor Herbert's "Sweethearts" has been tentatively selected for the production.

Mixed Chorus, Glee Club To Give Concert At 4 P.M. Sunday

In their first public concert of the season, the NDAC mixed chorus and men's glee club will present groups of songs Sunday afternoon at four o'clock in Festival Hall.

Including the following selections, the first part of the program will feature the chorus, "Ecce" by Palestrina; "Verdant Meadows" by Handel; "Savior, Source of Every Blessing", Mozart; "Cherubim's Song" and "To Thee We Sing" by Tkach; and "Beautiful Savior" by F. Melius Christiansen.

The glee club will contribute "Send out Thy Light" by Gounod, "Rosary" by Nevin, "Te Deum" from Finlandia arranged by Malmin, and "Fill the Bowl" by Tscherepin.

To close the program, the chorus will sing a number of Christmas carols.

No admission will be charged.

MILITARY BALL

The brilliant climax to the autumn social calendar is tonight from 9 to 1 a. m. And fellows—don't forget—it started with Eve—this fact that the ladies like to be taken to a smart place afterwards. For that... the line of fire leads to the famous Powers Coffee Shop.

● Opportunities

It is said that an artist's work is never appreciated until he dies. The actors of the Little Country Theater are beginning to understand that statement.

On November 12 the theater presented a very meritorious play, Jim Dandy, the work of William Saroyan, much discussed, distinctly revolutionary possessor of the 1940 Pulitzer play award. The production was well directed and well performed, perhaps one of the best in a series of test performances in American college theaters that week. The half-a-hundred people who saw the play were liberal with their praise.

Since the play was presented, there have been many requests for a second performance, both from students and town folks interested in dramatics. Unfortunately, the calendar was unobliging.

Next week, Wednesday, another excellent production is billed. Wuthering Heights, stirring drama by Randolph Carter, is the attraction. The fact that it was recently filmed in Hollywood is an indication of its merit.

The cast, which was carefully selected, has been working for weeks on the play. Ann Murphy, who needs no introduction to NDAC theatergoers, has the feminine lead, and Tom Reed, a capable newcomer, holds the masculine role.

Unless the unexpected happens, there again will be no opportunity for a second performance.

There is a story about a man who took advantage of his opportunities. He was very successful and lived to a ripe old age.

A word to the wise . . .

Doris Bjorklund, Shirley Putz To Broadcast

Featuring NDAC student talent, Sigma Alpha Iota will present the first in a series of musical radio programs today over WDAY at 5:45 p. m.

Appearing will be Shirley Putz, soprano, and Doris Bjorklund, pianist.

Dead Pan Alley

There's no word sweeter than sweetheart, and believe you me down through the ages there have been a lot of them. Mark Antony was no angel—none of the fellas went for him too strong—but ever since Cleopatra gave him the "brush-off", the role of the public sweetheart has been a toughy.*

Ann Murphy is one sweetheart who has made good in the face of great odds. Four years ago she came to us a shy quaint little thing with hay in her hair and a dread of the stage.

Ann early made a wise step in deciding not to love the whole college and limited the field to a bunch of fellas down on tenth avenue who needed some loving purty bad. In addition to these accomplishments this great lady has been a mother to howling Francis Daniels and jibbering

Vernon Hathaway. From her position on the student commission she has worked tirelessly with these lads until not only can they speak plainly but neither has fits any more.

* According to a note we read in a cave, Caesar black-balled Antony once, but if he finally got in and is another of history's famous Sigs, we're willing to take back our nasty inference regarding his character.

(If Miss Murphy will call at the Spectrum office, she will be presented with the "original" linoleum cut that appears above.)

MISS BROWN ILL

Miss Ann Brown, NDAC instructor, is seriously ill in St. John's hospital following an operation Thursday.

Sigma Alpha Iota To Hold Annual Banquet Sunday

Omicron chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota, national professional music fraternity for women, will hold a joint observance of Founders' and Incorporation Days Sunday at 6:30 p. m. with an informal buffet supper at the Graver hotel. The affair will be preceded at 5 p. m. by an active business meeting with Mrs. Howard Nelson, chapter president, in charge.

Although Founders' day falls on June 12, and Incorporation day is Dec. 1, it has long been the custom of the local chapter to celebrate the two together at a time near the latter date. This year the event will be attended by actives, patronesses, and alumnae, with twenty-six recent pledges of the chapter as special guests.

