

Jubilee Homecoming Celebration Reaches Full Swing

Victory Hopes Pinned On AC Backfield

Bison Show Improvement In Spite Of Last Week's Defeat By SDS

By SAM TOLCHINSKY

Hopes for a victory are soaring in the Bison camp this week as the Herd prepares to square off against its fourth foe of the year tomorrow evening in the game which will wind up Homecoming festivities.

Although defeated last week by SDU, the Bison showed enough improvement over the previous games to give their supporters some hope that their season will not be a total loss.

The shakeup in the Bison backfield that moved Sturgeon to quarterback and put Kimblin at full satisfied everyone that Coach Casey Finnigan has found the best combination of backs. With powerful Cecil Sturgeon leading the plays from the blocking back post the Herd has as hard hitting a backfield as can be found in the conference.

Kimblin Plunges Hard

Kimblin's speed, combined with his punch in crashing a line, makes him an ideal fullback and the extra week's practice since the disheartening Coyote game may help make him just a little bit harder to stop than previously.

Ed Peterick will continue to call signals this week. Teaming with Sig Erickson they clicked exceptionally well at the halfback posts and proved to be a dangerous combination. Whether or not the Jackrabbits will be able to stop them is not known but Bison fans are assured that this pair of backs is going to get loose more than once in the Homecoming clash.

King Reserve Fullback

Gorm King is coming along fast as reserve fullback and can pick his holes as well as the rest of them. Pom Hill, a speedy little halfback, will again see a lot of action. Jim Higgs, the surprise of the SDU game may be uncovered again if the Herd needs his passing. The way he winged them in against the Coyotes clearly stamps him as the best passing prospect the Bison have. Don Johnston will be used at the quarterback post during the game.

Reuel Howland, starting guard at the first of the season, seems to be in shape again and may take over the starting post from Arnold Seim. But Seim held down the post admirably during the last two games and is certain to see plenty of action. Al Bowstow, who may be headed for all-conference this year, will be the other starting guard.

Joe Kojancik will start at center with Pat Twomey to help him when needed.

Last Home Game

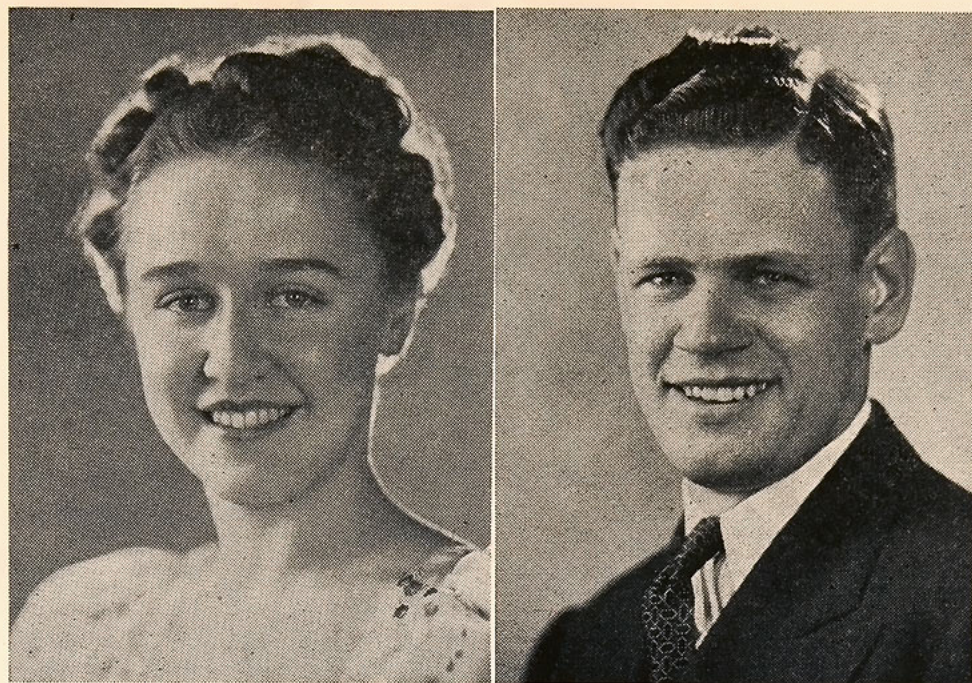

Co-captains Cecil Schrank and Harry Johnson will start their last game on the home field against the Jackrabbits. Although both of these tackles are capable of withstanding sixty minutes of punishment they may be replaced at times by Joe Hovland and Bruce Fulks.

