

. . . military? - - - here's how . . .

TICKETS, the first essential for attendance at the Military ball, are not so difficult to obtain, as sophomore Don Novaria learned when he accidentally bumped into Cadet Captain Kenneth Stamus, head of Company M, Third regiment, the local unit of Scabbard and Blade, sponsors of the affair. As a result of this meeting, Stamus has an additional $1.65 and Novaria has tickets for the ball Nov. 28.

HAGGARD AND DISCOURAGED after several tries to find a use for his tickets, Novaria at last strikes a lucky number. By now, he is too tired to appreciate the happy ending to his search for romance, but the new date, Patty Scheel, also a sophomore, beams at her sorority sisters. She assures Don that she'll be ready and willing to go with him the night of the big fall quarter social affair. Relieved, Novaria wearily climbs the stairs to bed.

NEARLY EVERYBODY at the ball will be shaved so Don decides to wipe off his fuzz and give the date a treat. Here, he is applying the lather preparatory to the weekly scraping.

AT LAST the big moment has arrived for Don and Patty. They dismount from their Plymouth sedan and prepare to mount the steps leading to the Field house where Jimmie Barnett and his band are playing.

Military Plans Completed, Larson Says

Plans for the Military ball Nov. 28 are nearly complete, Manager Bill Larson and his assistant, Leonard Kirk, announce.

Dancing will be to the music of Jimmie Barnett and his orchestra from 9 to 1 in the Field house. For this year's ball a theme of American Patriotism has been selected. Allan Burman, decorations chairman, is in charge. Chaperones for the ball are Major and Mrs. R. L. Kiker, Capt. and Mrs. R. E. Fredeen, Capt. and Mrs. N. W. Lovness and Lieut. and Mrs. Max Hughes. Honored guests will be Gov. and Mrs. John Moses, Mayor and Mrs. Fred Olsen, Col. and Mrs. M. F. Steele, Col. George H. Russ, jr., Col. and Mrs. C. T. Hoverson, Col. and Mrs. Whiting, Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. C. S. Putnam, Major and Mrs. C. F. Prickner, Major and Mrs. Charles Hart, jr., Capt. and Mrs. Albert F. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn U. Stambaugh, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Stern, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Goodearl and all the college deans and their wives.

Tickets for the ball may be obtained at the Dugout or from any Scabbard and Blade member.

Walster To Speak At All-Y Meeting

Dean H. L. Walster will speak at the first all-association meeting of the YMCA Tuesday at 7:30. He will show motion pictures and discuss his recent trip to South America.

Other items scheduled are group singing led by the YMCA quartet, introductions of cabinet members and officers, several items of business and the announcement of future association activities.

All members of the association and interested students have been invited to attend by a committee consisting of Bob Pile, Ole Berg and Stuart Simon.

Hobo King Enroute Here For Faculty Party Monday Night

"Anything goes—that is, anything that's old, patched, ragged or definitely shows signs of having seen a better day."

The above is a statement from America's King of the Hoboes who is now enroute to NDAC for the faculty and staff Hobo Jamboree scheduled for 8:30 Monday evening in Festival hall. (It is rumored that the king has stopped off in Chicago but that he will arrive in Fargo early Monday on the 7:15 freight).

Some faculty member, worried about what to wear to the Jamboree, wrote to the king himself for suggestions. In addition to the above remarks, he went on to say:

"We hoboes don't shake out our convention clothes often and there are bound to be a few holes and misfits in and among our various outfits. The only actual rule on attire is that all holes must be reasonably well patched.

"We're giving prizes to the best dressed delegates to this conclave," the king continued in his letter, "so every true hobo is expected to spend some time going over his (and her) wardrobe in an effort to make this event a highlight of Fargo's social season."

In a P. S. the king advised each NDAC hobo to be sure to pay his traveling secretaries the 15 cents for annual dues in the Hobo club of America so that the 1941 convention can be declared a financial as well as a fashion success.

