

Sorority Rushing.
Isn't it fun?
Seems almost impossible
To pick out just one!
The teas are so clever
The dinners are grand—
We're off to a good start—
Who knows where we'll land?
Well, rushees, after this week, you'll know! No longer will you feel like the girl in the "Even Your Best Friend Won't Talk to You" ad. These tense moments of waiting in the Dean's office for invitations will be over!

This "survival of the fittest" process called "rushing" is unsurpassed for pure excitement, anticipation, and festivity—especially for the girl who "had such a lovely time at the Gamma Rho open house."

Speaking of fraternities, the boys seem to like the "Won't you step into my parlor, said the spider (frat man) to the fly (green freshman)" method of gaining new pledges. Step into their parlors, by all means, boys, but figure your own way out! Just remember these two little definitions widely used around the campus of the country:

Rushee: A handsome, smooth, good-natured, happy-go-lucky, all-around good fellow.
Pledge: A dumb, dense, thick-headed, slow, lazy, ungrateful dope.
Active: The fellow who never knew what real happiness was until he joined a fraternity—and then it was too late!

Homecoming Plans Set

Students May Still Register, Eversull Says

North Dakota youths who have been delayed by late farm work from enrolling at North Dakota Agricultural college this week will be accepted for registration "when they can get away," Dr. Frank L. Eversull, NDAC president announced today.

"In these emergency times when young men and women with technical training are in great demand, both by industry and by the federal government, for defense work, one's college education should not be neglected," Dr. Eversull declared in commenting on the decision to accept late enrollments.

Dr. H. L. Walster, dean of agriculture at the college, said in this connection that boys wishing to enroll in the school of agriculture will find it possible to begin their class work late if they are being delayed by harvesting and threshing.

Registration at NDAC reached 1,447 by early Wednesday afternoon, and Registrar A. H. Parrott predicted that the heavier-than-usual late registrations would probably bring the total for the fall quarter up to previous years.

Specialists Sought For Civil Service Information Posts

An examination for information specialists in press and publications and radio has been announced by the U. S. civil service commission. Salaries range from $2,000 to $4,600 a year. Eligibles on the employment list established last year as a result of the information specialist examination need not take this new examination unless they have acquired additional experience and wish to apply for a higher grade, as their names will be retained on the current register.

Persons with general experience in press and publications, or radio work, are needed, as well as persons with publicity experience in such specialized fields as foreign news reporting or editing, aeronautics, public health, conservation, economics, mining, agriculture and engineering. To qualify for the press and publications option applicants are required to have responsible professional experience in writing or editing for a large newspaper, national magazine, news or information service, or governmental agency. For the radio option, experience is required in educational or informational radio work, including the preparation of radio manuscript and the broadcasting of radio programs. For all the positions, applicants may substitute study in a residential educational institution above high-school grade for part of the experience. No written test will be given but applicants will be rated on their education, experience and corroborative evidence. In connection with the radio option a voice test may be required of eligibles.

Applications must be on file with the commission's Washington office not later than Oct. 23.

Y DANCE TONIGHT

The college YMCA is sponsoring a dance in Festival hall tonight after the game. Originally scheduled as a street dance, the affair has been changed because of inclement weather, Bob Pile, who is in charge, announced.

An Editorial

The yellow and green flag of sportsmanship is at half mast. No more does it proudly wave above Old Main. And why? Because NDAC's rallying student spirit is dead; because the college's code of sportsmanship was dishonored at the Concordia-NDAC game by the lack of enthusiasm of its student body.

In the days of the Roman arena disappointed fans would put their thumbs down while their favorite gladiator was having his neck sliced by an opponent. The gladiator was never more to them than a sadistic form of amusement. Our team represents the democratic procedure extended to all land grant colleges. It is a symbol of the physical well-being inspired in all educational programs. But it means more than that to the student.

The player is a representative of the student body—just as an army represents a country. And his fighting spirit is imbedded in the faith of those he represents. It is for us and by us that he is inspired to win, and we can never fail him. We cannot leave him when he needs us most.

Don't leave during a game. If you want to see your team win, stick with it until the game is over. It was hard enough for our new coach to lose his first game, but it was even a greater blow to find the student body a bunch of poor losers.

Learn your songs and yells. They were written for you with a purpose. They will always be a part of your college heritage, and it is your duty either as a freshman to learn the cheers, or as an upperclassman to lead the cheers.

