Four Honored In Educational 'Who's Who'

AC Staff Members In New Biographical Dictionary Of Living Educators

Four members of NDAC's faculty and administrative staff have been named to "Who's Who in American Education." They are Pres. Frank L. Eversull, Dean H. L. Walster, Dean C. A. Sevrinson, and Prof. F. W. Christensen.

At least five years of successful teaching, research or administrative experience, a good educational background and a good standing among professional contemporaries is required for inclusion in the volume, which is published every two years.

Varied Experience

Pres. Eversull has the following degrees: Ph. B. A. M., University of Chicago; Ph. D., Yale; D. D. Marietta College. Before coming to NDAC, Dr. Eversull was principal of several high schools, served as instructor in the extension department of Washington University, at Yale University, and in the Summer school of the Colorado College of Education. He also served four years as president of Huron College.

Dr. Walster received his B. S. A., M. A., and Ph. D. degrees from University of Wisconsin, Harvard University and the University of Chicago, respectively. Previous to the positions he has held at NDAC, he was professor of soils at the University of Wisconsin for 11 years.

Dean Sevrinson has his A. S. and M. S. degrees from the University of North Dakota. He has taught and supervised in several North Dakota high schools, and now holds the positions of dean of men, assistant to the president, and professor of education at the NDAC.

With Dept. of Agriculture

Prof. Christensen received his B. S. and M. S. degrees from Kansas State College and Pennsylvania State College respectively. He served six years in the US department of agriculture as expert in animal nutrition, and was employed by the experiment stations of Pennsylvania State College and New Mexico College before coming to NDAC in 1916.

A unique feature of Who's Who in American Education is the inclusion of the title of the Ph. D. dissertation in the biographical sketch. This fact is rarely found in other biographical dictionaries.

Dr. Swisher Speaks At Graduation

Dr. C. L. Swisher, professor of physics, delivered the commencement address at winter quarter graduation exercises for 19 candidates.

Deans of schools graduating the candidates presented them to Dr. F. L. Eversull, who presented the degrees. Lt. Col. J. R. Mendenhall presented second lieutenants' commissions in the army reserve corps to Rex Carr and Melvin Thuring.

Candidates were Stanley Bale, Ray Hawkins, Oscar Zetter and Carr, agriculture; Leroy Baskin, applied arts and sciences; Alfred Bostow, Vernon Hanson, George Murphy, Frank Nelson, John Niles, Clark Packard, Reidar Rasmussen, Kenneth Vanderlaan and Thuring, engineering; William Walsh, architecture; Carroll Buhrmann and Data Hochhalter, home economics; Lucile Wright, education.

Vera Wooldridge Named New Phi U President

At a recent meeting of Phi Upsilon Omicron, honorary professional home economics fraternity, officers for the next year were elected. They are as follows: Vera Wooldridge, president; Jean Halbeisen, vice president; Muriel Rockne, recording secretary; Mary See, chairman; Irva Mae Vincent, treasurer; Luella Midgley, candle editor; and Evelyn Arntson, corresponding secretary. The offices of historian and librarian are to be appointed. Virginia Carnahan is retiring president.

The organization will hold a candy sale Sat. from 10 to 12 in the Merchants National Bank.

Retiring Spectrum Chiefs

ABNER SELVIG (left) and DON BLOOMQUIST, whose terms as Spectrum business manager and editor, respectively, recently expired. They will be succeeded by new heads, editor, Jane Blair, and business manager, Bill Borderud.

Nominate New Furrows Staff

Ivan Johnson was nominated editor of the Bison Furrows, magazine of the school of agriculture, for next year by a committee of delegates from all agriculture organizations and executive heads of the magazine's staff. He will run alone for that office in a poll of all agriculture students scheduled for Wednesday from 8:30 to 1:30 in Morrill hall.

Robert Bastrup and Raymond Stangler will run for the business manager's post, the committee announced. Joe Kufner will run unopposed for the post of circulation manager.

Richard Crockett and Lyle Bishop are nominees for assistant editor; John Emo was nominated alone for assistant business manager, while Robert Pile and Earl Walters will run for assistant circulation manager.