THANKSGIVING WORSHIP SERVICES BEGIN MONDAY

The annual series of Thanksgiving worship services begins Monday and continues through Tuesday and Wednesday.

Scheduled for 7:15 a. m. in the Fireside room of the Y, the services are being planned by the YM-YW worship committee. Committee members are Ed Lokken, Dona Thompson, Ted Brevik, Erwin Mindt and Mina Askegaard.

Check The Attic For Xmas Gifts During Vacation

One hundred fifty gifts for children! That's the goal of the YM-YW committee sponsoring the annual Kiddies Xmas party.

Each year the joint Y's sponsor a Christmas party for underprivileged children of Fargo from 6 to 12 years of age. This year the group ask that gifts be brought to Dick Sweitzer early, in order that any necessary repairs can be made.

Contributions of toys, wearing apparel, books and school supplies will be accepted.

Cliff Schaible, in charge of arrangements for the party, urges students to dig out any old toys and playthings while home over the Thanksgiving vacation. The gifts must be brought to the College Y any time between Thanksgiving and Dec. 1.

Watch Out, Fellows, Spinster's Thursday

This year ain't Leap year and Sadie Hawkin's day is gone, but that's of no avail to campus coeds for they're still out to get their men—this time for the Spinster Skip, sponsored by Senior Staff Thursday night from 9:30 to 12 in Festival hall.

Yes, fellows, Thanksgiving's the day for the girls to "shell out" and show you some real entertainment. Kenny Jones and his band will be there to furnish the tunes and Gus V will be ready and waiting for the lucky couple.

But say, now, fella, if she shouldn't have the intestinal fortitude to come around with the invite, it won't be at all out of line for you to propose the invitation.

SENIOR NOTICE
Senior activities lists must be in the Bison office today.

Coalitionists Get All But Two Of Offices In Election

With the exception of two offices the Coalition party candidates swept the field clean in class elections Thursday. Cliff Nygard becomes president of the senior class; Wallace Chase, junior class; Leon Warner, sophomore class, and Luella Nystul, freshman.

Precedent was shattered when the heaviest vote in years was recorded—600. Though voting was heavy, the election on the whole was quiet. A definite lack of spirited

Cadets To Hop At Bivouac In Festival Hall Tonight At 9

Patriotism is in order tonight, fellows, so you'd better get that gal and bring her along to the first bivouac of the season. Sponsored by the Military department, the dance is headed by Leonard Kirk, major of the First Battalion, and is set for Festival hall from 9-12. Ancil Vick's Brooklyn Dodgers will furnish the music. And what's more kids, it's free!

Kenny Stamus, captain of Company B, announces that a free lunch will be served at 11 o'clock. Clark Heggeness is in charge of the music. Chaperones for the dance will be Major and Mrs. C. H. Hart jr. and Capt. and Mrs. R. E. Fredeen.

Y Coffee Hour Monday At 3:30 In Fireside

A Thanksgiving coffee hour in the Fireside room of the Y Monday at 3:30 is sponsored by the YW sophomore commission and the YM junior cabinet with Janice Nelson and Ellsworth Moe in charge. Proceeds from a silver offering will be used to fill Thanksgiving baskets for needy Fargo families. Pouring are Mmes. Mildred Kirst, Paul Chase, Richard Sweitzer and J. E. Bennison.

campaigning and unusual "cleanliness" in electioneering characterized the voting.

Last minute campaigning by a dark horse party of sophomore engineers proved effective. Though the group failed to elect their slate, the attempt indicates a trend in campus politics away from the present parties.

Besides the sticker group of engineers, there were several sticker candidates who polled a minority of votes. Francis B. Daniel, commissioner of elections, announced that many of the candidates would have polled a larger total had the voters not forgotten to mark the "X" after writing in the name on the ballot.

