

LCT Presents Doyle Mystery Tuesday Night

Andrew Petersen Returns To Stage In Title Role Of 'Sherlock Holmes'

Complete with cap, pipe and cocaine needle, the immortal sleuth, Sherlock Holmes (otherwise known as Andrew Petersen) will roam the stage of The Little Country Theater Tuesday night on the trail of the fiendish Professor Moriarity, the Al Capone of London. Honest Doctor Watson, played by John Emo, will aid Holmes in his relentless drive against the super-criminal.

"Sherlock Holmes" is a melodrama written by William Gillette based on the novels of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, and features The Strange Case of Miss Alice Faulkner.

Action will shift rapidly from such places as the Larrabee drawing room to Professor Moriarity's underground office, from Sherlock Holmes' personal apartment in Baker Street to the Stepany Gas chamber, and finally to Dr. Watson's consulting chamber.

A cast of 18 characters coached by Miss Gwenjelyn Stenehjem, is prepared to transport its audience to eerie settings in London, as created by Mason Arvold, art director of the play.

The cast includes: Melvin Evanson, Sir Edward Leighton; Helmuth Froeschle, Count Von Stalburg; Dwight Lewis, Professor Moriarity; Robert Brandenberg, James Larrabee; Don Landeck, Sidney Prince; Ed Olson, Alfred Bassick; Oliver Uthus, James Craigen; Gordon Johnston, Thomas Leary; Roland Peffer, "Light-foot" McTague; Merel Hough, John Robert Pile, Parsons; William Horwitz, Billy; Delin Rudd, Alice Faulkner; Betty Critchfield, Madge Larrabee; Lorraine Naftalin, Mrs. Faulkner; Marion Anstett, Therse.

Tickets may be purchased from any member of the play production class, directly from The Little Country Theater, or at the door Tuesday night.

'College Appeal' Contest Basis

You don't have to be a camera expert to enter Alpha Phi Gamma's photography contest—you don't even have to be a camera expert to win Alpha Phi Gamma's photography contest.

Have you a snapshot in your private photograph collection with college appeal? If so, your chances for winning a prize are of the best. Simply hand it to contest manager Vernon Giles in the Bison office, along with the ten-cent entry fee, and await results. Alpha Phi Gamma isn't concerned with trifling technicalities such as exposure, shutter speeds, film sensitivity, or lighting effects. Appeal of the picture will be the basis for judging.

Appealing pictures might be ones such as Dr. Eversull with his new mustache; Alex MacGibbon studying in the library; a freshman theme with the grade marked plainly on it; a campus scene—anything pertaining to the school.

Contest closes March 29. The winner will receive a $5 cash prize. Winning picture will be printed in the Spectrum and Bison with acknowledgment. Get yours in today.

Kludt Wins Top Honors In Declamation Contest

Warren Kludt, McClusky freshman, won first honors at the 45th annual declamation contest held at the Little Country Theater, Monday, Feb. 12. His reading was "Gunga Din".

Ann Murphy, Fargo sophomore, was second, her selection being "Minuet." Eunice May Solberg, Cooperstown freshman, was third with a poem, "The Ancient Beautiful Thing."

DISCUSS FOREIGN MISSIONS
"Foreign Missions" will be the topic for a panel discussion at a meeting of the Lutheran Students Association Sunday at 5 p. m. in the YMCA dining room. Supper will be served.

JUNE PFAU, junior in education, has been selected by the Junior Chamber of Commerce to act as queen over festivities held in connection with the Jack Frost winter carnival beginning today.

NDAC Coed Will Reign Over Jack Frost Winter Carnival

Officially opening the first annual Jack Frost Winter Carnival will be a parade down Broadway tonight at 7:20, climaxed by the crowning of the queen of the carnival, June Pfau, NDAC student, on the ice throne at the foot of Broadway at 7:40. Prior to this, she will have been interviewed by Ransom Sherman over the NBC network at 3:30 this afternoon.

Sponsored by the Fargo Junior Chamber of Commerce, the carnival is under the chairmanship of Ken Kennedy, WDAY announcer, and events are scheduled for today, Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

Ransom Sherman's Carnival Revue will be presented tonight in the Crystal Ballroom. This is the only appearance Sherman will make during the carnival.

Other features are the Ice Vanities of 1940, which will perform daily in the Arena, the Carnival Ball to-morrow night at the Crystal; log cutting and tug-of-war events will take place to-morrow afternoon. On Sunday, a cross country ski race, ice skating races and figure skating contests are scheduled.

