Ford Named Spectrum Head In Editor Shake-up

Crockett Switched To Bison As Result Of Staff Dismissals

Culminating a publications mix-up caused by the dismissal of the 1942 Bison editor from school, the NDAC Board of Publications Control Wednesday night drafted Richard Crockett to edit the '42 annual and elected James Ford to the top position on the Spectrum editorial staff.

Ford, a junior in chemistry, is a member of Sigma Chi social fraternity, Alpha Phi Gamma, Scabbard and Blade and senior YMCA cabinet. He has three years of experience on the Spectrum editorial staff and served as associate editor prior to this election.

Ford will finish out Crockett's unexpired term and edit the 1942-43 Spectrum.

Crockett's election as Bison chief comes during his fourth year of activity in publications on the campus. Prior to his election as Spectrum head he served on both Bison and Spectrum editorial staffs.

He is a member of Alpha Gamma Rho, Blue Key, Alpha Zeta, and Edwin Booth, and is a senior in the school of agriculture.

National Day For Scabbard, Blade Monday

On October 27 the various companies and alumni posts of Scabbard and Blade throughout the United States will celebrate the anniversary of the birth of former President Theodore Roosevelt as National Scabbard and Blade day. Members of the local unit, M company, 3rd regiment, will commemorate the anniversary at a banquet on Monday at 6 o'clock in Ceres cafeteria.

Lynn U. Stambaugh, national commander of the American Legion, has been asked to address guests at the dinner. Mr. Stambaugh was recently appointed to the national advisory committee of Scabbard and Blade.

As has been the custom for the past ten years the national officers will carry out the ceremonial decoration of the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington Cemetery, Washington, D. C., in memory of the three thousand members who participated in the World war.

In charge of arrangements is Kenneth Stamus, local chapter president.

OXFORDITES HAVE PARTY

The annual Oxford club Hallo-wen party will be held today at 8 p. m. in the clubrooms at the First Methodist church. Committee chairmen are Jeanette Faust, recreation; Wendell Pile, music, and James Whipple, publicity.

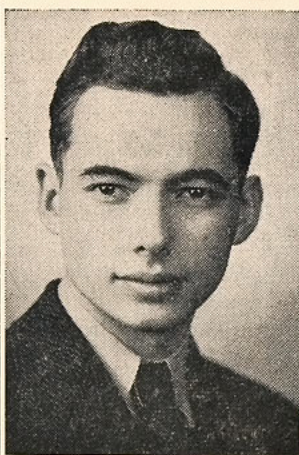

Baldwin Wins Judging Place

Led by Elton Baldwin, the NDAC student livestock judging team placed ninth among 20 entries in the collegiate contest held in connection with the American Royal Livestock show at Kansas City last Saturday.

Baldwin, a senior in the NDAC School of Agriculture, was the second high individual in the contest, and his good record enabled the NDAC team to rank fourth in swine, eighth in sheep and eleventh in cattle. Other members of the team were Willard Griffin, Delwin Liddle, Everett Orth, Lowell Ringdahl and Reuben Ruud.

The NDAC livestock judging team is coached by M. H. McDonald who succeeded Ford C. Daugherty this fall.

Baldwin had proven his livestock judging ability before coming to NDAC, for he ranked second in the nation at the 4-H contest during the 1938 International Livestock Exposition in Chicago.

Greek Counselors Pick Darrell Dahl At First Meeting

A fraternity advisors' council composed of alumni advisors of all groups on the campus, has been organized for the purpose of providing round-table discussion of general fraternity problems and promoting ideas for the improvement of scholarship among fraternal groups.

One alumnus advisor or faculty advisor will be selected by each fraternity to represent it on the council. That advisor will carry back to his chapter constructive ideas aired at council meetings.

Darrell Dahl, a former student at NDAC and a graduate of the University of North Dakota, was elected president at the organization meeting. He is employed by the Ford Motor company.

Gordon Aamoth, manager of the Park theater and a University graduate, is secretary.

C. A. Severson, dean of men, is the advisor.

Attending the meeting were Aamoth, Sigma Chi; Albert W. Anderson, Sigma Phi Delta; C. F. Bortfeld, Alpha Tau Omega; Dahl, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Lieut. Max Hughes, Theta Chi; Matt Jongeward, Kappa Psi; Graydon Owen, Kappa Sigma Chi, and Dr. O. O. Churchill, Alpha Gamma Rho.