On the committee were representatives of Saddle and Siroin, Alpha Zeta, the Agricultural Engineers club, the 4H club and Future Farmers of America, Kenneth Erickson, the retiring editor; Stanley Bale, retiring business manager; Norman Akesson, circulation manager; Gerald Seaman and Winfred Ettesvold, advisors.

Festival Set For May 2-4

Dates for the inter-high school May festival, sponsored each spring by NDAC, have been set for May 2, 3 and 4 this year, announces A. G. Arvold, chairman of general arrangements.

The thirty-third annual May festival will draw a thousand or more high school students from North Dakota and western Minnesota to participate in the various contests and educational meetings.

Highlighting the three-day festival will be the annual State Future Farmers of America convention and the many judging contests and Home Economics exhibits in food preparation, home management, manners and grooming, clothing, and family relations.

Literary contests, including after-dinner speaking, declamation, extemporaneous speech, oratory, story telling, one-act plays, character make-up, radio dramas, and miniature stage settings and marionettes are also scheduled.

Cathcart Addresses Men's Faculty Club

J. M. Cathcart, secretary of the North Dakota Taxpayers association, discussed the Cass county audit-survey and the state government reorganization plan before members of the Men's Faculty club at their monthly meeting Wednesday evening. The meeting, attended by about 40, was thrown open for discussion on the topics of Cathcart's talk shortly before the meeting closed. Glenn Lawritson, the club's president, conducted the meeting.

Lunch and bridge followed the discussion period.

'Ukraine' To Be Topic Of Wed. Convocation

Mrs. A. A. Granovsky of St. Paul, wife of the Russian-born president of the American Organization for the Rebirth of the Ukraine, will explain the Ukraine and its importance in East Europe before NDAC students in convocation Wednesday morning. In her talk she will emphasize the history and economic status of the region.

A graduate of Lawrence college in Appleton, Wis., Mrs. Granovsky has aided her husband for the last five years in gathering research data on the Ukraine. They have written pamphlets and lectured on the subject in this country and in Canada. She will appear in a native Ukraine costume.

All-College Dance Scheduled At 9 P.M.

Ushering in the social season of the Spring term will be the all-college dance tonight in Festival Hall from nine to twelve with Bob McDougall's orchestra playing.

Senior Staff is sponsoring the affair with Jeanne Paris in charge of music, Virginia Carnahan in charge of chaperones, Barbara Gwyther, publicity, Helen Restvedt, general arrangements and Connie Taylor and Mary Beth Lewis, tickets.

Tickets may be purchased at the door tonight. Chaperones will be Mr. and Mrs. Ford C. Dougherty and Dr. and Mrs. Elmer Darling.

One hundred and fifty couples are expected.

Heggeness, Tool Make Race For 'Y' Presidency

YMCA elections will be held Tuesday in the college Y office with polls open from nine to four-thirty.

Candidates for offices are Clark Heggeness and Everett Tool, president; Roy Pederson and Art Whalen, secretary; Albert Melzler, treasurer; Professor Albert Severson, faculty advisor.

All Y members are urged to vote.

Julius Levine, Boy Pianist, Gives AC Audience Brilliant Concert

By PAT BJORKLUND
Young Julius Levine recaptured his Fargo audience Wednesday evening in Festival hall, where he was presented at the piano in concert, after nearly a one-year absence from this city. His manner of playing has matured remarkably during the past 12 months and now proves to be that of an artist.

Master Levine's rendition of Saint-Saens Second Concerto in G Minor with the Fargo-Moorhead Civic orchestra, as well as his choice and presentation of solo selections was pleasing. The orchestra, under the baton of Sigvald Thompson was commendable.

Thirteen-year-old Julius spent the past week renewing Fargo acquaintances, and plans to leave for the east

Free Fun Feature Of Frosh's Frolic In Y Saturday Night

A joint committee of the YM-YW freshman cabinets is sponsoring an informal, no date and no admission party in the auditorium of the college Y Saturday night.

This party is exclusively for freshmen and no upperclassmen are wanted. Plans are being made for dancing, bridge, shooting galleries, and various other games.

Jim Ford and June Persinger are in charge of general arrangements, and Bob Pyle, Betty Gage, Ted Brevik, Gerald Bower, Mildred Duckstead, Reo Carr, Jean Hoef, Don Hoag, Betty Lynne and Virgil DeCamp are assisting them.

