Betty Olson Reigns As Queen

Blue Key Picks Five Seniors, Faculty Man

Blue Key, honorary service fraternity, named five seniors and a faculty member to membership Thursday night.

The students elected are:

Ed Lokken
Loran Ladwig
John Calhoun
Willard Griffin
George Koch

Appointed from the faculty was C. A. Sevrinson, dean of men.

Lokken is a member of Scabard and Blade, a cadet captain.

president of the American Society of Civil Engineers, secretary of Tau Delta Pi and a member of the senior YMCA cabinet.

Ladwig has been vice president and secretary of Alpha Tau Omega, secretary of Saddle and Sirlain, a member of Alpha Zeta, on the editorial staffs of the Bison Furrows and the Spectrum, and as—

Registration Tops 1,600

Enrollment at NDAC for the fall term totalled 1635 students Thursday, reports Registrar A. H. Parrott. This figure includes 1604 students enrolled in college-level courses and 31 sub-collegiate students enrolled in defense training work.

Of the 1604 taking college courses, 1559 are regular, full-time students and 45 are NYA boys who are taking part-time schedules in the School of Engineering, Parrott says.

Enrollments by divisions of the 1,598 collegiate-level students are as follows: agriculture, 318; arts & sciences, 338; chemistry, 128; education, 32; home economics, 352; engineering, 343; and pharmacy, 93. Registration by classes shows 537 freshmen, 424 sophomores, 311 juniors, 253 seniors, 27 graduate students, and 46 special students. There are 1,120 men and 478 women enrolled in college courses.

Judging Team To Leave October 18

Elton Baldwin, Willard Griffin, Delwin Liddle, Everett Orth, Lowell Ringdahl and Reuben Ruud have been given berths on the college judging team which will compete in the collegiate judging contest in Kansas City, Oct. 18.

This contest is held in connection with the American Royal stock show.

M. H. McDonald, coach, says the team will have two practice workouts on the way. South Dakota State college in Brookings will be the first stop, and the University of Nebraska in Lincoln is the other.

In order to have time for these practices, the group will leave Tuesday.

Bison Coaches, Squad Expect Win Over Bunnies Tomorrow

High hopes for a conference victory in tomorrow's homecoming battle with South Dakota State are being held by the coaches and players of the Bison football squad. Although not over-confident, the Herd feels that the tussle tomorrow against the Bunnies is the game that will put them into the win column for the first time this season and for the first time since 1938 as far as conference play is concerned.

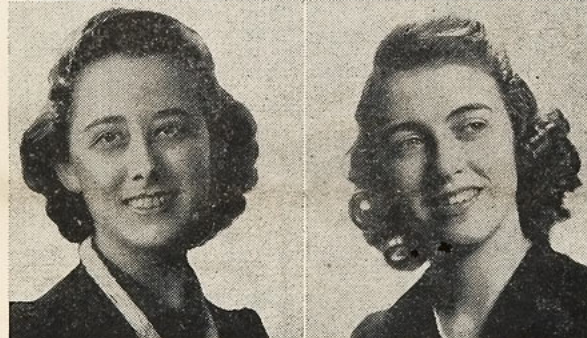

Coach Thurlo E. McCrady, serves his first year as football coach at S. D. State, will bring to Fargo a squad hard hit by graduation, the draft, the air corps—everything that can weaken a college team in these days of national emergency.

McCrady employs a modified T formation attack mixed in with the Notre Dame shift. Thus homecoming fans at tomorrow's game will be afforded plenty of action from the Bunnies when they are on the offensive.

On the other side of the fence, Coach Stan Kostka has not been idle the past week in perfecting a passing attack that may be used against the Jackrabbits should such action be warranted.

Last week the Herd clicked in the last quarter of the Montana game with a passing-laterally attack that put them deep into the opponents' territory several times. Ralph Johnson and Ed Boe were featured in the passing roles last week in the Grizzle game and again this week during practice sessions. If this is any indication of Kostka's plans the air should be filled with flying footballs tomorrow afternoon.

QUEEN BETTY, senior in home economics, reigns over homecoming festivities with her two royal attendants, Jeanette Archer and Ann Murphy.

Name Murphy, Archer Aides For Affair

'All Set,' Heggness Says; Parade At 10

Comparing AC as it is today with the school of their memories are scores of old grads returning today for the 21st annual homecoming.

"All is in readiness," Clark Heggness, president of the student commission, announced Monday after Betty Olson had been named Homecoming queen in a second special election. A similar election last week was declared invalid because of fraudulent voting.

CORONATION AT HALF

Miss Olson's attendants are Ann Murphy and Jeanette Archer. Presiding at the coronation ceremonies Saturday between halves of the NDAC-South Dakota State football game will be Gov. John Moses.

House decorations and floats this year center about the theme, Bison on the March. The opening event on the schedule is the preliminary judging of house decorations this evening at 6.

BABY BISON BATTLE

Other events scheduled tonight are a gridiron battle between the University of North Dakota frosh and the Baby Bison and a skit contest in Festival hall. Early predictions give Coach Charlie Solberg's AC youngsters a top-heavy edge over their upstate rivals.

