LE GALLIENNE TO PERFORM HERE MONDAY NIGHT

Naval Board Will Examine Applicants Here

Selection Group To Examine Prospective Flyers At NDAC March 6-7

For the purpose of interviewing and examining applicants for flight training in the Naval Reserve, a selection board will meet at NDAC March 6 and 7.

College graduates, and men who have completed at least two years of a four year college course, and between the ages of 20 and 27 years, may qualify.

There are a considerable number of openings at the present time, according to Lieutenant Commander C. S. Smiley, U. S. N., commanding officer of the Naval Reserve Aviation Base in Minneapolis.

Purpose of the selection board meeting at NDAC at this time is to accommodate applicants who find it impossible or inconvenient to travel to Minneapolis for an interview and examination.

Classes in elimination flight training at the Minneapolis base begin the 15th of each month, after which, the successful student is sent to Pensacola, Florida, for continued training duty.

Salaries range from $54, plus board and room for the one month of preliminary training to $210 per month and lodging for an Ensign during his three year's service with the fleet. On completing of the four year's active duty, each Ensign is paid a bonus of $500.

In addition to the above qualifications, each applicant must be unmarried and agreed to remain unmarried for a period of two years, must be a citizen of the United States and must pass a rigid physical examination. Examination will be conducted in the Health Center in the Men's Residence Hall.

Theta Chi Group To Be Convention Host

Delegates will come from Theta Chi chapters at the University of Minnesota, Iowa university, the University of North Dakota and possibly the University of Montana to attend their regional convention slated at the NDAC chapter May 2, 3 and 4.

During their sessions, they will plan a program of legislation to be presented at the next national convention in 1941, and will discuss fraternity problems.

Business sessions are slated each day, with a banquet ending the second and a formal ball on the last evening.

Gorman King is in charge, assisted by Einar Mickelson, Gordon Gray, William Borderud and Albert Thorwaldson.

Coast Guard Official To Visit Campus

NDAC male students will have an opportunity to learn more about the United States Coast Guard, when Lieut. O. C. B. Wev visits this campus Wednesday, March 6. Lieut. Wev will endeavor to show students the advantages of a career in the Coast Guard Service. Movies of life in the service and in the United States Coast Guard Academy at New London, Connecticut, are to be shown, and fellows interested will be interviewed at the men's dormitory.

Training consists of actual service and class-room study at New London, with a four-year scientific curriculum. The course is similar to that offered in colleges, and a bachelor of science degree is given.

Every man entering the service starts as lieutenant at $125 a month, and promotion is by the merit system. Work of the service is clearing icebergs, protecting fisheries and Alaskan seals, patrolling our coasts, and numerous other duties are well known.

Graham Will Address AC Farmers Union

Chester Graham, secretary of the Wisconsin Farmers Union, and state officers will be speakers at the NDAC Farmers Union local's annual banquet scheduled in Ceres hall Cafeteria at 6:30 Saturday, Mar. 2.

College musical talent will be on the entertainment program. Students and faculty members are invited to attend the dinner, sponsored to familiarize the college with personal and activities of the group. Tickets may be obtained from Harry Achamire or Lawrence Gilbertson, who are in charge.

Rev. I. L. Holt To Be Convo Speaker Mon.

Appearance Of Methodist Bishop Sponsored By Committee Of 100

The Rt. Rev. Ivan Lee Holt, Methodist bishop of Dallas, Texas, will speak at convocation, Monday, March 4, in the Field House.

In Fargo as a member of the Methodist Advance Movement of the reorganized Methodist church, Bishop Holt's appearance at NDAC is sponsored by the Committee of 100.

Bishop Holt for several years was president of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, sponsors of the University Christian Mission that was on the NDAC campus recently.

He has been pastor of St. John's Methodist church, St. Louis, and one-time professor of Old Testament Literature at Southern Methodist university. Bishop Holt is a member of the American Planning committee for the Oxford and Edinburg Economical Conference and also of the executive committee of the World Alliance for International Friendship.

