Activities Plan Recommended By Committee

Group Campus Offices Into 3 Ranks; College Council To Pass On Proposal

Definite proposals for classifying campus offices according to their relative rank for restricting students from participating too heavily in extra-curricular activities will be submitted to the College Council for consideration at their Feb. 8 meeting, Art Lahlum, student commission president, announced last night.

Drawn up by a committee of six student and faculty leaders, the list places all offices in three ranks, giving four points for some, two for others and one for the remainder, with the suggestion that students be restricted to a total of eight points each at any one time.

Recommended By Council

The classification was made at the recommendation of the College Council, which last spring put a restriction of two major offices on each student but made no suggestion as to what constitutes a major position.

On the committee were Jeanne Paris, president of Panhellenic Council; Robert Brandenburg, president of Interfraternity Council; Roland Peffer, president of the Independent Students association; Dean Pearl Dinan and Dean C. A. Severson, besides Lahlum. Until the plan goes to the college council Feb. 8, all members of the committee will accept suggestions from students as to what changes should be made in the list.

To Equalize Distribution

The purposes of the restrictions are to prevent students from overloading themselves and to equalize the distribution of campus offices.

No provision was made in the proposal for considering part-time employment as an outside activity, since deans already restrict the credit-hour load according to work done outside classes. A workable solution for coordinating the two types of activities was not found, the committee reported.

Another flaw pointed out by the committee was the arbitrary lines drawn between the offices, which, they felt, would have to be classified more narrowly to make the ranking just. For example, in class C are all subordinate offices, which in many cases include both fraternity chaplains and pledge marshals, positions requiring a vast difference in a student's time.

Complete listings of campus offices will be published in The Spectrum next week, with their relative rank.

Ask For New AC Building

Congressman Usher L. Burdick has introduced in the house of representatives a measure to appropriate $500,000 for construction of a new building on the NDAC campus to provide quarters for the college post-office and for offices of federal agricultural agencies in North Dakota.

The project was advocated by the state board of higher education and Pres. F. L. Eversull, who conferred with Burdick and Senators Nye and Frazier in Washington recently. They expect the bill to pass, he said.

Proposed to relieve the present overcrowded conditions on the campus, the new structure would house offices and laboratories of the experiment station, the extension division and state offices of various federal agricultural agencies now situated on the NDAC campus and elsewhere in Fargo and Bismarck.

The building would also have an auditorium, conference rooms and other quarters for meetings of farmers, county agents and other groups.

Committee To Pick Outstanding Seniors For 1940 Yearbook

Representative seniors for the 1940 Bison yearbook will be picked by a committee consisting of faculty members and junior students, it was decided at a meeting of the Board of Publications Control Wednesday night.

Faculty members who will serve on the committee are Dean Pearl Dinan, Dean C. A. Severson, Ernest L. DeAlton, Miss Minnie Anderson, Miss Elizabeth Cleveland, Sgt. R. D. White and Dr. W. C. Hunter.

Students, one from each department, who are on the committee, are Larry Tanberg, Bill Guy, Jane Blair, Kemble Lewis, Lorraine Fitar and Kenneth Archer.

Editor Constance Taylor requests that all students who have graduating seniors to suggest as possible nominees for representative seniors leave the names in the Bison office in the northwest corner of the first floor of Science Hall.

Seniors must have their activities lists in the Bison office by the end of next week.

Begin Practice For Brevities

With rehearsals well under way, Peg Calhoun prepared her first official statement to the press as director of the 1940 Bison Brevities hit show, "The Blue Key Turns."

"Everything has been running smoothly, better than we expected," she said. "The script is nearly perfect as far as the talent available on the campus is concerned. Each practice makes us feel more confident in our selection of the cast. With a play which is written for talent well-known to the playwright, our actors are bound to click."

Meanwhile the players prepared themselves for the hard practice routine for which the Brevities are famous. Getting into the swing of things with practices which close promptly at nine, they are aware of the long practices into the early morning which are bound to follow. At present, Script Girl Ann Murphy is directing rehearsals of the speaking parts, and Miss Calhoun, the chorus.

Publicity forces of the show are also rushing to get into action. Planned to date are several air appearances, a show in conjunction with the Little International livestock show on the campus, and a possible out-of-town appearance of the ventriloquist at Valley City.

The statement from Miss Calhoun cited the lack of boys in the singing chorus as the only part of the entire cast which is not complete.

Delta Psi Kappa To Sponsor Carnival

Clara the Hen II has been chosen by Delta Psi Kappa, women's physical education fraternity, to reign as queen over their annual Dime Carnival, succeeding last year's heroine, Clara I.

Clara will be crowned Feb. 17, evening of the first UND-Bison basketball game, then will reign briefly over the crowd in gaily-decorated Festival Hall.

Entertainment will consist of dancing, a marionette show, and games of skill with tickets to games as prizes. Clara herself will be awarded to the winner of a selected key game. Lunch will be served at small cost, Ruth Thomte, who is in charge, said.

