Lincoln Theme Used In Farm, Home Program

UND-AC Debate, Forum, Tableau Of Gettysburg Address Features Of Day

Lincoln's birthday, Feb. 12, will be the focal point around which the fourteenth annual Neighborhood day program will be built.

As a part of the Farm and Home week program, the day includes a debate at 2 p. m. between UND and NDAC representatives, to be followed by an open forum in the seminar room. The subject will be Resolved: That nations of the western hemisphere should form a permanent union.

A singing school and spelling bee is scheduled for 5 in the Little Country Theater.

At 5 a group discussion on neighborhood activities is scheduled. A tableau of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address with Helmuth Froeschle as Lincoln and Betty Lou Pannebaker as Mary Todd Lincoln will be presented at 6.

The customary Lincoln day dinner begins at 6:30, with the menu based on the great emancipator's favorite dishes. The dinner program includes H. L. Walster speaking on Lincoln as a country gentleman; A. E. Minard speaking on Justin S. Morrill, originator of the land grant college act; and Hal Chisholm speaking on outstanding incidents in Lincoln's life.

About ten neighborhoods from various parts of the state will participate in the evening program, beginning at 7:30. Features will be the Page band and Lloyd Collins, organist.

In addition, states A. G. Arvold, general director of the event, exhibits will be placed in the various theater rooms. Ray Novak, president of the Lincoln Club, will preside over the days' activities.

International Features Dogs

For the third consecutive year the "Dog Show" will be one of the highlights of the Little International Livestock Exposition. Frank Carlisle, manager of this year's dog show, urges all dog owners to enter their dog, or dogs, in the contest. There will be a class for every canine specimen entered—from the pedigreed to the mongrel with a cup to be awarded to the grand champion of all classes.

Another highlight of the Exposition will be the co-ed milking contest. This annual affair pits a representative from each sorority, Ceres Hall, and the I.S.A. in a contest of squeezing and squirting that lasts for two minutes flat. The co-ed who can entice the most milk from the bovine specie is awarded a traveling trophy and crowned the "Milking Queen."

Frank Johnson and Elton Baldwin, manager and assistant manager, respectively, of the exposition state that plans are materializing rapidly. Entries in the student showmanship and fitting contest are working daily on their exhibits. Students wishing to enter the contest are urged to select exhibits immediately if they wish to have a good animal to work with.

Ivan Johnson, tickets sales manager, states that ticket sales are mounting rapidly. A ticket sales contest between sororities is in full swing. The sorority selling the most tickets will be presented with a trophy, and also the honor of having one of their members act as mistress of awards.