In the skit contest after the game, fraternities and sororities will present their best Thespian manner for five minutes each and attempt to win cups which were given last year for the first time. This contest replaces the annual bonfire held until last year. A snake dance through the uptown sector ends the day's activities.

PARADE AT 10

Tomorrow's leading morning attraction is the annual Homecoming parade which will be "bigger than ever," say Margery Fjeld and Vernon Hathaway, who

Moses, Board On Visit Here Today

Of dual significance is the regular monthly business meeting of the board of higher education and the official campus visit of Gov. John Moses. Both taking place today, the board members and the governor are remaining as honored guests for homecoming.

In Fargo for the Stambaugh celebration, Governor Moses advised President Eversull that he would visit classes and tour the campus. He explained that this year he plans to make official visits to all schools of higher learning in the state.

Following their business meeting with the president, the board members will remain on the campus to take part in the homecoming events.

Members here include Roy Johnson, president from Casselton; P. J. Murphy, Grafton; Lars O. Sedrickson, Pekin; Mrs. Matt Crowley, Hebron; Howard I. Henry, Westhope; Fred J. Traynor, Devils Lake; Merle Kidder, Towner, and P. J. Dunn, auditor of the board. Miss Helen Latt, secretary to R. B. Murphy, is here substituting for Mr. Murphy, who is ill.

John Snowberg Named Tau Delta Pi President

John Snowberg, senior in civil engineering, has been elected president of Tau Delta Pi, honorary engineering fraternity, and will hold office for the coming year.

Other officers chosen were Joseph Saumweber, vice president, and Edwin Lokken, secretary-treasurer.

Elmer Goes 'Hep'

On Bunion Testing Ground

Gosh kids, ever since last Tuesday night, Elmer has been saying that dancing is his favorite "sport". I'd never thought of it in that light myself—that is, not until we went to the "Y" dancing class to see what we could learn about the latest steps. Result: Dancing is definitely a "sport" to these ambitious youngsters who will stop at nothing to be "in the groove." No football game ever had as many "surprise plays, blocks or tackles" as Elmer did that evening—especially when we tried the Conga.

Elmer thinks this dancing class idea is simply terrific. You can't blame him either, for out of it is growing a great organization—the F.F.A. (Future Fred Astaires). Although they're all starting from scratch (I got a few bruises myself) it won't be long before the boys and girls will be "smoothin" it out with the best of them. However, the "Y" is sending out a request for several more hardy and robust lassies—just in case the ten girls who were injured last time did not recover by Tuesday.

This great homecoming weekend join the players and fans meeting and lunching at the famous gay Powers Coffee Shop, NDAC's smart downtown rendezvous.

How About Cuts?

One of the uppermost questions in the minds of students on campus this week concerns what action, if any, the faculty will take concerning absences. The answer to this question lies in the faculty's interpretation of official notice III, issued by the president's office.

We quote from the notice: "The responsibility for attendance is placed directly on the shoulders of each student. The various schools and independent departments may set up their own reasonable rules as to what constitutes excessive absence."

The present understanding between faculty and student leaves the latter in doubt as to what interpretation will be placed by the various departments on "excessive absence."

By and large, the general student attitudes will fall under three forms:

Strict interpretation—Generally attributed to sciences and engineering, especially labs.

Lenient interpretation—Probably language and math.

Loose interpretation—English, history, speech, etc.

By next week teachers should explain to their classes which interpretation they will follow in dealing with absences so as to avoid any future misunderstanding between student and teacher.

Keep this in mind, though, and again we quote from the notice: "When an instructor deems it advisable that the question of absences be discussed with a particular student, he shall render an attendance report in writing for the particular student to the dean of men or the dean of women, who shall confer with the student's adviser and with the student." WILL SPONSOR DANCE

Phi Upsilon Omicron will sponsor a 'Dine and Dance' event Oct. 19 in Festival hall after the AC-Omaha game.

Tickets will be sold next week on the campus for 25 cents.

Something Ought To Be Done For:

- 1. The student council... 2. Freshmen who don't wear green caps... 3. Girls who wear peppermint lipstick... 4. The lack in number of outside reading books... 5. Jack Davenport's inferiority-complex... 6. Fraternities and sororities... 7. Student familiarity with the faculty... 8. Befores and afters... 9. More SWEET swing...

Friday's Orphan By JOHNNY BLAKE

Welcome, alums and Legionnaires. We realize it's a great life if you don't weekend, but it's even greater sometimes if you do!

In behalf of Prexy Eversull (why doesn't he make me his official publicity agent and get through with it?)

I would like to straighten out differences with the Lettermen's club. The Prexy isn't so much against hazing the freshmen and the demand that they wear caps as he is against the style of the caps. Summer's over, fellows, and cold weather is on its way.

Johnny Blake

Therefore, the Prexy believes the caps should have earmuffs on them. Another feature earmuffs would make possible is little earphones for crystal sets. Then a letterman could call you out of a group to swat you without embarrassing you in front of all your friends.