All members of Delta Psi Kappa, of which Cheryl Hanson is president, head carnival committees. Chaperons will be Prof. and Mrs. Glenn Lawritson, and Dr. and Mrs. O. M. Ray.

Bison Attempt To Maintain NCIC Lead

Iowa State Teachers Panthers Furnish Opposition For 4th Conference Tilt

By JACK GARRY

The NDAC Bison will attempt to strengthen their bid for the NCI basketball championship when they meet the Iowa State Teachers Panthers tonight on the floor of the AC Field House. The Bison are the present leaders in the conference with three victories in as many starts.

The Panthers will present a team that was one of the pre-season favorites to take the title, but one that has not yet been able to come through in a convincing manner. The Panthers didn't suffer any from the loss of lettermen. As a matter of fact, they have the same team this year that shared a two way tie with UND in the 1939 conference race.

Panthers May Be On

Fred Lofquist, high scorer in the conference last year is still the key man on the squad, but so far has not been able to find the basket. Merlyn Gersema, elongated center, another sharpshooter, has been having a lot of trouble with the bucket. These two boys especially, are due for a good night, and might pick tonight to find themselves.

The Panthers are even in the win and loss column so far. They stepped over a strong South Dakota State team, 36 to 31, and lost one to last seasons conference champs, the University of South Dakota, 39 to 26.

Bison Favored

The mere fact that the Bison dumped the Coyotes twice this season establishes them as the favorites over the Teachers.

Former AC Student Gets First Prize In Physiology

Dr. Frederick H. McCutcheon, assistant professor of zoology at the University of North Carolina who obtained his master of science degree at NDAC under Dr. A. D. Whedon, has recently been awarded first prize for a paper concerning the physiology of blood and respiration. The paper was submitted to the inter-Academy of Science committee for five southern states, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida and Virginia.

Wanna Show Your Dog?

Since we seem to be forgetting the best friend man has is none other than Fido, and because it appears the people of Fargo and the surrounding continent don't have enough opportunities to show the public what fine specimens of Canis families they have for friends, Saddle and Sirloin club will again sponsor a dog show in connection with its annual Little International to be staged February 26.

Saddle and Sirloin prides itself on the selection of a manager of this year's dog show who is truly a great lover of canines. He is none other than Oscar Juntunen. His phone number is 2-2019.

If you have a pooch you wish to enter in the show Oscar is the man to contact. If Oscar is out, say, walking one of his own dogs about a bit, you can also call his worthy assistant, a chap named Orville Godman, whose phone number is 2-2597. Simply give your name, your friend's name and his papers. If Fido doesn't happen to be a purebred, if there have never been any family trees, or even stumps, in his family's history, then that is all right, too. There will be a class for any and all types of dogs.

ARNOLD "SWEDE" JOHNSON, brilliant sophomore center, who will start against the Panthers tonight in the Field House.

Faith, Hope — Charity Follows

If you fellows have done the right thing up to now, you don't have to worry, but if you have slipped up, prepare to have a couple of friends handy for a friendly little game of poker a week from today. Because that is the day when the girl-friend lets you know what she thinks of your attitude. In simple words, Feb. 2, is the date of the annual Charity Ball sponsored by Panhellenic.

Music for the winter term's biggest social event will be furnished by Carl Colby and his orchestra. The theme of the affair will be the "Wizard of Oz," with both music and decorations helping to carry out this theme.

Panhellenic President Jeanne Paris, with her escort, Milton Ericson, will lead the grand march. Nelita Dyer, Panhellenic secretary, and her escort, Charles Fish, will be second in line, followed by Agnes Erdahl and her escort, Kenneth Larson. Others in the line will include Louise Tweet and Einar Mickelson, Mavis Jensen and Roger Dyson, Mary Beth Lewis and Bernard Hutchen.

Dancing will be from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m., with grand march at 10 p. m. Tickets are $1.00 and may be purchased from any sorority member or at the door.

Corsages are not in order, but advanced dress military uniforms are.

Norwich University was the first military-collegiate institution in the United States.

NDAC Hobby Lobby Contestants To Be On Nelson's Program

Howard Nelson, announcer for WDAY, will interview contestants for NDAC hobby lobby honors on his regular weekly program, "Meet Your Neighbor", Monday, Feb. 12.

On Feb. 5, the closing date for entrants into the display, Nelson and Dick Sweitzer, secretary of the YMCA, will select the most interesting hobbyists to appear on the program. Anyone interested in displaying his hobby is invited to enter.

Hobbies entered in the display will be shown at the YMCA Feb. 14 and 15.

Debaters Will Meet Tommies Here Jan. 30

Members of the St. Thomas college debating squad will meet the NDAC team Jan. 30 at 11 a. m. in the Little Country Theater as part of a tour through the western half of the United States.

On the St. Thomas team are Robert Short and Edward Larkin, seniors, who reached the quarter-finals in the Northwest debate tournament held in St. Paul in 1939. Larkin won the Minnesota extempore speaking contest in 1938, and Short won the Minnesota Peace Oratorical contest in 1939 and also won the Pi Kappa Delta Provincial contest in the same year.