Results of the election follow:

● defense week

The NDAC along with all the other colleges throughout the nation cooperates in observance of National Defense week Nov. 11-16. The purpose of this week was outlined by United States Director F. H. LaGuardia. We quote from the official bulletin:

1. To stimulate the people to an awareness of the need for civilian defense and the many specific ways in which people can participate.
 2. To inform the people as to how local civilian groups are being organized and how a civilian can enroll and serve.
 3. To stimulate the establishment of Volunteer Offices so that active civilian protection and community service programs can proceed promptly.
- "The only effective answer to total war," said Director LaGuardia, "is total defense. That will be the theme of the week."
- The schedule for the remainder of National Defense Week, Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, is:

Health and Welfare Day
Friday, November 14

Purpose—To emphasize the importance of a strong, secure population as a foundation for strong military defenses; to minimize in the community the economic and social disturbances caused by the impact of the defense program and its consequent shortages, unemployment, etc.; to promote the cause of physical well-being, especially in times of national trial.

Theme—Only a fit nation can defend itself.

Method—Through all available media, inform the public that protection of civilians includes protection of their physical well-being by proper exercise, nutrition, and medical care, protection of their social welfare by adequate recreational, educational, and housing facilities, etc.

Civilian Protection Day
Saturday, November 15

Purpose—To stress the need for civilian protection particularly in target areas and the need for civilian participation in community service activities everywhere and to stimulate

● have you contributed?

The city of Fargo has for a number of years held a drive for funds for the Community Chest. In the past, NDAC students have contributed in a small way toward the chest budget. Again this year through the Student Commission the campaign for funds will be conducted in the dorms, fraternities, sororities, ISA, and other campus groups.

We must realize of course that the citizens of Fargo and the NDAC faculty have already contributed to the chest, but this is purely a campus effort, primarily directed at, and to, the student body.

The Community Chest has organized a number of Fargo welfare and character building agencies to enlist funds for their successful operation. This operation has continued and makes possible in a single effort all the benefits which might accrue from twenty individual campaigns.

The college YMCA and YWCA upon joining the Community Chest have discontinued their fund drive for faculty and alumni, and are now participating to the extent of $1200 and $600, respectively. In each case these funds are used for secretarial leadership.

The Community Chest program in Fargo falls into two large categories—welfare, which deals with the sick and unfortunate, and the character building agencies such as the YMCA, the Boy Scouts, etc. Thus these are unified in our community life.

The characteristic of a citizen is his acceptance of responsibilities in order to maintain the high ideals of our democratic system. The Student Commission is asking you as a student to accept your responsibility by contributing to the Campus Community Chest drive.

Bundles For Britain
Project Of Greek
Letter Sorority

Do you know what a Balaclava helmet is? Well, neither did the Kappas until they volunteered to partake in the Bundles for Britain project that puts Balaclava helmets on the "must knit" list.

Active and alumnae chapters of Kappa Kappa Gamma are participating in a project that will supply Britain's soldiers, sailors and air-raid sheltered families with scarfs, red boot stockings, air force helmets, sweaters, gloves and afghans.

Blanche McDonald is in charge of the active chapter's part of the project with Mrs. Lucille Fuller Williams supervising alumnae contributions.

So, if in the coming weeks you should hear a Kappa mumbling "Knit one, purl one" you'll know she can't get a bundle for Britain off her mind!

PLAN Y CONFERENCE

On Sunday, 30 representatives of YMCA's and YWCA's from North Dakota colleges will meet here to plan the state Y conference next spring at the Valley City State Teachers college. Last year's conference was at NDAC.

the desire to volunteer for service in both.

Theme—We must be ready.
Method—Explain and demonstrate the existence of and role played by each unit of the Citizens' Defense Corps.

Freedom Day

Sunday, November 16

Purpose—To reaffirm our faith in the fundamental freedoms.
Theme—A nation founded upon essential freedoms must defend them.

Method—Through the cooperation of the churches and citizens devote this Sunday both during church services and at community meetings throughout the Nation to a reexamination of our historical principles and the threat to them today.

Phantasmagoria

By BILL SNYDER

Wednesday the Little Country theater offered a play called "Jim Dandy." It had to deal with the goings on in a public library. So I now offer a play dealing with my experiences in many libraries including that thing called the reserve reading room (they observe banking hours and all holidays).