Born in Arkansas, he was graduated from Vanderbilt university, and received his Ph. D. at Chicago university. He has been guest preacher at Community church, Shanghai, and at several churches in England.

PHOTOGRAPHERS!

Remember March 29 is the deadline for entries in the Alpha Phi Gamma photo contest. Entries must be accompanied with the 10 cent registration fee and turned in to Vernon Giles contest manager. Cash prizes will be awarded to winners. Pictures must pertain to some phase of campus life.

Will Play In Ibsen Drama For Lyceum

EVA LE GALLIENNE, ONE OF THE NATION'S outstanding Ibsen actresses, will play the title role in "Hedda Gabler" in Festival hall Monday night, with Earl Larimore, member of the casts of several Broadway stage successes, playing opposite.

Noted Actress To Appear In 'Hedda Gabler'

Earl Larimore Heads Supporting Cast Of Seven; Starts At 8 p.m.

Eva Le Gallienne, America's outstanding portrayer of Ibsen's dramas will appear in "Hedda Gabler," Monday evening at eight o'clock in Festival hall, on the 29th annual Lyceum series. Supporting Miss Le Gallienne will be a cast of seven, including Earl Larimore of the New York Theater guild and various stage successes.

Born in England and educated in France, Miss Le Gallienne made her theatrical debut in 1914, with a small part in the English production of Maeterlinck's "Monna Vanna." A year later she came to America only to be, as her first American role, the part of a colored maid in "Mrs. Bolway's Daughters."

Following a rapid series of successes in New York and on tour, Miss Le Gallienne in 1926 founded the New York Civic Repertory Theater, and directed as well as acted in all but two of the 33 plays produced. A free school of the theater established in conjunction with the Repertory has provided many brilliant actors with their training.

Forced by the depression to close her theater in 1933, Miss Le Gallienne went on tour with selections from her repertory, still continuing to star in New York productions. She is backed on tour by the Legitimate Theater Corporation of America.

Honors awarded Miss Le Gallienne include, Honorary Degrees from Tufts, Russell Sage, Smith and Mt. Holyoke colleges, and Brown university; the 1926 Pictorial Review prize of $5,000; the Gold Medal of the Society of Arts and Sciences, and the 1934 medal of the Town Hall club of New York. Her autobiography, "At 33," reached the best-seller stage of non-fiction books.

Judges To Compete In Fort Worth Show

The NDAC Livestock Judging team will leave Monday noon for Fort Worth, Texas, where they will compete with middlewestern and southwestern college teams in a judging contest to be held in connection with the Southwest Livestock show being staged in that city.

Animal husbandry students who will make the trip are Bob Brastrup, Bismarck; Arlo Dietz Cogswell; Bill Guy, Amentia. Arnold Holm, Pekin; Iven Johnson, Fargo, and Lyle Reitan, Hastings. These students are all juniors in the school of agriculture.

En route to the contest the team will visit the South Dakota State college, Nebraska university, Kansas State college and Oklahoma A & M. Arriving in Fort Worth in time for the contest on March 9, they will return to Fargo March 14. Accompanying the team will be Coach Ford Daugherty of the animal husbandry department.

Social Science Group Discuss Curriculum Changes Tuesday

Because of the conflicting basketball game, the March meeting of Pi Gamma Mu, national honorary social science fraternity, will be changed from Wednesday to Tuesday of next week. The meeting will be held in the Fireside room of the college YMCA, from 7:30 to 9:30. The subject is "Social Studies Curriculum Revision—Trends and Needs." Guests will be social science majors at Concordia and MSTC.

Members of the committee on social studies includes: chairman, Sam Tolchinsky, senior in arts and sciences; Dr. Elmer C. Darling, professor of education and director of division of education; Dr. J. P. Johansen, professor of economics and sociology; Glenn Lawritson, assistant professor of education, Paul E. Zerby, assistant professor of economics; James Greenlaw, assistant rural sociologist.