While on this tour the team will debate with representatives of various colleges in North Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Washington, California, Arizona, Oregon and, wind up their tour by participating in the University of Oklahoma debate tournament at Norman, Okla., Feb. 23 and 24.

St. Thomas will debate the negative side of the Pi Kappa Delta national question on the neutrality of the United States during the present European crisis. John Peterson and Dick Hoag will debate the affirmative for NDAC.

HOAG, ZETTER, PETERSON DEBATE OVER WDAY

Dick Hoag, Oscar Zetter, and John Peterson were NDAC's representatives in a tri-school discussion of the neutrality question over WDAY Wednesday, Jan. 24. B. C. B. Tighe, principal of Fargo High School, led the discussion between NDAC, Concordia and MSTC speakers.

This was the first in a series of twelve radio discussions. Neutrality will be the topic for the first four sessions, followed by four discussions on Farmer's Problems and the co-op movement. The last four talks will be, "Can Democracy exist in the World Today?"

NDAC's representatives for future broadcasts will be selected from members of the discussion club.

Glee Club Will Tour State

For the second successive year, the NDAC Men's glee club will tour North Dakota. Ernst Van Vlissingen, director, announces tentative plans to have his 35 male singers appear at Cooperstown, Carrington, Rugby, Cando, Larimore, and at least six other towns in the state.

Starting out on Easter Sunday, March 24, they will travel by special bus, to be out on the road about a week.

The trip is being arranged through the Alumni association, who are also securing accommodations for the chorus while traveling.

With bookings as yet speculative, Van Vlissingen said he would announce the complete itinerary later this term.

250 Students To Take Tests For Reaction

Internationally-Known Philosophy Experts Featured On Program

By ALBERT THORWALDSON

Surveys to determine the attitudes of 250 NDAC students toward the Bible, God and the Church are being conducted this morning by the YMCA with a religious attitude test prepared by Prof. L. L. Thurstone and Prof. E. J. Chave of the University of Chicago. The test, according to Dick Sweitzer, YMCA executive secretary, has been given in only a few colleges in various parts of the nation, to give a picture of differences in viewpoints of youths in scattered sections of the country.

These same students, who represent the average NDAC student, will take the test again after the Religion and Life Conference, which begins Sunday, to see what difference they show in their opinions. It is offered with the permission of the University of Chicago bookstore.

Wickey Talks On Sunday

The first event scheduled for the participation of all students will be Sunday evening, when Dr. Gould Wickey will address a worship audience in Festival hall on youth's challenge to the church. Arranged by Neal McClure, the service will begin at 8 p. m. Dr. F. L. Eversull will give the prayer and Dr. W. L. Airheart the benediction. The college mixed chorus will sing two anthems. Carol Buhrmann will be the organist.

Highlights of the week's activities, described more fully on pages 3 and 4 of this issue, will include mass meetings on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday with panel discussions slated for each one; broadcasts over WDAY Monday and Wednesday from the studio in Morrill hall with Dr. H. D. Bollinger as speaker Monday and Dr. M. D. McLean on Wednesday; and two convocations, scheduled Monday, with Rev. D. T. Niles speaking, and Friday, with Dr. Charles W. Gilkey.

Members of the committee of 100 will meet daily at breakfast in Ceres hall cafeteria with the leaders, to plan the day's activities and to make any changes necessary in the day's schedule.

Speak In Churches

Leaders will be entertained at a faculty tea in the Lincoln Log Cabin on Sunday, the first day of the conference. They will take pulpits of eight Fargo churches Sunday morning. Daily at luncheon leaders will lead discussions among faculty members, who will meet in Ceres hall cafeteria.

Classroom lectures have been scheduled from 8 a. m. until about 4 p. m. nearly every day. Speakers will be guests of campus social and honorary organizations for dinner and will conduct panel discussions for them afterward.

Speakers at the conference are provided by the University Christian Mission of New York City. They have sponsored conferences at about 20 other colleges in the nation.

Pictures of all the speakers, with the exception of Dr. M. D. McLean, a cut of whom was not available, appear on page 3.

TO PLAN BROADCAST

Plans for a future radio broadcast will be completed at a meeting of the International Relations Club today at 4 p. m. in room 319, Science Hall.

FRESHMEN TO BE GUESTS

Freshmen who are interested in YMCA work will be guests of the YMCA Cabinet at the next regular meeting of the group Tuesday in the "Y" at 5 p. m. All freshmen genuinely interested are invited to come.

This is the Powers Coffee Shop

—a place that furnishes delicious food, quick service, gay entertainment, and a friendly atmosphere day after day—a place to meet after the game, dance or show, to have a coke or coffee, to take your mother on Sunday or your sweetheart any day. ● 'crumbling of a stone'

Yesterday, final services were held for United States Senator William E. Borah. An event causing international sorrow, Borah's death was described by one senator as the "crumbling of a stone in the foundation of our government." For most of us, however, the death of such an outstanding personality brings about the critical examination of the true values and meanings of life.

Many are reassured in their depressed outlook and assume that this event is further proof and justification for their "what's the use" attitude toward life. To others, however, the death of Senator Borah, or any great person, acts as a challenge to more constructive living. It arouses the desire to live so that the world will benefit by their presence.