Turkey Fed Band Members Complete Tour

"Our trip was a success from all angles, and an experience that the 49 boys and five girls will long remember," are the words that C. S. "Doc" Putnam used to describe the tour made by NDAC's Gold Star band last week. Doc added that audiences were large and appreciative in all of the 11 cities and towns visited.

Starting with a concert and turkey dinner at Valley City Tuesday evening, the tour included concerts at Cooperstown, Carrington, New Rockford, Harvey, Bismarck, Linton, Edgeley, Ellendale and Oakes, and was completed Saturday night at Lisbon, where the group was treated to a turkey dinner—the fourth one of the trip—before the concert.

Most of the success of the tour is due to Doc's four assistants, he says. Montel Vander Horck acted as first assistant and overseer, Bill Arnold was tour manager, Kenneth Erickson handled the financial arrangements, and Max Vander Horck was stage manager. Credit for a safe and pleasant journey is due to drivers Lawrence Dennis and Oscar Johnson of the Greyhound lines.

Plans are now being made for a Spring concert, but nothing is definitely arranged as yet.

Dale Carnegie, Writer, Lecturer, To Speak Here Monday; Public Invited

DALE CARNEGIE

Author Of 'How To Win Friends And Influence People' To Talk On Book

Dale Carnegie, author of "How to Win Friends and Influence People," will lecture on his famous book, Monday, April 1, at NDAC, announces Dr. Frank L. Eversull, president. Carnegie will speak in Festival hall, beginning at 8:15 p. m.

"We are fortunate in being able to arrange for Dale Carnegie's appearance at the college," said Dr. Eversull. "Learning that he would have Monday, April 1, open while traveling north for a speaking engagement in Winnipeg, we believed that the people of this area would enthusiastically support the college in sponsoring a lecture by Mr. Carnegie.

Public Invited

"We issue a special invitation to business executives, school and college administrators and teachers, sales people and other persons having contact with the public to take advantage of this opportunity to get first hand training in "winning friends and influencing people," stated Dr. Eversull.

"His practical pointers on salesmanship, psychology and public speaking will be of interest to high school and college students also," he added.

Lectures Extensively

Carnegie's lectures have attracted large audiences from coast to coast, speaking on his now famous book. His book is now four years old, and he has also written several other books.

Admittance price is 50 cents per person, no seats being reserved. Mail orders for tickets may be addressed to the President's Office, NDAC, Fargo.

N. D. State Engineer Dedicated To 50th Anniversary Of AC

Editors of the North Dakota State Engineer, a quarterly published by the engineers, presented their March edition as a toast to the fiftieth year of North Dakota State. Throughout the issue the development of the engineering school since its beginning in 1900 has been stressed.

In a two page layout are shown pictures of the engineering laboratories, a chart listing the placements of the graduates and a short history of the engineering school.

The feature story was written by Roy T. Jennings, civil engineering professor, and states the purposes and values of engineering education.

The issue also includes a message from Dr. Eversull, a story on the architecture department, alumni news, Sigma Phi Delta elections, and an article and pictures of the seniors in the school of engineering.

The magazine is printed on smooth paper with a heavy cover in yellow and green. Pictures accompany each story.

To Show 'Old Mexico' Movies At ASME

Paul Jones, formerly instructor in NDAC's department of architecture, will show moving pictures taken in "Old Mexico" at a meeting for all engineers, sponsored by the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, to be held tonight at 7:30 in room 22 of the engineering building. Most of the pictures were taken recently, and have never been shown on the campus before.

Following the meeting, coffee and doughnuts will be served at a charge of ten cents per person.

For Sunday Dinner

Let Lloyd Collins entertain you with classics, light classics and sacred music on the Hammond electric organ at the famous POWERS COFFEE SHOP. Delicious food known from coast to coast will tempt your palate, then satisfy your appetite. Prices are sensible.

A New Regime

has taken over. Changes in policy and appearance of The Spectrum will not, perhaps, be immediately evident. And although there are as yet no lace curtains nor potted geraniums gracing the office windows, we would have it known that we're covering the typewriters twice a week and sweeping the floor when the spirit moves us.