Four ends are in the running for the starting position with Marquart and Maxwell likely to start and Enowberg and Bermann ready to come in.

South Dakota State has long been a rival of the AC. More than once she has assumed the role of giant killers and knocked the Herd out of the conference championship. In 1937 the Bunnies were the first to stop the Bison and in 1931 they beat an aggregation of Bison gridmen who could have spotted them three touchdowns and beat them any other day of the year.

But for the first time in years the Bison are rated as underdogs against their southern rivals. Because of their record to date no one can logically pick the Herd to topple the Jackrabbits who are engaging in their first conference tussle. However, this year the AC may be the giant killers.

Tickets for the game are $1.00 per person.

Rally Arouses Enthusiasm Of Students

Convo, Barbeque, Queen's Dinner, Dance, Scheduled For Today's Program

By ALBERT THORWALDSON

Excited by last night's pep rally and songs and yells at the bonfire, students trooped through downtown Fargo in a gigantic snake-dance in the initial event of the Homecoming celebration series.

Broadcast by KVOX, the pep rally program in Festival Hall ended with Babe Scott's orchestra swinging out to bring the crowd jamming the hall to the edges of their seats. Singing the Yellow and the Green, the students marched in a body to the field north of the Field House, where they stood around the burning pile to sing college songs and join in college yells. The snake-dance was led by a German band, part of the Gold Star band, as hundreds swung down Broadway.

Scheduling the bonfire and the first pep rally on Thursday is an innovation in the homecoming program, but was arranged that way to spread the events over three days and prevent overcrowding of activities, Arthur Lahlum, student commission president, said.

On today's program besides this morning's pep rally are the Queen's dinner sponsored by Senior Staff, who will honor outstanding senior girls then, slated for 6:30 p. m.; the homecoming dance in the Field House, to the music of Babe Scott's orchestra, from 9 until 12.

The parade, one of the major events, begins Saturday's schedule, with floats and other units to appear at the campus gate at 9 a. m. Margaret Calhoun, who will be in charge, will organize the procession from the gate west along Twelfth avenue.

Returning to the campus at noon, students and faculty members have been invited to Blue Key's barbeque, to be served during a dance during the noon hour in Festival Hall. It will be a stag affair.

At the same time, alumni will meet at a noon dinner and meeting in the Lincoln Log Cabin in the Main building. A prize will be awarded to the alumnus who came the longest distance. Classes will elect permanent secretaries.

Before the variety game in the evening, floats will be paraded around Dacotah field. During the half, prizes will be awarded to winners of the fraternity and sorority float and house decoration prizes and the downtown window decorations. Presentation and coronation of the homecoming queen, Helen Restvedt, is also scheduled in that program.

After the game, the social committee will sponsor a dime-dance in the college YMCA, to wind up homecoming festivities.

Four Elected To Blue Key

Four seniors were elected to Blue Key, national honorary service fraternity, at a meeting of the organization Tuesday. The men are elected on the basis of scholarship, activities and service to the college. Following are the men elected:

Einar Mickelson, president of Theta Chi fraternity and the Carl Ben Eilensen Flying club. He is also a member of the YMCA cabinet, Alpha Phi Omega and the Interfraternity council.

Thad Fuller, president of Sigma Chi and of the Edwin Booth dramatic club. He is a member of the interfraternity council.

Roger Toussaint, member of the livestock judging team, Saddle and Siroin, Alpha Zeta, Lincoln Debate club and of Alpha Gamma Rho, social fraternity.

Leon Hartwell, associate professor of English was elected faculty advisor to fill the position left vacant by Dr. Dallas A. Dedrick.

Work Begun On Yearbook

Work has already begun on the 1940 Bison which will commemorate the fiftieth anniversary of the college, according to Connie Taylor and Lee Stenehjem, editor and business manager respectively. Both staffs have been organized and have already started on the makeup of the Golden Anniversary Book. Photographers Vernon Giles and Vern Hook have been snapping candid scenes since the opening day of school.