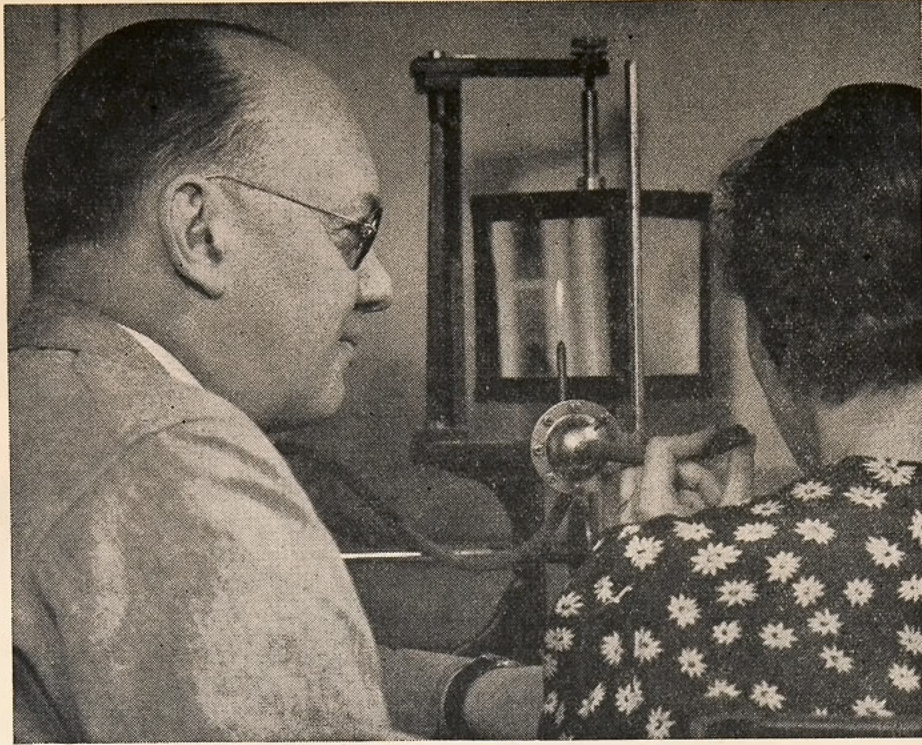

Phi Kappa Phi Elects Five Seniors

Five new members were elected to Phi Kappa Phi, national honorary scholastic society, at a regular meeting last week.

Selected from the upper 10 per cent of the senior class, those receiving the honor were Kenneth Neumann, applied rats and science; Robert Bogan and Kemble Lewis, school of chemical technology; Raymond Boone and Raymond Olson, school of agriculture.

Initiation for these new members will be held later in the term.

Dr. West, Clinic Director, In Testing Lab

LCT Speech Institute Begins Wed.

Since the advent of the radio the value of correcting speech defects has become essential in every walk of life. Recognizing the importance of this, the Little Country Theater has scheduled a 4-day speech institute beginning Wednesday morning, Feb. 5. Robert West, director of the speech clinic and professor of speech pathology at the University of Wisconsin has been secured to conduct the institute.

He will discuss such subjects as speech defects (stammering), phonetics, speech mechanism, the American style of speech, speech correction provincialism in American speech, speech standards, purposeful speaking and rehabilitation of speech as well as hold conferences with students and people who have faulty speech habits.

Dr. West is considered one of the outstanding men in the country in his chosen field. His record of honors and achievements lists him as a fellow of the American Speech Correction Association, member of the National Association of Teachers of Speech; and chairman of the sub-committee on The Child Defective in Speech of the White House Conference on Child Health and Protection called by President Hoover in Washington in 1930.

West received his Ph.D. degree at the University of Wisconsin, having written his thesis on the nature of vocal sounds. He is the author of three widely-used books, "Purposeful Speaking", "Rehabilitation of Speech" and "Phonetics," as well as a contributor to several magazines.

He will arrive in Fargo Wednesday morning, Feb. 5, by airplane from Madison. For a schedule of the institute's events see page 3.

The Little Country Theater extends a cordial invitation to all persons interested in better and more effective speech to attend any and all sessions. Parents who wish to confer with Dr. West relative to speech defects in their children are requested to call Gwendolyn Stenehjem.

Brevities Heads Announce Business, Cast Positions

Cast Additions

Additions to the cast of Too Many Girls, 1941 Bison Brevities production, were announced Thursday by director Lorraine Fitzjar.

The parts of Harvey Casey, millionaire, and his secretary, Mr. Lister, will be taken by Leonard King and John Fortune, respectively. Muriel Janzen will play Mrs. Tewksbury and Dick Carley will take the part of the sheriff.

Dance directors for the musical comedy will be Genevieve Graber and Bob McCracken.

Tryouts for the singing and dancing chorus will continue Tuesday from 2 to 4.

A meeting of the production staff will be at 5 Tuesday.

Business Staff

Reo Carr has been named advertising manager of the 1941 Bison Brevities, Max Campbell, business manager, announced this week. Carr's assistants will be Homer Goebel, William Boehrs, Ralph Boldt, Maxine Schlagel and Don Husted.

John Blake was picked as manager of the publicity committee, assisted by Dick Crockett, Jim Ford and Grace Colberg.

Ticket sales were placed under the direction of Paul Gallagher, who will be aided by John O'Laughlin, Jean Mason and Ann Livingstone.

Secretaries appointed for the Brevities staff are Mary McCannel and Kenneth Neumann.

Dates set for the production, which will be held in Festival Hall, are April 3 and 4.

AC Sends Debaters To Mayville Sat.

Seven schools including NDAC, UND, MSTC, Concordia, Jamestown college, Mayville Teacher's College, and Valley City Teacher's College, will compete in a practice debate contest at Mayville tomorrow.

Students and teams representing NDAC are as follows: Glen Gullickson and Ray Novak, Muriel Janzen and Phyllis Carlson, John and Keith Irwin, Gorman King and Henry Richardson, Dorothy Cull and Norma Severson, Mary Dahl and Betty Jean Brattland. Helmuth Froeschle is student manager.

