

Student Enrollment Takes Normal Spring Term Drop

Registration Completed In One Day; Down 17% From Winter Quarter

Monday NDAC had 306 fewer students than last Friday. The reason is the normal drop in enrollment from the winter term to the spring term. This year the school lost approximately 17 per cent of the student body. In the previous school year the drop between terms was 10 per cent. Late Monday, 1,473 students had enrolled for the spring term as compared to 1,779 during the winter quarter.

Last year the spring term enrollment was 1,531, slightly higher than at present, but in 1939 the figure was 1,256, lower than this year.

Working overtime, employees of the registrar's office completed registration processes on Monday with only a few stragglers remaining to finish enrolling. During the same period the office also completed the recording of the winter term grades. The term ended Friday and all grades were in the mails Tuesday night.

Sponsored by the U. S. Office of Education and the National Institute of Public Affairs, the institute is inviting 75 college seniors to participate in its meeting this year. ## AC Summer Session To Offer 47 Courses

Begins June 16 For Six Weeks; Engineers May Stay Throughout Year

Offering a combined total of 47 courses, the 1941 NDAC summer session officially opens June 16. The school, which will continue through July 25, will provide opportunities for teachers in service, undergraduates students and other interested persons to continue college work during the six-weeks session.

Courses will be organized, according to Dr. Elmer C. Darling, director of the summer session, which are fully comparable in quality and quantity with the content of the regular fall, winter, and spring term subjects. In general the courses available will be those taught during the regular school year. To meet the demands of employed teachers, the school will offer several additional courses dealing with current educational problems. Special work will also be available in guidance and library administration.

May Be Extended

Tentative plans indicate that the session may be extended to meet national defense needs, especially in the field of engineering. Due to the shortage of graduate engineers for governmental and industrial positions, it has been proposed to accelerate training through summer courses. This program would initiate a new freshman class in June which, with three summer schools of 12 weeks each, would complete the four year course in three years. The programs of sophomores and juniors would be similarly speeded up. Final OK from government officials on the plan has not yet been given.

The NDAC school of engineering will again offer during the summer period a primary Civil Aeronautics Authority pilot training course for beginners and an advanced course for those who have completed preliminary programs. Applicants must have completed one year's work in a recognized college and must pass the flight surgeon's physical examination.

Other courses arising out of the national defense needs will stress engineering drafting (12 weeks) and mechanical training (10 weeks).

Regular Requirements

Requirements for admission to the regular college requirements. However persons not having the necessary qualifications may enter as special students. Credits may be applied toward a degree by those who satisfy the admission standards.

The maximum credit load will be fixed at 9 credit hours at two dollars a term hour. Other fees include an enrollment fee of $2; graduate students, $2.50 per term hour; auditors, one dollar per term hour, and special laboratory charges.

Sans Shoe Shuffling, Shocking

By POLLY CARTER

The Ag Engineers are doing their bit for humanity tomorrow by sponsoring the all-college stocking dance in the Field House from nine until twelve. Lee Stenehem will furnish the jive for the toe-tinklers. With "Foot Relief" as its theme, the aim of the dance is to make peace with all warring corns and bunions. No longer will mi lady have to practice the terpsichorean art in pinching pumps, but she can wriggle her toes in luxury from nine to ten-thirty — after that she is free to do what she pleases.

The only part the Red Cross shall play in this program in defense of Mistreated Metatarsals is that you check your red cross shoes in before you can enter. Girls' and boys' socks with yellow and green dots for the occasion. This might be a good time to test the wear and tear of the much-publicized nylon stocking.

Interested persons who desire to avail themselves of this opportunity will please call at Dean Dinan's office.

RED CROSS YARN AVAILABLE

A supply of Red Cross yarn is available at Dean Dinan's office for students, faculty members and those living near the college who desire to knit clothes for children.

Interested persons who desire to avail themselves of this opportunity will please call at Dean Dinan's office.

in reprimand

Characteristic of the students of NDAC is their desire to be on the top of the heap or at least rank near the top of the win column.