With the increased enrollment, the additional money from the activity fees will enable the staff to put out the finest book in the history of the school, say Taylor and Stenehjem.

It is the hope of the staffs that they will be able to include several color pages in the book. Informality is to be the keynote. All student camera clickers are invited to contribute prints.

CORCORAN HEADS APO

Eugene Corcoran, senior in chemistry from Cando, was elected president of Alpha Phi Omega, national honorary service fraternity, at the organization's first regular meeting October 3. He succeeds Frank Buck, who is now employed by the Moorhead Weather Bureau. The next meeting is scheduled for October 17.

Dinner Fetes Queen Helen

In honor of Queen Helen, Miss Helen Restvedt, 375 NDAC students and alumni will attend the annual Queen's dinner this evening at 6:30 P. M. in Ceres dining hall.

The homecoming queen of South Dakota State college has been invited to attend. Also honored this evening at the head table will be fifteen senior girls who are as follows: Barbara Gwyther, Mary Beth Lewis, Constance Taylor, Jean Paris, and Virginia Carnahan, who are Senior Staff members; and Margaret Calhoun, Louise Tweet, Agnes Erdahl, Nelita Dyer, Alta Reynolds, Lorraine Naftalin, Marjorie Handy, Muriel Schroeder, Carol Benson, and Ruth Thomte. The last ten receive recognition because they have proved outstanding through campus activities or because of maintaining a high scholastic record.

After the banquet Queen Helen is to be presented. Following this introduction sororities and fraternities will seek to "hold their own" by singing various sorority and fraternity songs. In addition Ernst Van Vlissingen will lead the entire group in joint community singing.

Attention, alumni! If you haven't as yet purchased your ticket for the dinner tonight, you still have time to do so. See Miss Dinan in the administration building for making late reservations. Price of banquet is 56 cents.

● "these fifty years"

Today and tomorrow NDAC celebrates its fiftieth anniversary. This year, as before, there will be a big parade and celebration. But homecoming this year is of special significance, because the college is celebrating its Golden Jubilee. "These Fifty Years" through which the college has passed are years of which it may well be proud. For fifty years NDAC has offered the advantages of college training to students at low cost and has rendered North Dakota invaluable service.

For some time students and friends of the school have been contributing their time to help make possible a successful homecoming. Perhaps studies have suffered a bit the past two weeks, but the effort put forth by the students in preparation for this homecoming will be recognized when alumni and former students return to their Alma Mater this week end. A hearty invitation is extended to students, faculty, and friends, and to alumni and former students to help celebrate fifty years of progress at NDAC. —A. P.

● too much speed

Two weeks ago there was a notice on this campus to the effect that it would be a wise policy for the students to drive more carefully on the college roads.

This polite notice has been entirely disregarded and students who drive their cars to school continue to drive at such a speed that at times it is impossible to see across the roads because of the dust. If there is any place where a highway patrolman is needed it is right here on this campus. Students at times are thoughtless of the inconvenience they are causing others by disobeying the college rules and exceeding the speed limit. After all, these roads may have been safe for horse and buggies, but they were not intended to be used as a dirt racetrack for an assorted group of automobiles.

Until such a time as the state sees fit to pave the campus roads the least that can be done is to obey the rules as they now exist. Perhaps a traffic court could be established on the campus to try violators of the speed and parking laws which would have the authority to charge the violators a small fine to be put in a fund to provide for future paving of the campus roads. Nevertheless the next time you drive on the campus streets drive carefully and show some courtesy for the next person. —A. H.

● more on college hops

Last week, in an editorial, it was suggested that all-college hops would be a valuable addition on the camps. This week the idea has taken root and some interested people on the campus are bringing the idea up before the social committee in hopes of securing permission to stage such dances once a week.

It has been suggested that the Freshman class sponsor these dances aided by a group of upper-classmen. Various members of the faculty have signified their intentions of backing the idea to help to put it across. Many students have already been asking when these dances are going to start and a wide spread interest has been manifested in them so perhaps in the near future these dances will be a reality. —A. ● bison briefs

By Mud 'n' Sinkers

The Bit-o-Bull boys are back again in the old location at the northwest corner of the editorial page. It's a lovely, picturesque spot, this corner. Bloomquist, complete with cigarettes, sits but a column to the left, and Shigley, so they tell us, has staked her claim just across the crease.