Pledges include Geraldine Wisheart, a pledge of last spring, and three repledges, Patricia Bjorklund, Doris Bjorklund, and Dorothy Jensen, and the following new pledges: Audrey Murray, Patricia Brown, Lorraine Overmoe, Jane Gilbert, Jane Cumming, Genevieve Lindemann, Lucille Thalman, Janice Christensen, Dagny Ordahl, Violet Munter, Mary May Hall, Shirley Rodewald, Eva Rulifson, Marjorie Peterson, Kathleen Spohn, Sybil Pull, Irma Vanderhoef, Patricia Ann Nelson, Ruby Moen, Esther Gunvaldsen, and Janet Hickethier.

Speaking on the Sunday evening program will be Miss Louise Hansen on the significance of Founder's day. Ann Jane Donovan will play a violin solo. A vocal trio, composed of Shirley Putz, Marjorie Peterson, and Virginia Koloen, will sing fraternity songs.

A new project of Sigma Alpha Iota this year is the opera listening group which will meet for the first time on Saturday, Nov. 29, at 12:30 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Howland, 1402 south eighth street.

Following the plan laid out by the Texaco company, sponsors of the opera broadcasts, alumnae, actives, patronesses, and pledges of SAI will study the libretto, music, cast, stage settings and relevant material before the broadcast begins.

Phantasmagoria

By BILL SNYDER

As a general rule, most collegians' manners are atrocious, and so with the ultra swank and ultra formal Military ball the major attraction this evening, I am going to give Joe College and his girl the last word in etiquette. Since there is really too much stuff on etiquette to go in this column, I am just going to give you the correct way to do things that are most often bungled.

INTRODUCTIONS

Probably the most common error is performed in introducing people. The correct form is: "Miss Jones, may I present Mr. Smith." This is a far cry from what most college kids infer as they draw of something like this: "Hi, Joe, pull up a booth and meet my new bag."

DINING

If you plan to take your girl out to dinner before the Military and are in a quandry about which fork or spoon to use, play it smart and take her to some hamburger hot spot. In an environment such as this your worries are bygones—you can even stir coffee with your fingers. There's only one thing to remember: Never, when eating, break your bread or roll in your soup.

DANCING

It is perfectly permissible, says Emily Post, to cut in on someone else when they are dancing. To accomplish this all you have to do is tap the man on the back. And no matter what they tell you at your fraternity, it doesn't say a thing about using a knife.

Girls, you should never complain about the dance floor being sticky. You know a man can't get to have his shoes shined between every number. And besides if he could, there is nothing romantic about sitting out a dance in a shoe shine parlor.

AFTER THE BALL

After the shindig is over you're on your own. There isn't a thing I can say about post dance manners that anybody will print.

I don't often get up off my low horse and go commercial, but this time I feel I have grounds for it. Dan Olson, a former Fargo athlete and good fellow, has spent the last five years recovering from a serious illness and is unable to do anything but a little photography. Dan, as he has in the past, will be on hand to take pictures at the Military ball. His work is excellent and his fee small, and you'll treasure the pictures he'll take of you for many years. Why not help the kid along?

WORD TO THE WISE

Remember, a lot of dancing will keep you from getting stiff in the joints.

Tryota Club Hears Address On NYA Project Workers

Lenora Zimmerman, state home economics supervisor in Colorado and temporarily with the U. S. Office of Education, spoke to members of Tryota at their Summer Project meeting Wednesday, Nov. 26. Her topic was the development of the program of re-education and training of NYA project workers.

The purpose of summer projects was explained to the group by Miss Christine Finlayson, state home economics supervisor.

Food projects were given Lucille Cox, Patricia Kingzett and Olga Eckre. Clothing projects were shown by Doris Bjorklund and Ruth Hvidston. Presenting self-education projects were Lois Anderson, LaVerne Nagle, and Allagene Jefferis.

Following the meeting refreshments were served by Lois Skadeland, Lois Lowen and Phyllis Lane.

NDAC To Show Prize Stock At International In Chicago

The NDAC agriculture department will show 14 lambs, 6 steers and 14 sheep at the International Livestock exposition in Chicago Dec. 1-6.

A pen of Shropshires will contend for the breed championship and the reserve grand championship of the sheep show which the college has won for the past three years. Joe Martin, beef herdsman; Howard Alberts, sheep herdsman, and Fred DeKrey will go to Chicago to fit and show the stock.

Also at the exposition will be the college stock judging team which left Nov. 21 for a series of practice sessions at Excelsior, Minn., and at the Universities of Minnesota, Wisconsin and Illinois. On the team are Willard Griffin, Reuben Ruud, Delwin Liddle, Everett Orth, Elton Baldwin and Orville Block. M. H. McDonald is the coach. Dr. J. H. Longwell and Al Severson of NDAC and William Guy, sr., of Amenia will assist in supervising the contests.