Characteristic also of our students is a pronounced lack of support for all-college functions and the teams that we depend upon to keep us well up on the win column.

All too prevalent is a decided lack of respect for the men who represent our school on court and gridiron.

Athletes we use as only an example. They are only one instance among many. All college affairs of every kind suffer the same fate.

Walster Dedicates Letter To Students

On Board S. S. Santa Lucia March 12, 1941—8 A. M. Eastern Std Time Mr. David L. Hume State College Station Fargo, N. Dakota, U. S. A. Dear Dave:

It was good to get your letter at Salaverry yesterday. This cruise is proving even more interesting than I ever dreamed it would.

We arrived at the tiny port of Salaverry at about 10 a. m. yesterday but because of the draft of the vessel and the very heavy ground swell we had to be taken off the ship in a "basket" and then again hoisted to the wharf in a basket because even at the wharf the swell was so great that it wasn't safe for lighters to tie up.

Arrives At Salaverry Upon arrival at Salaverry we were hustled into cars provided by the American Express Co., and driven thru the town of Trujillo and on beyond about 40 miles to the huge sugar hacienda of Don Rafael Larco Herrera, vice president of the Republic of Peru. The hacienda is managed by his two sons, one of whom is one of the leading archeologists of the world and a particular authority on the objects found in Peruvian burial mounds of the periods which preceded the Incas.

Highly Civilized

These pre-Incan people had developed a civilization which was modern in many respects—they even antedated Walt Disney's animated cartoons, for pictures of animated beans are to be found on many of their funerary vessels.

Wonderful Museum

This museum is a marvelous place to study the history of civilization—to note that other peoples in other and very ancient times have had the same experiences and made the same "discoveries" as have our modern so-called civilized peoples.

Here at Chiclan, the name of this fascinating hacienda, I had my first glimpse at large scale South American farming. Chiclan turned out to welcome us with a typical Indian fiesta dance.

and ceiling zero, who do you think my rudder hit—Maxie Campbell . . . in a fatal attempt to end it all—The song presented by the Brevities quartet from TOO MANY GIRLS was really a leader. They broke even . . . at the quarter-mile it was still close but that finish was a killer.

At about this time Col. Mendenhall and the entire military department flew in . . . about as appropriate as the time they choose for their show . . . and sold tickets for their theatre matinee, Maternity Ward. But with the Brevities' show only a week off and the federal government appropriating so little money toward military needs these days, we understand their dire needs for such a scheme . . . I keep telling them as my draft number keeps coming closer.

Important New Books—

What violent impressions are left on young minds by the Japanese bombings in China? The answer is given by the three daughters of Lin Youtang in "Dawn Over Chugking" (Day, $2) with a poignancy and fervent sincerity rarely encountered.

One of the most popular wits of the radio feature, "Information Please", has published fifty brief essays on the many entrancing facets of the outdoors. The book is "John Kieran's Nature Notes" (Doubleday, Doran, $2) and the author is John Kieran, himself.

Screen News—

Sonja Henie will skate on black ice in her next movie. The studio is now experimenting to get the desired degree of blackening in the ice.

On the Air—

Giuseppe Verdi's "Aida", the most performed opera at the Metropolitan Opera House, will be The Texas Company's broadcast from the Metropolitan on Saturday, March 28, over NBC-WDAY at 1:00 p. m.

Recorded Music—

Climaxing a steady rise that took him to his former peak, Artie Shaw has just hit a new high on a forthcoming recording, "Dancing in the Dark!" (27335). Artie and his band have captured every bit of feeling in this beautiful ballad of yester-year.

Not Cricket— And On Your Right—

By Crockett

Pulling a stunt that is not exactly "Cricket" but which gives a little rest, we this week turn these columns over to our former chief, Miss Blair, in order that she might take one last fling at slinging the blarney for this sheet.

We are not at all hoggish or selfish about this thing and right now we extend the invitation to any and all to write us a column so we can take a rest some week. If you are a 'leader,' this is a challenge.—Cricket.