In case you didn't know, the purpose of this column is to provide a centralized distributing point for all those bits of philosophy, fact and fiction which some shining light at one time brightly termed "fillers."

F'rinstance:

There is a quaint superstition prevalent among the scholars on floor three of the boys' dorm that if you eat seven hamburgers and three slices of apple pie it will spoil your appetite for lunch.

According to popular legend, the month of October promises to be one of numerous variations, even upsets, in the usual order of daily events:

1. Mason Arvold will cut his hair on October 29.
2. Ollie Uthus will cut his hair on October 30.
3. Butch Kimblin will place a little red ball in the side pocket of the easternmost snooker table on Thursday.

"It works both ways," remarked Don Hustad in a noon bridge game recently, "a good hand depends on a good deal, and a good deal depends on a good hand."

Coach Johnny Smith is frightfully worried about Jim Davis, who, he says, has the weakest right hand in the business. Davis can throw a football scarcely twenty yards with his right hand; perhaps that is why he uses his left.

Anyone wishing to write a social column may call for brass knuckles and blackjacks at the campus bookstore. Ask for Ronnie.

Come mid-terms we know some people who are going to wish they had studied when they were younger—about forty-eight hours younger.

Having thus far successfully staved off all sweet, serious and aroma-ed matters, we feel it not amiss to announce as a clincher that:

The bonfire problem has been solved. Poseley and DeCamp are sleeping once more.

Bob McDougall has taken over the cream of the Colby and Walsh bands and is shaping them into a new swing ensemble.

The newly augmented Babe Scott gang is getting off to a lucky start tonight (Friday the 13th) at the Field House.

Social Climber . .

The happy Homecoming season is again with us. 'Tis the season to be jolly. Tra la. So everyone drop their books and mingle with da mob. Homecoming is the time when: The Morris girls of Wahpeton and GPB sweep down upon the campus. The college kids are kicked, trampled and bruised at the dance by the current crop of high school jitterbugs, the Alka-Seltzer people gloat when everyone ends up with an upset head and tummy.

It took the explosion from a string of firecrackers to drive a bunch of Gamma flies from their booth in the dugout the other day. The Chinese bang-bangs were placed there by playboy Duane Johnson . . . The Janet Wilson-Johnny Abbott breakup has resulted in a couple of new campus romances. Janet's got SAE Ollie Uthus and Johnny's got Shigley fever.

Dotty Bentley is the first coed to gain distinction on the campus this year. She is breaking in Les Voss' pipe for half a buck. Bentley in an exclusive interview says, quote: "darn it's gettin' harder every year to get your name in the Spec. darn" —'Tis rumored that the Bison are the current favorites to play Buttsville Tchrs. in the annual Corn(y) bowl game on Thanksgiving. This year Butt (for short) Tchrs. are defending a three-year losing streak.

One of the fraternity men called one of the sorority houses (Ah Mystery) and inquired if there were any pledges who didn't have a date for the weekend who would like a little lovin'. Smooth ay what!—ya about as smooth as th campus road . . . Betty Lou Johnson, the cheer leader, had nearly everyone fooled at the game Friday with her elongated hair do.

Kenny (Breeze) Archer, thinking there was a new girl in school, suffered from eye-strain over the weekend . . . After the embarrassing commotion he created at the Alpha Gam tea on Sunday, the Theta Chis have decided to find someone other than Gorman King to represent them at sorority affairs of etiquette. Mr. King in an exclusive S. C. interview said, quote: "those folding chairs." . . . The lines of worry in the face of Stu. Comm. Prexy Art Lahlum did little to convince the policeman at the Crystal that he really was old enough to be there. Mr. Lahlum in an exclusive interview said plenty . . . It's embarrassing not to mention the Kappas at least once but they are such a well behaved bunch of Pollyannas that they never indulge or in other ways cause dugout chatter . . . Well, happy Homecoming, fellow students.

Fitjar, Johnson On Regimental Staff

There will be an LSA picnic at Oak Grove Sunday. Meet at the YMCA building at 4:30 Sunday afternoon.

Correspondence Division Will Again Give Night Classes

The NDAC department of correspondence study and extension classes is starting the 15th year of night classes next week. The objectives of these classes is to serve the needs of the occupied people of this community who are desirous of improving themselves vocationally and culturally.

