Junior-Senior Ball Next Week Holds Spring Season Spotlight

June Lowe, Jones to Lead Double Line; Juniors, Seniors Admitted Free

Opening of the spring social season, which gets its official inauguration this week-end, has been anticipated all week with white coat and formal gown cleaning and arrangements for the Junior-Senior Ball, opening gun for a heavy schedule of fraternity and sorority formal balls. Friday night, May 19, is the date set for the ball, with dancing scheduled to last from 9 until 1 o'clock.

The double line will begin the Grand March at 10 o'clock with June Lowe, senior manager, and her guest, Bill Stewart, leading the senior line and Herb Jones and his guest, Gerry Burch, leading the junior line. Jones is junior manager. Others in the senior line will be Ray Whitver with Margaret Weberg; James McGregor, senior class president, with Patty LaValle; Ernest Wheeler, class athlete, with Jo Erickson. In the junior line are Arthur Lahlum, assistant manager, with Barbara Isaacs; Robert Brandenburg, class president, with Marjorie Pfeffer; Harry Johnson, class athlete, with Florenz Dinwoodie.

Invite Gov. Moses

Gov. and Mrs. John Moses head the list of honored guests, which includes Dr. and Mrs. Frank Eversull, Dean and Mrs. L. L. Carrick, Dean and Mrs. H. S. Rush, Dean and Mrs. A. E. Minard, Dean and Mrs. W. F. Sudro, Dean and Mrs. H. L. Walster, and Deans Alice Haley and Pearl Dinan. Mayor and Mrs. Fred O. Olsen will be issued an invitation, as will Mr. and Mrs. James Critchfield.

On the unofficial list of honored guests are all junior and senior men and their guests, who will be admitted without charge for the first time this year. Tickets will be issued at the office of W. R. Wenger, social chairman, where they must be signed by the person who will use them. The signature of the user will again be required at the door of the Field House on the night of the ball to prevent sale of the tickets.

Tickets Go On Sale

Other tickets will be available after tomorrow, according to Arthur Lahlum, junior assistant. His assistants and places where tickets may be purchased have not been announced.

Present plans for decorating the Field House call for cartoons and caricatures in sketch and silhouette. They will picture phases of campus life and will cover windows and walls.

Earl Gardner's orchestra, a Minneapolis band, will furnish the music.

Board Approves Rush As Engineering Dean

H. S. Rush, acting dean of the division of engineering for almost two years, has been named dean, according to the state board of administration which approved Dr. Eversull's recommendation to that effect. At the same time E. J. Haslerud was made director of the extension division instead of acting director. Haslerud has been acting director since the death of George H. Baker.

The state board has also offered N. D. Gorman reinstatement as county agent leader in the extension division. Gorman was removed from the position on July 29, 1937, as one of the seven staff members removed in the purge which has since been repudiated by the board of administration.

Science Academy Names J. R. Dice

J. R. Dice, head of the Dairy department of the AC experiment station, was elected president of the North Dakota Academy of Science at its annual meeting last week.

The Academy of Science is an organization of persons who are engaged in the advancement and promotion of science. Meetings and membership are open to any person interested in science.

An interesting program was held in connection with the two day program. Scientific papers, on various scientific topics were given by members. In order to permit brief discussions of each paper they were limited to 15 minutes in length.

Instructors from the AC who read papers were O. A. Stevens, Dr. R. H. Harris, Donald G. Hay, Mrs. Darlene Knowles, J. B. Dice, J. A. Munro, and Stanley Saugstad.

Dr. Herbert Freundlich, distinguished author and investigator, formerly connected with the renowned Kaiser Wilhelm Institute of Physical Chemistry at Berlin was a guest speaker at the Academy meeting. He presented an illustrated lecture on recent developments in colloid chemistry.

Blue Key Offers $75 For Original Brevities Show

Blue Key will offer $75 for an original musical comedy to be used as the vehicle for next year's Bison Brevities, it was decided at a Blue Key meeting last night. Students, faculty — any amateur playwright may submit plays.