Orville Block Wins Contest

Orville Block, senior in agriculture, is the NDAC winner of the fifth annual essay contest sponsored by Swift and company, meat packing industry. Second and third place winners are Fred DeKrey and Ivan Johnson, respectively.

The contest is offered in the 48 agricultural colleges of the country and one winner is selected from each. Interested students write essays on some phase of the meat packing industry. Faculty members on the campus where the essays are written, read, review and rate them.

There were 11 entrants in the local NDAC contest.

Want Teachers For U.S. Indian Schools

All college graduates in agriculture and home economics with two years of teaching experience now have a second opportunity to apply for positions in Indian boarding and community schools.

Although no written test will be given, those who apply to the United States civil service commission not later than Dec. 11, 1941, will be rated on qualifications as shown by the applications and corroborative evidence. The salaries range from $1620 to $3000 a year.

Since teachers are expected to take an active part in the isolated, rural communities and associate constantly with the Indians, they must appreciate Indian viewpoint and culture. They must find within the community much of the material for the education program they have developed based upon the needs, activities, or customs prevailing in the local area.

New College Sign Hung Over Gate

Over the entrance arch on the campus hangs a new sign in yellow and green reading "N. D. Agricultural College".

The class of '41 contributed $162 for the sign which cost $250. Fifty dollars was given by the classes of '42, '43 and '44. The remaining $62 will be used for replacements and repairs. Toward the bottom of the sign is space reserved for announcing special college events. This is a contribution of Alpha Phi Omega, honorary scouting fraternity.

Speech Class Plans To Show Marionettes

A marionette version of Dickens' Christmas Carol will be presented by the speech department's story-telling class as part of the annual Christmas festival sponsored by the community programs class on Dec. 7.

Members of the class under the direction of Jack Knapp, instructor, will clothe, string and manipulate the marionettes.

Committees working on the show include: script, Beverly Halbeisen, chairman, Hertha Trace, Jeanette Hicketier and Madeline Grund; lighting, Mildred Axness, chairman, and Kay Spohn; stage and costumes, Luella Hoffman, chairman, and June Johnson; scenery, Tom Allison, chairman, Delores Ristvedt and Virginia Parizek, and properties, Betty Hodgson, chairman, and Marjorie Holland.

Ann Sheridan, the screen's "oomph girl," attended North Texas State Teachers college and later taught school in the same state.

May Begin Winter Term Registration, Registrar Says

Registration for the winter quarter may proceed, a bulletin from the registrar's office says, but general registration is all day Monday, Jan. 5, in Festival hall and all registration is subject to control.

Students whose past records show their programs will not need revision after fall term grades are out may complete registration at any time. Those who are in danger of failing may not register until the general registration day.

Freshmen will not register immediately, but will be notified as to the proper procedure.

Students Will Play For Civic Orchestra

The next concert of the Fargo-Moorhead civic orchestra which includes many NDAC students and faculty members is Sunday at 4 in the Central high school auditorium.

Mrs. Richard L. White and Wendell Pile will be flute soloists for Bach's Brandenburg Concerto No. 4. Other college persons in the orchestra are R. L. White, Louise McCutcheon, Annabelle Donovan, Leo Halloran, Pat Bjorklund and Dorothy Jensen.

Since its founding in 1802, United States Military academy has admitted 23,032 cadets, including foreigners, and has graduated 12,661.

Teachers, Coyotes Place Four On All-Star Eleven Picked By Loop Scribes

Iowa State Teachers college and the University of South Dakota dominate the all-conference football team selected by the collegiate sports writers of the seven North Central conference schools.

Both teams placed four men on the mythical team while the University of North Dakota, South Dakota State, and Omaha produced one player each to fill the other three spots on the eleven-man squad.

Simpson, North Dakota's pass-snagging end, Forney, the conference's leading scorer from South Dakota, and Matthews, Omaha's lone contribution to the all-star lineup, were unanimous choices of the seven writers taking part in the poll.

Solberg, South Dakota's ace flanker, Anderson, the Jackrabbits fine guard, and Linn, of the championship ISTC squad, were all most unanimously selected—getting all but one vote.

Anderson and Petranek, South Dakota's strong tackle, were the only repeaters from the team picked last season. Only other junior picked on last year's team, Walt Dobler of North Dakota, failed to place on this season's all-loop eleven.

Those taking part in the poll conducted by the sports staff of the University of South Dakota's Volante were Fred Ritze, ISTC; Gordon Burgess, UND; Dick Sullivan, Morningside; Bob Karolevitz, South Dakota State, LeRoy Johnson, South Dakota, Maurice Klaiman, Ohaha; and George Rulon, NDAC.