Let's raise that yellow and green flag of sportsmanship with this slogan, "Our team—may she always win—but win or lose—Our Team!"

—W. H. H.

FFA Membership Drive Begins Today

According to Cliff Nygaard, president of the collegiate FFA chapter, that organization is starting its membership drive this week.

Headed by Delwin Liddle, the committee in charge consists of Vernon Asheim, Bruce Fulks, Arley Hoveland and Wayne Rowe.

All interested students are invited to attend the first meeting Thursday, Oct. 2, Room 210, ag building. Principal speaker will be M. H. McDonald.

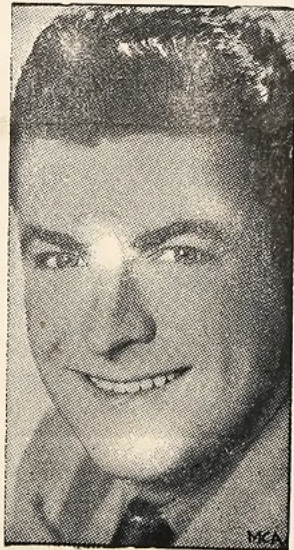

Refreshments will be served.

YM To Sponsor Kirby Page In Two-Day Lecture Series

Kirby Page, outstanding and dynamic Christian leader, is to be a Fargo visitor Sunday and Monday, September 28 and 29. Engaged in conducting a nation-wide series of region two-day spiritual retreats, Mr. Page will speak six times in two days.

Kirby Page has written 20 volumes and 16 pamphlets, spoken at 300 colleges and universities, crossed the ocean 20 times and visited 35 different countries. He speaks with deep insight, conviction and authority.

Plymouth Congregational church, Broadway at Ninth avenue N, will be host to Mr. Page. His schedule will be as follows:

- SUNDAY
2:00—"The Love of God and the Judgment of God"
4:00—"How Seriously Must We Now Take Jesus?"
7:30—"The Basis of a Just and Durable Peace."
- MONDAY:
9:00—"Practicing the Presence of God."
10:00—"Building a Christian Economic Order."
2:00—"Looking Ahead Fifty Years."
3:45—"The Meaning of the Cross for Us Today."
4:30—"Celebration of Holy Communion."

A registration fee of fifty cents for the entire retreat or twenty-five cents for one day is being asked. Registration for students is being conducted by the college YMCA.

A cordial invitation is extended to all students and faculty members to share in the inspiration and mental quickening which this series will afford. Attend as many of the sessions as your time will permit.

Herbie Kay's Band Selected For Dance; Barbecue Scheduled

Highlighting NDAC's homecoming this year is the annual dance which features Herbie Kay and his nationally famous orchestra, Clark Heggeness, student commission president, announced.

The two-day celebration, slated for Friday and Saturday, Oct. 10 and 11, will center about the theme, Bison on the March.

Friday's program includes a freshman football tilt between the University and NDAC followed by the inter-organization skit contest which was introduced last year to replace the annual bonfire.

GAME AT 2 P. M.

On Saturday morning the annual homecoming parade is scheduled. At noon a Bison barbecue will be held, and at 2 o'clock the featured athletic event, the gridiron battle between North Dakota State and South Dakota State, begins. Between the halves, the homecoming queen, who is to be selected by the student commission, will be crowned. At 6, the students pay tribute to the homecoming queen at the annual queen's dinner. In charge of the dinner is Evangeline Schwartz. The dance Saturday evening concludes the program.

Heggeness has been carrying on negotiations since early August in an effort to bring a name band here for homecoming. He says that the music of Herbie Kay is bound to please those attending. Tickets go on sale Tuesday in the bookstore, YMCA

Cap Sale On

Sponsored by the Lettermen's club, the sale of caps of a greenish hue to first year men will be officially launched next week, and will be enforced by members of the club.

The caps will be on sale at the bookstore and may be obtained either upon demand or request for 75 cents.

According to Gorman King, president of the club, the caps must be worn during the entire week of Homecoming. Purchase of the caps is compulsory and applies to girls as well as boys.

Dugout, or any member of the student commission at $1 a couple. At the door tickets will be $1.25. Only students and alumni are eligible to attend the dance. Alumni may secure tickets through the alumni office.