Plays must be submitted before next October 1, and Blue Key reserves the right to reject any and all submitted manuscripts. Original musical scores may be submitted with the play, but music is not necessary.

The action was taken to stimulate an interest in producing a locally-written play, since the main aim of the Bison Brevities is to give expression to student talent along musical, literary and dramatic lines.

Blue Key Confers Doctor Of Service On C. B. Waldron

On Friday ROTC officer Colonel Raymond W. Briggs of the regular army, representing Commanding Major General Percy P. Bishop of the seventh corps area, will arrive to conduct a field inspection. This inspection is held to determine the status of military instruction at NDAC, and the cadet corps' showing is used as a basis of rating.

For many years the corps has held the rating of excellent, evidence of which is the small blue star on the cuff of the corps uniform. The unit is confident of retaining its rating because of its progress in knowledge of military tactics; the snappy appear-

Letters Describe Activities Of Recent NDAC Students

Recent letters from alumni and former students include news of Philip Chalag, '38; Newell Beckwith, '36; and James Taylor, a former student who transferred last year to Carnegie Tech in Pittsburgh.

Chalag, a student from the Philippine Islands, received his Master's Degree in agriculture here last year. He writes from the Islands:

"It was last January 24 when I arrived at Manila, the capital of the Philippines. I have been at home since then, but I have not been able to secure a job. . . . When I came home I found some slight changes in my home town but such changes were not very encouraging to me. As far as I am concerned, it will probably take years and years before the people in my community will ever progress. I am sorry but there seems to be no way in which people could be made to understand what it is to progress and what it is just to be contented with the old ways of life. Moreover, there is no cooperation among the people, and as long as there is no cooperation their always exists hatred and jealousy.

Improve Travel

"We are having very fine weather which I would like to invite you to share. . . . So far we have had some rain, four times since I have been home, and that helped a lot to water the rice fields. . . . cars and trucks can come to Bontoc this time as compared before when I was here. I can ride in car now to Baguio or to Manila. The time of travel was made shorter but expensive.

"The school opens in June and I hope I get a teaching job at the Trinidad Agricultural School—the school I attended before I left for the States. . . . teaching is secured only through civil service."

Beckwith, who graduated from the division of chemistry in 1936, writes from Detroit Michigan, where he is employed with the Chrysler Corporation. He tells of his marriage on April 15 to Miss Priscilla Smith of Detroit. One of the ushers at the wedding was Don Lieb, '33, who is employed with Acme Paint and Lead Company in Detroit.

N. D. Chemists Meet

He writes: "The Detroit Unit of the North Dakota Paint Chemists Club has continued its regular meetings with an average attendance of 15. Recent spring elections placed Sophus Eolme, UND, '21, as president; Henry Bottemiller, NDAC, '34, as vice-president, and myself as secretary-treasurer."

Taylor, a junior in engineering at Carnegie Tech writes for information on the progress of the 1939 Bison yearbook. He was associate editor of last year's book. Taylor speaks highly of the NDAC engineering school in saying: "Don't ever let anyone tell you that North Dakota State does not have a good engineering school. I am ahead of regular juniors and am getting better marks than Tech. students."

Will More Immigrants Add To American Economic Distress?

When the fathers of our country wrote the Constitution they certainly gave the preamble lots of thought. "We the People of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquillity, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of Liberty to Ourselves and our Posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America."

From all reports of persons in authority and prominent people in these United States, it is evident that they don't believe in what is said in the above preamble. When such men as LaFollette of Wisconsin and Senator Nye of North Dakota advocate the importation of people and violate our immigration laws, then it is high time that they be taken to task and asked for an explanation.

There are several organizations in the United States that have been working to raise standards of living for our citizens, and the figures available for 1939 showed that there are seventeen million families whose income was below a minimum for standard efficiency of health and living standards that have been set up in the United States. Not only that, but the records reveal the startling fact that there is more unemployment now than in 1938. The figures show that there are some eleven million, five hundred thousand persons out of employment.