Feb. 1 has been set as the date for the annual declamatory contest sponsored by LCT. Those who have entered, to date, are: Warren Kludt, last year's winner, Joel Nelson, Harveydale Maruska, Wesley St. John, and Kathleen Strandvold. Gwendolyn Stenehjem is in charge.

PLAN HOBBY SHOW

Plans for the annual YMCA-YWCA hobby show to be staged Feb. 26-27 in the college YMCA are being arranged by Ed Lokken and Alagene Jeffries, assisted by Ray Flath, Arnold Stockstead and John Finney.

AC Officials Plan Farm, Home Week

Farm Families Register Monday; Crops, Soil Will Occupy First Day

"Something educational or entertaining every minute" is the slogan adopted by NDAC officials and staff members who are arranging the program for the college's Farm & Home Week, Feb. 10, 11 and 12.

Following registration on Monday, Feb. 10, visiting farm families will hear a concert by NDAC's famous Gold Star Band under the direction of "Doc" C. S. Putnam. Then will come an address of welcome and the introduction of the deans of divisions of the college.

Crops, Soils Meetings

Group meetings on crops and soils the keynote of the first day's activities will complete the morning schedule. After a pot-luck luncheon, Dr. Frank L. Eversull, NDAC president, will address the Farm & Home Week visitors, and further crops and soils discussions will complete the afternoon program.

Highlighting Monday evening's entertainment will be the annual Recognition Banquet sponsored by Saddle and Siroloin Club. This year Kenneth McGregor, nationally-prominent Aberdeen-Angus breeder of Ada, Minn., will be honored by the club for his contribution to northwest livestock progress.

Tuesday, Feb. 11, will be observed as Livestock Day and Homemakers Day on the Farm & Home Week program, according to present plans. Men will attend group meeting at which various livestock topics will be discussed, and farm women will be guests of the NDAC School of Home Economics at other meetings. Included on the Homemakers program are discussions on textiles, styles, home lighting, home equipment, foods, and hobbies. A play on family relations will be given by students, and possibility for a state organization of Homemakers Clubs will be discussed. H. L. Walster, dean of agriculture and director of the experiment station, will speak at 1:30 Tuesday.

Livestock Show

Tuesday evening Farm and Home Week visitors will be entertained at the Little International Livestock Show given by students of the School of Agriculture. This is an annual event at the college, the show being patterned after the famous Chicago exposition.

Wednesday, Feb. 12, has been set aside as Conference Day on the Farm & Home Week program. Special topics to be discussed include agricultural engineering, plant pathology, cereal technology and agricultural economics. It is hoped that Gov. John Moses will be able to present. In the evening a Lincoln day dinner and program will be given in the Little Country Theater at the college.

Plan Sing Contest For All-College Day

Delegates met Wednesday afternoon to formulate plans for the annual Spring Sing contest, sponsored by the Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity.

The contest is tentatively scheduled to be held in Festival Hall on All-College Day. Entrants are to sing one contest number, to be selected by Ernst Van Vlissingen, and one more entry of their own choice. Traveling trophies are to be awarded the winners of the fraternity and sorority groups.

As of Wednesday evening the following groups had entered: fraternities; Alpha Gamma Rho, Alpha Tau Omega, Sigma Chi, Theta Chi and Sigma Alpha Epsilon; sororities; Gamma Phi Beta, Kappa Delta, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Phi Omega Pi, Alpha Gamma Delta and Phi Mu.

AAUW MEETS FRIDAY

The American Association of University Women together with the Fargo-Moorhead Open Forum will meet Friday, Jan. 31, at the Emerson Smith School. Paul Sheats will address the group and a social hour will follow the discussion. Students and faculty will be guests of the Association.

CAA Applications For Spring Program Due Tomorrow

Contact! That's one of the first technical terms the student pilot learns. And with that the student is off to new and varied experiences incidental to learning the why's and wherefore's of flying under Uncle Sam's CPTP (Civilian pilot training program). And this is one last attempt to contact all students who wish to take advantage of the opportunity.

Students, men and women, interested in applying for flight training under the spring CAA program must submit applications by Feb. 1 (tomorrow). Prof. H. S. Rush is in charge of registration for both the primary and secondary training. Primary enrollment is limited to 30 students, and advanced registration has a quota of 10. If you are interested—if you are between the ages of 18 and 26, apply at the Engineering building immediately.

