Bison Yearbook Distribution To Start Tuesday

Brandes, Dinwoodie, Anderson, Lowe, Johnson, McGregor, Cook, Critchfield Honored

General distribution of the Bison yearbook will begin early next week, according to James Critchfield, editor. President Eversull will be presented with the first copy of the book. Students will receive their books from the registrar's office in Old Main.

Following an old tradition of the college, the Bison will publish a list of 8 representative seniors, selected by a committee of students and faculty members. Chosen this year are: Florence Dinwoodie, La Vaun Anderson, Catherine Brandes, June Lowe, James Critchfield, James McGregor, Sig Johnson, and Richard Cook.

White Cover

The book itself is distinctive and interesting. The cover is of soft, white, padded leather. Pages are of white, slick paper and many of the pages are printed in varying shades of brown ink. This year, zinc plates are used for printing some of the pictures. The pictures are screened, and then stippled to remove the lines which ordinarily show in pictures of this kind. The high quality and gloss of the paper used makes this process produce exceptionally clear pictures.

Theme of the entire book is the traditional mascot of the school, the BISON. It will be featured on all division headings by means of cuts, throughout the book.

Will Have Directory

A feature which has been included in some of the former year-books, but was missing last year, is again a part of the present Bison. A student directory with name of students and pages on which their pictures appear will be printed in the back of the book. Fraternity and sorority groups will have individual cuts of each member of their organizations. Other organizations on the campus will be represented by group pictures to prevent repetition of individual pictures.

Students must present registration cards before they will receive their copies of the Bison.

Late Fees Will Be Charged Next Term

Because the college catalog will not be off the presses until after dismissal of school the Spectrum is publishing the calendar for the 1939 fall term. Students are also warned that late registration fees will be charged for the first time next fall. The charge will be $1 per day with a maximum of $5 and will be in effect the first day of classes.

The calendar:

Sept. 15-19—Friday-Tuesday — Orientation and registration for new students.
15-16 Friday, Saturday — Registration for former students.
19 Tuesday—Registration for all students to be completed.
20 Instruction begins. Late fees to be charged.
Oct. 14—Saturday—Homecoming—a holiday.
Nov. 30—Dec. 2—Thursday—Saturday—Thanksgiving vacation.
Dec. 11—Monday — Fall quarter commencement.
12-15—Tuesday — Friday — Quarter exams. Registration for winter term to be completed.

THE NDAC TRACK TEAM which placed second at the conference meet Saturday. Bottom: Al Johnston, Charles Shaffner Vern Johnson, Lloyd Parker, Walt Saylor. Seniors Oppose Faculty In Annual Softball Game

When the umpire shouts "Play ball" today at 4 o'clock, two crack softball teams the Student Polishers and the Faculty Pen-Wielders will take the field in the annual student-faculty softball game. Still smarting from the defeat they suffered at the hands of the students last year, the Pen-Wielders are really out for revenge.

Managed by Glen Hill, sturdy backstop, the faculty men's club has a roster of 18 to shove in at any threatening moment. Of the available 18 from which to choose, Hill boasts of a former Carnegie Tech pitcher to start the game. This former Tech flash is in the person of John Ord, professor of physics. Other men who will probably start are Benjamin Gorder, first base, J. S. Scheurich, second base, a toss up between Wilfrid Woodley, Willard Brown, Stanley Kocal, Ray Cherry for third base and shortstop, and Ford Daugherty, Nihle Frank, David Hume, and Don Keene will patrol the garden.

Ed Welles, manager of the Polishers announces that they will go into the game as under dogs, regardless of the injury of Earl Helgeson, Pen-Wielder slugger. Manager Welles believes that the two day practice of the Pen-Wielders will be the difference between victory and defeat for the students. The injury of Helgeson will not stop the instructors from winning, Welles believes.

The Polishers will be paced by Ollie Uthus, youthful fireball hurler, and Mike Hurdelbrink, gaunt first baseman from the one-eye league. The rest of the roster will be composed of Tin-Yan Jim On, dusky catcher, James Critchfield, second baseman, Carl Rorvig, third baseman, Neal Jensen, shortstop, Roy DeRose, Jim McGregor, and Jack Boulger, fielders, and Bud Osborne, roving shortstop. The umpires for the contest are not decided as yet, but according to all reports they will be selected by the process of elimination, with the two managers as the judges. According to them, the National and American league umpires will not be good enough for this contest.