When a person has only three months to look at this campus through the eyes of a legal resident, he begins to wonder about the places he's never seen the inside of. Consequently, we were more than happy to be conducted through the Little Country Theater and environs by A. G. Arvold's right hand man, H. Otto Froeschle in person.

Blair

Most of us have been in the Lincoln Log Cabin, and the workshop. These places are certainly familiar with the make-up room and the storerooms containing costumes, settings number, paints et al. Perhaps only a few have been in the blue room and the sound-proof recording room.

But we claim to be of the very few of the present college generation who have made the hazardous climb to the tower "where the clock is." The clock works are enclosed in glass, which doesn't seem to be sufficient to insure the timepiece's security.

It's Hard To Realize—that the same campus where today we view with alarm the ever-increasing number of muddy, disfiguring paths scarring the landscape, was two short weeks ago today the scene of a blinding blizzard. Like all emergencies, this storm magnified many human traits — courage, foolhardiness, terror, and plain, garden-variety clownishness — to epic proportions.

As Spring Comes—to North Dakota, AC's Dan H. L. Walster views the approach of winter in our sister republics to the south. The dean will have many, many interesting things to tell us all, as his letter (appearing on this page) previews. We were a little afraid for a while that Dr. Walster had delved too deeply into the intricacies of pre-Incan civilization.

Last Wednesday—was Team Day in the cafeteria. John Blake was master of ceremonies. (This is what is known in polite society as a masterpiece of understatement.)

Toughest Thing—we've run across in these four years is this little deal about registering before the grades were out. Especially the way they've been cracking down in religion.

The Ag Engineers—are giving us a little chance to practice up on our spring dancing by sponsoring this sans shoe affair Saturday. No fooling, it ought to be a fun one. Any rumor that the ag engineers are subsidized by the Interwoven Company is entirely unfounded.

Another Diversion—on the early spring term schedule is the final lycum of the year. Slim Williams, happy faced man from the wilds and woolies of Alaska, will present self and dog on Festival's stage Tuesday. We hope that blizzard two weeks ago was no sample of the one he's supposed to be bringing.

And Speaking of Personality—the real kid is James Fahrer. Finding himself in repossession of what Baird's Manual calls a badge, he passed suckers to the brothers.

Food For Thought At The Powers

As we walked in we heard the final strains of Happy Birthday Dear Hessian. There is a girl who is going up in the world. The only trouble is that she is going up too high for fellows our size.

Continuing on our way we met Elton Baldwin with Dorothy Alm and Ivan "Cactus" Johnson squiring Norma Severson. It was mentioned that the latter couple are casually acquainted. Which means that the "Cactus" is finally sticking.

We heard the little big shot of AGD, Marge Fjeld, humming the new tune, "Is It Love or Is it Conspiration?" to Doc Foreman, first lieutenant in Uncle Sam's medical corps. We left then and came back in forty-five minutes just as Marge was taking leave, with the army, after a short stay of an hour and a half. Says Marge, "My, are you still here?" Funny how time flies!

Goldys Fuzzy Hare

In the corner booth, through the courtesy of deLendrecies Men Store, we found Kenny Jones with his Blonde Bomber. Speaking about Gold we're curious how much of it Kenny put out for that fuzzy rabbit from the Hasty that Helen had with her.

We are happy to announce that the Co-op boys are hitting their stride. Brothers Novak and Moderow were much present with Dot Monson and Elgene Armstrong. We aren't sure who was with who so figure it out yourself. Regardless, we were glad to see them having the fun we weren't.

It seems that Jean Mason who knows clothes, feels that jeweled accessories are in order this spring, and Bill Guy is in agreement with her. In other words, he hung it.

On the other hand Jim Fahrer and Marge Nees, of the Balcony Scene, have agreed to disagree. I may be wrong but I'd swear that Marge was humming the new song "Do You Know Why", last nite between scenes at the Brevities.