Ground instruction, scheduled for 4 p. m. four days a week, is under the direction of Prof. A. W. Anderson who has instructed each of the three preceding groups. This ground course includes the study of air regulations, theory of flight, engines and instruments, history of aviation, navigation, and meteorology. Four academic credits are offered for those taking the course.

With spring just around the corner, flying weather will be ideal. Actual flying will begin about the last of February. The spring program will be concluded around June 1.

Hall Of Fame

KENNETH MCGREGOR, internationally known livestock breeder and former manager of the Hartley Stock Farms, will be honored by Saddle and Siroloin club at a recognition banquet Feb. 11, when they will unveil his portrait prior to hanging it in the Hall of Fame maintained by the club.

ART CLUB TEA TODAY

A group of lithographs and etchings on tour from the University of Iowa is on display in Old Main.

Tea will be served this afternoon from 3 to 5. Vesta Werner is in charge.

LSA NOTICE

An urgent call is made for all Lutheran students to attend the LSA meeting on Feb. 2, 5 p. m. at the College Y. If you enjoy musical programs, spiritual encouragement and fun, attend the meeting Sunday evening.

where are the gripers

Even though we often hear NDAC students criticizing their student commission, they are evidently doing it in fun. If this is not the case, these critics must just be too lazy to do anything about it.

There is an announcement in another section of this issue of a similar open meeting next week. Why not attend and give the Student Commission a little backing on one of the most progressive steps towards democratic student government they could make?

Tips On Toppers Of The Week

Newest aviation movie to be released is "I Wanted Wings," based on the life of army flyers. Oddly enough, this picture which will cost the studio at least $1,500,000 before it is finished, includes a cast of flyers.

Recorded Music

"Nights in the Gardens of Spain" by the Spanish composer, de Falla, is the glamour item of the month (Victor Album M-725). This impressionistic music is performed by Lucette Descaves, pianist, and the Paris Conservatory orchestra under Eugene Bigot.

"Eleven Piano Pieces" by Rachimaninoff and played by the master himself (Victor Album M-722) is a collection that Rachmaninoff addicts have wanted for a long time.

On the Air

Donald Douglass, who rose from a desk in one corner of a barber shop to the presidency of a company making planes which carry 85 percent of the world's air passengers and freight, will speak from Los Angeles during a "Wings Over America" program devoted to his career and presented over NBC-WDAY, on Sunday, Feb. 2, at 11:30 a. m.

Bits Of Brevity By Blake

Every week the same thing. Habit forming, isn't it? Well at least I'm better off than one Bill Borderud. In a local history course (we can't mention teachers) a catch question was asked about the reviews of a history book listed in the library.

How about that sign over at the Y: "Social Diseases. For Men Only." Cay Casselman goes up and adds, They Can Have Them.

Tootie O'Laughlin was sitting in the library the other afternoon complaining of the dullness of the place. In walks Jean Mason—"Well—but gee, that doesn't happen every day," says T. O. We didn't mean nothing, Tootie, please don't make me go to the POP open house this week. I do so hate to be alone.

That game last weekend at Bismarck was between the Bison and the Bismarck Phantoms and was played at the Patterson Hotel with the Bottineau Forestry School Girls team. The fellows didn't get home from the High Hat until too late

Back To Nature

Assuming that mother nature will lend her support or that they have enough men around the place to put the thing across, the men of the maltese cross are launched on a campaign to raise either a beard or a mustache by Mar. 7 when we play the University here for the third game in the series.

The Price of Success

Most harrassed men of the week are ball managers Kenny Neumann and Ray Toman. For the first time the boys are finding out just what a bevy of feminine admirers they really have. Of course it's only coincidence that it should become obvious at a time when the fellas have finally reached the pinnacle, but shucks, one can't be a silent admirer forever.

Squeeze Chute

Effectively stifling the two-way traffic and somewhat of a worry to the guy in a hurry is the new double door over at the college post office. Simplifying the matter is the fact that both doors open the same way and if you get half way through the gauntlet about the time some guy finds out there is no money in that letter from home or that his girl still thinks more of the other bird he comes charging out and you get the squeeze.