ACT I

The play takes place in a tired old library (any one will do). It is ten o'clock in the morning and the librarian is just opening the doors for business. A young man in his early twenties enters.

Boy: Quick, I would like to get a book . . .

Librarian: (interposing) Have you ever had a book from here before?

Boy: No, but I . . .

Librarian: Then you'll have to fill out this yellow form. (She pulls out a massive piece of paper and starts to fill it in. Name?

Boy: Reginald P. Topheavy.

Librarian: What does the P stand for?

Boy: Percival. I was named after my great great grandfather.

Librarian: Did he take books out of this library?

Boy: Well, gee, I don't know. I don't think he would have made the trip from Oslo here just to get a book. (He looks around.) Especially those books. (Indicates the reserve books.)

Librarian: Have you your registration card, your activities card, your draft card, and your birth certificate with you?

Boy: (He fishes through his pockets, his wallet, and a note book and produces the documents.) Here they are ma'am.

Librarian: Fine. These will be returned to you just as soon as the credit department, the committee on standings, and the draft board pass on them. Now, young man, what kind of book do you want?

Boy: The telephone book.

Librarian: All right. Now you come with me and we'll find you a telephone book. (They disappear down between a canyon of shelves.)

ACT II

The Canyon Between the Shelves
Boy: All I want is a telephone book.

Librarian: It should be right here. How would you like a volume of H. G. Wells?

Boy: All I want is a telephone book.

Librarian: Come, come, now. We have other nice books besides telephone books. Here, look at this book. A new William Saroyan book. We have a special rate on this book for this month only. Instead of giving you fourteen days to read it without charge, we give you one month. At that, I doubt if you'll understand it.

Boy: (At the point of hysteria) Please, give me a telephone book.

Librarian: Now, now, little man, mustn't shout in the library. Why do you want a telephone book?

Boy: So I can look up a telephone number and then use your phone.

Librarian: I'm sorry. Our phone is for staff use only. Try the Hasty-Tasty.

Boy: But I want to use your phone.

Librarian: Why?
Boy: Because your car is on fire and I want to call the fire department.

'Jim Dandy' Meets With Approval

By HAZEL HOOPER

Outstanding portrayals of characters were given this week at the Little Country theater in the production of "Jim Dandy" by William Saroyan. Personification of human emotions was the theme of the play without a plot and it proved to be not only deeply thought provoking but also very entertaining.

The play, which might to some seem above the ability of a collegiate cast, was capably produced by students with a professional interpretation.

Johnny, the man with one foot in the grave, was excellently portrayed by Ed Kasner. Pessimism and optimism capably represented by Don Jones and Richard Olson were also exceptional characterizations. A realistic interpretation was given by George Truesdell of a Negro servant. Everyone in the cast seemed to live their parts for the reason, probably, that all the emotions characterized were something that every average person feels and thinks.

Orchids should also go to Robert Olson, the seven-year-old boy who played the son of the man with one foot in the grave. The other parts were ably portrayed by John Logan as Jim Dandy, Helen Waxler as Johnny's wife, Dorothy Chase as Molly and Del Colwell as a letter carrier. Effective lighting aided in producing the mood of the play.

Whether or not the audience really understood the play is debatable, but the varied comments were complimentary. It seems hard to believe that the players could give such an excellent performance before a paltry audience of a few more than fifty.

LCT production's deserve student patronage because they are student-produced. Why not reserve Dec. 3 now to attend "Wuthering Heights"?

Sigs Take Title With 12-7 Win

SC Comes Up From Behind To Cop Crown

A 12-7 victory over the previously unbeaten and unscored on Alpha Gamma Rhos gave the Sigma Chi touchball team the intramural touchball championship for '41 in a game played Monday afternoon on the Dorm field.

Breaking a 7-7 halftime tie, the new champs scored five points on a field goal and a safety for their margin of victory.