Arrange Alumni, Senior Banquet

William Guy, president of the alumni and former students association, will preside at the alumni group's annual banquet for graduating seniors, to be held at 6:30 Sunday, June 4 in Ceres Hall. Arranging the banquet is Helen Stokke, alumni secretary.

Sharing honors with graduating seniors will be Governor and Mrs. John Moses, members of the state board of administration and the new board of higher education.

A musical program is being arranged for the banquet. Faculty members who desire to attend must make reservations at the alumni office not later than Thursday, June 1.

Ceremonies inducting graduating seniors into the alumni association will be held at 5 o'clock Sunday, June 4, following the baccalaureate in The Little Country Theater, taking part in the ceremony will be Stuart Kelley, '20, Max Hughes, '32, and James McGregor, president of the senior class.

150 On Campus For Farm Event

Approximately 150 farm people, extension workers, and agricultural program leaders attended the school held by the North Dakota Agricultural college cooperating with the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

The school held between the dates of May 22 and 24 was conducted for the purpose of developing a better general understanding of the various agricultural programs and to lay the foundation for more effective teamwork in these programs among farm people, business and professional interests, and state and federal workers engaged in advancing these efforts.

E. J. Haslerud, and Lars A. Jensen of the extension service here at the college were in general charge.

Discuss Problems

The plan of the school was based primarily on discussion with smaller groups being formed each day following the lecture to permit the discussion of problems confronting agriculture.

Speakers who conducted the various lectures were: Dean H. L. Walster, Frank H. Knight, Professor of economics, University of Chicago; Charles F. Collier, Farm Editor, Minneapolis Tribune; Arthur Bunce, Professor Agricultural Economics, Iowa State College; Walter Havighurst, Professor of Geography, Miami University, Ohio; and Elmer A. Starch, Coordinator, Northern Great Plains Region. These men were assisted by county agents, members of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration committees, and extension workers who conducted the discussions following the lectures.

Select Griffith Commencement Speaker June 5

Commencement week for graduating seniors began last night with a commencement concert featuring the newly-organized college a cappella choir and the Gold Star band. Ernst Van Vlissingen directed the choir, Dr. C. S. Putnam, the band.

One hundred ninety-eight seniors will receive Bachelor of Science degrees, while five graduate students will receive Master of Science degrees.

For the first time in the history of the school, NDAC will present Doctor of Agriculture degrees, these to C. B. Waldron, professor of landscape gardening and forestry, and Dean H. L. Polley, two men who have been associated with the college and with the experiment station for nearly half a century.

Formal commencement exercises will be in Festival Hall Monday morning, June 5. Delivering the commencement address will be Major John L. Griffith, Big Ten conference commissioner of athletics. The professional will form in front of Old Main at 10 a.m. and proceed to Festival where exercises begin at 10:30. The deans of the six college divisions will present graduates of their division to the state board of administration which will present the diplomas.

Baccalaureate In LCT

On Sunday, June 4, President Eversull will deliver the Baccalaureate Sermon at 3:30 in the Little Country Theater. Dr. Eversull's topic will be "Fulfilling Destiny."

Following baccalaureate services seniors will be inducted into the alumni, and James McGregor, senior class president taking part in the ceremony. The annual alumni banquet for graduating seniors will be at 6 in Ceres Hall.

At 8:30 that evening will be the President's reception for seniors, an innovation on NDAC commencement week programs.

A complete list of seniors, their home towns, and the divisions from which they are graduating appears on page two of this issue.

Education Fraternity Elects, Initiates Ten

Ten students were initiated into Kappa Delta Pi, honorary educational fraternity at a dinner meeting in Ceres Hall on Tuesday evening. Those initiated were Barbara Gwyther, Evelyn Larson, Sarah Burger, Lorraine Naftalin, Catherine Dullea, Lloyd Parker, Stanley Jacobson, Nelita Dyer, Jean Chase, and Catherine Cummings. Josephine Beiver was elected president for the coming year at the same meeting. Other officers are Kenneth Erickson, vice-president; Barbara Gwyther, secretary-treasurer; and Stan Jacobson, historian and recorder.

Abandon Co-op Bookstore Plan

By MARIETTA BRYANT

Extensive plans made for the establishment of a co-operative bookstore have been abandoned, according to information received by The Spectrum this week. A thorough study of similar organizations already in operation throughout the nation showed many a disadvantage in the results they effect. Opponents of the movement have compiled a brief of objections to the plan, many of which are the same reasons for the decision to abandon it.