Dr. Darling will be the first speaker, giving a short review of trends in social studies in colleges. Mr. Lawritson will then discuss the indoctrination issue involved in the subject. Mr. Zerby will explain what society does expect from social studies, and what it should expect.

Methods of teaching social studies in the light of the proposed set-up by the other speakers will then be discussed by Dr. Darling. An open forum in discussion of the subject, led by Tolchinsky, will be the concluding features.

Credit Union Adds Life Insurance Plan

Teachers of NDAC now have the added inducement of an insurance plan when they take advantage of the Credit Union facilities. At a meeting of representatives of the union on Wednesday, Feb. 28, the plan was discussed and the policy of taking out life insurance on borrowers was determined. This is an advantage to both the borrower, by protecting his estate in case of death before repayment of the debt, and to the other investors because the unpaid debt will not now be a total loss.

In case of total disability the insurance plan works in a similar way; repaying the debt for the borrower and relieving him of the burden. G. N. Lawritson, commenting upon the program as it now stands says it is a vast improvement over the previous set-up.

Frosh Cabinet Elects James Ford President

James Ford, Reo Carr and Wallace Chase were elected to fill the offices of president, vice president and secretary, respectively, of the freshman YMCA cabinet. Election took place at the Feb. 18 meeting.

In addition to electing officers, members of the cabinet engaged in a "gripe session," during which the gripes concerning NDAC campus and college life were discussed. Main gripe of the evening centered on the need for an extended orientation program for AC students. Discussion of this topic will be continued at the next meeting of the cabinet on Wednesday, March 6.

NOTICE

Perfection In Showing, Fitting Characterizes Stock Show

A high degree of perfection in the fitting and showing of the animals in their various classes by students in agriculture and a packed evening of entertainment characterized this year's Little International as one of the most colorful that has ever been presented by the students of NDAC.

Over 1,500 spectators showed their unanimous appreciation of the Amphion Chorus, Bison Brevities talent, the Jim Dandy orchestra, Francis Daniels, impersonator, Shirley Putz, vocalist, and the many other entertainment features.

The milking contest, an annual laugh producer for the evening, did more than its share again this year. After the grim totals had been duly calculated and pro-rated it was found that Belvidere Olson, Sheldon Co-ed, was the proud owner of the coveted cup annually presented to the cow milking champ.

In the fitting and showing contests, the grand champions were as follows: Swine, Curtis Berg; sheep, Curtis Loucks; beef, Everett Orth; dairy, Philip Peterson; horses, Reuben Ruud; poultry, Hubert Strong. Grand champion exhibit in the horticulture division was shown by George Johnson with the high honors in the agronomy division going to Fred Elliot. Grand champion of the dog show was a tiny Pomeranian, "Skippy," owned by Virginia McMillan, of Fargo.

NOTICE

All juniors in education will meet in Science Hall, room 319, on Wed., March 6 at 2:00 p.m. for the purpose of making arrangements for practice teaching next year.

● marriage course? of course

Contrary to common knowledge, NDAC should be credited as being a pioneer in the presentation of courses in marriage and family relationship. In 1926 Miss Alba Bales, Dean of Home Economics at that time, introduced a course in Home Economics for college men, in order to give them an understanding of the problems and opportunities in the home which men should be able to share with women. An attempt was made to interpret the present day young woman in her role as a wife and homemaker. The fact that the average enrollment of each class for the first three years totaled 56 men, is evidence that the course was popular as well as successful.

An article by Miss Bales on her new course, appeared in the Journal of Home Economics, June, 1929. Reprints were made of the article, and sent to colleges from coast to coast by the Journal. Miss Bales was praised, as a pioneer in the field of family relationship instruction and for fitting young people in college to meet the social problems of family life.