The Gamma Rho team wasted no time in going into the lead as they scored on the sixth play of the game when Jim Noonan passed to Mel Holmquist for the touchdown. Don Bates added the extra point from placement.

AGRS DOMINATE FIRST HALF

Play in the first half was dominated by the AGRs even though it ended in a tie. The Gamma Rhos had 16 plays in the first period while the Sigs had possession of the ball for only nine plays.

SIGS SEIZE CHANCE

Opportunity knocked at the Sigma Chi door late in the first half and the new titlists were quick to take advantage of a Gamma Rho fumble. A bad pass from center resulted in an AGR backfield misplay and Darrow Beaton recovered to put the Sigs in scoring position. With only two plays left in the half, Russ Burfening tossed a forward pass to Arnold Johnson for the tally. Lyle Pitsenbarger converted from placement.

PITSENBARGER KICKS GOAL

Pitsenbarger sent the Sigs into the lead when he kicked a field goal on the eighth play of the second half. Soon after this Pitsenbarger added the final two points to the Sig total when he touched a Gamma Rho runner behind the goal line for a safety.

Beaton, Tim Callinan, and Pat Sherley played fine ball in the line for the winners while Burfening led the backfield with his fine passing.

Jim Noonan's great running was the feature of the Gamma Rho attack and Jim Gallagher led the AGR defense that intercepted four Sigma Chi passes during the first half. An important cog in the Gamma Rho machine was lost in the first period when Don Bates was forced to leave the game with a leg and side injury.

Work is progressing rapidly on an $80,000 ROTC armory building at South Dakota State college.

Lose To Sigs In Finals

Lowe To Have Proven Squad

With eight lettermen returning from last year's squad, Coach Bob Lowe has started preparations for the coming basketball campaign that will find the Bison defending their North Central conference title.

FOUR REGULARS

Of the eight monogram winners who will be back, four of them were included on the starting team last season and the other four saw a good deal of service.

Big Arnold (Swede) Johnson and Johnny Abbott, as co-captains, will lead the returning veterans as well as the whole squad into the new season. Johnson has been an all-conference performer for the past two years and last season led all loop players in the scoring department. Abbott is back for his third and final season as a Bison regular, the Fargo lad having played forward his sophomore year and guard last season.

FORWARDS BACK

Jim Fletcher and Cliff Nygard are back to team at the forward posts where they did such fine work last year in bringing the NCI title to the NDAC campus.

Lloyd Fercho, Lawrence (Bud) Johnson, Bob Yeasley, and Ed Boe are the other letter winners who Lowe expects to use in his attempt to find a player to fit into the vacant spot in the lineup left by the graduation of one of the finest court stars in the history of NDAC—Larry Tanberg.

Pass Nets Lone AC Score

A 45-yard pass from Daly King to Pat Twomey in the third quarter resulted in the lone touchdown scored by NDAC as the Herd dropped a 61-6 game to the Golden Hurricane of Tulsa university in the Oklahoma city on Nov. 8.

Passing—the chief offensive weapon of the Hurricane in earlier games—was more or less discarded as the boys from the Southwest rolled to nine touchdowns and a total gain of 451 yards on the ground.

Coach Kostka's spread formation worked several times to move the ball into scoring position but each time the Herd failed to cross the last white line.

NDAC's Basketball Quintet To Play Eleven NCI Settos On Nineteen Game Program

With nineteen games already listed on the NDAC basketball schedule for the coming season, Coach Bob Lowe expects to add one or two more before the campaign gets officially underway.

Eleven contests with North Central conference teams are included on the Bison schedule.

Two North Dakota conference schools will first test the strength of the Herd when Lowe sends the Bison against Jamestown and Valley City on Dec. 5-6. Last year the Herd defeated the Jimmies, 53-36, and the Vikings, 43-28.

MEET GOPHERS

Minnesota's Gophers will meet the Bison on Dec. 13 in the Minnesota fieldhouse in the game that opens the Herd's annual invasion of Minnesota colleges. Dec. 15-16 will find the Lowemen tangling with Carleton and Gustavus Adolphus respectively.