Final event of the Carnival will be the frolic in the Crystal Ballroom

Amphion Chorus To Sing On Program For Little International

The Amphion Chorus of Fargo-Moorhead will be featured at the Little International Livestock Show to be staged Monday, Feb. 26. The chorus, which is one of the finest aggregations of men's singing voices in the Northwest, will appear in western regalia and will feature western numbers on their program.

Other numbers on the program will be the appearance of members of the current Bison Brevities cast, impersonations by Francis Daniels, and music by an orchestra yet to be announced.

A novel event on the program will be the Co-ed Cow Milking contest in which the members of the fairer sex will pit their skill against time in the delactation of the bovine specie. No holds are barred and the winner will be determined by actually weighing the precious liquid so arduously obtained. (Inches of froth is absolutely not a factor.)

Although it is yet tentative, it is highly probable that there will be a faculty horse harnessing contest this year.

Bob Brastrup, who is in charge of ticket sales, has announced that ticket sales will again be in the hands of the sororities and Ceres Hall, with the group selling the greatest number of tickets receiving the traveling trophy and the honor of selecting one of their number as Mistress of Awards for the show. These tickets will be on sale this week.

Fellowships Available To Clothing Majors In Home Economics

Store service fellowships awarded by the school of retailing of New York university are available to clothing majors with a bachelor's degree, announces Miss Minnie Anderson, head of NDAC's clothing department. The fellowships carry a cash value of $400. Recipients attend school half time and work in downtown New York city stores half time.

The training leads to positions as personnel directors, heads of retail departments, and jobs as buyers.

Applicants must have the recommendation of the local clothing department. Miss Anderson estimates that one or two NDAC clothing majors a year for the last 10 years have attended the school.

Soup And Fish Taboo At Frosh Prom March 8

Maybe it takes a soup and fish to lead a grand march, but the interfraternity pledge council is going to prove that occasionally the "old order changeth" by having a grand march at their "School Daze" prom in the field house March 8, led by a couple formally attired, for this occasion, in skirt and sweater. Of course the gentleman will not wear a skirt, but anyone attending this dance in a suit will look as out of place as a freshman at senior staff meeting.

Programs, music and decorations will be on the theme of school days and the grand march will be the outstanding feature of the dance. Only freshmen will be allowed to school hop to the tune of that time-honored melody, "School Days," but the dance is open to any student, as the freshmen would like to show the upperclassmen that they are classy stepers.

Some lucky members of the interfraternity pledge council will be elected to lead the grand march at a meeting of the council in the lobby of the YMCA Tuesday at 2 p. m.

A committee composed of Virgil DeCamp, Dan Stine, Harold Crosby, Russell Gibson and Hiram Fuller have already made plans for the dance and have set down certain restrictions as to dress. Girls will be required to wear skirts and sweaters with "slop" shoes, ribbons, and ankle socks optional, and boys must not wear matching coats and trousers. Smart couples will dress as nearly like Joe Collich as possible, as prizes will be awarded for the most typical collegiate couple.

Arrangements for several guest numbers by the various sorority pledge groups are being made with the members of their active chapters, in order that no feminine talent will slip by unnoticed.

This shindig is open to all having the price of admittance, which will be reasonable indeed.

FOUND

Necklace with Sigma Chi crest. Owner may recover from Mrs. C. C. Finnegan.

Jim On Writes In 'Furrows'

Featuring the winter edition of the Bison Furrows, agricultural publication of the campus, to be released next week, will be an article by Tin Yan Jim On, telling of his experiences in coming to college and his collegiate career. His article bears out the fact that one does not have to have a pocket full of money to go to college.

Also featured in the current issue is a guest editorial by Gov. John Moses. The "Furrows" will continue with the modern style of covers, characteristic of the past few issues, and attempts to interpret college life for prospective students.

High schools all over the state are on the mailing list and, from comments received by the staff, indications are that it reaches a significant cross-section of North Dakota youth. This is the last issue by the present staff.

DISCUSS ETIQUETTE

Col. J. R. Mendenhall of the Military department led the discussion on "Etiquette" in the "Y" Tuesday night. This program was a part of the "For Men Only" series and was arranged by Ray Toman.