Spring has come, according to the calendar, to North Dakota. However, those who have studied North Dakota statistics know that the average householder puts in the last ton of coal about June 1, and that if it doesn't snow in April, it will be, as they say in California, very unusual weather.

Wanted:

several copies of a certain issue of the Bismarck Tribune. It seems that the band boys got rare notices in the Capital city, and would like very much to "happen to have" copies to give to their admiring public. Just like Jack Benny.

The new staff heads are pledged to do all in their power to have a commission appointed whose sole duty will be to set the clock on Old Main each day by WDAY's Morning Time Signal program. Don't know who's to blame but at one time this past week, the thing was twenty minutes slow causing much confusion among those who were wise to the fact that it was ten minutes fast the greater part of winter term.

First official act of the new editor was to bequeath the broken-down swivel chair to her partner in crime, the business manager. Aforementioned new editor has seen the past three editors fall over backwards while reposing in aforementioned chair. The results are too utterly devastating to an editor's self esteem to be risked. Can't take any chances.

WOULD THAT I HAD

a nickel for every time I've heard one of the following: "That's no lie (dream)"; "You ain't just a-honkin' (sayin' that, clackin' your uppers, whoofin', etc); "You can say that again"; "That's for sure." And so on, ad infinitum. I'd take this $3,908.05 and hire Joseph Pulitzer II to run The Spectrum. He's a great crusader; maybe he could persuade the clock on Old Main to tell the right time.

is April first. Only a month away from April first is May first. Then, if we are lucky, Ruth Piper's voice emanating from the tower of Old Main: "Lilac Days, Lilac Days, We Welcome You!" Ah, spring...

THE SOCIAL CLIMBER

Well spring is on its way and along with it comes a new editor for this rag and a new lease on life for the social climber. To begin with, from now on there shall be no odorous news concerning the activities of the sweethearts on the campus. What they do from now on is nobody's business but their own. After all, history is made at night, so to speak. For the information of those POPs that have bet money on the Ethel Gores and Einar Mickelson romance, Einar informs us that he has refused four dates during the past two weeks from various gals on the campus. But who are we to mention names... The band members came back from their trip and have been so very smug among themselves that no one knows what happened of interest on the trip. We did hear that Bobbie Anderson, the boy wonder of the Brevities, was, well you know what, at a certain place... nest ce pas? Have you heard? Bev Fields has been put in charge of the smoking room at Ceres hall by Mrs. Kirst... Can you imagine Bev Fields running around picking up butts? We hear Jean Boyle has been making eyes at Orville Overmoe ever since the trip to the Forks... Can this be love? And speaking of love Jean Schultz deserted her hometown boy friend for Frank Lentzer and in turn deserted Frank for Bill Foy for a couple of dates, and now she says she's in love... With whom, we wonder? Also we wonder who is going to get credit for "The Blue Key Turns," Peg Calhoun or Roy Pederson. And incidentally Gene Paulson, junior, finally realizing his place, did not try out for the Brevities this year.

We think someone should ask the ATOs what happened to their fraternity band they were going to have when they pledged Chuck Myers. Speaking of new romances, Marjorie Handy is now stepping out with Carsten Holkesvik... Just another case of jumping from the frying pan into the fire. Lois Hefti certainly found out what happens to little girls who tell lies about their birthdays... Lois, maybe you should have gotten your own corsage even if Lloyd Jones won't sent you one.

NOTICE

Sigma Xi, honorary science fraternity, will hold an open meeting April 10 in room 22 of the Engineering Bldg., at 8 p. m. Dr. H. L. Walster, dean of agriculture, will speak on "The Great Plains—A Problem Area."

ATO's Observe 75th Anniversary Of Founders' Day

Members of Epsilon Delta chapter of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity marked the 75th anniversary of the fraternity's founding at a banquet given last night at the Graver hotel. Alpha Tau Omega was founded Sept. 11, 1865, by three Confederate soldiers, Otis Allan Glazebrook, Alfred Marshall, and Erskine Mayo Ross. Primary objective of the founders was to restore the Union, to unite the young men of the South with those of the North, and to foster a Christian brotherhood dedicated to the task of achieving and cherishing permanent peace. Growing from the first chapter at Virginia Military Institute, the fraternity now has 94 active chapters throughout 44 states.