To accept Senator Borah's death as a challenge is to turn a sorrow into a joy. Life's true meanings become apparent. We need not necessarily become senators or attain any high position to become great. A sincere handshake or a friendly smile performed as parts of our daily talks is enough to make our presence felt in the world. Thus, a great loss to society is partially compensated by giving new significance to life and acting as a stimulus for better living.

● more room on the bandwagon

Last year the Women's Senate was instrumental in getting a rule passed by the College Council whereby no one person would be permitted to hold more than two major offices at one time. Perhaps the original intention in the rule was to prevent a few from "hogging" all the glory.

However, the work of the committee now defining the term "major office" may have results far greater than the mere spreading around of fame. It is generally conceded that extra-curricular activities are a necessary part of a college education. Thus the enforcement of the rule in distributing offices will thereby enrich in proportion the college lives of many students.

Consider, too, the effect on the various organizations. Many of the honorary and professional societies on the campus are in a state of only lethargic activity. If the leadership of these groups were put into the hands of people who really have the time and inclination to give something of themselves to the purposes of the several organizations, who knows what worthwhile projects might be advanced.—J. ● how it is in canada

By RICHARD SWEITZER

"We are meeting in a country at war, consequently our deliberations, comments, and actions must not cause discomfort or trouble for our Canadian friends." With this statement the Consultative Conference on the World Mission of Christianity in Toronto was opened. To many of us from "south of the border", it was our first taste of the effects of war upon a people and a nation.

Credentials were required of all at meetings; the doors were closed to all outsiders—something new to us—all press notices were carefully censored by the Conference editor; and we were asked not to discuss the Conference with strangers. In short, upon the Conference were imposed the same rules which the nation has pressed upon its citizens.

There are soldiers, of course, for Mars must have men, but there is none of the martial music and the trappings of war we usually associate with military might.

Gone is the freedom of word and thought the Canadian citizen once so highly prized—which we hold to be the inalienable right of all mankind. Defense of the Realm acts have followed war—and men who spoke their minds in public now have only cold steel bars and barren walls to hear them instead of seas of human faces.

The press, that excellent agent of propaganda, finds its two-inch type extremely useful; while the utterances of "zealous patriots", who fight the "holy war" from rostrum and soap-box, find their words in the morning editions.

One gets the feeling that armed conflict is the only resource for the maintenance of Democracy, but if this is true, what of our Christian ideals, our hopes, our dreams? Are they to be shattered and blown to oblivion, and are we with them? Perhaps not if we who still have our cherished freedom can strike the all important balance between God, man, and our material resource. God, man, and material resources, are the bases of Democracy and when these bases are in harmony "all's right with the world".

● don't blame the colleges

"Look at Johnny—he went to college, and now he's home just loafing."

Thus the skeptic, who has never been to college, points out one example and concluded that the whole institution of higher learning is a failure and a useless procedure.

What the scoffer does not see is the thousands of young men and women who, because they have been to college, are doing their jobs more successfully and intelligently.

What college student has not gone back to his home town only to discover that many people have the idea that he is on an extended vacation of four years, and that his life at school is one round of pleasure and gayety?

We would like to see one movie producer honest enough to produce a motion picture that would give a true impression of college life and what the student really does most of his time. Of course, such a picture wouldn't be exciting.

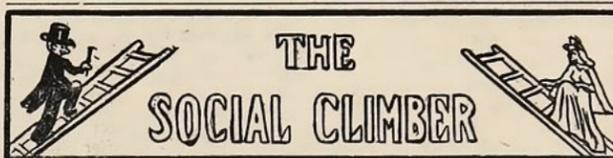

We hold no brief for college as a cure-all for laziness and mental inferiority. Colleges have, in their enrollment, their share of people who will never quite make the grade, but this is true of any other group as well.

Johnny is a loafer, but did college make him one? Isn't it very probable that Johnny would have loafed no matter what his education?

This week we present feelers from the spieler, and incidently we don't know what's going on at the Sigma Chi house but see Abner Selvig for the latest dope. . . . The POPs had open house and bagged a Sigma Chi Sonny Olson. He said, quote: "I haven't got anything against the POPs," unquote. Well who has?

Have you met Mae Rita Finan, that very charming Phi Mu? Gordie Gray, that smart looking Theta Chi monopolized all her time the other day when the Phi Mu's entertained the Theta Chis. Tsch Tsch. . . . Bergen got thirteen hearts. . . . Now she's one up on Joyce Ogilvie. . . .

Last week the Bismarck Phantoms played the AC in the AC gym, on this game Vic Sasse, a Sigma Chi, bet Pat Callinan, a Sigma Chi, a hundred to one, from the picture of the same name, that the Bismarck Phantoms would win the game. Pat Callinan, Sigma Chi, true to form, laid down three cents. If you can't figure it out we'll tell you. Pat Callinan won three dollars. . . . The FBI agents are investigating the SAE monopoly on the Gamma Phi's time Friday nite we hear. . . . The guard posts on the campus are going to be raised four inches to satisfy local dog union 525. . . .