'Clara The Cluck' Will Rule Over Carnival Tomorrow Night

Hear Ye! Hear Ye! Hear Ye! Royal Proclamation! Her Royal Highness, Clara the Cluck II, commands your presence at a carnival to be held in her honor in the Royal Festive Hall on Saturday, Feb. 17. The carnival will begin immediately after the combat between the Queen's Men, the Bison, and the Sioux from the kingdom of Grand Forks. A small imperial tax of 10c will be collected as admission price.

Art Taylor, court jester and magician, will provide entertainment, in addition to fortune tellers and a marionette show. Along the Midway will be games of Bingo (perhaps you know it as "Sold to the American Tobacco Company"), horseshoe courts, and a nail-driving contest for those who eat Wheaties. (Adv.) The Queen's venders will be selling confetti, balloons and carnival hats.

Hot dogs, doughnuts, coffee and cakes will comprise the banquet which will be served throughout the evening. There will also be dancing to music by Bobby Hendrick's orchestra.

And now for a bit of disillusioning. Clara the Cluck II is a nice plump hen and will be awarded a prize to the one who makes the highest number of points at games. By the way, Clara is and will be, at the time of presentation, very much alive.

Arrangements are being made by members of Delta Psi Kappa, girls' physical education fraternity, which is sponsoring the carnival. Ruth Thomte is in charge. This will be the only all-college party after a game. Chaperons are Dr. and Mrs. O. M. Ray and Sergeant and Mrs. R. D. White.

Uprising Indians Invade Home Ground Of Mighty Bison, Seeking Victory

Title Hopes Of AC Team Hinge On Series With Sioux Starting Tomorrow

By JACK GARRY

Big Chief Clem Letich and his tribe of inspired warriors are on the war-path again, winding their way down the Red River towards the Bison country, where they intend to run on the Herd with all their usual fight and spirit in an attempt to take back with them a basket full of scalps they would hold as trophies of victory.

Scene of battle will be the NDAC Field House to-morrow night at 8, as these traditional rivals tangle in the first of a four game series which has all the earmarks of being one of the most thrilling exhibitions these two teams have displayed in many a moon.

Sioux At Bottom

The Sioux find themselves way down at the bottom of the conference standings, a situation entirely new to the University since Letich took over coaching duties several years ago. Although the Sioux have not been beaten badly, they have only one conference victory chalked up this season. As a matter of fact, records show a list of seven consecutive defeats, that was just broken Saturday night when they took the Omaha Indians into camp by a score of 50-41. Nearly every year Coach Letich has built his entire team around a top-notch scorer and this year is no exception. The only difference is that this year he has two sharpshooters, Bruce Stevenson and Fred Gran. However, Bob Lowe has the two leading scorers of the conference, Arnold Johnson and Herman Larson, to match anything the Sioux have to offer offensively.

Bison fans expect to see a real battle when these two teams meet even though the Herd is six notches above the Sioux in the standings. Everybody knows that records can be discarded when these teams come together.

University Improving

The Bison have a good team this year and even though the University hasn't been impressive thus far, they are now on the road to becoming very dangerous. Steady improvement has marked each of their games, and with that victory over Omaha behind them, there is no telling how they will react.

A defeat for the Bison tomorrow night will put them in tough position as far as their race for the championship is concerned. In order to come out with a victory, the Herd must be at their best throughout the entire game.

Phantom Game Tough

Their game with the Bismarck Phantoms last Monday night might not have been the best thing in the world for them either. A one point margin of defeat with a team like the Phantoms indicates the boys were really in there playing at a wearing pace all night. The squad has just recovered from slump which followed their last engagement with the Bismarck quintet.

Lowe has found that switching Johnny Abbott to a forward position has worked quite satisfactorily, and will, no doubt, continue his usual starting lineup. Along with Abbott at the forward will be Captain Herman Larson. Arnold Johnson will be at his center post, and Larry Tanberg and either Cliff Nygard or Vern Johnson will start at guard.

Newman Club Sponsors Sleigh Ride Sunday

Members of the Newman club, Catholic students organization, and Catholic students not affiliated with the club will be entertained at a sleigh ride party Sunday at 7:30 p. m. At that time, members will meet in the YMCA lounge.

6 Seniors Named To Phi Kappa Phi

Picked from the upper 10 per cent of the senior class, 6 NDAC students were named to Phi Kappa Phi, national honorary scholastic fraternity at a recent meeting of the group. The date for initiation has not yet been set.

Those named are Mrs. Mildred Eversull, Loren Potter and Sam Tolchinsky from the division of arts and sciences; Helen Restvedt and Helen Louise Sletvold, home economics, and Tupper Howden, a pharmacist.