The Lesser Minds

What with mid-terms a whole week off and practically nothing going on except the man hunt that seniors who didn't get their pictures in the Bison are staging for Bill Guy, there come this week rumors of another tournament, not roses or bridge but cribbage this time.

Important New Books

In years to come, historians may consult Frederick Schuman's "Night Over Europe" (Knopf, $3.50) as one of the most authoritative and scholarly documents on the world's present plight. This is by no means easy reading, but for those who want to know, here is the answer to how the Spanish republic was betrayed, how Czecho-Slovakia was conquered, what brought about Stalin's pact with Hitler, and how the Nazi legions operate.

"The Donkey Inside" by Ludwig Bemelmans (Viking Press, $3.00) is a travelogue which chronicles Bemelmans' trip to little-known Ecuador and his impressions of its people. But nothing farther from the usual travel book can be imagined than this strange and fascinating volume.

Cyclopedia Fails To Reveal Biggest Current News Item

While scanning through the Britannica for a suitable topic for a feature, Ye editor informed me that she had forgotten to tell all freshman reporters that the upper classmen preferred something light. "Light?" says I. "Yes, light," she said. "Oh, you mean light," says I. (Well that took up a line didn't it).

Do you mean the bulby kind of light or the kind that is what an elephant isn't? Well the light dawned (it was getting bored, you see) when she explained in no uncertain terms she meant something carefree, subtle and, if at all possible, with a touch of humor. Just like a flash I thought of the war—while picking the editor up off the floor, she moaned "Okay, we'll compromise; tell them about mid-terms."

Yes sir, you'll get the nicest little Valentine the week of Feb. 10-15, all wrapped up in a heart shaped box with greetings. For instance your chemistry teacher might say: "Roses are red, violets are blue, sugar is sweet, but what the heck is the formula?"

Or your French instructor might come by with "Je vous aime, je vous adore, but decline in the fem, or out the door!"

Yet, the faculty has given us all their love and care for five weeks. Now, we will give 7% of it back at midterms or else. Just as Joe said the day after New Year's, "It all comes back to me now. I remember someone relating the fact this is a short term."

City Panhellenic Elects New Officers

Mrs. David Miller, Gamma Phi Beta, was elected president of the City Panhellenic Association at a meeting held Tuesday, Jan. 28, in the lounge of Old Main. She replaces Mrs. John Shafer. Mrs. Hubert Smith, Phi Omega Pi, was named vice president succeeding Mrs. Miller.

Plans for a public benefit bridge were discussed. It is scheduled for Saturday, February 15, at 2 p.m. in the College Y Auditorium. Tables are being solicited from active, pledge, and alumni chapters of sororities and fraternities on the campus at 25 cents per person. A table prize will be given at each individual table for the highest score.

Proceeds go to the $50 scholarship awarded to an upper classwoman. Evelyn Arntson is the present recipient.

Initiates, New Pledges Feature Greek Activities

It seems the Theta Chi pledge class has grown a bit lately with the pledging of six new men, Clint Riggan, Nels Thompson, Glenn Hegga, Don Laraway, Bill Barlow and Paul Moores while Aubrey Hill and Mark Cull were initiated into the active chapter. Late initiates into the Sig Phi Delt chapter are Frank Smylie, Albert Olesberg and Barnell Seby at initiation services Sunday, Jan. 26; John Hest was pledged last Monday. Don Swenson, Hendrum, Minn., recently joined the pledges at the ATO house, while the boys there are planning an informal party at the house Saturday after the game with Sgts. and Mmes. White and Detroit as chaperones. Homer Goebel and George Koch are in charge.

The Gamma Phis will initiate Pattie Follet and Mrs. Jardine at ceremonies on Sunday, Feb. 2. Pledging was held Tuesday for Kathleen Strandvold at the Phi Mu house and Friday will see the pledges there sponsoring a cake and coffee sale from 4 to 6.

Modeling Contest Plans Being Formulated

Plans for a snow modeling contest on the campus of NDAC to be held in connection with the Jack Frost Winter Carnival Feb. 14-16 are rapidly going forward.

All fraternities, sororities, and other organizations will be eligible to compete for two cups, one for men and one for women, to be furnished by the carnival committee for the organization displaying the greatest snow sculpturing ability.

Perley Draffehn has been named chairman of the committee with Thomas Woods and Bruce Bjornstad assisting.