We have had so many questions lately as to who is eligible for a date and who isn't, we have decided to publish a list for those girls that still believe in leap year. First is Pat C. Twomey, an all around sportsman and a boy with a winning smile, then there are those cute little Gamma Rho boys. . . . And girls, there's Montel VanderHorck; it's been reported that he's on the loose. Bye the bye Leslie Voss of the Voss studios is also a good bargain—six poses for $1.50. Also let us not forget that strong and silent man from the south, Tex DeCamp, known to his friends as Bull DeCamp. . . .

Among those going down to the city this weekend are Jane Brolling, Elaine Nygaard, Clayton "Bums" Rush, and Willie Boehrs. Einar Mickelson has his eye on the fountain on the train. . . . naughty, naughty. By the way, have you heard whose nose Jean Miller had in her mouth at the Pan Hellenic the other night? Yes, you're right. . . . We also notice Mary Morrison just received a lovely bracelet the other day from one of the local stores, and it didn't come from any college lad. . . . Well, if your name didn't appear in the social climber this week don't worry, we'll get something on you yet.

Theater Previews

FARGO

"The Fighting 69th," starring James Cagney and Pat O'Brien, comes to the Fargo Sunday through Wednesday. "The Fighting 69th" shows Cagney as a cocky young private, bucking army discipline in the form of a domineering top sergeant, Alan Hale. Pat O'Brien plays the role of Father Francis P. Duffy, well known and beloved chaplain of the 69th, and George Brent plays the part of "Wild Bill" Donovan, daredevil colonel of the regiment. "The Fighting 69th" is unique in that, with the exception of all but four characters, all in the picture represent real persons, many still living.

With war filling the front pages of most of our newspapers, the dramatic re-creation of a memorable incident of the last World War when Russian and Austrian soldiers faced each other across No Man's Land on Christmas night and sang the hymn, "Silent Night," is one of the most effective sequences in "Balalaika," coming to the Fargo Thursday through Saturday of next week starring Nelson Eddy and Iona Massey.

GRAND

"He Married His Wife," starring Joel McCrea and Nancy Kelley, comes to the Grand Sunday through Tuesday. "He Married His Wife" tells the story of a couple that have reached the end of the line and have decided to part company. The husband agrees to pay alimony to his ex-wife but finds he is unable to keep up the payments and decides to marry her off to someone else. He plans a romantic setting and then a dashing young man enters the scene and complications arise.

STATE

"They Made Me a Criminal," starring John Garfield and the Dead End Kids with Ann Sheridan, comes to the State Friday and Saturday. The story of a one time holder of the world's boxing championship forced to fight for every inch of happiness that he gets brings back John Garfield to the screen.

"Dark Victory," starring Bette Davis, winner of the academy award, comes to the State Sunday through Tuesday.

"All Women Have Secrets," starring Jean Cagney, sister of James Cagney, comes to the State Wednesday and Thursday. The story has to do with under-graduate marriages and the romances that precede them, and the adventures that follow.

● the dormat

Dear Theta Chis,

We, the Dormits, love you, love you, love you—"Said 3rd Lt. Stanley," courtesy of Proctor and Gamble—for the nice time we had last Sunday. Especially loving is Mrs. Kirst to Bud Thorwaldson for swinging it—maybe he'd be more loved if he would swing. At any rate, it was a swell time—"vive le Theta Chi" . . .

Hear ye, hear ye! Eunice Solberg is self-appointed date bureau for dormit hall working in conjunction with dormut hall, a good date is promised all applicants—could it be the lass that staves the conversation off with a few small bits of humor or pokes, prize samples may be obtained from "Pug" Schroeder. . . .

Stud-y or Poker?

And now that dormut averages have been released, studied and acted upon surveys show that poker doesn't pay in the long run—losers were poker playing occupants of 233 and 325—the grades were stacked against 'em. . . . When worst comes to worst, and the phone does not ring, dormits revert and degenerate to bridge—bridge - field, Charlotte Carpenter should be told that bidding 12 spades doesn't work, or maybe better take lessons from "front page" Bergan of the Gamma Phis—she holds all the hearts, and in one hand at that. "Believe it or Not," Callinan and Bentley were in on the deal—did they have heart failure!

She Lets Loose

But if you call dormut hall and hear a feminine voice answer, don't worry it may be only "super-sopranoed" madam Leland Satre—of course then again it may be the waitress from the "we deliver" Bison Bowl delivering—"Dutch Maid," where's your competitive spirit?

Rojean Scheer finally gave vent to the campus's most beaming personality last Sunday at Dear Theta Chi—record, 4 asks, 4 no's—maybe she should get a manager to help keep things straightened out.