Entertainment at the banquet was furnished by Harriet Shigley, Kenny Jones, and Ray Dahm of the Bison Brevities cast. Dean C. A. Sevrin-

Selvig Predicts Ticket Sellout

A check-up made Wednesday night by Abner Selvig, sales manager for the Bison Brevities of 1940, showed that ticket sales have advanced beyond expectations. A complete sell-out is predicted by Selvig.

Despite the fact that many tickets have already been sold, the sale is still brisk. Only a few reservations have been made, according to Business Manager Myrle Anderson. The importance of reserving seats in advance was stressed by Anderson. He said that this may be done by calling the Brevities office, 6850, and requesting a seat. Seat numbers should be noted on the ticket as soon as they are reserved.

The sales campaign for the downtown area will start this week-end when publicity and sales forces combine their efforts in a concentrated drive. Meanwhile buildings on the campus have been allotted to sororities for purposes of faculty sales.

Variety Of Musical Numbers Featured In 1940 Brevities

Music for the 1940 Bison Brevities will be varied enough to suit an audience of almost any calibre. Songs will range from such modern numbers as "The Man Who Comes Around" sung by Kenny Jones to the old favorite Blue Danube waltz sung by the chorus; Many original songs by Gerry Wisehart will also be included. Among them are "How Do You Do" sung by June Persinger, Doris Selvig and Georgianna Findahl; "Tennis" sung by the chorus; Kenny Jones and the orchestra doing the "Pigeon-Toed Stomp"; a piano duo, "Gee, But We Are Happy", and the theme song of the production, "The Blue Key Turns."

For young moderns who must have swing before bedtime, Jeanne Hovden's version of "Indian Summer", Bob Anderson's "Can I Help It", and "Between 18th and 19th Streets", a Shigley-Jones specialty are offered.

Soothing melodies from the gay 90's will furnish many an incentive to a little hand-holding on the part of couples in the audience. Included in this classification will be "Look for the Silver Lining" by Harriet Shigley assisted by Misses Persinger, Selvig and Findahl; a medley of "A Pretty Girl Is Like a Melody" and "Running Through My Mind" by the chorus; "Silhouetted in the Moonlight" by Anderson and the girls' chorus; "Moonglow" by Miss Shigley, and a duo "Two Cigarettes in the Dark" by Miss Hovden and Anderson.

These Three Couples Will Sing, Act, Clown in 'The Blue Key Turns'

Guitarist KENNY JONES and singer of popular songs par excellence (whew!) HARRIET SHIGLEY take a little time off from strenuous Brevities rehearsals to pose for Vernon Giles, who took most of the pictures on this page. Next we have leading man BOB ANDERSON, who combs his hair violently before each picture, looking into the eyes of leading lady JEANNE HOVDEN. They must be waiting at the gate for something. And finally, take a look at VERNON HATHAWAY and MARJORIE NEES, the chief comedy characters. Marjorie is playing telephone and evidently Vernon wants to, too, or something.

Try This Before Breakfast!

Between Dahm And Delin It's---

Dahm is noted on the campus for his comic antics. In last year's Brevities he had the audience rolling in the aisles and all indications point to another successful onslaught on the city's funnybone.

Miss Rudd, formerly of the Little Country theater, has been doing nearly every type of dancing for many years. She was featured on the stage of Festival hall at the performances of the Bison Brevities during 1939.

Not shown on this page are the dancing chorus who are practicing strenuously under the guidance of Elaine Nygaard, dance director. The chorus is made up of several beauties, including Mary Betty Punton, Janice Follett, Fannie Helen Dygve, Betty Kiefer and Doris Hardy.