As long as we're in this vein we'll continue with a little pin hanging by prolix which occurred over at the Brevities office. Lorraine Fitjar was on the receiving end with Minute Maxie Campbell doing the honors for Brother Art Lahlum, who is with the army in Newfoundland.

Phooey To Kibitzers

It seems strange that with so much attention given to etiquette the men and women of the campus with lectures and such, that something can't be done about the social education of some who come from surroundings where the party line is still in use and when the bell rings they all come out of their corners fighting for the phone. However, we feel that while listening in on other people's phone calls is fun and a cheap form of recreation. IT'S TOO CHEAP! So why not find these girls dates and thus help them to get calls all their own.

Broadway Hit Vehicle For '41 All-College Show

Production Directors

LORRAINE FITJAR is the director of this year's Brevities. Upon her shoulders has fallen the problem of co-ordination and supervision necessary for the success of the show.

MAX CAMPBELL is the business manager of the production. Due to the great cost of staging this year's showing his task has been anything but a small one.

Students Rapidly Complete Work On Annual Production

When the curtains roll apart and the house lights of Festival hall dim Thursday night at 8 P. M. all-student cast of 30 will present the Broadway musical hit Too Many Girls. A second performance is scheduled for Friday.

Weeks of tedious practice under the direction of Lorraine Fitjar have produced what she hopes will be one of the smoothest performances ever given since the Brevities was inaugurated under the sponsorship of Blue Key.

Large Staff

Behind the scenes an estimated 70 production workers have toiled selling ads for the program, preparing scenery, copying music, revising scripts, selling tickets and a myriad of other tasks that go with the production of a big-time show.

Plot Romantic

The plot concerns Connie, Harriet Shigley, a pampered heiress, who decides to go to Potowattamie college in New Mexico because her heart-throb, Beverly Waverly, Bob Anderson, a foppish English poet has a ranch there. Her father, Harvey Casey, played by Leonard King, hires four great football players, Al, Herb Harris, Clint, Pat Regan; Jojo, Kenny Jones, and Manuelito, Wayne Gustafson, bodyguards to keep Connie out of mischief. At the school there are 10 girls for every male, hence the title. Clint falls for Connie and the rest of the boys have a few romantic incidents between football games with most of the outstanding schools in the country.