DRAFTEES ONLY

To draftees only: A fellow could have his local draft board call via radio setup also. Call a fellow right out of class. Give you a chance to grab your honor points, your toothbrush and get some pledge to finish your part of the float...

Another little story that is being rumored about the campus which needs clarification is this matter of those beds which were set up in the gym yesterday. Those cots are not for the dance Saturday night. They are no feature of the homecoming program.

WHAT'S THE REASON?

Have you ever seen anything die off this year like snooker lab has in the late past? (You have, huh, Wylie? Well, shut up! Who's talking to you?) No kidding though, folks, Kenny Stamus told me the other day that they were tempted to sell hunting licenses down in the snooker room only they were afraid hunters would be scared to go in there alone.

Say—what's all this gossip I hear about a paper coming out Saturday? Maybe I had better pick one up, huh? ? ?

Open Letter

My dear Mr. Kostka and Smith: On this coming Saturday the 1941 Bison squad will be trying for their first win of the year and what is more important, it will be fighting for a Homecoming victory, a fete that has not been enjoyed by State for many years.

This is the one game of the year that the team will be trying to win as a present to the student body on their Homecoming celebration. Twice we have seen our team go down to defeat and only last Sunday read about the third: "Montana Beats Bison 26-0."

For the first time in three years at State I have witnessed heads up football played by a Bison team. A team that has the stuff to be scored on four times during a game and still have the fighting spirit to challenge.

"Hats off" to you, Stan, and you, Johnny, for giving us the first football team with a fighting spirit, a team that we can count on to fight till the last, a team that has more than an idea of what the game is about. It is now apparent that the players knew what they were talking about when they said, after last spring's football session, "We learned more football these last two weeks than we learned in the past two years."

Good luck to you! D. R. Landeck.

Not Cricket Some More Idle Ones

By Crockett

With more enthusiasm than some and certainly as much as a rush weary senior can be asked to muster, we, too, extend our welcome to the returning grads.

Along about this stage of the game a guy kinda marvels at all he's been through and sort of wonders if these Homecomings wouldn't be a good thing to attend as a guest.

Then, there's the old saying that the grass always looks greener on the other side of the fence, so maybe we're a little hasty right now.

At least we're going to feel a lot better when they stop building floats and practicing skits 24 hours a day and give us time to eat.

Not Hard To Look At

Returning alumni this year see a campus that generous Mother Nature and patient hands have made rather pleasing to the eye. Many of the scenic eyesores such as the old fountain in front of the library and unfurfed areas are gone, and to further compliment the effect many new improvements have been made to grace your alma mater.

Well Chosen

Also not hard to look at are the Homecoming queen and her attendants. A highly popular choice, Betty represents well, democratic student circles on the campus. Our queen and her attendants present as pretty a picture as a homecoming crowd ever viewed.

A Change At Least

This week we make a change in the size of your paper. If you like the new better than the old, let us know about it. What we do in the future depends upon your reaction.

Forecast

Past the stage where it exists as only an idle rumor is the talk of a rival publication that will make its appearance sometime tomorrow.

The newcomer slated to be more or less of a take-off on this sheet worries us not a whit. Due to the scarcity of copy suitable for such an enterprise we doubt that they will be able to stay in the race for long.

Further complication to their operations is the fact that their advertisers were so hard hit by the recently imposed luxury tax.

A Good One To See

Always a laugh are the skit contests that precede homecoming and produce the best and worst in local talent.

From what we have seen of the ability the new class boasts we can't help but put in a small plug for tonight's performance after the frosh game.

Special Alumni Features Planned, Stokke Says

Registration Begins In Alumni Office; Meeting Tomorrow

Besides participation in the general homecoming events, several special features are planned for returning alumni, Helen Stokke, secretary of the Alumni association, reports.

Alumni began registering this morning at the Alumni office in Old Main. Tomorrow registration will be in the Graver hotel, alumni headquarters.

Following a precedent established last year, an alumni open house and Dutch lunch will be held continuously Saturday until 8 p. m. It is scheduled for the Lobby and Star rooms of the Graver hotel, in order to establish a downtown meeting place for the former students.

Immediately following the homecoming parade Saturday, the annual noon meeting and luncheon is set for the Lobby room of the Graver. Edgar I. Olsen, alumni president, is in charge. The results of a mail election for three members of the alumni board will be announced at this meeting.

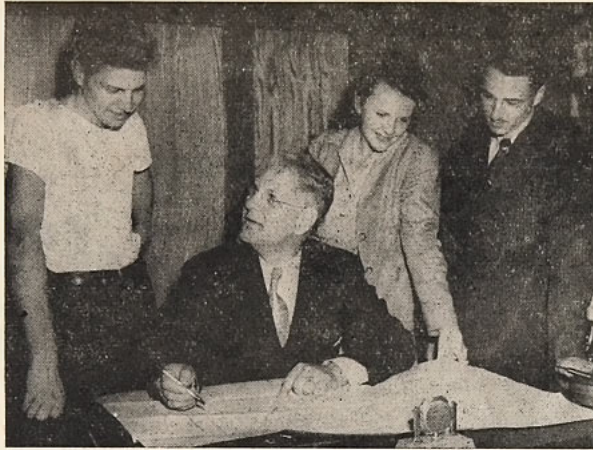

Special reunions are planned for the classes of 1896, 1901, 1911, 1916, 1921, 1926, 1931 and 1936.