Now, then, to think that some of our citizens would advance the theory that to bring in these people would create business is an absurdity. How are these people going to purchase merchandise without money? It is necessary for them to have some kind of work to be able to get purchasing power to create business. Some will advance the theory that some of these people will go into business, and will consequently create more business. True, some of them will go into business, but the majority of them will be employees for some time, and for every immigrant that is admitted to this country it will mean another man or woman, boy or girl, thrown out of work to join the never-diminishing ranks of the unemployed.

As for the importation of youths into the United States, while this procedure might not have any effect on the present generation there can be no question but what the next generation will have more trouble and more unemployment than we have at the present time. It is a well-known fact that there are certain classes of immigrants that can and do live below the standards that are set up for the Americans and if we permit those standards to drop then we certainly are losing sight of the words in the preamble where it says "Promote the general welfare". Just what do some of our politicians think is meant by the words "Ourselves and our posterity"? The fathers of our country certainly did not have in mind all the undesirable of foreign countries. If they had thought of that they would have stated that fact the same as other facts that were stated in the Constitution. The politicians evidently have lost sight of the fact that our forefathers did not have all the liberties that are enjoyed by the citizens of the United States at the present time. It was necessary for them to work hard and long to build that which is being enjoyed today, and yet there are those who would throw down the bars and permit all to enter without making any contribution to the welfare of our country.

Quoting from the magazine, Ken, "U. S. immigration quotas from crises countries are booked for years to come. Consular reports disclosed that the Hungarian quota is booked for more than twenty years ahead; the Polish quota for nearly fifteen years; German quota for ten years; Czech quota (before dismemberment) six years. More than 300,000 persons in Greater Germany have filed application for admission to the U. S. Combination of German-Austrian-Czech quotas allows 30,000 to enter each year. If we were to let down our immigration barriers our country would be flooded with all types of people, not only would we receive the scientists and educated people but to a larger degree the poorer classes, who would do much to tear down our scale of living which, as has been suggested, is not too high now.

By all means let us be sympathetic towards these people but at the same time let us not forget those at home who perhaps are in just as bad an economic situation. It would be well for those advocating doing so much for people abroad to remember that charity begins at home.

—A. H.

Did You Say A Mouthful?

You talk too much! You're the person who can't get along without constantly talking. You can't go to a movie and keep still, but you insist upon annoying all of your neighbors with your constant chattering. You have to whisper in church; you go to meetings or classes; and still you whisper. Your roommate feels like moving out because he can't have a minute's rest from your continual noise. Even the people living down the hall turn out their lights when they hear you coming because they know that when you once get started they're in for at least a two-hour session.

And what do you talk about? No one ever remembers and it's hard to say if you can even remember when you're all through.

You know, half of getting along with people is being a good listener. Probably half of your trouble comes from not knowing what things are important enough to pass on to others. A description of "the most darling hat I saw downtown in the store window" or the narration of all the details of a baseball game to someone who isn't interested in hats or has a dislike of baseball should be kept to yourself.

When we stop and think the most interesting people we know are those people, who, when they talk, say things which command our attention without our being aware of how they say them. They don't delve into the secrets of others for something to talk about.

No doubt, the best way to become a proficient conversationalist is first to be a good listener, and then to have something which is of vital interest to you and something about which you really know how to talk. You can't expect your listeners to catch any enthusiasm from you if you yourself lack it. Don't waste your time and other's on small things, but develop perspective so that you can appreciate the things which are worth passing on to others.

EDDIES From The EDITOR'S Stream Of Consciousness

Several Interesting Incidents

happened at the May Festival dance last Saturday which might make a casual observer wonder if the dance was intended as entertainment for high school students visiting on the campus last week-end, or if it was designed as a chance for the college social committee to make great display of its authority.