Hoag, Dahm In Brevities Cast

During the past week, Margaret Calhoun, Bison Brevities director, has brought the seething show to a boil by the addition of two new cast members. The cast of what is expected to be the hottest Brevities attraction ever staged has been completed with the addition of Dick Hoag in one of the major parts, that of Dud Richards, and Ray Dahm in a minor part, that of Breezy Hines, a high-pressure salesman.

Meanwhile, Gordon Anderson, advertising manager, is mapping his campaign for the successful sale of advertising for the show programs. Upon his shoulders will fall much of the responsibility for garnering revenue which is so vital to the financial aspects of this production.

Next Monday, outstanding Brevities talent will be presented as the feature of two extensive entertainment programs. In Wahpeton, Kenney Jones, featured singer, and a dancer who has yet not been named, will provide amusement for the dinner-dance, which is the outstanding feature of the dedication exercises for the community-built hotel. Here in Fargo, Bob Anderson, Jeanne Hovden and Harriet Shigley will sing sweet and hot music into the ears of the ATO alumnae and actives at their annual banquet. ATO's will also hear Charles Bjornstad, ventriloquist featured in the show.

U.S. Political System Is Broadcast Topic

"America, a Democracy or a Dictatorship?" That is the topic to be discussed in round-table fashion by various International Relations Club members over radio station KVOX Sunday, February 18, from 8 to 9 p. m.

Presenting views on the situation will be Gerhard Heutzenroeder, Leroy Baskin, Oscar Zetter, Henry Johnson, Sidney Johnson and Prof. Wentworth Morris.

Sponsored by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, the International Relations Club invites the membership of NDAC students who have interest in foreign affairs.

● can we learn how to study?

Each term at this time, one sees not only many freshmen, but also a great number of upperclassmen who are very much disappointed and chagrined upon receiving their mid-terms. There is, possibly, a majority of the freshmen who are unable to calculate their own classroom standing, simply because they have failed at some time or other to learn how to study. Many are not capable of concentration, and even many more are incapable of utilizing time and evaluating subject material. Students, advanced as far as college standing, should be able to study efficiently.

Students in high school study with a fair degree of efficiency, but only under supervision and direction. The senior in college usually derives adequate value from his studying, but only after a process of trial and error. Between these two steps the beginner in college suddenly finds himself studying with independence—and also with extremely poor methods. The student is suddenly thrown from the carefully directed study hours of high school into the freedom of the democratic college. He must learn to sink or swim in his new environment; he is being taught to study as the child is taught to swim by being plunged into an unknown lake.

Teaching the student to study by such a method is a process filled with accidents and experiments, many of them fatal to the object in view. Students must either learn to evaluate and concentrate on definite material or relinquish a college education. As often as not the education suffers at least in part. Is there not a way whereby students can be taught to study without floundering? Perhaps if the adolescent receives more careful guidance, the adult will emerge with fewer losses. Or perhaps it is the beginner in college that needs more well-defined rules to follow toward more well deserved grades.

● america and the international crisis

By OSCAR ZETTER

It is now a matter of history that loans and credit extended to the belligerent nations were major factors in spreading and extending the war that broke out in Europe in 1914, until nearly the entire world, including the United States, was drawn into the slaughter. It is now also commonly known that, although President Wilson was elected, in 1916, on the slogans "He kept us out of war . . . Too proud to fight," etc. he had already declared to his intimates that the United States should go to war with Germany.

Does anyone believe the final outcome of the conflict in Finland can be altered one iota merely by furnishing the Mannerheim forces unlimited loans and war supplies? Is it not clear that this alone will merely prolong and intensify the conflict, thereby increasing the suffering of the people and that if this war spreads and we go to war, Finland will be a huge battlefield and the Finnish people will suffer ten-fold regardless of the outcome?

This seems to be the plan of Wall Street and Union and the Soviet system. The question is: if we hate it, do we hate it to the degree that we want to send the American youth across the seas in an attempt to destroy it, with the foreknowledge that great numbers will remain there to fertilize Finnish and Russian soil?

This seems to be the plans of Wall Street and the Roosevelt Administration. It is interesting to compare their attitude, and that of Hoover and the American press, to the conflict in Finland with their attitude towards the destruction of Spanish democracy, the rape of Czechoslovakia and other fascist depredations in Europe. It is hard to believe their motives are humanitarian when one recalls that the slaughter in China already approximates that of the World War, that 57% of the materials used by the Japanese in this war have come from the United States, and that because of the European war there is now no other available source of supply, and still great quantities of war materials continue to flow from our shores to Japan.