Alumni Come From Coasts

More than ever before, alumni from all parts of the nation are planning to attend NDAC's homecoming this year, Helen Stokke, executive secretary of the Alumni and Former Students association, reports.

Indicative of this trend are two letters received in her office, one from the Atlantic and one from the Pacific coast. Charles (Tubby) Brown, a mechanical engineering graduate of 1935, wrote from San Diego, Calif., asking the dates of the event so that he might coordinate his vacation with them. From Buffalo, N. Y., Dr. E. Hoyt DeKleine, a '30 science and literature alumnus, requests "reservations for two good seats at the homecoming game, Oct. 11."

O. K. Final Plans

alumni association secretary, and Jerry Seaman, managing editor of the Alumni Review, okay final plans for the homecoming parade.

Alumni To Name Three Directors At Annual Meet

A special mail election for three vacant positions on the alumni board ends today. The results will be announced at the alumni meeting in the Graver hotel after the parade tomorrow.

Terms expiring are those of O. A. Schollander, treasurer; Dr. B. K. Bjornson, vice president, and Max Hughes. All are candidates for re-election. All terms are three years.

Other candidates are Harriet Ashland, Mrs. Clay Smith, Charles Pollock, jr., William MacDonald, William Toussaint and Dudley Farnham.

Holdover board members include O. Gunvaldsen, J. G. Halbeisen, Duncan McLeod, William Guy, Edgar I. Olsen and S. Lynn Huey.

Bison battle Jackrabbits at 2:30 Saturday afternoon.

Classes Give School Sign

In time for the opening of homecoming festivities this evening, the Comet Neon Sign company will erect a sign over the campus gates.

Costing $250 the sign will carry the neon letters, NORTH DAKOTA AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, permanently across the top. Underneath this inscription will be an arrangement for interchangeable yellow and green letters spelling out messages of general interest.

The student commission purchased the sign with $162 left by the class of '41 and $50 donated by each of the under classes. Excess funds will be placed in trust to use for repairs and replacements on the sign.

Homecoming Comes Of Age Today

Twenty-one years old and homecoming at last has become of age. The twenty-first birthday of homecoming was heralded by the election of the queen and her attendants by popular vote. Up to this time, the social chairman automatically became the queen. In spite of the fact that a few students put a black mark on homecoming this year, good sportsmanship and fair play still reign supreme.

BARBECUE FEATURED

The first barbecue of homecoming, 21 years ago, was held on Oct. 20, 1921, in what is now the livestock pavilion and proved to be a gigantic success as an alumnus-student get-together. Doc Putnam and the now famous Gold Star band were on hand to supply the all important band music for the event. Freshman class members were given an oath of allegiance by Commission Prexy, Harry Hoffman.

In 1925, a featured event was the Freshman-Sophomore class fight. A football game occurred in which three footballs were used at the same time, the team making the most touchdowns winning. In 1926, they hanged "Poor Spirit" in effigy at an elaborate execution ceremony. Local officers were on hand and Doc Putnam pronounced "Poor Spirit" dead in exactly 7 minutes, 38 seconds.

FIRST QUEEN

Emily Samuelson, the first queen, ascended the throne in days when even University students joined the parade. In 1930, with Pioneer Days as the theme and over 7,500 people attending the annual football classic, homecoming was a gala success.

Another step forward was made in 1933 when for the first time plans for the annual events were directed by the student commission. Formerly these had been in the hands of the secretary of the alumni association. Carmen Hunt was the student commission prexy and Erllys Hill, the social chairman, who became queen. Each

Draft Status Of Collegians Is Clarified

National headquarters of the Selective Service in September issued a memorandum to all state directors and local boards taking action on the following recommendations of the subcommittee:

"If a local board determines that a particular student registrant is in training and preparation to perform a function which the national interest requires should be performed, and that at the time such student will begin to perform that function there will be a shortage of persons qualified to perform such function, it should defer such student. It should be clearly understood that it is the shortage within the occupation which forms the basis of the deferment and not the fact that the registrant is a student.

"If a particular student registrant is ordered to report for induction after the expiration of one college term, and before the start of another college term, there appears to be no question but that the student should be inducted as ordered. Likewise, it appears that if a particular student registrant's induction is to occur shortly after the start of a college term, his induction should not be postponed, and, therefore, such student should not enroll for such college term or should advance his time of induction by volunteering. If it appears that a student registrant will not be ordered to report for induction until well into the college term it appears that his induction might reasonably be postponed until the end of such term."

The entire memorandum may be examined at the office of any local draft board and may be obtained through the American Council on Education.

NOTICE

NDAC Alum Sends News From Tacoma

Lieutenant Jack Spaulding, class of '37 and editor of the 1935-36 Spectrum and at present acting as public relations officer for the 41st Infantry division at Tacoma, Wash., wrote a Homecoming greeting letter to the Spectrum.