This course was in existence ten years ago. Apparently students are under the impression that it is no longer available, since a request has been made for one. True, there is no course offered entitled "Marriage," but consider the curriculum. A course entitled "Family Relationships," open to senior women, and junior and senior men, is taught by Dean Alice Haley, and is available in the spring term. Dr. Johanson teaches a course entitled "The Family," covering the social and economic problems encountered in married life. In his bacteriology curriculum Dr. Nelson includes excellent material on social diseases. All of these courses are available to all college students in all departments.

Miss Haley's "Family Relationships" course offered this spring term will include the following topics: The college student and the family from which he came; the ideal parent; the family as a social institution; getting along with people; choosing a mate; the problems of courtship; the technique of modern marriage; modern parenthood, and legislation and the family. Marriage education, vital to men and women alike, is available on this campus.

● abandon cultural barriers?

There was once invented by an ingenious idealist an international language, designed to enable all races to converse with one another. This creation of Esperanto was idealistic and has gained little ground. Its object was to tear down the cultural barriers between races; the motive behind it was the desire to aid in the dissolution of war. Although its aim was a worthy one, its terms were too idealistic for the practical world.

We, too, should aim at the abandonment of international cultural barriers. The English speaking countries have long been proud of their amiable relations and feeling; while on the other hand, those same English speaking nations display no similar feeling toward other nations, although their relations may be as close. Similar cultures create a common ground on which groups may meet and hatreds immediately tend to dissolve. Esperanto is, undoubtedly, too idealistic for human races to reach, but working toward international friendship as an ideal would with all probability be as valuable.

However, opposing any such attempt is the continuous flow of propaganda from our popular publications. Two weeks ago a popular pictorial magazine portrayed German men using the resources of their nation in war while their own children starved behind the lines. A distorted, malnutrition-racked child of Germany compared with the normal, healthy child of America served to animate any latent, antagonistic emotions of the readers toward German soldiers and citizens. Such propaganda, counteracting any attempt at internationalism, is constantly confronting the American public.

Propaganda is powerful, but once it has been evaluated it is full of loop holes. The majority of those who are able to evaluate it are only those with a college education. Let us, therefore, be careful in our consideration of propaganda. It is the greatest barrier confronting the advance of international cooperation; it must be removed, for only by cooperation can the world hope for a FEW days of peace! —D. G. H.

Spring is still far away but that doesn't keep certain lads and lassies from getting ready for the big blow when it does come, take for instance, Jack Cronin and Shirley Putz, we hear that they are each looking for new romances and Marion Anstett and George Putz are due to be untangled any day now. Jane Broling and Willie Boehrs for the third time are calling it quits. Jane is showing interest in Larry Wagner and she may not know it, but Ray Fritz a

"His Girl Friday," starring Cary Grant, Rosalind Russell, and Ralph Bellamy tells the story of modern metropolitan life in a newspaper office. The story concerns the struggles of Grant to prevent his ex-wife from remarrying someone else. This picture begins Saturday at the Fargo and plays through Tuesday.

"The Light That Failed," is the story of a great artist and adventurer, played by Ronald Colman, who is driven to despair by the coolness of his sweetheart, also an artist, who is jealous of his success. He decides to paint a portrait of a woman called "Melancholia" to show up a similar painting his girl is making. For his model he selects a guttersnipe named "Bessie." This picture begins on Thursday and plays through Friday.

GRAND— "The Return of Doctor X," opens at the Grand for a two day run beginning Sunday. Humphrey Bogart has the lead along with Wayne Morris and Rosemary Lane. The story concerns the terror of a city in the clutches of a vampire doctor who kills in order to get daily transfusions of blood.

Greek-Barb Question Flames Anew In Weekly Magazine

Philadelphia, Feb. 28. — All college students—"Greeks" and "barbs" alike — will find food for thought and argument in the March 2 issue of The Saturday Evening Post, wherein are presented divergent views on the Greek-letter organizations.