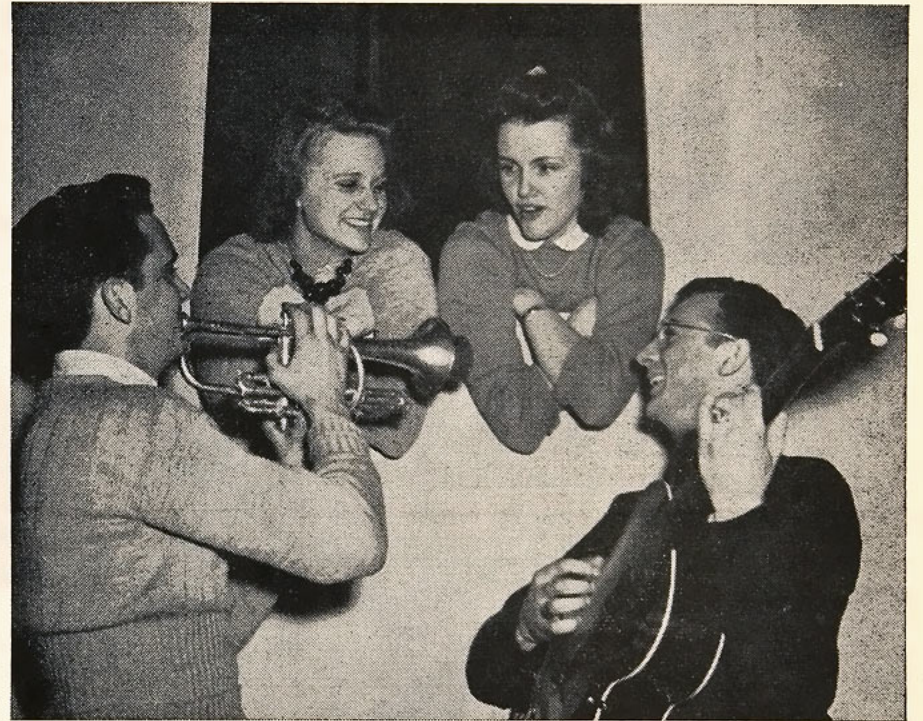

Working out under the direction of Paul Hanson, music director, is a chorus consisting of Mary Ford, Genevieve Lindemann, Minette Meidinger, Dolores Huether, Janice Nelson, Elaine Nygard, June Persinger, Gayle McDowell, Molly McDonald, Polly Carter, Grace Bergan, Paul Huss, Al Sandsmark, Robert Myhra, John Berg, Don Hamilton, Vince Mayoue and Homer Goebel.

NOTICE

Too Many Girls Calls For Serenade

HERB HARRIS, on the right, has not swallowed a lemon; he is not suffering from an acute attack of spring fever, nor is Pat Regan blowing taps for the latest bunch of draftees. They are merely serenading a couple of fair co-eds, Esther Gunvaldsen and Harriet Shigley, down at Pottowattamie college in Pottowattamie, N. M.

Brevities Tickets Going Fast; Gallagher Predicts Sellout

Downtown Sales Open This Week; Booths At Herbst, deLendrecie's

According to a check-up made Thursday night by Buck Gallagher, sales manager for the Bison Brevities of 1941, the ticket sales are off to a grand start. A complete sell-out is predicted by Gallagher. Thursday night, April 3, has been set aside as all-college night at TOO MANY GIRLS. It is suggested that the college organizations buy tickets in a block to permit your group to attain seats together.

Three trophies are to be awarded to the fraternity, sorority, and independent group selling the greatest number of tickets for the show. Students are asked to purchase their tickets from group ticket sales managers and then contact the Brevities office from 1 to 4 any afternoon for reservations. The down-town ticket sales start this week-end with booths being placed at Black's, Herbst's and deLendrecie's. Down-town sales are under the management of Tootie O'Laughlin and Jean Mason.

Thursday Showing Of 'Too Many Girls' Set For Collegians

Dedicated especially to collegiate patrons will be the Thursday night performance of Too Many Girls.

Urging students to attend this performance which begins at 8 p. m. Buck Gallagher, ticket sales manager, hinted that there might be a surprise in store for the fraternity and sorority having the largest representation present.

At this performance the cups offered to the campus organizations selling the most Brevities tickets will be awarded with cups going to the men's organization and the Independent group with the best sales.

Groups wishing to sit together in blocks may reserve the same at the Brevities office.

Blue Key Sponsors '41 Bison Brevities

Blue Key service fraternity sponsors the Bison Brevities again this year for the twelfth consecutive time.

Taking the form of a musical comedy in 1933, the production was called the Brevities first in 1928. At that time and up until 1933, the show was made up of different acts presented by competing campus social groups. In 1929, Blue Key first took over the production which was held in the old Orpheum theatre.

Prior to 1928 the show was staged on "Gay Cat Day," an all-college day, held in Festival Hall, home of the present Bison Brevities musical, Too Many Girls.

Settings, Original Music Featured

Old Festival Hall will assume that professional air tomorrow when $800 worth of lighting and staging equipment will arrive by train, enabling Bill Snyder, technical director, and Mason Arvold, stage designer, to complete their plans for five complete shifts of scenery and a never-to-be-forgotten lighting system.

Large Stage Crew

This is one of the hardest Brevities shows ever produced and as a result of this Snyder has assembled one of the largest stage crews in the history of the annual NDAC production. Pat Bjorklund is stage manager with Melford Fritsvold as stage carpenter. He is assisted by Howard Leikvold, Frank Wilson and Don Monek.

Bill Bernier, a veteran of last year's show, is stage electrician aided by Tom Challoner. Evangeline Schwartz is assistant stage manager. In charge of properties is Beth Ann Piers assisted by Dorismary Bader. These two teamed with Fritsvold and Snyder in painting the sets for TOO MANY GIRLS.