Lieutenant Spaulding was called to active duty in January of this year, having served three and a half years at the city desk of the Oregon Journal, Portland. When called to duty he was marine editor. The letter included the following information about NDAC alumni stationed with the 50,000 troops in Tacoma:

First Lieut. Childs Hallenberg, who attended North Dakota State about 10 years ago and served as athletic manager, is now with the 752nd tank battalion at Fort Lewis. Also with this outfit is First Lieut. Charles A. Hazelrigg who was proficient in gymnastics and tumbling when on this campus.

Company K, 15th Infantry, at Fort Lewis, is the unit of First Lieut. Donald H. Lieb, another NDAC alumnus.

The staff of the 41st Infantry Division at Fort Lewis has two officers on it who have seen their share of "Old Main," the Field house and early morning drill—Lieut. Col. J. B. Conmy and First Lieut. John B. Spaulding.

Colonel Conmy, one-time instructor in ROTC at NDAC 10 years back, is now G-2 officer on the staff of Maj. Gen. George A. White, 41st division commander. He and his family live in Tacoma. The colonel coached the rifle and hockey teams here.

Another officer who served as instructor in ROTC at the same time as Colonel Conmy, is Lieut. Col. H. J. McChrystal. He is now at Fort Lewis as executive officer of the 99th anti-tank battalion.

Cobb, an assistant professor, is a graduate of Pennsylvania State college, receiving his bachelor's degree in 1933. He taught at the University of Minnesota from 1935 to 1940 and at the University of Maryland last year.

Young, instructor in mechanical drawing, is a graduate of Iowa State, receiving his bachelor's degree in 1928. Since then he has been employed in industrial work as an engineer.

Heard About The Herd

By GEORGE RULON

BISON ON THE MARCH

is the theme of this year's Homecoming and that is just what every NDAC alum, student and loyal supporter hopes Coach Stan Kostka's team will be able to do on Dacotah field tomorrow afternoon when the herd meets South Dakota State as the feature attraction of this year's annual event.

So far the Jackrabbits have been able to take only one victory and that one against a non-conference school, Aberdeen Normal. Since their 14-0 win over the Peds, the Bunnies have dropped two NCI settos with Iowa teachers and Omaha university. The Panthers won 21-0 while the Indians from the Nebraska city chalked up a 12-0 triumph over the Bison foes of the morrow.

COACH THURLO E. McCRADY

was able to call on only three veteran players at the start of his first year as football coach at the Jackrabbit school. Holdover regulars from last year's Bunnie squad which finished fifth in the league are Leon Anderson, Laverne Kortan and Danny Wiersma. Anderson is an all-conference guard while Kortan plays at end end Wiersma at fullback. The latter mentioned played regularly last season in the line at one of the tackle posts but the shortage of backfield material at SDS forced McCrady to shift him to the secondary.

ALL BISON FANS

will anxiously await the score from Grand Forks of tomorrow's clash between the Sioux of the University of North Dakota and the Coyotes from the University of South Dakota. The result of the game will go far in determining whether or not the Nodaks are as weak as their 33-10 loss of last week indicates. The Sioux are definite underdogs against a Coyote team that possesses power, speed and experience. A defeat at the hands of the South Dakota team is about all that the Sioux need to eliminate them from the conference championship race.

THIEVES WERE AFOOT

last weekend when Coach Stan Kostka took his Bison football team to Missoula, Mont., for the game with Montana State university. Sometime during the stay in Missoula, the Herd was relieved of all its supply of all-important T-shirts. As a result, Athletic Director Johnny Smith had to go out and buy shirts from the host school. Now the boys are going around the campus with Montana Grizzlies on their shirts instead of NDAC Bison.

OUT ON THE LIMB

goes this writer as he endeavors to pick the winners of games this weekend involving NCI teams. Tonight Iowa teachers and Morningside play at Morningside. The Maroons were stopped last week by Gustavus Adolphus in a rain that hampered the Morningside running attack. Defending their NCI title is serious business with the Panthers as they have shown with victories over the Jackrabbits who face the Herd tomorrow and the Sioux from down the river. The Tutors should win.

At Grand Forks the Coyotes of South Dakota will be too strong for Coach Jack West's aggregation and should take their first conference game easily. Omaha is the only league school playing non-conference competition this week and should take Simpson college in the game to be played at Indianola, Iowa.

Last but not least our own NDAC Bison will win their first North Central conference victory since 1938 when they face the South Dakota state Jackrabbits tomorrow afternoon. The Herd showed up well last week in the second half of the Montana game and expects to continue the same tactics against the Bunnies. The Herd by at least two touchdowns.

APPARENTLY NOT SUFFERING too much as he reclines on a rubbing table to have his injured leg worked on, Daly King, sophomore left halfback will no doubt be forced to watch tomorrow's game from the sidelines.

Herd Loses To Grizzlies

Montana's Grizzlies proved a little too rough for NDAC's Bison Oct. 4, as the Herd was downed 27-0 at Missoula.