Margaret Weymouth Jackson, herself a Pi Beta Phi and former secretary to a college dean, concerns herself fictionally with some of the less attractive aspects of the college sorority. In her short story, "Goon Castle" — Mrs. Jackson tells of an attractive girl who, upon failing to make a sorority at her state university, comes to the conclusion that her college career is ruined. But since there was more to Judith than her background, she decides to see how the "other half" lives . . . a la dormitory. What she finds in the "Goon Castle," contends Mrs. Jackson, is something too many college students miss entirely.

All the while that Mrs. Jackson is painting her picture of the problems of the "Greeks" and the glories of the "barbs", Fred H. Turner, Dean of Men at the University of Illinois on other pages of the same issue of the Post, labors on a canvas of a different theme which depicts the fraternities and sororities as filling a real need in the social lives of college students.

In part, Dean Turner says, "Fraternity or activity life is not essential to the student, but if there is no fraternity or sorority life there will be a substitute for it in some form, either dormitories, organized houses, or group system."

SPECTRUM SPORT SPECULATIONS
By SAM TOLCHINSKY

We of the Spectrum sports staff really left ourselves wide open when we picked the AC team to win the series in four straight. We forgot that a little thing like four infractions of the rules does a lot towards equalizing a game.

I will bet we really get a blast in the University paper that will be coming down along with the Sioux rosters this afternoon. At any rate we deserve it for going so far out on the limb and unconditionally picking the Herd in four straight.

Barney Toman, former AC student now attending the Forx school called me on that. Among other things he said that I should never pick the AC over the U without leaving an out for myself. Well, Barney may be disappointed in me but I'm saying that the Herd is good enough to win the next two unless the referees step in and say our big three foul too much.

By the way, I wish some ardent U supporter would explain why Lem Herting took the ball away from the AC and gave it to the U in this case. Captain Herman Larson threw the ball in from out of bounds under the basket. It slipped and rolled off the ends of his fingers, hit the bottom of the backboard and bounced into the court. Cliff Nygard was right there and took control of the ball. But Herting called it back and gave it to the U out of bounds. If someone will explain the ruling to me it will save a lot of work on my part.

I'm always leaving myself wide open by taking cracks at people but here is one I just can't resist. I noticed that the box score in the Grand Forks Herald gave Fred Gran credit for only one field goal in the Sioux victory. Having sat at the official's table and kept score myself I knew that was wrong. So I compared C. D. Locklin's box score with the box score of Eugene Fitzgerald, Fargo Forum sports editor. Here is what I found out.

Locklin gives Larry Tanberg credit for 2 field goals and 4 free throws. Fitzgerald says Larry got only 3 free throws and 2 field goals. Locklin gives only 1 bucket and 2 free throws to Captain Larson. Fitz very generously gives him three free throws.

On the University side of the ledger Locklin has 7 goals from the floor and 2 free throws for Stevenson. Fitzgerald is satisfied to give him only 6 and 2. Homme gets 1 and 1 from the Grand Forks paper and only 1 field goal from the Fargo paper. Gran is given 3 buckets and 2 free throws by Fitzgerald and only 1 bucket but 3 free throws by Locklin.

And since Fitzgerald always checks his score with the official scorer after a game, the only thing I can assume is that Locklin is wrong. It doesn't matter in the final outcome of the game, but all of these tabulations of the individual scoring is based on newspaper reports. If Locklin has been making mistakes like that all season, it is liable to change the scoring race so that our Arnold Johnson may be beaten out of his top position, or it may even lower the total of his chief competitor. Then again, that may have been the only game Locklin was wrong in scoring.

There are lots of memories after the disastrous game at the U. Outstanding is the discovery of a cornerstone of a certain building on the Sioux campus marked TEACHERS COLLEGE MCCCCDX. No further proof than that should be needed when we talk of the Normal School at the Forx.