One of the scholarships offered by Harvard university is restricted to students who formerly sold newspapers.

Special Train To Transport Squad, Band

Hundreds of AC students and Bison followers will turn northward for their social activity this weekend when they attend the University of North Dakota homecoming at Grand Forks.

Two feature attractions have coupled with the usual homecoming events to attract Fargoans downriver. They are the annual Sioux-Bison gridiron tussle and the appearance of many prominent alumni, including Lynn U. Stambaugh, national commander of the American Legion, and John Hancock, a New York industrial banker, reputed to be a director of 17 large corporations.

Bison football fans were heartened yesterday afternoon with the news that Daly King, injured left halfback, would be able to play in the Sioux clash tomorrow afternoon.

A special NDAC train is planned by the Great Northern railway. On the train will be more than 100 members of the Gold Star band and the football squad as well as scores of other students. It will leave the Fargo station at 8 tomorrow morning and arrive in Grand Forks at 10 in time for the homecoming parade at 10:30. The return trip is scheduled to leave the Grand Forks station at 9:15 p. m., stopping at the University station, and arriving at Fargo at 11:20 p. m. Tickets for the trip, including tax are $2.10, available at the G. N. station.

Seated beside Stan Kostka, Bison coach, at the game will be Casey Finnegan, coach here until last year. It will be the first time he has not taken an active part in the traditional AC-U clash in 13 years.

Journalistic Jive, 'All-College Set For Nov. 7

It's on the way, folks, and it's coming right your way. What is? The same thing that came along last year at this time—the Journalistic Jive!

Set for Friday, Nov. 7, anybody and everybody is invited to come. Sponsored by Alpha Phi Gamma, national honorary fraternity, the dance will get off at 9:30 to the tunes of Paul Hanson and his band, at the Field house.

Decorations will feature a journalistic motif, says Jean Hoeft, president. Committees named include decorations, Cathryn Casselman; publicity, George Koch and Jim Ford; and music, Pat Bjorklund.

FACULTY ACTIVITY TICKETS

For the first time, activity tickets for the basketball games will be on sale to the faculty at NDAC. Heretofore, the faculty has had to pay the full adult price for tickets to the games; but now season tickets are to be had at the regular student price of $2.00 plus tax. There are 9 games scheduled for this year.

Night Classes Will Prepare Prospective Flying Cadets

Dr. Elmer C. Darling, director of adult extension classes at NDAC, announces that night school work will be available to those who are interested in qualifying as aviation cadets. It is anticipated that there will be a decided shortage of men ready to enter cadet training within a few months.

Pre-aviation courses necessary to enter aviation cadet training without written examination are English, mathematics, and either history or chemistry. Available in the extension night classes of NDAC will be freshman English and freshman mathematics. Each course will continue for approximately 36 weeks. The history or chemistry will be available during the 1942 summer session.

CARRY SEVEN HOURS

Students who carry 7 term hours of work throughout the next 36 weeks and take the 6-weeks summer session and pass the required physical examination will be qualified to enter aviation cadet training. At the completion of the course, they will have the equivalent of two-thirds of the freshman year in a standard college.

Dr. Darling states that 7 hours of work is about 40 per cent of a full-time college load and might be taken by individuals who have part-time employment.

Enrollment in pre-aviation training is limited to young men between the ages of 19 and 27 who are graduates from high school. Dr. Darling says that no work of this kind can be started unless at least 20 young men register for the courses. The class will meet for organization in Science hall at NDAC, Tuesday, Nov. 4, at 7:30 p. m.

FEES AS USUAL

Pre-aviation training, while encouraged by the defense agencies, cannot be given financial support from defense funds. The fees will be at the usual night school rate. Young men interested in this work should contact Dr. Elmer C. Darling at the North Dakota Agricultural college, Fargo.

Weary Students Worry After Midterm Exams

"Now, Ma, 32 isn't such a bad mark for just a midterm. Yes, I know I should study more, and believe me, I'm really going to. No more dates for me this quarter, ma."

Truthfully, though, one should not dread examinations! (Oh, no!) They are simply processes prescribed or assigned for testing qualifications of a student and are not given to make fools of people as many of you think.

Excluding all that balderdash, let us get down to the facts in the case. For instance, Joe's secret diary will tell all one needs to know about his reason for the 32.