A last half offensive shown by the Bison penetrated into Montana territory on several occasions but failed to produce a touchdown. The late rally found the Herd inside the Montana 20 four times and on the Grizzlies' six yard line when the game ended.

Ed Boe and Ralph Johnson were throwing the ball in the last half drives with Paul Moores, Jim Gorman and Adam Bender doing their share of the work on the receiving end of the aerial attack.

Montana scored early in the first quarter and by half time held a 20-0 advantage. Eso Naranche, Bill Jones and Arnold Scott scored the touchdowns with Naranche kicking two extra points.

Jack Swarouth scored in the third period with Naranche adding the point from placement.

The Old Professor Seeks

Information From Master Minds

Out from behind the bushes comes the old professor with a few quirks and quacks about the not so strong but still rough intramural boys. These are the boys who spend their afternoons battling for the glory of—Oh! forget it.

Our first jump will be a few predictions by some of the brainchilds that manage these mighty juggernauts. First stop on the list will be at the SAE house where Jim Fletcher is the mastermind.

PROF: Say, Jim, now that dances and parties are taboo at your fair haven, what kind of a team are you going to have?

JIM: Well, Prof, let me say to the many readers (plug-plug) that we have a tough and rugged outfit. Those boys of mine really work and with the aid of Gene Marquart we are going places.

PROF: Thanks, Jim, and now as we go further downtown we find Pete Hilleboe in a normal frame of mind. I wonder what he and Sigma Chis have got to say. What's up, Pete?

PETE: A POWERHOUSE, Prof., a powerhouse and that's all I'm saying except what we wouldn't do if we could play the 'Big Swede'.

PROF: I guess it's getting thick on this side of the street so let's go back to the campus and find out what Cliff Nygard has got up his sleeve over Kappa Sig way. How about it, Cliff?

CLIFF: I'm not talking, except that well—I'm not talking.

PROF: OK, Cliff, we'll hear more from you next week and also from some of the other team managers in the ten-team intramural league.

Now friends and foes, it's time for the old professor to fold up his cot and move along. Next week there will be more news from the intramural side of NDAC sports. I hope you all have a dry weekend.

Bison Face SDS Jackrabbits

Annual Homecoming Battle Finds Herd Seeking First NCI Loop Win Since '38 Against Inexperienced Bunnie Squad

Tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 p. m. on Dacotah field, Coach Stan Kostka's Bison football team will meet the Jackrabbits of South Dakota State in NDAC's annual homecoming battle.

Coach Thurlo E. McCrady has not had much to work with in his first year as football mentor at the South Dakota school. The Jackrabbit squad has been so badly riddled by graduation and the national emergency that only three regulars from last year's team are back although the Bunnies are strengthened somewhat by several very capable performers who were reserves last fall.

Leon Anderson, an all-conference guard, Laverne Kortan, a rangy end, and Danny Wiersma, a fullback who last year played as a tackle are the three that McCrady has been able to rely on as a nucleus for the current Jackrabbit team.

So far this season, the Bunnies' record has paralleled that of the Herd. Opening the season against Aberdeen Normal, the State team was able to score a 14-0 win but in two conference games the Bunnies have been defeated by Iowa Teachers and Omaha and have been unable to score in either contest.

BISON LOSE THREE

Three games have been written into the record books for the Bison with the Herd on the wrong side of the ledger each time. Concordia was the first to take the Herd into camp in the opening game of the season. Then followed Morningside in a league encounter and last Saturday, Oct. 4, Montana triumphed over the Bison.

Thus both teams will be seeking their first NCI victory of the year with the Herd especially anxious to avenge a 7-0 loss to the Bunnies last year and to properly climax a splendid Homecoming.

LEON ANDERSON

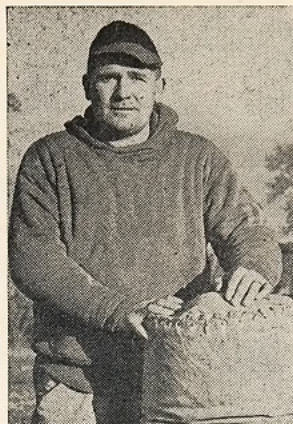

ARNOLD COOK

TWO SOUTH DAKOTA State players that will see plenty of action against the Bison tomorrow afternoon. Anderson, left, is an all-conference guard, while Cook, a sophomore, holds down a tackle position.

AC, Sioux Frosh Clash Tonight On Dacotah Field

As a preliminary attraction to the Homecoming game tomorrow afternoon, Coach Charlie Solberg sends his first NDAC freshman football team against the University of North Dakota Yearlings. The game is set for 8 p. m. under the lights on Dacotah field.

Starting for the Baby Bison will be ends, Finn Becker and Tom Welles; tackles, Clayton Lodoen and Jerry Cournea; guards, Stan Koich and Bill Sturlaugson; center, George Slakovich; quarterback, Ed Rolle; halfbacks, Bob Heer and Fred Trowbridge; and fullback, Sid Cichy.