Dahm Takes It On the Chin

Set Aside Thursday As 'College' Night At Bison Brevities

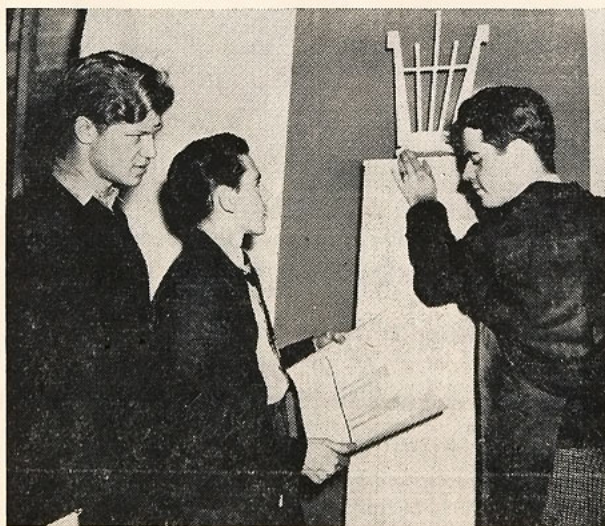

Especially collegiate will be the Thursday night performance of The Blue Key Turns.

Urging students to attend this performance which begins at 8 p. m., Abner Selvig, ticket sales manager, hinted that there might be a surprise in store for the fraternity and sorority having the largest number of members present.

At this performance the cups offered to the campus organizations selling the most Brevities tickets will be awarded. One cup will be presented to the men's organization with the best sales, and the other to the women's organization having the best sales.

It is suggested that fraternities and sororities seeking a brotherly spirit buy blocks of tickets and all sit together. In this manner they can really enjoy themselves on one really big date.

Stage Crew Gets Sets Ready

Novel Lighting, Sets Featured

Action for the two-hour production, The Blue Key Turns, will take place in three widely varied locations, Margaret Calhoun, director of show says.

The dramatization will begin in the spacious outer office of Dud Richards, a radio executive, and will shift to the Nut-So-Bad health farm. In the second act, the scene is set in Richard's office again, but it soon is moved into a great television studio.

Skillful lighting effects by Gilmore Schjeldahl will do much to make the stage settings even more brilliant. Constantly changing, they feature a total blackout during the final act and a sunset during the farm scene.

Blue lights will dominate especially during the television broadcast scene. In that scene, the backdrops are a cream shade designed to give a reflection surface for the constantly changing colors.

Final Practices Scheduled For Next Week

Matinee On Thursday Is First Of 3 Performances; Complete Staff Over 100

The climax of three months of concentrated effort on the part of more than 100 Bison Brevities workers under the direction of Margaret Calhoun will come Thursday at 4 p. m. when the first of three scheduled performances of The Blue Key Turns is presented. Aside from the special matinee, shows have been set for both Thursday and Friday evenings at 8:15.

Story Concerns Crooner

A story concerning the effects of popularity on public figures The Blue Key Turns revolves about handsome Larry Benton, popular crooner, played by Anderson. Benton tires of public life and threatens to abandon his radio career, but his clever manager, Dud Richards, played by Dick Hoag, sends him to a health farm to quiet his nerves. Richards also hires the vaudeville troupe of Henashow Franklin, Sandy MacGibbon, to spend a few days at the rest home.

Love, Comedy Interest

Jeanne Hovden as Anne Franklin, Henashow's daughter, furnishes love interest by falling for Benton. Comical Marjorie Nees playing the role of Clara Wiggs, Richard's secretary, has a difficult time handling amorous Bing Bowers, an ambulance driver and would-be radio star, played by Hathaway.

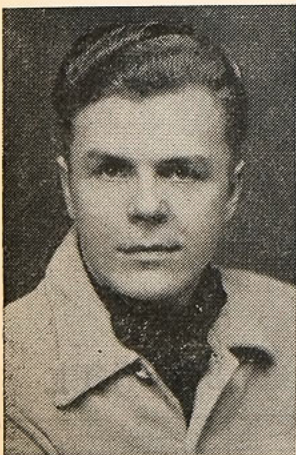

Bjornstad, Miss Rudd, Crockett, Miss Selvig, Miss Persinger, Miss Findahl, Jones and Miss Shigley are all members of Henashow's vaudeville troupe, The Franklin Frolics.

In the chorus are Dorothy Alm, Vivian Arneson, William Arnold, Birdie Bartz, Eleanor Bergan, John Berg, Mary Pauline Bohn, Katherine Bristol, Betty Critchfield, Ray Dahm, Earl Ewan, Georgianna Findahl, Jack Garry, Helen Greenland, June Heisler, Eunice Hjelle, Ronny Hocking, Victor Hultstrand, Paul Huss, Lloyd Jones, Lorine Ladwig, Marion Lyman, June Persinger, Betty Reimche, Evangeline Schwartz, Doris Selvig, Eunice Solberg, Betty Stern, Audrey Wells, David Robinson, William Smith, Leland Stenehjem, Al Sandmark, Ray Toman, Mildred Strong.