The leopard does not change his spots. The warmongers of today as in 1914 hide and distort the truth from us and present to us as truths the inventions of hired propagandists for the sinister purpose of sending us to war and slapping a dictatorship upon us.

Regarding Mobilization Day (M-Day) plans, Congressional Intelligence Inc., says, "Subject only to a final checkover and approval by the War Resources Board and high war and navy chiefs is the latest revision of general plan which defense agencies are recommending for control of the nation's economy in a war-time emergency."

"The plan provides centralized control over resources, productive machinery, capital, manpower, and public information."

"Supreme over the entire set-up would be a War Resources Administration headed by one Administrator."

It is clear who will sit in the saddle. Five of the seven members (all appointed by Roosevelt) belong to billion-dollar corporations. With this power in hand, is it thus conceivable (and especially with the foreknowledge that a condition of extreme crisis will follow the war) that Big Business will grant the American people any democratic rights whatsoever unless or until it is taken by force?

Students should send resolutions to senators and congressmen demanding they fight every measure proposed that would tend to draw us into the conflict, and insist that our government give serious attention to our pressing domestic problems.

Keep America out of War! The Yanks are not coming must be our slogan.

● advocate longer library hours

Now that mid-terms are over and term reports are staring students in the face, it won't be long before the usual end-of-the-term rush begins at the library. Tables will be overcrowded with the usual mob of students trying to look up data for that term paper during the limited time of the day the College Library is open.

This is not a new problem as far as The Spectrum is concerned—way back in 1929 there appeared on these same pages, an editorial advocating library hours be extended an hour in the evenings and that it remain open on Sunday afternoons, thus giving students added time to browse in the realms of science, literature and fiction.

What with library facilities limited, as they are on this campus, it seems only reasonable to expect authorities to give students the maximum time in the library. The closing hour, 9:30, is the time when many persons are just beginning to study, because of various organization and committee meetings. An additional hour or so would be a form of insurance that term reports meet the deadline, possibly resulting in better grades for some students.

The Spectrum strongly advocates an investigation by the Faculty Library committee, looking into the question, and coming out with a definite recommendation for longer library hours.

Peek At The Greeks

If last week was the most unromantic in the history of the school, then this week is just plain the most uninteresting—that is as far as the Greeks go—it's hardly worth writing up. Imagine—no romance and no parties! Pardon me, I take that back. The SIG PHI DELTS are initiating something novel before their winter party on Friday—The active chapter will entertain the pledges and several guests with a Stag steak dinner at six, downtown—And now then, here's something unusual: the SAES are still talking about the time Gordon Anderson was showing the pledges the proper form for bowling and took a nose dive on a loose rug without landing on his nose—hmmmmmm—

Looks like I'll have to call myself a liar twice since the ALPHA GAMS have just informed me that they will hold tight to their "Valentine" Friday night when they waltz to Sweetheart dances at the winter formal sponsored by the pledges—Oh well—

As I said last week, GAMMA PHI entertained THETA CHI on Tuesday—Chairman of entertainment committee was Jean Rusch—of Refreshments, Betty Critchfield—KAP-PAS are entertaining their mothers at a Valentine tea Wednesday—On the same day KD entertained SIG-

MA CHI—POPS this week are forgetting that she's a pledge and stepping aside for June Pfau, Fargo's Jack Frost Carnival queen—Quite an honor we feel—

Phi Mu pledged Alta Ostenaar—Alwin Morrison to KAPPA SIG—POP Lorene Ladwig was a dinner guest at KAPPA SIG on Thursday night—KD trio sang at Fine Arts club Friday eve—SIGS say still no cigars from "Peaches" Sorkness—SIG sweethearts Anne Lontz and Betty Aaker visited the house—Alumni Association of SAE met at the house Wednesday night—ATO's entertain the ALPHA GAMS Thursday—The ALPHA GAM trio, Helen Restvedt, June Persinger and Elaine Mattson, accompanied by Virginia Carnahan, were guest entertainers at the Powers Tuesday evening—Danny Olsen was guest at potluck—Word has just reached us that AGR alum Dayton Byram was married recently in Lisbon.