Very little can be said about the strength of the two opposing teams of tonight's game since the Baby Bison have not had any actual game experience so far this season. However, if the scrimmage last week against a strong Dilworth high school eleven means anything, Solberg's charges should give a good account of themselves against a University team that already has dropped a 19-0 decision to Mayville State Teachers college.

Several times in the scrimmage of last week, members of the Frosh squad showed that they will be of great value to Head Coach Stan Kostka next fall when they become eligible for varsity competition.

As a second team for action tonight, Solberg has named Jim Morrisette, Bob Kaercher, and Lee Christianson in the backfield with Don Crothers, Vern Johnson, Sam Wysocki, Bob Jenkins, Bob Centerwell, Alvin Bunkowski and Jim Horan in the forward wall.

Others that no doubt will see some early action tonight are Paul Martinson, Dick Moun, Cliff Wiese, Howard Hanson, Bud Sweeney and Jack Burchill.

MOPs, Newest Sorority, Announce Plans For Meeting

Sunya Burns and Tanya Hide this week realized their life's ambition—they organized the Gappee Osis chapter of Mu Omega Pu, internationally known sorority.

Deciding the NDAC sororities needed a jolt, six lasses proceeded to pledge themselves to the ideals and new deals of Mu Omega Pu—and all for the reasonable sum of 79 cents (a bargain in any gal's language!)

PU MU OR MU PU?

"Sensational" is the by-word of the chapter. Their name was derived by a subtle mixture of Greek and Pig-Latin—the Pu and Mu are Pig-Latin for Mu and Pu! Because these industrious girls felt a scrapbook was a "must," they proceeded to concoct one which they contend would snare any rushee in spite of "race, color, creed or previous condition of servitude." It is packed with the choicest pictures and dance programs with cuts of Superman and Okie Doakes adding a little zip to the collection.

Because every sorority has a songbook, the MOP's found little difficulty in writing one. Their favorite song is "You Can Tell She's a Pu."

RUSHING STARTS MONDAY

You say you want to pledge Mu Omega Pu? You'll just have to restrain yourself till Monday as the girls are still pledges. However on that day they will go active and plan to start informal rushing at 11:32 a. m.

Immediate plans of the group include the first of their annual Homecoming breakfasts tomorrow morning. Genevieve Raisler is in charge. Their meetings are set for every other cold Tuesday.

Only fly in the MOP's ointment is the fact that they have no rooms or house to run to. However they make up for this by having some very choice mottoes and themes. The chapter flower is the crocus; their colors—beige and gray; and their favorite motto—"We never forget a face, but in your case we will make an exception."

SIX MEMBERS, SIX OFFICERS

Elected at the first meeting of the group, Hertha Trace is president; Lorraine Westlund, vice-president; Jean Bergquist, secretary; Sybil Pull, treasurer; Genevieve Raisler, historian; Olive Masterson, pledge captain.

Since all good sororities have constitutions, the MOP's formulated the following preamble for their serious and formal treatise: "We, the charter members of the Gappee Osis chapter of Mu Omega Pu, hereby pledge ourselves to love, honor, and obey the first guy that asks us, in order to form a more perfect union."

Welcome Alumni!

The Spectrum staff adds its word of greeting to the stream of welcome awaiting the return of the old grads. Their return is eagerly awaited, for it is they that really appreciate the combination of progress and old tradition that is NDAC. It's they that notice the new paint on the windows in Science hall, the new marks of a friendly rivalry with our cross-creek neighbors, the newly revived green caps for freshmen. They, too, appreciate the long-established Bison barbecue, the annual queen's dinner and the other yearly events that make homecoming what it is.

Hats off to them, for they, who return, have been out in a large world, but to them NDAC is still a shrine above all else.

Five Lyceum Numbers Booked

'Romance Of Old Mexico' Set For First Attraction

Five extraordinary attractions, all of world renowned reputation, will comprise this season's Lyceum series, one of the most colorful courses ever offered the patrons of the college lyceum.

Romance of Old Mexico will open the series in Festival hall on Wednesday, Oct. 22. Old Mexico in song and story will be authentically portrayed. Starring Senorita Greta Rubio, superb mezzo-soprano and direct descendant of the Royal Incas; Colonel Ricardo de Escamilla, a soldier of fortune; Velma Montoya, brilliant Spanish and Mexican dancer; the Charro Marimba orchestra, one of Mexico's best; and with Helen Vogel at the Hammond Solovox, it promises to be one of the season's outstanding concert attractions.

Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo, a company of one hundred and twenty-five with a symphony orchestra, will appear as the second number of the course on Wednesday, Jan. 14. The Lewisohn Stadium in New York city was jammed two nights this past summer with 36,000 people to see the Ballet Russe. It has been called "a bountiful banquet of music, glamour and beauty and an evening of theater thrills for young and old."

Platoff's Don Cossack Chorus, world famous Russian male singers, will appear in concert some time in February. During the last fifteen years this renowned organization has given 4000 concerts and been acclaimed throughout six continents.

Lawrence Tibbett, "one of the most amazing musical phenomena of our time," is scheduled for a concert on Wednesday, April 8. He is "America's own."