Easing their arguments on the statistics given at the St. Louis convention of bookstore managers, the opponents say that a cooperative bookstore could not possibly give dividends to students for several years. When they have practically no money to go on, how can they buy a store, give a scholarship, and still give dividends? In a co-op store the books would be no cheaper and the students would receive less for their second-hand books at the end of the year. None of the attempts to convert college bookstores into co-op have been a success. The store either went back to the institution or fell into the hands of a holding company.

Not a Big Business

It seems to be the general idea of the average student that our bookstore is doing a $1,000,000 a year business, but that is not so. If it were, there might be some possibility of a co-op being a success. There is only one example of a successful co-op, and that is at the University of Minnesota, where the store does a business amounting to $100,000 a year. The publishing companies allow the bookstore managers only 20% discount. If an order is filled, the store can send back only 1/5 of the total order. The managers also must pay the freight and insurance. All this shows that a bookstore is not a big money-making proposition as most people think.

The general student body would not know any more about the inside part of running the store than they do now, though that is what some think. The only students who would know any more about it would be the five or six who were on the board. The rest of the students would know nothing.

The opponents of the co-operative method are much more in favor of the rebate system. This system would leave the store in the hands of the college, but the profits would be divided among the students at the end of bering up the bank were "Now where" the year.

Flying Students Pass Air Test

Two members of the Carl Ben Eielson Flying club passed the physical examination for the Army Air Corps, it was disclosed at a meeting of the club last night. Alphens Forsman, of Jud, a senior in mechanical engineering and Louis Kittel, Casselton, also a senior in mechanical engineering have been declared eligible for entrance in the Corps.

Two others, Ed Welles, Miles City, Mont., a senior in civil engineering and Clayton Larson, Fargo, a sophomore in arts and sciences, also passed the exam.

At the meeting, A. W. Anderson of the division of engineering announced a course in aerodynamics, to be offered in the fall and spring terms. Students who have the prerequisites will be eligible for the advanced course in the fall, while others will take an elementary course in the spring.

Guests at the meeting were Major R. T. Cronau of Kelly Field, Lieut. J. E. Smart of Randolph Field, both members of the examining board; Major William Halstead and Major E. F. Boruski of the military department. Einar Mickelson presided at the meeting, attended by 28.

Free Lunch And Dance Slated For Late Afternoon; 11 Enter Spring Sing

Representing the student body, James Critchfield, president of the student commission, will present the first copy of the Bison yearbook to President Eversull as a gesture of appreciation of his services to the college during the school year.

The presentation ceremony will be a part of today's All College Day program and will follow the turtle race after 3 p.m. Classes after that hour are dismissed.

Sponsored by the student commission with profits from several projects they have sponsored during the year, the schedule also includes the annual Faculty-Senior softball game, free lunch and dancing at the end of the afternoon. Alpha Phi Omega is arranging the Fraternity and Sorority Spring Sing in the evening.

15 Turtles Entered

In the turtle race, which begins at 3 o'clock, will be entries from all the fraternities and sororities and the Dugout.

The entry list, subject to change until just before the opening gun, includes Johnstown from Kappa Sigma Chi, with Oscar Juntunen up; Little Caesar, Theta Chi, Bill Dean up; Gnome, Alpha Tau Omega, Loran Ladwig up; Haggie the Third, Sigma Chi, James Anderson up; Jeep, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Jack Darch up; Zephyr, Alpha Gamma Rho, Dick Crockett up; Dope, Kappa Psi, Beauford Young up; Itcher, Sigma Phi Delta, Henry Neversman up; Gerhard, the Dugout, Joe Kojancik up.

On the sorority list are Baby Snooks, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Shirley Quickstad; Katydid the Second, Kappa Delta, Ruth Black; Popalong, Phi Omega Phi, Jean Miller; Tagalong, Alpha Gamma Delta, Jeannette Archer; Poopdeck, Gamma Phi Beta, Mary Ann Tronnes; Challenger, Phi Mu, Rachael Miner.

Walk in Heats

The turtles will be divided into fraternity and sorority classes, with an elimination heat in each. Judges will be Sergeant White, Dr. P. J. Iverson and Gerald Seaman. Don Bloomquist, who is in charge of the race, will present the trophy to the winner. The Dugout's entry won last year.