In charge of the skit contest Friday evening is Ann Murphy who has called a meeting of representatives of all groups wishing to enter skits for Tuesday at 7 p. m. in the College Y. The best skit in mens' groups and women's group presented from three to five minutes in length will win a trophy, Miss Murphy announced.

NEW IDEA IN PARADE

An innovation in homecoming parades is planned by Margery Fjeld and Vernon Hathaway, co-chairman of the parade committee. Civic clubs throughout the state have been invited to have floats representing their cities participate. Representatives of campus organizations wishing to enter floats meet Tuesday at 5 in the YMCA.

Steve Olson is chairman of the committee planning the house decoration contest. All floats and decorations are to follow the theme Bison on the March.

18 Freshmen In Ag Receive Sears Awards

NDAC freshmen registered in the school of Agriculture have been awarded scholarships of $125 each to aid them in college expenses this year, announces Dean H. L. Walster.

The scholarships provided by the Sears Roebuck Agricultural Foundation of Chicago, went to Kirke M. Bellows, Ralph Enander, Norris T. Fagerlund, David A. Haibeck, Earl Halle, Reinhold Klein, Ralph Lange, Wesley Larsen, Wesley J. McCoy, Donald Ouradnik, Chester Reitan, Eugene Rosenberger, Raymond Schnell, J. Ralph Seeley, William Stegner, William Sturlaugson, Wallace Sweeney and William Byans.

In addition to the above freshmen winners, Robert Pile was awarded a $100 scholarship to aid him during his junior year at NDAC. Pile received the sophomore scholarship last year and was given the junior award for the record he has maintained.

Freshmen scholarships were given on the basis of interest and participation in agricultural activities, leadership abilities, scholastic records and actual need. This is the fifth year that the Sears awards have been made at NDAC.

FFA Marketing Days Set For Oct. 9-11

Dates of the Sixth Annual FFA Marketing Days have been set for October 9 to 11, announces Ernest L. DeAlton, state supervisor and professor of agricultural education at NDAC. More than 300 North Dakota and western Minnesota Future Farmers and students in high school vocational classes will consign livestock to the Union Stockyards at West Fargo and actually see how a terminal market operates. During the 3-day program leading livestock authorities will discuss and demonstrate feeding and marketing practices before the boys.

NOTICE

Alpha Phi Gamma will have a luncheon meeting Thursday at 12 in Ceres hall.

USDA Wants Statisticians

The U. S. civil service commission is conducting examinations for agricultural statisticians for the agricultural marketing service of the department of agriculture. Applications for these examinations close Oct. 23. Salaries are from $1,600 to $2,600 annually.

Qualifications for the position of junior statistician include a four-year college course with a major in agriculture or a four-year general course and three years farm experience after reaching the age of 13. The maximum age limit is 35. Also required are six semester hours of statistics or three hours of statistics and three of college algebra. In addition, for the position of assistant statistician one should have had three years professionally collecting, summarizing or analyzing agricultural data for statistical purposes.

Application blanks can be had at any first or second class post office or directly from the U. S. civil service commission in Washington, D. C.

Science Hall Claims New Reading Library

The library committee announces that a reserve reading room has been provided in Room 217 Science hall to relieve crowded conditions in the main library building. This room has been redecorated, new flooring laid, and a new and adequate lighting system installed.

Miss Angelin Tesedell has been appointed reserve librarian. Other members of the library staff and students will assist in the operation of the reading room.

Reserve books will be used in the room during the day and may be withdrawn at 4:30 for evening use. Overnight books must be returned before 9 o'clock the following morning.

The room is open from 8:45 to 5 o'clock, except two weeks before examinations when it will be open until 9:30 p. m.

Hours of the main library are from 8:45 a. m. to 9:30 p. m. Monday through Thursday and from 8:45 to 5:45 on Friday and Saturday. A receptacle will be provided for books returned before the library opens.

FOTOFUN

starts today at the famous AC downtown rendezvous—The Powers Coffee Shop. Today a picture of an AC student is posted in the outside-menu-window. As soon as that student identifies his picture, he receives the picture and a TICKET FOR A FREE DINNER. Then another picture goes up. These pictures were taken on the campus, unknown to those pictured.