The big nickel trophy that the Sioux football team won last fall is missing from the trophy case. The stand on which it used to rest is on display at the Theta Chi house but the nickel is nowhere to be seen.

Sitting in the Dacotah Garden Room with Pat Dustin and Billie Therkelson (I promised them I would put their names in print) watching the amateur show, I got a kick out of listening to Manny Marget, sports announcer over KVOX, sing a song. It wasn't bad at all. I wonder if he got a prize???

Casey Finnegan is going to attempt to make the Sioux team feel at home tonight. He is having extra bleachers erected under the baskets to accommodate the overflow crowd. Students had better come early and avoid those seats.

Some novel ways of getting into a game free were uncovered last weekend. A couple of the boys borrowed uniforms and horns and played in John Howard's band without anyone being the wiser.

And there is a rumor that some AC sympathizer scaled the wall and

Sioux Praying For Victory; Herd Is Calm

Win For Bison Tonight Will Cinch Share Of Conference Title

By SAM TOLCHINSKY

From up the river comes the ominous rumble of more than 3,500 flat feet slapping the ground in the traditional Sioux Sun Dance in a prayer for a second victory over the Bison in the present NDAC-NDU basketball series.

A win over the Herd will knock the AC team out of undisputed possession of the conference title, and with the exception of Barney Toman, Steve Ward and a few other former AC students who have migrated to the teacher's college up north, the U students would like nothing better than to present the title to SDS.

But the consensus of opinion on the AC campus is not one of worry. Especially about the game to be played tonight at the AC field house.

The Thundering Herd has begun to ramp and roar during practice this week and for the first time since they won over the vaunted Bismarck Phantoms, have looked like the team which should be conference champs.

If Coach Lowe doesn't lose two or three men with broken bones, or because of fouls, the Thundering Herd will be in good shape and may find the Sioux vulnerable in more than one way.

There will be an all-college dance in the Field House after the game. 25 cents per couple.

Lowe has been experimenting with Vern Johnson at forward and John Abbott back at guard, just in case they are needed. He will stick with his starting lineup of the past few games, Larson and Abbott at forwards, Arnold Johnson at center and Tanberg and Nygard as guards, to open the game.

However he will be able to shift his players more this week with the return of Pat Twomey, reserve center, to the bench. Pat has been out for two weeks with a bad knee and the team has missed him.

For the Sioux, it is rumored they will be coming down south minus the services of Norman Leafe, who started against the AC last week.

Coach Letich, however, has found a capable lineup with Gran at center, Stevenson and Homme, forwards, and Lutgen and Peterson, guards.

NOTICE

The Sigma Chi basketball teams of the AC and the University will meet tomorrow morning at 10 a. m. at the fieldhouse.

Herman Larson, Vern Johnson To Play In Final Home Game

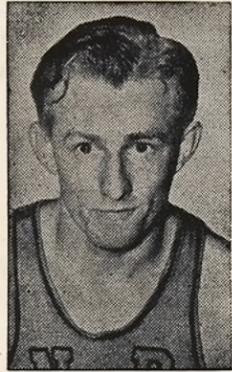

When Bob Lowe's Thundering Herd meets the NDU Sioux tonight, it will not only mark the final home game of the season for the Bison but it will mark finis to the home appearances of Herman Larson, captain, and Vern Johnson, shifty little guard, both graduating in June.

Loss by graduation will be the lightest the Herd has felt in many years. Two of the big three on the AC team will be coming back for service next year.

Larson, third in the conference scoring race, will be difficult for Lowe to replace. His cool floor play and handling of the ball was just as valuable to the team as his scoring.

Hailing from Pleasant Lake, Larson was a star on the freshman team four years ago. As a sophomore he was a regular on a weak Bison team. A teammate of his was Lloyd Troseth who missed the following year of school before coming back to participate this year.