Dormut "Socialite" Sam Tolchinsky has entered the social whirl as every week guest of sorority open houses—is it just to give bridge exhibitions, Sam, or have you more complex motives? The newest field of education is being fostered by Ray Michel—Telephonic Lessons in Physics, Inc.—and the sad part of it all is that all communications are forwarded to Concordia—is there no dormit, or otherwise, interested in taking physics by phone from Ray, or would it be a lost cause???? And if you're interested in studying in dormit hall, here are a few reasons why you won't—Georgiana Findahl throwing shoes and cussing or discussing her last weeks' dates—Marion Lyman being coy and giddy over the phone on her nightly call with Jeff Carlisle—and then, there's the dorm fire bell at 7 in the morning, and where does it get you—out of bed?

Religion And Life Conference Leaders Chosen From Nation's Youth Workers

Confronting the students of NDAC next week during the Religion and Life Conference is an imposing array of speakers from various parts of the United States. Each has been studying the special topics on which he will speak and each is, in some way or another, connected with a youth movement, or is a member of some college faculty.

These speakers are chosen by the University Christian Mission and travel from college to college for the Religion and Life Conferences on various campuses.

Following is a brief description of the individuals on the speakers' team:

DR. M. H. BICKHAM—

Dr. M. H. Bickham is a lecturer on labor relations, economics and government. For 10 years he was in charge of the labor relations for the state of Illinois.

His academic training consists of a bachelor of arts degree from the University of Pennsylvania. Later he attended the University of Chicago where he received his M. A. and a Ph. D. in sociology.

He is qualified to speak on labor relations, sociology, economics, government and peace relations. He will be here during the entire week.

DR. HEIL D. BOLLINGER—

He advocates a policy of sane living and common sense for all America and is a powerful and stimulating speaker.

Dr. Gould Wickey will be the speaker on Monday, with Rev. D. T. Niles on Tuesday and Wednesday and Dr. Charles W. Gilkey on Thursday and Friday. Other conference leaders, who do not have appointments at noon, will also be present.

Seminars Designed To Solve Present Day Vital Problems

To furnish ample opportunity for raising questions concerning the contribution of religion to the solution of the vital problems of the day is the purpose of the four seminars to be conducted daily, Monday through Thursday, as a part of the Religion and Life Conference. The seminar questions were selected on basis of responses to questionnaires distributed throughout the student body.

Rev. G. Merrill Lenox, a specialist in youth training, will conduct the popular marriage seminar, to be held daily from 3 to 4 in the YMCA auditorium. Length of the engagement period, problems of religion in marriage, and what makes for success and happiness in marriage are some of the topics to be discussed. Nelita Dyer is student chairman.

The question of the conflict between science and religion is indicated as the most popular sub-topic for the seminar on science and religion. Dr. Milton D. McLean of the faculty of Macalester college will lead this seminar, aided by Ed Switzer, student chairman. The science and religion seminar is scheduled for the east room of the Y from 4 to 5 daily.

What constitutes a sane moral code is to be the question of most interest to those attending the seminars on moral codes. Miss Frances Greenough and Dr. H. D. Bollinger of Chicago will conduct this series of meetings to be held in the Fireside room of the Y from 4 to 5 daily. The student chairman is Florence Mickelson.

The Religious Education Building has been chosen to house the seminars on beliefs for modern life, also from 4 to 5 daily. Rev. D. T. Niles, a native of India and a member of the staff for the World's YMCA will conduct these meetings, assisted by Dr. Gould Wickey. Questions concerning the relations between Man and God will receive greatest emphasis. Art Whalen is student chairman.

The seminars are open to all students. Those planning to attend are asked to fill out the application blank to be found elsewhere on this page, and leave it at the Y.

Name 145 To Deans' List

Exempt from all attendance requirements, 145 students have been named to the Deans' list for the winter term. However, their names will be removed if, during the term, they accumulate enough absences to fall in a course. A 2.0 average and an attendance at school for at least three terms are the requirements. Compared to last year's, the list has been halved. This large decrease is probably due to the new system of marking with letters. The list is as follows:

Peek At The Greeks

With half the school down in bed with flu and such, and winter just more than asserting itself with nasty winds and blows, it kind of puts a damper on the Greeks—That is all except a few of the bravest—The THETA CHI's stuck their heads out just long enough to say hopefully that maybe NEXT week Ernie Wheeler, a past great of this here institution, will pass cigars—He hung his jewelry on GAMMA PHI Jo Erickson about three weeks ago, no less—and they say it's worth pu-lenty . . .

And right on their heels come the ATO's with the bitter warning that "you wolves" (hmm) might just as well stay away from POP Ethel Gores—Just because George Koch is wearing his fraternity pin again is no sign that they're not still that way and stuff.

Lots of new initiates this week, too—Witness: KD's held second degree services for Muriel Kotchevar, Margaret Hellender and Dorothy Stene-hjem — PHI MU's initiated Jessie Gibb and Margaret Pile—Likewise ATO's, Jack Taylor, Homer, Goebel, and Charles Fish Monday night—SAE's held services for Hubert Sweeney, George Martin, and Ralph Martin—GAMMA RHO's for Royce Satre, Reuben Ruud, Arthur Whalen, Armond Toussaint, and David Hume—KAPPA SIG's for Kenneth Neumann, Emerson Neumann, Gustav Strobel, Walter Rivinius, and Lawrence Henry; and GAMMA PHI's Jean Rusch and Audrey Wells.