LLOYD COLLINS

NDAC's own electric organ maestro entertains every day at The Powers—lunch, dinner, and evening. He'll play your favorite melodies as you request them. Jeanne Alm, WDAY's Singing Star, joins Lloyd Friday and Saturday—10-1 only. Come down and meet the Morningside Football Squad staying at The Powers this weekend.

Our Good Fortune

Editor's Note: This article was written by an NDAC student who left Czechoslovakia at the outbreak of the second World war in order that he might continue his studies in the field of chemistry.

Many a time we think of what is going on in the world, and we come to the conclusion it is quite bad. But then again, we are glad that all these terrible events happen thousands of miles away, and so we don't seem to be concerned too much. It might be said that if we might see how things actually are, people would realize the seriousness much more.

Students have always been rather carefree and happy-go-lucky all over the world. Today the situation has changed immensely. In this world of ours there are not as many thus privileged anymore. Now young citizens have to give everything they have, their very lives, for their country.

Yet we must not think that this development was a sudden one. Years ago it started, when the rights of these young people were curtailed more and more every day. In some countries each student before entering a university had to serve in labor battalions. He was then, if his convictions were found to be agreeable, admitted to a university. He was permitted to spend part time on his studies; the rest of his time was taken up by different organizations to which he was forced to belong.

In his studies he ran into many difficulties. Only one opinion was permitted. The instructor interpreted the text and then gave this opinion. If a student were asked about this topic, only one answer could he give: the one previously taught. Thus it was impossible for anybody to do constructive thinking. One might easily come to the conclusion that mental degeneration was inevitable. Famous scientists who are authorities in their fields could not be given as references if their views on other points did not conform accordingly. To supervise life in the schools students themselves acted as spies. There was hardly a moral limit to their actions.

Yet we must also think of life in a continent where, through continuous crisis, the nerves of the people had been worn out. Let us take as an example the days of the Munich crisis, when the fate of the world was undecided for several days. It is hard to believe that people can get used to these things.

The suspense proved unbearable. Students did not seem so happy any more. What was going to happen? What would their fate be? Nobody thought of studying although it had to be done. One cannot look out of the window for bombers and at the same time do some arithmetic. Go and enjoy oneself? A poor remedy. To have a good time was nearly impossible. Football games and all-college dances did not exist, and the inevitable "coke" could not be had either.

It will hardly be possible to find another country in the world with as high a standard of living as this country. Besides, and this is more important, do you think there is another country in the world that grants so much to her citizens? There is no doubt that it must be considered a privilege to go to school here and enjoy life.

Many a time it has been said that people are taking everything for granted because they have been used to these privileges from infancy on. They are, however, realizing from the reports they hear from other parts of the globe, that other nearly incredible conditions exist in the world, and they are willing to preserve this, the American way.

Friday's Orphan

By JOHNNY BLAKE

So I picks myself off the floor with more confidence than a college graduate clerking in his father's store and with more optimism than a seed catalog and heads for the president's office. (Crockett and Carr have sent me out to collect a dollar from each faculty member for the Spectrum). I figure the president is a swell guy and puts him on my list (faculty list, of course).

And is trying to get hold of that Eversull boy tough—his office is nearly as exclusive as the Kappas figure they are. If the prexy ever tells you to come in and see him, watch yourself 'cause it's a trick sure as anything. No kidding, I didn't mind John L. Lewis asking me for my union card, Martin Dies' checking my citizenship papers or the local police asking for my drivers' license, but when Miss Evanson (prexy sec.) made me recite the presidents of the U. S. in order before she'd even see if Dr. Eversull was busy... WELL...

Finally I traps prexy while he's having dinner one evening and tells him my sad story. He tosses a dollar bill on the table and says, "Forget it, John Joseph." I leaves the dollar on the table seeing we both had a fork in one hand and a knife in the other and tried like the very devil to be nonchalant. Suddenly the lights flicker so I grabbed for the dollar... The doctor had to put three stitches in my right hand and treat it for blood poison where a knife and fork went through... I'm not complaining because a dollar is a dollar, but I don't want the faculty to be surprised when I trot Twomey and Treglawney along with me on collections.

Has anyone told you about the biggest transportation deal to take place since the Wheeling of West Virginia? You know where the Pop House is. Well, John Abbott talks his folks into moving just two blocks south of the Pops, and therefore Swede Johnson not to be outdone swings a deal with the real estate boys and lands himself only one block east of Popville. The laughs come in when Harriet Shigley decides to attend business school in Minot. But I really can't see what I was laughing about 'cause I've already paid two months rent for my room at the Co-op House...