As a junior, Larson held his position despite the presence of many sophomores on the team. He was a steady, capable ball player but it was not until this year that he blossomed into one of the team's stars.

With Vernon 'Chink' Johnson, the story has been different. Although a letter winner in track for the past two years he was delegated to three years of intramural ball before varsity ball. He has seen a lot of action this year and probably ranks as surprise number 1 this season.

Intramural Bowling League Standing Show Three Way Tie

Tied for first place in the intramural bowling league are the Theta Chi's, Engineers and the KSC's who were awarded one extra game during the week because of the discovery of an error in scoring a previous game.

On January 30 the KSC quint was given credit for one win and two losses in their games with the ATO team. At that time each team handicapped itself unofficially. Don Sealander, secretary of the league, in re-checking the scores discovered that the KSC scorer had given the ATO's too much of a bonus. The true result was two wins instead of one for the KSC team.

Last Tuesday the Engineers crept into a first place tie by sweeping their three games with the SAE team which last week was in second place. The Sigma Chi's, bowling only 2,038

Baby Bison Favored Over 'U' Papposes Tuesday Night

Once more the Baby Bison and Papposes are preparing to battle and once more the AC freshman basketball team will go into the game favored over their northern rivals.

Gil Olson, around whom Coach Red Jarrett has built his University frosh cage team, may not see much action in the game to be played on the Sioux court next Tuesday evening. He was bothered by an ailing knee when the future Sioux went down in defeat by the Baby Bison Feb. 20, by a score of 46 to 32.

Reports from the northland are that his knee has not responded to treatment and has even gone back on him.

For the AC everything is shaping up nicely despite some severe trouncings administered by the varsity in practice scrimmages.

Paul Odonovich and Lloyd Fercho will start at forward with either Jim Pangburn or Jim Fletcher at center. Starting guards will be Bud Johnson and Edsel Boe.

won two games from the YMCA team who bowled 2,063.

The two leading teams ran into difficulty. The Theta Chi's lost two out of three to the ATO trundlers, and the KSC boys bowed to the SPD bowlers twice also.

The Camp Leadership class presented marionettes they have made. Among the marionettes represented were Mickey and Minnie Mouse, Butch and Josie, Sleeping Beauty, and prize fighters.

The ping pong tournament is getting under way with the second and third round of both the singles and the doubles being played this week.

Outstanding attraction in the gym this week is the annual inter-sorority basketball tournament, Ceres Hall and the Independents also being represented. Captains of the teams are as follows: Gamma Phi Beta, Betty Carnine; Kappa Kappa Gamma, Kathleen Benson; Phi Omega Pi, June Pfau; Alpha Gamma Delta, Marie Letnsek; Kappa Delta, Loretta Brandt; Phi Nu, Helen Slingsby; Ceres Hall, Cheryl Hanson; Independents, Jessamine Haas.

Results of the first inter-sorority basketball game are as follows: Independents won over the Pops Tuesday, and the Kappa Delta's defeated the Phi Mu's. More games are slated for next week.

Members of the Women's Rifle Team are to shoot a shoulder to shoulder match against the Fargo Women's Athletic Club on the AC range Sunday. This is a yearly match, the losers taking the winners to dinner. Members of the rifle team are Helen Restvedt, Betty Green-shields, Vera Woodridge, Betty Carnine, Valdis Knudsen, Margaret Fairley, Betty Lou Johnson, Jo Erickson, Harriet Shigley, and Evelyn Olson.

The A. C. also shot postal matches Wednesday against Cornell, Louisiana University, Kentucky University, South Dakota University and Coe College.

This week's honors in riflery go to Margaret Fairley, 99; Hollace Beall, 97; Vera Woodridge, 97; Lois Hefti, 95; Ruth Kellesvig, 95.

NOTICE

Entries in the YMCA ping-pong tournament must be in by Tuesday, March 5.