First week of school: Registration. I found out where all my classes meet (or are supposed to meet).

Second week: Rushing. Have been terrifically busy this week. However, hope to meet all my teachers soon.

Third week: Went to football game and dance where calico queen was chosen. Met my English teacher who seems like a very nice person. Hope to see her again some time.

Fourth week: Really intended to study this week, but homecoming came along. Did snakedance with bunch of other dopes, decorated float, marched in parade, went to two football games and Herbie Kay dance. By the way, am now going steady with blonde.

Fifth week: Seem to be a little behind in my studies. Had a severe headache all week. (Note: stay away from those parties, Joe.) Blonde and I had a fight. She claims that I am not her mental equal. By gum, we can't all be morons!

Sixth week: Mid-terms. . . Say, what's the idea? Do they think we're a bunch of geniuses? I haven't even heard of half of the stuff in that test. It just ain't human! ! !

DON'T BE BLUE

when you're thinking of your group's banquet or dance. Have it in the Blue Room of Hotel Powers, in the heart of Fargo's metropolitan district. SENSIBLE PRICES. If it is a banquet, your food will be prepared and served by the famous Powers Coffee Shop.

Each Friday and Saturday night Jeanne Alm and Lloyd Collins provide gay melodies in the Powers Coffee Shop 6-7:30, 10-1 a. m.

the melting pot

There's a place in the heart of Central Park, New York, that the Mannhattans call the Mall. It used to be a sort of melting pot for all ages and types of people. They could come any night in the week and listen to either one of the outstanding bands or orchestras in the country.

The type of music was usually classical with occasional sing-sessions. On Tuesdays and Thursdays they had swing for youth, and turned the concert stage into a free open-air dance hall. People from the lower east side rubbed elbows with Park avenue and Fifth avenue society.

Well, the Mall is still there, and the people still come every night to hear their favorite selections, but national defense introduced a new group to the Mall... the modern soldier, sailor, marine and sea scout. The mall is littered with drunks and prostitutes, who are not interested in listening to the music and probably never will be. But they sort of like the background of Central Park, with the people—hundreds of them every night trying to find relief from war reports and radio commentators, trying to keep awake during Wagnerian selections, suddenly humming dot, dot, dash to Tschaiowsky's Fifth Symphony, crying, laughing, singing, sleeping, drinking, loving in the heart of Central Park every night in the largest city in the world.

And they say there's a war going on in Europe!—W.H.H.

patriotism abused

It is sacrilegious to applaud after the National Anthem has been played. We observe the National Anthem by standing up, but we never applaud after it has been played. This is a part of the American tradition and it is observed by all true patriots. In the future, at all lyceum courses, parades, convocations, and general assemblies, remember it is only the "false patriots" who applaud after our Anthem has been played.

Snyder's Guide Pamphlet For Weekend Journeyers

There are so many interesting things in Grand Forks, and as nearly the whole population of this college is going up there, we offer you a Guide Book of the most important scenic features in the Forks.

GENERAL DATA

Located on the eastern boundary of the state of North Dakota is the inviting little town of Grand Forks. It is served by two railroads and fifty bartenders. It is the home of the Grand Forks Chiefs and a minor football team. (Minor coming from the Latin meaning: They had to dig them up in order to have them play; and team meaning: Such a job of embalming). The other things of interest are as follows:

PARKS:

There are many interesting parks in the city. The true nature lover can easily find a place to loaf and study nature in the raw. Among the parks are: the Belmont, the One-Fifteen, and Whitey's.

CULTURAL CENTERS:

Besides the business college there are quite a few cultural centers located in the confines of Grand Forks and its most important suburb. At these places one can find the most cultured people discussing the most cultured subjects. The cultural centers are: The Belmont, the One-Fifteen, and Whitey's.

RECREATIONAL AREAS:

Many places for the sportsman and sports fan are found in the town. There's a place for nearly every sport. Among the recreational areas are: The Belmont, the One-Fifteen, and Whitey's.

TRANSPORTATION:

The city is equipped with a modern bus system. If you are planning to take in the game and have to go out to the field by bus, be sure and start about nine in the morning. If you are lucky enough to get a tail wind, you will arrive just in time to see the kickoff. That is, of course, if the bus lasts long enough to make the trip.

EDUCATIONAL FACILITIES:

Besides grade and high schools there are the following educational institutions: Upstate Normal, Whitey's, the Belmont and, of course the One-Fifteen.