One High School Senior

and his girl had been enjoying the dance most of the evening and left the floor for a few minutes to get a drink of water. Officials at the door would not let the couple back in, arguing that they were not delegates. The boy was termed a "rat" by college officials because he tried several times to get back into the dance. Officials insinuated that the girl was a "liar" when she produced a certificate showing she was an official delegate to the Festival. She had gotten the certificate from her purse and the keepers of the gate contended she would have shown the certificate immediately if she were truly a delegate. The incident ended with both the boy and girl being forcibly pushed from the hall.

Even Orchestra Members

were not immune from the tactics of the gate keepers. Some of the musicians were sitting along the sidelines resting between numbers, when they were accused of being college students and told to beat it. Needless, to say, they stayed and fulfilled their contract for the evening.

Several High School Students who were not official delegates could by no manner gain admittance to the dance because they had no yellow buttons designating them as high school students. Many of these were high school seniors who are definitely potential NDAC students. Their impressions of the way NDAC meets its social obligations couldn't have been very favorable. The terms in which they were denied admittance to the dance (their dance) were not always in good taste.

In One Particular Incident.

a faculty member would not let a high school student into the dance. A college student who knew the faculty member told him that the boy in question was a high school student visiting here for the week-end. He told the faculty member the boy's name, where he was staying on the campus, and the boy's home town. Yet the boy did not get into the dance.

Reasons For The Unusual

activity of the keepers of the gate was that the social committee felt that the dance was intended for high school visitors and not for college students. The crowd was not so huge that many college students could not have attended without creating a problem of insufficient floor space. The Field House was not packed to the rafters.

Many College Students

do much work in preparing for the May Festival; in working out displays and exhibits; in housing delegates and visitors; in conducting contests; in going out of their way to make the week-end an enjoyable one for the dormat

Dear Suckers:

Finals are just about here, term papers are just about due, and where does that leave you? No books read, no papers written, and still a lot of fun to be had before school is out—and why not, a good many of you won't be here next year anyway. It's been slide, slide, slide and the marks have been slipping right along. You've had your year of fun, and probably gotten a lot more out of college than your grades would indicate. A good many of you have been the chief meat of this column, and this opportunity is taken to thank you. But you won't be missed, because there are always more where you came from — use 'em and lose 'em, but the rest of the world goes on.

The extra special non-profit, cooperative hamburgers are ett, and the sandwiches weren't as bad as they could have been. Some ate just the sand. Lynden Benschoff was glad that there was sand because a straight liquid diet isn't always the healthiest thing, and after all, health comes first . . . And then there was the May Festival Dance that all the dormats couldn't get in — some came out with more than they went in with. Willie Welandor escorted some little high school freshman over to Ceres, and all the time thought that she was a senior — must have been an intelligent girl, but maybe she wasn't and he didn't catch on . . . At Dormits' party for May Festivalers, Domits Burkee, Skogen, Hanson, and Emch gorged themselves with Dixies. Net results: up til 5 o'clock with indigestion, and perhaps the dawn before daylight . . . And dormat Harvey Stangler downed a nice cool Coca Cola belonging to Howard Cole — this time it was just plain lights out. Moral: "smell before you drink, for the drinker who smells not, smells" . . .

Did you happen to see "Pretty Boy" Lahlum get tossed out of the May Festival Dance? He had showed all the little high school girls his military uniform and attempted a comeback in civilian clothes. Girls might have approved but Wenger didn't and he just didn't stand out from the crowd . . . There is always one way to get to play on a kitten ball team and Wayne Bellamy's way is by being the manager of the dormat's team — maybe Kenny Hulstrand will want to be manager next year . . . If you haven't given up yet Chink Johnson you're a better man than I "Gunga Din" — because the eyes and the ears of the world definitely say that Abe Abrahamson has got dormit Jeanette Archer almost hooked . . . The dormits may have sold the college to the May Festivalers, but whether they sold them Ceres hall or not is doubtful. After all, who could expect them to enjoy sleeping in the Gym with the mice, even if they were nice mice . . .

So grit your teeth — as if that could be necessary with all the sand in the air — and buckel down to the last few weeks of grind the UMBRA.