Bison Brevities Tickets To Go On Sale Today At 4

Abner Selvig, Bison Brevities ticket sales manager, has made final arrangements for his extensive campaign upon which rests the financial fate of the show.

The ticket sales contest will open tonight at 4 p. m. with representatives of the competing organizations getting final instructions from Selvig and Business Manager Myrle Anderson at a meeting in the Brevities office at 3 o'clock.

Any organization on the campus is eligible to compete for the two victory trophies offered; the contest is not for fraternities and sororities only. One of the trophies will be given to the women's organization selling the most tickets, and the other to the outstanding men's group. The contest closes April 2 at four o'clock.

A faculty committee will check the results of the contest to insure proper distribution of prizes. No tickets sold by an employee of the business staff will be allowed to count.

Ticket prices have been set at 50 cents for students and 75 cents for adults at each of the evening performances, and 25 cents at the special matinee. All seats will be reserved for the evening performances, and ticket purchasers must call the Brevities office to make reservations. A ticket does not guarantee a seat unless the holder has called for reservations ahead of time.

Organizations entered in the sales contest to date and their representatives are: Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Don Husted; Theta Chi, K. Anderson; Alpha Gamma Delta, June Persinger; Gamma Phi Beta, Eleanor Bergan; Kappa Delta, Allis Larson; Phi Mu, Mary Matze; Phi Omega Pi, Helen Greenland; Kappa Kappa Gamma, Mary McCannel; Ceres Hall, Lois Loren; Kappa Psi, James Hanson; Alpha Gamma Rho, Dick Crockett; Alpha Tau Omega, Verne

ANN MURPHY, script girl for the Bison Brevities, is shown above. She will shoulder most of the burden for directing the speaking cast of The Blue Key Turns.

Phi Mu's To Have Anniversary Party

Celebrating the eighty-eighth anniversary of the founding of Phi Mu sorority, local members will hold a program and dinner at the Graver Hotel March 4 at 7 p. m.

Phi Mu, second oldest of the national Greek letter sororities, was founded March 4, 1852 at Wesleyan college in Macon, Ga.

Each under-graduate and alumna will bring a penny for each year of the sorority's age. In general charge of the banquet is Betty Olson, assisted by Jessie Gibb and Margaret Pile. New officers will be announced at the banquet.

New Dressing Room Nears Completion

Work is nearing completion on the new Festival hall dressing room, being constructed to accommodate visiting lyceum artists and Brevities talent. Funds for the project were contributed by four campus organizations, Women's Senate, Senior Staff, Blue Key, and the Board of Public Speaking Control, to aid A. G. Arvold, originator of the plan.

Large, lighted mirrors and plumbing facilities are features of the new dressing room, which will be available for Eva Le Gallienne and her company.

STATE—

"Susannah of the Mounties," with Shirley Temple comes to the State Friday and Saturday. The film depicts the struggle between the Indians and the Canadian Mounties at the time the Canadian Pacific Railroad was pushing west. Randolph Scott and Margaret Lockwood are the featured players in the film.

"Goodbye Mr. Chips," deals with the story of an English schoolmaster who comes to a big school as a young man, becomes loved and respected, meets a beautiful girl who dies leaving him with a great kindness in his heart for all of his charges. He shapes the careers of future great men and pilots the school during the world war. The cast is headed by Robert Donat and Greer Carson, and comes Sunday at the State.

"Calling Philo Vance," with James Stephenson, Marget Stevenson, Henry O'Neil, and Edward Prophecy starts Wednesday.

YMCA Opens Coffee Forum Series Tuesday

First in this year's series of Coffee Forums sponsored by the YMCA, with Andrew Petersen in charge, is scheduled for Tuesday at 4 p. m. in the Fireside room.

"Which Way Out?" is the topic for discussion. Three student speakers will present the capitalistic, communistic and socialistic points of view, followed by questions from the floor. Free coffee will be served.