The lapse of a whole afternoon down on the farm is shown by the changing lighting which will reach its climax when a beautiful country sunset is portrayed.

Most novel lighting will be the complete blackout which will be served European style. (Don't crowd together or you may get bombed.)

Designing and constructing sets are Leness Laliberte, Rollo Garberg, and Bill Bernier.

Author of The Blue Key Turns, ROY PEDERSEN is also in charge of radio publicity. His play was selected by members of Blue Key, who sponsor the Bison Brevities annually.

Caught in this characteristic pose is ALEX MAC GIBBON, the manager of the vaudeville troupe, and the proud father of Anne Franklin, played by Jeanne Hovden.

Handling the business end of The Blue Key Turns is MYRLE ANDERSON. He is in charge of advertising, ticket sales and other financial aspects of the production.

Director-in-chief of the 1940 Bison Brevities is MARGARET CALHOUN, whose work on previous Bison Brevities has made her capable of her task.

ABERNATHY, on the left, is a dummy, but takes the words right out of the mouth of CHARLES BJORNSTAD, right. Bjornstad fills the part of the ventriloquist in the show.

GERRY WISEHART, whose many original songs have helped to make The Blue Key Turns a truly collegiate production.

SPECTRUM SPORT SPECULATIONS

By SAM TOLCHINSKY

Before we say anything else we want to congratulate SDS on sharing the conference basketball title. Our boys tried to win an undisputed claim but they don't mind sharing it with the Rabbits. The Jack-rabbits were tough this year. Personally I am glad the Herd played only one game with them.

Larry Tanberg and Arnold Johnson were given recognition of their ability by the coaches, who chose them to represent NDAC on the official All-Conference team. It's a great honor but the two really earned it.

Others chosen were Winfred Laur, SDS, center; Fred Lofquist, ISTD, Ron Salyards, Omaha, and Bruce Stevenson, NDU, forwards; Jim Ferger, SDS, and Bob Taplett, SDU, as guards.

I would change that lineup with only one switch. I would take off the lone Sioux representative and put Herman Larson, Bison captain, third highest conference scorer and Herd spark-plug, in there instead. I realize that on the basis of Stevenson's play against the Herd and Larson's play against the Sioux, the logical choice would be the U player, but—on the basis of the season's play, Larson was by far the best. I didn't see Stevenson play except against the Herd but when that athlete's own school paper is down on him he just can't seem so good to me.

And The Dakota Student was down on the NDU players. They even went so far as to call them Clem's Campus Clowns. They kept riding them all season and hopped on the band wagon only after a win against the AC showed that they were tough. If a player's own sports editor, who should be his publicity agent, doesn't recognize a player's ability until the last three games of the season that player should hardly rate all-conference. I am granting that Stevenson really played all-conference ball in three games but not during the season.

There is no doubt about Larson playing all-conference ball all during the season, however.

The Kappa Sigma Chi quint again won the intramural basketball championship. They defeated the Gamma Rho's two straight in the playoffs just before vacation.

Jim Fletcher and Paul Odonovich proved to everyone concerned that they could hold their own again top-flight performers. These two freshmen were members of the all-star team that played a three-game series against the Bismarck Phantoms during spring vacation. Bob Finnegan, former Sioux star, now leading the Bismarck team, thinks the two boys will be good enough as sophomores to make any team in the loop.

Larson stayed in Bismarck where he joined the Phantoms for a three-game series against the New York Celtics.

On the trip the AC all-stars won by 21 points in Minot but lost by 10 and 11 points respectively in Bismarck and Dickinson. In Dickinson Tanberg was honored by the entire city, who dedicated the day to him.

Before putting the basketball togs on the shelf some of the AC varsity and frosh players formed the Grand Recreation team and won the all-city tournament. Members of the team were Tanberg, Johnson, Fletcher, Odonovich, Abbott, Fercho, Boe and Roy Olson.