Harold: "Oh, yes it is."

Instructor: "You have the horse in harness, but where is the cart?"

Harold: "Oh, I'm going to let the horse draw that."

guests. Surely, the zeal with which officials attempted to evict college students from the dance was uncalled for, especially since many high school visitors bore the brunt of the evicting program.

I don't get this, but the GAMMA PHI'S say that Eleanor Bergan passed kisses among the new initiates and present pledges . . . I DO get this one though—ALPHA GAM Holy Beal passed candy Monday night. —

Among Those Pledging

KAPPA'S pledged Kathie Benson Monday night—KAPPA SIG'S, Gustav Strobel, and KAPPA DELT'S Blanche Mandt — All this and more on Monday nights — For instance — Charlotte Olson visited the KD rooms that night and Evelyn Wilson was their guest at potluck — POP's were entertained at a buffet supper in the home of Mrs. Fred O. Olson, honoring the graduating seniors — KAPPA potluck guests were Margaret Torrence, Betty Houd, Virginia Martin, and Ruth Kellsvig — ALPHA GAM guests were Genevieve Olson and Isabelle Bork — Mrs. Kirst was at the GAMMA PHI rooms—

They're still at it—KAPPA SIG'S Bob Paasch went to Pelican Lake, Conway Christianson to Enderlin, Rolf Wollen to Fairdale, Russel Hanson to Litchville, Neal Jensen to Hazen, Darrel Knudson to Halstad, Dave Ebeltoft to Bismarck and Lloyd Parker to Pembina — SIG PHI DELT'S Mark Olson, Herb Jones, Jimmie Christianson, Al Forsman, Ossie Jorstad and Louis Kittle returned from St. Louis Wednesday evening where they attended an ASME convention —GAMMA PHI'S Marge Gaetz and Janice Follet were in Minneapolis this weekend — and also Janet Wilson had a house party this weekend at her cottage on Lake Melissa for 11 guests—

Observe Mother's Day

Mother's day teas are also on top of the list this week for Sunday—for the SAE's, the SIGMA CHI's, the PHI MU's (at the home of Mrs. Rilling), for the POP's in the chapter house, and for the THETA CHI's in their house with Roy Pederson in charge — Dick Longbella is in charge of the ATO Mother's day dinner for that day —

PHI MU initiation was held at the sorority house Sunday for Mary Matze, Helen Slingsby, and Betty Olson. A breakfast followed at the Graver hotel in the Blue room. Wenonah Willhouse was in charge. Their alum chapter entertained the active and pledge chapters with a Scavenger Hunt and a picnic in Oak Grove Monday — The PHI MU Mother's club will entertain the chapter this afternoon at the house — and their weekly tea was held at the house Wednesday —

Entertain Theta Chis

THETA CHI's are really getting entertained these days — The POP's entertained them Wednesday afternoon at a picnic-dance — In charge were Jean Halbeison, Harriet Shigley, and Mary Pauline Bohn — and the K. D.'s will entertain them at a picnic on Wednesday afternoon —

Visiting Alpha Gam alums last weekend were Norma Young, Betty Bickert, Esther Frenberg and Jean and Lillian Pridt — KAPPA SIG guests at the house last week were Woodrow Anderson, M. H. McDonald, and Walter Crane — SAE's will have a dad's smoker at the house on Saturday evening — Barney Toman was their guest over the weekend — New ATO initiates were Frank Carlisle, George Koch, Jack Dolan, and Jack Garry — Of course that's a little old but — Oh well, the messenger boy is on his way out here and I can't think of anything cute to say so in a case like that I guess I won't say anything — (For not having anything to say, I certainly filled up that last line).

Kelly Field To Confer Wings On AC Grads

Two NDAC 1938 graduates, Orville Rehmann and Roland Barnick, are included in the class which will graduate from the Air Corps advanced flying school at Kelly Field, Texas, on May 25. After graduation they will receive orders detailing them to active duty with the regular Army Air Corps for a period of three or more years, receiving the pay and allowances of regular army officers of the grade of second lieutenant. When the three-year period is up, the young officers may either continue in army service or settle in any civilian pursuit. Commercial aviation organizations usually absorb all army-trained airplane pilots leaving active service.