Expensive Sets

The budget for the lighting and stage equipment for this year far exceeds any ever allowed for a Bison production. The sets, as they have been designed by Arvold and erected by Snyder, are made so as to be fit to take on the road for out-of-town performances.

The stage crew has worked continually for the past month preparing the original backgrounds for the scenes of TOO MANY GIRLS. Members of the crew have cooperated with the rest of the production staff in attempting to make the nationally-known musical as original as possible and an all-NDAC show.

Music for the 1941 Bison Brevities will be varied with an abundance of original material written by students together with many old favorites to delight the audience.

Among the original melodies written by some of the campus artisans of polyphony and counterpoint are "Why Did You Lie to Me", original words and music written by Warren Hanson, sung by Harriet Shigley. The Brevities chorus will sing Paul Hanson's composition "Money in My Pocket." "Potowattamie," original music written by Charles Dills, will be sung by the Chorus. Esther Gunvaldsen will sing "Too Many Girls", original music for which was written by Geraldine Wisheart. "Don't Tempt Me", words and music by Warren Hanson, will be sung by the sextet with Wayne Gustafson as soloist, and then by the Herb Harris, Pat Regan and Kenny Jones trio.

Other songs to charm the lovers of gentle melodies written by Richard Rodgers with lyrics by Lorenz Hart are "Love Never Went to College", sung by Pat Regan; Kay McDunn's rendition of "Spic and Spanish"; "I Want to Recognize a Tune" by Kenny Jones; Wayne Gustafson will sing "She Could Shake the Moroccos"; and "I Didn't Know What Time it Was" by Harriet Shigley and Pat Regan.

Musical background for the show will be furnished by the Bison Brevities Orchestra under the direction of Paul Hanson.

A Spring Fashion Preview

Spring is here and a young man's fancy turns to love—and clothes. Just glance around this page for the proof.

According to style experts, our young college chum will veer closer and closer toward the sport clothes trend. Even for "town wear" the young man will dress in sport jacket, slacks, soft shirt, sleeveless sweater and brogues.

The big strong husky men pictured on this page are wearing ensembles not only representative of NDAC but of almost every college in the United States.

Covert cloth, that hardy suit material, will again lead the field in popularity if advance notices mean anything. Blues and browns will also be predominate in both tweeds and worsteds.

Color will be the keynote of the collegians wardrobe with vivid hues prominently displayed from shirt to shoes. With sport clothes in vogue again this season, males can count on comfort plus.

As to what milady is doing for herself this spring, glance down the page a bit and you will find out.

Shirley Putz patriotically clicks the camera in a red, white and blue bolero dress from the Bargain Basement of The Store Without A Name. The eagle insignia on her pocket and buttons is repeated again on her military beret. There's a new note, too, in the soft round neckline of her blouse.

Patriotic Gadgets Adorn Milady's Dress

By ANN MURPHY, SPECTRUM STYLE EDITOR

Gadgets that thrill the feminine heart and add distinction to her spring costume. Every spring presents a new crop. And this spring the tune of fashion is played in military rythm. Eagles, flags, color bars, emblems all harmonize with those best of spring colors—red white and blue. Even the capes so dear to girls of every age, sport trim braid and military buttons.

However, "Miss Spring, 1941" reflects more than her ardent patriotism. She upholds the Good Neighbor policy, in strictly feminine Spanish lace on a splashy peasant dress.

This is the cry of Spring, 1941—Hurrah for the Red, White and Blue and Vive Americano del Sud.

Redingotes and Capes worn by Harriet Shigley and Mildred Strong, are just two of the new fashions you will find in

NDAC Has Part In Defense Program

America's industrial sections have nothing on NDAC in the matter of national defense activities. In full swing at the AC are several programs for the training of young men and women to step into technical jobs in many industries upon which the nation depends for a well-rounded defense.

Under the supervision of Dean R. M. Dolve, shops in the engineering laboratories of the college are in almost constant use training young men in such work as welding and machine shop.