Bridge fans take notice!—Open houses this week galore—GAMMA PHI on Friday from 4 to 6—KD's same day, same time—POPS on Wednesday from 4 to 6—and PHI MUS on Tuesday, same time—And if we recover from the tremendous strain of a weekend with a University game and a dance or two—why then, we'll be back nex' week—Uh-huh—

● namely speaking

Is your name John or Robert? A rose by any other name would smell as sweet, and as respects your name, it would be less confusing if it were Percival, Algernon, or Chrononhotonthologos. For a survey of the college directory shows that there are far more John's and Robert's on this campus than any other common appellation.

In fact, there are about 60 names of each. Following down the list, there is William with 38; James, 34; Donald, 33; Charles, 27; Kenneth, 22; and George, 21. Paul, Arthur, Frank and Lloyd follow.

As far as the college girls are concerned, and they usually are, somewhere, Helen is first with 19 occurrences. Mary has 17, counting composites like Mary Lou; Dorothy, 15; Evelyn, 14; Margaret, 13; Betty and composites of the name, 12; Jean (not Jeanne), 10; and Elizabeth, Lois, Ruth, Katherine, and Mildred proceeding down to 7.

The numbers have not been checked, but are accurate enough.

Which all goes to prove that first names aren't as sweet to people's ears as last names. Or are they?

Gamma Phi Beta Marks Ten Years On NDAC Campus

A dinner for active and alumnae members of Gamma Phi Beta will mark the celebration of the tenth anniversary of the installation of Sigma Theta as Alpha Omicron of Gamma Phi Beta.

Sigma Theta was founded in 1908 on the campus of Fargo college. When Fargo college was dissolved in 1922, the charter was transferred to the NDAC campus. Gamma Phi Beta accepted Sigma Theta's petition at its 1929 convention, and installed Alpha Omicron chapter on Feb. 1, 1930.

Active chapter members working with the alumnae group are Virginia Nelson, Jeanne Hovden, Janice Follett and Jane Blair.

MRS. LELAND B. MAY, Fargo, has this week been inspecting the local chapter of Phi Omega Pi sorority. She is province director of the sorority.

Give Homemaking Programs On Radio

"The Inviting Home" is the subject of a series of six ten-minute radio programs to be presented over five stations in the state starting Feb. 19, according to Christine Finlayson, state supervisor of home economics education. This series of homemaking talks has been arranged by Miss Orinne Johnson of Hillsboro and is being presented as a part of the adult program of the state department of homemaking education.

Topics for the talks concern curtains, floor coverings, and furnishings for living rooms, bedrooms and kitchens. Miss Johnson was home furnishings editor of the Farmer's Wife magazine for ten years and has served on the home economics staff of Iowa State college, Ames.

WDAY, Fargo, will carry the series on Mondays from 3:50 to 4:00 p.m. Other stations participating are KVOC, Valley City; KLPN, Minot; KFJM, Grand Forks; and KFJR, Bismarck.

Fargo JCC Elects Lynch And Erickson

The Fargo Junior Chamber of Commerce has elected John Lynch and Kenneth Erickson to honorary membership, to serve as a contact between the group and the school and to encourage better understanding of the relation of Fargo to the state.

They were chosen by the group's college relations committee and faculty members, under a new plan of the committee to name two seniors yearly. They will be chosen in the fall term hereafter, and will attend meetings of the group. Honorary members will be students likely to work in the state after graduation. George Platt is president of the JCC and Ray Whiting is chairman of the college relations committee.

DR. J. A. REYNIERS, director of the bacteriology laboratories at Notre Dame, will be the speaker at a meeting of Sigma Xi tonight in room 22, Engineering building, at 8 p.m.

NOTICE

There will be dancing and refreshments after the meeting of the Independent Students Association Monday evening at 7:30 in the YMCA auditorium. All unaffiliated students are welcome.

Long Island University is the first and only U. S. institution authorized to give a Doctor of Pediatrics degree.

Announce Freshman Commission At Party

Climaxing the hobby show, YWCA members gathered in the little dining-room for a Valentine dinner Thursday evening.

At this time the freshman commission, consisting of fifteen representative freshman girls appointed by the president, Nelita Dyer, and the Y cabinet, was announced. The girls honored are Eunice Solberg, Eleanor Erdahl, Fannie Helen Dygve, Bernice Wichmann, June Persinger, Mildred Duckstad, Adeline Luther, Betty Gage, Betty Thompson, Patricia Torgerson, Jean Hoelt, Betty Lynne, Doris Margaret Larson, Mary Kingzett and Phyllis Grover.

After the dinner program was presented in which the following girls participated: Eunice Solberg, Mildred Strong, Clarice Lee, and Lois Anderson. Gwen Stenehem reviewed Hamlet, which she had witnessed in Minneapolis.