With his mind on the game;
He came home from up north
With his head all aflame.

It's time again for those little redskins down the river to get out their wampum and firewater and really celebrate. Yes, it's the UND homecoming this weekend. From advance dope it appears that AC students will attend en masse and will probably return home Sunday en mess.

Glancing through the "Student" last week for lack of something better to do, we came across this little item concerning the dance tomorrow night in the Casanova ballroom. "The Kampus Kings will perform in an atmosphere planned to make the alums feel at home." It would have been too crowded on the east side to do this, however, so the Casanova was decided on. Yes sir, quite an atmosphere!

Another little item chanced upon: "Decorations will be in the form of a panel pageant of the alum of yesterday, the student of today, and the progress of UND

The Trek To The North

By Crockett

Inspired by the spirit of friendly rivalry that has always existed between the two institutions and goaded into action by their release from the burden of mid-terms, our student body makes exodus to take part in the pow-wow with the Sioux.

Long known for their ability to make loud war talk before a battle and yet adopt a proportionately non-committal attitude upon defeat, the Sioux must be commended for their bravery in the face of danger.

Even though their team will be the underdogs when they clash with the Bison tomorrow, we are willing to bet George Koch's puddle-jumper against Boney Rothrock's limousine that every one of the 500 students they have registered up there will be out for the game, daylight or no daylight.

We Acknowledge

The crack made by the 'round-head' who edits the Sioux rag concerning the scattered houses and barns on the outskirts of Fargo doesn't irk us one bit. It does remind us, though, that something must be done about this practice of dumping everything into the river. It just doesn't do that water up there any good and roundheads can't live on coffee like all the other Ericksons do.

Our Swan Song

On perusing the files where, incidentally, we get a lot of information, we find that the outgoing editors submit a sort of a farewell message or auto-obituary for themselves.

My swan song will have to lead off with about the same confession that all of them have. A lot of ideas that never really materialized and a roomful of headaches that weren't as justifiable as they always seemed at the moment.

We hesitate to do it but under the pressure of tradition it seems we should present a list of achievements. (It is hoped that these make an impression upon whom ever happened to read last week's paper.)

1. Beginning our regime with a six-page paper, and a style edition at that.

2. Made an honest if futile attempt to give readers a little feature material in these columns.

3. Spent some money and effort to enliven the Spectrum by the use of cuts. (Darn it, now I need the money bad, too.)

4. A twelve page issue for homecoming.

5. Have not sponsored one bridge or cribbage tournament nor taken part in one card game in the Spectrum office. (An accomplishment?)

Accomplishments are always accompanied by failures of one sort or another. If you keep the proportions right then you come out on top. In our case it's just a little early to tell, but here are a few on the other side of the case:

1. Complete failure to do anything about the inadequacy of the student body in regard to school spirit.

2. Cut off so soon by this change in personnel, I failed to dissect and maul campus politics in editorial columns.

3. Did not get the Spectrum office moved to Old Main where it should be.

4. Am not sticking around long enough to see a perfectly good circulation plan put into effect.

5. Last but not least, am another editor that failed to keep an office clean, (a) Never attained 100 per cent attendance at a staff meeting, (b) failed miserably to keep up with a business manager that sold more ads, moved furniture oftener and wore more red ties than any guy I ever did see.

In all seriousness, though, it's been a grand experience. It gave me as much or more than I could ever put into it and threw a lot of swell friendships my way.

As a parting shot I'd like to suggest a memorial for the chap who said, "You can please some of the people some of the time and all of the people some of the time, but you can't please all of the people all of the time."

since the first ball of 25 years ago... So it took them 25 years to get something on the ball!

It seems they also had a little queen trouble this year, too, as they elected by preferential ballot. According to their last edition, a dark horse was elected queen. Leave it to these U kids to think up something novel, hey, hey.

Only one thing will probably mar their bliss this weekend, and that is the fact their dance won't be a victory dance. But then they said they were getting tired of all this V for victory propaganda anyway.

As long as we're all in the pink, we might as well get in the red and go join the rest of the Indians for the war dance. So you'll be seeing us down at the Coulee, you can bank on that!

STEFONOWICZ GETS WINGS

Clifford L. Stefanowicz, former NDAC student has recently received his wings and gold bars signifying his graduation as a Lieutenant from the Air Corps Advanced Flying School, Brooks Field, Texas.