Night Courses

Night courses from 7 p. m. to 3 a. m. in gas welding, arc welding, and machine shop are offered five days a week to men with previous experience. Upon completion of the 10-week course these men are given aid through a nationwide employment agency in securing positions in defense industries. The college is co-operating with the WPA and the State Employment office in executing the program.

An NYA project under the direction of Ronald C. Bauer is the construction of an engineering laboratory on the campus by 120 young North Dakotans in return for 10 months of practical training in welding, forging, machine shop, gas engines, radio communications and mechanical drawing. These students, who have quarters in Dakota Hall, spend 100 hours a month on the construction project and 20 hours weekly in training courses. In addition 25 local men are receiving instructions in woodworking through NYA and NDAC.

Out of School Training

Among other divisions at NDAC busy on defense matters are the Department of Agricultural Education and the state headquarters of the supervisor of Home Economic Education in charge of the training of out-of-school boys and girls in general preemployment at high schools all over the state.

Much time and thought are being given such vital defense needs as proper nutrition and clothing by the School of Home Economics and specialists of the Extension Service. The Schools of Pharmacy and Chemical Technology also contributing to national defense through the training of Russell Heine, freshman in agriculture, has been named by H. E. Rilling, state club leader of the NDAC Extension Service as one of four North Dakota 4-H members whose consistent records in club membership and activities have earned for them the right to represent the state at the National 4-H club camp in Washington, D. C., June 18 to 25.

Delegation to the national camp, which is attended by club members from nearly every state, is one of the most outstanding recognitions available to North Dakota 4-H members.

YW Has Buffet Supper Featuring Model Cabinet

Blue Key Initiates Five Thursday Night

Blue Key initiation was held last night in Ceres hall with Larry Tanberg presiding. Dick Crockett, Ray Stangler, Ray Toman, Clark Heggness and Kenny Neumann were initiated into the service fraternity. Discussion centered around plans for the Bison Brevities which is sponsored by the group.

Kostka Takes Over

Spring football drills at NDAC are scheduled to get started next week. The initial meeting of varsity candidates has been set for Monday by Stan Kostka, the new Bison mentor.

Kostka will devote the first meeting to getting better acquainted with the material at hand and will explain the difference between the new Minnesota system that will be introduced and the systems that have been used by the Bison coaching staff the past few seasons. The Notre Dame system was used by C. C. Finnegan up until last year when the Warner single wing offense was adopted.

Uniforms will be issued to candidates Tuesday and the first official drills will be held on the following day. All work will be done indoors until the weather permits outside activity.

No definite time has been set for the ending of the spring training sessions but it is expected that Kostka will schedule an intra-squad game to wind up the workouts.

Cagers Name Co-Captains

Arnold (Swede) Johnson and Johnny Abbott are the co-captains-elect of next year's NDAC Bison basketball team. They were named to succeed Larry Tanberg at a dinner held Wednesday night in honor of the new conference champions—namely Coach Bob Lowe and his 11-man squad which reigns supreme over the NCI.

Johnson has been the tower of strength about which the Bison attack has been built for the last two years. As a sophomore last spring he was picked as all-conference and won individual scoring honors. This season he led the Bison offensive in their drive to the title and reaped scoring and conference honors for the second straight year. In fact he bettered his point-getting record of last season.

After starring on the Baby Bison his freshman year at NDAC, Abbott moved up to the varsity and has been an important cog in the Yellow and Green basketball machine ever since. Not an exceptionally strong offensive player, Abbott has proven his worth as a fine defensive performer and inspiring team player. The role of captain will not be new to the Bison guard since he led Fargo high school's state championship team of 1938.

Coaches Pick Two Lowemen

Coaches from the seven schools in the North Central conference chose a ten-player all-conference basketball team at a conference meeting in Minneapolis last Sunday.