125 Hopefuls Sign Up For ROTC Riflery

Competition for places on NDAC's rifle team should prove to be keen this season if the early registration of candidates is any indication of the caliber of marksmanship to be displayed by the new hopefuls.

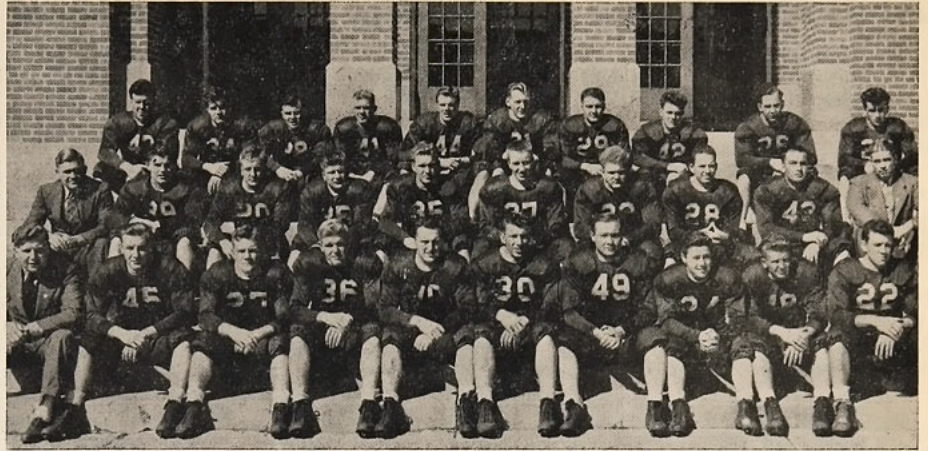

Capt. Neal W. Lovsness, team coach, and Cadet Capt. Peder Week, team captain, were greeted by a large turnout of 125 candidates at an organization meeting held Wednesday afternoon.

All candidates will have the opportunity to get in their qualifying rounds before the holiday recess. The rifle range in the basement of the fieldhouse will be open every afternoon from 1:30 until 5:00, during which time candidates may fire record targets.

Capt. Lovsness indicated that all those who possibly can do so, should fire early in the afternoon so as to leave the range open at later hours for marksmen who have afternoon classes.

Minnesota WCTU has asked the Minneapolis city council to prohibit sale of beer within a mile of the University of Minnesota campus.

NDAC's 1941 Football Squad

Lowe Includes Hamline Game For Herd's Minnesota Trip

Scheduling of a game with Hamline university for the Bison trip into Minnesota during the holiday recess has been the main change in the Herd's basketball schedule as originally released.

Coach Bob Lowe has made arrangements with Hamline authorities which will pit the Herd against the Pipers in St. Paul on Dec. 17. The meeting of the two teams will be the fourth contest for the Herd in five days and will climax the annual trek into the Gopher state.

Two games with MSTC also have been added to the original schedule. The two quintets will clash on the Dragon court Dec. 2, while the return contest is set for the fieldhouse on Jan. 21.

Bison Play Opener Tuesday

Dragons Are Opponents As Experienced Lowemen Use Four '41 Holdovers

Coach Bob Lowe sends one of the finest arrays of basketball talent ever to represent NDAC into action for the first time this season when the Herd meets MSTC's Dragons on the Teacher's court next Tuesday night.

FOUR REGULARS BACK

With four regulars back from last year's North Central conference champions, the Herd will be one of the strongest quintets in the loop again this winter.

Co-captains Arnold (Swede) Johnson and Johnny Abbott lead the Bison into the new campaign. Jim Fletcher and little Cliff Nygard are the two other regulars back for another session on the hardwoods.

OTHER LETTERMEN

Lloyd Fercho, Ed Boe, Lawrence (Bud) Johnson, and Bob Yeasley are lettermen from last year's title-winning squad who are seeking that fifth starting berth. Sophomores expected to see action this year include Russ Burfening, Darrow Beaton, Gene Marquart, Nick Soulis, Corman Bean, Art Schular, and Lyle Willert.

Across the river at MSTC Coach Ed Hammer has five lettermen back from last year's club. These include Capt. Herb Colmer, Gordon Nelson, Harold Erickson, Bob Fielder, and Dick Ryan.

PEDS LOSE OPENER

The Teachers opened their season Wednesday night against the Wahpeton Science Wildcats and came out on the short end of a 33-27 score. Nelson was the top scorer for the Dragons, getting seven tallies.