At 4 o'clock, seniors meet faculty members in a softball game to be played on the softball diamonds north of the Field House. Ed Welles is managing the senior team, while Glenn Hill is piloting the faculty aggregation.

Free dancing begins in Festival Hall at 5, and will continue until 7:30. A nickelodeon will furnish the music. Lunch will be served during that time without charge. On the menu for the lunch are the usual picnic items, salad, cold meat, coffee, ice cream and others not yet decided upon, Critchfield said.

Spring Sing Ends Day

All sororities and five fraternities have entered choruses in the Spring Sing, which begins at 8:15 in Festival Hall, according to Frank Buck, who is in charge. Fraternities not in the contest are Kappa Psi, Kappa Sigma Chi and Sigma Phi Delta.

Judges for the Sing, end of the day's program, will be L. C. Sorlien, head of the music department at Fargo high school; Mrs. A. R. Steen, choir director at the First Lutheran church and Mrs. Joseph Kise music director at Moorhead State Teachers college.

They will determine winners of a fraternity and a sorority trophy, which will be presented by Ernst Van Vlissingen and possibly Miss Adda Blakeslee, according to Frank Buck.

Contest numbers are "Te Deum," for fraternities and "Lassie Mine" for sororities.

Frank Buck will open the program, each part of which will be introduced by Dr. C. S. Putnam.

the dormat

Dear Teachers,
It's spring, the sun shines occasionally, there are picnics every day, no one gets a chance to study, so please, please, go easy on exams.

Well, this is the dirt in short of the last short week of the 1938-39 school year—hurrray!

Even though Dormit Margaret Reieron griped about her date with Kappa Psi Sessions before the Junior-Senior prom, it was rather interesting to notice that she went out with him the next evening again—gripe not oh lass, because maybe someone else may have been griping also.

Dormit Catherine Brandes is now a member of the "Do you want to see my scar club" or "let me tell you about my operation." It's little wonder though after her beautiful death scene in "TISH"—cute kid, Catherine, especially when she's lying in the middle of the floor with a night gown and red socks on.

Bivouac, Banquet And Stuff—

Faint suspicions say that Dormit Beverly Place must have asked Rueben Raud to the military bivouac, because after all, Rueben is slightly bashful—kind of cute also—and who'll have the nerve to say that about Beverly Place? Dormit Hall held its annual banquet Tuesday night, the most outstanding thing about it was the presence of worms on the lilac decorations—uh eating with a worm staring you in the eye and begrudging you every bite—Angle Worm Dyer, undoubtedly, stared right back.

And then the UMBRA suffered a small amount from writing this column, 'cause the other night when he got in all of the springs at the foot of his bed were detached—suspicious point at Everett Tool and Harold Griffith of last week's column. Also, after not speaking for a month, Max Campbell—Joyce Ogilvie's Theta Chi Spring party partner—spouted off the other evening, quote: "I'll get to the top, I will. And when I do, I'll spit on you." Must have taken quite some thought—it rhymes. . . . Ah well, those are the pains that a commentator (?) must suffer. To all you who injured the UMBRA not the least bit, his thanks.

To The Unsung—

These last few blank lines are dedicated to all who did not get their names in this column. Fill anything of interest about you in the appropriate places, and then write home that you made The Spectrum—local boy makes good! Dormit . . . Dormit . . . And with this the UMBRA dies—the Dormat always was dead and should have been buried long ago, it stinks!

The UMBRA.

peek at the greeks

The last paper of the year and what's more appropriate than that I should dream up a little gossip or a little news or something—How about this one? POP Doris Solberg passed candy Monday night—that it might be of special interest to the THETA CHI's—and then did you know that KAPPA PSI Percy Hagen was chosen as the "most representative KAPPA PSI for 1939"—and speaking of them—Harry Baeker and Renard Monti were initiated into the Rho Chi, National Honorary Pharmaceutical fraternity—Renard Monti also received the Lehn and Fink pharmacy award. Other honors conferred this week included a scholarship key to POP Margaretta Bjornson for having the highest average for the last three terms—and a scholarship plaque which also went to that sorority—