National Secretary

EARL WALTER, a former NDAC student, is now national student secretary of the Future Farmers of America. In this capacity he played a major role in planning the group's national convention in Kansas City. During his year of office he traveled 200,000 miles in 24 states.

'Cider and Doughnut' Open House Thursday

Marking the initial opening of the new Ceres hall lounge, Women's Senate members will be hostesses at an informal "cider and doughnut" open house Thursday, Oct. 30.

Everybody on the campus—faculty, girls and fellows—are invited to attend. Hours are from 4 to 5:30.

U. S. Civil Service Commission Wants Junior Assistants

Graduating seniors may compete in a Junior Professional Assistant examination in November. Competition is for employment in the technician, business analyst and economist fields in defense and regular industries.

Released by the United States Civil Service commission, the notice also stated that the new examination will augment, and not replace, the regular annual exam scheduled for January.

Purpose of the offer is to promote a career service in scientific or professional government service to students without experience. Positions offered will pay the beginner approximately $2000 a year.

Application forms for the examination may be obtained from any first or second class postoffice or from the Civil Service commission central office in Washington. Applications must be filed with the commission by Nov. 3.

State 4H Event Here Next Week

An outstanding group of 114 fat beef cattle, hogs and lambs from 30 North Dakota counties will be displayed at NDAC Oct. 30 to Nov. 3 in the annual 4-H stock show and sale, arrangements for which now are nearly completed. The state championship livestock judging contest will be held Oct. 31.

According to George Strum, club agent of the extension service, stock quotas accepted by the counties where livestock production is a major 4-H activity include 40 beefs, 31 hogs and 43 lambs. These animals are expected to arrive at the NDAC Oct. 30 and will go on exhibit in the college stock pavilion, where the auction sale following the show also will be held.

An unusually fine showing of 4-H livestock is anticipated by Strum, who predicts the quality of stock will be high. Finish will be outstanding, he adds, due probably to the abundance of feed throughout the state. Because of the wide interest in baby beef projects, Strum believes this will be the top feature of the show. Entries in the state show were determined in local county shows and achievement competition, only the best stock being eligible for this event.

Heard About The Herd

By GEORGE RULON

finds the Bison and the Sioux meeting once again on the green turf of Memorial stadium at Grand Forks in the renewal of one of the oldest rivalries in the Northwest. Tomorrow afternoon when Coaches Stan Kostka and Jack West send their respective charges into the fray it will mark the 47th meeting of football teams from these two North Dakota institutions.

Besides the great importance this game always holds for the two schools, it will have added importance this year since the two participants are now tied for second place in the NCI standings. A victory tomorrow would give the Bison a chance to win the loop title. After tomorrow's battle the Bison face Iowa Teachers and South Dakota while the Sioux will have finished their conference schedule.

FINE KICKING

on the part of Edsel Boe was one of the big factors in the Bison conquest of the Omaha Indians last Saturday. The Bison back gave a grand exhibition of punting with a ball that was extremely difficult to handle in the rain that fell during the second half.

Some of Boe's boots would have been good kicks on an ordinary day let alone on one that found the footing unsure and the ball slippery and heavy. Time after time the Herd's punter sent the Omaha safetyman racing back under high spirals that refused to come down at any spot of advantage to the Indians. It seemed as though Boe had perfect mastery over his kicks, putting the ball down at will in spots best suited to the Bison cause.

During the rainy second half, Boe kicked nine times with the ball traveling over 50 yards on four occasions. Kicks of 55, 51 and 54 yards were surpassed only by a kick that went 67 yards from the line of scrimmage. In addition the Bison halfback had a great deal of success with the 'angle' type of boot, one of his kicks going all of bounds on the Omaha three-yard line.

on the field for the visitors were Bob Matthews, Frank Catania and Jerry Dutcher. Matthews played the entire game with a broken wrist set in a cast and did all the kicking for his team as well as the main portion of the passing and running. His kicking was not up to the standard set by Boe but 19 kicks were good for an average 37 yards.

Catania had the best average for yardage gained for the Indian backs, picking up 39 yards from scrimmage on eight ball-carrying assignments. In addition the junior back completed three passes out of seven attempted and did what little running back of Boe's kicks was accomplished. Dutcher started at halfback for Coach Sed Hartman's squad but soon was shifted to end—his regular position. The performance turned in by Dutcher at this end position was the best line of play of the game for the Indians.