Tuesday night's contest will no doubt prove to be a typical early season encounter but it will afford Lowe an opportunity to test some of his new talent in an attempt to find someone to fill the forward position left vacant by Larry Tanberg, now a cadet in the Air Corps.

NOTICE

Anyone who has announced his intention of working on the Bison is requested to attend the staff meeting Wednesday at 4 p. m.

Martha Melby defeated Lois Skadeland in the semi-finals of the table tennis tournament, giving her a victory over the 60 girls who entered.

The WAA Christmas party is scheduled for December 3, at 7:30 p. m. in the Fireside room of the Y. Members are asked to bring a ten cent gift to exchange.

First games in the aerial darts tournament must be played by Tuesday. Equipment is in the women's physical education office.

Girls who have missed games in bowling may still qualify for extra points if games are made up and scores turned in before Saturday.

NOTICE

Entrance physical examinations will be given at the Health Center Saturday, Nov. 29, at 2 p. m. for all new students who entered late and for those who were not examined earlier this fall.

CLIFF NYGARD is one of four regulars from last year's Bison basketball quintet that are returning for another season under Coach Bob Lowe. This senior from Edinburg will be at a guard post Tuesday night when the Herd opens its schedule against the MSTC Dragons.

Davis, Treglawney To Lead Herd in '42; Fulks Honored

Harry Treglawney of Valley City and Jim Davis of Fargo were elected by their teammates Tuesday to lead NDAC's Bison football team next fall.

Bruce Fulks, senior right guard from Warren, Minn., was selected by his fellow gridiron performers as the honorary captain for the past season.

Fulks has worked hard in his three years on the Bison squad. Last season, just when he was afforded the opportunity to play regularly, Fulks suffered a broken arm that kept him out of action for the rest of the year and also slowed up his work this spring in early drills.

FINE GUARDS

However with the coming of football this fall, Fulks developed into one of the best linemen on the Bison squad. Coach Stan Kostka has been more than pleased with his fine performances week after week.

Davis spent his sophomore year as a general handyman on the squad. He subbed at center, guard, and tackle. This year he concentrated his efforts at the guard position and teamed with Fulks as the Herd's starting guards.

60-MINUTE MAN

Next fall Treglawney will seek an all-conference berth after putting in two fine seasons at a tackle spot. Last year, as a sophomore, Treglawney played 60-minute ball all season and duplicated that record during the past campaign.

NYA Funds Cut; Little Effect Here

NYA allotments will be cut 25 percent for students in college and graduate work during the last half of the school year. Word was received from the National Youth Administration board at Washington, D. C., that due to defense spending, a 25 percent cut for colleges and approximately a 50 percent cut for high schools is necessary.

According to Murray Schaetzel, director of student employment at NDAC, the cut will not affect the size of the jobs, but the number of employees. "Students need not be alarmed that because of the cut they will be forced to drop out of school", Schaetzel added, "for other jobs outside of NYA will be found for them."

At the present time there are 168 students employed in NYA at NDAC, 127 men and 41 women.

Epidemic Possible

North Dakota may prove fertile ground for a smallpox epidemic this year, a bulletin received by President Frank L. Eversull from the U. S. public health service says.

All students are urged to take advantage of the free vaccination service offered at the Health Center and protect themselves from the disease. Immunization treatments for all diseases are offered at the Health Center without cost to students.

Lashkowitz Speaks For Coffee Forum

Leader for the Coffee forum, Dec. 4, is Harry Lashkowitz. Set for 4 p. m. in the East room of the Y, the topic for discussion is Speak for Democracy.

Dr. W. C. Hunter and Professor W. W. Morris, members of the International Relations club, will be special guests.

Part of the program time will be devoted to a discussion of forum topics and leaders for the winter term. Committee members are Betty Greenshields, Bob Hunsaker, Marian Nelson, Stuart Simon and Wendell Pile.

NOTICE

A social meeting of the Independents Students Association will be held Monday, December 1, in the Y auditorium from 7 to 9 p. m. There will be dancing and other entertainment.

Four Pharmacy Students Receive Scholastic Awards

Awards were presented to four NDAC students for scholastic ability in pharmacy by the North Dakota Pharmaceutical association at the Pharmacy club's annual banquet Wednesday.

The freshman awards went to Norbert Kuzel and Lawrence Fick; sophomore awards were given to Benjamin Ginsberg and Vernon Richter. Presentations were made by Dean W. F. Sudro.

Clifford Wester spoke on the title of the Relation of Agricultural Entomology to Pharmacy. The ideals of the Pharmacy club were discussed by Dean Sudro and Curtis Costello addressed the organization on Pharmacy and National Defense.