More Parties—

Still more parties, too—the annual KD spring formal will be held Friday, June 2, at the Moorhead Country Club—and KAPPA PSI's 15th annual was held Saturday, May 20, at the Memorial Hall in Moorhead—Chaperones included Sgt. and Mrs. L. L. Detroit, and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Ord—Guests—Dean and Mrs. Sudro, Prof. and Mrs. Jongeward, and Mr. and Mrs. Redman. Some people still can't wait 'til that final gun to get down to the lakes or home or some place—SIGMA CHI's Kenny Archer, Jack Kurke, and Don Sealander were at the lakes—Also GAMMA PHI's Eunice Warner, Renee Walz, Louise Darrow, Betty Carline, and Cathryn Casselman week-ending at a house party at Lake Melissa—KAPPA SIG's spending the week-end out of town were Bob Paasch to Pelican Lake—Neal Jensen on a fishing trip in Minnesota—

Roger Kimber to Underwood—Charley Shaffner and Vernon Johnson to Cedar Falls, Iowa,—and Lloyd Parker to Pembina.

Turtle Jockeys—

We even have a couple of jockeys for the turtle race to announce—! KD Ruth Black will be the inspiration for their entry, so named Katydid II—while KAPPA GAMMA Shirley Quickstad will cajole Baby Snooks, their choice for 1939 speed king—ALPHA GAM's will hold their weekly relaxer Friday afternoon—and their annual Founder's day luncheon on Memorial Day—Also announcing the POP pie party from 3 to 5 on Thursday with Elaine Helland in charge.

Guests—Uh—uh—With the GAMMA PHI's at the THETA CHI picnic—Eileen Cosgriff—with the KAPPA's at the Panhellenic banquet—Carol Benson—With the POP's for Sunday dinner—Betty Houd, Cleone Anderson, and Eileen Cosgriff—and with them for Tuesday dinner Ruth Kellisvig—With the KAPPA SIG's Wesley Juntunen and I. W. Smith—With the KAPPA PSI's Ray Anderson, Walt Ekeren, Walt Kinghorn, John Vincent and Dean Sudro—

Initiate Kappa Seniors—

KAPPA seniors were initiated into the alumnae chapter Wednesday evening at the Country Club with a reception for the active chapter afterwards—and they will have their annual house party at the Park Hotel at Detroit Lakes the week-end of June 2, 3, 4—with the Winnipeg chapter as guests—ALPHA GAM's held their Installation Day breakfast Sunday morning at the Graver Hotel—and the POP Mother's Club met at the chapter house Monday night—

Well—I certainly whipped that off in a hurry and I want to say on the run that we all hope for ALPHA GAM Catherine Brandes' speedy recovery from her appendectomy of Monday night—and that you will all have a fun summer—and see you next year!

EDDIES From The EDITOR'S Stream Of Consciousness

Let's start out with a bouquet to the Men's Glee Club and its director, Ernst Van Vlissingen. For the first time most students, who heard the Sunday night concert realized what a fine musical organization Van has built up. Year after year, the glee club has gone on practicing three noons a week, receiving little recognition for all its work. The recent tour, however, and the resulting favorable comments, woke us up to the realization that it is something to be proud of. Sponsored by the YMCA, the concert was so well received that the boys were running short of encores towards the end of the evening. Another thing, the good will tour of the glee club and featured soloist June Lowe did a lot to gain favorable publicity for the AC, and to attract prospective students for next fall.

Not quite so rosy was the reception, or rather the lack of reception, given the Gold Star Band concert last week. Despite the fact it was published in both The Spectrum and the Fargo Forum, the turnout was decidedly disappointing. Probably the person or persons to blame most are those in charge of ticket sales down town. The proceeds from the ticket sales were supposed to provide musical scholarships for outstanding Fargo High musicians to attend a musical clinic at Fair Hills. The money actually taken in from the concert will do little toward achieving this end.

This has been a grand year for NDAC. Naturally the biggest thing happening to the college was the reinstatement by the NCA, accomplished largely through the efforts of the Student Committee of Eleven in passing the amendment creating a new board of higher education, free from political control. Most of these eleven students will be gone next year, but the work they did will be remembered and appreciated for many years to come.

Before long the Bison will be out with the pictures and names of the representative seniors for 1939. These students have all earned the recognition they are receiving, but let's not forget all those students who, in some way, do a lot for the AC, yet, do it in such a way that they do not get their names in the headlines.

Remember, Blue Key

is offering $75 for an original play for next year's Bison Brevities. Here is your chance to find out whether you have any talent. So, some weekend at the lakes, or on a fishing trip, or while you are just loafing, why not find out whether you are a playwright?