Judges Pick Winners For Annual YM Hobby Show

Winners in the second annual YMCA hobby show were announced today by judges Dr. Ralph E. Dunbar, T. L. Hanson and Miss Winnifred Washburn. The award for contributors in general was given James Klitz. A wishbone collection of Marion Ivers won the judges decision as the most unique entry. Harry Graves' collection of North Dakota plants won in the effort division. John Calhoun's model airplane collection exhibit was judged highest in craftsmanship, while decision went to Tina Hovi for artistry in needlework.

John Fisher's pipe collection won the prize in the collective field. Catherine Alm won in the drawing and painting field and Thad Fuller in sculpturing.

The first man to send photographs by wire is now a Stevens Institute of Technology faculty member.

CONFERENCE CHAMPS?

If the Bison can whip the "fighting Sioux from North Dakota U" in three out of four contests, and—if the SDU Coyotes can set the SDS Jackrabbits back, then the Bison will finish the season as conference champs.

The only trouble is this setup doesn't even look easy on paper. The idea is that the Bunnies are decided favorites over their state rivals, and even if the improbable does happen there is still that Sioux business to contend with.

Well, all in all, it doesn't look as though an undisputed championship is in order for the Herd, but they are in a good position to get at least a share of the title.

According to reports from some of the University boys who are visiting in Fargo, the Sioux haven't got a chance against the Bison. They base their comment on the fact that the team just hasn't got the stuff to play a good basketball game. The records somewhat verify this statement, as the Nodaks are resting on the bottom of the pile in conference standings.

DISSENSION?

Coach Clem Letich, they said, has hardly started the same combination twice this season. They have two boys on the team, Bruce Stevenson and Fred Gran, that are individual stars but who just don't seem to work together. These two have not seen much action together.

Whether or not these reports are true doesn't make very much difference, for after all is said and done, the Bison can count on the Sioux combining everything they have to the best advantage when these two teams meet tomorrow night.

It'll be rather embarrassing for the Bison if they are used to passing the ball to a man just because his hair is cut the right way. It seems the boys from upstate have used the same system for keeping out of each other's hair as the Bison have. The cash customers might think they are seeing a game between the Sing Sing five and their rivals from San Quentin.

INTRAMURAL—

Getting away from the varsity situation, it's too bad that some of you basketball fans couldn't get around to see the Gym team nose out the Theta Chi's in an intramural tussle Tuesday night. It was really quite a game. It was close all the way with never more than a few points separating them. It was a rather rough and tumble affair, but there was also some surprisingly good ball handling and shooting. The final score was 28 to 25.

There has been some talk of a hockey game between the AC and the University. Somebody from the U challenged the AC to a game but the answer was that the AC didn't have a hockey team, and so the game was not scheduled.

Baby Bison Encounter The Invading U Frosh Tuesday

Meeting the Paposes in the second game of the annual AC-U freshman classics, Johnny Smith's Baby Bison encounter the University frosh cagers Tuesday night at the NDAC fieldhouse.

Starting for the Baby Bison will be the same lineup that was so effective against the future Sioux in the first game at Hillsboro.

Lloyd Fercho and Paul Odonovich as forwards, Jim Fletcher, recent addition to the freshman squad, will be at center, and Bud Johnson and Edsel Boe will be at the guard posts. Ardell Draxton, who has been out of the lineup because of an injured ankle, will most likely see some action.

Because of their win in the first game the AC frosh will be favored over the Paposes but the previous score will have little to do with this game.

Baby Bison Reserves Better

It was the presence of better reserves on the AC squad that swung the victory to the Baby Bison team.

NOTICE

The AC-U frosh game will start at 8 p. m. Tuesday evening. Student tickets are good for this game.

If Coach Jarrett of the U is forced to rely on his second string for much of the play the same result may be repeated.

Jim Pangburn, Draxton, Odd Jacobson, Howard Loylan, George Galloway, and Alden Foss are all capable of going into action without harming the Herd's play.

However, the University reserves, from their play in the Hillsboro game, are more on the football player type.