Players named to the honor-team are Arnold Johnson, NDAC, and Fred Grau, NDU, centers; Don Green, Iowa Teachers., Ronald Salyards Omaha, Bruce Stevenson, NDU, and Delbert Langstaff, Morningside, forwards; Larry Tanberg, NDAC, Elroy LeMaster, SDU, John Billington, SDS, and Robert Esau, Iowa Teachers, guards.

A nine-man team selected for the Fargo Forum by a group of coaches, college publicity directors, and student sports editors named Tanberg and Jim Fletcher, NDAC and Salyards, forwards; Johnson and Grau, centers; Bob Matthews, Omaha, Esau and Billington, guards.

Tanberg In Final Phantom Contests

Larry Tanberg, Bison basketball captain and all-conference selection, joined the Bismarck Phantoms March 15 to play in the world's championship professional basketball tournament in Chicago.

The Bismarck team, whose roster includes Russ Anderson, Acey Olson, Bob Finnegan and Emmett Birk, former Bison and Sioux stars, was defeated by the Philadelphia Hebrews, 48-30, in the opening round.

Tanberg started for the Phantoms against the Minneapolis Ascension Gophers on the NDAC court last Saturday when the Phantoms evened a three-game series by defeating the Minneapolis team 57-49, after dropping the opening game at Bismarck the night before.

The Capitol City five took the last game, 50-41, at Glenwood, Minn., March 24.

Closing their season tonight on the NDAC floor, the Phantoms will play the world famous Harlem Globe Trotters, last year's professional champions. The Trotters were eliminated in the first round of the same Chicago tournament in which the Bismarck Squad competed.

Smith's Hopes High For Bison Trackmen

With four returning lettermen and a large squad of new candidates expected to report as soon as the weather is more favorable to track and field events, Coach Johnny Smith hopes to build a strong Bison cinder team that will be every bit as good as the NDAC representatives of last season.

Larry Tanberg, Bob Sheard, Bill Herm and Cliff Nygard are the monogram winners coming back for another year of competition. Lost to the Herd will be Bernie Bermann, Vern Johnson and Jim Maxwell, who graduated and Terry Carey who left school to join the army air corps.

NDAC will be host to the annual North Dakota state inter-collegiate track meet to be held in the stadium on May 23-24. This is the first large meet held at NDAC and all North Dakota colleges are expected to send representatives in an attempt to dethrone the Bison who have been rulers of state track events for the past two years.

North Dakota university will lead the assault against the Herd with eight other colleges in the state looked for as additional contenders for the title.

Biggest loss to the Herd will be Bermann, who holds the conference record in the 440-yard run. Besides competing in this event, last year's Bison captain was anchor man on the mile relay team and took part in the 100, 220, and the broad jump.

Herm is the only member of last year's tough mile relay team to return this spring. The Hettinger speedster will also enter the dash events with the 440 as his specialty. Nygard runs the half mile and was on the sprint medley team that won that event at the Dragon Relays last spring.

Tanberg and Sheard are the only hopefuls that Smith has to count on so far in the field events. Tanberg, the conference's outstanding athlete, competes in the high jump and pole vault. Sheard specializes in the javelin and pairs up with Tanberg to give the NDAC squad two strong contenders in the discus event.

Play in the intra-mural basketball league moves into its final stages next week with three nights of battle left before the division champions can be named.

Both brackets are going to prove interesting to watch since there is strong competition in each section. There is a possibility of ties for the lead in both divisions.

Kappa Sigma Chi, defending intra-mural champion, must win both games remaining on its schedule in order to get into the title playoff. Tuesday they face the SAEs and are heavily favored to win but on Thursday night the AGRs will furnish the opposition and the outcome may be an entirely different story.

Should the Kappa Sigs fall by the wayside in one of their remaining games and should the Coops win their final contests, a playoff for the bracket title will be necessary.

In Division A, two teams will stake all their chances on the outcome of games to be played on Wednesday night. The current leaders, the Engineers and the Independents, each have one game to play. The Independents face the Dugout and the Engineers tangle with the Sigma Phi Deltas. All records point to victories for the leaders and in this event a playoff will be needed to decide the team that enters the battle for the league title.