Groups are urged to take advantage of the weather and get going on ideas.

Dead Pan Alley

OUT BY MAURINE STEINER

Frank Johnson (Agr. Sr.) is all the College Directory says about this man, but what stories the local brass rails could tell were they able to speak! He puts up a big "front"—that's true, but on the level, it's all stomach and Budweiser.

He is the manager of this year's Little International Livestock Exposition which comes off on Feb. 11th. You'll see him over there. The livestock and "Pork", as he is affectionately called, will both be well groomed, but there's no mistaking him—he'll be wearing shoes and stuff like that thar.

NOTICE

Bill Guy, Bison editor, announces gently but firmly that sororities and fraternities who do not want their pages to look as blank as between your ears will jolly well get some informal snapshots in his hands but quick.

REV. MOE TO SPEAK

Speaker at the Lutheran Students Association meeting Sunday will be the Rev. J. M. Moe, pastor of the Olivet Lutheran Church. Frank Bauman is in charge.

Faculty Dance Group To Hold Third Party

About sixty couples are expected to attend the third dance of the Faculty Dancing Club to be held Monday Feb. 3 from 9 to 12 in Festival Hall. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Wilmer are in charge of the affair which is to be semi-formal. Lee Stenehjem's orchestra will play. Refreshments will be served.

There will be a meeting of the Independent Students Association Monday, Feb. 3 at 7:30 p.m.

Here's the refreshing treat you really go for... delicious DOUBLEMINT GUM

English Teaching Odds Listed

Editor's note: This is the third of a series of articles surveying teaching possibilities in North Dakota.

Q. Which high school teaching field requires the largest number of teachers? A. English. Over one-fifth of all high school teachers spend more time teaching English than any other subject. No study of conditions in North Dakota has been made. There are enough classes in English to occupy all the time of nearly one-fourth of our teachers. Probably one-third teach English.

Q. What other subjects? A. History is the most common minor. Other subjects frequently taught are biology, general home economics, typing or Latin.

Q. Is it wise for all teaching majors in English to minor in history? A. They are more likely to get jobs. It depends on whether the particular individual would be happy and successful as a history pedagog.

Q. What about the second or third job? A. One is more likely to teach mostly English or to devote some time to journalism in a larger high school.

Q. Can a prospective English teacher find a job? A. Yes, good personalities who can work with the high school activities program usually do.

Q. Isn't this one of those glittering generalities? A. All English majors at NDAC were placed in 1939; 80% in 1940. English ranks second to science in calls received at our placement bureau—over 50 calls per year.

Q. Why don't all English majors get positions? A. Competition is keen. Fifty percent of all French, German and Latin majors start their careers teaching English rather than foreign languages.

Q. Is speech a good minor for an English major? A. Practically every English teacher is expected to be able to handle a general speech course and coach the high school plays, but she will also be expected to have a minor in another field.

Q. What about journalism? A. Small schools do not offer journalism. Experience on the college paper or annual is valuable, but may contribute slightly to securing the first position.

Q. Can I presume that she is never called upon for help in other activities? A. Absolutely not! She may also handle vocal music and girls' physical education. One-third of all calls at NDAC for English are with glee club work.

Q. If the teacher handles a glee club, plays, and English, does she need a subject matter minor? A. It frequently means the difference between employment and a year back home with the folks living on memories of college and other more or less indefinite and visionary sources.

NDAC Freshmen Rank Well In Science Examinations

According to Dr. Beyers of the department of personnel, NDAC freshmen rank slightly below the national average for freshmen in scholastic aptitude, mathematics, and English tests taken during orientation week last fall. In the social science tests they ranked slightly above the national average.

The test for scholastic aptitude is an American Council Psychology examination. The other tests were furnished by the Cooperative Testing Service.

In the scholastic aptitude tests John Dwyer and Lewis Katz, both enrolled in chemistry, led their classmates and with Wm. Duffy, Engineering, William Griebstein, chemistry, Wilder Wylie, AAS, Eleanor Bohn, HE, and Chas. Dills, engineering, rank among the top 1% all over the nation.

Katz, Bohn, Frank Chaffee, AAS, William Elkins, engineering, Arvid Melby, agriculture, rank among the top 1% in the English tests. In the social sciences 17 NDAC freshmen

Elevator Men End Short Course In Management

Thirty-six assistant managers and "second men" of elevators in North Dakota, South Dakota, Minnesota and Montana this week are concluding an intensive short course on elevator management at NDAC where they have been in session since the early part of the month.