At The Movies

In Charles Laughton's new picture, "The Beachcomber," which comes to the Grand theatre Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday, he rose to greater heights than he reached in any of his previous efforts, as "Ginger Ted," English beachcomber and remittance man, indolently wasting his life on a small island in the Dutch Indies. Elsa Lancaster is in the role of his wife, as she is in real life.

FARGO

Adhering closely to the real-life story of Vernon and Irene Castle, world-famous dancing team of a quarter century ago, Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers' new co-starring vehicle, "The Story of Vernon and Irene Castle," which plays at the Fargo theatre Sunday through Wednesday, is reported to be the finest musical film of recent years and the greatest of all the pictures in which these two favorites have teamed. If anyone is in doubt of the greatness of Bette Davis' acting, it will be removed when they see "Dark Victory," which will be shown Thursday through Saturday. It tells a love story of transcendent beauty and deeply moving poignancy upon whose portrayal Miss Davis is at her best.

Rohr Emcees Annual LSA Spring Banquet

The Lutheran Students Association held its annual spring banquet Wednesday evening at the Pontoppidan Church.

Edwin K. Rohr, faculty adviser, presided over the program, which was as follows: Welcome, Rev. C. J. Olson; of the Pontoppidan Church; piano solo, Blanche Mandt; Toast to the Future of LSA, Walter Knudson; address by W. K. Schoenbohm of the Good Samaritan Home; selection by a quartet composed of Arthur Wallen, Birdie Eartz, Florence Mickelson, and Walter Knudson; and the singing of the LSA song.

Plans are being formed for a big picnic for all Lutheran students on the campus on Sunday, May 14. All those wishing to attend will meet at the Y at 5 p. m.

STATE

Unique in theme, setting and characters is "The Great Man Votes," that brings John Barrymore in its leading role to the State theatre Friday and Saturday. Gay, whimsical comedy forms the background for the romantic story of "The Girl Downstairs," starring Francisca Gaal and Franchot Tone on Sunday through Tuesday. On the stage will be Gene Durnal and his Rio Grande Ranger. Wednesday and Thursday is a "Bulldog Drummond's Secret Police," with John Howard and Heather Angel in the leads. The show based on the novel of H. C. McNeile is entertainment for the audience for the story is packed with terror adventure, tension and chills to keep your interest at high pitch.

PARK

Paris lost one of their loveliest and enchanting young actresses when Danielle Darrieux made her American debut, co-starred with Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. in "The Rage of Paris," which comes to the Park theatre Sunday through Tuesday. She was determined to marry money, but Doug had his opinion of the subject, and they settle it in this gay comedy.

"THE BIGGEST BALL OF THE YEAR"

Finnegan, Lowe Will Present Streamlined Team Next Fall

Team Will Combine Speed And Power; Many All-Conference Candidates

By SAM TOLCHINSKY

It will be a new kind of streamlined power machine that will carry the colors of the AC into the fray next year as Coaches "Casey" Finnegan and Bob Lowe are well into the task of polishing their 1940 gridiron edition. Lacking the single offensive threat that was Wheeler, Finnegan will present a team with the power of a motorized cavalry unit and the speed of a new Douglas airliner. If their opponents are weak in the center of the line the Bison will pound those spots continually with such bruisers as Sturgeon, Kimblin, Merwin and Pepple. And if the best way to score is to skirt the ends the Herd will display plenty of speed with Hammel, Erickson, Kimblin and Hill all trying for all-conference honors.

With the important tangle with the Blue Bombers coming soon, to be played before royalty, the only problem seems to be center and ends.