THIS THING OF GOING

out on the limb and picking the probable winners of various games each week has a certain attraction for this writer so here goes again. Only games picked will be those involving NCI teams.

North Dakota will have its homecoming celebration well underway by the time the Herd gets to Grand Forks but things will not be so rosy when the Bison leave the camping grounds of the Sioux. Partisan feeling definitely has a lot to do with this selection but I honestly believe that the Sioux do not realize the true strength of the Herd and therefore will be too confident of victory. On the other hand Kostka and his team have everything to gain and will be gunning for an upset. Remember the Sioux-Bison clash of three autumns ago? Tomorrow's game will be repetition of that 17-13 surprise defeat handed the University by Ernie Wheeler and company. The Bison will win.

South Dakota will have little trouble in taking the Jackrabbits of South Dakota State into camp in the South Dakota version of our clash with the Sioux. The Bunnies will be outclassed by a Coyote eleven that scored a 26-12 triumph over Morningside last week.

Morningside college faces the Omaha Indians at Omaha and should show too much offensive power for the club that last week lost a 13-6 decision to the Bison. The Maroons defeated NDAC earlier in the season and should take care of the Nebraskans.

In the only game pitting a conference team against a non-loop foe, Iowa Teachers faces Kansas State Teachers at Pittsburgh, Kan. The NCI titleholders were defeated last week in their Homecoming game and should come back strong.

If anyone loses money on these predictions don't try to sue me because after all those fellows from down the river tipped over my dope bucket two weeks ago and they might do it again—I hope not!

AGRs Reach I-M Finals Unscored On

With hard blocking and a surprisingly good running attack the main reasons for its success, the Alpha Gamma Rho touchball team faces the Intramural league championship playoffs with an unblemished record.

OPPONENTS SCORELESS

Coached by Donald Bahl, the AGR aggregation has gone through a four-game schedule in its own bracket scoring a total of 64 points while holding the opponents scoreless. Victories were recorded over the Kappa Sigs, Dorm, Co-ops and SAEs in the drive to the division title.

Expected to start in the championship contest for the Gamma Rho team are:

Andy Bosch LE
Clinton Johanson LT
Jim Gallagher C
Bob Reimers RT
Melvin Holmquist RE
Bob Bale B
Jim Noonan B
Don Bates B

"Torchy" Bale, one of the most vicious blockers on the squad, kicked the field goal that gave the AGRs a 3-0 win over the annually strong Kappa Sigs. Bates is the other blocker of the starting backfield but is called upon to do the kicking when the occasion demands such action.

NOONAN IS THREAT

Noonan, a freshman, is the triple-threat man of the title hopefuls from the Gamma Rho house. He is a shifty runner and does a good job of passing when the thirteenth street boys have to give up their fine running game. The competition in the bracket did not force the titlists to show their aerial show to any great extent.

To see a lot of service in the title clash are Ernie Deutsch, Layden Finney, Roland Johnson and Armand Toussaint.

Average expenses of students at Yale university are estimated at $1,800.

A 17-year-old girl received a degree from Tulane university in its 1941 summer commencement exercises.

Boe's Kicking Big Help In Bison Triumph, 13-6

Winning its second NCI conference game in two weeks, NDAC's Bison football team defeated the Omaha Indians 13-6 at Dacotah field, Oct. 18.

Playing the entire second half in a steady rain, both teams resorted to a kicking game after the Herd had tallied twice in the first to spend most of the playing time in their own territory.

Also deserving recognition for his good work was Bruce Fulks. The senior guard, appearing in his last home game, played the finest brand of ball he has shown all season. Time after time Fulks was the man who stopped the Omaha runner or piled up the opponents interference.

Outstanding for the visitors was big Bob Matthews, a senior back. The Omaha star played 60-minute ball and did the major share of the passing and running as well as all the kicking. It was Matthews who tallied for the Indians from the one-yard line in the second period.

SCORE ON PASSES

Daly King passed to Pat Twomey for the first NDAC counter, the tall end taking the ball out of the hands of two Indians and knocking a third down as he ran from the nine yard mark to score. Adam Bender failed to add the extra point from placement.

Later in the initial period King again dropped back and sent a pass to John Snowberg on the 19-yard line from where the Bison end carried it over. This time King added the extra point from placement.

period and the Nebraskans had counted once in the second quarter.