Note to homecoming queen selection committee: Let's try and figure out a system of selection by which a "queen" can be picked. Try not to have the frames put up a couple of candidates that look like they had been drafted from the varsity football squad.

You've probably heard about Hubert Sweeney telling a rushee that he, Sweeney, wasn't interested in football and the rushee replying, "Now I see why you came to this school." Well, Stan Kostka happened to be standing nearby and overheard the conversation. I heard from the rushee this morning... He says everything is just fine down at St. Johns hospital and to drop in and see him...

Have you ever seen such a mob as the freshman football squad when they're turned loose? For two days Charlie Solberg told me he thought it was the National Guards mobilizing. The NDAC coaching staff have so many of last years high school stars from all over the state playing ball here that it's rumored when they play the Sioux frosh—the Sioux are going to demand they play six-man football unless the Bison lend out a few men.

Reporter Uncovers

Highlight In Major Hart's Life

New commandant at NDAC is Major Charles H. Hart, jr., formerly stationed at Chilhoot, Alaska. He succeeds Colonel John R. Mendenhall, who has been ordered by the war department to the second corps in New York.

Major Hart's military life dates back to 1916 when he served 14 months in France and Germany in the service of the United States during the first World war. He attended William and Mary college in Virginia, his native state. In 1924 he was sent on tour to the University of Idaho, Moscow, Idaho, where he remained until 1929. At that time he was sent to Hawaii, remaining there two years. In 1934, he was again sent to Idaho, this time staying until 1938.

Major Hart, who still speaks with a very rich southern accent, stated that the military staff at NDAC is excellent. "We have a fine bunch of young men," he continued, "and I was delighted to see that such a very high percentage has signed up." He also mentioned that he considered "the military facilities at NDAC far superior to that of many other colleges throughout the west."

Perhaps one of Major Hart's most interesting experiences occurred when he was assigned the task of moving the government dog teams to Fairbanks, Alaska. With a detachment of eight men he set out across the Yukon interior. The trip lasted forty days, during which time they traveled by dog sled, testing Arctic equipment.

Major Hart has had a very active social life. Among the organizations to which he belongs are Kappa Sigma fraternity, Elks, Sons of the American Revolution and Rotary club. He is past president of the Kiwanis and former commander of the American Legion. He is married and has one son, Charles H. Hart III.

Studies In Style

By MARY McCANNEL

First impressions are everything. Right or wrong, they stick. So it's up to you to make them right to mirror accurately.

You're going to college now, and for the first time you'll want to wear black. Smart black as in a tailored wool suit with a velvet collar or a smart black basic dress that can be changed in so many interesting ways by colorful accessories. Plain as all get out, black becomes young for the first time and is terribly neat and attractive with bright accents. It's exceedingly becoming to bright young skins.

Skirts and sweaters—we can't escape them, and who wants to when we have the snappy pull-overs, cardigans and the new exciting V-necks? Pleats and plaids is the formula for campus success. You'll want as many as you can lay your hands on. For colors select from greys, beiges, reds, greens, or blues. By the way, those ever popular pastel shades still reign tops with every coed.

If you want to meet the heart of a handsome romeo, a divine evening dress is the nearest point to your success. Splurge your savings when it comes to purchasing a gown to sweep around the floor.

Have you ever wondered why you didn't look as attractive as the one sitting beside you? Well, maybe you need a "get-acquainted" inventory with yourself. Be sure to get enough sleep, nourishing food, and check that slouched walk that you've recently acquired.

Remember: You can be a study for fashion!

Kostka Says Maroons Are Team To Beat

If the prediction of NDAC's football coach, Stan Kostka, has anything to do with the result of football games in the North Central conference this season, Morningside's Maroons will find themselves on the NCI pigskin throne when winter rolls around.

After seeing the Maroons swamp Macalester 31-6 last week, Kostka is strong in his belief that the team that faces the Bison tonight at 8 p. m. on Dacotah field will continue on to the title now held by the Panthers of Iowa State Teachers college.

Coach Jason M. Saunderson has lost several key performers of last year through graduation and the national emergency but has refused to be pessimistic about his squad's chances. Several fine sophomores have pushed lettermen into reserve jobs so that it can be seen that the Maroon cause is not hampered by lack of good material.