After winning the title two years in a row and finishing second last season, the Bison will go after their third MSTC invitational tourney championship during the holidays on Dec. 29, 30 and 31.

Bison fans will see the Herd in action for the first time when Concordia sends her Cobbers against the Herd in Fargo on Jan. 6.

FIRST NCI CONTEST

First game in defense of their NCI title will pit the Herd against Omaha here on Jan. 10. Jamestown comes here for a return tussle on the 13th and then the Bison go to work in earnest against league schools. South Dakota, Morningside and Iowa Teachers play host to the Herd in that order on Jan. 16, 17 and 19.

Returning home, the Herd go against Concordia again—this time in Moorhead on Jan. 24. January games are concluded with a contest against the Bunnies of South Dakota State here on Jan. 30.

Feb. 6 finds the Herd meeting

Co-Captain

SHARING LEADERSHIP of this year's Bison basketball team with Johnny Abbott, Arnold (Swede) Johnson, giant senior center on Coach Bob Lowe's quintet, will be out to repeat as the highest scorer in the North Central conference and also as the pivotman on the all-conference team.

the Bunnies at Brookings and Feb. 14 finds Iowa Teachers at Fargo.

North Dakota's annual basketball classic between the Herd and UND's Sioux gets underway in the fieldhouse on Feb. 20-21. The season will be concluded with the final two Sioux contests to be played in Grand Forks on Feb. 27-28.

Bison Face Coyotes Tomorrow

Tomorrow afternoon's contest between NDAC's Bison and South Dakota's Coyotes at Vermillion will mark the end of the 1941 football season for both teams.

Already tied with UND for second place in the NCI standings, the Coyotes will be favored to defeat the Herd and thereby move into undisputed possession of the runnerup spot.

FORNEY HURT

There is a possibility that South Dakota's great back, Don Forney, will be unable to play in tomorrow's clash with the Herd. Forney was hurt in last week's game between the Coyotes and Omaha and he may not put his crimson jersey on for the game that would end his collegiate career.

Fourteen seniors will be making a final appearance for their respective schools in the Bison-Coyote engagement.

John Snowberg, Pat Twomey, Bruce Fulks, Joel Nelson, and Curt Johnson will don the Yellow and Green for the last time while Forney, Ole Solberg, Don King, Bobby Burns, Ed Petranek, Chuck Colgan, Les Iverson, Johnny Lockwood, and Bob Stroh will be playing their final game for the Coyotes.

ROTHROCK MAY NOT PLAY

When the team left this morning for Vermillion, Coach Stan Kostka expected to make no changes in the Herd's lineup unless forced to do so. Cliff Rothrock, stellar Bison pivotman, may not be able to play, although he made the trip. Rothrock suffered a leg injury in the Tulsa game and Kostka was not certain whether or not the sophomore center would be ready for a starting assignment. Ted Barnick will start at center in such an event.

Ed Boe, who was hurt in the Iowa Teachers game two weeks ago, did not make the trip with the squad, preferring to rest his injured shoulder and get set for the coming basketball season. Thus the Bison starting backfield will have Warren Levasseur at quarter, Daly King and Ralph Johnson at halves, and Johnny Zaic at full.

Paul Moores and Snowberg will start at the flank positions with Charlie Scott and Harry Treglawney at the tackles and Bruce Fulks and Jim Davis at the guard posts.

Aluminum Shortage Hits Gum Wrappers

National Defense finally hits home!

When you next decide to part with a five-cent piece for that package of Wrigley's, you'll be aiding the government, for the Wrigley company has substituted wrappers made of tin and composition foil.

This change was necessitated because of the government's demand for aluminum. Company officials predict that in addition other changes may be necessary in the future "to save materials need for the defense of our country."

Whether it's in the Dugout, the Hasty, the Bowl or the Inn it'll be National Defense when you buy that 'chawin' gum."

A special "extension division" of the University of Wisconsin graduate school has been approved for the Milwaukee area.