Each year three or four hundred people have been served through this program. Some of these adults earn credits toward a degree; others to train toward bettering themselves in their present positions, and others take these courses to prepare themselves for different occupations which offer a better future.

Meet Once a Week

All credit courses are taught by members of the NDAC faculty. The non-credit courses are taught by qualified specialists. As a rule the classes meet once a week on the campus of the college. At the request of President Eversull efforts are being made to enlarge the service this year to meet the special needs of a larger group of people.

Classes on most any subject will be organized if there is enough demand for them. The minimum requirement is ten for each course. Some of the courses are public speaking, shorthand, insurance, accounting, mathematics of investment, bacteriology, home decorations and art agriculture, architecture, history, machine shop, education, engineering courses, languages, typewriting and practical courses.

The department of correspondence study invites all who are interested to come in any time and inquire about these courses, as they are open to anyone that has a desire to learn and a will to work.

Hellfritzsch Appointed

A. G. Hellfritzsch (see cut) a native of Wisconsin, who has completed the requirements for the doctor of philosophy degree at the University of Wisconsin, has been appointed director of evaluation and guidance in the NDAC department of correspondence.

Mr. Hellfritzsch will carry on work similar to that now being done at NDAC by Dr. O. J. Beyers. This system revolves around the taking of tests in certain fields for discovering what work the person taking the test is best suited for. Mr. Hellfritzsch will also carry on a guidance program for the students enrolled in the experimental high school at NDAC and evaluate the educational level attained by those who take their high school training by correspondence, Mr. Thordarson, director of the correspondence department, states.

The work in this line will be watched with great interest by educators everywhere as these tests are one of the newest steps forward in education today.

Beyers Lectures At First AC Faculty Seminar

Based on the idea of helping faculty members to continue their training during the teaching year, the faculty seminar, inaugurated this year by Pres. Frank L. Eversull, held its first meeting Monday afternoon at four o'clock in room 319, Science Hall.

Dr. Beyers, who is in charge of the fall series of five meetings, lectured on the Personal Idea to a group of over 100 NDAC and Fargo school faculty members. This lecture is to be followed by four more on the general subject of Youth Guidance, which will be held every other Monday afternoon.

The five winter meetings will be led by Dr. Eversull and will deal with The Art of Teaching in an Agricultural college. During the spring quarter, five individual leaders, all members of the NDAC faculty, will lead meetings on the Philosophical Basis of Teaching.

The plans at present are to hold the meetings during the three terms each Monday at four. Although planned primarily for members of the NDAC faculty, anyone who is interested is welcome to attend.

Story By Iverson Appears In School Board Journal

Dr. P. J. Iverson of the Department of Education, is author of an article on janitor's schools appearing in the September issue of the American School Board Journal. Material for the story was taken from schools conducted in various towns throughout the state during the summer by Dr. Iverson and a staff of experts on heating plants, temperature control, care of floors, air conditioning, ventilation, building sanitation, public relations and other subjects.

Financed partly by fees and by government grants, the schools were attended this summer by a total of 147 janitors and 15 school superintendents.

Dr. Iverson was one of the first to conduct a school of the sort, having organized them in this state in 1930. They were discontinued after two years then, and organized again last summer upon the requests of school officials. At the beginning, the schools were the first of their kind in the nation.

Insurance School Opened At Hartford

Hartford, Conn.—The Hartford College of Insurance, a graduate school established in this city last May by the Hartford College of Law and a group of insurance company executives, has opened for its first academic year. Director Edward G. Baird announced.

About 30 students of an application list of 75 were admitted to the freshman class, he said. Of those enrolled, approximately 83 per cent were graduates of approved college or universities and the other 17 per cent were non-college graduates employed by insurance companies who came to the college highly recommended by the executives of their respective companies.

Director Baird said the Hartford College of Insurance plans to award the degree master of science in insurance and, in conjunction with the Hartford College of Law, the degree bachelor of laws.

Of the 1,500 different types of positions for which the U. S. civil service commission offers examinations, only approximately 200 require a college degree or its equivalent.

Theater Previews

FARGO—
"Each Dawn I Die," starring George Raft and James Cagney, comes to the Fargo Sunday through Wednesday. This is a picture dealing realistically with life in a big prison. It is the story of an innocent reporter sent to prison on a trumped up charge who endeavors to secure his freedom from prison, and succeeds with the help of a well known criminal.