Marquardt At End

Jim Maxwell and Bernie Bermann, both two year lettermen at the end posts are winning points in the track events and will probably not be available for football until next fall. But Earl Marquardt heads a list of promising end candidates that may boost Maxwell out of his starting position. John Snowberg ranks next to Marquardt at present but Bill Kelly, Rolf Ertresvaag, Arnold Seim and John Hermes will all see action.

Pat Twomey and Lynn Stewart have been working at center this spring but Stewart is no longer available as a slight injury may keep him out of action. First call on the center job next fall, however, will go to Joe Kojancik who is at present still recovering from an operation. It is not now known whether Joe will be able to play against Winnipeg.

Bostow, Hovland at Guards

Guards are certainly not lacking with Al Bostow and Ruel Hovland both ready to start. In addition to them line coach Lowe counts on Merrill Green, all conference guard who is out with an infected arm. Also being groomed for action are three freshmen, Frank Perkins, Bruce Fulkles, and Bill Peschel.

The beauty spot of the line is the tackle posts with two coming all-conference men on hand; Co-captains Harry Johnson and Cecil Schrank. Pressing them and the newcomers, Joe Hovland, Allen Ogren, Curtis Johnson and Arnold Troftgruben.

Starting Backfield

It is still unknown who will constitute the best set of backs with no real triple threat man available. But a good bet would be Sturgeon at full, Kimblin and Erickson at the halves, and Don Johnston doing the honors at quarterback.

Letter winners who are back are Ted Whalen, Bill Pepple and George Hammel and the new men number Joel Nelson, Pomeroy Hill, Bob Brown, Jim Higgs, Harvey Faulkers and Morris Merwin.

Punting duties will be divided between Sturgeon, Hammel and Kimblin with Whalen, Hammel, Erickson and Kimblin all doing their share of the passing.

Boruski Announces Rifle Match Results

Results for the three rifle matches in which the NDAC rifle team competed are announced by Major Boruski of the military department.

In the Seventh Corps Area competition NDAC placed fifth with 7584 points out of a possible 8000.

In the National Intercollegiate competition NDAC again ranked in fifth place in the corps area with 7569 points out of the possible 8000.

All results are not yet available regarding the William Randolph Hearst competition, but NDAC did get 920 points of a possible 1000, which is 5 points better than they did a year ago.

High point man on the rifle team was Conway Christianson, with Howard Isaak, David Askegaard, Judd Monson, and William Ames following in the order named.

On the whole, the results are better this year. Comparing the two competing schools of North Dakota, NDAC shows great superiority. In the Seventh Corps Area Competition the University was swamped by 330 points; and NDAC again defeated the University in the Hearst competition. The National Intercollegiate match offers no comparison, for the University was not eligible for competition.

All girls wishing to sign up for the tennis tournament, do so on the bulletin board in Ceres Hall at once.

Four Collegiate Records Beaten In Dragon Meet

The annual Dragon relays, sponsored by the Moorhead State Teachers College and held last Friday afternoon and evening produced four new college records and six new high school records.

Near perfect weather brought the largest crowd in the history of the event to witness these record-breaking demonstrations. One of the three new individual marks in the college division was accounted for by Horace Johnson, colored University of North Dakota star, who broke the tape in the 100-yard dash in 10.1 seconds, cutting two tenths of a second from the old mark. Another was made by Paul Solberg, a Mayville trackster who shattered the shot put record of 39 feet held by NDAC's Ernie Wheeler. Solberg set the new record with a heave of 39 feet, 6 1/2 inches.

Sarles Sets Record

The last individual record was made by Ronnie Sarles of South Dakota State who high-jumped 5 feet, 10 1/2 inches to eclipse the old record height by 2 1/2 inches. The other record was made by Johnny Smith's mile relay team, which broke its own mark in this event. The Bison finished in 3 minutes, 40.8 seconds, to clip half a second from their time of a year ago.

Noteworthy performances were turned in by Larry Tanberg, Bill Herm of NDAC and George Vaux of South Dakota State. Tanberg, who has been handicapped with a bad leg and has had only two workouts, came through to get second place in the high-jump, missing at 5 feet, 10 1/2 inches. This event, which was held under artificial light, failed to bring forth the best from the contestants, who were unable to judge accurately in the different type of light. The soft, uneven take-off also bothered the jumpers.