Saunderson's optimism was borne out last weekend. Resorting to a strong running attack, the Morningside first team was able to run up in the first half 31 points against the Macs. For this reason very little is known about the Maroon passing attack which may click against the little Bison halfbacks.

'Average Frosh Squad' Reports

"A fairly average Frosh squad" is the way freshman coach Charlie Solberg pictures the 1941 edition of the Baby Bison after only a few days of limited practice.

Making his debut as a collegiate mentor after six years at Fessenden high school, Solberg faces a three-game schedule with one of the largest yearling squads in recent years.

On Oct. 10, the Bison Frosh open Homecoming festivities with a game against the University of North Dakota's Papooses under the lights of Dacotah field. Two weeks later they meet the same foe in a return game at Grand Forks. The third game on the freshman card pits the Plebes against Wahpeton Science at Wahpeton on Oct. 31.

Due to inclement weather Solberg has not been able to get too good a look at his new charges but from the wealth of material at his disposal should knit a balanced eleven for the first Sioux Yearling contest two weeks hence.

I-M Meeting Set

All fraternities and other organizations interested in entering teams in the intra-mural touchball league this fall are asked to send representatives to the organization meeting to be held in the field house Monday at 4 p. m.

With the settling down of the campus after rushing, Athletic Director Johnny Smith is anxious to get the loop started as soon as possible so that a complete schedule may be played before bad weather interferes.

NCI Opening Games Played This Week

Four North Central conference football teams open their loop schedules this week while the three other squads in the circuit take on non-league competition.

Tonight NDAC's Bison face the Maroons of Morningside college on Dacotah field, and Saturday afternoon South Dakota State plays host to the defending champions, Iowa State Teachers college at Brookings, S. D.

Last week the Herd suffered a 13-7 defeat at the hands of Concordia while their tonight's foe was trouncing Macalester college, 31-6. The other contest on the league schedule will be the opening clash of the season for both teams.

Omaha, smarting under a 62-6 whipping given it last week by Marshall college, entertains Idaho Southern at Omaha. The Coyotes of South Dakota university open their '41 campaign against the Wayne State Teachers college at Vermillion, S. D. Both games will be played Saturday.

Tonight the Sioux from the University of North Dakota tangle with Luther college at Grand Forks in the second game of the season for Coach Jack West's eleven. Last week the Nodaks lost a 6-0 game to the St. Thomas college Tommies.

GAMES THIS WEEK

FRIDAY, SEPT. 26

Luther college vs. University of North Dakota at Grand Forks.
Morningside college vs. NDAC at Fargo.

SATURDAY, SEPT. 27

Idaho Southern vs. Omaha at Omaha.

In all probability that is the way the two teams will line up at kickoff time this evening. As can be seen, Coach Stan Kostka has made several changes in the eleven probable starters for the Herd as compared with the team that started the game against Concordia. Various situations may change these starting teams for both schools but no doubt they will remain as they are. Should the Bison receive the opening kickoff, Jim Gorman will be in at right half in place of Don Schollander. Johnny Zaic worked at the fullback spot this week and may get the starting berth instead of Ed Boe. The other two backs, Joel Nelson and Daly King, are certain starters.

Paul Moores or Pat Twomey will see action at the end positions early in the game. Both men are tall, sticky-fingered flankmen capable of nabbing King's passes.

Only other probable change in the Bison opening lineup will find Curt Johnson at one of the tackle positions.

For Morningside, Coach Jason M. Saunderson was doubtful about only one position. Stirling Logue may start in the Maroon backfield in place of Obye.

1—Parker's 14 K Gold Point is utterly different, finer-textured and much less brittle than ordinary 14 K Gold.

2—It is tipped with oil-smooth Osmiridium, developed under the direction of Dr. Robert Pickus, chief Parker metallurgist, former instructor of metallurgy at Yale University.

3—Parker's One-Hand Sacless Filler—a basically better principle and the easiest of all to operate—makes room for about a third more ink than the average of three well-known sac-type pens, and substantially more than any one of them. 4—Parker's patented Television barrel lets you SEE when your pen needs refilling. 5—Parker's smart laminated styling—streamlined Pearl and Jet RINGS—as shimmering as velvet—is wholly exclusive.