Sponsored by the Farmers Union Grain Terminal Association of St. Paul in cooperation with the college, the conference was the first of its kind ever held by the association for its newer men. D. L. O'Connor, president, and Frank H. Livingston, educational director, declare the school has been a success from every viewpoint, and they are already planning to hold a similar short course next year. Livingston has been in charge of the conference.

During the conference, the men have made intensive study of the grading of small grains, cooperative marketing principles, elevator organization and bookkeeping procedure. A feature of the conference was a daily lecture on "Cooperative Philosophy" by Dr. H. L. Walster, dean of agriculture and director of the experiment station at NDAC. Many other NDAC staff members also gave demonstrations and talks, including Dr. Frank L. Eversull, president; Dr. J. P. Johansen; T. E. Stoa; William J. Leary; E. J. Haslerud, director of Extension; Perry Hemphill; J. A. Munro; and W. E. Brentzel.

Specialists other than NDAC staff members who spoke to the elevator men during the short course included A. W. Ricker, editor of the Farmers Union Herald, St. Paul; Glenn J. Talbot, president of the North Dakota Farmers Union, Jamestown; Walter J. Maddock, state director of rural rehabilitation; C. H. Lockrem of the Farm Security Administration; W. J. Bruce and Harold Hedges of the Farm Credit Administration, Washington, D. C.; A. T. Hilden and Ben Lunos, managers of cooperative elevators at Glyndon and Perley, Minn., respectively; Mort Johnson of the Grain Supervision Office, Minneapolis; and Harry Lohse of the North Dakota Agricultural Conservation Committee.

Heard About The Herd

BY PETE LEWIS

new Bison football coach, will assume his duties at NDAC April 1. I hope he gets a lotta laughs that day because as time marches on he'll realize what he is up against. The former all-American grid star will have a tough job ahead of him. As I see it, the prospects for next year are not too bright. Kostka will have to inaugurate his own system, different from that which Casey Finnegan taught the boys last spring. On top of that, it is possible that Butch Kimblin, captain-elect of the football team, will not be back in school in the fall, as he is well qualified to fit in the defense program.

SPEAKING OF BUTCH —

I wonder if you saw him at the Charity the other evening. He dropped in from a night welding lab session just in time to have a dance and get his picture taken with one of the Fargo high school beauties imported for the occasion. Maybe I should mention that he hadn't changed clothes and really looked like the hard-working boy that he is.

ANOTHER SPORTS COLUMNIST

Last week commented on Kostka's appointment as coach at AC. He too decided that this is a tough town to come into as a coach. C. D. Locklin, of the GF Herald agrees that the only way to get Fargo people behind their team is to go out and defy everyone including the law of averages, and somehow have all winning teams.

TRAGEDY HITS CLOSE

to home this week when it was announced that Ted Campagna, former AC student had contracted infantile paralysis and was to be sent down to Warm Springs, Georgia. Now married and the father of two children, Ted has done quite a bit of boxing, with the uptown Y team and other places. He is about six feet tall and must weigh close to 200 pounds. Now maybe the President's March of Dimes Campaign will really mean something to you big husky boys.

AN APOLOGY AND A PREDICTION

come last. First of all, I am sorry if I hurt By Jackson's feelings by saying in last week's column, that the OX's intramural basketball team had been beaten twice. I apologize, 'cause up to Wednesday night they had only lost one. I was just forecasting their defeat by the ATO's. Now for the prediction—AC over SDS by at least eight points, SDS over NDU tonight but I don't agree with Eugene Fitzgerald, Forum sports ed., that South Dakota will knock off Omaha, but hope so.

LAST MINUTE FLASH

We've at last found out why the Omaha basketball team is so effective on their home floor. Thumbing through the pages of one of those picture magazines, one of the boys saw the photos of several beautiful Omaha coeds. Now these were not just ordinary pictures but another publicity blurb about how the gal prexy of the student body is conducting a campaign to stop the display of feminine limbs on the Omaha campus. The pix showed the correct and incorrect way to crawl in and out of cars, etc. Our spies report that Bob Lowe was down town this morning getting blinders for Jack Abbott.