Potluck guests are about next on the list, I guess—GAMMA PHI: Doris Hardy and Jewel Leebey—POP's: Eunice Solberg, Avis Iverson, Evangeline Schwarz and Jean Kirkhoff—ALPHA GAM: Jerome Walters—KD: Carol Fortney — KAPPA: Doris Selvig—THETA CHI: Rev. Parr and Roy Carr.

Starting the old swing of entertainments this week were the THETA CHI's who entertained the Ceres Hall girls Sunday—and also five farmers attending the adult f. f. school—and more than that they had a dancing party in the house to listen to THETA CHI Sammy Kay play an hour program dedicated to the fraternity—(the radio failed to give out, but the good old records didn't)—KAPPA SIG's entertained the PHI MU's on Wednesday—GAMMA PHI's will play hostess to the SAE's on Friday at a "Come as an ad" party—Buffet supper, the game, and dancing in the program—ATO's did the honors for the PHI MU's Sunday evening—GAMMA RHO's have invited the POP's for Thursday.

THETA CHI's Thank-God-It's-Fri-day Club will convene gain for one more shot in the arm this week-end—Pledged this week: GAMMA RHO: Ardell Lindahl, Ardell Anderud, Douglas Courtenay, and Donald Bates—SIGMA CHI: Bob Bruns and Eli Dobervich—ALPHA GAM: June Persinger and Wilma Grant . . .

A very fitting conclusion to all this we think and the SIG's think is the flash that Buzz Saw alias Ripples alias Dick Knapp is working on another smooth dorm deal—(Incidentally we're NOT responsible for consequences following the above)—AND may I add on my own that 2 o'clock does NOT mean 2:30!

Faculty Men's Club Elects Lawritson

Glenn N. Lawritson is the new president of the NDAC Faculty Men's club. He was elected at the annual business meeting held in the YMCA Fireside room Tuesday evening. Chris Jensen is the retiring president. G. L. Seaman was elected secretary.

New members of the executive committee are J. R. Dice, and Dr. John A. Ord, F. M. Bolin and Erwin K. Rohr were reelected to the board. T. H. Hanson and Glenn Hill are retiring members of the executive committee.

In between the fall and the spring we set aside a period for reflection and meditation. The social activities of the College have closed down. Next week we unite in a concerted effort to think through our intimate problems under the leadership of great men and great women.

Such an opportunity comes once in a lifetime. We are happy that it comes to the campus of the North Dakota Agricultural College now. With the help of faculty and students, this week should be one that searches us through and through for answers that we have sought for a long time.

SPECTRUM
SPORT

By SAM TOLCHINSKY

During the first part of the Phantom-Bison basketball game, when it looked as though the Bismarck boys would not have very much trouble with the AC team, Captain Herman Larson walked to the bench and voluntarily benched himself.

Although it meant nothing to the crowd, that little gesture probably did a lot of good to our team's morale. If the captain and leading scorer of the team is willing to sit out and let someone else play if he figures someone else is better, that captain is going to get a lot of cooperation from that team.

Probably one of the big reasons why the present AC cage team is leading the conference, is just that same reason. Everyone is pulling together and no one is handicapped by the conceited notion that the rest of the team can't get along without him. In other words there are no "big heads" on the AC basketball team.

Upstate Normal

Wintery winds are blowing and down from the northlands comes the story, as printed in the Dakota Student, that the AC Bison are superior to the U Sioux.

Not in so many words does Rod Reynolds, writer of the SportsCaster, admit it but he does say that he is not going to be foolish enough to stick his neck out and pick the Sioux to defeat the Herd.

Two weeks ago in my column I said that it wouldn't be long until the Student was making excuses for the defeat to be handed them by the Herd. I also said that the U paper would undoubtedly pick the Sioux to win.

Mr. Reynolds seems to think I was a little bit foolish in writing that opinion. He says, "Sam, according to the way the Sioux have been going do you honestly think we are going to stick our neck way out and pick them?"

Yes, Rod Reynolds, I honestly think you will pick them to win. Wasn't it your sports editor who picked the Sioux to beat the SD Jackrabbits, a better team than the Bison on paper?

Twomey Hits Ceiling

Tuesday evening, before the 9 p.m. intramural game between the Dorm and Kappa Psi, Pat Twomey, who was to referee the game was playing with the basketball. Someone dared him to hit the ceiling, intimating that he couldn't toss the ball that high.

Undaunted by the veiled sarcasm, Patrick tossed the pumpkin high in the air. It was 10 feet short of the roof of the Physical Ed building.

But on the second throw the ball hit the ceiling, but it did not come down.

Twomey's unerring aim had found a corner where two girders came together and there the ball rested, many feet above the heads of the players.

Enter the hero of the drama. Ray Kimblin shinneyed up the posts holding the backboard; catwalked over 50 feet of girders and then climbed hand over hand to the roof where he dislocated the ball from its mooring and the game went on.

An hour later the Dorm had won over the druggists.

Raymond Briese-Mech. Eng.