Just A Breed Named Joe

By LOREN LADWIG

In the 1840's the general concensus of opinion was that a good Indian was a dead Indian. Joe Ellery is an Indian. Joe is alive. Joe is a good Indian. The fact that Joe is alive and good proves to me that the old theory was wrong. How do I know Joe is good? Why, just ask anybody that knows Joe. Everybody likes Joe. That is, everyone but Norman Paps. Norman Paps said he could lick any five breeds in Phillips county. Joe said he couldn't. Paps spent three weeks in the Malta general hospital.

Joe Ellery lives on a little ranch near Whitewater, Montana. He has a few cattle and fifteen or twenty tough reservation horses. He has a wife and four kids. He likes his family. He is kind to them even when he is drunk. Joe tries to raise a little flax and oats when he gets enough time or energy. However, he would rather catch up his wiry bay horse, take his .30 caliber rifle, and go hunting in the breaks.

In the spring Joe shears sheep. He works in Brock Monte's crew. Usually he has a pretty fair run. He is fast and earns good money. Sometimes, though, he gets led astray by his brother Isadore, or Art LaSonte, his cousin. When this happens, he goes to town and gets drunk. Then Brock Monte fires him. He celebrates his firing by getting drunk. The drunk usually lasts on well into July. By this time his shearing money is gone. In a day or three he recovers from his jamboree, catches four of his horses, and goes to work on one of the WPA dams. He doesn't like to do this, but he feels better when he sees all of his white neighbors already there. He likes to sit around after work at night and listen to the talk. Most of the men are ranchers and farmers who have been hard pressed by the drouth. The talk is about the old days, horses, and women. Joe likes the talk about the old roundups on the river. He remembers the days when he roped and rode the worst they had. It seems only yesterday that he rode fourteen bareback, squealing, and pitching broncs at the Clearwater rodeo. But he doesn't say anything. He just rubs his knee where one of those horses fell—and remembers.

When his shift is over he goes right home. He decides not to celebrate. Well, maybe a bottle of beer or two wouldn't be out of line—. He likes to come home. He has missed his wife. The kids are glad to see him. Little Joe and Fredlope out to see him on their spotted cayuses. His wife shifts black-eyed little Jake to her other arm, quietly says, "Hello, Joe." Joe spits out his quid of tobacco, goes into the little log and mud house. He is contented, glad he didn't go to town with the boys.

Joe feels a vague longing for the old days sometimes. He wishes the country wasn't so crowded. He doesn't quite see why anyone should farm instead of hunt. Now and then he feels the cramp more strongly, but when he is back in the hills digging out a den of coyotes, he forgets the present and eases back into the world of his ancestors.

Social Climber

Lee Hartwell (the man with a thousand faces—to choose a date from) seemed to be all wrapped up with Helen Jensen in the Fargo Cafe after the prom.

We also saw the modern Cinderellas, the two couples who, after the prom, went back to normal haunts and ended up at the Little Grand, a Front Street hamburger shop. But places like that do help to ease budget strain.

The Gamma Phis will never again hold open house at the lakes. Last Saturday night's influx of visitors included meaneys who before leaving took time out to dampen the spirits of a few sleeping girls with a water dipper.

Bill Offet didn't like last week's mention of his enterprises, but he was active enough to again be a topic of conversation. Since last Friday he's sent roses to Lorine Ladwig and followed them in person. Guess it took some time to break the ice, but flowers always help.

bering up the bank were "Now where's that two bucks you bet me?" He collected and led his trail of water towards the armory.

We just received a copy of UND's type termite Bill Fearn's TeePee Talk. In it we're condemned as prevaricators, liars and any additions that may come to your mind. We'll admit there were a couple of erroneous statements in last week's Spectrum, but we shore got alibis. Our misconstructions, as that simple soul sees them, are (1) he is not married, and (2) that he was not dunked in the drink by fraternity brothers. We will admit both are correct. However, we weren't in a position to know, for, regarding the first part, we only printed what Bert Cobb told us. She's always been a reputable girl, and we didn't know till later she was joking, for very few people would admit ties with Fearn, even if they existed. Bert also told us of the forced bath episode, and the mistaken version was probably due to Fearn's agility of tongue at certain times. Please pardon us, for after reading TeePee Talk a couple times we should have realized Fearn is not yet of marriageable age; and we're also sorry to have misplaced the honor of being the cause of deah William's bawth.