"When Tomorrow Comes" starts Thursday at the Fargo theatre and plays through Saturday. Charles Boyer and Irene Dunne have the leading roles in this picture of John M. Stahl's production.

GRAND—
"Good Girls Go To Paris," starring Joan Blondell and Melvyn Douglas comes to the Grand theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. This is the story of a waitress on a midwestern campus whose one desire is to go to Paris. She engages the confidence of one of the professors to aid her in her plan to sue one of the college boys for breach of promise which finally culminates in a scandal and she is sent home by her pedantic advisor. Instead the young woman journeys to New York where she becomes involved with the family of an Englishman's fiancée.

STATE—
"Bad Lands," with Robert Barrat, Douglas Walton and Robert Coote comes to the State Friday and Saturday of this week. "Bad Lands" tells the tale of the vengeance of a ten man posse pursuing the murderer of a beautiful Mexican girl.

"Three Comrades," starring Robert Taylor, Franchot Tone and Robert Young comes to the State Sunday, Monday and Tuesday of next week. It is the story of three young men who return from war resolved to fight the uncertain future together. One of them marries and the four of them stick together until one is killed and the wife of the one that married dies; then two are left to face the world alone.

"Death of a Champion" comes Wednesday and Thursday to the State. A picture which combines the elements of comedy and mystery as they are seldom found together in a motion picture. In the lead is Lynne Overman ably supported by Joseph Allan, Jr., and Virginia Dale.

An advisory council on education in the graphic arts has been formed by the Carnegie Institute of Technology.

Judging Team Enroute To Kansas City

NDAC's student livestock judging team and Coach Ford Daugherty of the animal husbandry department left the campus Tuesday noon for Kansas City where the team will enter the collegiate contest held in connection with the American Royal Livestock show tomorrow.

Student members of the team are Wayne Bellamy of Drayton, George Dike of Grafton, Gordon Erickson of McCanna, Edwin Mattson of Rolla, Dave Robinson of Coleharbor and Roger Toussaint of Leonard.

Traveling by car, the team made its first stop at Brookings, S. D., where a practice workout was scheduled at South Dakota State college Wednesday morning. There the NDAC team was joined by the South Dakota State team for the trip to Lincoln, Nebr., where another practice judging session was scheduled Thursday. The two teams will arrive in Kansas City today.

Following the contest on Saturday, the NDAC team will visit two livestock farms near Kansas City. The famous Sni-A-Bar Farms' Short-horn cattle will be seen Sunday morning. Later that day an inspection of the Angus cattle, Southdown sheep and the mules at the Lon-Jac Farms will be made.

The team will return to the NDAC campus next Tuesday.

This year's college and university enrollment in the U. S. is expected to total approximately 1,400,000.

Letich's Paposes Promise Baby Bison Stiff Competition

Frosh Gridiron Classic Set For 2:30 Tomorrow: AC Yearlings Untried

Johnny Smith's Baby Bison will clash Saturday afternoon with the Sioux Paposes in the annual Frosh gridiron classic. The NDAC eleven will find stiff competition in one of the greatest NDU freshmen squads in years.

Representing an unknown quantity, as yet, the Baby Bison will endeavor to beat a big University team, which is big in more ways than one. Clem Letich's squad consists of 54 men, the biggest turnout in many years at the U. In weight the Paposes also make a great showing, having William Fech of Whiting, Indiana, and Gordon Moon of Fairmont, each tipping the beam at 270 pounds.

Paposes Have One Win

While the Bison are an untried team except for a practice scrimmage with the Concordia reserves, the Sioux yearlings have one victory under their belts. That was an impressive win over Wahpeton Science school which team last year captured the North Dakota College conference championship.

Johnny Smith this afternoon announced the likely lineup for the Bison Yearlings. In quarter back position will be Harry Treglawney, of Valley City, all-state tackle for 2 years. At halves he will start Jim Pangborn and Gene Fuller. Fuller is a graduate of Fargo high where he was an all-state man two years ago. He is a speed demon and much is expected from him. Edsel Boe will start at the fullback position.