Bill Herm, substituting for Norm Olson, who hurt his leg in the preceding race started his leg of the mile relay in third place, but with a pretty bit of running, gave the team its winning lead. George Vaux, SDS sophomore who ran anchor in the 880 relay, overcame the twenty-five yard lead of NDU's runner and beat him to the tape by two yards in a spectacular burst of speed.

Johnston, Whalen Fight No-Decision Valley City Bouts

Al Johnston and Ted Whalen, Bison boxers appeared in three-round no-decision bouts on a fight card in Valley City Wednesday night. Johnston, Golden Gloves featherweight champion, sparred with Eddie Burns, North Dakota bantamweight Golden Gloves and National Guard champion. Both men showed a lot of speed but no knockdown punches were landed.

Ted Whalen fought Lloyd Kruger, the brother of the boy who knocked him out two weeks ago. Ted's style was more cautious and impressive than his last fight. He plans to return compliments to Ken Kruger in a bout in the near future.

Kappa Sigs Remain At Bracket B's Top

The Kappa Sigma Chi fraternity still reigns supreme in Bracket B this week as they added two more victories to their undefeated list of softball games this week. Coming out of their victory over the Sigma Chi's Monday, they continued right on with their winning streak by burying the Dormitory, 11 to 3. The Kappa Sigs whipped the ATO's last week 9-0, but carved the biggest notch in their club when they swamped the Theta Chi's, 17-3.

Don Sealander taking over the Sigma Chi's pitching duties Wednesday, led his team to its second win of the season, with a 6 to 5 decision over the SAE's. Two days previous, the SAE's beat the ATO's, 14-2, behind the one-hit pitching of Ollie Uthus.

Thursday's games resulted in a 9-3 victory for the Farm Folk over the Co-ops, and the Gamma Rho's again defeated the Kappa Psi's, this time

Sport Speculations

By . . . Buzz Pull

Johnny Smith found a coming track star whose possibilities hadn't been realized in Bob Sheard, a javelin thrower of no mean ability. At the Dragon Relays, his first college competition, Sheard won first place in the preliminaries, and was second only to UND's star thrower, Bill Spear. The handwriting on the wall tells us that both these boys will be winners in the conference meet at Cedar Falls, Iowa, on the 20th of this month.

We see a repeat performance in high jump honors for SDS's Ronnie Sarles, a boy who can high jump a few inches over his head. Norm Olson and Larry Tanberg should be in there for points, too.

George Vaux, another SDS trackster, will be a man to beat in some events. We don't see very much competition for UND's Hoss Johnson in the century dash, but forecast the beginning of his woes if he carries out the rumor of running the 440.

At the Hillsboro picnic the ball games came out as could be expected, the "U" bowing to Herm Larson's pitching in softball, and coming back to even up with a baseball victory.

8-5. This just about cinches the tourney for the Gamma Rho's and their pitching star, Herman Larson. A double-header between the ATO's and Theta Chi's is scheduled to begin at 1:30 tomorrow.

No foolin' — we finally have an organized golf team. If Bud Paulson shoots his usual game, and Don Sealander is going good, top honors will return from Grand Forks with them next Saturday night.

Jamestown college has a darn good man in Leroy Holen. Any fellow that wins four first places in a track meet has to be. He ran the hundred in 9.7 last week, but a high wind nullified the mark.

At the North Dakota Intercollegiate Track Meet this weekend we expect Larry Tanberg to be high point man from the school, with points in the high-jump, pole vault, and discus events. He will also run on the mile relay team, which should turn in a victory. We also expect points of Norm Olson in the high jump, Bob Sheard in the javelin, and Bernie Bermann in the 440. Other men who will figure in the 26 or 27 points NDAC should garner are Al Johnston, Jim Maxwell, Verne Johnson, Ernie Wheeler, and Bill Herm.