Closing number of the series will be Stevens' Marionettes in a three-act play called "Cleopatra" on Tuesday, April 14. They are without question the greatest marionettes of our day.

All numbers will begin promptly at 8:15 in Festival hall. Students and season course ticketholders are requested to be in their seats by eight. Doors will be open at 6:45.

NEWMAN CLUB SUNDAY

Newman club will meet Sunday, Oct. 12, at 7:30 in the St. Mary Cathedral club rooms as previously announced.

Slated for Nov. 4, the play will be given as a feature attraction of the Village Circus to be staged for 4-H institute delegates and will be under the general direction of A. G. Arvold. Jack Stuart Knapp will coach the play and Betty Lou Pannebaker will be script girl.

In order to celebrate the 90th birthday of Haile Chisholm, the man who is known to thousands as the "college blacksmith," the Little Country Theatre will give a banquet in his honor in the Lincoln Log Cabin Oct. 22.

The late President Shepperd and Lorado Taft, the sculptor, conferred the degree of Master of Arts on Mr. Chisholm who has also been honored by the state legislature, the state supreme court, and the board of education.

Mr. Chisholm's works reflect the genius of a man who not only knows iron but also of the art and poetry hidden in it. Many of his works in wrought iron adorn campus buildings.

Those who wish to attend are requested to call the theatre for reservations.

year brought more important events and in 1934, Governor and Mrs. Olson were guests of the school for the day, being the first Governor and First Lady to attend homecoming at NDAC.

NICKEL TROPHY
In 1937, the immense nickel trophy presented to the winning team in the annual AC-U game was first awarded by Blue Key on the two campuses. The year 1938 inaugurated the Queen's banquet and the two teams clashed in the new stadium with Fritz Pollard and Ernie Wheeler as central figures in a drama marked by unusual exhibitions of school spirit and the traditional rivalry that has always existed between the two schools.

Tomorrow will climax the annual event with NDAC Bison and South Dakota State Bunnies meeting once more to attempt to settle the old score. The characters have changed but the issue, the spirit and the rivalry remain the same.

Green Caps?

Frosh Disagree On Them

Is you iggerunt too? Does you gotta wear green caps wid liddo yellow tassels? We gotta too. Some of the gang isn't so keen on the idear either! It makes us to darn conspicuous (were're in college now!). Of course some of the dumb ones think that these things are cute—especially the upperclassmen, who, incidentally, don't have to wear them.

It's pretty good publicity for the Lettermen's club when Swede drags half of the football team over to all the sorority houses and scares the dickens out of all the poor little pledges by telling them, quote, "Wear your caps or lose your hair," unquote. Well, after all, girls, you have to look up to him for that.

TICKLISH SUBJECT?

Various dopes on the campus have volunteered opinions upon the very ticklish subject, but few are printable. However, George Truesdale will tell you that he thinks they're all right. He takes his out of his brief case every time someone walks by, just so they'll "know I'm patriotic." Bob Fairfield, friend of the freshman, comes to their defense once more with, "I think it's too bad that you poor little kids have to wear those nasty things."

Hazel Hooper finally decided to wear her cap after receiving a pep talk from the paddle-swinging corps. Now she's so attached to the pert little chapeau that she cries at night when her mother makes her take it off.

"I'LL WEAR MINE!"

"If it's all right with you fellas, I think I'll wear a green cap," was Don Crothers' remark to the 'men with the clubs'. He's the type of boy that every mother dreams about—for her undated daughter.

Merrie Buchanan indignantly snapped, "Of all the silly, sappy, idiotic, useless ways to spend perfectly good money. But—say, this green's a good color on me, isn't it?"

WORRY, WORRY

Patty O'Laughlin wonders how everyone can tell she's a freshman even when she isn't wearing her cap. "You'd think I had a blank look on my face or something," she complains.

They know I'm from the college

'Cause my cap is green and yellow;

Does everyone grin at me like that 'Cause I'm such a good fellow?

That's okay, little chum, just go your pleasant unworried way, and remember the wise words of Octavius Wilder Wylie, "Together let us all work and plan and strive to become sophomores".

Vogue To Sponsor Photo Contest For Senior Women

For the seventh consecutive year, the editors of VOGUE invite the college women of the class of '42 to compete in the Prix de Paris.

The purpose of this annual contest is to discover college girls with a flair for fashion reporting and the ability to write. First prize is a year's job with a salary on the New York staff of Vogue. Second prize, a special Vanity Fair feature writing award, is a six month's paid position with the fashion magazine.

In addition five cash awards are made for the five best contest articles submitted. These are purchased for publication in Vogue. Numerous Honorable Mentions are also given. Winners of these awards have the opportunity to be interviewed by department stores, newspapers, advertising agencies, and other organizations who have jobs to offer.

The contest is based on four quizzes and a short article. Seniors who are on the look-out for a career in fashion reporting or feature writing, should write to Carolyn Abbott, Vogue, 420 Lexington, Ave., New York City, for further details. They may also secure information and an entry blank from the College Vocational Service.