At the tackle posts will be Lester Markusen and Charles Scott, a Minnesota all-state man for three years. Ends will be Tom Kelly and Elwin Tandberg. The probable choice for guards will be Quintin Tabbut and Sid Sanderson. Rudy Jensen will hold down the pivot position.

Other Squad Members

Breaks Help Coyotes Win

The Thundering Herd started to ramp and roar last week against SDU but victory was snatched from its hands in the last half by a couple of bad breaks. An intercepted lateral and later an intercepted pass gave the Coyotes just the chance they needed to win by a score of 19 to 7.

A shakeup in the Bison backfield with Kimblin going to full and Sturgeon shifted to the blocking back post proved to be a healthful tonic to the Herd and they ran wild during the first half of the game. In the second half they played on more even terms but the interceptions, in one case accompanied by an 88 yard run for a touchdown, proved to be too much for the AC.

Faculty Volleyball Nears 20th Season

When the faculty began playing volleyball the past week it was the renewal of a custom which was started by Bob Hulbert nearly twenty years ago.

Conceived primarily for the purpose of providing recreation for the faculty members, it is today an opportunity for the instructors to get together for companionship and good fellowship.

"One hundred per cent turn out this year," is the boast of the botany department which has had the best turnout for many years. The English department, usually not active, is capably represented by E. L. Mayo.

All games are played on the stage in the field house.

Complete Initial Intramural Touchball Round

Now that Old Man Weather is handing out favorable football conditions, intramural touchball is well under way, the first round of both brackets having been completed Wednesday afternoon. The remainder of the schedule, however, will be hurried along in order to assure completion before colder weather takes over the thermometer. This year, intramural sports are being directed by Earl "Beanie" Marquardt.

The intramural touchball league is again divided into two brackets, the Boy's Dormitory, Theta Chi, ATO, Sigma Phi Delta, and Kappa Sigma Chi in one bracket and Alpha Gamma Rho, YMCA, SAE, Sigma Chi, and the Co-op House in the other. At the end of the first round, the YMCA, last year's touchball champs, Sigma Chi, Theta Chi, and Kappa Sigma Chi were undefeated.

The YMCA team put Alpha Gamma Rho out of commission temporarily by a score of 1-0 in an over-time game. Sigma Chi chalked up its win at the expense of the Co-op House, winning by a 9-6 tally. The SAE's drew a bye in the first round and automatically entered the second round, with the Sigma Chi touchballers furnishing the opposition for that part of the second frame. The winner of the Alpha Gamma Rho-Co-op house game will battle with the YMCA for the right to compete in the championship game of the first bracket.

In the second bracket, the Theta Chi's put the Dorm boys to sleep to the tune of 19-0, while the Kappa Sigma Phi's pulled out a win over the ATO's by a 12-0 score. The Sigma Phi Delta clan entered the second round through a bye, meeting Kappa Sigma Chi in its first game. The ATO's will scrap with the Dorm for a chance at the Theta Chi's unblemished record.

Sport Speculations

By NORMAN OLSON

Tomorrow night's game marks the last home appearance of seven members of the 1939 edition of the Thundering Herd. So it is only right that they receive all that is due seniors during this final home game. Just to refresh your memories I'll go over their gridiron careers here at NDAC.

Co-captain Cecil Schrank came up from Casey's home town of Grafton. He has been one of the outstanding tackles in the North Central conference for three straight years. Pairing with him at the other tackle post has been Co-captain Harry Johnson from Casselton. "Horse" had to earn his way to a varsity tackle post as he didn't have any all-state reputation to bring with him from such a small school.

Al "The Mad Russian" Bostow came up from Max, North Dakota, to play guard on the Bison. The other guard graduating is Reuel Howland who came up after playing with Bottineau Forestry for two years. Bostow and Howland are not only built close to the ground but they are also built quite a bit all over the ground.

At the center post we have Joe Kojancik of Aurora, Minnesota. Joe had the misfortune of coming up when we already had an all-conference center. But this year he has it all to himself. His batting average for tackles this year is the highest for the Herd.

Jim Maxwell is another product from Grafton. "The Deacon" is big and glue-fingered. He has had a great year under the yellow and green spangles. Last but certainly not least we have Bernhard Bermann, the No. 1 citizen of Pelican Rapids, Minnesota. As he so aptly puts it, the worst injury he ever received was when he fell off the bench during the excitement of the Sioux game last fall. It is safe to say that he is the most misunderstood and underestimated man on the squad.