BOE STARS

Edsel Boe was the hero of the Bison victory as his long kicks of a slippery ball kept the Bison out of danger and forced the Indians

Strong Offensive Play To Feature Big Battle

Fans at tomorrow's annual battle between the Bison of NDAC and the Sioux of the University of North Dakota will be in for an afternoon of highly entertaining football. Both teams have shown in their past performances that their offense is much stronger than their defense.

NDU will pit the throwing of Walt Dobler and Jimmy Miles against the flinging of Daly King, Edsel Boe and Ralph Johnson. Big threat for the Sioux on the receiving end will be Al Simpson, a tall, rugged end playing his last year in NDU spangles.

LEADING SCORER

Simpson has been the outstanding performer on the Sioux squad so far this season. At the present time he leads the scoring race in the NCI conference by a comfortable margin, having scored seven touchdowns in three loop engagements. Last week at South Dakota State, the Sioux flankman tallied Simpson all his club's touchdowns on three passes from Miles and two interceptions.

Dobler, ace running back on the University squad has been and will be hampered by an injured shoulder that may keep him from playing full-time against the Bison. In the event that the Linton speedster is unable to remain in the game, Miles will take over the passing and running duties.

Miles is a senior who only in the past two weeks has come to the front with his fine substituting for Dobler. In the Bonnie contest of a week ago, the new Sioux star completed five successive passes, three of them being good for touchdowns.

EXPERIENCED LINE

Coach Jack West will send a big, experienced line against the Herd in tomorrow's clash. Mert Howe, the right end, and LaVerne Paul, left guard, were shifted to these two positions at the beginning of the season and have convinced Sioux fans that both of them are right at home at their new assignments. The remainder of the NDU forward wall is made up of seasoned veterans with at least one year on line duty.

Directing the play of the Sioux is junior quarterback, Bob Ballinger. A hard blocker, Ballinger is one of the finest of defensive backs on the squad. During the past week he has seen action at a halfback position in the various shifts tried by West in an attempt at usable combinations in the event Dobler is unable to play.

Sigs In Touchball Finals As Result Of 13-2 Victory

A strong passing attack will be featured by the Sigma Chi touchball team in the Intramural league playoffs to be held next week. The Sigs reached the finals with a 13-2 victory over the independents last night.

Russ Burfening and Lloyd Fercho will be counted upon to pitch the Sigs to victory over the Gamma Rhos. Main performers on the catching end of the aerial show will be Bud Johnson and Tom Reed, starting ends for the divisional titlists.

Coach Pete Hilleboe indicated last night that he would start the following eight men in the all-important contest:

- LE Tom Reed
- LG Pat Sherley
- C Bob Wells
- RG Darrow Beaton
- RE Bud Johnson
- B Russ Burfening
- B Lloyd Fercho
- B Tom Callinan

Hilleboe further stated that he expects his club to use their extra height to good advantage on the attack and to use their weight in stopping the strong AGR running game.

Others to see action for the Sigs include Cal Hagen, Lyle Pitsenbarger, Mob Moritz, and Alf Brandstedt.

Baby Bison Win 20-7 To Sweep Sioux Series

MERT HOWE

STARTING in tomorrow's game at right end for the Sioux will be Mert Howe, 205-pound giant. Last season the UND lineman was used as a blocking back.

NDAC's freshman football team was able to stave off three Sioux Yearling scoring thrusts in the final quarter as they made a clean sweep of the two-game series with a 20-7 triumph last night in Grand Forks.

On Oct. 10, the future Bison varsity performers rang up a 14-6 victory over the UND freshman on Dacotah field in the first game of the annual home-and-home entanglements.

SCORE ON PASS

Scoring once in the second period on a 32-yard pass from Bob Kaercher to Fred Trowbridge, the Baby Bison tallied twice more in the third quarter and then fought the Sioux off at the end.

Flasch passed from the 20 to McClintock who went over for the Nodak counter from the five-yard marker. This tally was the result of the first of four scoring gestures made by the Yearlings in the fourth period.

KOICH RECOVERS

Trowbridge's fumble on the UND seven in the third period set up the second Bison score as Stan Koich recovered the free ball over the goal line.

The final NDAC score came on a lateral from Trowbridge to Kaercher who raced 47 yards for the counter.