ROTC Rifle Squad Defeats City Team

The NDAC rifle team defeated the Fargo Rifle club shooters 1813 to 1800 Wednesday. Howard Olson was high man for the Bison squad with 371.

Members of the A team began firing Monday in competition in the Seventh Corps Area matches.

On the A team are Wm. Ames, David Brown; John Berg; Edward Cummings; Keith Christianson; Graydon Fredrickson; C. W. Johnson; P. O. Lysne; Robt. Lorenzen; Stan. Maxner; Earl McMahon; Howard Olson; C. H. Walker; Glenn Waller; Mel. Wisehart.

Bison Cage Quint Meets SDS Bunnies Saturday, In Fourth Conference Tilt

NDAC's basketball team again clashes with the South Dakota State Jackrabbits on the Bison home court Saturday night.

Bob Lowe's quint will attempt to repeat its victory of two weeks ago and run the string of conference victories to four.

While the South Dakota team was not particularly impressive against the Bison in the first game, the Bunnies came through recently, beating Omaha, one of the strongest teams in the conference.

NDAC had three non-NCI contests last week in preparation for the string of conference games to be played. Lowe had a chance to use his reserves in these tilts, thereby strengthening the squad as a whole.

The conference race is pretty much of an enigma as yet, with many upsets throughout. The Bison lead the league with three victories with Omaha close behind having three wins and one loss.

The game with South Dakota tomorrow night is the real beginning of the AC's conference schedule. Six games come in a row with four to be played on out of town floors.

AC Frosh Scrimmage Ramblers Tomorrow

The NDAC freshman basketball squad takes on the YMCA Ramblers of the city commercial league at 6:45 tomorrow evening at the field-house in a preliminary game before the Bison-South Dakota state contest.

Included in the yearling squad that will see action are Cliff Rothrock, Corman Bean, Paul Moores, Nick Soulis, Arleigh Abrahamson, Jim Leet, Dan Doshan, Don Nelson, Gene Marquart, La Rue Holstein, Lyle Wilfert, Adam Bender, and Arthur Schuler. Recent freshman games include victories over the Kappa Sigma Chi intramural team and the MSTC reserves.

The Baby Bison will play Eddie's Coffee Shop of the city commercial league on February 7, and the Concordia reserves on February 25. The first of the annual Baby Bison-NDU freshman games is scheduled for the University city on March 1, with the second game played here on March 25.

Pucksters Begin Competition In Intramural Hockey League

With the sound of many a silvery blade cutting the smooth ice, intramural hockey got under way last Saturday with pucksters from many campus organizations represented. Four of the six teams entered have played their first game already with more games scheduled for the coming weekend. The Sigma Chi's defeated the ATO's 5-3 in what was the best game so far. The Sigma Chi six added another victory by downing the Gamma Rho's 8-0. The YMCA gave the ATO's a terrific beating when they defeated them 18-2.

These hockey games will be played every week-end for several weeks. Members of the student body would get a great deal of enjoyment out of what is perhaps the fastest and most thrilling sport in the world if they would just come over to the college rink when the games are being played. Some of the teams could do with a little encouragement.

The schedule for the remainder of the season:

Sat., Feb. 1—Theta Chi vs. SAE 1:00 P. M.

Sat., Feb. 1—Sigma Chi vs. YMCA 2:00 P. M.

Sat., Feb. 1—Gamma Rho vs. ATO 3:00 P. M.

Herd Drops Weekend Tilt

NDAC's Bison basketball team broke even in two tough contests last weekend. Dropping a 40-30 clash to the Bismarck Phantoms on Jan. 24, the Herd bounced back with a 53-36 victory over the Jamestown Jimmies the following night.

Coach Bob Lowe's charges held the upperhand for three quarters against the strong Capitol City quintet only to lose their advantage in the final period. Captain Larry Tanberg hooped five field goals to lead the Bison scoring. He was followed by Cliff Nygaard with eight points. Bob Finnegan, former NDU star, paced the Phantoms with 15 counters and a former Bison, Russ Anderson, was close behind with 13 tallies.

Tanberg continued his offensive leadership as he dropped in 10 field goals and three free throws against the Jimmies at Jamestown on Jan. 25. Arnold (Swede) Johnson aided the Bison cause with 15 points as the Herd scored their second victory of the week. Lloyd Fercho was the only other Bison able to tally more than once from the floor.