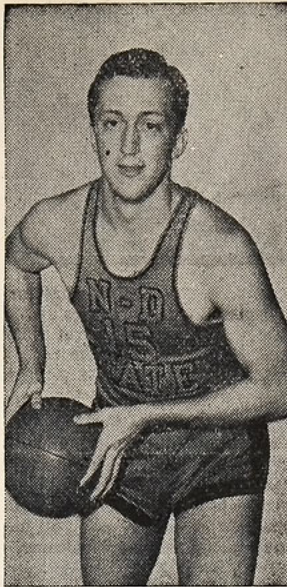

Lloyd Fercho is expected to be the big gun for the Baby Bison. The U frosh were unable to stop him in the first game and be chalked up 23 points in the 41 to 36 victory.

Paposes Favored By Height

Height will be an advantage of the Paposes. Gil Olson, towering center from Bismarck, will have to be blanketed by the AC yearlings if they wish to keep the U frosh from scoring.

Ordinarily this task would fall to Bob Yeasley, all-state center from Bismarck who teamed with Olson last year. But an appendicitis operation took him out of action and Jim Fletcher will have the job of stopping Olson. Although smaller than the U player, Fletcher is his equal in ball handling.

Nicky Schneider, diminutive Bismarck forward, is the second of the U frosh threats. He was bottled up quite effectively by Boe in the first game and Coach Smith is hoping Boe can repeat the performance again Tuesday.

PAT TWOMEY, reserve center for the Bison, will be out of the U game this weekend and maybe the entire series. He injured his knee in a practice scrimmage Wednesday and is now on crutches.

Herd Cagers Whip Omaha Indians 49-37

NDAC Friday defeated the Omaha Indians 49-37 to chalk up its fifth conference win in a hard fought game.

Herman Larson, captain of the Herd, and Swede Johnson led the Bison to victory. Larson, coming out of his scoring slump, chalked up seven field goals and two free throws for 16 points. Johnson was runnerup to Larson, scoring five field goals before being banished from the game on fouls.

BISMARCK PHANTOMS TRIP BISON IN RETURN GAME, 38-37

Unable to stop southpaw Bob Finnegan and his left-handed hook shot the AC basketball team came out on the short end of a 38-37 game with the Bismarck Phantoms, an independent team. The game was played at Bismarck, Monday night.

Although defeated, the Herd looked good against the independents, who had just been strengthened by the addition of Gordon Spear, former Gopher cage star.

Close behind the former Sioux star in scoring was Arnold Johnson, for the Bison, with 11 counters.

Tanberg, Larson, Abbott, Nygard, Troseth and Twomey all played tough ball and kept the Herd in the running continually.

YMCA, Sigma Chi Clash For Hockey Championship

At 1 p. m. to-morrow the YMCA and Sigma Chi hockey teams clash for the intramural hockey championship of NDAC. A cup will be given to the winning team by the athletic department.

Sigma Chi advanced to the finals by virtue of its win over the ATO sextet last Saturday, 5 to 1. Members of the team are Steve Olson, Thad Fuller, Hi Fuller, Dick Knapp, Jim Fahrer, Chuck Wattam, Pete Hilleboe, Bill Ingalls, and Tom Anderson.

YMCA defeated the Gamma Rhos 12 to 3, in the semi finals. Y players are: Irv Fischer, Bud Paulson, Dwight Woodley, Max and Montel Vander Horck, Bernie Bermann, Ray Kimblin, Bill Larson and Max Etkin.

If the ice is not in good condition tomorrow the game will be played early next week.

NOTICE

All members of the freshman football squad of last fall are to report at the fieldhouse Monday afternoon at 4:30 to have pictures taken for the annual. Every member should be there.

KSC Continues Win Record

Standings of teams in the intramural basketball league showed slight if any change this week as the two divisions swung into the second round of the schedule. The Kappa Sigma Chi quintet and the AGR and Gym fives still prove to be the toughest teams in their respective brackets.

Undefeated Kappa Sigma Chi continued toward the Division A championship with a 37-19 victory over the Dorm five Wednesday night. Forfeits accounted for the wins by the Dugout and the YMCA over the SAE's and the Kappa Psi's respectively. The Sigma Chi's scored a 29-9 triumph over the Sigma Phi Delta as the losers failed to bring forth any scoring punch in the first half.

Tuesday night's games found the ATO's dropping a 52-27 decision to the AGRs and the Gym team taking a close one from the Theta Chis 28-25.

Alpha Gamma Rho and the Gym team scored their second wins of the week last night as the AGRs beat the Theta Chi's 30-21 and the Gym defeated the Mechanical Engineers 37-28. The Sigma Phi Deltas broke even for the week with a 36-16 victory over the ATO's.

INTRAMURAL BOWLING

Standings:	Team	Won	Lost