Bouquet for the week goes to the Mechanical Engineers' intramural basketball team. This group of boys, without a fraternity or dorm to back them, paid their own entrance fee into the intramural league, and called themselves the Mech-Eng team.

Although their record to date is not impressive they have proved tough stumbling blocks for every team they have played and as soon as they become used to playing with each other they are going to be a hard team to stop.

Raymond Briese, Dawson freshman, is probably the best player in the league outside of Snowberg and Kimblin of the gym team. From his guard position for the Mech Eng team he averages from 4 to 7 buckets a game which is a lot of points in any game.

Superior Teachers

For the past few years the Superior Teachers College basketball team has provided quite a stumbling block for AC basketball teams. Last year they won 49-45 and this year 63 to 35.

We don't think that the Athletic Department would be entirely wrong in scheduling the Wisconsin team for an appearance in Fargo. Personally I would like very much to see the team that could wallop the present Bison team the way they did.

Herd Takes Evenly Matched Game From Bismarck Phantoms

In as thrilling a contest as seen in the Bison field house in some time, NDAC's Thundering Herd Friday night defeated the Bismarck Phantoms 63-57 in an overtime game.

"Swede" Johnson led the scoring for the Bison, chalking up 21 points. Bob Finnegan, former NDU star, was the big gun for the capital city team sinking 10 field goals and four free throws.

Brilliant was the word for the shooting and playing of both squads. The game was fast and furious throughout.

Lack of reserve strength coupled with the excellent defensive playing and aggressiveness of the Bison proved the downfall of the Bismarck team.

The speedy fast break of the Herd wore the Phantoms down near the end of the game. While using the fast break, the independent squad occasionally uncorked sensational scoring plays.

Bismarck Starts Fast

In the first half the AC squad looked ragged against the smooth playing of the classy Bismarck team. At the half the Phantoms were in the lead 26-25. Failing to stop only the sensational shots of Finnegan, the defense of the AC became tighter in the second half.

With one second of the game left to play, the Bison were in the lead 53-52. Bob Finnegan received two gift shots at this point. Missing the chance for a possible victory, Finnegan sank only his second try to tie the score at 53 all. In the overtime period the Herd dropped in five points in rapid succession.

Johnny Abbott, sensational sophomore guard, put on a great defensive show as well as shining on the offense. He was runnerup to Johnson for Bison scoring honors with 11 points.

Larry Tanberg and Herman Larson displayed their usual smooth fast game besides leading the AC's fast break. It was Larson and Tanberg who brought the Bison out in front of the scoring race. Vern Johnson and Cliff Nygard dropped in some timely buckets for the Bison.

Acey Olson at guard was the outstanding defensive man for the Phantoms.

Yearling Squad To Meet Sioux At Hillsboro

Johnny Smith's Baby Bison meet the Sioux Frosh Wednesday in the first game of their annual series in Hillsboro in a benefit tilt for the Infantile Paralysis fund.

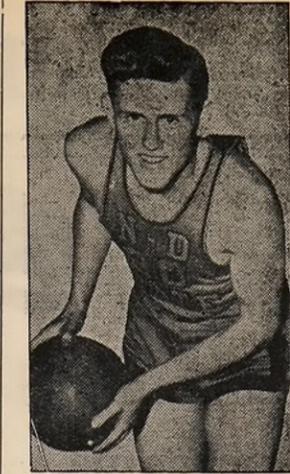

Both the AC and NDU yearlings have played outstandingly this season. The Bison team has displayed great scoring ability, which combined with a good defense, bodes ill for the Nodaks.

At forwards for the Bison will be Paul Odonovich and Lloyd Fercho. Edsel Boe and Ardell Draxton are slated to start at the guard posts with Jim Pangborn at center.

Gil Olson, lanky NDU center, and Schneider, a shifty forward, are the scoring threat of the Grand Forks team. In a game with the Bismarck Phantoms, the NDU Frosh ran away from the Independents in the first half, but slowed down and lost in the last half. Schneider and Olson are from Bismarck. Schneider was the star of an independent tournament held in Alabama last year. He was a member of the Phantoms at that time.

Losing only one game this year, the Bison Yearlings have shown great promise. Their team play has increased considerably. Combining the fast break with scoring plays the Baby Bison possess the ability and experience of a varsity squad.

Coach Smith states that it is a toss-up as to who will be the victor between the NDAC Frosh and the Sioux Yearlings.

John "Jackrabbit" Abbott, sophomore guard, is one of the dependables who is doing so much to make the current Bison team a title threat.

a good ball game pretty soon, and if they happen to pick Saturday night to get hot, there is no telling what the outcome of the game will be. The Bison have found a combination that seems to click, and their fast break, a powerful offensive weapon, has been working smoothly in recent games, which alone is enough to wear any ball club down.

In all probability, Coach Bob Lowe will start his usual first string lineup. Swede Johnson has found his shooting eye which will be no end of value for the squad. With Johnson at center, the height of Gersema will be offset somewhat. Herman Larson and Chink Johnson will be at the forward posts and Johnny Abbott and Larry Tanberg will start at guard.