Don't forget to come out and watch the Baby Bison battle the Sioux Paposes on Saturday afternoon. As usual the University yearlings have been played up as the most outstanding squad they have ever had. "Gabby" Smith just sits back and knocks them off, year after year. But you can still keep your fingers crossed. The law of averages is bound to catch up with him.

If the boys lose their fourth straight tomorrow night, the Cincinnati Reds will want to establish a farm club here. Which brings something else to mind. Was Gunderson playing end on South Dakota or half-back on the Herd? The reason for asking was that he seemed to have spent a lot of time in our backfield.

For being counted out of the conference championship in the pre-season dope the upstate normal is doing a lot of scoring. It certainly would break their hearts if we had to knock them off again. They will be bothered with a touch of overconfidence which won't be around to bother our boys much.

300 Arrive For FFA Market Days

Over 300 Future Farmers of America arrived on the campus last night for the fourth annual FFA marketing session which is being held today and tomorrow at the Union Stockyards in West Fargo, according to Ernest L. DeAlton, state supervisor for the FFA.

Purpose of the gathering is to educate the Future Farmers in marketing livestock and to give them an opportunity to sell stock which they have raised as part of their supervised practice program in vocational agriculture. There will be no prizes as the stock goes through the regular marketing channels, and yardage, feed and commission charges will be assessed.

Highlight of the program will be a banquet to be served in Festival Hall at 6 p.m. today. Featured at the banquet will be group singing led by Ernst Van Vlissingen, greetings from C. A. Severson, dean of men, sleight of hand performance by Prof. E. L. Mayo, and musical numbers by the YMCA quartet and the Ceres Hall Trio. The banquet will be followed by a theater party.

The two day program will be sprinkled by addresses and demonstrations by some of the outstanding marketing and livestock specialists in the country.

State officers of the Future Farmers, all of whom are enrolled at NDAC are Clifford Nygaard, president; Earl Walters, vice president; Elmer Olson, secretary; Ardell Luidahl, treasurer and Francis Daniel, reporter.

The FFA members are staying at the Field House while in Fargo.

Bison Comments By Sam Tolchinsky

Credit is certainly due to somebody for the switch in the Bison backfield. With Sig Erickson and Ed Peterick at the halves and Kimblin at full with Sturgeon in front of him there is a lot of potential power there.

Whether or not the power will show up before the Sioux game is hard to guess, but we go on record right now to predict a win for the Herd in that annual classic that always brings out the best in both North Dakota teams. And that in spite of the fact that the Sioux have yet to be toppled.

We will go even further than that. We predict a lot of headlines for Sig Erickson when that clash comes around. Sig is the fastest man on the team and is the one whom the Herd will have to count on to break away after the superior weight of Sturgeon, Kimblin and Peterick have softened the opposition.

There is no question but that his fleetness of foot makes Kimblin a better fullback than Sturgeon. But then again there is no question that Sturgeon is a lot better blocking back than he was a fullback. Orchids are due to him for switching from the fullback post which gets the publicity to the quarterback post which gets the real work and yet is buried in the dark when it comes to the write-ups.

Some criticism has been floating around because the Herd tried their 34 lateral play which eventually led to an interception by the Coyote tackle and may have cost us the game. Although it backfired last week it still is one of the Herd's best plays and has saved several games for the AC.

Against Texas Tech several years ago the deception on that play was so complete that the entire Texas Tech team went after Bombing Bob Erickson, the fullback, who crashed into the line. Even the referee failed to see the speedy Fritz Hanson take the lateral from Neville Reiners and score without a hand laid on him. It was not until the ref had unscrambled a heap of grid men without finding a ball that someone noticed Hanson standing over the goal line with the ball in his arms.

SDS has always been a tough opponent of the Bison. The win and loss column is about even with the Herd only one game ahead of the Jackrabbits. That is closer than any other team in the conference with the exception of the ND Sioux.

John Snowberg has certainly been a pleasant surprise to the AC coaches. This athlete who seems headed for Phi Kappa Phi awards was not counted on for much action this year. But already he rates as a starting end and may be the best of the team if he continues to improve.

The Ohio university football team was undefeated in a home football game from 1927 to 1937.