Realizing that imagination is your apex of proximity to opinion, Mr. Fearn, we'll excuse the misstatement you made. But in the future please remember that we aren't among the ranks of Bison discus hurlers, though after the Intercollegiate meet of a couple weeks back, you probably thought we all threw it down here.

Crack of the week is credited to the fellow who pointed to a wall decorated with taxidermy and said, "Look at all the money on the wall—A buck and dough besides."

Well, if I have any readers, here's a happy summer to you, and gossip saved for next fall's climber will shore be appreciated. Woof Weedershane.

At The Movies

Zanier than either of them have been in many a day, Bob Hope and Martha Raye pool their considerable talents in a carnival of fun and hilarity in their new picture together, "Never Say Die," which comes Sunday, Monday and Tuesday to the Grand theater.

STATE

Friday and Saturday Peter Lorre plays in another of the roles he has made famous when he brings to the screen of the State theater, "Mr. Moto In Danger Island." Sunday, Monday and Tuesday the beautiful blue-grass state is shown off at its best in the technicolor film, "Kentucky," starring Loretta Young and Richard Greene, the story concerning the horse racing which has helped make Kentucky famous. "Sudden Money," the story of how Charlie Ruggles' family help him spend his money that he so unexpectedly won on a sweepstakes ticket. June 8 and 9 a Norwegian all dialogue film, titled, "To Levende og En Død," meaning "Two Living and One Dead," will be shown.

FARGO

Errol Flynn comes to the screen of the Fargo theater Sunday, Monday and Tuesday in a role that is, on the surface, altogether unlike any he has ever played before for he is the straight-shooting here of "Dodge City," a film about the period when the little Kansas town of that name was the roughest and wickedest community of the old west. It is produced in technicolor, and is a spirited and authentic re-creation of those hectic days in the 1870's when the coming of the railroad to the little town at the northern end of the famed Chisholm Trail made it the leading cattle shipping center of that era. The strangest Cinderella story of all is unfolded in "Pygmalion," filmization of Bernard Shaw's world-famous comedy which comes to the screen Wednesday through Saturday.

AC Stenographers Must Take Exams

Future applicants for stenographic positions at North Dakota Agricultural college will be required to take an examination comprised of tests in shorthand, typing, English, mental ability and temperamental adjustment to office work, according to an announcement by Dr. Frank L. Eversull, president.

The first of these examinations will be given May 27 and will be administered by the college personnel department headed by Dr. Beyers, and personal notice of the time and place of each applicant's test will be sent.

This ruling does not affect the present stenographic force at the college.

Boosters Campaign To Place Wheeler On All-Star Team

Cooperation Of Alumni Association Promised To Aid In Soliciting Votes

Announcement of a plan to gain a berth on the College All-Americans, a team picked by popular vote to meet New York Giants, champions of the National Professional Football league, for Ernie Wheeler, NDAC football star, has been made by Ed Kraus, president of the Bison Boosters, an organization devoted to aiding school activities.

An extensive plan has been outlined to gain this post for Wheeler, who was a choice for Collyer's 1938 Little All-America. Co-operation of the alumni association has been promised by Helen Stokke, secretary, and much of the detailed work will be handled through that organization.

Fargo Forum Assists
Votes obtained for Wheeler will be forwarded to the Chicago Tribune, sponsor of the sixth annual charity event, to be played at Soldier's field on the night of August 30, by the Fargo Forum, the only North Dakota newspaper assisting in the poll.

Kraus has appointed Eugene Fitzgerald, sports editor of the Forum, chairman of the committee in charge. He will be assisted by Tom Torgerson and Kraus.

Present plans are to forward petitions to every school in North Dakota and western Minnesota in an effort to line up votes. In order to reach outside the state, the alumni association will send petitions to graduates and former students throughout the country, urging them to get signers and return petitions here. Several other plans also are under consideration with work to begin at once.

Wheeler may get enough votes to earn a starting position if these plans materialize, for the starting posts are given those who receive the highest number of votes for their respective positions. The poll does not get under way till July 8, and continues for two weeks. However, votes obtained before that time will be accepted and withheld until sometime during the polling period.

Wheeler was twice selected for half-back on the Fargo Forum's mythical all-North Central conference team, and was selected as a member of the North team in the Blue-Gray game at Montgomery, Alabama, last January 2.

Herd Takes Five Firsts In Meet

Johnny Smith's boys brought five first places from the conference meet, held at Cedar Falls, Iowa, last Saturday. They placed second, as expected, with 35 points. Their five first places were as many as the winning Iowa teachers team earned, but the Panthers had too many entrants placing third and fourth in the various events to be taken from the winning position.

The conclusion of the first event, the mile run resulted in first, second, and third places for Iowa Teachers, and fourth for Verne Johnson of NDAC. Panthers 10 points, NDAC 1 point, the rest, 0. The half mile brought approximately the same results, with Verne Johnson again placing fourth.

Tanberg Stars
Larry Tanberg, sophomore star, paced the Bison field, with first place in the pole vault and discus events, and third place in the high jump, for a total of twelve points.

Another sophomore, Bob Sheard, placed second in the discus, and won the javelin throw for an eight point total.

Norman Olson won the high jump for the second year, for five more points, and Bernie Berman won the 440 for the fifth first.

Ernie Wheeler finished his college athletic career by pushing the shot far enough for third place in the event, which brought the Bison two more points.

NDAC showed nearly as much strength in the field events as the Panthers exhibited in the distance runs, earning twenty-eight of their points through their efforts on the field.

D-Ball Leaders To Begin Playoff As Season Ends

The big championship play-off between the Kappa Sigma Chis and the Alpha Gamma Rhos, which begins tonight and will probably continue through Saturday, will decide the AC intramural softball champs and will also bring to a close another successful intramural athletic program.

Both teams will enter the play-off with equally brilliant records. Neither team has lost a game all season and both have come out of every contest with scores decidedly indicative of their superiority.

Won't Be Two In A Row
The Gamma Rhos have not had quite as tough opposition as the Kappa Sigs, but that does not mean in any sense that they will not have just as good a chance for victory. With Herm Larson pitching the Gamma Rhos will have an advantage in that position. On the other hand the Kappa Sigs have a superior hitting staff, and also will boast a strong snappy infield. In view of these few comparisons it can readily be seen that the series will be close and the winner will probably not take the first two in a row.

The Dormitory pulled out of the cellar this week and temporarily landed a position two berths below the Kappa Sigs. They took the Sigma Chis 13-9, and sneaked a 7-5 decision from the Theta Chis. The only other games of the week had the Kappa Sigs winning on a forfeit from the ATO's, the Theta Chis tripping the SAE's, 9-1, and the ATO's whipped the Dorm 17-5 last night.

His score for the 36 hole medal play tourney was 74-75, 149, one stroke over the regular par. His margin of victory was quite large, for even though his partner, Don Sealand, had an off day, the team placed second in team competition.

The winning Iowa Teachers team, playing on their home course shot a 314 total, while Paulson's 149 and Sealand's 83-86, 169 totaled 319.

Sport Speculations

The boys did well down at Iowa last Saturday, getting as many first places as the winning Panther team. For total points they outdid our speculations by 10 points, the same margin as the week before at the NDI meet. Otherwise our forecastings were fairly lucky.

UND's Hoss Johnson missed getting his third three-event sweep by one place. He won the 100 and 220, but failed to retain his title in the broad jump. However, he did get second, which gave him a thirteen point total and individual honors.

Bison Larry Tanberg, with firsts in the pole-vault and discus, and a third in the high jump, which made him high point man from NDAC, and second high for the meet. With the first two winners in the high jump graduating, Larry should be good for three firsts next year.

Bill Watson, Dusky Michigan athlete, did what UND's Johnson was trying. For the third consecutive year he made a three event sweep in Big Ten competition. He not only won the shot put, broadjump and discus, but in the latter he threw far enough to break the 23 year old American Collegiate record by five feet. His winning distance was 160 feet.

Next fall's football team will certainly miss George Hammel, sophomore back who won his letter last season. George recently quit school to accept a job.

NDAC should do well in all three athletic fields next year. Football prospects, even without Wheeler, look better than they have for several seasons. Basketball, with most of the team from last year back, also offers a more favorable outlook. In track all conference point winners with the exception of high jumper Norm Olson, will be back for another year's competition. And with coming frosh to bolster all three, NDAC can expect a better year in sports.

Harry Woll Heads Tau Delta Pi Unit

Elected president of Scabbard and Blade for next year was Clarence Van Ray. Other officers are William Hosmer, vice president; Einar Mickelson, secretary, and Rudolph Brunsvold, treasurer.
